Catoe quits city post

City Manager Paul Catoe tendered his resignation Monday night at the regular meeting of the City Board of Aldermen.

After meeting in a short executive session, the aldermen "regretfully" accepted Catoe's resignation, which will be effective June 13.

Catoe has been city manager since replacing Garnett Holland in 1981, and said Monday he did not have any other immediate plans.

"We appreciate the work Paul has done for the city," Mayor Wayne Collins said Monday. Collins said the city will start seeking applications "soon" for the post, but did not indicate when a successor to Catoe might be hired.

Catoe is the second member of the administrative staff to quit this month. Fire Marshal Steve Jameson submitted his resignation at the May 5 meeting of the aldermen.

In other business at Monday's meeting, several Dimmitt electrical contractors met with the board about reinstating electrical licensing in the city and re-establishing boards to govern plumbing, electrical and mechanical contractors.

The ordinance calling for electrical licensing by the city was abolished in 1982, and aldermen said Monday the abolishment was brought on by abuses of power by board members, all local electrical contractors.

"I'm not in favor of restricting competition," said Collins. "I don't think we want the same system as before because we could have the same abuses as before."

"We have so many fly-by-night people who come in here," said local contractor Danny Newton. "They say they're electricians, or plumbers, or mechanical contractors, and we run into a lot of things that are wrong. They throw in any kind of wiring they want to throw in."

"We could combine the boards for electrical, plumbing and mechanical contractors into one board," said Jerry McGuire, another local contractor. "This is set up for safety—it's for the public health and safety, the general welfare of the city. It would insure inspection of all work, and would have to be up to minimum standards."

Catoe and the local contractors will examine ordinances and licensing requirements of other area cities and will report back to the aldermen at the June 2 meeting with a recommendation.

The board also met with Ben Scott concerning the city farm northwest of the city, and told Scott the city will be unable to help with expenses for dredging a tailwater pit on the farm, which Scott and Steve McGavock, of Plainview, lease rent-free from the city in return for keeping water pumped out of the city's playa lake at the wastewater treatment plant.

The aldermen also honored Dorothy Stone and Dolores Baldrige as Employees of the Month for April and May.

Cemetery Association to meet Monday

The annual membership meeting of the Dimmitt Cemetery Association will be held at Castro Memorial Gardens Monday at 10 a.m.

Two directors will be elected for the association, and all members are urged to attend.

Trail dust from the Texas Wagon Train:

"It was great to see all the people from Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth working together and—just as important—having fun together," Martha Jo Hyman said.

"I think the biggest thing that came out of the whole deal was Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth working together," Delores Heller said. "The county-wide spirit was impressive."

The Wagon Train was one of the most photogenic events we've ever had here. Thursday was the busiest single day that Killingsworth's KIS Photo Service has ever had, (including Christmastime). The lab has processed more than 100 rolls of color prints of the Wagon Train so far.

Although we didn't serve the 3,000 that we had prepared for at the outdoor campsite dinner, we had a good turnout. I was dishing up beans at one of the serving tables next to Supt. Robert Ryan, who's as good as any preacher or coach at sizing up a crowd. He started serving double portions of meat right away.

"One thing I heard several times was that the food here was the best they had had," Delores Heller said. "Levelland's food came close, they said."

I imagine the anticipated crowd figure kept a lot of local people away from the dinner. However, there was never a waiting line.

Postmaster Bill Sava cancelled hundreds and hundreds of Texas Republic commemorative stamps with the special Wagon Train/Dimmitt cancellation design last Wednesday. But then came a situation that he hadn't anticipated: many of the Wagon

Rains too late to help wheat

Wetter, sweater weather rolled into the county Saturday, dumping from half-an-inch to over one inch of rain in the county, and dropping temperatures by over 50° from where they had been previously in the week.

The official weather station for the county at KDHN, north of Dimmitt, recorded .65 inches of precipitation, which included a one-hour sleet storm at midday Saturday. Observers said the official high Saturday was 43 degrees, with the low dropping to 37 early Sunday morning.

"The rain was super," said County Agent Seth Ralston. "This was, basically, the first county-wide appreciable rain we've had since last October. I've heard reports from ¾ to 1 inch county wide.

"It was really most beneficial to the cotton that was pre-watered and just came up, but most of the dryland cotton farmers need more moisture before they can plant. The cold temperatures weren't a setback for the cotton because it didn't stay cold very long—if we had stayed that cold for a week it would have really hurt, but the soil

Menchaca, Nazareth teams win state crowns

The county's list of gold-medal winners swelled over the weekend as five athletes from Nazareth and Hart brought home first-place finishes from the State UIL track and tennis meets in Austin.

Tammy Menchaca, who picked up the gold medal in the 3,200 meters, finished third in the 1,600 meters as well, while Hart's Risha Ammons, in girls' singles, and Martin and Andy Castillo, in boys' doubles, picked up bronze medals.

Both of Nazareth's doubles teams, Mona Heiman-Traci Hill and Todd Hill-Kenny Kern, grabbed gold medals at the rain-soaked meet in Austin. For Heiman, it was her third-straight championship.

MONA HEIMAN, COACH SANDY OLIVER AND TRACI HILL

... For Heiman, it was her third-straight state championship in girls' doubles.

STATE CHAMPIONS

... Todd Hill, Coach Sandy Oliver and Kenny Kern survived three-hour finals match for gold medals.

The tennis was more heavily handicapped by the wet weather than the track portion of the state meet. The tennis meet was originally scheduled for two matches on Friday with the finals at noon Saturday, but turned into a one-match-a-day meet, with the finals moved to noon Sunday.

"It was a little different this year because we were sitting around a lot and waiting for it to quit raining," said NHS Coach Sandy Oliver. "The situation was out of our control. We thought we were going to play the finals matches Saturday night, but I'm glad we couldn't because the kids were mentally tired from sitting around and waiting. They were sitting in the van, and I was in the pro shop for 4½ hours before they decided to postpone. I'm glad they made the decision not to play until Sunday."

"The weather didn't hurt while we were playing," said HHS Coach Cindy Davis. "It hurt us while we were just sitting around and waiting and waiting and waiting, then the matches being postponed. That hurt because we were on edge and ready to play."

While the weather didn't help Menchaca, it sure didn't hurt, as she set a new personal record in the 3,200. She was hoping to break 12 minutes, and edged up almost breaking 11:30 as she romped to a 15-second win in 11:36.4.

"We got a big break from the weather because they had to run everything together on Saturday," said HHS Coach Mark Albin. "She would have run the 3,200 at 6 p.m. and the 1,600 at 9 p.m. if everything had been on the original schedule, but because they didn't start anything until 6 p.m. Saturday, she didn't run the mile until almost 1:30 p.m. Saturday—the track meet wasn't over until about 1:30 a.m. Sunday."

"It was the perfect climate for a distance runner, and she cut 30 seconds off her previous

On the Go

with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Bettye Huckabay had a big birthday—number purposely omitted. Friends shared the fun part with lunch out at El Sombrero and a night party. She tried to wear every gift she received out of the restaurant back to work and nearly succeeded.

Barry Love treated wife, Stefanie, to a special anniversary celebration by taking her to Santa Fe, one of her favorite spots. They shopped and ate and visited tourist sites.

Bill and Deanne Clark visited Carl King at St. Mary's Hospital before Deanne went to Dallas to visit children for a few days. He was his usual talkative self with new interest in talking "surgery" and showing "test" photos.

Tina Rawlings' daughter, Patsy, from Midland was in Dimmitt last week visiting Tina and Carolyn Jones. Tina had a tea party and had friends come by for goodies and visiting.

Marguerite and Laurence McLain escorted Laurence's aunt Saturday evening to Plainview where she was honored as "Pioneer Woman of the Year."

Joyce and Joe King drove to Colorado over Mother's Day to visit their daughter and family. Joe commented over the drought that is evident in that area.

The Charles Waleses went to College Station for Tim's graduation and the Monty Boozers and the George Sideses attended Robert's graduation exercises at Tarleton over the weekend.

Mrs. Nettie Graham and Jackie Ramos had special guests in their home a few days last week. Mrs. Graham's daughter, Jean Kemp and granddaughter, Carla Thompson and baby girl from Fort Worth were here. Several friends got together and went to the Hereford County Club for lunch on Friday. Those enjoying the food and fellowship were Jean Kemp, Carla Thompson, Sue Merritt, Shirley Stephens, Carole Dyer and Myrtle Lois Moran.

Last week was very exciting with the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train coming to Dimmitt.

Helen Richardson, Madge Robb, Teeny Bowden and I drove to Springlake to invite the teachers and school children traveling with the Wagon Train to come to Dimmitt. After they accepted the invitation they took a school bus early Wednesday morning to Springlake and brought the three teachers and 23 school children (ranging in ages from 5 to 18 years) to Dimmitt.

The group visited several historical markers and feedlots and ate lunch at the Senior Citizens Center. They enjoyed the meal there, because several asked for seconds. The menu consisted of roast beef, creamed potatoes and gravy, green beans, corn, cole slaw and apple cobbler.

After lunch the teachers and students toured the American Fructose Company and then they came to the Castro County Museum. As usual, the younger children enjoyed watching the goldfish in the tank, so I let the four kindergarten children feed the goldfish.

The teachers were Randy Russel from Gainesville, Anita Pitakford from Denton, and Cheyenne Weeks from Sanger. The children were from Gainesville, Gilmer, Dallas, Waxahachie, Longview, Hamilton, Greenville, New Boston, Fort Worth, Madill, Okla, and Arkadelphia, Ark.

One of the teachers, Anita Pitakford, had taught in a Ponder School. They played the Nazareth girls in basketball at the state playoffs in Austin so she wanted to see the town of Nazareth.

I think the Wagon Train families enjoyed the Dimmitt hospitality, the food and all the entertainment.

Rose Dobbins from Calvert, and traveling with the Wagon Train, spent a day at the Senior Citizens Center in Dimmitt after the Wagon Train drove to Hereford. She quilted, ate lunch there, and visited with some of the Dimmitt Senior Citizens. She and her husband have been on the Wagon Train since it started. Also the little 18-month-old girl has been on the Wagon Train all the time. Mrs. Dobbins said they had been served several different meals including box lunches, chili and beans, and, of course, the Mexican Fiesta that Dimmitt served.

Irene Bradley brought her company, Faith Bradley, from West Fork, Ark., to the museum. Weldon and Keith Bradley were riding in the Wagon Train and they had some trouble with their horses.

Edgar and Betty Dennis and their daughter, Debbie Underwood, will ride with the Wagon Train for a few days.

Marie Brockman, Magdalena Acker, Brigitta Dobmeier, and Lucille Drerup, all from Nazareth, came by the museum while they were waiting for the Wagon Train to come into Dimmitt.

Steve Henderson graduated from Texas A&M, on Friday, May 9, with a degree in mechanical engineering technology. He will be employed in Houston by Liberty Mutual Insurance Company as a safety engineering consultant. His wife is the former Deidre Craig and Steve is the son-in-law of Genell Craig of Dimmitt.

Cleo Forson was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Jo Gregory won high score and Virginia Crider won second high. Others playing were Jean Christian, Susie Reeves, Elizabeth Huckabay, Oleda Schumacher, Emily Clingingsmith and Alice Collyer.

I missed a couple of important events last Wednesday because I wanted to be in Dimmitt for the Wagon Train activities. The Dimmitt Book Club held their annual luncheon at the County Club in Hereford with Ina Cleavinger reviewing the book "Preposterous Papa." (I'm sorry I missed that!) Then my little great granddaughter, Adria Lankford, graduated from Kindergarten Wednesday night in Amarillo. The children wore their cap and gowns and participated in the program. Also Matt Lankford was in his three-year-old preschool program.

I spent the weekend in Amarillo with my daughter, Mary Lynn Lankford, and family. We had planned to attend the Wagon Train activities but since it rained all day Saturday we went to the mall instead. Some of Lauren's friends were posing as "Frozen Models" in a department store—so we went by and teased them into laughing!

A reception honoring the mothers of the FBC was held Sunday night after the evening services. Jennifer Miller was in charge of the program. Debra Ball directed her children's choir in several songs and Matt Sims played a couple of piano selections. Cindy Ellis served punch and cookies from a pretty table decorated in red with a beautiful centerpiece of red carnations by Dorothy Hopson. Among the guests were members of the Mexican Mission. The pastor's wife won the red carnation centerpiece.

The children of the late Mr. H. H. Cox held their family reunion in Amarillo over the weekend at the Fifth Season East. Relatives came in from Dallas, Henrietta, Dimmitt, and Amarillo, Texas and Colorado. Joyce Autry drove in from Rocky Ford, Colo. and the Dimmitt relatives were Irene Carpenter, Jim and Floyce George, Danny and Shelly Rice and children Tisha, Brandi, and Ramey. (Little Ramey stole the show!) They all visited and had a wonderful time. There were 32 in attendance.

The Rex Wootens (Rex, Darlene and Amy) were in Amarillo over the weekend to see the Wagon Train again.

Beral Hance had two visitors last week—her daughter-in-law

PLACIDITY

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee. Because he trusteth in thee." Isaiah 26:3

"The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." Phillipians 4:7

God has never promised life without trouble nor progress without striving. He has, however, promised that amid the tumult and strife He would give us an inner peace if we let Him live in our hearts.

Learn about this unusual peace offered to all freely.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

We Salute Small Business

This is National Small Business Week in America, and while it is one of many special weeks during the year, it is appropriate to pay tribute to the small businesses of our community because we all depend on them in one way or another.

Small business is as American as apple pie or the 4th of July. American history is full of examples of men and women who opened a business, using borrowed capital, and by working hard and managing their business, managed to achieve a degree of success with it.

Most large businesses in this country started out small... in the early days of this nation, people realized that they needed each other and together they established an exchange of goods and services. What one person made, another sold, and still another used. Thus individual free enterprise was born.

This nation has benefitted from the fact that small businesses can be opened without anyone having to secure approval from anyone else. A person who wants to go into business for himself is free to do so, although he will have to abide by a number of regulatory laws and restrictions that businessmen did not have a few generations ago.

Small business has changed, it is not the same in the '80s as it was in the '40s. The federal government has a larger role in the operation of small business today than it did a few decades ago. It costs more to operate a business these days and competition in just about every different phase of business is keener than ever before.

In the Dimmitt area, most small businesses are operated by men and women with roots in the community, people with a sincere desire to serve their friends and neighbors. Small businesses in Dimmitt are having a tough time right now and those businessmen and women who have managed to hang on need all the support we can give them.

A small business is an asset to any community and we are fortunate to have so many here.

On this special week, we salute all those who have had the courage and the fortitude to go into business for themselves and we appreciate the fine job they are doing for all of us.

14 - CARDS OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS
It is so wonderful to know just how many people care, but when you really need to know it makes it just that much more wonderful.

Candace received so many cards, presents, visits and all the wonderful prayers. Oh yes, there were so many balloons. We enjoyed everyone of them, and shared them one night with other children in the hospital. Isn't it grand the smiles a balloon can put on a child's face?

We are proud to say Candace is doing wonderful, thanks to wonderful doctors and great friends. A special thanks to Dr. Gary Hardee for finding the problem before it became a bigger problem. Thanks again for being so wonderful.

A very special thanks to Cody White for sharing his Brave Heart Lion.

We received many comments and thanks from the people on the Wagon Train about the hospitality of Castro County. What a great success.

Litterbags boast "Don't Mess With Texas" message

New Texas-sized litterbags sporting the 'DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS' message are available free at any of the State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation offices and all Texas Tourist Bureaus.

"Since it's cans and fast-food wrappers we find most among the litter along the highways, our new litterbags are large enough to accommodate those items," said Don Clark, spokesperson with the State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation.

The bags, which measure 12" x 18", are part of the department's efforts to reduce significantly the cost of picking up trash along the roadside. Last year, it cost Texas taxpayers $24 million to clean up the highways.

"Research indicates that states with active litterbag distribution, combined with strong public awareness programs, are making major progress in reducing visible, deliberate litter," Clark said.

"Most people say they litter because it's convenient. By making the larger bags available free, we want to make it more convenient for Texans to put the trash where it belongs instead of messing with Texas," said Clark.

Texas Tourist Bureaus are located in Amarillo, Anthony, Austin, Denison, Gainesville, Langtry, Laredo, Orange, Texarkana, Harlingen, Waskom and Wichita Falls. There are State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation offices throughout Texas, with at least one in most Texas counties.

DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS bumper stickers are also available free at the same locations.

Panhandle, visited Sunday.

The Methodists had their second Talent Show Sunday night. A good time was had by all as various groups sang and played instruments. The Kurlie Q's demonstrated square dancing, John Thomas provided magic tricks and the youth had a "special" contest. Terri and Lance Loudder moderated the "TV evening at home" in their robes and Terri in curlers. Cake was served and fellowship was spirited.

Marie Winders amused her neighbors this week by hastily leaving her garage—without raising her garage door.

Shirley Wise preached in Abernathy Sunday. She is District UMW president this year. Shirley Wise hosted her bridge club last week. She served frozen fruit salad, cake and hors d'oeuvre.

SQUARE DANCE TIPS

By Cyndy Reynolds

The Kurlie Q's danced around the campfire for the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train May 14. Sid Perkins and I called and we invited dancers from the Wagon Train to join us.

We really had a fun time. We would like to thank the Chamber of Commerce for allowing us to be a part of this memorable occasion.

Members of our club Ben and Erma Kennedy, Charlie and Mitzie Lemmons, Joe and Myrna Langford, Malcolm Reynolds and Toni Jones danced in the Methodist Church Talent Show Sunday night. I was calling and we had members from the choir join the fun! They did a really fine job.

How to Get Started

The accepted way, the easiest way, and most convenient way, is to take a series of lessons from one of the square dance teachers.

Your first few lessons will be taken up with learning the fundamental movements.

There are only 17 notes in the musical scales, but think of the many thousands of melodies and intricate concertos made up of these notes, merely by them being arranged in different sequences! So, too, with square dancing. There are only a comparatively few fundamental movements, but hundreds of beautiful dances result from only the different arrangement of these movements. That is why your teacher will drill you in these fundamentals. Do not be concerned about learning a particular dance. Once you acquire a facility in executing the fundamentals, you will be able to dance with ease any dance by any caller.

Learning to square dance is an enjoyable excursion into something new and different. After you have danced for years you will look back and recall with pleasure the time you spent so well.

Join the fun people! "Let's Square Dance."

We're saving a place for you. So come on out to 113 W. Bedford at 8 p.m. Monday.

Reunion with family is enjoyable experience for visiting Frenchman

"The most enjoyable experience of my stay here has been being reunited with my family and being able to help my brother out on the farm," says Karl Schoenenberger of France.

Karl, who is a native born Swiss, has been staying with Albert and Aurelia Schoenenberger on the couple's farm in the northeast part of Castro County.

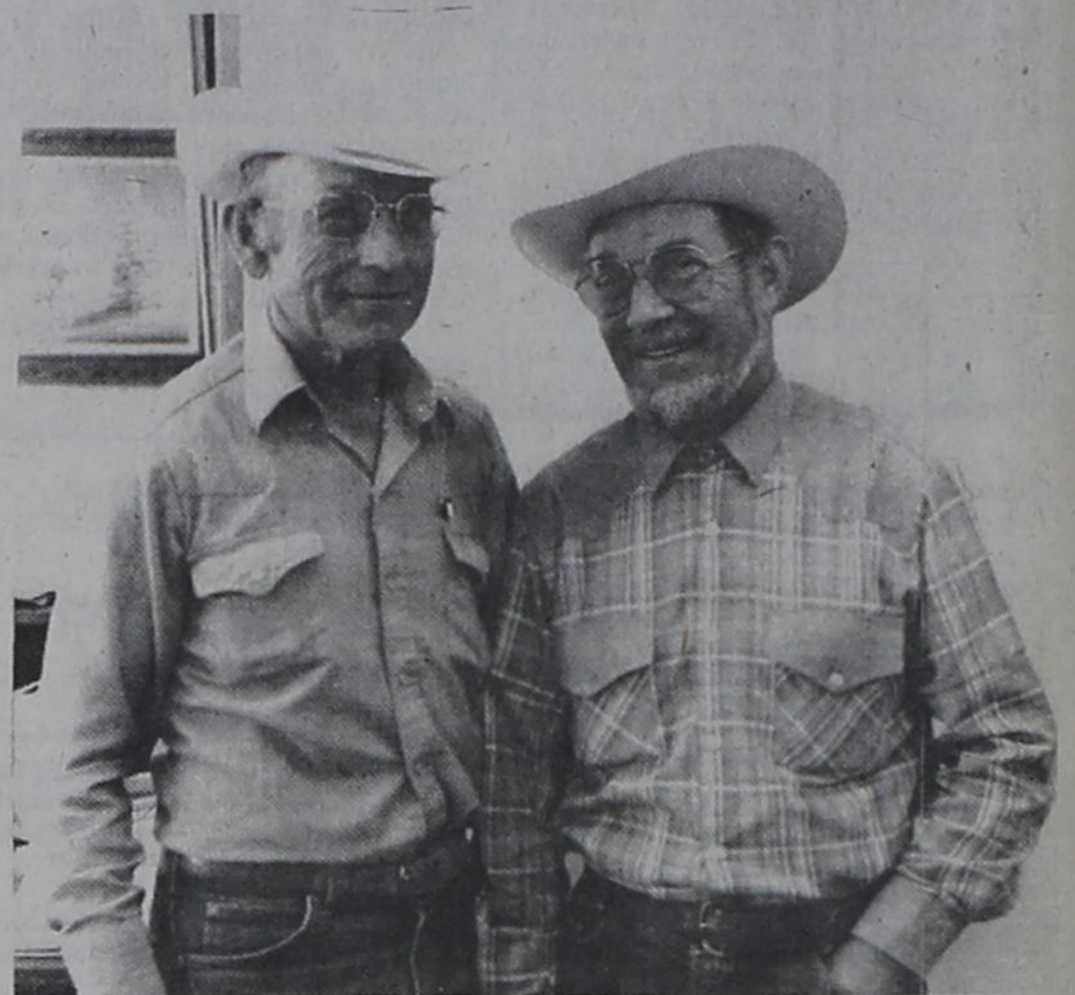

This is not his first trip to the United States. He toured parts of Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana in 1970 and 1974. He decided to return to the US to visit with his family after learning of the death of a sibling and an accident his brother, Albert, recently suffered.

Karl flew into Albuquerque April 25 and spent several days visiting with his sister, Mary Lee of Duran, N.M., before coming to visit Albert and his wife.

Since arriving in Castro County, Karl has remained busy helping his brother on the farm and meeting new people. He has learned several new farming techniques and has enjoyed learning how to operate the "big farm machinery."

"The farming is not entirely new to Karl," said Albert, who translated for the Frenchman. "He has worked on farms in Africa, but most of the farming techniques we use here as well as the big machinery was new to him. He especially enjoyed riding in the air-conditioned tractor."

"It is much cheaper to live here than it is in France," revealed Karl. "It takes 7.22 francs to equal one American dollar."

He also added that supermarkets and shopping malls he has found here are about the same as the ones in France.

Karl has enjoyed his stay here and has enjoyed meeting new people as well as visiting all his family.

"The people here are wonderful," exclaimed Karl. "They have welcomed me here with open arms."

Karl makes his home in the small town of Murviel-Les-Beziers, located in the southern part of France. The town, according to Albert, is about the size of Happy, and boasts 4,000 residents.

Karl is a retired construction worker. He was a member of the French Foreign Legion for 18 months and is also a veteran of the Vietnam War, serving from 1951 to 1958.

He lives with his wife, Françoise, who did not accompany him on this trip, but did tour the US with him in 1970 and 1974.

He will return to his home country of France June 6, but will be able to be reunited with other members of his family at a reunion in Amarillo.

High blood pressure risk can be reduced

An estimated two million Texans have high blood pressure to some degree, and, although no one is immune to high blood pressure, there are certain groups of people who are more at risk than others, said Danny Rice, president of the Castro County Division of the American Heart Association.

Some of the factors that determine a person's risk can be changed, such as being overweight, lack of exercise and too much salt in the diet. Other risk factors, such as age, race, sex and heredity, cannot be changed.

According to the AHA, age is an important factor. An estimated 68% of people 65 and over have high blood pressure.

"It's only natural that as we grow older our heart and blood vessels age and we become more susceptible to high blood pressure," said Rice. "But even those over 65 can make changes to help control it."

Rice said maintaining ideal body weight, exercising, reducing salt in the diet and avoiding excessive alcohol intake may help people of all ages reduce elevated pressure.

Avoiding smoking is also beneficial because the combination of smoking with other risk factors, such as blood pressure and a high level of cholesterol in the blood, greatly increases the risk of coronary heart disease. Severe emotional pressure can also aggravate high blood pressure for some people.

Rice said people with high blood pressure should consult with a doctor before making lifestyle changes, especially older adults who want to begin exercising.

Another risk factor for high blood pressure that cannot be changed is race—black Americans have a greater tendency toward high blood pressure than whites. According to recent estimates, in U.S. adults age 18-74, the high blood pressure prevalence rate is 33% for white males, 38% for black males, 25% for white females and 39% for black females.

Sex is also an unchangeable risk factor for high blood pressure. Generally, males are more susceptible to high blood pressure than females, but as women grow older their chances of having it may become greater than men's, especially after menopause.

For some women, taking oral contraceptive pills can increase blood pressure, especially for those who are overweight or have a history of high blood pressure in the family. Being pregnant may also cause temporary increases in blood pressure in some people.

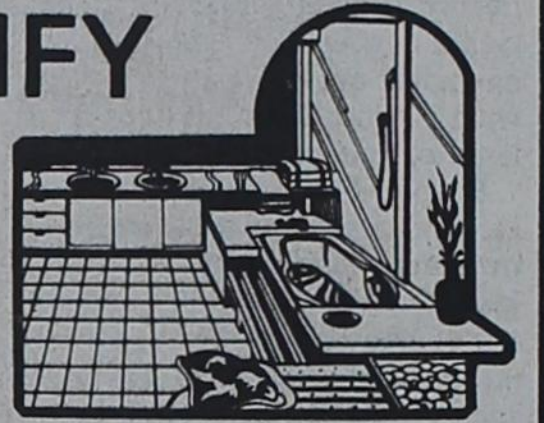

Heredity is another factor over which you have no control. Researchers report that if one or both parents have high blood pressure, their offspring may develop it. In fact, the more blood relatives you have with high blood pressure or other cardiovascular health problems such as strokes and heart attacks, the greater your chances of developing high blood pressure.

"Medical scientists still do not understand what causes high blood pressure, so we don't know why it hits certain risk groups," said Rice. "One thing is certain—high blood pressure has no symptoms or warning signs so the only way to definitely know you have it is to get it checked by a medical professional."

For more information about high blood pressure, contact your family doctor or the American Heart Association.

Genealogists buy 1910 census

As a Sesquicentennial project, the Castro County Genealogical Society has purchased the 1910 census of Castro County and donated the census to Rhoads Memorial Library.

"It is interesting," said Teeny Bowden of the group. "The population of the county was 1,841, with most of the population in the east-southeast part of the county."

"Precinct 1 had a population of 1,148; Precinct 2 had 130; Precinct 3 had 291; and Precinct 4 had 272. The census taking began April 15, 1910, with Charles F. Kerr and B. D. Woodlee serving as enumerators. You will have to read it for yourself, and it is interesting. It shows who lived with who, and who did what."

Contel exploring phone-porn deletion

Dear Editor:

The concern expressed relative to the 900 "dial it" service and more specifically "Dial-A-Porn" is shared by the entire industry, the regulatory agencies and the courts. The objectionable and detrimental nature of this service is of national concern. Yet, none of the agencies endeavoring to deal with the problem have found a legal or technical remedy.

Proponents of the service, i.e., those who have a financial interest, are not without resources. Calls to 900 "dial it" services are generating millions of dollars of revenue each day. One New York company alone is grossing $500 thousand a month from "Dial-A-Porn." In New York alone there were six to seven million calls per month last year. I mention this only to point out that the opposition is formidable.

In the wake of threatened legislation, the Federal Communications Commission endeavored to establish strictures on "Dial-A-Porn" intended to restrict minors from gaining access. However, the plan, involving the use of an identification number, is unworkable for technical reasons. A further setback was the determination by a US Court of Appeals that the rule was not applicable in the state of New York where service originates. Currently, the FCC is attempting to look at other alternatives and we expect an announcement in the very near future.

Meanwhile, state commissions in California and Nevada (two I'm aware of) have taken action to block access to "Dial-A-Porn." Their action will involve some costs and neither has yet decided who will bear them. It does appear, at this point, that the charge to recover the costs will be imposed on telephone subscribers who elect to block the service.

Michigan Bell has rejected an application for phone lines from a company seeking to offer a "Dial-A-Porn" service. The telco noted that the company refused to comply with the Michigan Public Service Commission's directive which requires that providers of "Dial-A-Porn" must obtain proof of age from callers using the service through a personal identification code procedure. Callers must certify their age before being given a code. In view of the recent court decision in New York, I expect the Michigan Commission's Rule to be challenged.

The Texas Public Utility Commission has been investigating complaints received about "Dial-A-Porn" service in the state. But, like us and other regulatory bodies, they have been unable to find a remedy that meets the test of legality. Indeed, the 900 dial-it service is an interstate service over which the PUC has no jurisdiction. However, they do have jurisdiction over 976 dial-it service which is a similar type of service, but for intrastate and local application. Currently, both General Telephone and Southwestern Bell are proposing to offer 976 service in Texas and both have attempted, in different ways, to prohibit the service from being used for illegal and pornographic purposes. The Commission has not yet acted on either of the proposals.

You asked for my recommendations regarding the elimination of "Dial-A-Porn" and my assistance in removing it. First, I hope I've demonstrated that the problem is receiving national attention. A significant movement is already underway to restrict access, if not completely eliminate the service. I am hopeful that we will see specific action at the national agency level within the next few months. I have also learned recently that the Congress is planning legislative action under the leadership of Senator Jesse Helms of North Carolina and Congressman Tom Bliley of Virginia. These men are proposing to prohibit the service by amending the Communications Act of 1934. Because there are serious constitutional issues involved, it is almost certain that any agency or congressional effort to prohibit the service will be forced to take the test of constitutionality. My recommendation, at this time, is for you to keep the matter in front of our state representative, senators and congressmen.

Please be assured that I share your concern and that Contel will be involved in the solution to this problem in any way we can contribute. I personally believe that the matter will not be totally resolved until technology allows the service to be blocked out on demand of the individual subscriber.

Sincerely,
W. S. HEGMANN
President of Contel of Texas

Double utility bill still ires resident

Dear Editor:

I am writing in regard to seeing my name in the paper, and hearing it on the radio. I was not told my complaint would be made public when I complained to our city manager that I felt I was treated unfairly because I was charged double on my sewer, garbage and water because I rent out a room to help pay my expenses.

I feel this was my private affair. The manager asked that I put my complaint in letter form, to him and the city aldermen would act on it. After almost two months had passed I called Mr. Catoe to see if anything had been done. Of course, it hadn't at the time.

The mayor was in Catoe's office, so I talked to him, too. Both were nice enough to me, and they asked that I attend their next meeting, May 5, 1986, at 6:30 p.m.

I didn't think I would be there, but as it turned out I was. I was there almost an hour, but the meeting hadn't started. They were in a "closed door" or executive meeting (which I thought was against city ordinance). I had no way of knowing if they would have a public meeting that night or not so my friend and I left. Several were still waiting for the meeting. Next day Mr. Catoe called and told me my request had been denied—the ordinance was to be enforced as everyone had to be "treated equally."

Well, I'm for that if such was the case, but I am treated unfairly because this is my private home. I have since heard of others that rent out a room that are not charged double. They call my house a multiple dwelling—I live here alone, and I own a nine-room house. If I choose to rent one room, how could this be a multiple dwelling?

Some homes in this town have two or three families living in smaller homes and they don't pay double (at least I have heard this is so).

We have owned our home in Dimmitt for over 40 years. I am the widow of an ex-police officer in Dimmitt. For 14 years he patrolled these streets, trying to protect the town and its' citizens while most were sleeping. His pay was very low, and for most of the time we did not have the number of officers we now have.

I am also a Senior Citizen, trying hard to make my own way. Is this why I am treated this way, because I am a widow and a Senior Citizen? It's not the amount of money involved, but because it's a private home.

VIRGIE MOULTON
(EDITOR'S NOTE: It is not against any ordinance for aldermen to meet in executive session, but there is a limited number of matters which may be considered in executive session. The aldermen were meeting in executive session to "discuss personnel matters," according to the official minutes of the meeting. The executive session, according to the minutes, lasted 58 minutes. ## Cancer Society

New officers for 1986-87 were elected by the Castro County Unit of the American Cancer Society on May 14. The officers are Doris Lindsey, president; Val Davis, vice-president; Gwen Bryant, secretary; and Richard Stahl, treasurer.

Mike Foskey reported on the progress being made in the annual Cancer Crusade now in progress. All workers are urged to get their contributions into the treasurer Richard Stahl as soon as you have completed your territory.

David Rau reported that the American Cancer Society does not believe we are losing the war against cancer, as Dr. John C. Bailar III and Elaine M. Smith asserted in a recent article in The New England Journal of Medicine. That article places an undue and misleading emphasis on treatment failures while minimizing both treatment and prevention success.

Mortality records cannot be used as the single measure of present or future progress against cancer. Cancer is not one disease, but many. To attempt to assess the changes in cancer survival, age-adjustment death rates must be evaluated on a site-by-site basis, rather than by using death rate figures. If you remove lung cancer from mortality statistics, and you could if every smoker would quit, then mortality would show a marked decrease.

Significant progress has been made against previously and universally fatal forms of cancer. Dramatic advances have occurred in palliation of disease and in the extension of a productive, high-quality life for many cancer patients.

The American Cancer Society does not favor reduction in support of research in early detection or treatment in order to provide additional funds for prevention research. All areas of research must be vigorously supported.

The next meeting was set for Wednesday, Sept. 10.

best time. We watched the races Friday, and everyone was running well. Tammy had set two goals at the first of the year: winning state and breaking 12 minutes. I told her not to just shoot for 12, but try for 11:40 or less—don't be satisfied with just 12 minutes. She definitely exceeded our expectations—at the first of the year I would have bet anything she wouldn't break 12 minutes, but she has been a pillar of consistency all year long, and her hard work finally paid off."

Menchaca's closest challenger was Sabrina Morrow of Shallowater, who also finished second to Tammy at the Region 1-2A meet in Big Spring. Menchaca had built a 60-yard lead by the race's finish, as Morrow, also running a personal best, finished in 11:51.

The 1,600 was a different story, though, as Menchaca finished third in one of the closest distance races of the year. Gloria Seballos of Coleman won in 5:28.9, while Rogers' Patty Sherman was second in 5:29.3. Menchaca was just .2 of a second back of Sherman, and just .6 behind Seballos.

The toughest times for state champions was endured by the NHS boys' doubles team of Hill and Kern. After dumping Stacey and Tracey Keeney of Knippa, 6-4, 6-1 in the quarter-finals, and breezing to a 6-1, 6-2 win over Ricky McBee and Steven Estes of Rochelle in the semifinals, the Nazareth duo gave up six points in all three of the finals' sets against Joe Moore and Johnny Risinger of Mount Enterprise, but still took the title, 4-6, 7-6, 8-6 (there is no tiebreaker in the final set of the championship match).

"The competition in the boys' division was really tough, and the final match was one of those classics you like to watch," Oliver said. "After it's all over it's really gratifying to win a match like that. It was one of those matches where every single point counted and you couldn't afford any mental mistakes."

"We started slow—they had us down 0-3 and 1-4, then we tied it at 4 before they won (6-4). We knew we had to do something early in the second set, and we just started playing better, consistent tennis. When we went into the tiebreaker, we felt confident because we were picking up momentum. When we won the tiebreaker we knew we could do it."

"We decided to switch the service order in the third set because he served better with the wind. Todd had trouble with the first service game, but he adjusted and played well the rest of the way."

Save money with a seasonless wardrobe

Although the stores may be filled with "spring" clothes, you can save money by thinking in terms of a seasonless wardrobe.

Loose knit sweaters made from natural fibers can be worn by themselves in the summer and over clothes during cool weather.

Seasonless wardrobe planning simply means buying items you can wear year-round, says clothing specialist Becky Saunders. This maximizes the wear you get from each item and expands your wardrobe.

The specialist points out that "layering" light- to medium-weight clothes over one another and mixing different prints and textures are fashion trends that make it easier to develop a seasonless wardrobe.

A seasonless wardrobe is built on clothes made of fabrics appropriate for different climates, says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Lightweight wool, for example, is comfortable in spring and early summer as well as fall. Linen fabrics that were once worn in the summer only can also be used throughout the year.

"When shopping for year-round clothing it's important to avoid extremes and choose basic clothing in medium color tones, print sizes, fabric weights and textures for maximum wear," says Saunders. "You can always add a seasonal fashion touch with an inexpensive item or accessories."

It also pays to buy clothing you can mix and match with items already in your wardrobe, she adds.

Think about both your work and leisure clothing needs as well. "Typical wardrobe needs will vary seasonally for some special activities, such as sports, but for everyday activities most of our clothing needs are remarkably similar year-round," says Saunders.

EDC $ SIGNS

By GERALD M. HANNERS
A successful job search usually begins with a carefully prepared resume. Regardless of your background, skills or the job you are seeking, a resume highlighting your education and work experience is an essential part of your job campaign.
A resume has pertinent information, is easy to read, is attractively laid out and makes a good initial impression.

While you may use one of several formats for preparing your resume, the chronological form is most widely used. The chronological resume presents your education, extracurricular activities and work experience with skills and achievements described in reverse chronological order under each category. The categories most often used in a chronological resume include:
• Identification

- Job objective (optional)
  - Educational background
  - Extracurricular or community activities
  - Work experience
  - Personal interests and skills
  - References
- Don't forget to include your full name, mailing address and telephone number. The resume may be only one page in length. You can have the resume copied for only 10¢ at the local library. It is a good investment in your future. Recently more than 20 applications were received for a local clerical position in Dimmitt. However, only two or three of the applicants demonstrated the typing skills needed for the job. A carefully prepared resume might be the ticket you need to open the door to a rewarding job. For detailed information about resume preparation, inquire at the Economic Development Commission office at 115 West Bedford in Dimmitt.

Social Security ...in Castro County

In general, the amount of your social security monthly payment is based on your earnings in social security covered employment. This feature of the program is particularly relevant for women who may choose to remain at home if they have young children. Entitlement to social security benefits in your own right depends on the amount of credits you have from covered employment. The specific amount depends on when you reach 62, become disabled, or for your survivors to get benefits, your age at death. If you stop working before you have earned a sufficient number of social security credits, you will not be eligible for benefits; however, the credits you have already earned remain on your work record, and any additional credits earned at any time in the future will be added to the credits already on your record. Since the amount of your benefits, as well as that of your family, is based on covered earnings over a period of years, the amount of the monthly payment can be affected if you have a number of years of little or no earnings. A married woman can receive payments either on her own record or that of her husband. She receives whichever is larger; a benefit on her own record, or a benefit on her husband's record. A woman who has worked steadily at high earnings might find that her own benefit would be more than a wife's; however, if she had remained at home for several years or had periods of low earnings, she might find it advisable to take the wife's benefit.

At Senior Citizens Center

Con game seminar is Tuesday

Deputy Frank Valdez, Crime Prevention Officer for the Castro County Sheriff's Office, will present a seminar on con games at the Castro County Senior Citizens Center Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. during the regular game night activities.

All persons interested are invited to attend the seminar and other activities.

"According to the American Association of Retired Persons, older citizens are victims of fraudulent schemes far out of proportion to their population numbers," Valdez said.

"All citizens should be skeptical about any proposal that sounds too good to be true or has to be kept secret, and be sure not to rush into anything. Check it out with friends, lawyers, the Police or Sheriff's Departments.

"If you are the victim of fraud, call the police immediately. You may be embarrassed because you were tricked, but your information is vital in catching the con artist and preventing others from being victimized."

Valdez spoke to the Dimmitt Kiwanis Club Monday about the seminar and about the rural Neighborhood Watch Program, which Valdez started last August.

"We have covered the western half of the county, everything west of US 385, but we have had little interest so far in the eastern half of the county in the Watch program," Valdez told the Kiwanians. "We have security programs for home, security checks that tell residents where they are vulnerable, and we post signs and affix stickers wherever we can. Criminals can see those signs and they know, even if they can't read, that they have a big chance of being caught." Valdez said only two burglaries have occurred in the covered area since the program started last year.

Sunnyside

Most of the news this week has been associated with the wagon train in some way. Slick and Toots Holbrooks, Goldie Thompson, Doug and Judy Loudder, Lance and Terri Loudder, Ezell and Verba Sadler, Embree Roy and Willie Mae Sadler, Gale and Verna Sadler, Ray Joe and Jo Eddy Riley, Hershel and Retha Wilson, and L. B. and Teeny Bowden bought a mile of axle grease through Sunnyside.

Almost everyone in Sunnyside and south to Springlake helped with food for supper at Springlake Monday night and were involved in the activities there Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night. Those attending Springlake-Earth school were allowed to go to Springlake on Tuesday to go through the wagon train school house and visit with some of the children.

Three bus loads of children from Lazbuddie school watched from the church parking lot as the wagon train passed by. The Springlake elementary grades were brought to the highway on the school farm to market road so they could see the wagons pass.

People from Tulia, Kress, Littlefield, Amherst, Muleshoe, and Canadian, and locally as well as Dimmitt and Hart waited at the Bowden pasture noon break and watering stop intending to visit, get close-up pictures, etc. after the wagons made their circle inside the pasture. This didn't happen, and no one knew until too late to stop them that they were not planning to stop. It was not a lack of communication between the county organization and the wagon train. It was a decision by the wagon master with disregard to the plans made and confirmed earlier, so they could get into Dimmitt early and rest.

Teeny Bowden and Helen Richardson along with Gwen Sears, who drove the school bus, picked up the 22 students and three teachers on the wagon train at Springlake at 8 a.m. Wednesday and took them on a tour as requested along with other members of the Historical Commission.

Jack and Justin Bradley, whose great uncle, Keith Bradley of Arkansas, has a wagon on the train, rode in his wagon part of the way to Dimmitt. Melinda Wilson won her ride by winning an essay contest at Hart School.

Patricia and Cheryl Powell went home last Saturday instead of going with Ezell and Verba to Hobbs as reported. Patricia brought her three grandchildren, Ken, Amber and Tiffany Sirmans of Canadian, to Ezell and Verba Sadler's Tuesday night so they could see the wagon train Wednesday. They attended the events in Dimmitt Wednesday night and went home Thursday morning.

Genevieve Westmoreland of Littlefield brought her daughters, Lori Durham of Littlefield, Gena Yantis of Amherst and her grandchildren, La Toshia and Dusty Durham and Kelsea Yantis, to see the wagon train with Alton and Betty Loudder. They also waited at the Bowden pasture as many did to take pictures when the wagon train circled up.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Herrington of Farwell came Wednesday morning to see the wagon train with Winston and Judy Waggoner. They went home after dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Epperson of Wolforth spent Tuesday night with Hershel and Retha Wilson to see the wagon train come by. Debbie and Adam also joined them. Mrs. Epperson is attending Retha's painting classes on Tuesday nights so stayed over.

The New Covenant Christian School at Muleshoe had classes in the home of Louise Bradley Wednesday so they could see the wagon train pass by.

Eules Waggoner learned while visiting with Courtney Hall of Woodstock, Ga., while the wagon train was stopped south of Eddie Waggoner's that he was about out of feed, so he went and got him a barrel of corn and some hay. As a result the man asked him to ride in his wagon to Hereford from Dimmitt. When Eddie saw Eules on the wagon Thursday morning he got John out of school and put him on the wagon with Eules at the first water break and he rode to Hereford where Sandra picked him up.

.60 of an inch of rain was recorded for Saturday from an ideal slow rain. Some reported sleet and some small hail.

Christi Gwyn, Tammy Smith, and Brannon and Brooke Byers participated with the Springlake-Earth Junior High band in a Band

Festival in Floydada Saturday. They won a II rating. Christi received a II rating on her piano solo. She has also been chosen as a cheerleader for next year.

Susan Waggoner was one of the second place winners in the essay contest in Dimmitt and received a Sesquicentennial paperweight.

Dorothy Gilbreath was appointed to the County Library Board by the Commissioners Court in their last meeting.

Louise Bradley took Jack and Sharon and the other winners from the Christian school in Muleshoe to the national contest in Denton over the weekend. Sharon competed with her essay and Jack his science project and both entered a puppet skit.

Jo Eddy Riley gave part of the program for the First United Methodist Church Women in Earth Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mattie Axtell.

Jodie Riley is home from Tech for a while to help with the farming. He may go to summer school later.

Lonnie and Renee Wilson and children and Doug and Debbie Freeman and children observed Mother's Day last Saturday night with a fish fry with Hershel and Retha Wilson.

R.V. and Bess Bills went to church with their sons and families and had lunch' out last Sunday for Mother's Day. They visited with all at Randy and Joyce's in the afternoon.

Coby and Connie Gilbreath spent Mother's Day with her parents Edgar and Betty Dennis in the home of her grandparents, Morgan and Geneva Dennis.

Alice Gamblin arrived Friday and stayed until Wednesday with Eules and Hazel Waggoner. Dr. Harold Waggoner and family arrived from Abilene Saturday as did Dr. Robbie Lindsey and family of Plainview to spend Mother's Day weekend with their parents. They had supper together Saturday night and

DPS official urges motorists to use caution this summer

Memorial Day is the beginning of summer vacation. Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "There will be more vehicles on the roadways in Texas because there is more leisure time while children are on vacation."

One speeding driver can wipe out an entire family during these crowded conditions. When speed is mixed with alcohol, the results are fatal. Therefore, troopers will be on the lookout for hazardous violations over the Memorial Day weekend in an effort to prevent the loss of life on Texas highways.

Major Cawthon urged drivers to exercise caution during the upcoming holiday weekend and throughout the summer.

Cawthon said, "Remember to buckle up as it is the best life insurance a motorist can get because the potential for additional fatalities during any holiday weekend is great and we must adjust our driving habits and attitudes accordingly."

During the vacation season, more motorists will be exposed to highway driving hazards. Heeding the traffic laws, wearing seat belts, and staying alert for drunk drivers is the best defense for avoiding an accident.

Washing can remove smoke from fabric

Studies on the removal of smoke damage from washable clothing indicate the best procedure may be washing them at home, says clothing specialist Dr. Ann Beard.

Tests on cotton, polyester and cotton/polyester blend fabrics show that washing removes smoke damage more effectively than dry cleaning, says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Both visible smoke damage and odor may be successfully removed from washable fabrics using the following laundry procedures:

- Use the normal or regular cycle with warm wash and warm rinse. Keep the load small so fabrics have room to move easily in the water;

- Use a liquid laundry detergent, following the manufacturer's recommendations for amount. If you don't have liquid laundry detergent available, use a powdered detergent containing phosphates and liquid chlorine bleach. Use the amounts recommended on the label. Be aware that the bleach may cause some fading or other damage to the fabrics;

Repeat the washing from three to five times until all smoke odor is gone. Avoid drying the fabrics between launderings if possible. If the fabrics must be dried, use no heat in the dryer since heat may inhibit the removal of smoke damage.

Police said the Pontiac was facing north in the 1100 block of Western Circle, stopped at a stop sign. It proceeded to turn onto Bedford, traveling west and impacted the Buick.

Both vehicles suffered moderate damage in the accident.

A 1981 white Volkswagen, driven by Lonnie Claude Brown, 42, of Plainview, was northbound on US 385 May 14, when it was struck by a 1979 blue Mercury Bobcat, driven by Nancy Louise Rose, 26, of Hart.

Trees can be lightning-proof

Lightning is often a companion of Texas thunderstorms, and it can be a deadly force to people, animals, trees and other property.

One of the main targets of lightning is tall or isolated trees, and certain devices are available to protect these trees, points out Lanny Dreesen, forester with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"These systems protect not only the trees but also people, animals and buildings around trees," says Dreesen. "The systems work on the same principle as a lightning rod by providing a path of least resistance for a lightning bolt to follow. A metal conductor grounds the electrical current into the earth, where it is safely dispersed."

Cost of establishing such a system is quite expensive, notes the forester, since expertise is required to properly install it without undue damage to the tree. Certain firms specialize in lightning protection, and local county Extension agents may be able to provide information on these.

"Trees that should be considered for lightning protection are the tallest ones in a given area and those that are within 10 feet of a building," says Dreesen. "Also, certain trees in parks and those of historical interest should be protected."

In addition to destroying trees, lightning kills thousands of animals each year. Also, 1,500 to 2,500 people are either killed or injured annually from lightning, Dreesen points out, referring to figures from the Lightning Protection Institute.

Lightning also is responsible for more than 30,000 fires in the US each year. In areas of average electrical storm activity, one-half to three-fourths of the fire damage claims reported by insurance companies are attributable to lightning, adds the forester. Often lightning first strikes a tree and then skips or flashes to a nearby house.

Food choices can prevent choking

What could hot dogs, hard candy, nuts, and grapes possibly have in common? The answer is small children can choke on all of them. In actuality, children can choke on almost any food, but they are most likely to have trouble with foods that are smooth, hard, slippery, and/or just the right size to plug up the throat.

According to the Texas Medical Association, when food becomes stuck in a child's throat the plug prevents the protective mechanism of coughing the might expel it. And if the parents are in another room, they may not even be aware that the youngster is in deep trouble, and may be unable to breathe.

There are several measures you can take to prevent choking in children. And many of these measures also apply to older adults who may have trouble chewing and swallowing.

- Never leave your child unattended when he or she is eating.
- Because you may not be able to help when you are driving, don't allow children to eat in a car.
- Cook foods well and cut them into small pieces and avoid foods that the child is not yet capable of chewing. If you have doubts about a particular food, don't feed it to youngsters.
- Do not allow children to drink from a cup or to eat unless they are sitting up. Baby bottles should be held by a responsible person and not propped.
- Remember that numbing topical teething anesthetics can interfere with ability to swallow foods that require chewing.
- Ask your pediatrician what to do if choking does occur.
- Finally, don't unduly worry about the possibility of your tot's choking. It is important for them to be exposed to a variety of tastes and textures of foods. Just make sure that you are present when they're eating.

Bruton, Standlee and Nelson take FFA honors

Kevin Bruton, Laura Nelson and Mark Standlee garnered the top awards last Tuesday night at the annual Dimmitt FFA banquet at the Richardson Elementary School cafeteria.

Bruton was named Star Greenhand, Nelson Star Chapter Farmer and Standlee Star Lone Star Farmer at the banquet.

Also honored were the leadership and production teams, and top herdsman, outstanding Co-Op program students and the incoming and outgoing officers.

Named as honorary Chapter Farmers were Rena Standlee, wife of outgoing advisor Ed Standlee, and Lynn Cox, who has helped with numerous FFA projects.

Winning Herdsmen awards were Kim Gleghorn, steers, Robert Green, swine, and Tod Bradley, sheep, while Shawn Cotter and Billy Patton grabbed the Co-Op awards.

Also honored was Woody Glass, who has served as a local district, area and state FFA officer during his four years at DHS, and who gave a "farewell" presentation recapping his FFA years. Glass was also honored as the top FFA scholar this year.

New officers include Mark Standlee, who will continue as president; Kim Gleghorn, who will be the chapter vice president while serving as Plainview District president (the fourth-straight year the Dimmitt FFA has filled that post); Laura Nelson, secretary; Charlynn Hunter, treasurer; Anessa Scott, reporter; Cinnamon Cox, sentinel; Joel Nelson, parliamentarian; Stacy Wilson, chaplain; and Kelly Howell, historian.

Home, work time can be balanced

Employed women with families commonly experience conflict and stress over childcare arrangements and household tasks, says home economist Mary Clayton Nance.

While the problem of balancing the demands of a job and home is not easily solved, advance planning can reduce some of the stress, says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) specialist.

To avoid being thrown into a turmoil if a babysitter moves or a child gets sick, plan for backup child care before an emergency arises, Nance advises. A good back-up plan will require a list of several people — relatives, neighbors, friends or professional sitters, who could be called on in a particular situation.

Check the school calendar or call the school to find out in advance about important daytime school activities, such as parent-teacher conferences or the class play. Often you can arrange a parent-teacher conference after work hours.

But for special events you may wish to take paid vacation hours or make arrangements to work overtime as compensation for the time taken to attend these events. If your work record is free of tardies, it may be easier to request an hour or two off to attend a school event, notes the TAEX home economist.

Working women who do not have the flexibility to take off work time for a daytime school event, can make it a point to attend parent-teacher associations meetings and special events held in the evening.

Nance also suggests having a plan to keep from being overwhelmed by children, husband or meal preparation the minute you walk in the door. Discuss with them what can be done to give you 15 to 20 minutes of time to relax.

You may need to lie down for a few minutes, do some exercises or just have some quiet time before starting dinner and listening to all the happenings of the day.

Having pre-dinner snacks on hand can keep you from being pushed to cook immediately or tempted to overextend your food budget by eating out too frequently.

Try to get the entire family to agree on a workable schedule for after-work hours, says the specialist. This might include time set aside for homework, chores, making lunches or advance food preparation for the next day, dinner clean up and relaxation.

Also consider a family work night so the weekend can be left for rest, recreation, worship and family sharing. Make a complete list of weekend tasks such as grocery shopping, laundry or yard work. Then divide tasks among family members and do those chores on a Thursday or Friday night.

"Since the average full-time employed woman works 40 hours per week outside the home and another 22-27 at home, she shouldn't feel reluctant about getting other family members involved in planning for and doing household chores," says Nance.

Looking back at the Texas Wagon Train...

ONLY 1,100 MILES TO GO—The Texas Wagon Train rolled out of Dimmitt last Thursday morning, on a 20-mile jaunt to Hereford before proceeding to Canyon and Amarillo for a three-day weekend stop. News Publisher Don Nelson scampered to the top of a silo at Simpson's dairy, 10 miles north of Dimmitt, for an aerial view of the wagon train as it creeps along on US 385. While in Dimmitt, the train was feted to a Mexican fiesta supper, "The Life and Times of Mr. Goose," a circuit ridin' preacher, The Singing Farmers and other treats provided by citizens from throughout the county.

BEST DECORATED WINDOW on Wagon Train Day, according to the judges, was by Tots and Teens, which followed the theme, "The Way We Were." The window featured two quilts, both of which were wedding gifts over the past two generations; a rug beater; steam whistle; brass oil can; old sewing machine; 150-year-old mantle clock; long dresses and bonnet; and an antique armoire. The store's smaller window displayed a carousel horse, rag doll, quilt, single-shot shotgun three generations old, a camp skillet, kettle and 1937 cookbook.

County-wide effort fetes Texas Wagon Train

As the Dimmitt High School Band played Texas songs, Brownie Scouts and the DHS Interact Club launched balloons, and hundreds of Dimmitt residents waved until their arms went numb, the 45-wagon Texas Wagon Train formally brought the state's Sesquicentennial celebration to the city last Wednesday.

Accompanied by almost 100 outriders on horseback and several county residents who hitched a ride on a wagon, the train rolled into Dimmitt at 4:15 p.m. and wound around the Castro County Courthouse before going on to the vacant area between DHS and First Baptist Church, where the wagons spent the night before rolling out last Thursday morning for Hereford and the rest of the train's 3,300-mile trip that will climax in Fort Worth July 3.

The first wagon train activities were Wednesday morning when the 22 students who are attending school on the Texas Wagon Train were taken on a field trip through the county by the Castro County Historical Commission. Stops on the field trip included Estacado Industries, Running Water Draw, Sunnyside, Dimmitt Feed Yards, exhibits at DHS sponsored by the Student Council, the courthouse, American Fructose Corp., and the museum.

Activities at the campsite started at 5 p.m. with a Mexican Fiesta supper served to over 1,600 people, followed by a circuit ridin' preacher, The Singing Farmers, "The Life and Times of Mr. Goose," presented by the Harvest Days Players, country music by local musicians, and awards to the most authentic wagon in the train, which left for Hereford Thursday at 8 a.m.

WOODY GLASS, member of the Dimmitt High School Student Council, sings "Old Dan Tucker" and other western folk songs to elementary school children gathered around the campfire at the DHS Sesquicentennial Fair Train members wanted his signature under the cancellation. So he spent a good part of the day signing his autograph.

It was just as well that he got most of it out of the way during the day. That way, the crowd of autograph-seekers wasn't as crushing after the performance of his musical play, "The Times and Tales of Mr. Goose," that night.

Did you hear about Pam Josselet running away with the Wagon Train?

She was standing alongside the highway near the Dimmitt Veterinary Clinic, waving as the wagons pulled out of town Thursday morning, when Albert Nicley of Goshen, Va., asked her as he drove by, "Would you like to ride?"

Quicker than you can say "Cancel all plans," she made arrangements at the vet clinic, called her husband Joe at the bank, and jumped aboard. Mr. Nicley and his wife, Alice, who are retired, have been on many wagon trains since 1971. He takes good care of his mules, does his own shoeing, and is proud that his team is one of the few to make the entire Wagon Train trek so far without giving out or pulling up lame. Pam got to handle the reins all morning.

I was passing the Wagon Train for the second time Thursday near Tom Draper's place, after climbing down from the Simpson Dairy's tallest Harvestore, and was cooling it behind the KAMR-TV mobile unit, when Pam shouted to me from her wagon. You never saw a bigger grin on a woman driver.

Joe picked her up at noon at the lunch site at the Big Daddy Cutoff and brought her back home. I don't know how hard he had to pull on her arm.

A lot of locals rode with the wagon train from Dimmitt to Hereford, Canyon and/or Amarillo.

George Bagwell, Eulless Waggoner and Tom Draper rode along, and Weldon Bradley accompanied his brother from Arkansas. (The Bradley wagon had to drop out at mid-morning; I hope they got it fixed okay.)

Starvin' Marvin Schulte's wagon from Nazareth had Claude Annen and his family and Dorothy Durbin aboard, and I understand Andy Rogers drove it for a while.

And a bunch of local youngsters either rode wagons or were outriders—the Rogers boys, Jamie and Tory Baker, Trampas Moke, Casey and Coby Summers, Tessie Newton, Charlynn Hunter, the Baca boys, the Bradley boys, two of the Gfeller children, and I don't know how many others.

Edgar Dennis, who rode with the train in Central Texas and rejoined it at Springlake, went on to Hereford as an outrider aboard his mule, and his daughter Debbie rode a wagon.

The compliments we've received on our special historical sections in last week's issue have been music to our ears. We have hundreds of copies of the issue left, if you want any extras.

John Brooks had a great time prowling through the old News files, and we have a lot of good historical stories left, which we'll probably use in the Harvest Days issue in September.

temperature was already high enough so the one-day cold didn't hurt."

The rain didn't help wheat prospects much, "other than maybe helping on filling it out some," Ralston said. "It won't shrivel as much as it might have without the rain."

"We could have stood a lot more rain, but what we got helped," said Assistant County Agent Curtis Preston. "What we got helped—we didn't lose any to runoff, and we didn't have the hail like they did in Swisher County."

"The people that pre-watered probably have plenty of deep moisture, but were needing some in the top five or six inches, and this helped. Some folks have already watered three times, plus a pre-watering, so this might cut out another watering.

"We just need another rain like that, except we need 1½ or 2 inches next time."

Preston said wheat harvest could begin before June 1 on some dryland fields in the county, with yields up to 20 to 30 bushels per acre, "but some won't cut that, especially if they grazed their dryland wheat. There will probably be some high-yielding irrigated wheat, but they had to water it so much, and with the price as low as it is, it's going to be hard to come out on it."

The rain brought the county's total to just under 3 inches for the year, almost two inches below normal for the first five months of the year.

SIXTY million Americans who spend more than a half-billion dollars a year on birdseed are doing it all wrong, say some wildlife experts. Like people, birds are often very fussy about what they eat, says National Wildlife magazine, and so much of the commercial birdseed mix sold goes uneaten. National Wildlife reminds bird lovers that different birds like different foods. For instance, blue jays prefer peanut kernels and woodpeckers prefer beef suet.
