RAIN SLIGHT OVER AREA DURING NIGHT

Total During Last Few Days Is Over Two Inches Here

Showers which fell over the Cisco country last night and early this morning added only a few tenths of an inch to the total rainfall of the last few days but the dampness added to the penetrating effect of the more than two inches of recent fall and made summer crop prospects brighter.

At the same time the chill norther that accompanied the latest fall prolonged the unusual coolness of the spring season to a point beyond the normal reach of such weather. The low temperatures were sharply reminiscent of winter weather.

General Reports from over west Texas brought news of high winds and general showers.

Heavy rainfall, accompanied by strong wind that uprooted trees and blew down telephone poles, struck in the Winters section early Wednesday night.

Precipitation in Winters was almost two inches but the rainfall was heavier in the Hatchell community, south of Winters, about four and a half inches being received there.

Extent of wind damage in the Winters area was not known last night, other than numerous trees were uprooted and many telephone poles were toppled over.

Rainfall at Wilmett, Wingate and Drasco was about two inches. Merkel and Trent reported half inch or more late Wednesday but the rainfall was much lighter west. Sweetwater, Roscoe and Colorado City received only sprinkles.

Rain was general over the South Plains last night. Lubbock reported 9 inch by 8 p. m. with skies still overcast. Cotton and feedstuff will be benefitted throughout the area, Lubbock reported.

Although no rainfall was reported last night, Hamlin received about two inches Tuesday night. The city's new lake, completed last summer, caught about 15 feet of water and the old lake caught six feet. All of Jones county received heavy rains Tuesday night.

Other Tuesday night rain reports included: Brownwood 2.3; Albany 1.5; Haskell, 2.04; Coleman 1.5; Clyde 1.35; Oplin 1; Baird 1.4; Ballinger 2.

Westerners to Train Here Again This Fall

The Lubbock Westerners of 1940 will again open their training season in Cisco, City Comm' Edward Lee was informed yesterday in a telephone conversation with Head Coach Goober Keyes of the state champion high school football team.

For several years the Westerners have been coming to Cisco to initiate their fall training season. The precedent for that was set by the late Coach Weldon Chapman, who went to Lubbock from Cisco and after whose death last fall Keyes, a Cisco boy and Chapman protege, and Weldon Nichols, took the Westerners on to the state championship. Keyes was elected head coach and Nichols assistant.

The squad will arrive here September 1 to begin training. Like the Cisco Lobos this year, the champions carry over into next fall's campaign a veteran backfield and a green line.

Arrangements for accommodating the squad have been made, Mr. Lee said.

Mr. and Mrs. Rumpy Collinsworth have gone to Hamilton, where they will make their home.

COUNTY BAR TO HONOR ITS DEAN TONIGHT

The Eastland County Bar association tonight will honor Dallas K. Scott, veteran Cisco attorney, Eastland county pioneer and dean of the lawyers of the county, with a dinner at the Connellee hotel at Eastland. Associate Justice O. C. Funderburk of the eleventh court of civil appeals at Eastland, a former legal associate of Judge Scott, will be toastmaster. Longtime friends and associates of Judge Scott will speak.

CAME TO COUNTY WHEN A MERE BOY

By R. W. H. KENNON
Dallas Kimberlin Scott, honored citizen, distinguished barrister and beloved character, was a mere boy when he harkened to the call of the west and landed in Eastland county. Today he is recognized as dean of the Eastland county bar and one of the county's most ethical practitioners as well as one of our most honorable citizens.

He was born in Jefferson county, Ohio, August 7, 1855, of Virginia parentage, and will have reached his 85th birth anniversary next August. His residence in Texas dates from 1872, when he landed in Dallas — the town whose name is also his — from which he departed for Eastland county in 1875, two years after the county was organized, locating at Mansker Lake, named for one of the county's earliest pioneers.

At Mansker Lake, then a thriving trading point, he formed a business connection with J. M. Freeman, merchandising and freighting. The business prospered though the country was sparsely settled, their merchandise being freighted by mule team from Dal-

CAPTURE OF BOULOGNE IS POSSIBILITY

Must Crush Allied "Pocket" Before Attacking England

By Associated Press
The German blitzkrieg, smashing at the 500,000 to one million "pocketed" allied troops in Belgium and northern France, today recaptured Abbeville, 12 miles from the English channel, and nazi authorities said it was "quite possible" that they had also taken the vital channel port of Boulogne. Boulogne is 26 miles across the straits of Dover from Folkestone, England. The Germans admitted a "real battle" against England could not begin until the strategic allied "pocket" in Belgium and northern France, extending from Abbeville to Ostend had been crushed.

"In view of the strong forces encircled there, it could not be done without heavy fighting," said DNB, German official news agency.

ALLIES STAGE COUNTERATTACKS

By Associated Press
The allies, with swift counter thrusts by land and air, have checked—for the present at least, Adolf Hitler's two-pointed advance toward the channel and Paris after five black days of allied reverses.

The allied achievement, which likewise hampered the German effort to tighten its lines around 1,000,000 allied troops in northern France and Belgium, came during a day of swift military and diplomatic events which produced these developments:

1. Britain made Prime Minister Winston Churchill virtual dictator through a swiftly enacted law conscripting British labor and property.

2. The British disclosed that they were flying some of their American-built bombers across the Atlantic from Canada in their desperate bid to overcome nazi air superiority.

3. Pointing for the narrow straits of Dover and a short cut to England, the German armies of Flanders poured more men and guns into France, while giving the first official hint that their 13-day sweep through Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg and into France may have been slowed down.

4. Battle, the last of the great forts of Belgium's Liege defenses, fell to the Germans after a 20-minute air and artillery assault.

5. The allies recaptured Arras and Abbeville, the latter the nearest point reached by the Germans in their channel drive, and took their main stand to halt the nazis on a new 200-mile allied line along the Somme and Aisne rivers.

6. Rumania called up 300,000 reserves and rushed most of them to the Russian frontier in fear of an impending soviet march into Bessarabia. The move increased Rumania's armed force to around 2,000,000 and placed the oil-rich Balkan kingdom on a virtual war-time mobilization.

Cattlemen Guests at Dinner Here

In spite of inclement weather which materially reduced the attendance both of visiting cattlemen and their wives and of local people, the chamber of commerce dinner honoring members of the Central West Texas Hereford Breeders association on the Laguna hotel last night was pronounced a signal success. There were 88 paid admissions, about equally divided between visitors and hosts.

G. P. Mitcham, at whose instance the dinner was held under the auspices of the chamber, this morning expressed his appreciation of the hospitable gesture made by Cisco people and the efforts of the chamber of commerce in making the dinner successful. Rain which came yesterday reduced expected attendance by more than half.

The dinner ended a two-day convention tour of Hereford ranches in this section.

J. D. Lauderdale, CoC vice president, presided. Out-of-town guests were introduced by Mr. Mitcham, who gave special credit to Mrs. Rupert Harkrider, secretary of the association, and Ernest Grissom, president. The principal talk was made by A. L. Smith, beef cattle specialist of the A&M extension service. There were brief talks also by Frank Reeves of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, O. R. Peterson of Fort Worth and John Henry Dean, Jr., of Dallas, superintendent of the National Hereford show to be held in conjunction with the state fair at Dallas this fall.

A motion picture of 4-H club boys' work with Hereford cattle feeding projects in the panhandle, including a pictorial record of the boys' trip to the Kansas City stockyards and market, was shown by Smith and Jimmie Potts, assistant state 4-H club leader.

East Ward Pupils On Rotary Program

East Ward school pupils directed by Mrs. Bruce Younger, teacher and wife of the principal of the school, presented the program at the Rotary club today noon. J. J. Collins was program chairman. The club heard readings, a vocal duet and numbers by the rhythm band in a clever and interesting program.

JUDGE LANKFORD ILL

Judge Eugene Lankford has been confined to his home since Sunday with an attack of bronchitis. His condition was reported as somewhat improved today.

ROBERDS IS CITY GOLF CHAMPION

Clark Roberds, city attorney, Wednesday gained the city championship golf title when he defeated I. J. (Satch) Henson by a score of 4-3. The championship match rounded out a week of play in the annual Cisco tournament, held each year prior to the Oil Belt invitation tournament.

Roberds won his first match with Charles Sheppard and advanced to the semi-finals, where he defeated Norman Huston to go on to the title.

I. A. Brunkenhoefer of Humbletown won the second flight title by taking out W. C. McDaniell, 6-5. Third flight matches had not been completed today. Buster Robertson and Cecil Shaw were battling for top position in this flight, with Shaw one down at the turn.

Results from the consolation matches had not been posted today, many of them delayed because of inclement weather.

The invitation tournament, to be at the local golf course June 14, 15 and 16, attracts a wide field of golfers every year, and is one of the biggest undertakings of the Cisco Country club.

Public Invited to Housekeeping Aide

The public is invited to visit the housekeeping aide project at 401 West 9th street during the remainder of the week. The project has been moved into its new home during the past week and repair work has progressed rapidly. Your visit and suggestions on the work will be appreciated.

Members of the civic organizations, city officials, city employees, and business people are especially invited to attend open house tonight.

The remainder of this week's schedule is:

Thursday, 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.
Friday, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.
Saturday, 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Band Picnic At School Tonight

Members of the Cisco Lobo band will be guests of honor tonight at a picnic to be given by the band parents club. The picnic, scheduled to be held at Lake Cisco, will be held instead in the basement at the high school, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Large Crowd Attends First WPA Program

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, a crowd estimated at 1,130 gathered at the high school auditorium to hear the opening program of National WPA week.

R. N. Cluck, superintendent of schools, acted as master of ceremonies. Choral club and rhythm bands from east and west ward schools presented a musical program, after which Asa Skiles, president of the Cisco charity and welfare board, spoke concerning the work of that organization.

A skit was then given by members of the nursery school, a style show by the sewing room employees, and a skit by members of the hot lunch project.

C. S. Eldridge States Platform in Judge's Race

Following is the formal statement of C. S. Eldridge, candidate for county judge, concerning his platform on which he seeks election, subject to the action of the democratic voters in primaries this summer:

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

First, I wish to express my profoundest gratitude for the many favors you people have granted me. It has been my constant desire to do every walk of life with it and to maintain Christian dignity acceptable to all alike. There is in every true citizen's life certain desires prompted by ambitions to serve and to profit. I again wish to serve the people of this county but in a greater capacity than ever before; that of county judge

In making this announcement, I wish to state a brief history of myself: We came to this county 27 years ago. My parents reared us seven children on rented land near Gorman. I attended Old Grandview school and Hopkins Normal college. I started teaching in 1911. From the puny salary while teaching, I paid all but six dollars of the expense of going to H. N. C. This six dollars I paid with money earned on the battlefields in France.

I resigned my school at New Hope, December 11, 1917, enlisted Dec. 13, 1917, and was honorably discharged March 28, 1919. I married Mae Beatty, September 3, 1921. We have two of the finest children in the world. Billie, who is 17 and in Ranger Junior college. She is doing her part on the farm to help dad to help her. June, our boy, is only six and care free. As you know, I served as county superintendent for one term from 1924 to 1925, and I gladly refer you to my record as such. You also know that I have had more than 25 years experience in school affairs in this county. I taught the past term at Center Point. I'm not tired of teaching just want something better. I am what you call a self-made man. Father was not able to send me to school so I just went after an education and by hard labor and determination and experience I'm sure I am as well or better qualified to be judge as any man in the race. It is my desire to state clearly to the voters the things I stand for. The Bible says, "We will have the poor with us always." (and I know what it is to be poor). I shall put forth every ounce of energy in me to get for this county all that can be gotten.

Maximum Aids

I supported every project that came under my jurisdiction, while I was county superintendent; not one penny escaped my attention. I want you to know that the records show that Eastland county received the maximum aids, both federal and state while I was county superintendent. I very seriously doubt if there is any person who likes the present economic set up nationally but the powers that be seem to be stalled on working out something better. It shall be my constant effort, if elected, to work out something better but until that better is accomplished, I promise to do my dead level best to secure the limit in every instance. No one has a deeper sympathy for our aged fathers and mothers than I. Father and mother are gone, he went away eight years ago, mother four years ago. Not a penny pension did they ever get. Mrs. Beatty, Mrs. Eldridge's mother is living with us and has been for 14 years. All in the world she gets comes through or by us. It is a real pleasure to see after, and care for her, she is our mother, the only one we have left. It is only a part of Heaven to see after our loved aged.

I'm not seeking your sympathy. Here is the point I wish to make: I believe every person 65 years old and over should be paid a pension sufficient to provide a standard of living acceptable to average standards. I have an idea that $25 to $30 per month would do it. I believe that the old age pension law should be amended to read: All persons who reach the age of 65 years shall receive monthly not less than $25 per month and law to be administered by the various commissioners courts and county judges presiding as in all other duties coming under said courts. It is my candid belief that if the various states get behind the above law the national congress will do its part. If the congress should refuse to match it on a fifty-fifty basis then the state could make up the difference between the assistance law we now have and the above pension law. This would not have to be done for but two years. Congressmen are elected every two years. Until the congress acts on the above there will be irregularities but don't worry, congress will fall in line when the states and counties get busy.

Greatest Problem

New for taxation, our greatest problem. I have always thought the principle of reductions and penalties unfair and dangerous. If I am elected judge I shall propose to the commissioners a proportionate and systematic method of reduction on all delinquent taxes, but 100 per cent from current year on. I'm speaking of county tax only. The first thing I would propose is to cut off all penalties. Why penalize the poor for being poor. Here is an idea, I shall not be penny-wise and pound-foolish. So far as money to pay the old age pension: Get this; Texas manufactures annually nine billion gallons of gasoline, one billion of which Texans consume and pay a four cent tax per gallon. Why not reduce the four to a two cent rate and tax the full nine billion. That alone would raise one hundred eighty millions of dollars. Enough to take care of the needy, social security, teachers retirement, old age pensions and the various governmental agencies as well. Exempt homesteads up to five thousand dollars. If you don't exempt up to $5000 what kind of a home could a farmer live in if his land valued at $2800 and the exemption was $3000 instead of $5000.

Friends, we have been acting like mad people. Let's get our heads together and think. I am anxious to discuss the problems concerning the judge's office. It belongs to the people and should be filled to the benefit of all. If what I have said appeals to you, when I'm making my rounds campaigning I'll gladly discuss any problem concerning the duties to be done in the office with you. My friends, I am sure some of you will think I have covered more than is necessary for a can-

Texas Graduates Hear Youthful Minister June 2

AUSTIN, Texas, May 23.—Youth in the pulpit will face youth ready for cap and gown when 29-year-old Rev. Donald R. Elder, Houston minister, delivers the baccalaureate address to University of Texas graduates here June 2.

Youngest ever to receive the invitation, the Reverend Mr. Elder, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, will preach his sermon to 1,300 graduates.

As with the commencement exercises to be held June 3, the baccalaureate ceremonies will take place on the Main Building Terrace, E. C. H. Bantel, commencement chairman, said. Time for both services have been set at 7:45 o'clock Sunday and Monday evenings, Bantel said.

The Reverend Mr. Elder is a graduate of Wittenberg College, Ohio, and holds the bachelor of divinity degree from the Hamma Divinity School of the same college. After graduation, he served as pastor at Windsor, Ontario, Canada, and from there went to Houston.

"HE WOULD APPROVE OUR RECORD HERE!"

The rest of all Electric Service used in the average home today is no more than for light alone just one generation ago.

Something ought to be done about this!

Forty years ago there were few women who didn't know the back-breaking misery of doing a family washing over a tub and a washboard.

Today, few women have that experience.

What made the change? First of all, someone said, "Something ought to be done about it."

In those words you have the real slogan of America. Great inventions, great industries, great social benefits result from Americans' deep desire for better living. The electrical industry, for example, was founded by Thomas A. Edison, a man who spent his entire life looking for better ways to do certain things; and today the people of your electric company carry on in the Edison tradition. They belong to the great army of workers—engineers, scientists, linemen, managers and many others—who give the United States the finest, cheapest electric service in the world.

Yet they continue their tireless efforts to improve the quality of electric service and to reduce its cost.

Within the last fifteen years, these employees have done their work so well that this company has been able to cut the unit price of electricity just about in half. That means you can now use electric light, a radio, electric refrigerator, washing machine, vacuum cleaner and toaster for a total operating cost very little, if any, higher than you used to pay for light alone.

The aim of your electric company's employees is always to give you better service at less cost. Foremost in their minds is the thought, "Something ought to be done about it."

DISTRICT ELECTIONS TO SATURDAY

of more than 3,000 farm men and women of the county are eligible to vote in the election Saturday. The election districts shall be determined whether soil conservation districts are to be set up according to County Judge V. Cook, who made the determination after checking available records of landowners in the county. Every possible effort is being made to encourage landowners to vote and their ways to vote are being explained in the election districts, including wives of landowners, who live within a district and whose land is in the same district are being urged to vote in the elections. Provided they are qualified under the election laws.

school district, and that voting places are as follows:

Dublin-Comanche-Eastland district: Eastland, justice of peace office; Ranger, city hall; Carbon, Carbon Trading Co.; Scranton, Scranton school; Gorman, Gorman Progress office; Cisco, city hall; Rising Star, city hall; Desdemona, city hall; Pioneer, A. C. Fore store. Palo Pinto district: Voting places are Mountain school house; Ranger, Young school, and Tudor school.

The state soil conservation act provides that soil conservation districts be set up and run by landowners and not by any other agency. The supervisors who run the district are landowning farmers or ranchers who are elected by landowners. Out of 37 similar acts that have been passed by as many states, the Texas act is the only one providing that landowners have full supervision of operations.

If landowners in any proposed district vote in favor of a district by a two to one majority, the district becomes a reality and the supervisors of the district can call on all government agencies for aid in planning conservation work. Other states that have had soil conservation districts organized for several months have set up WPA labor projects and are using such labor in soil conservation work, with the cooperation of landowners.

With the cooperation of the soil conservation service and extension service, plans are under way to set up some demonstration farms in Eastland county, where in complete plans for soil and water conservation will be worked out jointly with the landowners.

NYA Supervisors Meet at Ranger

RANGER, May 23 (Spe)—A two-day National Youth administration shop supervisors meeting was conducted in Ranger Friday and Saturday, with shop men from Fort Worth to New Mexico being present. The meetings were conducted in the NYA shops. Principal speakers included Ed L. Williams, head of the industrial education department of Texas A. & M. college, and George Johnson, state architect of the NYA.

Shop supervisors present at the meeting included Ernest L. Moody of Ballinger; James A. Cowart; Snyder; Earl R. Riley, Coleman; Johnnie Williams, Childress; Ralph W. Douglas, Lubbock; Y. R. Panks, Lamesa; Frank Powell, Abilene; Fred L. Weaver, Vernon; J. H. McLaughlin, Jr., Ranger; Guy Laney, Bowie; Haskell Baker, Fort Worth; J. C. Forrester, El Paso; R. L. Sitton, Wichita Falls; G. L. Charles, Sweetwater; John Cate, Vernon, and A. J. Gambelin, Amarillo.

NYA officials, who are not shop supervisors, and who attended the two-day meeting, included Jamie Wray, district shop supervisor of San Angelo; Ed L. Williams, head of the department of industrial education, A. & M. college; Travis J. Lewis, field supervisor; H. A. ### Today's War Map In European Armageddon

The heavy broken line in this war map shows the main German advances; nazi motorized detachments are located by the light line. The white spaces, such as the one around Cambrai indicate areas within the German occupied territory which are still held by the Allied forces.

Nazis Retake--

Somme and Aisne rivers checked, at least for the time being, the twin German drive on the English channel and Paris. The night communique of the French high command reported no developments, except that the battle continued in northern France and Belgium, but the war ministry spokesman declared: "Our troops are holding the German push at all points." Against the masses of allied infantry spread west across the river valleys and north along the coastal plain, the Germans were reported to have sent ahead only light scouting forces during the day. Allied counterattacks against the German advance guards accounted for retaking of control in Arras and Abbeville. Although some German scouts were acknowledged to have driven deep into French lines, the war ministry's spokesman said the main contact remained along the Somme and Aisne rivers and the Escaut (Scheldt), running las, requiring ten days to make the trip.

Mansker Lake was located on the Stephenville-Fort Griffin road, where traffic was pretty lively. Travel then mostly consisted of buffalo hunters, who replenished their supplies from the Scott & Freeman country store. At that time buffaloes in the counties west and north of Eastland were plentiful and hunting these animals for their hides was profitable.

The Scott & Freeman store was the postoffice, and Judge Scott was appointed one of the first postmasters of Eastland county.

Reminiscing on those days, Judge Scott relates many interesting incidents, which accentuate his retentive memory. His mind has not become dormant nor his memory dulled by having approached within hailing distance of the 85th mile post in the journey of life. Rather, his age has but ripened him, both in mind and body as his stature is erect, his step elastic, and his smile is just as pleasant when meeting old friends as was the case in his younger days.

"While living in Mansker Lake, and serving that area as postmaster, it was a great event to those people to come to the stor and see the mail come in," he said. "They came from all over this section, and many came who never received any mail, or expected to receive any. The mail was carried then by the 'pony express,' from Stephenville to Flannagan's ranch, until the county seat was located at Eastland, after which it was extended to that place.

Expressing his sentiments regarding this section, and how he liked fronting he said:

"If I could return to 20 years of age, and could find a country just like I found Eastland county, I would make that country my home. The days I spent at Mansker Lake, I think, were the happiest of my life."

From Mansker lake Judge Scott located in Eastland in 1880 when he accepted the job of deputy sheriff under Col. G. W. Shannon, who preceded Jim Schmick, and continued in the sheriff's office when Schmick was elected. During that time he studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1887. He was elected county judge in 1888, served four years, and at the expiration of his second term entered actively in the practice of law with the late H. P. Brelsford, which partnership existed until Brelsford's death, even after he removed to Cisco in 1899, as the Cisco member of the firm. He has made Cisco his home until this day, and no doubt will spend the remainder of his life here, where he is beloved by everyone who knows him.

Work Started On Deep Test Near Cisco

Goover and Rose and Jones and Stanley of Albany are moving in for a deep test on their 3,000-acre block of leases four miles southwest of Cisco.

The well, contracted to 3,500 feet, will test what is known as the McCuskey sand. Location is on the C. W. McElreath land, which is the southwest quarter of section 104, Block 3, H&TC survey.

Companies and operators participating in support of this important Cisco deep test were announced as follows:

Danciger Oil & Refining Co., Fort Worth; Gilcrease Oil Co., San Antonio; Esso Oil Co., Enid, Okla.; Charles J. Kleiner, Chebo; Paul Steed and G. Rice, Dallas; B. C. Manton, R. H. Boark and T. F. Oliver, Waco; Guy McNamara, San Antonio, and L. F. Hooker, Albany.

A Good Lawyer, A Good Man, A Good Citizen

It used to be charged against the legal profession that it was dishonest and designing, given more to craft than to conscientious service. The stigma did not persist, because it was not deserved, and because the feeling was not against the profession but against certain elements therein as much represented by the great body of the membership as by the laymen wronged, and always effectively purged.

If there was needed any special testimony of the regard which the legal profession has for good character, personal integrity and conscientious devotion to its duty of serving society, such an evidence is locally supplied today as the Eastland County Bar association prepares to honor the dean of the profession in the county, Dallas Kimberlin Scott of Cisco, at a dinner at the Connellee hotel in Eastland this evening.

It is the candid and happy opinion of this newspaper that this will be one tribute whose honor will not be begrudged its testimony of esteem. It is also the candid and happy opinion of this newspaper that no tribute has been more deserved.

It is not, we think, so much to the special honor of Judge Scott that he is being thus saluted, but it is rather to the distinction of the membership of the county bar that it so well and publicly regards the qualities which mark the character and history of the veteran Cisco attorney, qualities which so well demonstrate that professional success can go hand in hand with nobility.

ALTHOUGH he is not a native of the county, Judge Scott is peculiarly a product of Eastland county and the frontier from which this county developed. The influences of the early life of this section, fraught with hardship, and even peril, were too severe for many men and women. In others they produced high character. Judge Scott is an example. The virility of his younger life survives to keep him physically and mentally alert. A genuine tolerance of mind has enabled him to keep pace with the changing times, keenly appreciative of the new and responsive to its challenges. How fortunate is the man who can, with Browning, find youth and adventure in the passing years. Judge Scott seems to have done that. The Daily Press joins the members of the Eastland County Bar association today in saluting him.

Secretary Edison compares this defense business to a poker game. That flush, then, will not be in a high hand, but on Uncle Sam's face as he is told his army and navy are a bit under par.

President Roosevelt denies he remembers telling a delegation of Iowans he would not seek a third term. One can's way of clearing up a confusing point.

Under the Courthouse Roof

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH DISTRICT COURT
(Judge Patterson, Presiding)
The dockets in the district clerk's office show no new cases were filed last week for litigation in either the 88th or 91st court.

Judgments and Orders
Judge Patterson issued the following orders in the 88th court during last week:
State vs. Clinton Short, driving while intoxicated. Guilty, and assessed at $100 fine, five days in jail and driver's license revoked for six months.

State vs. David Hunt, car theft; George Ryan, drunk driving; Will Foster, drunk driving, each continued on motion of defendants.

THE NINETY-FIRST DISTRICT COURT
(Judge Davenport, Presiding)

Judgments and Orders
The following orders were handed down by Judge Davenport in the 91st court last week:
Virgil Woods vs. Chester Woods, divorce. Transferred to 88th court.

Jack S. Brown vs. Coca Cola Bottling Co., damages. Judgment for plaintiff by agreement, in which damages were assessed at $87.50, which agreed judgment was confirmed by the court.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THE COUNTY COURT
(W. S. Adamson, Judge; R. V. Galloway, Clerk)

Cases Pending
The following cases are pending in the county court:
O. T. Shell vs. Walter Hoover, note and foreclosure of lien. Eastland National bank vs. M. E. Lawrence, note (two cases). L. R. Burnside vs. J. T. Watts, note and foreclosure of lien. Vernon Law Book Co. vs. Olney S. Black, debt. John Eubanks et al vs. Tom Eubanks, injunction.

Judge Adamson ordered a special jury summoned for service next week, beginning Monday, May 27, when several county court criminal matters are scheduled for hearing. The personnel of the jury is composed of the following: Eastland: L. A. Harbin, J. B. Caudle, George Lasater, A. K. Garrett, Wiley Harbin.

Cisco: Carlton Holder, Blair Clark, Jack Elkins, J. H. Latson, Carbon: J. E. Gilbert, J. M. Turman, Claude Black. Ranger: J. C. Carrothers, O. G. Lanier, J. R. Duggan. Dothan: J. B. Coats. Gorman: A. A. Craighead. Minnedo: Oscar Schaefer.

in the first World war. The records in Rip Galloway's office show that less than a dozen couples have been issued marriage permits during the past three weeks. There were only five couples applying for license to wed last week. These were:
G. O. Leonard and Jo Nell Underwood, Sipe Springs.
Steve Nathan Foster and Billie Louise Erwin.

A. V. Curtis and Helen Burleson, Baird.
B. E. Poe and Dortha Ridling, Matters in Probate

The following business was had in the probate court last week:
John Eubanks, petition for letters of guardianship of Tom Eubanks, incompetent. Petition approved, letters issued, oath and bond filed and approved with W. M. Boggs, H. D. White and E. M. Porter as sureties.
Jettie Anita Dishroon, guardian of Lewis Stephen Work, minor, application to sell real estate, approved and citation issued for hearing May 20.

Ante-Dated Births
All proceedings in the court house were light during the past week. No new cases were filed in the district courts, the county clerk's business was small, the sheriff's force was idle, even the stork was on a strike during the past week, as no new births were reported. Only the county court manifested any degree of activity, with enough misdemeanor cases pending to demand a jury. However, the adult people, who have neglected to record their birth dates were busy. Those of this class filing last week were:
Frances, daughter of W. P. Coldwell and wife, Cisco, born Dec. 25, 1911. Charles Hallers, son of W. P. Coldwell and wife, Cisco, born Dec. 9, 1909. Billye J., son of J. L. Turner and wife, Eastland, born June 2, 1920. Layne W., son of J. L. Turner and wife, Eastland, born Oct. 8, 1913. Myrtle R., daughter of M. B. Gerdes and wife, Ranger, born Nov. 20, 1896. James L., son of W. H. Turner and wife, Eastland, born Aug. 6, 1921. Charlie Cole, son of W. L. VanGeem and wife, Eastland, born Oct. 19, 1918. Minnie Susie, daughter of J. M. Jaco and wife, Cisco, born April 23, 1901. John William, son of L. B. Wright and wife, Camden, born Nov. 2, 1923. William Earl, son of W. A. Lane and wife, Gorman, born Oct. 5, 1899. Marvin Henry, son of C. L. Perkins and wife, Eastland, born Aug. 18, 1882.

Comparative Oil Production
C. H. O'Brien, tax assessor-collector, in the course of official duties, has compiled a comparative estimate of oil production in Eastland county for the first quarter of 1939 and 1940.

O'Brien's figures, which were compiled from the tax rolls of the county, show there was produced during the first three months of 1939, 244,287.54 barrels; for the first quarter of 1940, there was produced 232,507.64, a decrease of only 11,779.64 barrels.

While his figures are not yet complete, as to the number of wells in Eastland county, his estimate is that there are approximately 500, with 64 operators producing oil in Eastland county.

No figures of the estimate of gas production is included in the above figures.

About one-quarter of the entire output of maple sirup in New York and Vermont goes into treatment of tobacco to give it sweetness and flavor.

They Watch While Tempus Fugit

DENVER, May 23 (AP)—John Haynes, ninth grade teacher, has what he says is a sure remedy for students who sleep, dawdle or waste time in classes.

He requests them to stay one hour after school and forces them to sit squarely in front of a clock and watch it constantly as each second flows by.

It is particularly effective, says Haynes, in the springtime when the classroom window is open, birds sing and the air is balmy and classmates laugh and shout at each other as they romp on the school grounds.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Annual Meeting in Oklahoma City

For the first time in the history of the Boy Scouts of America the annual meeting of the national council was held in Region No. 9. All sessions were held at the Skirvin hotel with President Walter Head, presiding. Such notables present at Daniel Carter Beard, national scout commissioner, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Marshall Field, John Schiff and others. The following men gave the main addresses: Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas, "America's Call to Leaders of Youth"; Dr. J. Reuben Clark, Jr., Salt Lake City Utah, "Loyal Citizenship, Scouting's Opportunity"; Dr. Frank P. Graham, Chapel Hill, N. C., "Building an American."

O. E. Wiesebrunner, scout commissioner of the Comanche-Trial council, was the alternative for Grady Pipkin as national council representative, and participated in all official meetings. G. N. Quin, scout executive accompanied Mr. Wiesebrunner in this meeting.

Sea Scout Regatta

The Sea Scout regatta for Sea Scouts of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, will be held at Eagle Mountain lake, Fort Worth, June 9 through the 15. Members and officers of the Sea Scout ship "Texan" of Breckenridge will go to the lake on the 9th and will be there to participate during the entire time. Russell B. Jones, president of the council, is also skipper of this ship.

Paw-Wow

Junior assistant scoutmaster, senior patrol leaders, and patrol leaders were in attendance at the central district Paw-Wow for scouts held Tuesday night, May 21, in the Parish house of the Episcopal church, Brownwood. This meeting was well attended and those present were given a training course during the evening. A meal was served preceding the training course.

New Troop

The new troop sponsored by the First Methodist church of Brownwood has the following officers: Robert A. Snodgrass, scoutmaster; Jack Carwell, assistant scoutmaster; D. G. Head, assistant scoutmaster; and Robert D. Gibbs, assistant scoutmaster; David H. Renley, chairman troop committee; L. P. Greer, Fred A. Carpenter and Tex C. Worsham, members of the troop committee.

Comp Billy Gibbons

Completion of plans for the annual summer camp for the Comanche-Trial council to be held July 9-16, July 16-23, will be worked out soon at which time all staff members will be announced.

Safety Shorts From America's Traffic TOLL IS CLIMBING!

In March 2,440 persons rode or walked to their death—the sixth consecutive month that fatalities increased over the same six months the year before. And the vacation months, with their heavy travel, lie just ahead! The Oil Belt Safety Council says that only through greater care by every driver and pedestrian in the United States can the death toll be started downward again. Won't you do your part?

WITH SUMMER just around the corner, it won't be long until a lot of you will be using boats for pleasure and fishing. The Oil Belt Safety Council points out that every year many drownings are caused by careless or improper handling of boats. Boats are made to float. When treated with respect, they are perfectly safe. Don't overload a boat. Keep the weight evenly distributed. Never stand up or change seats while out on the water. And never rock the boat. If the boat overturns, hang on until help comes.

WAR ECONOMY, NO DOUBT BERLIN, May 23 (AP)—Efficient Germans have cut the official greeting, "Heil Hitler," down to its barest essentials. Quite a few still say both words strongly. Others have trimmed it simply to "Hitler." But the bulk of casual greetings are simply "Hei."

In high altitudes snow frequently turns red and gives off an odor similar to ripe watermelon when crushed underneath. This is due to a growth of vegetable life, algae spirilla, on snow at altitudes of 12,000 feet or more.

DANGER

SERIAL STORY — ROMANCE AHEAD

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS MONNIE MILES — her mania for fast driving almost wrecked her romance.

LARRY COLLINS — newspaper reporter, hunting for the murderers of his brothers.

MIKE BENTLEY — wealthy rancher, knew too much about auto accidents.

YESTERDAY: Barnes clashes with Bentley over the gate, but agrees to put it in when Monnie insists. Bentley makes disparaging remarks about Larry, but Collins takes it rather than make a scene. The next day he goes to town, stops at the newspaper office.

CHAPTER VI The weeks hurried by. Larry swung into the work on the ranch, nursed his aches in silence, and was rewarded by Barnes' approval and increasing friendship.

Monnie and the Colonel were more friendly toward him, too. Both of them rode with the men during spring roundup and branding and Larry was surprised at the way the girl worked. She rode as well as any man, could cut a calf from a herd as skillfully as Barnes.

During branding, she cooked for the crew, then joined Larry in holding the herd while the others roped and dragged bawling calves up to the fires. It was hot, tiring work and Larry was glad when the last calf had a Hayhook branded on its hip and the cattle were headed out to summer pasturage.

He found Monnie riding beside him. All of the old animosity had disappeared. "Dad likes the way you handle cows and horses, too," she said. "He won't keep a hand who rides a horse too hard, or gets his cows excited. Says a fool cowboy can run more dollars out of cows than all the grass in the panhandle can put on it. I had you picked as a tenderfoot when you came here. Guess I was wrong." She laughed at the memory.

Larry liked to hear her laugh like that. "You were half right, Miss Monnie. I grew up on a horse, but I've been away from Texas for a while." "What brought you back?" "Sand in my boots, I guess. Can't be happy any place else. I quit my job and came home. I was lucky when you almost ran into me."

"When you crashed a stop sign—" "My fault, I know. I asked about you, decided I'd hit your Dad for a job."

"But you're no ordinary cowpoke, Larry." Her glance swept over him from heel to hat, approvingly. "You're different. You're educated—" "Half the cowmen in the county have college degrees," he countered. "But they're sons of ranchers, not $30 per hands. You— You— Oh, there's Mike!" She swung her hat at a horseman riding toward the herd. "So long, Larry, see you later."

She wheeled her horse, skirted the herd at a run. Larry watched her go, hating Bentley. The wind whipped her black hair from under her sombrero, flattered her shirt against her slim figure. She sat a saddle as if she were part of the horse.

"Bentley—he would have to come down here." He turned to pick up a straggler. "Get along, you—"

Larry felt like a new man after he had washed off the trail dust, changed clothes. He waited until twilight, then walked to the ranch-house. Monnie was alone on the porch, crisp and summery in white. She looked as if she were dressed for a party. Larry stopped at the railing.

"There's a dance in town tonight. Some radio band. Would you like to go?"

"I'm sorry you didn't ask me sooner, Larry," she answered smilingly. "That's why Mike rode over to meet us today. He asked me to go with him."

"Okay, thanks. Maybe some other time," Larry started to leave but she stopped him. "Come in and talk until Mike comes, won't you? Dad's working on the books. I want to know more about your secret past. He did you know?"

"Power of the press." The words slipped out before Larry realized what he was saying. "Then you're a newspaperman. What are you doing here, getting atmosphere for a story?" If Monnie was angry because he had learned so much about it, she did not show it. Rather, she seemed pleased.

"Something like that. But you'll have to keep my secret for a while. It wouldn't do for the Colonel, or Barnes—or Bentley to find out who I am just yet," Larry cautioned, then asked: "Pete said something about you hitting a cow, getting hurt, Bentley saving your life. Power of the press didn't cover that. What did you do, hush that one up?"

"Why I never hit a cow in my life," Pete was just kidding." "No, he was serious," Larry persisted. "Said Bentley rushed you to the hospital. That's when— it to you, anyway? What are you Pete said—that's when Bentley fell in love with you."

"Pete's an old woman—talks too much. Besides, Mike—" "It couldn't have been the time the car went off the road up the canyon, could it?" Monnie shook her head, looked away. She seemed unusually disturbed by his question.

"I don't know anything about any accident on the canyon road," she answered, almost coldly. "But you do, Monnie, you do. You were there, you helped pull the dead man out of the burning car. You testified at the inquest Bentley testified at the same time—"

Monnie jumped to her feet, faced Larry. Anger darkened her face. "I told everything I knew about that—I don't know what you're talking about. Why should I know anything about— What's Even Pete doesn't know that—" "Don't interrupt— You roped in a rodeo, led two parades. You've had four automobile accidents and you testified at the coroner's inquest when this—this fellow was found dead in a burning car on the canyon road. . . ."

The Colonel's voice interrupted. "Monnie! Telephone for you!"

She was gone only a minute or two. "It was Mike. He won't be here until later. Something happened to delay him—one of the men got hurt—" she explained, then dismissed Bentley from her mind.

"Larry Collins, where did you find out all that about me? Some of it was in the papers, but not in any you could have seen. How did you know?"

"Power of the press." The words slipped out before Larry realized what he was saying. "Then you're a newspaperman. What are you doing here, getting atmosphere for a story?" If Monnie was angry because he had learned so much about it, she did not show it. Rather, she seemed pleased.

On Saturdays in good weather, a group of men in Franklinton, N. C., play marbles. The oldest player is 84.

Larry was standing beside her. His fingers bit into her shoulders as he turned her around to face him. We waited a second, searching her eyes, then spoke slowly, deliberately:

"I hope I can trust you, Monnie. You have to tell me all about that accident. I have to know. I have a right to know."

"Why?" "The man you helped pull from that burning car was my brother, Hugh Collins!"

Group Four With Mrs. Troy Powell Tuesday

Group Four of the First Christian Women's council met Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Troy Powell. The hostess presided and Mrs. Lonnie Shockley brought the devotional.

The need for new members in the group was emphasized at the meeting. Members of the church who belong to the group were urged to be more faithful in attendance, and visitors were extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Those attending the Tuesday meeting were Meses. Lonnie Shockley, C. C. Greenhaw, George Groseclose, Ace Lucas, Guy Ward, David Duncan, Miss Ethel Mae Wilson and the hostess, Mrs. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. LeClaire have returned to their home in Odessa after visiting Mrs. LeClaire's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Collins, for a few days.

A. D. Estes, Jr., of Brownwood transacted business here Wednesday.

Kokomo Boys Give Good Demonstrations

Jerrell Johnson, 4-H club boy in the Kokomo community, is making a very interesting demonstration with Nitrogen inoculation for peanuts. Part of his crop is inoculated and the remainder is not treated. He is keeping a careful record to see if seed inoculation will pay on his farm.

The nitrogen used in inoculating the seeds for one acre costs less than 10 cents," said Jerrell, "and the records show that on some farms it pays as well as fertilizer, so I believe it is worth trying."

A very complete and up to date record is being kept by J. D. Donaldson, Jr., 4-H club boy from Kokomo, on his swine demonstration. J. C. can show from a glance at his records, how much his sow has cost him, her increased value in the time he has kept her, and the net returns she is making.

Wayne Eaves, 4-H club boy from Kokomo, is making an outstanding demonstration in hog feeding, which was observed by A. C. Pratt in a recent visit to his farm. Working with the full cooperation of his father, Wayne is feeding his pig a balanced ration, while his father is feeding a pig from the same litter on corn and slop.

(Continued from Page One) and daring executions of the administration during periods of national political and economic emergency during the last seven years, that the president should now approach with an offer of compromise a program to which the nation's patriotic energies are so overwhelmingly dedicated.

But if he wishes compromise, he must do so himself. He must voluntarily establish the basis for coalition. He cannot expect the republicans to come all the way.

Recreation Project To Hold Open House

A formal open house program has been arranged for the Cisco Recreation project community center at 419 Avenue D tonight.

Activities in the center will be conducted as scheduled regardless of weather conditions and the main events are expected to begin at 6 p. m. today.

4-H Club Boys On Radio Program

Paul Gibson of the Eastland junior high 4-H club and Stuart Utley of the Lone Cedar club will present a radio program over station KRBC in Abilene, Wednesday, May 29, according to a statement made today by A. C. Pratt, assistant county agent of Eastland county.

This will be the fifth and last of a series of five broadcasts on 4-H club work in Eastland county that have been presented over station KRBC in May, in the farm and home forum program at 11:30 a. m.

Other 4-H club boys who have been on the programs are Raymond Beck and S. W. Laminack, Jr., of Morton Valley and Merle Roach of Rising Star. L. R. Higginbotham, club leader of the Kokomo 4-H club, told how Kokomo won the distinction of being the best 4-H club in Texas for two successive years, in one of the radio programs.

The Christian Endeavor society was founded in Portland, Me., in 1881.

Outstanding Club Boys To Receive Trip

Two Eastland county 4-H club boys will win a 3,500-mile trip through the corn belt this summer, according to the announcement made this week by A. C. Pratt, assistant agent of Eastland county. The winners of this trip will be selected according to their demonstrations made in 1932, or demonstrations begun in 1932 and completed in 1933. In addition to their demonstration work, the boys' participation in 4-H club work and his general character will be considered. Competent judges will be used to select the winners.

The main purpose of the trip will be educational and it is expected that some of the best known feed lots of that section will be visited.

County agents who will accompany the boys on the trip are Elmo V. Cook, F. N. Newsom, R. F. McSwain, G. D. Everett and J. C. Shockey. The boys from the 13 counties in this district will assemble in Coleman at noon on August 3, and leave from that city.

Other officers elected today are O. L. Stamey, first vice president; Joe Lea Moore, second vice president; Carlos Turner, secretary; J. T. Egan, treasurer; C. M. Nevill, lion tamer; Chief Brown, tail twister; Droel Looney, assistant tail twister; Roy Tuggle, song leader; Martha Jo Pass, pianist; R. W. McCauley and Smith Huestis, directors.

Jackson, Tuttle, Jack Anderson and Stamey are delegates to the district convention at Sweetwater, and Jackson was named delegate to the international convention at Havana, Cuba.

W. J. Leach was program manager for the day, presented Butler of the Cisco Daily Press a talk on the war in Europe and Rev. Wilson of Quamam Park on Indian conditions.

T. G. Caudie, Cisco agriculture teacher, owners in the club to be proposed soil conservators, to be voted on today, and to vote in the afternoon.

He supplied pamphlets on the projects.
