PARADE WILL BEGIN AT ONE, RODEO AT 1:30

Will Be First of Jaycee Trade Promotion Series

Five events are listed on the program for the rodeo to be presented at the Lions club 1:30 Saturday afternoon. Three of the five are for boys under 18 years of age and in them cash awards will be paid.

The others are for men and carry no prizes.

The rodeo, first of a series of December trade promotion events to be presented by the junior chamber of commerce, is in charge of a committee headed by John Trigg of Romney.

A parade from the north end of D avenue to the soft ball park, led by the Lobo band, will open the afternoon's program. In this parade the junior chamber of commerce committee is making an effort to have every saddle horse, Shetland pony and donkey in the Cisco country.

Parade at 1
The parade will march at 1 p. m. in order to reach the soft ball park in time for the rodeo to begin at 1:30.

Events are as follows:

1—Goat roping for boys under 18 years of age. Prizes of $2, $1 and 50 cents will be paid winners.
2—Steer riding for boys under 18. Fifty cents will be paid each successful rider.
3—Calf roping. There will possibly be two classes in this event, one for men and another for boys. Prizes will be the same as in the first event.

4—Wild cow milking for men. Boys will not be entered in this event. There will be no prizes.
5—Bronc riding. There will likewise be no prizes in this event.

The junior chamber has suggested that merchants of the city arrange for special merchandizing events to coincide with the rodeo and with subsequent programs to be presented during December. In this manner it is expected that the business men of the city can utilize the program to its greatest advantage.

A minstrel show, treasure hunt and a Santa Claus parade are other events scheduled for the series.

Baptist Choir Members Called

All members of the Baptist choir are urged by Leader W. F. Walker to be present at the rehearsal Wednesday evening, it was announced today.

It is urgent that choir members rehearse for Christmas numbers and for regular Sunday singing, Mr. Walker said.

Identity of Girl Chosen as "Movie Queen" Kept a Mystery

Who has been selected as the "Movie Queen"?

That is the mystery that will occupy folks' minds here this week, following the meeting of the Lions club's secret committee last night when a girl was chosen to play that part in the club's musical comedy production to be produced under the direction of Miss Emiline Bogue and presented December 14.

Sterling Drumwright was chosen as the leading man for the production, but even he does not

Clark Area Wells Good Producers

Potential tests of the F. E. Clark No. 1 (discovery) and the Williams, et al. No. 1 of Warren and Kleiner in the new shallow pool two miles southwest of Putnam, this morning had established the two producers as excellent wells for that depth.

Eastland Man Burns to Death in Fire at Home

EASTLAND, Nov. 29 (AP)—J. M. Hart, 80, burned to death Monday in a fire at his small, frame house here. Investigators said they were unable to explain the fire nor the inability of Hart to leave the house, because he was active despite his age.

Survivors include Walter Hart, former president of the Eastland chamber of commerce and now district manager at Seymour for a utility company.

Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins and daughter, Katy Lou, Miss Ellen Bacon and Mrs. Ernest Lennon spent Sunday in Fort Worth.

Plans to Speed Development of Texas Outlined

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Plans for speeding development of the "vast and comparatively undeveloped natural resources of Texas" were outlined today at a PWA hearing on a $500,000 loan and grant application.

Scientific research and educational programs would be paramount in bringing about the development, said John Spellman, of Dallas, president of the Texas institute of natural resources. Spellman said all counties of the state had supported the plan of the institute to develop Texas resources.

YANGTZE WILL BE CLOSED TO ALL BUT JAPS

Nippon Armed Forces Say Protests Will Be Unavailing

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29 (AP)—Japan's armed forces tonight served notice that the Yangtze river, China's main trade artery, would remain closed to all but Japanese shipping until China was conquered.

The communique indicated protests from foreign powers, chiefly Great Britain, the United States and France, against closing the river would be unavailing.

The pronouncement came just when it was reported that foreign powers were about to raise again the question of Yangtze navigation.

Buckies and El Paso Team Play at Breck Friday

The Breckenridge Buckaroos and the El Paso Bowie high school eleven will meet at Breckenridge Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in their bi-district championship game, it was announced after a day of "hoss trading" which ended when the El Paso officials accepted Breckenridge's proposition to give El Paso the first $1,200 of gate receipts. Agreement was reached at 8 o'clock last night.

The Buckaroos, whose stock has gone soaring with a top-heavy victory over the touted Sweetwater Mustangs for the District 3 title after a hard-fought battle with Cisco's Lobos for the east division title, will take the field as favorites over the El Paso team. Oddly enough it was an El Paso team which humbled the Oil Belt district's representative—Abilene—last year, thus momentarily ending the long record of superiority which teams of this district have held over the war western representatives.

Narcotics Ring at New Orleans Broken

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Eighteen persons were arrested and 10,000 grains of heroin were seized in breaking up the city's largest narcotic ring, Terry A. Talent, chief of the U. S. narcotic bureau, announced.

Five automobiles and one truck also were seized.

Garner Boom Starts in Native County

CLARKSVILLE, Nov. 29 (AP)—The first step in the home-state movement to set up Vice President John Garner as democratic presidential nominee in 1940 will be taken in his native Red river county Dec. 6 when his friends in that section meet to organize a permanent "Garner for president club."

The meeting will be held at Detroit, near the spot where the vice president was born 70 years ago.

Roy Miller, of Corpus Christi, one of the leading Garner advocates in Texas, will assist in formation of the club and will deliver the principal address. Mayor W. P. Cornick of Clarksville will preside as temporary chairman and Busnell Waldrop, assistant county attorney, will serve as temporary secretary.

Troops March in French Crisis

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Premier Daladier, warning that the fate of the nation may be at stake, marched troops to vital centers today and placed at public services under military control in an effort to break the scheduled strike.

Carnegie Tech and TCU for Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Carnegie Tech. of Pittsburgh, today accepted an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl football classic January 2.

Their opponent will be Texas Christian university of Fort Worth, providing permission of the Southwest conference is obtained.

The Christians went through the season undefeated, while Carnegie lost only to Notre Dame.

COTTON BOWL ANNOUNCEMENT

DALLAS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Officials said an announcement would be made this afternoon on the teams selected for the Cotton Bowl football classic of January 2. It was understood that negotiations were under way with Tennessee and Texas Tech, and Oklahoma and Villanova.

SOONERS TO PLAY IN ORANGE BOWL

NORMAN, OK., Nov. 19 (AP)—Oklahoma's unbeaten Sooners have accepted tentatively an invitation to play in the Orange Bowl at Miami, January 2. Coach Tom Stidham said today.

Stidham declined to discuss the Sooners' opponents, but others mentioned for the classic were Tennessee, Holy Cross and Fordham.

PARADE OF DEATH

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—A parade of death to San Quentin's new gas chamber will start Friday when two convict murderers die side by side, the first criminals to pay the penalty under California's death-by-gas law. Albert Kessel and Robert Lee Cannon will be the first.

TWO OF SEVEN RESCUED WHEN SHIP CRASHES

Fate of Other Five on Board Not Yet Established

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29 (AP)—The United Air Lines' plane smashed to pieces on the rocky ocean beach near San Francisco today after it had fought an eighty-four-mile per hour wind, and was forced down on a rough sea when fuel became exhausted.

The fate of seven persons aboard was unknown several hours later. Two figures were spotted on the beach by coast guardsmen, who believed that at least two aboard the plane had escaped death.

Those aboard the ship were: Pilot Charles Stead, Seattle; Co-pilot Lloyd Jones, Seattle; H. L. Shotts, San Jose; J. B. Hefelbower, San Francisco; Philip Hart, Portland; Isadore Edelstein, Los Angeles; and Stewardess Frona Clay, Alameda.

The plane was en route to Oakland from Seattle.

Later, Stead and Edelstein, who reached the beach after the plane was smashed by the waves, were hauled up the steep cliff by ropes. Conflicting reports said one was injured seriously.

The Civil Aeronautics authority at Oakland said it had received information that Co-pilot Jones was killed.

Red Cross Drive to Be Concluded on Wednesday

The annual Red Cross roll call will come to a close tomorrow afternoon after a quick city-wide drive carried on by a committee, under the direction of the Rev. M. H. Applewhite.

Two separate campaigns were embraced by the drive, one directed at the business district and the other at the residential areas.

"It is not possible to see everybody, no matter when or how a campaign of this nature is conducted," said Mr. Applewhite today. "If anybody who wishes to contribute has been missed, he or she may leave the contribution at the chamber of commerce where it will be taken care of."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

There is grace in thee, and no hurt in the Lord (Lev. 1—1 Sam. xx, 11)

When peace brings freedom in my heart
Let happy life His ways release.
—WHITTIER.

Remember: To a man driving constantly to mend his life, nothing is so true a gospel of peace as the announcement of God's ever ready help. To the humble or simple man, being his duty is that state of life to which God has called him. worthy according to the law which God has written in his heart, the best gospel is that God with a righteous judgment (wisely) renders to every man according to his deeds.—A. P. Sterling.

What of Next Year?

UNLESS all signs fail 1939 will be a good business year. Not a boom year by any means, but a year when a definite upward advance will be registered, a year when the "give" of the depression will begin to be felt. Business charts indicate a gathering of forces which make for better conditions. National needs for housing, construction and so forth have been piling up during the past few years to such a degree that many years of production will be necessary before these needs are overtaken. Foreign trade conditions are improving to a remarkable degree. There is evidence on every hand that confidence is being restored to the nation's buyers and investors—not the big boys, necessarily, but the more important masses of little fellows, the sector of economic life which represents both the market and the means of supplying that market. A few big capitalists may exercise an influence upon the business life of the nation, but in the fundamental it is the millions of small business people and workers who determine by their reactions whether or not we shall have prosperous times. Mass thinking is a glacial thing, for all the rapidity with which it may move, and when the national thought becomes imbued with a certain idea all the ponderous pronouncements of industrialists and statesmen cannot deflect that thinking until it has run its course.

THIS national mental phenomenon, which has been pessimistic for years, appears to have undergone a change. The significance of that change is seen in the growing sentiment for self-dependence as distinct from what has hitherto been a more or less supine dependence upon governmental aid and guidance. This change of attitude, representing interference and regimentation, was expressed rather forcefully, not merely in the surprising results of the last general election but in the primaries of the southern states where efforts to "purge" out certain party leaders were rebuked by the voters of that party.

THIS change of national sentiment is the most optimistic condition that has occurred in the national picture. It means that the American people now realize the only solution to the question of prosperity and are ready to work at it. In other words confidence is returning to the individual.

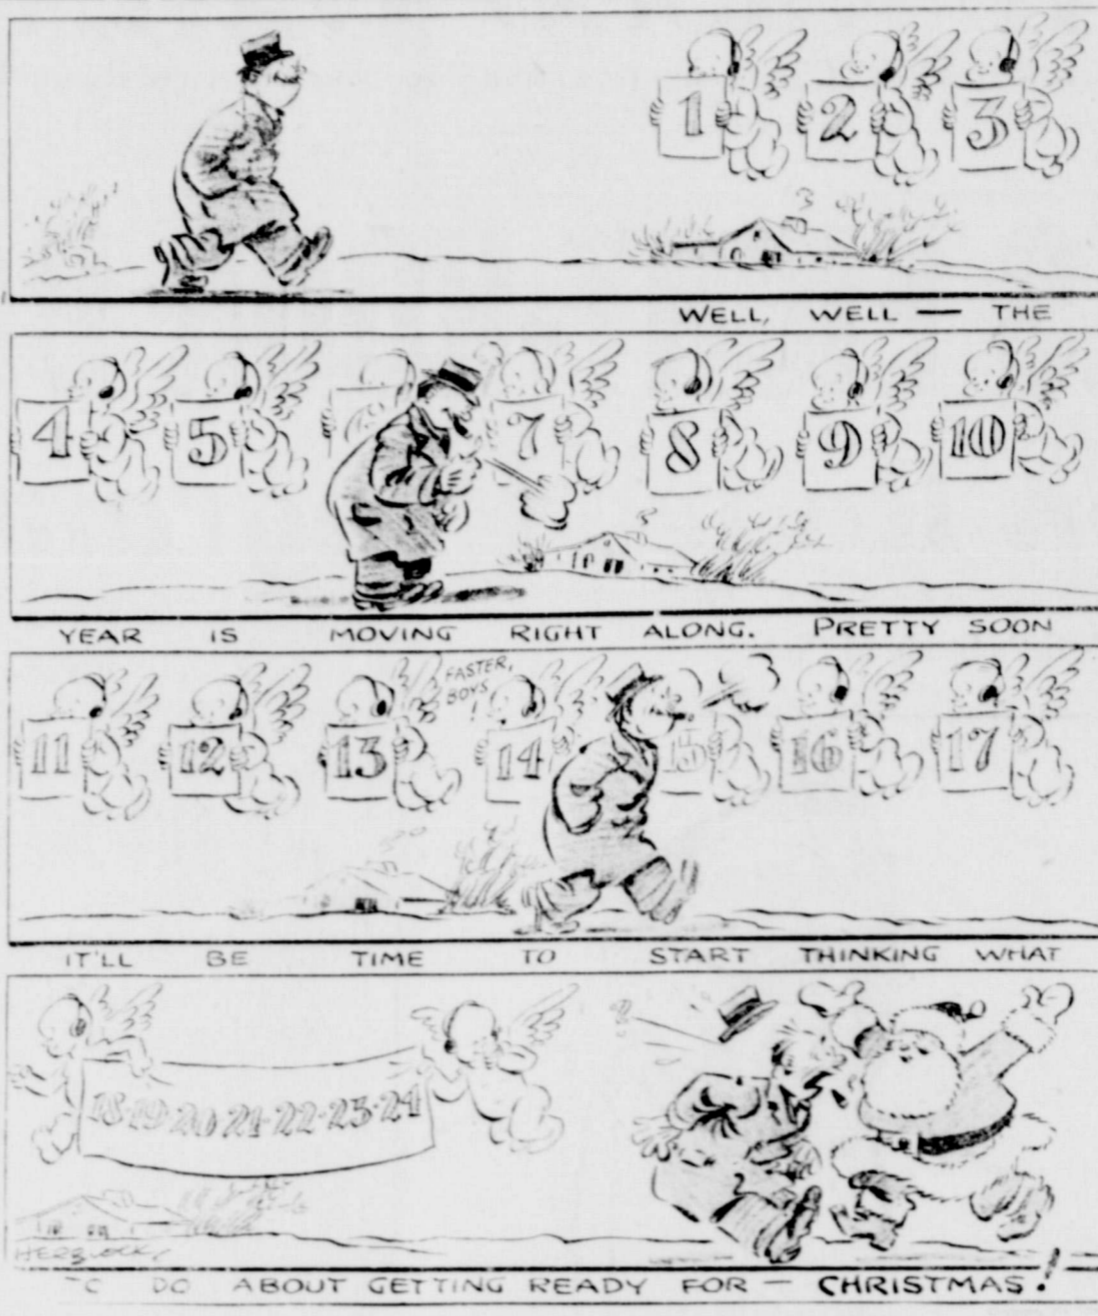

WHAT of Cisco in 1939? The prospects are good. Agricultural conditions have improved to a great degree with a change to crops more suited to this area, particularly to livestock, and the introduction of sound soil building and soil conservation methods, which will insure profitable production indefinitely.

NEW oil discoveries, shallow and deep, in the area point to widespread drilling over a long period of time and over a territory that may coincide with territory already drilled over. This activity will certainly mean not only work for oil field labor, but large returns to farmers and landowners.

THE CITY'S debt situation is well on the road to being cured. Solution of this issue, which has been an onus for years, is certain to be reached within a short time, ridding property and present and prospective business enterprises of a great uncertainty.

MANY other factors enter into the picture to brighten it. It is a good time to "get out and get under." Let's begin now to make 1939 a big year for a big little city.

Calendar for December

Oil Shutdowns Continued Eight Days in December

AUSTIN, Nov. 29 (AP)—Continuation of statewide oil production shutdowns through four Saturdays and four Sundays next month were ordered Monday by the Texas railroad commission. The commission said the state's daily base production allowance, considering the holidays, would be 1,294,577 barrels, 14,924 barrels per day above the November base allowable but 49,323 barrels below the United States bureau of mines recommendation for December. The order was signed only by Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson and Commissioner C. V. Terrell. Lon A. Smith, the third commissioner, said he would have agreed to closing for five days in December but did not believe eight were necessary. With next month having five instead of the usual four Saturdays, Dec. 17 was exempted from the closing. The allowable December 1, not counting the holidays, was set at 1,710,082 barrels per day, compared with 1,709,272 November 1 and 1,736,827 November 18. Comparative November and December base daily allowables by districts, exclusive of the shut-ins, were: East Texas, 519,985

Baird to Play Newcastle at Olney

BAIRD Nov. 29.—This town was football mad as preparations were made for an invasion of Olney Friday afternoon for the bi-district game between the Baird Bears and Newcastle, winners of district 11 and 12-B respectively. Films are underway for a special train to be run Friday morning. Coach Bill White sent the Bears through a light workout this afternoon, but heavier work was in store for the team later in the week. All hands reported in good shape for the impending tussle. White announced his starting lineup would be Gerald Watts, left end; James Alexander, left tackle; Harpel Bains, left guard; Russell Chatham, center; Fenton Williams, right guard; Mike Hughes, right tackle; Arthur Burleson, right end; Clyde Yarbrough, quarterback; J. B. Pitzer, left half; Gene Finley, right half; Grover Wylie, fullback. A parachute jumper who was killed at Augusta, Ga., had sent a telegram to his father that morning saying, "I'm going to give up barnstorming after the show today." About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

Carlton Holder and his young chamber of commerce aids are getting plans well matured for the first rodeo and trade event of the holiday season scheduled for December 3. Merchants should cash in on this event by offering Christmas and holiday goods for that day. Every business man should liberally display his offerings in the Thursday issue of the Daily Press.

People will be coming to town for the entertainment. Most farmers are fairly good business men and women when it comes to conserving time. Time is an important element in their lives. There is a certain time in which things must be done a time for every thing. . . . and they have learned to take advantage of the old adage. "Kill two birds with one stone," when ever possible. Coming to town for the afternoon means leaving a lot of things undone and being late for the regular chores which must be done after night if one is late getting home.

And so people will be expecting to do a lot of buying. They won't have time to be looking all over town for the things they want. . . . not next Saturday. . . . time will be precious for them on that afternoon. . . . They will need shopping made easy for them.

And so Mr. Merchant, you can make it easy for them to buy your goods by telling them just where to find your goods. . . . the items of quality. . . . the price together with a little selling argument as to why they should buy the particular items that you are selling. . . . what salesman call. "The Romance of Salesmanship." . . . something about the items that will entice interest. . . . The first requisite in any selling. . . . But mind you, these talks must be truthful. . . . You may make a sale one time by misleading the customer, but he will not return. . . . and chances are he will keep some friend from visiting your store in future. . . . If your goods are not of the proper quality, and worth the price, throw them on the bargain counter and let the people know they are being sacrificed so you may restock better values.

Yes, Mr. Merchant, if there has been a time this fall when you should tell these people, your customers, just where the items are in your store. . . . then it is this week, preceding the rodeo. . . . The whole junior chamber of commerce is working for you. . . . If you fail to take full advantage of the opportunity, then their efforts have been in vain so far as you are concerned. . . . They have failed to help you much. . . . If you tell these people Thursday, or before hand. . . . so they can read about what you have for them Saturday. . . . they will read about it and make their decisions before coming to town, and then they won't have to stroll into your store. . . . take up the time of your clerks. . . . and then say, "We were just looking around." Can you blame them for that when you could have told them just where to find the things they

STORIES IN STAMPS

By Thompson & Co.

Canada, Where Airplanes Open Frozen Fastnesses. HARD schooled are the Canadian air pilots who fly down literally millions of miles carrying mail, men and supplies into the country beyond the heads, deep into the Arctic Circle. Intrepid flyers, they have brought the dominion to the threshold of a new frontier. So it happens today that Canada leads the world in the saving of freight and express charges. . . . hauling into the north some six times as much in one year as all United States domestic and foreign routes. Money supplies and the equipment of the new mining towns, for example, are being transported in increasing quantities by air. This the whole future development of the dominion is linked with its planes and pilots, for Canada still to be developed in the frozen fastnesses, inaccessible to train and ship. Down from the north come daily huge cargo planes, carrying concentrate or bullion from the dominion's new mines, taking back supplies, and flying emergency trips in event of accidents. At the same time a vast amount of aerial survey work is carried on, mapping new roads through virgin country, new harbor plans for new townsites. Long since planes have been used widely for forestry work, to detect fires, to check timber limits, and record cutting operations. Shown here on a current Canadian air mail stamp is one of the dominion's northland ships flying to make contact with the nearest steamer point. Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.

O'Daniel Names Advisory Board of 29 Citizens

FORT WORTH, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel Monday announced the appointment of a board of 29 advisory citizens representing various lines of activity and different parts of the state, and called for them to meet at Fort Worth Monday, Dec. 3. Creation of the board was in line with a campaign pledge made by O'Daniel prior to his nomination at the Democratic primary last July. Of the 29 members of the board, 17 are men and two are women. In advising the members of their duties, O'Daniel said the appointments carry no political significance, and the appointments are set in individual capacities with no official status. They also are to serve without remuneration, and will be required to pay their own traveling expenses. "That," O'Daniel said, "will be our contribution to the cause of our government." "This is something new in government."

Duke Invited to Play in Rose Bowl Classic

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29 (AP)—Duke Monday night was invited to play the University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl football classic Jan. 2.

The invitation was accepted. Director of Athletics Willis O. Hunter of U. S. C. made the formal announcement. Earlier Monday the Trojans had been selected by the Pacific Coast conference to represent the Far West in the traditional battle.

The "sudden" announcement broke all recent records in deciding on the Rose Bowl candidates, and brings together two of the finest teams of their respective sections of the nation.

It will be the first trip of Duke to the Rose Bowl, but the fourth time the Blue Devils' coach, Wallace Wade, has come to the Pasadena game.

Wade, as in the case of Coach Howard Jones of U. S. C., has an unbeaten record in the big bowl. He brought Alabama out in 1926

Hardin-Simmons and Howard Payne Clash Saturday

ABILENE, Nov. 29.—(Spec.)—A tradition among the gridiron classics of west Texas is the annual clash of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys and the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets.

This year, the Jackets, winners of their third successive Texas conference title, and the Cowboys, who have bagged six wins in a row, will meet Saturday afternoon in the Howard Payne homecoming at Brownwood, before one of the banner turnouts of the year in west Texas.

Coach McAdoo Keaton's Hornets have won eight of ten games, and have been scored on only in the games the Jackets have lost, while Coach Frank Kimbrough's Rangers have won seven of nine contests.

The game is the final one under the H-SU purple and gold for eight Cowboy seniors, including the team's four co-captains, Bud Reeves, end, and Clarence Headstream, blocking back, nominees for Little All-America honors, Luther Raley, quarterback, and Eddie Bigelow, center.

Other seniors are M. H. Rabhorn, stellar watch chain guard; Bill Pletcher, end; Jack Harriehs, fullback, and Lloyd Guy, guard. All are letter men.

Howard Payne holds a wide edge in the series between the Baptist schools since 1917, when football was resumed as an intercollegiate sport at H-SU after a several years' ban. Since that year, except for a one-year lapse in 1934, the Yellow Jackets have won thirteen, the Cowboys five.

Three have been ties, including the 1937 7 to 7 game here, which tainted the Ranchers' undefeated, untied record for the season. It is this blemish the Cowboys, in drills here this week, are gunning to erase in Saturday's clash.

opening game of the season, but the Trojans came back to win six straight games, including victories over Ohio State and California, and then Washington won a 7-6 decision over the Trojan warriors.

With neither Duke nor U. S. C. scored for high scoring, the wild touchdown maneuvers of Texas Christian held the public's interest up to tonight's announcement.

Director Hunter closed negotiations with Duke officials and later issued a statement. It read:

"The University of Southern California appreciates the honor conferred upon it by the Pacific Coast Conference in being selected for the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena Jan. 2. We are proud of the record made by our teams there and I am sure Coach Howard Jones and the Trojan players will do their level best to see that the Far West makes a strong showing at Pasadena.

"The general athletic committee of the university is pleased to announce that Duke University of Durham, N. C., has been selected to represent the East. It has always been the aim of the Pacific Coast Conference and Tournament of Roses officials to perpetuate the East-West idea, which was born with the origin of this annual classic.

"Duke's football record of being undefeated, untied and unscored on in nine games is unequalled by that of any other major team in the nation.

"Coach Wallace Wade has brought teams to the Rose Bowl before and the University of Southern California considers it an honor to play one of his elevens.

"In making its selection of an Eastern opponent, the athletic committee took cognizance of the fact that a majority of players on the Southern California squad voiced a desire to meet the Duke team."

and won over Washington, 20-19, came with Alabama in 1927 and tied Stanford, and in 1931 he guided Alabama to a 24 to 0 victory over Washington State.

Sentiment was high in Los Angeles for Texas Christian or Tennessee to get the bid, and the selection failed by a good deal to meet universal approval.

Popularity of the North Carolina Dukes gained momentum over the week-end after they defeated Pittsburgh, 7 to 0, keeping intact an amazing record of never having been scored upon all season.

Southern California's record falls short of the Duke lads. Alabama pasted them, 19 to 7, in the

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC. BY BETTY WALLACE

CAST OF CHARACTERS JUDY ALCOTT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors. DWIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty. JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love. MARVEL HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday: At Marvel's party Judy and Jack overheard Cary Tennant predict that Marvel will not stay long with Dwight and Navy life.

CHAPTER XVII

"Her housewarming was even worse than it would have been if no one had come," said Diane. "I, for one, am through. It was bad enough to be laughed at by those phony celebrities. But to keep trying to make Marvel see the light just because Dwight's unhappy—that's too much!"

Judy was forced to admit that Diane was right. She said, "Forget it, Diane. I'll never mention it again. I know you tried, and that was sweet of you. I promise to torture my friends no more."

"But how about yourself? Satisfied to keep torturing Judy?" Judy dropped her eyes swiftly, and Diane said, "Sorry."

For weeks afterward, the wives on the station talked about the party. But then it died down, and Judy was glad. As Jack Hanley said sensibly, "There's nothing you can do for her. You tried, and she queered it herself. Let her alone!"

Dwight did not telephone or come to see her. He had finally realized, Judy felt, that merely telling Marvel wasn't enough. Anyway, she didn't want anyone to tell her. She was running her own show.

The first sharp pain had settled into a constant feeling of emptiness. Judy tried by seeing Jack every night his ship was in, to fill that void. And then, just before the Texarkana was due to shove off for Bremerton to be laid up in drydock for overhaul, Chris Whiting, Jack's classmate, asked her and Jack to have dinner with him aboard the ship.

Judy hadn't been aboard the Texarkana since the night Dwight told her he was going to marry Marvel. She shrank from going. But she couldn't bear to let Jack know, and so she went.

She had hoped that Dwight would not have the duty tonight. She did not want to see him, but if he was aboard, she knew she would. However, she had not expected to find Marvel. Yet when she entered the ward room, Marvel was the first person she saw. Marvel in a stunning green dinner dress that matched her eyes. Marvel sitting in a deep leather chair, smoking, and looking as though she were very much accustomed to the hospitality of the mess.

"How nice to see you!" Marvel said. But her eyes were hostile at once. "Judy! Dwight held her hand tightly. 'Marvel and I have been meaning to get over for a visit but—'"

"You must be very busy," said Judy, smiling. It was comforting to know that Jack was close. She turned and greeted Chris, and the moment passed.

At the dinner table, Judy sat between Jack and Chris. Marvel and Dwight were opposite. But Marvel paid little attention to the other girl. She saved her smiles and her conversation for the men. Judy was relieved rather than offended. She listened to Marvel telling Chris how difficult it was to make up her mind. "One minute I want to go to Bremerton, to be with Dwight when he gets there. The next minute, I think I'd have more fun if I went to Los Angeles. Some friends are taking a cruise in your yacht. That would be nice, too."

After dinner, Chris said that he had some new pictures he wanted Jack and Judy to see. "Spanish stuff. I found them in a little shop on the waterfront." Marvel said quickly, "Oh, mayn't we come too, Lieutenant Whiting?"

"Delighted to have you, Mrs. Campbell," Chris said politely. But he wasn't delighted, and neither was Judy. The whole evening would be spoiled if she had to remain under the unfriendly glance of Marvel's green eyes.

Dwight's wife exclaimed over the pictures. She said, "Some day I'm going to have a great big redecorated house like this one, here." She described the pictures her interior decorator had purchased for her. But when Chris handed one of the pictures to Judy, Marvel lost interest, and drifted toward the curtained doorway, as if impatient to leave.

"Doesn't this one remind you of Balboa and the Conquistadores and all the old romantic history of California?" Judy asked. "That's why I bought it," said Chris. "As art it's no great shakes."

"Chris paints himself, you know," Jack explained. "At the Academy he—"

Suddenly they were aware of voices from outside. Someone was passing along the narrow corridor and saying clearly, "I'd tell any wife of mine where she got off! Dinner aboard is all right once in a while, but every night for two weeks is too much. Talk about mess-room bills—"

Another man's voice replied, "Oh, Campbell hasn't been married long. He'll put her wise as soon as—"

They were gone. Out of earshot.

"There's too much hot air about these young squirts fresh out of the Academy!" said Chris. "That was raw!"

Judy remembered that in the Junior Officers' Mess, as well as in the Wardroom, everyone paid his share of the expenses. Mess-room bills took a large slice out of an ensign's small pay. Entertaining guests would make the figure jump. If a man had his wife constantly to dinner, that was almost like asking his shipmates to pay for her meals. She understood the resentment in that unknown young man's voice, and she realized that Jack and Chris and even Dwight understood, too.

"She turned to the pictures again, and said something about them, as if nothing had happened. Marvel was still biting her lip when they left the room, but by tacit consent, everyone else had dropped the matter."

Later, getting up to go into Dwight's room to comb her hair, Marvel said evenly, "Won't you come, too, Miss Alcott?"

Judy understood that Marvel wanted to question her. She was right. "Do you know who those men were?" Marvel asked, as soon as they were alone.

"No, I don't," Judy said truthfully. She looked at the other girl's snapping green eyes, at the way her exquisitely shod foot tapping the deck. She said, "After all, although they were very illibred, it is true that constant company at dinner makes mess-room bills go up. I'm sure you didn't know that."

"Listen!" Marvel said tightly. "You know just who they were, and that's the sort of thing you've been saying about me yourself. You and your friends! Well, let me tell you this: I never liked you, I don't like you now. I hate the navy. You're in love with my husband—you're just waiting around to pick the bones of my marriage." The little comb she had taken from her handbag snapped in her fingers. "I'll show you up yet!"

40,000 Acres Game Preserved in This County

Forty thousand acres have been pledged in Eastland county farmers and ranchers operating with the county demonstrating improved life on their lands by hunting and improving and cover conditions. Communities and sections have voted to preserve their lands 1938-1939 hunting season this year. The general opinion of the county is that their preservation of quail does not warrant hunting season this year. The communities and sections that have game preserves according to extension service plan are: 4,094 acres, Shady Grove, Kokomo, 1,161 acres, 2,774 acres, Newburg, 6,250 acres, Cisco-Doak, and others 1,958 acres. Two hundred game demonstration signs erected and requests filed with the county more than one hundred signs. Signs are being paid for by the county and others 1,958 acres. County Agent C. E. Eastland met with a group of farmers in the Allen 10 miles east of Ranger today to plan a game preserve. This section of county is planning to preserve deer, of which a few and to investigate the possibility of stocking the wild turkey. Eastland county landowners want to organize game following the extension plan can get information county agent.

More motor wear occurs in the first two minutes slow, cold starts than in two hours of high-speed driving. If an X-ray were possible you could easily see why.

On cold starts a lapse of several seconds often occurs before thickened summer oil will reach moving parts. During those seconds your motor makes many revolutions under strain of imperfect lubrication.

Winter Mobiloil, flowing freely even in sub-zero weather, quickly reaches and lubricates those vital working parts. A complete Winter Proof job will protect your car against frictional wear and assure quick starts on coldest mornings.

Don't take chances! Get your Winter Proof Ticket at the service station of the Flying Red Horse, and avoid expensive repair bills.
