SECOND EX-SERVICE MENS PICNIC TO BE HERE

SIX STATES IN SHUTDOWN WAR PRICE CUT

Mexico, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and three others

BULLETIN
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 17.—Six states, producing more than two-thirds of the crude oil, were united in an unprecedented "shutdown strike" against collapsing price schedules.

Workmen closed the valves on 54,000 Oklahoma wells Wednesday morning, and Kansas, Arizona and Louisiana followed suit by halting operations.

Governor Miles of New Mexico signed a proclamation closing that state's 2,265 wells. It was placed in effect by A. A. Andreas, state geologist, on his return from Oklahoma City.

Texas, the greatest oil producing state, turned off the spigots on its 87,000 wells Tuesday to lead in a spectacular offensive by mid-continent producers against a wave of price reductions. The shutdown was to start at 6 p. m. today. Independent operators, he said, were unanimous in their approval of such action.

The shutdowns in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico were ordered for 15 days, but Governor Phillips of Oklahoma said he was not certain this would be sufficient to end the price crisis. The Arkansas shutdown was from 7 m. Thursday until further notice.

"I'll not hesitate to call another meeting if I don't think this solves it," he commented. "I might call the governors together next time or we might have a meeting of state regulatory officials."

Officials hoped the shutdowns would force the crude price back to a barrel by reducing stocks. The area was recommended by Interstate Oil Compact commission Tuesday.

Drop in Gasoline
The nation's motorists was the immediate effect on the price of gasoline. At Tulsa, Okla., spot prices were reported up a quarter of a cent.

But R. B. Tansel, a leading Tulsa broker, said it probably would be some time before the price hike was felt by the consumer.

Meanwhile, legal action in connection with the oil industry's price dilemma was taken on two fronts.

In Texas, records of Humble Oil, the nation's largest producing company, were studied by eight assistant attorneys general who sought to determine if the first had broken anti-trust laws.

The charge against the $175,000,000 concern was made to Attorney General Mann by Jerry Addler, militant member of the Texas railroad commission.

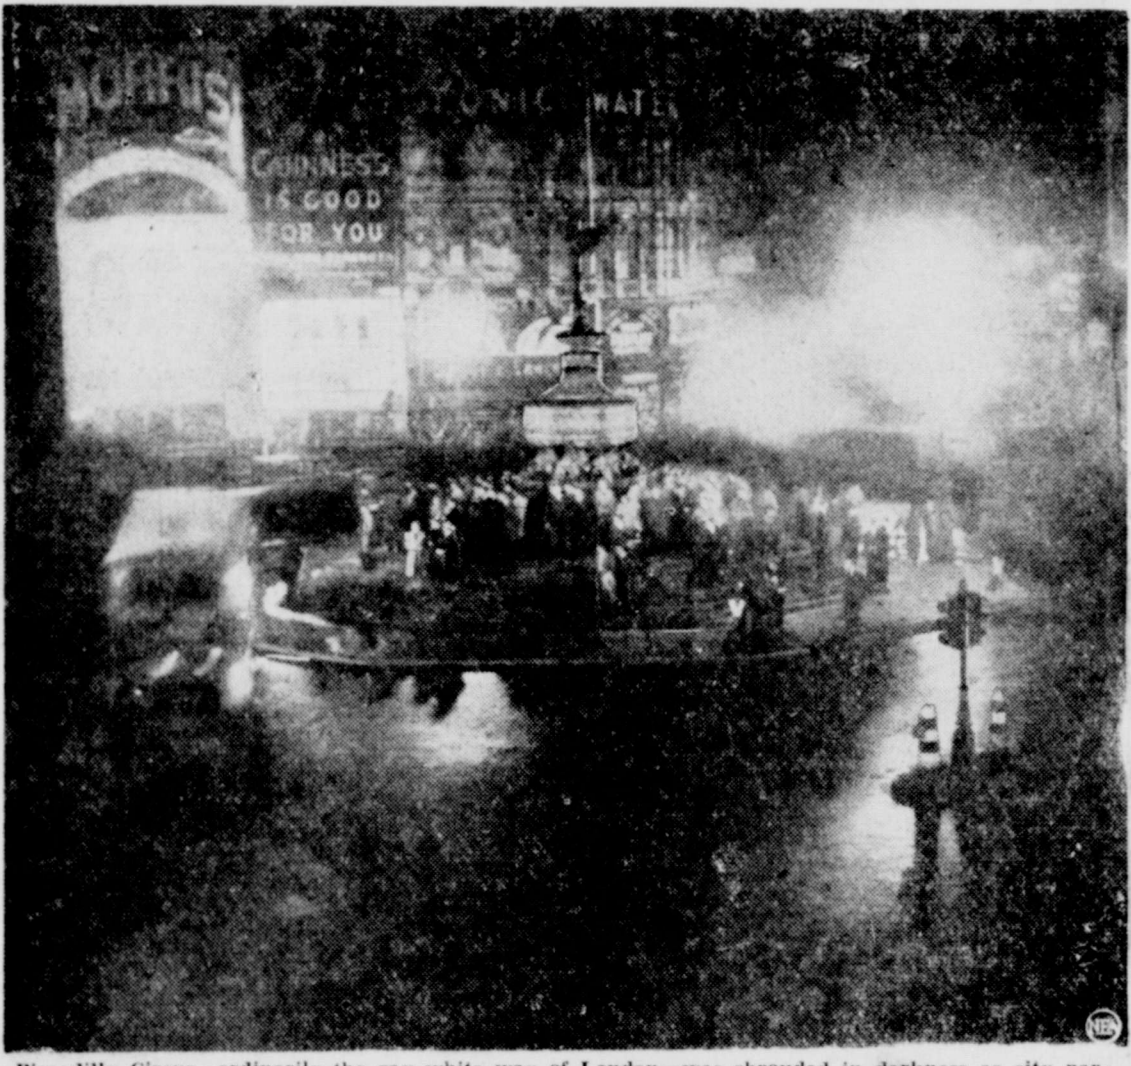

In Wyoming, Governor Smith filed a complaint with the state's attorney general, accusing the Sinclair, Continental and Texas companies of restraining free competition by forming a combine and charging discriminatory prices for regular gasoline.

Federal officials in Washington kept a watchful eye on the oil situation, but withheld comment. If conditions warrant, the president could call a special session of congress to enact legislation for strict federal control of the industry in the "interest of the general welfare."

Secretary Ickes has from time to time urged enactment of federal control.

'War' Puts Pall Over London's 'Gay White Way'

Piccadilly Circus—ordinarily the gay white way of London—was shrouded in darkness as city participated in recent air-raid maneuvers that "blacked out" half of England. As seen above, electric signs were out, and only illumination came from dim blue street lights of low visibility.

Cisco Operator Sees Crisis as Good Thing for Industry

Ciscoans to Mineral Wells for Ceremony

A caravan of Cisco Lions club members and friends of W. H. LaRoque, new district governor of Lions District 2E, will leave at 6 o'clock this afternoon for Mineral Wells and the formal inauguration ceremonies for Mr. LaRoque at the Crazy hotel.

The party will include President and Mrs. A. G. Tuttle of the Cisco club; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Huestis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sandler, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown, Gene Abbott, Claude Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. LaRoque.

Shipping Ass'n Members Called

All members of the old Pleasant Hill Livestock Shipping association were requested to meet at the city hall auditorium at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon by J. R. Bacon and John W. McKinney. The meeting will consider use of funds left in the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Cooper of Eastland visited here last night.

Guests Expected Here on Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Cheatum Parke, Jr., of Kyle, Texas, were expected Friday from Winthrop, Mass., following close of the Suffolk downs season, where Mr. Parke is federal steward. They will spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Tuttle, Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. Parke are sisters.

Miss Byrd Bacon to Receive Degree

ALPINE, Aug. 17.—Miss Byrd Elizabeth Bacon of Cisco is among the summer graduating class of 80 members at Sul Ross State college who will receive their degrees, Wednesday, August 23, at the college auditorium. Miss Bacon is to be awarded the Master of Arts degree. Dr. H. A. Trexler, head of the department of history at Southern Methodist university at Dallas and visiting professor at Sul Ross this summer, will give the commencement address.

The 1939 summer graduates of Sul Ross include 18 master of arts candidates, six bachelor of arts, and 56 bachelor of science. Enrollment for the summer session has represented 161 counties in Texas and 5 other states.

Out of It Will Come Concrete Control, Says

In a statement to the Cisco Daily Press today, Charles J. Kleiner, Cisco oil operator, declared his belief that out of the present crisis in the industry would come better control, better conditions and better prices.

"It depends," he said, "upon the ability and integrity of the various oil producing states to handle a situation that has been approaching for a long time. If these states are unable to act with sufficient effect, the federal government will take control."

His statement:

I have been asked by a number of people just what I think of the shut-down and the crisis that now exists in the petroleum industry. You may recall an article that I wrote to the Abilene Reporter at the time of the annual banquet of the West-Central Oil and Gas association, in which I said that there were so many things wrong with the oil industry that it would take a house full of Moses to straighten it out.

I could foresee at that time the day that has now arrived. The oil and gas industry at this time is in a trial. We will see if the authority of the state of Texas and of other states have the power, with the co-operation of those who own the industries, to control it, and if not, the next move will be made by the national government.

There have been too many "independents," large and small, who have used their vocabulary in advocating protection and limitation on drilling, and at the same time have used every bit of their brains and resources in drilling and producing to destroy the very thing that they have been advocating.

There have been certain so-called leaders in the associations who were continually asking the rest to quit drilling and were advocating that if they did not, something very similar to what now exists would occur, and at the same time they were stepping up the drilling programs so as to

RODEO SPIRIT GROWING; JAIL IS MADE READY

Officers Named; Tours to Advertise Show Are Started

Cowboy hats of the 10-gallon type, flamboyant neckerchiefs and colorful shirts popped into evidence all over Cisco today as one section of the Jaycee committee herded cars and musicians on the first of a series of advertising tours and another organized a small army of "deputy sheriffs" to jail business men who failed to appear with at least two items of cowboy attire after Saturday. Jail for the purpose has been in place on D avenue for several days.

The rodeo will be held at Chesley field August 31 and Sept. 1. Junior Chamber of Commerce president Neil Lane and General Chairman Charles Moad headed a large autovan, which pulled out about 9:30 this morning on a tour that will carry them through north and west of Cisco. A public address truck and an orchestra with the caravan and at each town the rodeo will be advertised with a program of music and brief talks.

The "officers" who will police the business streets to see that business men wear at least two articles of the required cowboy regalia or spend time in the "jail," lacking the fine, are H. T. Huffman, sheriff; Doc McKinzie, Smitty Huestis, E. L. Jackson, Haywood Cabness, Charles Spears, Nick Miller, Wyatt Jacobs, Ed Huestis, Garner Altom, Garland Nance, Carnie Nevill, Whitey Moore, "Butch" Miller, Jack Elkins, Lonnie Tullos, W. E. Dean, A. G. Tuttle, Vardie Osburn, Jack Anderson and Homer Ferguson.

Meeting of WCT Oil and Gas Board Here

C. J. Kleiner announces that a meeting of the directors of the West Central Texas Oil & Gas corporation has been called for tomorrow at 2 o'clock, at the Laguna roof garden.

Rotary Club Hears Rodeo Plans: To Meet at Romney

Carnie Nevill of the Cisco rodeo committee was the speaker for the Cisco Rotary club luncheon today noon, outlining to the club the plans for the big two-day rodeo sponsored by the junior and senior chambers and other civic organizations as a means of raising funds for the Cisco junior college library and laboratory.

Club members appeared in neckerchiefs, colored shirts and cowboy hats at the request of President Sutton Crofts, who presented the program.

Nevill explained that the purpose of the colorful regalia was to attract attention and to make the community rodeo-minded. He described the progress made in plans for the rodeo, remarked on the fine spirit that had been aroused, and told the club that the rodeo was not a junior chamber of commerce project, but a Cisco project which would be one of the biggest spectacles that the city has had in a long while.

The meeting of the club next Thursday will be held at Romney, where the women of the community will serve the meal. Rotarians were asked to take their Rotary Anns and members of the Cisco Lions club will be invited to go along. There will be no noon luncheon.

Purpose of these meetings is to develop a better rural-urban relationship, Chairman Bob Cluck, of the committee in charge, said.

Cisco Seeking Bandmaster Anew

Cisco was again without a bandmaster today as R. J. Patterson, Winters band director, last night telephoned to withdraw acceptance of his election to be director of the Lobo band succeeding R. L. Maddox. Mr. Patterson explained that Winters citizens had increased his salary for next year so that he felt he could not leave.

The school board, faced with the necessity of electing another director, was expected to meet this afternoon.

Cisco and Abilene Play Ball Tonight

The Cisco hard ball nine will play the Abilene All-Stars at the Lions club's lighted field this evening at 8:15. Ten and 15 cents will be charged. Pool, Sublett or Rylee will pitch for Cisco. Abilene has a strong all-star club.

Band Party to Honor Maddoxes

A band party at the band hall this evening at 8 o'clock honoring Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Maddox will be sponsored by the Band Parents club. All band members, parents and friends are invited. Games will be played and light refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddox are leaving for Mexia Saturday after four years with the Lobo band. Mr. Maddox becomes director of the Black Cat band there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bullock and son, Ramsey, and Mrs. J. F. Owen all of Fort Worth, are expected this afternoon to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lauderdale.

LABOR DAY TO BE DATE FOR ANNUAL EVENT

Between 300 and 400 Expected for Program at Lake Cisco

With an expected attendance of 300 to 400, the second annual picnic for ex-service men and their families, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion will be held at Lake Cisco on Labor Day, September 4, it was announced.

The program will be informal, with a basket luncheon followed by peaking, music and recreation. Cong. Clyde L. Garrett has been invited to make the principal address. Judge John Lee Smith of Throckmorton will also speak. The Hittson and Schaefer orchestra will play.

The Regal United Amusements have been signed as a show for this period and will be on the grounds from August 28 through September 4.

The picnic is open to all ex-service men and their families who are invited to attend.

The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Henry Pullman and W. H. Mitchell of Eastland; L. E. Vaughn and W. H. Hayes of Cisco, and Bud Booth of Moran.

No Uneasiness Over Immediate Danzig Outbreak

Great Britain, Italy and Poland showed no great uneasiness Wednesday over any immediate eruption of the Danzig dispute, but Germany kept central Europe tense with an unconcealed attention to military matters.

While Fuehrer Adolf Hitler was receiving felicitations in Berlin on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his enlistment as an Austrian volunteer in the Germany World war army, Nazi troops in "large numbers" were arriving in Gleiwitz, German town on Poland's southwestern border.

Unusual numbers of messenger motorcycles, automobiles, and military trucks rumbled along the streets.

Construction of troop emplacements near the border were reported and helmeted soldiers with trenching tools rode through the city in mud-caked trucks.

Numbers Concealed
Troops could not be identified because shoulder regiment numbers were concealed by cloth tabs sewed over them.

Gleiwitz is near Beuthen, where a 70-mile strip of border was closed Wednesday. Germans, however, said it was closed by the Poles.

An Associated Press correspondent traveling along the Polish border between Schneidemuehl, Germany, and Schlochau (along the Polish corridor) noted unusual activity.

The military was stringing miles of communication lines and besides using regular army vehicles for transport purposes, had commandeered private vehicles, which had been stenciled with army symbols. But no troop movements were seen in the northern sector.

Similar activity was to be seen in Berlin and other German cities. Meanwhile, Hitler conferred with his air chief, his foreign minister and the head of his press department.

Germans Arrested
With Italian newspapers urging Poland to seek a conference with Germany on Danzig, Nazi spokesmen said plainly no conference would be possible unless it was for discussion of a method of unconditionally handing the

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The mountains shall bring peace and the little hills righteousness.—Ps. LXXXI, 3.

I care not, Fortune, what you may deny; You cannot rob me of free Nature's grace; You cannot shut the windows of the sky, Through which Aurora shows her brightening face; You cannot bar my constant feet to trace The woods and lawns by living streams at eve. —THOMSON.

Nature is the armory of genius... whoever would strike effective strokes for truth and ideas, must be swift often and early to impart the stuff of things into his thoughts; we must take the reasons into us, if he will live in earnest and take life with the rest that life is.—Thoreau.

That's Where the Money Goes--

EVEN the most cursory study of the spending authorized by the past "economy" congress shows certain salient truths:

1. Despite the "economy" name, and despite the fact that the congress definitely checked the president on his "splending" program, the $13,000,000,000 appropriated, is a greater sum than ever before appropriated in a year of peace time.
2. Many of the big increases are in fields where it will be extremely hard to reduce them without eliminating whole services and activities which are today a part of government, but which were not 10 years ago.
3. Interest on the public debt is now far higher than it was in 1930—$1,000,000,000 as against $650,000,000. It can no longer be said that carrying a larger debt is no more costly than carrying the former smaller one because interest rates are so much lower.

4. Without a definite and large increase in the national income, so that more taxes can be collected without taking a larger percentage of that national income, it is very hard to see any path out of the woods.

LET'S have a look at some of the expenditures for 1939-40 which did not occur at all in 1930. First, there is $1,755,000,000 for relief. There is nearly a billion for social security. There is nearly $300,000,000 for the CCC. Many will argue that the expenditures for these things ought to be reduced, but voices demanding that they be abolished are simply not heard at all in 1939. This means that while the amounts may be reduced somewhat, they will remain as substantial items on the annual budget which did not appear at all in 1930, no matter who is running the government.

Defense carried appropriations of $1,523,000,000, as compared with $698,000,000 in 1930. Nobody objects. But until something is done about world conditions, it is hard to see how this cost will ever be reduced any—it is much more likely to double again in the next 10 years, as it has in the past 10.

THE farmers dragged down $1,272,000,000— incidentally the "economy" congress granted them $338,900,000 more than President Roosevelt asked—as compared to $453,000,000 in 1930. In 10 years the expenditures of the Agriculture Department are up a billion dollars.

So it goes. Everything hinges today, just as it always has, on business recovery. Only business recovery will provide the jobs that will lower that relief cost, increase consumption of those farm products, provide the added taxes that will enable the government to start whittling away the billion-dollar debt charge.

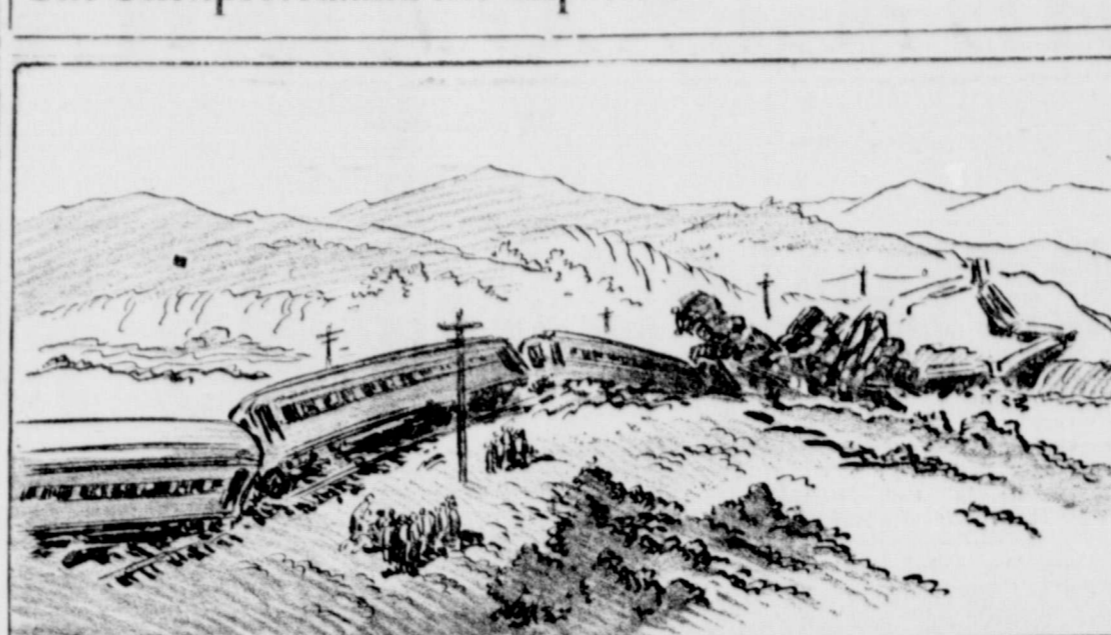

On that everyone, republican and democrat, communist and townsquire, can agree. It is only when you ask "How shall we do it?" that disagreement begins.

The Boston Red Sox won't be training in Hawaii this winter, announces their owner. Apparently he's afraid his pitchers would be too busy watching curves to throw them.

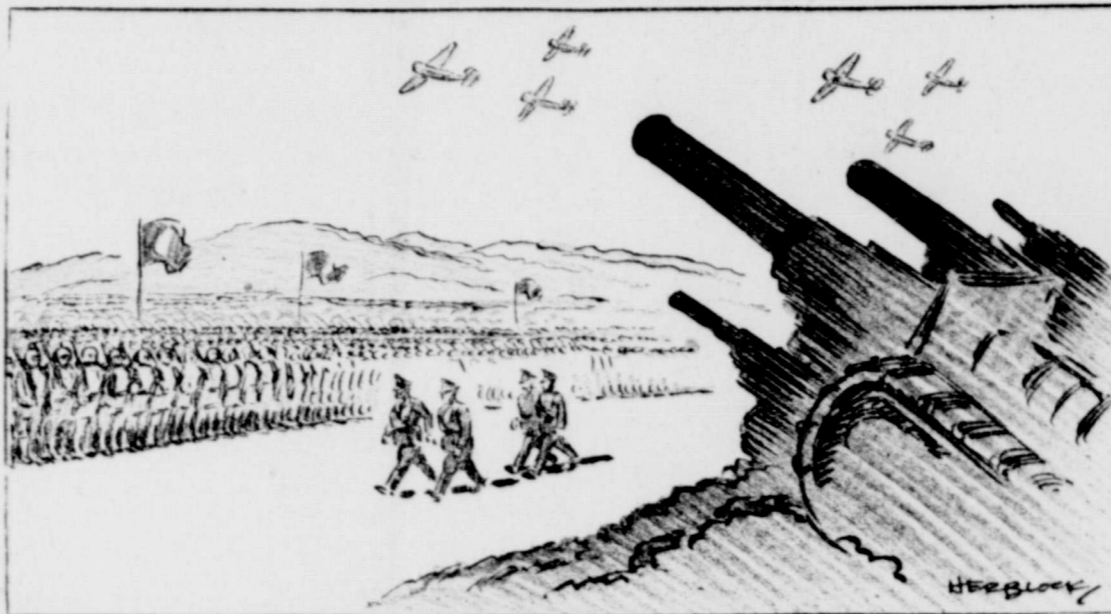

They've developed a peach as big as a grapefruit down in Georgia. As if we haven't enough overproduction already.

India has its overproduction problems, too. First 1500 elephants were ordered destroyed. Now hippopotami are over-running the fields.

Human and Other Nature

By W. F. BRUCE

The question many are asking me lately, "Where are you going?" brings to mind pretty well the kind of a time we are living in today. As a young fellow faced with the problem of making my way in the world I would have had some uncertainty at the same question. But there was a certain thrill of challenge about it that gave me a feeling of certainty that somewhere, somehow I would find a place among those who were making a success of life. Everybody who really tried seemed to be doing it then. Even today I feel something of the same faith in the outcome of honest, earnest effort. At the same time I admit the existence of a real paradox, doubt sometimes because of the factors that once were allies of honest effort seem to be working. What one man does to open doors for himself or others, together shut, some of them seem to be so that one can hardly get a knob, some of them seem to be so that one can hardly get a key, the key "hung" and a few of the key lost or thrown away.

After all the making one's way in our present world, while seeming as always to depend upon a "pull," is still in reality a matter of "push." But with all the push one may exert he has to call for help. He finds need of the cooperation of his well-disposed fellows. And even above that he needs a faith in the ultimate prevalence of justice that will meet merit with some kind of reward. Our shortsighted views can hardly get a glimpse of the way things adjust themselves through the centuries. One can hardly see by looking at the dark clouds hanging over the world now the bright sun that will come out upon a brighter world by and by. There is where faith enters in. Faith is a consoling attitude for that reason that it takes the sharp edge off of disappointments and puts a bright glow upon the overhanging dimness.

Monahans Fire Victim Identified as Ranger Man

By W. F. BRUCE

RANGER, Aug. 17 (Sp.)—The body of a man, burned to death in a house at Monahans, and which was first identified as that of Virgil A. Merton, has been identified as that of Doyle Miller of Ranger, according to word received here yesterday. Identification is said to have been made by means of a watch and belt buckle found on the body.

At the Miller home in Ranger yesterday it was stated that Mrs. Miller had gone to Monahans to complete identification of the body, but no word had been received from her since she left. It was stated, however, that Miller had gone to Monahans seeking work.

The body was found Monday in the ruins of a house that was engulfed in flames after an explosion. The house—a one story frame structure—was the residence of Miller and Mrs. Fred Brannowsky.

Officers learned that the couple, who were in Monahans Sunday, had gone to El Paso to buy beauty parlor equipment, and were advised that Brannowsky was returning to Monahans at once. Mrs. Brannowsky planned to open a beauty shop in the house this week, friends said. Part of her equipment was destroyed in the fire. All but a fragment of the clothing was burned from the body of the man found dead. In that fragment was a trouser pocket containing an envelope addressed to Brannowsky. Officers said there were evidences of gasoline or kerosene all over the house and on a handkerchief, also found in the dead man's pocket, but could not determine whether the fluid was spread about by the explosion. Brannowsky until recently had lived in Odessa. He traded in real estate and was reported to own several houses in Monahans. The color of Bowdoin college is white.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—If you plan to drop in at Uvalde, Tex., this summer and pay a call on Vice President John Garner, you're rather likely to be disappointed. The vice president really meant it when he said he was going to do a lot of fishing.

Mr. Garner keeps a trailer and a battered 1931-model automobile for his fishing trips; takes the old car because it is high-slung and can negotiate rutty, chucked-up roads that a modern car couldn't take. He also keeps a canoe, together with a lot of fishing tackle.

Returning to Uvalde after a session in Washington, he lashes the canoe atop the trailer, sticks the fishing tackle and a supply of grub inside, picks up an old fishing crony, and sets out to do a little intensive loafing.

The two men usually wander off into the back country, as far from the traveled road as they can get; when they strike a likely-looking spot by some stream they camp, get the canoe down, and stay there as long as the fish are biting. Then they wander on to the next likely-looking spot and repeat the performance. Bass, crappies and channel cats are the usual catch.

Some sort of prize for speaking under difficulties ought to go to Congressman Paul Shafer of Michigan, who addressed a Pennsylvania political rally about the time Congress closed.

Midway in his speech a definite and highly pungent aroma began to drift across the open-air forum; a concentrated essence of skunk, which got so strong that people began hiding behind their handkerchiefs.

"I didn't know," remarked Shafer to his audience, "that this speech smelled as badly as that."

Then a couple of skunks waded out from under the speaker's platform, sauntered down the aisle, and left the meeting flat.

A staff of probably 35 people will be taking off for California shortly to carry on the investigation of the Senate Civil Liberties Committee. The committee got $50,000 for its expenses, place of the $100,000 Senators Follette and Thomas (its members) said was necessary opinion as to whether the Senate will give it more when the $50,000 is gone is divided.

Meanwhile, the $50,000 will be stretched as far as possible. Documents for the committee's use will be photostated instead of copied, to save on stenographic costs.

Most of the committee's members will be "borrowed" from various government departments and agencies. (This is a common Washington custom followed by practically all committees.) The bulk of the $50,000 thus will be available for traveling expenses and living expenses.

Between-session junkies to Europe "to study conditions" are common as grass for congressmen. They enable the solon to take a nice vacation and make his constituents think he's working. Congressman Kent Keller of Illinois, who takes off for Europe presently, is really going to work. Keller introduced a complicated and far-reaching industrial reconstruction bill in the closing days of Congress. Now he plans to spend the next four months in Europe, mostly in Norway and Sweden, to get a line on methods of combating unemployment. He uses the material thus gained while he starts plugging for his industrial reconstruction bill in winter.

Farm Worker Succumbs to Auto Injuries

George W. Galyan, 45-year-old unmarried farm laborer, victim of an accident in which a week ago he was struck by a car on the Cottonwood-Cross Plains road, died Friday and was buried Sunday.

Galyan had both legs and his right arm crushed in the accident as he walked from the home of W. H. Nelson, with whose family he was employed, Monday morning, a week ago, to his work. The driver of the car picked him up and took him to a doctor. He was carried to City-County hospital at Ronger, where he died at midnight Friday.

Services were held at Neil Lane Funeral home Sunday at 9 a. m. by the Rev. Luther Pryor. Burial was in Oakwood.

Galyan, a bachelor, is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Neighbors, of Beinger, Okla. He was born September 28, 1893.

SERIAL STORY Murder on the Boardwalk

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE
COPYRIGHT, 1938, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
CHRISTINE THORENSEN—came to visit her cousin, found a mystery.
BILL YARDLEY—had a reason for watching Christine.
GEORGE WILMET—employed Christine as a Boardwalk artist.
CHANDRA—looked into the future—and into the past.

Yesterday, Christine does a portrait of Chandra, an Oriental swami, finds her new job pays generously. She finds a message pinned to her easel: "If you are worried, consult Chandra." She goes to the Oriental's "Temple of Truth."

CHAPTER IV
From within the "Temple of Truth" came the tinkle of bells and the wailing of pipes.

"Well, at least this is free," Christine said aloud, "and after all, he gave me my start on the Boardwalk."

She slipped inside. On a stage designed to suggest all the mystery of the Orient, two slim girls, dressed as temple dancers, were gyrating and prostrating themselves as if before an unseen presence.

A deep gong sounded, and they scurried from sight. From behind a screen or grillwork that simulated delicately curved white marble, a shining figure in silver robes appeared as if by magic. He moved majestically forward and stood for a moment, his arms crossed on his chest, his dark face lit as if waiting—listening. Then he intoned in a deep, vibrant voice, "Thy servant is ready, O Krishna! Speak through these unworthy lips!"

For a while Chandra's performance was much like others Christine had attended. He described small objects, gave the numbers of license cards, the insignia of lodge emblems, and the dates of letters which an assistant in a white turban took from people sitting here and there and held, apparently without glancing at them, pressed against his own forehead. He read and answered questions without having seen or touched the cards on which they were written:

"A lady wishes to know about a ring . . . Yes, I see it clearly—an emerald set in diamonds . . . She thinks a maid stole it." Suddenly the strange tawny eyes in the dark face fixed themselves upon a stout woman near Christine.

"No, Madam, she did not take it. You should have looked more carefully," Chandra went on sternly, "before you accused a helpless servant of such a crime. Why, Madam, did it not occur to you that the ring might have slipped through that rip in the lining of your purse?"

The woman gasped. "Why not look now?" Chandra suggested. Then, as the woman hesitated, he almost thundered, "Look now, Madam, and be thankful that it is not too late to repair the mischief you have done!"

The woman fumbled in her purse, cried out—a bit too sharply, Christine thought—and held aloft something that glittered with green fire.

"Oh, I am so sorry about that girl," she stammered. "I—I don't know how to thank you, Swami." "Do not thank me, Madam," Chandra told her. "It is the great god Krishna you must thank." "The great god—my foot!" Christine thought derisively. "And that stooze's acting was terrible." All around she heard murmurs: "Isn't the swami marvelous?" "He told my sister who— . . ."—and it happened the very day he said it would!"

Then abruptly, in the midst of a sentence, Chandra broke off, pressed his fingers to his eyes, and said—a startled note in his deep, somnolent voice, "But this must wait. . . . There comes to me—something urgent!" One could almost feel the silence in the room.

"There is here at this moment," Chandra was going on, "a young woman who badly needs advice. . . . I will not name her. I will not even describe her or tell where she is sitting. I am particularly anxious neither to embarrass nor annoy her—because the word has come to me that I must help her if I can."

Behind Christine a voice said, "I never saw him do anything like this before. It gives me the creeps."

It gave Christine the creeps. Whether it was deliberate trickery with the illumination or not, all the light in the room seemed to gather itself about the glittering figure on the platform.

Within the last 24 hours, Chandra went on, "this young lady has encountered a series of surprising experiences. She has met with a grave disappointment; she has, by a strange coincidence, unexpectedly found work when she needed it."

No one in the room seemed to breathe—at least of all Christine. "During the last 24 hours," the "swami" was going on, "this young lady has also received a mysterious telephone communication concerning something very near to her own safety, which I fear she had already decided to disregard."

She did not know whether she moved, or even spoke the words aloud. In any event, there was a sudden craning of necks. "I must ask for quiet," Chandra's voice crackled. "You will, if you please, keep your eyes on me."

His own strange tawny eyes were not on Christine, but widened on space, as if following some remote vision; yet she felt that they did not miss a flicker of her eyelids; and that deep hypnotic voice was compelling her to listen.

"I would beg of that young lady," he was going on, his tone suddenly gentle and pleading,

New Location on Burnam Is Being Drilled

The Warren et al No. 2 Cozart, third and best producer in the new Seranton field, established a potential of 147 barrels daily through a three-fourths inch choke in tubing last week, it was announced. The well was drilled only three feet into the sand, topped at 1,659 feet. It is one location southeast of the No. 1 Cozart, discovery well, which is rated about 40 barrels daily.

A location east of the No. 1 Lanning Brothers of San Antonio are drilling a well on the Burnam tract.

Activity was generally well-sustained for the oil week ending Saturday in this section.

Callahan County
A new location in the area opened up by Warren and Klein in the Seranton area, including Eastland and Callahan counties, was staked by Jim Lanning, 220 feet from the north line and 220 feet from the west line of the 110-acre J. H. Burnam estate lease, Matilda Cherry survey. The well, to be known as No. 1, will seek pay from the 1,700-foot level. Location was in Callahan county.

Palo Pinto County
A new activity for Palo Pinto county was Hickok Producing and Development company No. 1 Gaudin, 660 feet from the east and 2,036 feet from the south line of the P. Elder survey, five miles west of Graford. Drilling at 900 feet, the project will seek oil at 2,500 feet.

Eastland County
Four miles east of Cisco, Hickok Producing and Development company was drilling at 3,700 feet on No. 1 Hazel, section 41, block 4, H&TC survey.

Drilling at 1,400 feet was reported on the R. R. Groce No. 1 J. M. Rush, section 130, block 3, H&TC survey.

Abandoned was the location of W. T. Lutton No. 1 Beene, section 13, block 3, H&TC survey.

John L. Reeves No. 1 J. V. Farmer, northwest part of the William Van Norman survey, at 1,200 feet was drilling.

Erath County
T. G. Gray No. 1 C. Young Heirs, northwest corner of the Stephen Smith survey, abstract 682, was shutdown at 112 feet after being spudded.

Wayne Chandler No. 1 Chandler, J. W. Moore survey, abstract 571, was fishing around 4,780 feet.

Stephens County
George E. Fagg No. 1 Richardson, section 5, block 31, SPRR survey, was rigging up.

T. G. Shaw No. 1 S. P. Stroud, northwest one-fourth of the G. Newton survey, abstract 128, had spudded.

A. G. Swanson No. 1 Veale-Frost, section 37, block 8, T&P survey, at 2,300 feet was drilling. Railroad commission test was still lacking on the Wittmer, Knight and Ewing No. 1 Loving section 66, BAL survey, which will be a commercial well in lime drilled to a total depth of 3,510 feet.

eral legislation that would give the government a check of oil production.

Little unemployment was expected to result from the shut-downs. Oil companies in many instances kept their employees at work reconditioning wells or gave them vacations with pay.

At Kilgore, major and independent operators said they planned to continue transporting oil now in storage, thus providing continued employment. They estimated storage facilities in east Texas were 75 per cent empty.

Christened Mary Jane Myers, she was born August 10, 1858, at Little Union, Mo., and was married to Farnes N. Nickel Dec. 26, 1880. The survivors are one son, George Nickel, Grand Falls, Texas; one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Dailey, Brownwood; three sisters, Mrs. Louise Blevins, Cowgill, Mo.; Mrs. Martha Gaylord, and Mrs. Cora Hickman, Rifle, Colo.

Mrs. Nickel has made her home in and around Cisco for the past 20 years, where she had made many loyal friends.

Pall bearers are Joe Meador, Robert Grantham, Shaeffer Horn, Guy Morris, Jerome McCarty and E. L. Smith.

Mrs. Carrie Hull Owns Rare Fossils

Mrs. Carrie Hull, living in the Dun Horn community and one of the pioneer women of Eastland county, she and her husband having settled in this country when that part of the county was a wilderness, without even neighbors, schools or churches, has a large collection of Indian relics, fossils and other freaks of nature.

While visiting Mrs. Hull last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutton and O. R. Turner had the privilege of viewing this unusual collection, and were greatly interested in the specimens this pioneer woman placed before them. Mr. Hutton, who is a geologist, said the collection embraced an assortment of petrified wood, petrified shells that appeared to be 100 years old. There were also many Indian relics which include many different formed arrow heads, Indian beads and an Indian jaw bone; meteoric fragments and other curios of rock and pieces of petrified prehistoric animals.

Mrs. Hull and son, George Hull, expressed their pleasure in exhibiting her treasures to their visitors.

Funeral Sunday For Mrs. Mary Jane Nickel

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday for Mrs. Mary Jane Nickel, aged 81 years, at the Lane Funeral chapel, with the Rev. Joe L. Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducting the services. Burial was at the Oakwood cemetery, with the Lane Funeral home in charge.

The aged woman died at her home, 1907 C. avenue, Friday, August 11, 1939, having reached her 81st birthday anniversary one day before her death.

Attending the celebration Sunday were W. J. Poe, brother, and wife, Cisco; Mrs. Macy Park, sister, Stamps, Ark.; J. T. Poe, son, and wife, Lucille Furr, adopted daughter of J. T. Poe, Virginia Martin, great granddaughter, B. B. Poe, son, and wife, Boobie Poe, grandson, S. N. Poe, son, and wife, Carbon; Paul Poe, son, and wife, Joe Tom Poe, grandson, Mary Janette Poe, granddaughter, E. J. Poe, nephew, and wife, Lurline and Mary Louise Poe, grandnieces, Cisco; Mrs. R. L. Shaw, daughter, and Mr. Shaw, Robert and Jack Shaw, grandsons, Fort Worth; G. P. Poe, nephew, and wife, Joe Neff Poe, grandnephew, A. C. Poe, nephew, and Mrs. Poe, Dan and Don Poe, grandsons, Eastland; Lum Poe, cousin, Gorman; Dr. W. S. Poe, nephew, and wife, Mrs. Frank Lovett, niece, and Mr.

Special Guest

Mr. Cornelius was the special guest of honor of the honoree, as he is a former business associate of Captain Poe, and makes it a point to be present each year to honor his friend on his birthday anniversary. Nor did he fail on this occasion, and vied with the honoree in the honors bestowed on him at his 85th anniversary celebration.

Captain Poe is a pioneer of Eastland county, as one of the four brothers who came to this county when the county was young, about 1891, all of whom have contributed much to the upbuilding of this part of Eastland county. The brothers of Captain Poe were I. N. Poe, father of Dr. Poe, of Eastland, who died in the summer of 1933, R. Lee Poe of Cisco, who passed away here Jan. 3, 1934. The other brother, W. J. Poe, is now living in Cisco, but is a long-time resident of the Pleasant Hill community, where he was recognized as one of the leading farmers of the county. He and the honoree, are the only survivors of this quartet of honorable citizens who performed leading roles in the country's development.

Acquired Land

While a citizen of Arkansas, Captain Poe, associated with R. R. Cornelius, was an extensive real estate dealer, and while in the realty business acquired considerable landed holdings in the southern part of Eastland county, which was one of the incentives that induced him to become a citizen of this part of Texas. Then, his first coming was to seek restoration of his health, which had failed, and he was so much improved that he decided to make his permanent home here. Reaching this decision he removed his family here, making his home on one of his farms near Carbon. There he lived until the passing of Mrs. Poe. Since her death he has made his home principally with his son, J. T. Poe, but spends much of his time with his daughter, Mrs. Spencer and Mr. Spencer.

Attending the celebration Sunday were W. J. Poe, brother, and wife, Cisco; Mrs. Macy Park, sister, Stamps, Ark.; J. T. Poe, son, and wife, Lucille Furr, adopted daughter of J. T. Poe, Virginia Martin, great granddaughter, B. B. Poe, son, and wife, Boobie Poe, grandson, S. N. Poe, son, and wife, Carbon; Paul Poe, son, and wife, Joe Tom Poe, grandson, Mary Janette Poe, granddaughter, E. J. Poe, nephew, and wife, Lurline and Mary Louise Poe, grandnieces, Cisco; Mrs. R. L. Shaw, daughter, and Mr. Shaw, Robert and Jack Shaw, grandsons, Fort Worth; G. P. Poe, nephew, and wife, Joe Neff Poe, grandnephew, A. C. Poe, nephew, and Mrs. Poe, Dan and Don Poe, grandsons, Eastland; Lum Poe, cousin, Gorman; Dr. W. S. Poe, nephew, and wife, Mrs. Frank Lovett, niece, and Mr.

Lovett, Frank Lovett, Jr., grandnephew, Eastland; L. T. Park, nephew, and wife, McKamie, Ark.; Earl Hendrix, grandnephew, and wife, Idabel, Okla.; Mrs. J. E. Spencer, daughter, and Mr. Spencer, Alice Estel Spencer, granddaughter, Cisco; Mrs. Edgar Altom, niece, and Mr. Altom, Elaine Altom, grandniece, Garner Altom, grandnephew, J. C. Poe, grandson, and wife, Margie June Poe, great granddaughter, Eastland; Jacel Thornton, Fort Worth; R. R. and Leon Cornelius, Fulton, Ark.; Terrell Cornelius, Hope, Ark.

Captain Poe was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., Aug. 13, 1854, but moved to Arkansas, where he was married to Miss Mary Daugherty, in Columbia county. Six living children were the fruit of this marriage.

free city over to Germany. It was also made clear that "an arrangement whereby East Prussia is connected with the Reich by a strip across the Polish corridor" must be included.

The Danzig situation was aggravated by the killing of a Polish soldier on Danzig soil, but there seemed to be a disposition on both sides not to let the incident become a starting point for a final break. Poles, however, announced the arrest of several scores of Germans on espionage charges. Later, Danzig police reported shots fired over the Polish border near Dirschau, at an auto carrying Danzig newspapermen.

Informants said that a conference in Danzig Tuesday between League of Nations Commissioner Professor Clar J. Burkhardt, Arthur Greiser, Danzig senate president, and Marion Chodacki, Polish commissioner-general, over customs administrations was "purely technical, not political."

Official Poland remained detached from all settlement reports, although it was said the British-Polish alliance soon would be signed formally.

Great Britain was said to view the situation as "serious but not alarming." However, a census of her man-power was ordered.

get just as many wells as possible, so that they could get a bigger share of allowable oil. Today we have the answer. In my opinion, it is one of the best things that could have happened to the oil industry.

Out of it will come some kind of a concrete control. Out of it will come adjustments as to acreage, as well as potential and marginal well allocation. Out of it will come a better price than that which we were receiving at the time of this crisis. It is my hope that the authorities of Texas and the authorities of the other producing states will show the strength, the power and integrity to equalize and adjust the present and future conditions of the oil industry, and I believe from the start they have now made that they will eliminate a greater portion, if not all, of the injustices that have been going on in the oil industry for the last nine years.

News From County 4-H Clubs

By VIRDA MAE EVANS

Kokomo 4-H Club Girl I joined the Kokomo 4-H club when I was twelve years old. I have belonged to the 4-H club four years. The first year I completed all the work and received a club pin.

Then my second year of work I was garden demonstrator. With the help of my country home demonstration agent we placed three hundred feet of tiling under the tomatoes. I also built a hot bed. I completed all my goals that year and received a second year pin.

In my third year of club work I was wardrobe demonstrator. I papered it on the inside and outside. The closet is built with two doors. The top section is used for storing quilts. The door and door facing are painted. There are three long shelves in one end and three lower shelves in the other end. By using scrap lumber, paper and paint, my closet only cost $1.40. I have made and added to the closet four hat racks, a long shoe rack and a tie rack. I won second place in the county as the second best clothing demonstrator and was awarded a trip to the A. & M. short course. This same year I was also selected as second best reporter in the county. For that the Women's council gave me a scrap book and two magazines for a year. I was president of the club and was selected as most outstanding member in the club for this club year.

This year I am poultry demonstrator. My brother and I have fifty white leghorn pullets for demonstration. My brother built a small house for them and is planning on building a laying house soon. I care for them and feed them twice a day. This year in clothing I have made four hand-made garments and four machine-made garments. I have worked over three other garments. I have helped can several hundred jars of fruits and vegetables this year besides my regular club work. I have been selected again this year as the most outstanding member of our club. In all four years of my club work, I have not missed a rally day, 4-H encampment, or achievement day. I have missed only one club Sunday during this time. I have missed only one club meeting during the four years' work, and have attended all parties and picnics given by our club. I have acted as waitress at two and son banquets given by club boys. I helped in making the for our club house and assisted in making the drapes. Through 4-H club work I have become a better member of my community and have learned a lot of getting along better with my friends. I have had fun while doing it.
