

COLD WAVE AND RAIN USHER IN LATE FALL

MERCURY DROPS TO 54 DEGREES IS REGISTERED

Three-Quarters Inch of Rain Cheers Farmers After Drouth

A norther bore down upon Cisco today, bringing an end to a long unseasonable warm and dry spell with showers that registered three-quarters of an inch at the city hall and temperature which tumbled from 70 degrees at midnight to 54 at noon today.

The cold wave was welcomed enthusiastically by merchants for the stimulation it will mean to a lagging fall business. Farmers and ranchers greeted the moisture with equal enthusiasm, although the slow precipitation was too small to be of more than passing benefit to grass lands and soil that is awaiting the plow and winter grain.

The showers and lower temperatures were greeted as signaling a beneficial change in the weather, which has been almost at summer heat point for several weeks.

The showers, according to an Associated Press dispatch were general over the state.

A 25-mile an hour wind today whipped Corpus Christi bay when trees were uprooted. Buildings were damaged by wind at Vernon.

Baptists Will Protest Rumanian Persecutions

DALLAS, Nov. 3 (Sp.)—Baptists attending the general convention of Texas here Nov. 8-11 will be called upon to protest the "terrible persecution" of their fellow church members in Rumania, and thus carry on a fight for freedom to worship stimulated a year ago after the visit of Dr. George W. Truett to Rumanian Baptists.

Dr. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church and president of the Baptist World alliance, reported graphically to the convention in El Paso last year on his observations of persecution in Europe.

Considerable emphasis will be given at the convention here to Baptist problems abroad, and reports will be heard from war-ravaged mission fields, particularly in the orient. Scores of Texans hold posts of danger in such fields, particularly in China. Dr. R. S. Jones of Richmond, a secretary of the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, will be one of the outstanding speakers on the program which will bring Baptist leaders from all Texas and the south to Dallas for a week of sessions.

Dr. R. C. Campbell of Dallas, secretary of the executive board of the convention which has its headquarters here, and other local leaders are making final preparations this week for the reception and entertainment of 12,000 messengers and visitors representing the 660,000 members of the denomination.

General sessions will be held in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, as will the meetings of the Woman's Missionary union beginning Monday, No. 7. Sessions of the pastors' and laymen's conference, of which George J. Mason of Dallas is president, will be held at the City Temple Presbyterian church nearby.

Among the prominent out-of-town speakers at the general convention will be scholar Dr. John Hill of Nashville, book editor of the Baptist Sunday school board; Dr. J. B. Weatherspoon of Louisville; Dr. R. S. Jones of the foreign mission board, Richmond; Dr. J. W. Beagle, Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. Truett will speak on the important report on Texas hospitals.

Weeping Widow Wears Home-Made Gas Mask

Her head still swathed in an improvised kerchief gas mask contrived when deputy marshals used tear gas to remove her from the home in which she lived with her daughter, Ann Laura Barnett is seen above in the deputies' car. Widow of the late Jackson Barnett, rich Indian, she has been involved in a arid battle with the government, which nullified her marriage to Barnett and denied her rights of inheritance. She had contracted to occupy the Jackson house in Wilshire, swanky Los Angeles suburb, despite efforts of authorities to evict her.

BASEMENT IS EXCAVATED IN KIDNAP PROBE

Bones Unearthed As Possible Clue to Year-Old Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—Police digging in the cement basement of a Ukrainian lodge hall today were seeking buried bones of possible victims of "a kidnap syndicate," which federal agents accused of slaying one and collecting ransom for the release of at least two others.

Bones unearthed during the night, the first evidence found in the search, were believed by police to be those of Arthur Fried, who was kidnaped last December and held for $200,000 ransom.

Dies Claims Gov't Jobholders Fear to Testify

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—Chairman Dies told newsmen today that the house committee investigating un-American activities, had encountered "considerable trouble" in securing witnesses since the president had rebuked it.

Nazis Wanted Her as "Mata Hari"

Testimony reminiscent of a spy novel was given by attractive divorcee Kate Moog, above, at New York's current sensational espionage trial in which German secret service activities in the United States are being unraveled. Two officers of the Nazi intelligence service urged her, Miss Moog declared, to set up a fashionable salon in Washington, D. C., to which "the right people"—officials, congressmen, newspapermen—could be lured and sold on nazism. Photo shows Moog in the car as she left after testifying.

Factors Indicate Big Shallow Pool

With the new Clark shallow discovery near Putnam gaining interest daily after Charles J. Kleiner and L. A. Warren, Cisco operators brought in their discovery well from a new shallow horizon at 747 feet for 35 barrels daily, oil men are awaiting the outcome of subsequent tests to give better indication of the extent of the new pool and the trend.

Two opinions conflict in the latter point. Some believe that the trend lies northwest and southeast, producing data from other wells drilled in the area to support the opinion.

For instance: Three wells drilled several years ago on the Williams tract from 1,600 feet to 2,000 feet west of the Kleiner and Warren F. E. Clark No. 1, found the three encountered dead oil. The other two were dry. This is indication that the producing area is defined to the west. A mile east of the Clark discovery, a Pure Oil company deep test found the sand to exist there but dry. The Lorenzen deep test in the Pure Oil test vicinity found the same condition.

Both of these wells, however, found oil in the deeper Canyon, Strawn and Caddo series.

A mile south of the Clark discovery and a mile and a half southeast drilling in the early 1920's found the sand with saturation, although the stratum was not sufficiently thick for commercial production. Two miles south of the discovery well several wells have been sunk to what is believed the same sand, making 2,000,000 feet of gas with small shows of oil in the bottom of the foundation.

There has been no drilling to the north.

Such factors as these, it is said, indicate that the new area will develop into a major shallow pool.

Cisco Ministers Elect Officers for New Year

The Cisco Ministerial Alliance met Monday morning, October 31 at 9:30 a. m. in the study of the First Baptist church. The Rev. Joseph Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist church, was elected president, and the Rev. Judson Prince, of the First Baptist church, was elected vice-president. The pastor of the Church of Christ, Rev. Price, was elected secretary while the Rev. C. S. Moard, pastor, Church of God was elected treasurer.

A committee composed of the president and vice-president was appointed to make preparation for the Union Thanksgiving service. The service will be held in the First Baptist church and definite announcement as to who will be the speaker will be made a little later.

The speaking schedule for the ministers at the chapel services of the Cisco public schools was arranged.

The Alliance voted to ask Dr. Bruce to give a paper on "Christian Education" at their regular meeting next Monday morning at 9:30 in the study of the First Baptist church.

Gospel Singer to Be Here Nov. 13

William F. Burcaw of Philadelphia now a student in the Dallas Theological seminary, 3909 Swiss Ave., Dallas, will sing and speak in the city auditorium of Cisco, Sunday, November 13, 2:45 p. m. Mrs. Norman George of Baird will be the accompanist. Mr. Burcaw formerly sang in the Twilight Sonata program of NBC with Carl Boniwitz at the organ. Among his teachers was Frank La Forge who also taught Lawrence Tibbett.

Mr. Burcaw dedicated his voice to gospel music alone and is now studying for the ministry in Dallas at the Dallas Theological seminary, of which Dr. Lewis Sperry Chafer is the president.

Though better known as a singer because of his rare voice, yet Mr. Burcaw is a gifted speaker as well. The people of Cisco and surrounding communities have a rare treat in store for them Sunday of the 13th.

Mr. Burcaw is brought to Cisco through the instrumentality of the directing committee of the Deep Creek camp meeting, located at the Lone Star Tourist park on State No. 1 between Putnam and Baird, John Hughes, proprietor.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

The suggested revision of the Texas Interscholastic league football map which would establish three grades of teams instead of the present "A" and "B" classifications, and would demote several high school eleven now playing in top flight, has created somewhat of a sensation. Fort Worthians and many others throughout the sports fraternity have arisen to protest loudly against a revision which would reduce the fine Masonic home team of Fort Worth to the Class A or Class B grade. The Masonic school has, according to my understanding, less than 200 enrollment, whereas to rank in the posed new AA class a school must have enrolled 500 students the previous year or not less than 450, which gives it the privilege of playing in Class AA on a favorable vote of other members of the AA district. Masonic home, in spite of its smaller enrollment, plays a brand of football that ranks with that of any team in the state, this fact being a distinct tribute to the fine training and the family-like organization in which the boys live. Boys at home do not know the meaning of dissipation. They grow up lean, strong and healthy, playing together from early years developing a coordination and teamwork which is magnificent.

To reduce this team to a lower bracket in which its playing ability would be disproportionate would be doing both the Masons and the lower class injustice.

Rain, good old rain. As far away as New York the retail trade has been bemoaning the unseasonable weather which has carried summer so late into fall that prospects of fall business have been materially reduced, and they tell me that many merchants have abandoned autumn plans in favor of spring prospects.

However, that is not the case here where merchants are accustomed to late winters. The present moisture and the prospect that it will bring a change in the weather more in keeping with the normal run of the seasons is encouraging. We can look for a trade pickup now.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE COUNTY COURT

(Judge Adamsen, presiding)
M. A. Civatt, trustee, vs. Robert L. White et al, injunction, was filed in the county court for hearing.

The commissioners court, hearing the petition of the Commercial State bank, county depository, for the release of certain securities held to indemnify county funds, approved the petition and it was the order of the court that United States treasury bonds of 1949-1953, Nos. 1883C and 1523C, for $10,000 each be released by the county trustee, the First National bank of Dallas, as the court finds there are still remaining sufficient securities to cover county funds held in the county depository.

Marriage Licenses
Despite the fact that the war scare is past, and the Christmas holidays are just in the offing, there seems to be no particular rush at the marriage license desk in the county clerk's office, as that department only issued licenses to marry to three couples the past week. These were:

T. A. Minton and Mrs. Elsie Minton, Cross Plains.

Robert Richardson and Linda Faye Burnett, Strawn.

Hudson Collins and Miss L. V. Brown, Gorman.

Matters in Probate
The following matters were of record in the probate court for the past week:

O. S. Leveridge, guardian of Vernon L. Leveridge, incompetent, annual report, approved as filed; petition for authority to expend $30 of the funds of his ward for clothing. Approved and expenditure authorized.

Ex parte Silas Lloyd, petition to be adjudged an epileptic. P. R. Warwick and R. H. McGaughey, executors of the R. K. Gilman estate. Petition for authority to execute lease to lands of the estate in Brown county, approved, and lease authorized. Also petition of executors to accept offers made of $261.25 for twelve head of cattle by W. A. Cunningham, and the offer of the Austin Mill and Grain Co. of $374.78 for 824 1/2 bushels of wheat. Application was approved and executors were authorized to accept both propositions.

Mrs. Alice Odum, guardian of Russell Odum, incompetent, for authority to make expenditures of $159.13 for repairs of her ward's property.

Mrs. Flora Westerman, guardian of Guy Westerman, incompetent, petition to pay $30 due on note to the Land bank. Approved and payment authorized, after waiver filed by Eric Eads, veterans administration attorney.

Petition of E. D. David for letters of administration of the estate of Mrs. Mellie Capers, deceased. Approved, bond set at $500, filed and approved. O. P. Newberry and W. E. Kirk were appointed appraisers of the estate.

Tom Harrell, guardian of Elizabeth Ann Harrell, et al, minors. Petition for reduction of guardian's bond. It appeared to the court that the estate had depreciated below the amount of the premium on the bond, it was the order of the court that a reduction should be made from $5,000 to $500.

Absentee Voting
The absence of the rush manifested in absentee voting in the primary elections is reflected in the seven votes cast up to Friday afternoon. Those having cast their votes absentee are W. H. McDonald and wife, Austin; Joe H. Sheppard, W. A. Martin and wife, Eastland, all voting in precinct 1. Wayne Sellers, precinct 7, Rising Star, and Mrs. A. N. Searly, precinct 8, Gorman, completed the list of absentee voters Friday afternoon.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord and He shall lift you up. Following peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.—James v. 10; Heb. xii. 14.

Deep unto deep may call, but I, With peaceful heart, will cry, Thy loving kindness hath a charge No wave can take away; And let the storm that speeds me home, Deal with me as it may. —ANNA L. WARING.

Remember: Peace's power. Every soul which in its lifetime cries to the Eternal finds the Eternal.—Dr. Gasparini.

Not of Quantity But of Quality

There are some drawbacks to being overwhelming in the majority. We are experiencing some of those drawbacks in the state of Texas. It would be more to the advantage of this state if there was a near balance between two opposing political parties instead of such a disparity of strength that the best position which the most influential political faith opposing that of the democratic persuasion can claim is that of the leading minority. If there were a near balance the state would be saved such political travesties and accidents as the Ferguson regimes of some years ago and the thing which happened last summer. There would be a sounder political morality in this state, a more responsible state administration. There would be no such thing as vegetating political organisms, or at least no such thing as now exists, for the majority would still have a choice beyond the primaries and the perpetuation of political befoolery and privilege would be a harder matter.

Yet, the same result can be accomplished by a single party alert to the needs of the public service and alert, also, to the manner in which these needs are being served. Unfortunately, the end is not accomplished except in upheavals of a more or less destructive character, because the general run of the voters are reluctant if not plainly and constitutionally lazy. The first and last line of defense for our democratic system is the ballot box. Certainly this line of defense occupied by men and women alert and ready to defend their principles is a useless line of defense, one easy of assault by alien forces and subversive "isms," by graft and greed and privilege and all those other internal parasites which batten upon the neglect of a careless or indifferent public. The voter who says there is no need for him to vote in the general election next Tuesday is simply throwing down the drawbridge of political security to the forces that would destroy it. He is admitting his own impotence, denying the value of his vote and ceasing to concern himself with the safety of his political household.

The value of the American dollar, the unit of our monetary system, does not consist in the number of dollars on hand. It

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

I sit on a hill and look out over a stretch of paved highway that stretches upward toward the north. From somewhere amidst the post oak and mesquite clad hills a school bus appears and as it nears the city stops frequently at the acreage homes along the highway. A boy and girl of high school age walk briskly down grade from their farm home a half mile back from the pavement. A little youngster, belated in dressing of a house wren that has spent or loitering in disposition, hurries after them. At the cattle guard they sit down to wait the approaching bus. The door swings open as the bus comes to a stop and they quickly find places a little crowded among an array of sizes, ages, and dispositions, neat, disheveled, shy, brassy, reticent, wisecracking. The driver motors on around the hill to deposit his load at the doors of inviting educational opportunity. On the brow of the hill back of the me stand three buildings, deserted, and silent except for the creaking of some loose panel in the south wind, or the loud notes education that should be made co-exists in the intrinsic worth of the individual dollar. Without that intrinsic worth a pile of dollars would be as valueless as piles of sand in a desert. In the same manner the worth of the voting power of the people does not consist of quantity. It consists of quality. If you as a qualified voter neglect to vote in the general election you are some kind of a traitor.

Defense of Democracy Begins at Home

WHILE we are talking about defending American democracy against the rise of the totalitarian states, it would be a fine thing for us to spend a little time pondering over the federal court's ruling in regard to Mayor Hague's rule in Jersey City.

The court's ruling itself is familiar enough. So, unfortunately, is Mayor Hague's habit of bouncing out of town all spakers, organizers or leaders whose ideas don't happen to look American to him. But the relationship between the sort of thing which the court banned and the overseas variety of dictatorship is something that cannot too often be examined.

We make a great mistake if we assume that it takes uniformed storm troops, egomaniac spellbinders and an involved, hysterical ideology to make a dictatorship. A rising dictatorship acquires those things along the way, of course, but it starts with something much simpler.

THAT something is little more than the idea that society can best protect itself by granting a hearing only to those people or organizations who say what the great majority wants to hear. Sometimes the idea sounds pretty reasonable. Every society wants to protect itself; cracking down on dissenters and trouble-makers often looks like the best way.

But all the rest follows from that. Shut up the unimportant soapboxer, and the next step is to shut up the man who really voices a grievance that deserves to be listened to. Shut him up, and the next step is to silence everyone who disagrees with the ruling majority. And when you have done that, the ruling majority may cease to be a majority without ceasing to rule—and you have a dictatorship.

THE thing to remember is, democracy dies at the bottom, not at the top. Pressure from outside is not one-tenth as dangerous as decay within. A navy and an air fleet, if they are strong enough, will take care of the muscle men from overseas; nothing on earth will save democracy at home except a clear realization of the vital importance of preserving the freedom of even the least important members of society.

That is why this business of Mayor Hague and the U. S. court is worth a second glance.

As an individual, Hague is unimportant—just one more of the all-too-familiar municipal bosses of American political history. What matters is the fact that the kind of rule he has stood for is a blow at the very roots of our American system. Now that the court has spoken, we may at least hope that that rule will be substantially modified—although the mayor does not seem to be in any hurry about it.

But unless we clearly recognize the danger, the court ruling will not do much good. In the long run, our democracy won't be saved by court rulings any more than by battleships and airplanes. Only an alert, active awareness on our part of what the essence of democracy is can be a reliable safeguard.

Last Dollar quits famous ship line. In most instances the departure of the last dollar is too frequent to be worthy of mention.

Placing Moon's Eclipse Nov. 7

Mother Earth, whose swains and sweethearts cherished the light of the moon as an accompaniment to sighs and simpers, will cast her shadow over the moon in the late afternoon hours of Nov. 7. The eclipse, effected by the earth's coming between the sun and the moon, will begin at 5:45 p. m. central standard time.

The diagram above shows the time of the moon's entrance and departure from the shadow of the earth. Beginning of the eclipse will be partly visible at Washington and its final stage will be visible throughout North America, except the extreme western and northwestern parts.

Behind The Scenes in Washington

By ROBBY DUTCHER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The next house of representatives will have somewhere between a couple of dozen and half a gross more republican congressmen than it has now at the lowest point of G. O. P. house strength in history.

Party primaries have lit the house liberal bloc, by and large a strongly pro-New Deal group, some hard blows. The elections Nov. 8 threaten further losses to this bloc.

The present house contains 328 democrats, 88 republicans, seven progressives and five farmer-laborites. There are seven vacancies. All 435 seats are to be filled by the election except for three in Maine to which republicans were re-elected in September.

Estimates of probable republican gain range from 20 or 25 conceded by most democratic leaders to 80 or 85 claimed by some Republicans. The most conservative republican experts think they will get 35 or 40 new seats.

Both sides agree that the largest democratic losses will be in Pennsylvania, whose house delegation of 27 now includes but operative. A parallel system of coordinate public and church school education, each one well-equipped and efficient for performing its part would give everyone a chance to become complete in his individuality.

Texas Shipments Of Poultry In Decline

AUSTIN, Nov. 3.— Interstate shipments of poultry and eggs from Texas usually reach their low point of the year during September, the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas has reported. Only ten cars of poultry were shipped out of the state during September compared with 33 cars during the corresponding month last year. Shipments of eggs totaled nearly 37 cars, compared with 26 cars in September, 1937.

Receipts of eggs in Texas out-of-state totaled 5.5 cars compared with five cars during September a year ago.

with defeat November 8. Conspicuous among the latter are Farmer-Laborites John Bernard and Devey Johnson in Minnesota and Jerry O'Connell of Montana, aggressive New Dealer threatened by a republican backed by Senator Wheeler and Dr. Townsend.

The most conspicuous individual contest is that between Chairman John J. O'Connor of the house rules committee, running in the 16th New York district on the republican and "Andrew Jackson party" tickets, and James H. Fay, democratic and American labor party organizations failed to unite against him. His opponents are Walter H. Leiberman, democrat, George Backer, American labor, and M. Stuart, socialist.

seven republicans, and Ohio, in whose delegation are 21 democrats, two republicans, one vacancy. Republicans think they may pick up 10 new seats in Pennsylvania and from five to 10 in Ohio, where there are at least 10 hot contests. Their most reliable confidential surveys say they have excellent prospects in at least five Illinois congressional districts, three to five fair prospects in Michigan, two to five in Connecticut, two or three in California, two or three in Indiana, one to three in Minnesota, possibly five in Iowa, maybe one or two in Washington and possibilities or better of one each in Kansas, South Dakota, New Hampshire, Colorado and Montana.

The recent Newsweek magazine poll of political leaders and correspondents produced an average estimate of 50 new republican seats.

Whatever the result, the next house seems certain to be more conservative and more independent of the White House. Although republicans know they won't get a majority they expect to elect enough new men to form an anti-New Deal bulwark in frequent coalitions with conservative democrats.

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

Well, a little lonely in the front office today... The absence of youth with their bubbling spirits of freshness and enthusiasm... their optimism... the bright outlook, with all of life before them.

We refer to the absence of Gordon Sherman and Miss Cathryne Russell... Cathryne, with her varying temperaments... Seem the embodiment of the modern pally, athletic girl with nothing but seriousness, and business in mind... But catch her in odd moods... She would put Zasu Pitts or Martha Rae out of business right quick, should the motion picture industry ever find her... Perhaps it will be her chin quivering as if about to burst in tears, one time, and the next, perhaps, it will be facial contortions that you expect may remain permanent... Who knows? She may become the woman of a thousand faces...

But she is helpful when you need a little assistance, and always cheerful... which is worth a lot... And then there was Gordon... with that terrible business-like mood... Working at throwing the news of the paper into proper form... just like the whole world depended on the way the news is going to shape up each day... But with always a little time to speak to you and perhaps to fight a little with Cathryne... Asking you if you know any news for the front page... or asking if you can assist him in getting in touch with someone who can tell him what he wants to know...

And had you thought how we like to be asked for assistance? People naturally want to help... We have been impressed so many times when we were editor of the paper, with the fact that people will go to great trouble to get some little important fact news for you... Human beings like to think they are helping some one...

And so these young people are not here any more... Just Benjie, Mrs. Trammell Judge Kennon and ourself in the front office... No one to vary the monotony of regular routine with a little outburst of youthful spirits... And you know people of our ages become so engrossed with the serious side of our jobs that we are apt to become too serious... We already miss you.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Punk Thornton, we almost had another item for our column... They had a hard time passing up Steve Nance and Alex Spears when these chaps were coming from Dallas this week where they had gone to see the beautiful new line of Fords and the Mercury... Knew the number of Alex's car and so could tell who they were before catching up with them... Which was a hard job, according to Punk...

Mrs. Thornton... there is the woman for you... decided there were women in the car... in the back seat... and were wondering what ladies could be in the car with these upright pillars of church and society... So by turning on all speed they caught up with these staid old chaps... found that their hats being in the back seat gave the impression of ladies in the back seat... What a fine story ruined! What a sweet morsel of gossip could have had for our column, we had dared print it!... But bad... What a pity, Mrs. Thornton, that your suspicions were correct!

Principals in Michigan's Weird 'Spirit' Slaying

Mrs. Wilfred Pichette, above, 35-year-old wife of a Houghton, Mich., WPA worker, savagely beat with a poker Marion Doyle, 19, while her husband held the victim, he told police as they unraveled Michigan's unbelievable "devil killings." The Pichettes had delusions that they possessed mysterious spiritual powers, and that Miss Doyle, a maid, was bewitched.

Marion Doyle, 19, above, was hired to keep house by Wilfred Pichette, WPA worker, during his wife's temporary absence from their home at Dollar Bay near Houghton, Mich. She never left the house alive. Her body was found after Pichette told police he and his wife had become convinced the girl was the devil and had to be "driven away."

Wilfred Pichette, above, Houghton, Mich., WPA worker, dabbled in mysticism, and once paid gypsies $2000 to endow him with "strange powers." He and his wife, now held with him for a sanity hearing, are believed by police to have beaten to death the maid in their home. Marion Doyle, because they convinced themselves the girl was a witch. Their sanity is to be tested.

Ciscoan Again Heads Young Peoples Society

Re-election of the Rev. Herschel Murphy of Cisco as president of the Nazarene young peoples society of the Texas district took place at Hillsboro Tuesday where the Nazarene district assembly opened its sessions Monday. Miss Eunice Hildreth of Pilot Point was re-elected secretary.

Cisco is the district headquarters for the Church of the Nazarene. Headquarters were moved here several months ago, coincident with a general expansion of denominational activities locally. This included removal of the church and parsonage from east Cisco to West Seventh street, enlargement of the church, and rock-veneering of the walls, installation of air cooling equipment, etc.

The Cisco church, under the pastorate of the Rev. Luther Pryor, has experienced a steady and healthful growth.

Under the constitution the salary of the president is fixed during his term of office and cannot be reduced. However, it is permissible for the president to turn back into the treasury any amount he may choose.

WTCC Attacks Discrimination in Rail Rates

Discrimination against west Texas by the present freight rate structure is penalizing this area $100,000,000 annually the WTCC traffic board charged in an exhaustive analysis of the freight rate question just released.

West Texas with the greatest wealth of natural resources of any similar area in the nation, is paying higher freight rates than any other section, comparisons of the five major railroad regions of the United States made in the WTCC report show.

Freight rates in west Texas are 72 per cent greater than in the Ohio-Indiana, or official territory, which is the lowest-rate zone in the nation. First-class rate in official territory for 500-mile hauls is $1.22 per 100 pounds as compared with $2.26 per 100 for equal haul in extreme west Texas or differential territory, the report says.

West Texas' rates are higher in spite of the fact that statistics are presented in the report to show that expense of transportation is 17 per cent less in this zone than in any other region.

Nothing short of a legislative mandamus to the Interstate Commerce commission will remedy the situation, the report states. The WTCC traffic board recommends that the regional organization and its 191 affiliate in 132 counties champion an amendment to the Interstate Commerce act which will "definitely instruct the Interstate Commerce commission to revise the intra-territorial freight rate structure so as to bring the rates closer together in both level and scheme, said level not to exceed a maximum of 5 per cent as between any of the regions of the country, and to revise and blend the inter-territorial rates with the intra-territorial structures."

Many of the rules and regulations governing rate-making and some of the rate zones had their origin in former days even before the establishment of the ICC and enactment of the Interstate Commerce Act. "In view of greatly changed conditions as to development, density of traffic and transportation, the board feels that the time has now arrived when there should be a complete overhauling and revision of all freight rate-making policies and practices," the report states.

While rail carriers have statistics to show that average rates for the country as a whole have decreased, figures show that west Texas rates have steadily increased during the last two decades, the report continues. Examples of these increases include: Maximum rate of 15c per 100 pounds on west Texas wheat in 1914 as compared with 35c in October, 1938, an increase of 133 per cent; rate on fat cattle from nine west Texas towns to Fort Worth was 20 1/2c in 1914 as compared with 30.84c at present, an increase of 50 per cent; any quantity cotton

SERIAL STORY MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine. Wife of the sensational swing band leader.
ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective.
ANNE LESTER—Myrna's closest friend.
DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday, Tait rescued Myrna, is taking her out of her basement prison when Weeks bulks in the doorway, gun in hand.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Tait's first lightning thought was that Weeks must not recognize him. He could see the musician's gaunt figure plainly, framed in the doorway—but he knew that Weeks could be certain of nothing except that someone had gained entrance to Myrna's prison room.

His fingers biting deep in Myrna's shoulders, Tait pushed her toward the side of the room, and at that moment Weeks' voice roared out, "Come on... out here, or I'll shoot."

Almost immediately a shot crashed into the room through the open doorway, and Weeks, bewildered and blind in the darkness, followed the direction of his revolver. From the side of the room Tait rushed out. In his hands was the only weapon he had been able to discover—a chair. With all his strength he brought it down across the neck and shoulders of Weeks. Then, grasping in the dark for Myrna and finding her clutching, trembling fingers, he started for the door.

The sight of the stairway and the silence behind him were the greatest relief that Bob Tait had ever known in a lifetime. Half dragging Myrna beside him, he rushed through the dingy lobby and out into the street. The taxi was still there.

"The Claremont," Tait gasped.

He had scarcely closed the cab door behind himself and Myrna when the gears meshed and the cab roared away. They had gone the space of six or seven blocks when he realized that he was clutching Myrna tight in his arms. Embarrassed, he relinquished his nervous hold. "Are you—age you all right?"

She nodded slowly. "Yes," she said.

managed a smile. "I'm still scared, though."

Tait laughed in sheer relief. "That was a foolhardy thing I did back there. But I didn't want Weeks to recognize me."

"Weeks?" Myrna looked at him, puzzled. "How did you know his name?"

He told her of the advertisement in the classified column of the newspaper, and of how he had listened at Harris Rogers' door. "How did he manage to kidnap you?"

"I went for a walk," Myrna said. "There was a car at the curb and this man was in it. He pretended he was ill when I went by. I knew I was in that horrible room. He—the man is crazy. I was afraid to move." Myrna shuddered.

"You're all right now," Bob Tait said. "When you were in that room did you ever hear Rogers?"

Myrna shook her head. "Weeks didn't have any visitors, except Leonard Macy."

"Macy? Are you sure?"

"Yes. I heard him introduce himself."

"What did they talk about?"

"I don't know. After Macy came in and introduced himself, Weeks lowered his voice and so did Macy. I couldn't hear what they were saying."

Tait frowned. "I wonder if that fake criminologist isn't mixed up in this, and trying to palm off the blame on you?"

"What do you mean, Bob?"

Tait's arm went around her shoulders again. "Forget it. You've got to worry about. The thing I want you to do is get back to the Claremont and show yourself to Anne. She's frantic."

"I'm imagine. She warned me not to leave the place alone, but I insisted and said she was foolish."

"Well, it's a sort of a party. And"

"What do you mean, Bob?"

Tait's arm went around her shoulders again. "Forget it. You've got to worry about. The thing I want you to do is get back to the Claremont and show yourself to Anne. She's frantic."

it's important that you come. Will you?"

"Of course, Bob. Only—" She stopped, put a hand on his arm. "You look so tired and worried, Bob. I'm afraid I've been a frightful nuisance. After all, there's no reason why you should—"

He stopped her with a look. "We've a date, then. Only I'm asking you and Anne to meet me at the Golden Bowl. I'll have to make some arrangements. Say at 9 o'clock?"

"Nine o'clock," Myrna smiled. "Not until the doors of the Claremont had closed behind Myrna did Bob Tait give the taxi driver the signal to go on. "I want to go down to police headquarters," Tait said.

Dannie Feeley greeted him angrily. "Look here, Tait! Where in the devil is Myrna Dombey?"

"At the Claremont—where she lives," Tait said.

"Then you've just taken her there?"

Tait flushed despite himself. "I'll have to admit that, Dannie. But anyhow she's there."

"But she wasn't. That's the point. Barkley's been here, Bob, and he's raising the works and putting a prop under them. He found out Myrna had flown the coop—and you left me all unbuttoned by not telling me. I didn't know it. Barkley said he'd been made a fool of, and now he's going to make one out of me. It might interest you to know that he's going to spring a party in the papers tomorrow. And that means Myrna Dombey's goose is cooked." The detective regarded Tait sourly. "Where was she? On a little vacation? Did you ever happen to draw her a picture of the fact that she's charged with murder?"

"She was kidnaped by George Weeks," Tait said. "I followed Weeks this afternoon—and he went to Rogers' apartment. I overheard them talking about Myrna. Weeks had her hidden at the Belevdere Hotel. I just now dropped her off at the Claremont."

Feeley's eyes widened and his ample jaw dropped slowly. "I'm giving a little party tonight," Tait went on, "and I'd like to have you come, Dannie."

"A party. Is it! This mess and you're giving a party! I suppose it's in honor of Myrna going to the chair—and me losing my job!"

"I hope not, Dannie. Will you come?"

The Irishman's eyes narrowed now. "I got a hunch you mean business. Who's going to be there?"

"I'm asking Anne Lester and Myrna, Harris Rogers, Leonard Macy, Nelda Starr—and yourself."

"What about your screwy musician? Surely you're going to invite him to the party?"

"Have you forgotten, Mr. Farnsworth? He's going to be featured tonight with The Swingsters!"

Texas Industry, Trade Increase Over Last Month

STIN, Nov. 3.—Industry and trade in Texas during September increased moderately over the preceding month, but the composite index was still substantially below that of September last year, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, executive director of the University of Texas bureau of business research. The upward phase of the business cycle in Texas which now probably is getting under way probably will be more gradual for the north and northeast as the decline here was far more abrupt in those sections of the country, he pointed out.

The index after adjustment for seasonal influences rose nearly 10 points from August, 93.99 to 103.97, but it was still nearly eight points below September, 1937, when the index stood at 104.43. The indexes of employment and output gained slightly over the month, while the indexes of material power consumption and industrial production declined. There was a decline in the indexes of government store sales and runs of oil to stills. The detailed figures are given in the following table:

| | Sept. 1938 | Sept. 1937 | Aug. 1938 |
|------------|------------|------------|-----------|
| Employment | 87.93 | 96.53 | 86.30 |
| Output | 90.34 | 98.65 | 90.44 |
| Material | 65.15 | 84.11 | 57.94 |
| Power | 178.38 | 183.79 | 178.74 |
| Industrial | 110.27 | 115.26 | 111.46 |
| Government | 137.84 | 120.53 | 120.92 |
| Oil | 96.74 | 104.43 | 93.99 |

The European war clouds ominous, government spending approaching a peak, and industrial activity persistently sluggish, sentiment has improved greatly in the industrial sector of the country since October and the outlook is good for improvement during the remainder of the year with prospect of extending into 1939 and 1940, Dr. Buechel said.

A number of fundamental problems still await solution, however. Agriculture and the railroads, for example, remain in a condition with no basic solution in sight. The brighter side of the picture may be noted in the initial increase in railroad earnings, the rise in power.

Ch-Hikers Face Trial for Murder

Hardin-Simmons university, at Abilene, founded in 1891, has an increased enrollment for its forty-seventh year, recently begun. The freshman class is the largest in H-SU history, said Dr. J. D. Sandefer, dean of senior college and university heads in Texas, who is beginning his thirtieth year as president at Hardin-Simmons.

The student body enrollment includes undergraduates from 105 Texas counties, thirteen states, and foreign countries of Mexico and Brazil. Taylor county, with Abilene as county seat, leads with 266 students.

Football Game Not To Be In Ranger

RANGER, Nov. 3.—Officials of TWC of Fort Worth telephoned H. C. Wilkinson, school tax assessor and collector of Ranger, Saturday afternoon, stating that it would be impossible to play the TWC-St. Edwards game in Ranger Saturday, Nov. 5, as planned.

The contract between the two schools, it was stated in the telephone conversation, called for the game to be played at either Fort Worth or Austin, and it would be necessary, therefore, to cancel plans for playing the game in Ranger.

Cisco Auxiliary to Sell Poppies Nov. 5

Local participation in the annual buddy poppy sale sponsored throughout the country is being planned here by the American Legion auxiliary. The local sale will be conducted Nov. 5 in conjunction with the nationwide custom of conducting the sales prior to Armistice day. The entire proceeds of the sale will be used for relief and welfare work of the American Legion among disabled and needy veterans of this vicinity and for the national program of veteran rehabilitation and child welfare. The poppies themselves are assembled by disabled veterans in government hospitals who receive a normal wage for their work. Mrs. Leon McPherson, president of the ladies auxiliary assisted by Mrs. M. H. French will have charge of the local sale. A crew of workers will be on the streets early Saturday morning and the citizens of this city are being urged to co-operate in this worth-while work.

steel, and automobile production and the maintenance of a relatively high rate of activity in the construction industry. As a result of these favorable developments, the various national business indexes have recently registered a sharp rise. Barron's index of industry and trade, for example, rose nearly three points to 65.2 during the week ended October 15, or almost 5 per cent. An additional substantial rise in this index occurred in the week ended October 22.

"Should a constructive policy be evolved for agriculture, public utilities, and the railroads in the United States, and a foreign policy developed for removal of barriers to international trade, a prolonged period of industrial prosperity could readily be envisioned. During the next six months more definite indications of the longer term trends with respect to both the domestic and foreign situation may be expected to appear."

Cisco Would Be In AA District With Abilene Under New Alignment

Under a proposed new re-districting of high schools in Texas for interscholastic league football competition, Cisco would be placed in the highest ranking or AA district with Abilene, Brownwood, Breckenridge and Mineral Wells, with the possibility that Ranger, would be voted in.

Under the new alignment as proposed by the league officials and announced by Director R. J. Kidd of the athletic division, high schools with enrollments of 500 students or more for the preceding year would be placed in Class AA. This would eliminate from top-flight competition a number of Class A schools of the current rating, reducing them to what would be a second class rating, although still denominated Class A. Class B would enroll schools of less than 200.

Schools enrolling from 450 to 499 could be voted into the AA district by favorable action of the other schools therein. Ranger, which has enrollment in this bracket and probably would be voted into the new AA district, which would be known as No. 5 Eastland and Stephenville, present members of the loop, would be placed in Class A.

Throughout the state the new alignment would drop 19 schools from the present Class A conference, according to the Associated Press report.

The tentative classification would take out of the top-flight class which each year battles for the state championship such schools as Masonic Home of Fort Worth, Kerrville, Eastland, Olney, Quanah, Vernon, Stephenville, Fabens, Ysleta, Baston of Joinesville, Livingston, Kingville, Donna, Edinburg, McAllen, Mercedes, Mission, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo and Weslaco.

League officials explained some of these might be permitted to play in the new "AA conference" if they had sufficient enrollment and were voted in by schools in their district.

"The re-districting," said R. J. Kidd, league athletic director, "was done solely on an enrollment basis. No consideration whatever was given team strength. It was brought about mainly by the schools themselves, many of whom

GRIPPED BY MISERY OF A SORE THROAT!
(DUE TO A COLD)

Do this NOW—go after it with direct treatment. Get a small lump of Vicks VapoRub on the tongue. Feel the congestion. Feel the relief. Vicks VapoRub brings down the fever, brings relief—where you want it—when you want it.

Then TONIGHT—massage throat, chest and back with VapoRub. Its positive vapor action loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—eases coughing—relieves local congestion.

This 2-STEP METHOD is one of the proved ways of using VapoRub that have made it a family standby in more homes than all other medications of its kind.

New Leasing And Drilling Taking Place

Significant of the quick interest which the discovery of a new shallow pay at 747 feet on the Dr. F. E. Clark ranch near Putnam by Warren and Kleiner, was the announcement that a group of independent operators had leased with drilling contract a tract of 80 acres out of the Clark ranch offsetting the Warren and Kleiner holdings to the north. Dr. Clark withheld names of the operators pending completion of the deal, but said that the deal was assured.

The operators, who have done only deep drilling so far, will drill about one-third of a mile north of the Clark No. 1 discovery. They expect to start immediately and to complete within a month.

Meanwhile Charles Kleiner and L. A. Warren, Cisco operators who found production estimated at 35 barrels daily in a new sand at 747 feet—penetrated ten feet—were drilling an offset to the west on the D. A. Williams, et al, tract of 95 acres. Location of the well is in the southeast corner of Section 17, DandDA lands, 150 feet from the east and south lines.

Payment for the 80-acre lease offsetting the Warren and Kleiner tracts will be in cash and oil. Great interest, particularly among independent operators, is being manifest in the new discovery and leasing activity was considerable. Bringing in of another well of commercial consequence would set off an extensive drilling campaign, it was said.
