FORMAL OPENING OF LAKE SEASON SATURDAY

Here's Proof That Fishing Is Good at Lake Cisco This Year

SERVICE ON T&P RESUMED AFTER WRECK

Wreckage of 18 freight cars of a westbound Texas and Pacific through freight was cleared and the line restored late yesterday after the cars out of the center of the train piled up near Putnam early Wednesday. About 30 hoboes riding the train escaped death or injury only because none happened to be on the cars which were wrecked.

Most of the cars were refrigerators for fruit, empty of cargo. A car loaded with coke was believed to have broken a wheel over its shoulder and hit a small target at 30 feet.

Cearley is the son of Mrs. J. Lee Cearley of Cisco, and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Cisco.

48 Children In Nursery School

Forty-eight underprivileged children of families living in Cisco are attending the Cisco Work Projects administration nursery school. The nursery school is in the professional and service division of District 7, of WPA, which furnishes a manager, two teachers, a cook, and a housekeeper. The city of Cisco provides the building and supplies the food furnished by the Surplus Commodity Distribution project.

Open from 8:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m., the nursery school enrolls children from the ages of two through four and has served 23 children since it was established in 1935. The public is invited to visit the nursery during "This Work Pays Your Community Week," May 21 through May 25.

Here are shown some of the prize catches at Lake Cisco since the opening of the fishing season on May first. In the top photo left, Glen Brannum, left, and Mack Brannum, right, are holding the largest fish ever taken out of the lake and one of the largest ever caught in west Texas. It is a 63-pound yellow cat, caught on a small trotline hook. Behind them are Joe Lea Moore of the Red Front Drug store and Claude Ramsey. At top right Gail Moore is shown holding two bass, four pounds, five ounces, and three pounds, 12 ounces, which he caught at the lake, and bottom is shown Bill Bennie, champ fisherman of the season, with a seven pound bass and another weighing six pounds and one ounce. Two top photos by Osborn.

The Gulf coast area of Texas has 33 oil refineries with a capacity of 1,047,950 barrels of crude daily, or more than any other entire state.

HEREFORD IS SUBJECT OF ROTARY TALK

An interesting classification talk on Hereford cattle ranching by Ernest Hittson and a vocal solo by Miss Billye Cole featured the program at the Rotary club's noon luncheon today. Miss Cole sang "Just Awearyin' for You."

The beginning of the Hereford cattle breed in England, the transplanting the breed to the United States, its development here and its spread throughout the cattle country, and ranching problems in general, were discussed by Mr. Hittson. Conditions now are favorable to profitable ranching, he said.

Mr. Hittson told the club that records indicate that $24,000 is the highest cash price ever paid for a registered beef animal, and that $50,000 in cash and other consideration has been paid. With the great increase in Hereford breeders and registered Herefords, however, the competition is too great to make it likely that such a price will again be paid, he said.

Mr. Hittson also discussed the Boy Scout circus at Brownwood, urging the Rotarians to attend, and called attention to National Music week, now being observed.

Church School Sets Attendance Goals

For the past six weeks, various departments of the First Methodist church school have been assigned attendance goals for the Sunday morning services. Departments coming nearest reaching their goals were the beginners, primaries, juniors and intermediates, according to the Rev. Joe I. Patterson, pastor.

Every department is asked to have as large an attendance as possible on Mother's day, May 12, at which time the pastor will speak on "Two Kinds of Mothers."

CHAMBERLAIN RESIGNATION IS DEMANDED

Vote of Confidence Is Clouded by Absence of 134

LONDON, May 9 (P).—The Daily Mail in a front page editorial today declared the government of 71-year-old Neville Chamberlain "must resign" and advocated the selection of 79-year-old David Lloyd George, World war prime minister, as his successor, with First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill in complete control of strategy.

The government carried a vote on a question of confidence at conclusion of the First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill's calm, firm, almost deprecatory speech, by 281 tory votes to 299 for the combined opposition in the house of commons last night.

The conservatives' position was clouded, however, by the 134 absentees or abstentions, who, with those voting in opposition, make a majority of the 615 members.

Moreover, an estimated forty members who normally are government supporters, voted with the opposition.

Might Resign

Some political observers speculated on whether the 71-year-old

Ciscoan Gives Exhibition in Pistol Shooting

J. L. Cearley, state highway patrolman whose home is at Cisco, is one of the crack pistol shots of the state highway department, holding both state and national records.

Recently he and another patrolman, Don Lawrence, gave an indoor pistol shooting exhibition before the Austin Rotary club, said to be the first exhibition of its kind ever staged in Texas.

The two men, using ammunition they had made themselves, rigged up a spotlight focussed on a specially built background to stop the bullets and did various sharpshooting tricks. They cut playing cards with their shots, shot out candles, broke dime-size objects, cut a string holding a golf ball, and smashed a row of tiny spaghetti with a single shot. Cearley used a mirror to fire over his shoulder and hit a small target at 30 feet.

Cearley is the son of Mrs. J. Lee Cearley of Cisco, and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Cisco.

Mrs. Clark To Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. R. Lee Clark left Wednesday for Jackson, Mississippi, where she will undergo a major operation soon. While there, she will be under the care of her son, Dr. Randolph L. Clark, and attending physicians at the Jackson hospital. She expects to remain about a month.

Mrs. Clark was accompanied to Fort Worth Wednesday by three daughters, Mrs. J. B. Lovejoy of Fort Worth, who had been visiting here, Mrs. C. E. Deaton of Wichita Falls, and Miss Mignon Clark.

Correction

The Press was in error Tuesday in saying that Mr. and Mrs. M. Sheinberg and family had left for Dallas to make their home. Mrs. Sheinberg and two daughters went to Dallas Monday, but Mr. Sheinberg, who is proprietor of the New Boston store, did not accompany his family. The Press regrets and apologizes for this mistake.

STYLE REVUE AT 9 O'CLOCK IS FEATURE

Sponsors and Escorts From Neighboring Towns to Be Guests

Lake Cisco swimming pool, for years the largest and most popular swimming resort in west Texas, will be formally opened with ceremonies Saturday night and Sunday, May 11 and 12, it has been announced by P. G. Berry, Manager.

The celebration will begin with a style and sports revue Saturday night at 9 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Chief Brown. Styles and sporting goods representing 10 Cisco merchants will be exhibited, with local boys and girls as models.

At the same time, out-of-town sponsors and their escorts will be introduced by the master of ceremonies, Edward Lee. Jack Farley well-known as a water clown, will represent the East Ninth street garage in the revue.

Participating merchants are Altman's Style shop, Drumwright's, Inc., J. C. Penney Co., Red Front drug, The Man's store, Elite Beauty shop, X-Ray Beauty shop, Key's Beauty shop and the Nu-Way Beauty shop.

Music preceding and during the revue will be furnished by the Cisco Lobo band.

Sunday's program will include a joint convention of the West Central Texas Waterworks association and the West Texas District of Texas Beach and Pool association, and a diving exhibition by Jack Farley at 3:30. Other features of Sunday's program have not yet been announced.

Mr. Berry stated that there will be no charge for admission to the grounds, and that parks and camping facilities are free.

Slavs Hold Military Talks With Russians

BUDAPEST, May 9 (P).—It was learned authoritatively early today that a Yugoslav military mission headed by Gen. Voljii Maximovic, inspector of the national defense, will leave Belgrade shortly for Moscow to hold military talks with soviet Russian officials.

Authoritative sources in Belgrade made this disclosure shortly after it was reported in diplomatic quarters that Britain and France were offering Yugoslavs the assistance of troops, air forces and naval forces and a guarantee of Yugoslav independence and territorial integrity in an effort to seal a Balkan alliance against German or Italian aggression in southeastern Europe.

An offer of military aid reportedly has been made also to Hungary and Bulgaria by the allies.

However, these two countries are said to have been reluctant to accept promises which might compromise their neutrality in German or Italian eyes.

In recent weeks both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, Slavic nations, have been showing an inclination toward the big Slav nation, Russia.

Lobo Band Off to Waco Contest

The Cisco Lobo band left at 12:45 today for Waco to compete Friday in the National School Music Competition and Festival for Region Six, including New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. The Cisco band is eligible for competition by virtue of winning first division rating for Class B bands at the recent state contest at Abilene.

This year's national contest, according to officials of the meet, is the largest gathering of bands in the history of the festival. Approximately 100 bands and orchestras are registered for the contest.

Twenty-one Class B bands will compete in the playing contests and 31 in marching. Dir. R. I. Collier, director of the Cisco band, announced. Playing contests will begin Friday morning and all marching exhibitions will be Friday night.

The following Cisco musicians will compete in the solos and ensembles groups: Ralph McCannies, bass; Glenn Tableman, cornet; Robert Blackstock, student conductor; Roy Brock, twirler; Glenn Boyd, baritone, and Mary Wood, alto saxophone.

The classes are locally sponsored by the Cisco Independent School district.

Perhaps a few days from now, when high school doors will close to them forever, there will be a moment of sadness in their hearts, but not for long, for youth ever looks forward and upward. But what does the future hold for the young man of today? Will they, in a few short months or years be shipped across the seas like cattle to be slain on foreign battlefields. ### Walter Gray Candidate for County Clerk

Walter Gray, long-time resident of Eastland county, who has served the county efficiently in public office both as an elected official and as chief deputy in the office of county clerk, today authorized the Cisco Daily Press to announce that he will be a candidate for county clerk, subject to the action of the democratic primaries this year.

Gray served as county clerk, retiring in 1918 and dedicating himself to various lines of business, including clerical positions, chief deputy of the county clerk, as mentioned. He cast his first ballot in this county. He is married and he and Mrs. Gray are the parents of two children. His mother, Mrs. J. W. Gray, is a Cisco resident, and his father, who was a Cisco grocery merchant, is buried in Oakwood cemetery.

Following is the statement which Mr. Gray made in announcing his candidacy:

In asking for the job of county clerk of Eastland county, I do so with a sincere and conscientious desire to be of service to the citizenship of the county, and in this connection I might add:

That I have spent most of my life in Eastland county, having been employed in various clerical positions, during which time I served as head deputy in the office to which I aspire, and feel that with this practical experience that I am in a position to render you the very best service.

This is one of the most important positions in the county, as it is the direct intermediary between the citizenship and the county and commissioners' court, especially in all matters of finance. All matters of property titles, all probate, all vital statistics, as well as election matters are handled in this office, and, in short, covers most all that can happen to you from the cradle to the grave, all these matters should have the very best attention.

It is my sincere desire to meet each and all during the coming campaign, but should I fail to do so, I trust that you will consider this a personal solicitation for your support.

in the prisoned hells of submarines in lonely seas, in the deadly valleys of the Rhine and high above the earth where heaven was once supposed to be, should impress us with a great deal more than the need of physical and material preparedness to meet and repel any human enemy.

It should be a grave warning to our people to regard earnestly how the resources and the wealth of this country are being employed in the common good. It was to endow no special privileges of rank or place that the American system of free enterprise was established. It was established by common consent because it was and still is believed to be the best system for the general distribution of the products of human enterprise and the national economic security that has ever been developed. We ought to regard how freely and well we are making the system work today. We should become aggressively critical of interference with it, from public or private, from official or unofficial sources; chary of the promises of leadership that would surpass its proven virtues and sternly determined that the principles that history has proved its foundation should not be violated by accident or design.

The criticism must be a personal matter. It should concern itself with the extent to which we actually BELIEVE in our system as opposed to the extent to which we merely USE it. Do we as American citizens have a sense of responsibility and stewardship to the common good, or do we simply pit our selfishness against the inevitable accounting in the slow, inexorable march of time? There is only one way for this country to win the war in Europe. It is to keep our homes, our communities and our country clean of those vices which nurtured that war.

If ever our country ceases to have confidence in itself—in you and me—and begins to want an invader, all the battleships and planes and all the men and guns we can assemble will not do our defense any good. We're on the battleline right now.

Chamberlain--

prime minister, chastened by the unexpectedly large opposition vote, might follow the example of the former premier of France, Edouard Daladier, and resign. There was nothing, however, to confirm any such intention.

Men who had hammered at the government for two days took the vote as a victory rather than as a defeat. Jubilantly they sang, Rule Britannia, and shouted "Go resign!" as the gaunt Chamberlain left the house.

Should the man who led Britain to Munich and then to war to destroy "Hitlerism" actually go to the king to resign, his most likely successor would be Churchill or Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, possibly at the head of a government of all parties.

But the political situation was in a great state of uncertainty. New Cabinet?

One possibility, however, was that Chamberlain would now attempt to form a national government of all parties, inviting labor and liberal to take portfolios in his cabinet.

The labor party convention on Monday may decide to reverse its decision not to participate in the government.

It was evident the opposition expects Chamberlain—a picture of weariness at the end of the seven-hour tumult—at least to reconstruct his cabinet to satisfy their scornful condemnations of "muddling."

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Samuel Hoare, air minister, Oliver Stanley, secretary of war, and Leslie Burgin, supply minister, were members mentioned as likely to go.

A day of drama and excitement such as ancient Westminster has not witnessed in years was capped when Churchill, a tory "rebel" who fired many a barb at the Chamberlain escutcheon in the days of appeasement, rose to make the closing speech for the government.

Accepting "full responsibility" for the admiralty's decision not to attempt to force Trondheim fjord—a blow which Admiral of the Fleet Sir Rogers Keyes yesterday said would have left Adolf Hitler holding losing cards in Norway.

way—Churchill said Britain had 12,000 troops facing 120,000 Germans and had the choice of getting them out or "leaving them to be destroyed."

Britain's surface navy would have invited losses amounting to "disaster" from the German air force, he said, had an attempt been made to cut German communications to Norway in the Skagarrak.

Moreover, he warned, Britain's inferiority in the number of war planes "will condemn us for some time to come to a great deal of difficulty and suffering and danger which we must endure with firmness until more favorable conditions can be established—as they assuredly will be."

At no time in the last war, he declared ominously, was Britain in as great peril as today.

for support, rather than to the western powers.

The belief was expressed in quarters close to the Yugoslav government that Yugoslav-soviet military alliance might result from the military mission's journey to Moscow.

Only yesterday it was reported that economic negotiations between Yugoslavia and soviet Russia in Moscow were turning to "political questions."

A military alliance between these two countries in the policy of Yugoslavia, who has followed a strongly anti-communist policy since the bolshevist revolution of 1917.

The two countries have not even maintained diplomatic relations. But the Croat vice-premier Vladimir Mack said on April 24 that resumption of trade relations, the first such treaty since the World war between the two countries, probably would be followed by resumption of diplomatic relations.

It was believed here that the military link might follow conclusion of political talks.

Diplomatic quarters in the Balkans, noting the parallel between the Yugoslav-Russian talks and the allied offer of aid to Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Hungary in an effort to form a Balkan defense alliance to stand together against the Rome-Berlin axis, said there was a distinct possibility of allied - Russian cooperation in southeastern Europe. Save time through The Daily Press Ads.

Circle Three Has Luncheon On Tuesday

Entertaining in the attractive home of Mrs. J. E. Caffrey, the inactive members, and other guests, were honored with a luncheon Tuesday by Circle Three of the First Presbyterian auxiliary.

Final Session of WTCC Meet Is Important

BIG SPRING, May 7.—Concluding general assembly of the West Texas chamber of commerce, Saturday, May 18—last day of the WTCC convention—will be no hurried, hackneyed windup. The convention bureau here has announced a program crammed with color, action and interest, with emphasis on the regional chamber's activity in the field of local governmental study.

Addresses on this broad subject will be given by two experts. One is Rupert F. Asplund of Santa Fe, for 25 years director of the New Mexico Taxpayers' association. He will speak on "Public Expenditure, Research and Budget Making." The other is Dr. George C. Hester, famed analyst of Georgetown (Southwestern university), who will discuss "Growth of Public Expenditures." Pushing this phase of the con-

It contains five schedules of information and plans on how the local committees may cooperate constructively with public officials on the budget and "get more for the tax dollar."

Finals in the "My Home Town" contest will be run off at Saturday's concluding session. Six winners from the preliminaries will be ranked by three out-of-town judges to determine who will get the Thomas Etheridge cup and how cash awards and scholarships will be divided. Another important program item will be presented by the WTCC of the annual awards: To E. K. Fawcett, retiring president, as "Top West Texan" for 1934; to the best membership town, the most valuable WTCC director, and the most valuable chamber of commerce manager—this will be judged on cooperation with the regional chamber.

New officers and directors, elected at a directors' breakfast the same morning, will be presented by Houston Harte, San Angelo, a past president of the WTCC. Selection of the next convention city—decided in secret balloting conducted the previous evening—will be announced by Tom Garrard of Tahoka, chairman of the elections committee.

2 Inches of Rain Is Recorded Here Wednesday

The Cisco country awoke Wednesday morning to find its best hopes realized in soil soaked with two inches of rain that fell in more or less leisurely fashion throughout the night. The moisture came in time to save a portion of a grain crop, blighted by drought after high winds had robbed the ground of much of the season's moisture by a four-inch rain of a few days ago. Although the tight land north of Cisco will realize only a part of a normal crop—wheat—much of it no crop at all—the rainfall gives the areas assurance of good while pasture lands and water benefitted greatly.

The rain was general, according to reports to the Press, although it ranged in intensity from light showers to heavy pours.

Historians mention emigration as early as 1491 B. C.

Sam Russell Is Candidate For Congress

Judge Sam Russell of Stephen- ville today authorized the Cisco Daily Press to announce that he will be a candidate for congress from the 17th Texas district, subject to the action of the democr- ic primaries this summer. He an- nounced his candidacy in the fol- lowing statement:

To the Voters of the Seventeenth District: My announcement for congress was carried in the press, in the daily and most of the weekly pa- pers, on the 19th day of January of this year. However, the an- nouncement was carried as a news item. This announcement is my personal message to you.

I was born and reared in Erath county and grew to manhood on the farm. My people were poor and by reason thereof I was forced to make my own way. After securing my education, I engaged in teaching school during the school term and engaged in farm- ing when not in school, during which time I also studied law.

I went to the army during the World war, and I finished my law course while in the army and was admitted to the bar and licensed award of a two-week trip to the World's fair. The winners were chosen by a special WTCC committee at Abilene.

to practice law soon after I was discharged from the army.

I have, since that time, served my home people for over five years as their county attorney, having been first appointed to fill out an unexpired term and there- after was elected to the office twice; my people then elected me district attorney for the twenty- ninth judicial district for two terms; then they elected me their district judge for said district, and I am now serving my twelfth year as such.

This history of myself is given for the purpose of showing what my home people where I grew up think of me, as well as to show my opportunity to study govern- ment, and my qualifications for the place I seek.

The science and study of govern- ment has been my life study, and I believe that I have a fair knowledge of the vital questions that the American people are now confronted with, and the import- ant matters that the next congress will have to deal with. I have a burning desire to serve them during these trying times and believe that I can render to them the service that this great district is en- titled.

As I have stated, the press car- ried the main points that I think are of paramount importance to the people as a whole, which were:

(1) If I am elected your con- gressman, I pledge to you that I shall do everything in my power to keep our country out of war, for I know the horrors of war and the misery and woe that follow the same.

I believe that our country is in more danger now within its bor- ders than it is without, and I am in favor of keeping all foreigners out of this country and give and make jobs for our home people. I like the slogan, "America for Americans," and I believe in a strict immigration law, and such other laws, that will make it easy to deport enemy aliens.

(2) In case it becomes neces- sary for our country to engage in war, I favor a universal draft, that is, not only a draft of man power, but a draft of money pow- er, a draft of machinery, and a draft of munitions and factories.

(3) Our agricultural industry being the basic industry of the land, I favor such laws that will assist and build up this industry, by way of soil conservation and soil preservation and co-operative market associations, to stimulate a better market for our products;

I am in favor of an amendment to our farm program in order to bring about the results intended when the same was passed, where- by the small farmer and the ten- ant can be protected and taken off the relief rolls and WPA pro- jects, by securing for them a home and a place to earn their own liv- ing. The farm program being in- tended in part as a relief measure to help those who could not help themselves, and I expect to work, if I am your congressman, to see that this part of the program is carried out.

I am in favor and shall work to have the discriminating freight rates against Texas and the south- west eliminated.

(4) Being a Southern democrat, I naturally believe in the doctrine of state's rights, and I am opposed to federal control of private business, and if I am elected your congressman I shall fight and op- pose to the bitter end federal con- trol of the oil business in Texas.

(5) I am in favor of the lowest tax rate possible for the opera- tion of our government, and be- lieve that all taxes should be equal and uniform; and if they are such, the ones most able to pay will be the ones who pay the most, and should pay the most. I am in favor of income taxes, and believe that such a tax is just, when needed to carry on the gov- ernment; and I am opposed to the future issuing of tax exempt se- curities.

(6) I am opposed to the paying of a $25,000 a year pension to the widows of past presidents. I am opposed to paying of pensions to retired federal judges.

(7) I believe in a strict econom-in government. Our national debt is now nearing the forty-five bil- lion mark, which is alarming, and shows that an economy program must be established.

(8) I am in favor of prohibiting the advertisement of intoxicating beverages throughout the United States mails; and I believe that the moving picture and radio in- dustries should be prohibited from giving immoral programs.

(9) I am in favor of the gov- ernment encouraging and assist- ing the buying of homes for those who are homeless. This can be done without loss to the govern- ment. Home ownership is the superstructure of a free govern- ment; and our government is a collection of homes. The more homes we have, the better gov- ernment we will have.

Of course, there will be many other problems that we will be confronted with, and I will give each due consideration, and at all times fight with all my might for the things that I think are right, and equally as strong against the things that I think are wrong.

I sincerely ask your help, prom- ising you that I will always be found at my post of duty, working and fighting for the welfare and glory of our people and country.

Sincerely yours, SAM RUSSELL, Candidate for Congress, Seventeenth District.

Census to Be Continued Until Count Complete

The census bureau has given in- structions that enumeration in the current census will continue until affected communities and the cen- sus officials are satisfied, Direc- tor J. C. Shipman of the 17th dis- trict organization told the Cisco Daily Press Saturday morning.

"We are deeply grateful for the cooperation which chambers of commerce and other community organizations are giving us, and we have instructions from the bu- reau to cooperate with these bodies and to accept from them whatever assistance they wish to give in helping make a thorough count."

Mr. Shipman was complimen- tary of the Cisco program of help which was instituted by the cham- bers of commerce. He said that Cisco was one of the first com- munities in the district to show interest in the count and to offer its help, and that now practi- cally all cities and towns in the area are giving such assistance.

Under the direction of the CofC census committee, headed by J. J. Collins, a complete unofficial canvass of the city was made last week. The canvass, completed Saturday, showed approximately 250 persons missed in the first enumeration. Mr. Shipman in- formed the Press that the enu- merators would return to Cisco to check on all these named and, if they are found to have been missed, to list them officially in the census.

SERIAL STORY

BET ON LOVE

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
SHERRY BOND - Society girl, owner of race horse, Pepper Boy.
PAUL WHARTON - Rival owner, determined to teach Sherry that racing is not a woman's game.
SHEP GRANT - Young gentleman rider.
WILLIE BOND - Sherry's uncle, a turf "adviser."

Yesterday, Pepper Boy's first workout at the Downs shows him in fine condition. Sherry enters him in a Derby prep race, hires Madden to ride. Shep Grant wants to ride Pepper Boy, and when Sherry refuses, he buys a horse, enters in the race against Sherry. Sherry is angry, but Willie Bond is confident Pepper Boy can win.

CHAPTER XIII

Sherry awoke with a start next morning. She sat up in bed, blinked her eyes. It was full daylight—must be at least 7 o'clock, and she should have been at the stable by 5.

She must get to the track—without delay. She swung her feet around to blue slippers waiting by the bedside. Then she jumped at the sound of a sharp rapping on the door.

"Who's there?" she called, throwing a quitted robe about herself.

"It's Ted—me—!"

"Come right in!"

The school teacher, fully dressed, was cheer itself. "The Major said you must be taking what he calls a nap of sleep—he's gone to the track. And I thought that—well, here, take it, Sherry."

"You're a honey—you're a sweetheart—but I can't take it—and I don't need it." She tried to force the money back into Ted's hand.

"Sherry, you've got to have money—I know it!"

"I don't have to have the money you've saved for your education!"

"Silly—I'm spending my leave of absence with you."

"Besides, I don't need it. I'm winning a race this afternoon—about $700 to the winner. Now you must take this money back."

Ted saw that Sherry meant it. She said: "I'll take it back on one condition—you promise me that if Pepper Boy doesn't win, you will take this loan."

"I promise—that if Pepper Boy doesn't win, I'll take the loan, and give you a piece of Pepper Boy to boot!"

Sherry was the first owner in the paddock that afternoon for the second race—the Derby trial. It was being called. Not a horse had been scratched; ten fast colts would fight it out, each inch of the mile and 70 yards. She wanted to see that every detail was perfect before her Pepper Boy went to the post.

Sam had taken the blanket off the colt, and Elijah was leading him around the ring, when Shep Grant strode up to Sherry, a worried look on his face. The rider was resplendent in his new silks—orange jacket, ebony cross sashes, sleeves and cap. He raised his hand in salute, said:

"Hello, Sherry. Since I own my mount, they let me out of the jockey room ahead of time—to supervise saddling. There's my boy, being led in, now."

"Yes," said Sherry, looking at Grant—not at the horse.

"Sherry, I know we're racing against each other—"

"I know it, too."

"But here's luck," Grant shifted his booted foot, "and may the best horse win."

"Doesn't the best horse always win?"

"Well—perhaps—look here, you're not mad?"

"Mad about what?"

"Why—er—about my riding against your horse?"

"My dear man, if you think that western nag of yours can beat my colt, why, go and do it!"

Deliberately, she gave him her shoulder, said something to Sam on the other side of the stall.

Grant stood looking at her for a moment—then he strode off. As he went to number one stall he might have heard talking to himself: "You've a lot to learn, young lady—a whole lot!"

The other jockeys came into the paddock when the saddling bell rang. Sherry said to Madden, as Sam was adjusting the leather to Pepper Boy's back:

"You know this colt, Madden—get him off smartly, made no mistake, and win."

Madden nodded. He said: "Goin' to be a hoss-race, every foot of the way. That Castanets, the brown 'un, is speedy; and that Monitor—"

Madden frowned, "he's the baby to watch. But I don't think so much of that gen'tman steeplechase guy. This here's on the flat."

"That Mr. Grant you speaking of?"

The question was asked by Willie Bond, who had hustled up to the stall. "You'll be glad to hear this," he chuckled to Sherry, "Shep Grant's four pounds overweight. Couldn't pull it down. He rides at 124 pounds—against 120 pounds on the other entries."

"I told him he was a steeplechase rider," Sherry said. "What do you scale at, Madden?"

The little fellow grinned: "Not more'n 104—winter and summer. I made exact weight for this by my valet puttin' 16 pounds 'n lead in that lead-pad." He indicated a pad beneath Pepper Boy's saddle.

At that moment the bugle blew, calling the field to the post.

Willie Bond called up to Madden: "Odds against you are about six to one, lad—you're third choice. But bring him in first."

Madden nodded, and the colt filed out at the end of the line.

"Excuse me, my dear—business to attend to," Willie Bond said, and dashed off toward the grandstand.

"Well, I like that!" Sherry was saying to herself when a familiar voice spoke at her elbow:

"Come on and watch this one with me."

It was Paul Wharton. Sherry had so much on her mind that she forgot to be distant. "Why Paul—where've you been keeping yourself?" She was really glad to see him.

"Might ask you the same," he smiled. "Been busy—as you've been; but come on—they'll be at the post in a minute."

The horses were going into the stall gate—in front of the grandstand—when Sherry and Paul Wharton reached his box.

"See Shep's bought a nag, blossomed out as an owner-trainer-rider," Paul said, with a side-long glance at her.

"Yes," she smiled, but kept her eyes on the starting-gate. "He was nice enough to offer to ride Pepper Boy for me—but I had other plans."

A roar went up from the watching thousands as the field leaped forward in a perfect start.

"Say!" Paul Wharton exclaimed, "look at your colt—he's improved!"

Pepper Boy, breaking form the extreme outside, was shooting ahead—Madden was trying to cut a long diagonal line across the field—trying to get to the rail at the head of the turn.

"But look there!" Wharton shouted again, "That Shep's not bad, is he? Watch him!" Shep Grant was hustling his bay, Monitor, to the front of the rail—he had blocked the fast-moving brown, Castanets, who had tried to take it.

Now, as they reached the first turn, the field was split into two divisions. Three horses in the first group—Shep Grant with Monitor on the rail, Farwell on Castanets next to him, and Madden running along side on Pepper Boy. Seven horses were grouped behind.

"Too bad Madden couldn't get the rail. He's dropping back." So he was.

"The horse is in stride—Madden's giving him a breather," Sherry said.

"Maybe," Wharton muttered. "But I don't like the way Grant is taking that nag of his to the front—Boy!—He's a length ahead as they start down the back stretch."

"He's burning his colt up," said Sherry—and she hoped it was true.

"Maybe," Wharton muttered again. "I'm not crazy about Grant—you know it; but just the same he's a darn good judge of pace." "He's four pounds overweight," Sherry said, as she noted that Pepper Boy was third—and running easily—at the half-mile.

"Is he?" Wharton looked at her a minute. "Then he's got an advantage over all the rest of you."

"How so?"

"All the other jockeys are very light boys—and their saddle-pads are filled with lead. That's dead weight—and mighty heavy. Shep is all live weight."

"What of it?" she snapped. "There's Madden going into contention—now."

The boy was starting his run with Pepper Boy. He lifted his reins at the three-length pole, as they went into the far turn.

Sherry knew he was clucking to Pepper Boy—she saw her game little colt spring forward—Madden was shooting into a space between Castanets and the rail. Pepper Boy got the rail—was alongside Castanets—was shooting at a space between Monitor and the rail, ahead.

"Not this time!" Wharton whistled. "Madden almost got in that opening—but Shep has an eye in the back of his head. See, he's drawn close to the rail himself."

So he did. But Madden was taking Pepper Boy out—now they were straightening down the home stretch: Monitor in front by a length—Pepper Boy second—and the brown, Castanets, coming up fast on Pepper Boy's flanks. Behind them thundered seven other horses—vainly trying to catch up.

The crowd was yelling and cheering. There'd been a last minute plunge on Monitor by the wise boys—and was Pepper Boy catching up with him?" "Gosh, but Grant can ride!" "He's holding that nag of his together—well, you've got the best horse—but he's hanging—Madden can't move him up an inch, Sherry!"

"Now he's coming—in the last furlong!" Sherry yelled. Madden had lashed out with his bat. Pepper Boy leaped forward. His nose was now at Monitor's neck; but Castanets surged forward on the outside—even with Pepper Boy.

The three colts—so close together that a handkerchief could have almost covered them—swept down to the wire together. Now they were head and head, nose and nose—

They flashed under the wire. (To Be Continued)

62-Pound Cat Taken From Lake Cisco

What is believed to be the biggest fish ever taken from Lake Cisco was caught late Monday by Glen and Mack Branum, living three miles east of Cisco on the Eastland highway. The fish, a yellow cat, weighed 62 pounds. It was caught on a trot line.

The Branum brothers also took a large catch of channel cat at the same time.

The big fish, exhibited at the Red Front Drug store last night at 11 o'clock, drew a large gallery. The brothers staked it in

The record for consistent catches of large fish from Lake Cisco, however, seems to belong to Bill Bernie of Cisco, who caught nearly 35 pounds of large mouth black bass in the first four days of the season. On the opening day, Bennie caught a bass weighing three pounds and five ounces. On May 2 he caught two, one weighing three pounds and 13 1-2 ounces, and another weighing three pounds and eight ounces. On May 3 he caught the two largest bass, and on May 4 he caught another

KING LOBO VII IS CROWNED ON FRIDAY

$43,000 Road Bond Payment Is Refunded

The highway money allowed Eastland county — something over $43,000 — which has been deposited in the treasury of the county and proportioned among the four county commissioners to be used in their respective districts, will soon be in circulation for the several projects designated by the commissioners court.

This money was allowed by legislative enactment and is a refund of sums paid out by the county on bond issues assumed by the highway commission, and for which there were no funds available from that source, at the time this money was due, according to County Judge W. S. Adamson.

The law required that the commissioners court should designate for what purpose this refund would be used before payment was made. Eastland county commissioners stipulated that the money would be expended for building, repairing and upkeep of rural roads, and for WPA projects assistance.

Carrying out the purposes designated, Judge Adamson said that each of the commissioners has worked out initial projects, some of which are practically ready for work orders. The money will be used as needs appear, and no big program is anticipated immediately. It is the purpose to expend this money by slow stages, as the fiscal year ends in June, and it is the desire all apportionments to the county meet the demands existing until the close of the fiscal year.

Judge Adamson said it is not contemplated to increase the man power on the county work. On the contrary, he said, it is likely that some of those now at work will be dropped, and those dropped will hardly be reinstated before next fall.

He said appropriations were less this fiscal year than last, and the indications are that the appropriations for the coming year will still be less.

Judge Adamson said in making their designations for what projects the highway money would be used the court specified rural roads and PWA assistance as those projects would give a large number of men employment.
