Average of $309 at Mitchams' Sale

Top of $1,530 was paid by Black & Largent of Granbury, Texas, at the Mitcham auction yesterday for Lady Axtell 319th, champion show heifer. The price was said to be the largest paid for any heifer in sales in this section this season. Forty-two head sold under the hammer of Auctioneer Earl Gartin for $12,970, an average of $309.25 a head, highest of any auction except that of Strubling. The sale was held at the headquarters ranch 12 miles northwest of Cisco.

Lady Axtell 319th was not listed in the catalogue and was placed in the auction because of popular demand of many Hereford breeders. The heifer is by Don Axtell 39th.

Made Purchase

C. M. Largent Jr., manager of the Black & Largent herd, made the purchase of the female that was reserve champion at the strong Corsicana show and second in her class at the National Hereford show, being nosed out by an animal from the farm of the Granbury breeders.

With many outstanding heifers offered, bidding was spirited with many of Texas' leading breeders making purchases in the $500 range. Among them were Chas. Cox & Son of Temple who paid $520 for the second high animal, Lady Axtell 307th; J. L. Frazier of Lampasas, who bid in Lady Perfect 9th at $510; and H. H. Wilkinson of Fort Worth. He paid $450 for Blanche.

There were 22 buyers for the 33 females and the nine bulls. The demand for bulls did not equal that for females.

Among the heavy buyers were Dr. Geo. Blackwell of Gorman, F. M. Cassidy of Llano and R. C. Patterson of Uvalde.

The buyers, their address, price paid, animals bought and date calved follow:

NOTED PASTOR FROM DETROIT TO BE SPEAKER

Several Hundred Due to Attend Series Here Friday

The First Christian church today was preparing to entertain hundreds of visiting church leaders, including ministers, laymen, women and young people, for the annual convention of District 11 of the Christian church in Texas, tomorrow, when Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones, internationally famous minister of Detroit, Mich., will be the principal speaker.

Dr. Jones, who is scheduled for three addresses, will fly from Detroit for the convention. It will be the first appearance in west Texas for the clergyman, who is pastor of the Central Woodward church in Detroit, and who is immediate past president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Between 400 and 500 visitors are expected for the convention.

First Address

His first address is scheduled for 11:30 a. m. Friday, his second at the laymen's banquet at 7 p. m., and his third at the evening service at 8:30 o'clock. Due to the fact that Dr. Jones will be pressed to make his arrival here from Detroit—he will fly—in time for the morning program, a change may be necessary, the host pastor, the Rev. Clark W. Lambert, said today.

The convention, which will embrace inspirational and business activities of men, women and youth in the district, will bring delegates from a wide area in west Texas, and the presence of Dr. Jones, who will appear in west Texas for the first time, was expected to attract churchmen and lay leaders from all over the state. In the district are included Abilene, Coleman, Brady, Ballinger, Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, DeLeon and other churches. Breckenridge, although not in the district, will bring a large delegation, advises the convention officials here today.

Plate charge for the laymen's dinner, at which Dr. Jones will make a principal address Friday evening, will be $1, the fund to be used to defray expenses of the convention. Preparations are being made to take care of 200 men. The banquet will be held in the dining room of the First Christian church. Simultaneously there will be a women's dinner at the First Methodist church and a youth dinner at the Mobley hotel. Presiding at the banquet will be F. M. Warren, Abilene lay leader.

The program for the convention was announced as follows:

Morning session, beginning at 9:30 o'clock;

Hymn led by Harley Patterson of Wichita Falls; Welcome by the Rev. Lambert, host pastor; response by F. W. Warren, Abilene, district convention president; appointment of committees for the work of the convention; worship service at 9:45, to be led by J. B. Blunk of Eastland; presentation of district activities as follows:

10 a. m.—Children's work, Mrs. C. W. Lambert of Cisco;

10:20—Young People's work, Harley Patterson;

10:40—Adult work, Charles Marion Ross of Fort Worth;

11—Church Expansion, H. B. Johnson of Ranger;

11:30—Address by Dr. Jones;

Winners Announced in Big Scrambled Word Contest

Time for the visit of the Cisco Rotary club and the Cisco Lions club to Putnam for a community dinner has been changed from Tuesday evening of next week to Wednesday evening of the same week. This was done, it was announced at the Rotary club today, in order to permit more members of the clubs to attend.

The meeting will be at the Putnam school house and about 100 Ciscoans are expected.

The Rotary club will not meet next Thursday, which is Thanksgiving day.

On the following Thursday, December 7, the club will observe its Ladies Day program. Hiram Monk and Pansy Crawford formed a committee to arrange details of this meeting. The Rotary Annals will provide the program.

Dr. Gary L. Smith, program chairman, discussed the origin of Thanksgiving in an interesting address concluding the program. He pointed out that although the institution of Thanksgiving, as we know it in America, was founded by the Pilgrim fathers and designated as a national holiday by President Lincoln in 1863, the practice of thanking God for harvests and for bounties during the year originated before history began recording festivities. Ancient Egypt had a harvest festival and similar feasts or events of thanksgiving.

Among the guests was P. W. Campbell, Abilene, first president of the Cisco club.

Maverick May Visit Ranger In December

RANGER, Nov. 23 (Sp)—Mayor Hall Walker of Ranger, who recently returned from San Antonio and the convention of the Texas Municipality League, was high in his praise of Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio, and the work he is doing in NYA and in slum clearance projects in the city.

Maverick has become so interested in these phases of his work in San Antonio, Walker stated, that he has promised to visit the Ranger NYA projects sometime in December.

Walker quoted Maverick as saying that he first heard of the Ranger NYA projects while attending a meeting at Chicago recently. Mayor Maverick was told that one of the most outstanding NYA projects in the United States could be found in a small town in Texas, but his informant could not tell just where it was. Later he found out that the project of which he had heard was in Ranger, and so informed Maverick. It was then that the San Antonio mayor first planned to visit Ranger, he told Walker, and the meeting at San Antonio, at which Walker was a speaker, further convinced him that he should visit Ranger.

MRS. FIELDS OF PUTNAM, FIRST PLACE

With so many good entries received, the committee of judges in Cisco's Scrambled Word contest in last Thursday's Daily Press, had plenty of trouble deciding on the five winners. After careful checking and rechecking, the judges, selected from impartial individuals who had no interest in the contest, announced the following:

First place—Mrs. E. A. Fields, Box 243, Putnam, Texas;

Second place—L. M. Barron, Nimrod, Texas;

Third place—Mrs. Smitty Huestis, Cisco, Texas;

Fourth place—Mrs. H. A. Bible, Cisco, Texas;

Fifth place—Theresa Hughes, Rising Star, route No. 3.

Many other entries were received which were so good that they deserved awards, and the judges expressed their regret that there were not enough places to go around.

"I like Christmas shopping in Cisco stores," wrote Mrs. Fields, "for the same reason I like all-year-round shopping there—because I can get what I want at a price I can afford to pay and I am treated courteously while I'm shopping. What more can I ask?"

Mr. Barron wrote: "I like Christmas shopping in Cisco stores because I feel at home. I can select what I want and see what I am paying for. Cisco stores are always well stocked for the Christmas trade and home trading is the only way to keep them that way."

Mrs. Huestis cast her answer in poetic form: "Christmas shopping days are near. And, if you're smart, you'll stay right here. And shop in Cisco! There's anything your heart desires. From safety pins to tractor tires. Furniture, clothes, gas ranges."

CLASH WILL DECIDE GRID CHAMPIONSHIP

Two Class A Elevens to Meet at Chesley Field Friday

Class A football rivalry at its best will be afforded followers of the high school sport in this section at Chesley field tomorrow afternoon when the Baird and May high school teams, in a tie for the district title, meet at 2:30 in p. m.

Baird, although favored to win the game, got no better than a 7-7 tie with the May team in a previous meeting this season. Since both elevens came through their schedule undefeated, they stand in a deadlock at the top of the ladder, a deadlock which is to be played off tomorrow afternoon in an atmosphere of intense rivalry.

Choose Cisco

Cisco was chosen as the site for the game over several other places because of the central location of the gridiron here and the accommodations offered. The grounds will be policed by Cisco officials and no passes will be issued locally except to members of the Lobo squad.

Tickets for the game will be 15 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Student tickets for Cisco school children who wish to attend will be sent to Principal O. L. Stammers of Cisco high. Cisco students purchasing tickets at the school will be allowed to attend the game. The school will not dismiss.

Coach Bill White's Bears started the conference as the "underdogs," having only two men of last year's string on their main team. A series of wins, however, soon ranked them as favorites in the district and when they meet Ray Nunnally's Tigers, given by experts to be one of the first of Class A teams, they will be evenly matched. In the first game with May Baird took the edge as can be seen by the following statistics:

Yards gained rushing: May 105, Baird 204; Yards lost: May 25, Baird 18; Passes attempted: May 8, Baird 15; Passes completed: May 2 for 30 yards, Baird 5 for 51 yards; Penetrations: May 1, Baird 3, First downs: May 5, Baird 11.

Mrs. Lilah Hendricks has returned from a business trip to Abilene.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entrusted, full of mercy and good fruits.—James 1:17

Heaven is made up of perfect peace, unity, holiness, and love; all these, and all in perfection.

If we can't be glad, we've learned at least, to range in peace earth's pleasant pasturage.—ROBERT BROWNING.

Returning to the Soil is Not Simple

CONCERNED over the growing seriousness of the relief problem, the New York State Taxpayers Federation listened recently to William E. Robertson, president of the United Taxpayers League of Buffalo, who advocated a general back-to-the-soil movement. On the land, at least, he said, men can feed their families.

It is true that the United States is gradually becoming less of an agrarian nation and more an industrial one. Ever since 1820, when the rural population comprised about 95 per cent of the total, the proportion of farm dwellers to city residents has been gradually slipping off. In 1880 it had dropped down to 77.4 per cent and in 1926 it was down to 56.2. These figures included persons residing in small towns and presumably living off the farmers who make their purchases in these towns.

The actual farm population in 1910 was 34.7 per cent of the total. In 1920 it had fallen to 29.5 per cent and the last farm census in 1935 set the proportion at less than 25 per cent.

UNFORTUNATELY, today a man can't merely file a claim for his 40 acres and start his farming career with nothing more than a shotgun and an ax. Agricultural problems are a lot more complex than simply sowing seeds in the spring and harvesting the crops in the fall.

The farmer today is up against a lot of problems he never had to face 30 years ago. There are acreage allotments, supervised rotation of crops, marketing agencies and market control boards. He must be more than a farmer today; he must be a passable economist as well.

Any back-to-the-land movement, therefore, would have to be arranged with elaborate care, even if the western lands were still open to homesteading. A city worker can't simply quit his job and take title to a piece of land. At least it can't be done on a widespread scale without disastrous results to the whole balance of agricultural economy.

IN some communities, county and city governments have set aside plots of land on the outskirts of the city for development by men and women on relief. The relief clients have been permitted to raise any kind of table vegetable the soil would yield. Many unemployed managed to supplement their relief fare to a considerable extent in this way.

As a shock-absorber to sudden loss of a job, this system might be advisable. Many people could benefit from a small tract of land on which they could cultivate truck gardens and use the produce themselves. But even such a plan requires land—a great deal more land than most cities can spare.

The movie version of "Gone With the Wind" is now being protested by patriots in the north. Only the Indians have not been heard from.

A woman juror in Chicago changed her mind after a sealed verdict had been delivered to the court. Husbands have a rough idea how the judge felt.

building, which have fallen into ruins, are being rebuilt to retain the old world atmosphere, while the shacks that sprung up later are being torn down and other buildings replacing them.

It was through his interest in La Villita and his slum clearance project that Mayor Maverick became interested in Ranger and his outstanding NYA project, Mayor Walker stated today.

"I am certainly glad that such an outstanding man as Maverick has taken enough interest in our NYA program here to want to visit our town," Walker stated today in commenting on the visit of Maverick, "and I hope that he is as well impressed with our type of project, as all who visited San Antonio and learned of the La Villita project, were with it. The pamphlets distributed to us indicate that it is one of the many outstanding things that Maverick is doing for the city of San Antonio."

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ARNOLD BENTHORNE—Five persons wished him dead.
HELEN BENTHORNE—His charming young wife.
WILLIAM ALSTON—Benthorne's father-in-law and business associate.
JOEY DI TORIO—Night club owner and gangster.
ARA JOHNSON—The mystery girl.
JOHN DOUGLAS—A young mining engineer, in love with Ara.

John Douglas

CAPTAIN DAWSON—A detective who likes to listen.

Yesterday, Officer Flynn goes to sleep in a taxi, awakens to see Nick Smith, the taxi driver he was hunting, going into a lunch stand. He forces Smith to lead him to Ara Johnson, nabbs her as she prepares to leave town.

CHAPTER VIII
Patrolman Dan Flynn herded his two charges into Benthorne's study—the sullen, mumbling taxi driver and the calm, self-possessed girl, Nick was terrified—alternately begging and threatening. There was no fear in the dark eyes of the girl. She met Captain Dawson's gaze defiantly as she entered the room, and he realized that bluff and threats would never break down her will.

As he studied her, Dawson compared her with Helen Benthorne. Where Helen Benthorne, the pampered daughter of society, this girl was hard—not unpleasantly so—but because life had not been generous to her. Her hands were not soft, nor faultlessly manicured. Her dress was simple, serviceable, only moderately attractive. Here was a girl, Dawson realized, who worked for all she had and who never had known luxury.

Her eyes fascinated him, as they did all men. "Smookey," Flynn had called them. Dawson wondered just how much it would take to fan those glowing sparks into a blazing, destructive fire.

"She was just leaving the apartment when I got there," Flynn explained. "Grips packed and all. But she won't say where she was going or why. She won't say anything, Captain. Maybe you can make her talk."

"Your luck is holding, Flynn," Dawson laughed, when Flynn had recounted the story of his discovery of Nick Smith. "You're the only man on the force who can go to sleep and wake up with his prisoner in his hands."

"Now here is something else for you—find out all you can about Benthorne. As soon as the brokerage offices open, start tracing his business operations, back to his first purchase of stock. Get all the help you need. We've got to find out some more about Benthorne and this 'Big Red' he mentioned in the note. See what you can dig up." He turned to the girl and the taxi driver.

"Well, Miss Johnson, perhaps you'll be able to help us clear up a few things."

"I don't know what you're talking about," the girl answered in thought he caught a flash of anger in Helen Benthorne's eyes as she spoke to the girl. But Ara had remained as sphinx-like as ever.

Dawson glanced around the table. He sat at Mrs. Benthorne's right, directly across from a vacant chair. Alston was still asleep. Ara sat beside him, and Nick Smith next to her. The girl's food was practically untouched. Smith's appetite seemed to have vanished, too. Only Joey di Torio, across the table, and Krome, seemed to be enjoying the meal.

If Joey had killed Benthorne, Dawson's thoughts rambled on, could he be cold-blooded enough to eat Benthorne's food—and apparently enjoy it?

How about Ara? If Dawson could have known her, he would have been afraid of the girl. She was almost too calm, too quiet. Was all this part of her plan? Her hand was steady as she lifted her coffee cup to her lips—not a quiver. Just how much did the girl know? How much would she tell? What could break down that wall of self-control?

Not finding an answer, Dawson attacked his ham and eggs.

John Douglas pounded hard on the Benthorne's front door. Hatless, his tie askew, he gasped for breath as Jameson, ever placid, answered.

"Is Miss Ara Johnson here?" he demanded, pushing past the butler.

"I—I don't know—I'll ask Captain Dawson," Jameson began.

"A young girl, with dark hair, dark eyes. Did a policeman bring her here?" Douglas shouted. "Out of my way—I'll see for myself!" He hurried toward the study.

"You'll find all of them in the dining room, to your left, at the end of the hall," Jameson ventured. Douglas ran past the study, without a glance, to the dining room door.

"Ara!"

The girl jumped to her feet at the sound of his voice. In another second she was in his arms. "Darling, darling," Douglas was whispering in her ear. "I had to find you. I was afraid. When I found you were gone... Ara, darling, I'll never let you go again. Why didn't you call me?" She tried to stop the flow of words, and failing, finally kissed him full on the mouth. His arm crushed her to him.

"Keep quiet, fool," she whispered angrily as she broke free at last.

Dawson smiled as he watched them. He had missed nothing, not even the angry whisper at the last. Here was his break, the chance he had been waiting for.

He waited until the youth, his arm still around the girl, turned to face him.

"I'm sorry to break in like this," Douglas apologized. "I just had to find Ara. When they said at the apartment that she had gone with a policeman—I—I—" he concluded lamely.

Dawson's smile widened. The others had remained in their chairs, but all eyes were on the couple.

"Just how, young man, did you know Miss Johnson would be here, in Arnold Benthorne's house?" Dawson asked slowly.

Douglas paled. He opened his mouth as if to speak, but no sound came.

The monthly party of the Married Ladies class of the Baptist church was held Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Baker. Besides the social feature, which included the serving of refreshments of delicious cake and coffee, there was a business session, during which Mrs. W. B. Hilliard was re-elected teacher of the class and Mrs. A. D. Baker was elected president. Mrs. Ted Rogers, vice president; Mrs. W. H. Powers, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Bill Parks, Mrs. J. H. Rushing and Mrs. A. D. Baker were named as stewardship committee. Those present were: Mmes. Jesse Sparkman, Major Keith, W. H. Powers, W. B. Hilliard, C. H. Williams, Howard Williams, Ford Reid, Ted Rogers, Bill Parks, Ed Morrow, Charlie Morrow, Grace Bray, J. H. Rushing, C. A. Skipping, and members, and two visitors, Miss Sybil Pointer, of Breckenridge and Mrs. Sam Powers, of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones and children drove up to Ranger on business Tuesday evening. Mr. Jones of principal of our high school and is basket ball coach.

A. C. Moore drove down to Dallas Monday and brought back a new Hudson sedan.

J. P. Quinn had the misfortune of getting his thumb on his right hand broken while at school Friday. He was taken to the West Texas clinic at Ranger to have it set.

The Methodist Missionary society met at the church Monday night, and after the devotional and a short business session, had the lesson from the mission study book, "Through Tragedy to Triumph." The fifth and sixth chapters were studied, the subject of which was "The Living Waters of Evangelism" and "In Earthen Vessels." Among the interesting things told in the lesson were the sketch of Roger Craig Cumberland, who served as a missionary in Kurdistan, near Mount Ararat, and was shot in the back by two Moslems to whom he had given shelter and food, in May, 1935, and the account of the work of Paul Harrison, who labored 45 years in Arabia and was known as a "blood brother," because he gave a length of vein from his arm to save the life of an Arab child. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Miss Mollie O'Rear and Mmes. Charles Lee, S. E. Snodgrass, Ed Parks, G. S. Bruce and W. C. Bedford. During the business session it was reported that $350 worth of handkerchiefs had been sold of the $1200 worth that had been ordered.

On Wednesday morning our town was shocked and grieved to hear that Mrs. S. M. Glazner had passed away Tuesday night, after a short illness at a Dallas hospital, and funeral services were at Fairfield, Mr. and Mrs. Glazner came here in September, 1924, and for many years were teachers in our high school, him being principal most of the time and both were beloved by all the pupils. Mr. Glazner was active in the Masonic lodge and was superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school, and Mrs. Glazner was a member of the Eastern Star chapter. When they left Desdemona, they went to Dallas, where he taught in the Woodrow Wilson high school, and Mrs. Glazner did not teach any more. Each year Mr. and Mrs. Glazner and their daughter would come back to Desdemona and visit Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bruce and would always make short calls on their many friends and former pupils. Mrs. Glazner was a lovely character, loved by all who knew her, and will be greatly missed by her best of friends who are extending sympathy to the sorrowing husband and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce would have attended the funeral but the message was delayed until too late for him to phone Mrs. Bruce, who left Port Arthur that morning and passed through Fairfield.

Friends here have received cards announcing the birth of Robert Lynn Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Patterson, of 210 Dunning Ave., San Antonio, Texas. Mrs. Patterson was before her marriage Miss Nell Robert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Robert, of Freer, formerly of Desdemona, where the Robert family lived from 1919 until 1933, when they moved to Freer. Mrs. Patterson was an honor graduate of Desdemona high school and continued her splendid record while in college at Denton and at the University of Texas.
