New Shallow Producer Near Star Reported

RISING STAR, Nov. 18—A new producer on the Walter Smith farm—about one fourth of a mile west of the Smith estate deep test—was reported Wednesday night. The sand was hit late in the afternoon and after drilling six feet in it was decided to shut down until Thursday morning to finish drilling in. Those at the well reported that the sand was touched at 631 and that the well as it stood was good for at least ten barrels.

The new well was drilled by R. C. McCarter and is less than a half mile north of his I. W. Robertson well, brought in a few weeks ago. Mr. McCarter has a large block of acreage around his new wells and no doubt will develop the territory quite thoroughly.

Two other wells have this week been spudded in—one by R. C. McCarter on the T. W. Landreth place and another by E. M. Howard and others on the Cosper tract. Both are near McCarter's I. W. Robertson well, brought in for 24 barrels a few weeks ago.

The McCarter well on the T. A. West estate, missed the sand and is to be plugged.

C. R. Cox announced that he will begin cleaning out his O'Rear well, near the Henry Hill place and will drill 100 feet deeper. Total depth of the hole when drilling was stopped was 2848 in producing lime. Mr. Cox stated that he had also completed arrangements for another well on the Watkins tract when he had finished with the O'Rear well.

P. C. Larkin reported an increase of about 4 barrels daily in the Hayner, Reaves & Hose well on his farm. The well which had been producing 11 barrels daily has picked up to 15 barrels.

CIO Threatens to Boycott Ford Motor Company

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Congress of Industrial Organizations today had hurled a threat of boycott to its claimed membership of 3,790,000 against the Ford motor company unless that concern agree to "bargain collectively" with the United Automobile Workers union.

Fiery speeches by Van A. Bittner, regional director of the C. I. O., and district president of the United Mine Workers, Richard Frankenstein, vice-president of the auto workers, and others preceded action on the Ford resolution.

Bittner said: "If we are going to boycott Ford, let us boycott Ford. He will either manufacture cars with an agreement with auto workers or he will not sell any cars in America."

"We will notify every Ford dealer we are not going to buy any Ford cars until Ford signs a contract with the U. A. W."

The resolution charged the Ford management with exercising every means of destroying all semblance of bona fide labor organization within its plants, was an "unfair competitor" with other manufacturers who have signed union agreements.

Broad Increase in Foreign Trade Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Two important new trade treaties, reducing American, British and Canadian tariffs on a wide variety of commodities, made their appearance last night amid official predictions of a broadly increased foreign commerce—and some signs of domestic controversy.

The pacts, designed to carry forward Secretary of State Hull's program of eliminating the barriers to world trade, among which he considers tariffs the foremost, were signed at a White House ceremony by Hull, Ambassador Lindsay of Great Britain and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada.

The benefits of the new pacts go automatically to all nations with which the United States has so-called "most favored nation" treaties—which means every country except Germany. The Reich is on the United States' economic "blacklist" because she is accused

THREE BENEFITS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18 (AP)—Administration farm officials predicted today that American farmers would gain three types of benefits from the British-Canadian trade agreements:

1. Substantially increased markets for wheat, lard, hams, cured pork and other hog products and fruits and rice!
2. Slightly lower prices for many manufactured products;
3. Increased consumption of farm products at home.

Experts generally agreed, however the treaties would not relieve the problem of agricultural surpluses to any great extent.

of discriminating against American products.

Many officials clearly considered the new agreements a reply to the challenge presented by totalitarian nations' trade practices, such as the Reich's barter deals.

Great Britain reduced her tariffs on long lists of American commodities, in return for, principally, a cut in American duties on the output of England's huge yarn and cloth industry.

Canada cut its duties on fruits, vegetables, fishery products, paper products, some wood products, automobiles, machinery, aircraft and aircraft engines, numerous textiles, and chemicals. In addition it eliminated a special three percent tariff so far as all items af-

COLD WEATHER DISCOURAGING TO GRID FANS

Stiff Wind and Threats of Rain Accompany Temperature Drop

A stiff, cold north wind with a smarting shetshemfetasrnd a smattering of rain swept over this section today while temperatures dropped from a high of 85 degrees yesterday noon to 43 at 11 o'clock. Continued decline was expected with prospects of freezing tonight. The weatherman promised fair skies and rising temperature tomorrow.

The inclement weather brought some gloom to football fans this morning as they prepared to go to Breckenridge to witness the Cisco and Breckenridge high school game for the eastern Oil Belt division championship at 3 this afternoon. There was prospect that it would not rain in a degree sufficient to affect the play of the two teams, but the stiff wind weeping lengthwise of the Bakaroo mid-trion was certain to interfere seriously with passing and punting.

The Cisco public schools were closed at 12 today, completing the day's schedule without intermission. Most of the students were planning to attend the contest. Two pep squads will be in action in the Cisco stands, one organization appearing, or the first time. It is a boys pep squad, to be clad in gold shirts and black trousers. C. C. Duff is organizer and director. This squad and the girls pep group together with the Lobo band were to be taken to the game site in school buses and cars.

The Cisco football squad was in good condition and eager for the game. One of the hardest fought contests in the current Oil Belt competition was promised.

The bad weather, however, was expected to cut down an attendance which otherwise would have been among the biggest to see a game in the district this season. Winner of this afternoon's contest will meet the winner of the San Angelo-Sweetwater game in the western division, for the district championship.

Midgets Defeat Eastland 18 to 6

The Cisco grammar school Midget football team, bolstered by three eighth grade players—K. Tomlinson, Hervey Tipton and Cleveland Donoway, took sweet revenge on the heavy Eastland junior high team at Eastland yesterday with a thumping 18 to 6 victory. Eastland, playing seventh and eighth graders, swamped the Midgets, playing without their star backs, here some time ago.

Abilene Justices Not on Competitive Basis

ABILENE, Nov. 18 (Sp.)—Abilene justices of the peace are not offering competitive prices on fines.

But a young fellow who came to Justice of the Peace J. D. Perry, Jr.'s court Thursday thought it might be so. After Perry told him the fine on a speeding charge would be $14, he postponed payment and went down the hall to the court of Justice of the Peace Theo. Ash.

He suggested to Ash that he would like to get off cheaper, but the second justice told him that he could not fine him less than $14—then added that the fine would have to be paid in Perry's court anyway, since the charge was filed there.

The speeder went back and paid Perry, who was not aware of the bargain-hunting.

Berlin Calls Its U. S. Ambassador

BERLIN, Nov. 18 (AP)—Germany today called home her United States ambassador for a report on the "quasi attitude" of President Roosevelt and other American leaders toward the wave of violence against the Jews in Germany.

The summons to Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff was sent four days after the announcement that the United States ambassador had been ordered home for a consultation.

The order came as a surprise to many foreign office functionaries. It was interpreted as meaning that Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop found it difficult to believe Dieckhoff's cabled reports concerning the American reaction to Germany's anti-Semitism.

FORMER IDEAS DO NOT APPLY LONGER, SAYS

U. S. Claims to Rights in China Denied By Militarists

TOKYO, Nov. 18 (AP)—Japan today rejected the contentions of the United States' note of October 6 protesting against the "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China, and declared the "ideas and principles of the past" no longer apply to the Chinese situation.

The note, which had the approval of the cabinet and the association of Emperor Hirohito, declared that Japan was engaged in establishing a new order in east Asia, "which was an indispensable condition to Japan's very existence."

On some points the allegations of the United States were denied. On others counter statements were offered. Elsewhere plans of military activity actually were made.

Service for Peace and Democracy Auxiliary Aim

Continued service for peace and democracy is foremost in the minds of American Legion auxiliary members as they re-opened for 1939, said Mrs. Leon McPherson, president of the Jno. Wm. Butts auxiliary unit. She reported a heavy enrollment, with many members having paid 1939 dues before they became officially due on October 29.

"Interest in the auxiliary's activities for protection of our country's peace and its democratic institutions is stronger than ever before," Mrs. McPherson stated. "American women have been thoroughly awakened to the danger of war by recent world events. They have been aroused to the threat to American institutions by the radical activities in the United States. They are seeking ways in which to serve for peace and freedom, and those who are eligible are finding a way to serve effectively in the work of the auxiliary."

"The auxiliary is advocating stronger national defenses to guard the country against war. For years our organization has done effective work in this cause, but we feel that this is a very critical time and are striving to make our work even more effective during the coming year. Every woman who enrolls in the auxiliary gives us just that much more strength for our efforts."

With the American Legion, the auxiliary has long been recognized as a powerful stabilizing influence in American life and a barrier to the success of radicalism of any kind in this country. Its constructive Americanism activities will be further developed during the coming year and will give every woman who enrolls opportunity to work for the maintenance of the democratic form of government in America.

The local unit is now receiving enrollment for the coming year and is inviting all eligible women, wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of legionnaires or of deceased veterans, and women who themselves were enlisted in war service, into its membership.

Yes the Lord shall abide
Thy faithful Redeemer, thy keeper and guide,
Thy shield and thy sword,
Thine exceeding reward;
'T was enough for the servant to be as his Lord.

Remember to make thy door fast behind thee, and invite Jesus to come unto thee, and enlighten thy darkness with His light. Abide faithfully with Him in this retirement, for thou canst not find so much peace in any other place.—John Bunyan.

Plain Duty of America to Hit Prejudice Hard

RECENT news from Europe has sounded so much like a throw-back to the dark ages that it is a trifle hard to realize what a truly terrible thing the new anti-Jewish campaign in Germany is.

Since we live in a world which has come to accept the mass murder of women and children in time of war as a matter of course, the return to the barbaric pogroms of medieval Europe can hardly seem surprising. Yet if we grow callous about these things we lose our defense against them. Only by making ourselves feel the horror of these abominations can we keep alive the hope for a restoration of civilization.

CONSIDER the cold facts for a moment. One of the innumerable victims of the anti-Jewish campaign finally snapped back.

and a sub-official in a German embassy was shot. Immediately the great German propaganda machine went into action, whipping up all of the lowest elements in the nation to make reprisals.

So gangsters were allowed to do as they pleased in the great cities for a few hours. No country on earth is as well policed or as completely disciplined as Germany; can anyone in his senses suppose that these outbreaks took place without the full approval of the German government?

Yet this inspired hooliganism was only a starter. On its heels came a new set of laws the ferocity of which is almost unbelievable.

Jews must not attend theaters or concerts or visit picture galleries. They must pay the stupendous sum of $400,000,000 for the murder of one embassy tea-drinker (and this in a land which protested the World War reparations bill!). Jews whose property was despoiled in the pogroms must stand the damages themselves; if they carried insurance, they must pay the insurance to the state. New restrictions are thrown around their right to earn a living. A restoration of the medieval ghetto is predicted.

ALL of this happened a long way off, to be sure. It is hard, living in America, to realize that savagery like that can really exist, or to translate into human terms the utter misery that such a program inflicts on scores of thousands of innocent people. Yet realize it we must, if we are to do our duty to our America.

For a thing like this is what a nation lets itself in for when it gives rein to anti-Semitism—or, indeed, to any kind of racial or religious antagonism. What is happening in Germany today is simply the logical end product of the familiar sort of unthinking prejudice that crops out occasionally in our own land.

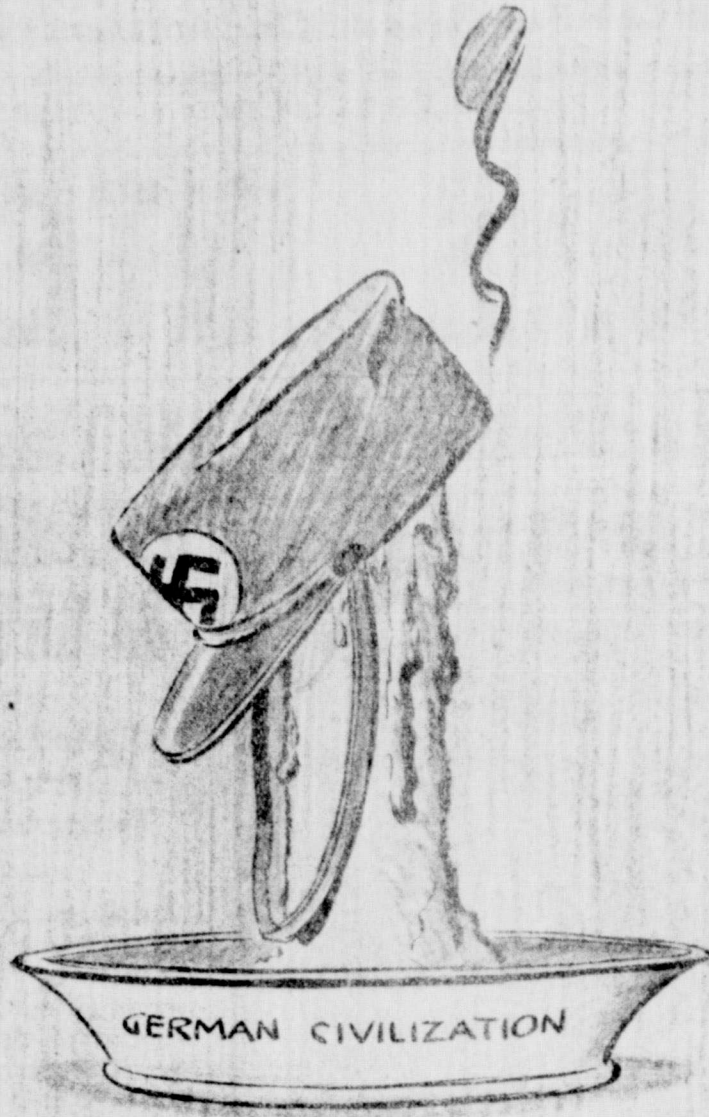

And our only defense against that sort of thing is to understand to the full the horror of Hitler's most recent descent to barbarism. See this thing for the abomination that it is—and, whenever you see a symptom of the same sort of thing in your own country, hit it and hit it hard. There is no other way to make sure that it won't happen here.

About Our Friends

By STEPHEN A. LONG

No one talks anything else but Breckenridge-Cisco football game today. . . . No jokes, no fun. . . . and while sales people in the various stores are supposed to be terribly intent on their business, they steal a sly word in such questions as—"Going to Breckenridge today?" "Will the Lobos win?" or perhaps they will venture a suggestion that Cisco must win that game.

And some of us more aggressive and daring fans who have placed our faith where we want it, are free with the thought that we will also annex the western half of the district championship when we get to them after beating Breckenridge. . . . And if we do not get two victories we will be greatly disappointed. . . . Because we have the material and the training—all we need is the will to fight. . . . and we believe the boys will have that.

A great number of people wanted to close for the game but it was decided, so we are informed, that it would not be wise to do that. . . . A number of merchants have on special events and sales. . . . Garner's Big Balcony sale has just begun. . . . Altman, Ferguson, Penney and some of the drug stores have special events, and showings. . . . Out-of-town people might be sorely disappointed should they come to trade in response to advertising and find stores closed.

Which leads us to say that we do not want to cause inconvenience to any of our rural or surrounding town friends. . . . We appreciate their trade and will forego much of our own pleasure to accommodate them. . . . So we will remain open as a town in order that they may have opportunity to avail themselves of the many bargains in fall and winter merchandise being offered by Cisco merchants. . . . The weather has been very unseasonable. . . . People have not felt the day, and will work after school and on Saturdays until all of the toys contributed are in first class condition. Scoutmaster Orville Bradley is in charge of the hospital.

Scouts of Brownwood who were in the Armistice day parade marched in the form of a cross, each carrying a Red Cross poster. This past week these boys with the help of other scouts placed many Red Cross posters in store windows and raised six Red Cross flags, made by Mrs. Karl H. Moore, on buildings in the city.

Scouts of Blanket with their scoutmaster, Rev. H. D. Christian, reports having had plenty of adventure and fun on a hike by the group last week.

Breckenridge held one of the best courts of honor of the year Monday night, November 14. Brownwood court of honor date is Tuesday night, November 29. A board of review will be held in the scout office at 1 p. m., Saturday, November 27.

A pow-wow for the north section is to be held November 28. The time of evening and place are to be announced later.

STORIES IN STAMPS

How Justinian Cut Red Tape Out of Rome

EXECUTIVE-MINDED JUSTINIAN held no more with the red tape and intricacies of the law. So in the first steps of his administration was a move to simplify the whole body of Roman law.

Immediately after his accession he appointed a commission to simplify the imperial constitution. This task was completed in 14 months and so successful was the work that the emperor chose to revise the entire field of law writing. And he did.

But first he wisely took the preliminary step of settling the important legal questions which the great jurists still agreed. A series of 50 decisions was handed down on a general basis. Then Justinian appointed the famous lawyer, Tribonian, who had already served the first commission, to codify the remainder of Roman law. The commissioners took an exhaustive codification. Tribonian presenting his work to Justinian in 529. This was known as the Digest, or Pandects. It comprised nearly 10,000 extracts from Roman authors. It proved a significant accomplishment, although badly arranged as we view it today.

But this was not enough for the emperor. He decided finally to simplify all elementary law. This was published as the Institutes of Justinian. A great many additional ordinances were codified at the same time, and a statute book was compiled for the courts. Tribonian, presenting the Pandects, Justinian, shown here in a 1934 stamp, Vatican State, Rome.

TCU Moves to Houston for Game With Owls
FORT WORTH, Nov. 18.—If some visitor comes to the Texas Christian university campus tomorrow he will find only a handful of students, too broke to get out of town, a janitor or two, and the night watchman—the latter having foregone his daily sleep in order to sit beside the radio and listen to the football broadcast.

Texas Christian university will move to Houston tomorrow, not permanently, understand, but thoroughly nevertheless.
President E. M. Waits, half of the faculty, two-thirds of the student body, the football squad, the Horned Frog band—all will be off in a mass movement to Houston, habitat of the Rice Owl.

The day has been declared a holiday and the Frog-Owl game made the occasion for the official student body grip.

Five thousand tickets for the game have been sold in Fort Worth. Two special trains will carry the part of the crowd. Students will breakfast at 4 a. m. in order to catch the 5 a. m. special. And greater love hath on man for an Alma Mater than that! Others will travel by bus and private car.

Coach Dutch Mayer refuses to comment about tomorrow's game except to say, "We are expecting a hard battle, but the Frogs are ready!"

Two social affairs have already been planned by the Texas, one of which is to be a club dance held in the college recreation hall. In addition to social activities the clubs are instrumental in maintaining a spirit of enthusiasm on the campus for all college activities.

STORIES IN STAMPS

The Speech That Gave Lincoln to History

THE tall, gaunt Abraham Lincoln who returned to politics in 1854 with the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska act, opening the northwestern territories to slavery, was in no manner the prairie politician of five years earlier. In 1847-49 he had served a single term in Congress, where he had not satisfied anyone. Now he emerged as a dynamic champion. The nation first recognized this new Lincoln at Peoria on Oct. 16. Five years of hard work in the law had developed in him exceptional powers of argument. He displayed these in his first great speech in answer to Stephen A. Douglas, that day combining vision, understanding, sympathy, the address at once became the finest exposition yet given on the whole slave question. He wanted to check slavery, he pointed out, because it was inhuman, but even more so because "new free states are places for poor people to go to and better their condition." He wanted the burning issue settled to benefit both the white and the black in America. He wanted no vindictiveness; he was wholly the humanitarian, the democrat. The Peoria speech made Lincoln famous. His political ambitions immediately sprang to life again. He plunged back into politics with new energy and force which he was later to exhibit in the great Lincoln-Douglas debates. His words had won him a place in history. The Civil War President is shown here on a stamp of the new U. S. regular series, enlarged. (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)
