Five Generations in One Family are Shown

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

The presidential election campaign this summer involves more disturbance of precedent than discard of the third term inhibition. By placing strong republicans in his cabinet the president has extended his "man of the hour" theory to mean that the current national crisis demands men before party and emphasizes ability and experience before party label. Purposefully or not, Roosevelt has shifted administration service from a party to a nationalistic basis. All well and good. To say that this action of the president—an action quite in keeping with his character—has placed the brass collar boys in a bit of embarrassment is idle comment. Of course it has. But that fact does not argue against the conclusion that the president has probably done a good thing.

Party creed and formula conform to certain definite patterns hammered of circumstances. There is mighty little you would call idealistic in practical politics. The campaign cries of the McKinley and Bryan days, like all the shibboleths of forgotten political wars that still linger in the lexicon of today's hustings, are but emblems of the needs and fears of the times of which they came. Today's national fears and ambitions will produce, and are producing, their own political and social formulae. We must deal with these realistically. Party lines will surely conform to the leading of opposing opinion on the subject, and no fool effort now to cast political allegiances in the molds of 1900 or 1912 will succeed. President Roosevelt knows that. He made the mistake

J. C. Hunter Is Appointed to Compact Comm'n

AUSTIN, August 1 (AP)—J. C. Hunter, oil operator, president of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association and long prominent in west Texas business circles, Wednesday was appointed by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel as his representative on the interstate oil compact commission.

Hunter will succeed Ernest O. Thompson, member of the state railroad commission, whom the governor dismissed from the compact position assertedly "for the welfare of Texas."

O'Daniel made no statement other than the announcement of the action.

Last year he appointed Hunter chairman of the state highway commission but later withdrew the appointment at Hunter's request after opposition developed in the state senate.

Thompson was runnerup to O'Daniel in the race for governor concluded last week and during the campaign caustically criticized O'Daniel and his record.

He had represented the governor of Texas on the compact commission since 1935, when the compact was adopted, and served four years as its chairman.

Both Thompson and Jerry Sadler, another member of the railroad commission who also was a gubernatorial candidate, said they would continue to attend compact meetings.

Garrett Grateful For Voters' Support

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—Congressman Clyde L. Garrett today issued the following statement: "I am sincerely and profoundly grateful for the most overwhelming vote which the people gave me Saturday. I am very grateful for the wonderful loyalty shown by my friends by their cooperation with my wife and children in presenting my candidacy. My friends assure me that their efforts in my behalf will be redoubled in the run-off. They will never know how much I appreciate this. The splendid plurality given me is both very gratifying and encouraging. Due to the unfair, unwarranted, and untrue accusations made against me during my absence and in the closing days of my campaign, some of which I have just learned and which it is my responsibility to refute personally, it is my purpose to conduct an intensive campaign during the run-off."

NAZIS PELT BRITAIN WITH MORE BOMBS

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP)—High flying German raiders pelted southeastern England today with heavy explosives and fire bombs, some of them hitting towns.

Other raiders were heard over northeast coast cities but no bombs were dropped there.

One incendiary bomb smashed through a roof and into a bedroom, spreading flames which were extinguished quickly. Heavy explosions shook communities along the repeatedly bombed coast.

Nazi airmen dropped their cargoes near where three German planes were believed to have been shot down late last night. Ground guns and RAF pilots fought the Germans all over southwestern England, Wales and northern Ireland.

German raids during July cost the Nazis 240 planes and 600 airmen, the air ministry announced.

In fierce fighting over the southeast coast last night, one German raider was reported to have crashed near the coast and two others farther inland.

Saw Plane Fall

Watchers saw another Messerschmitt fall about a thousand feet, trailing smoke, before the pilot righted his machine and disappeared into a cloud.

Earlier German planes attacked shipping, but retired when strong British air forces rose to meet them.

RAF pilots continued to pour German military objectives in Germany, Norway, Holland, Belgium and France.

The air ministry said railway sidings were damaged at Ostend, Belgium, and aircraft and airplanes hit at Saint Ingelbert, Esaulogne and Ourqueville in France, in day and night raids yesterday.

Nazi gun emplacements were attacked in Norway.

One British plane was lost in the operations, which included hits on oil refineries at Usterburg and Monheim, near Dusseldorf, in the Ruhr district. Freight yards at Soest and airdromes at Duisburg, Antwerp and Courtrai also were attacked.

British listeners said the German radio station at Bremen went off the air this afternoon, indicating the British raids were continuing.

Misses Ruth McKinnock, Alice Spencer and Catherine Russell are spending today in Abilene, and will be accompanied home by Miss Nell Gee, who will be the weekend guest of Miss Russell.

AGED WOMAN FOUND AFTER NIGHT SEARCH

Mrs. Nancy Page, 85, Becomes Lost Near Her Home

Mrs. Nancy S. Page, 85-year-old widow living on her farm eight miles north of Cisco, was little the worse for her experience last night after she became lost from her home and wandered several miles before she was found sitting on the side of the road about night by members of a searching party out of Cisco.

Mrs. Page, who lives on a 320-acre farm on the Canyon road, left her home at 5 o'clock to go to the creek about 250 yards distance for water for some flowers. Returning with a pail of water, she became confused, took the wrong path, following some cow, which normally would have returned to the barn for the night.

"If those cows had had any sense and gone to the house I wouldn't have become lost," Mrs. Page told her rescuers. Purling, she has difficulty in seeing clearly at any distance and this accounted for her confusion in surroundings very familiar to her.

She was found after 200 or more Ciscoans, summoned by the fire siren, had scoured the district following intensive searches directed by Police Chief Purdue and Constable J. J. Honea and others.

Still Carrying Pail

Still carrying her small water pail, she had wandered one-half mile west and a mile north of the creek, had fallen two or three times, bruising herself slightly, and, finally reaching the road, had sat down in the barrow pit waiting for someone to come along whom she could hail.

She had been there more than two hours when Bill Bisbee and a companion chanced upon her.

She had attempted several times to hail passersby, she said, but the noise of the cars on the road drowned out her voice.

Mrs. Lane lives alone except for a grandson, Clarence Butler, who was away from the house at the time. A son, Lane Page, living a quarter of a mile away, came to the house about 6 o'clock and hauled some water for his mother. When she did not appear within a short time, he realized something was wrong and went in search of her.

Failing to find her, he notified Chief Purdue, who took several men and went to the vicinity, conducting a search without results. Constable Honea came back to town and summoned the fire department. At 12 o'clock more than 200 men were engaged in the search. Mrs. Page was found about 12:30.

This morning she was up and about her duties, feeling only a bit sore, she said.

Singers Entertain Rotary Club Today

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Webb today entertained the Cisco Rotary club with vocal and piano numbers in a program presented by E. P. Crawford and praised as one of the best that the club has heard. Mr. Webb sang three solos. Mrs. Webb played one piano number and joined with her husband in a duet.

Burkett Told Little Change in Proration

State Rep. Omar Burkett was in Austin here he talked with Chairman Lon Smith of the railroad commission relative to the statewide proration hearing today.

Chairman Smith assured Mr. Burkett, he said, that there would be no radical changes in the present allowances. Smith said that his position is well known to the public and that he saw no reason to change that position.

Officials of the VFW Jamboree Here August 16-17

RUSSELL WILL SPEAK AT VFW JAMBOREE

Sam Russell of Stephenville today accepted an invitation to speak at the Statewide VFW jamboree at Lake Cisco August 16 and 17. Russell, a run-off candidate for congress opposing Cong. Clyde Garrett, will speak at an hour to be designated later. Garrett has also been invited.

Statewide interest in the jamboree—first of the sort to be held anywhere—has been manifest since plans for the two-day program were undertaken by the Lake Cisco Amusement company and the Cisco VFW post.

Several thousand people are expected to attend the events, which will include a burro derby and selection of a VFW sweetheart.

Charter Presented Cisco FFA Chapter

The Cisco F.F.A. meeting was held July 31, with the president, Gene Duncan, presiding. A financial report was submitted to the group on the cold drink stand which the F.F.A. boys operated at the rodeo.

The president presented the Lone Star Chapter charter to the local chapter. A report was given on the State F.F.A. convention, which was held at Houston, and plans worked out for members to attend the F.F.A. encampment.

Embargo Seen As Blow Against Axis

TOKYO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The spokesman for the Japanese admiralty today described President Roosevelt's ban of export of aviation gasoline from the western hemisphere as an act directed against Japan and the Rome-Berlin axis.

The spokesman said the gasoline order was an attempt to "kill two birds with one stone"—namely the axis and Japan.

"Under whatever pretext the order on aviation gasoline was issued," said the spokesman, "it undoubtedly is designed to exert economic pressure on Japan."

"If America continues on the same lines it is bound to cause repercussions."

Mrs. C. H. Fleming and Mrs. Frank A. Smith will leave tomorrow for El Paso for a two weeks' stay, after which they will return to Cisco.

ATTACK UPON DOVER STARTS NEW PHASE

Impression Given That Actual Invasion to Be Delayed

By Associated Press

BERLIN, August 1.—The concentrated dive-bombing attack on Dover last Monday was pictured by German sources today as starting the next phase of pre-invasion action against England—systematic destruction of her vital ports one at a time.

These sources said Britain's trade and supply lanes, and the port facilities through which she brings in food and war supplies are the weak link in her tight-drawn defense chain.

Observation planes which since have studied the havoc wrought by the Stukas at Dover reported to Berlin that at least three ships were sunk in the harbor, harbor facilities were wrecked and the port definitely out of commission.

Military observers declared that the preliminary raids, which Marshall Hermann Wilhelm Goering termed "exploratory flights," have been completed, and the real Stuka blasting of ports has begun.

The impression was given that for the time being—at least during this port-smashing phase—there would be no actual attempt at invasion.

Already, drawing upon her powerful air reserves in an effort to tighten a blockade on England, Germany has claimed a heavy toll in sunken shipping.

250,000 Average

Figures released last night listed 1,270,000 tons of British shipping sunk since June 25—a weekly average of 250,000 tons.

Authorized German spokesmen emphasized these Nazi tactics were to sap England's strength through destruction of her vast merchant marine. Nazi news reels showed the supposed effectiveness of bomb and torpedo blasts on British shipping.

Spokesmen also stepped comment on the statement of Virginia Gayda, fascist editorial spokesman in Rome, that a direct attack on England is not to be expected immediately, but questioned the meaning of the word "immediate."

So the impression grew that long days and nights of air bombing would be made upon Britain before Adolf Hitler gives the word for any troop invasion.

Nazi spokesmen contended much British shipping had been driven from the channel to western ports which they said lacked facilities adequately to sustain England. Raids in western England have been intensified.

In citing immense British shipping losses, Nazi spokesmen said the figures should still any suspicions abroad that Germany was fighting the war "half-heartedly."

Moreover, they asserted Britain had lost 370 planes since June 25, or an average of 74 a week.

43 Die in Crash of Coach Freight

AKRON, O., Aug. 1.—A head-on collision with a freight train crushed a Pennsylvania railroad gasoline-electric coach and carried 43 persons to death last night.

Railroad officials said the coach, shuttling from Hudson, O., to Akron, failed to take a side-track to permit the double-ended, 73 car freight train to pass.

All those killed were in the motor. Its gasoline tanks burst and turned the car into a fiery trap.

All the passengers died.

The engineer and conductor of the coach leaped to safety, but were injured severely. Another trainman, riding home "deadhead" survived. Apparently these were the only survivors in the coach.

Railroad officials expressed belief four or five other trainmen aboard the coach were killed, and all the other victims were passengers.

The engine crews of the freight locomotives were injured, apparently not seriously.

O. M. Lodge, of Columbus, O., engineer of the lead locomotive, said:

"We just came around the bend when I saw the gas-electric lurch in front of us. We jammed on the brakes and there was a terrific explosion. B. E. Reynolds, my fireman, stayed with her through the fire and explosion until she came to a stop, then we jumped through a wall of flame that had surrounded the whole wreckage."

Firemen required three hours to remove the bodies.

The "deadheading" trainman who survived was Tod Worn, 24, of Akron, brought here with leg and arm injuries.

He said Conductor H. B. Shaffer of the coach came running into baggage compartment, saying: "We are going to crash!"

"The conductor (who suffered severe injuries) leaped and I followed him."

Potential of McElreath Is Completed

The railroad commission completed its potential test of the Groover and Rose and Jones and Stasney No. 1 McElreath at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, with a gauge of 110.6 barrels over a 24-hour period.

The well was tested on natural flow although gas pressure was low, estimated at 150,000 feet. With a little more gas pressure.

Fifth Column on the Ledger?

WE generally like to think that the United States bought itself out of foreign ownership of its industries during the World War.

By and large, that is true. Much of the railroad plant of this country and many other industrial ventures were made possible by foreign capital. When the World War broke, there was heavy ownership in Europe of all sections of American industry. European countries generally sold those interests to buy war supplies with the proceeds. The United States "bought itself back."

But not entirely. And during the unsettled conditions of Europe during the past 10 years, much European capital came back to the United States for safety's sake.

This is nothing to get excited about, and we know of no major and vital industry that is today foreign-controlled. There is no reason to suspect undue foreign influences within the boards of directors of any important corporation.

BUT the foreign stake in many American corporations is interesting, and in some cases may cause real complications. John Lloyd, writing in the Magazine of Wall Street, has listed some of them. According to Lloyd, American Telephone reports 462,000 shares held aboard, and U. S. Steel 503,195. More than 300,000 shares of Steel, Lloyd reports, are held in Holland, and the largest single stockholder of Southern Pacific is an Amsterdam firm. A Swiss corporation is first on the list of B. & O. stockholders, third on Pennsylvania.

None of these holdings, Lloyd estimates, approaches control, nor even any certainty of the right to elect a director. But he foresees possible complications if, in the "reorganization" of Europe now being brought about by the nazis, holdings of Dutch, Swiss, French and Belgian holders might be brought together.

IN the present European confusion, no one knows precisely what is the status of such holdings. Many foreign credits have been frozen because there is no guarantee that, if paid, they would be sure to reach their rightful owners.

These foreign interests are nothing to be concerned about, and there is not the slightest reason to believe that they have had any influence on the policies of any American firms.

But it is good to know that the situation is being watched, and that American directors are conscious of a situation that might at some future time breed complications.

These Italian naval victories seem to be won like foot races. Nation whose ships reach the horizon first wins.

Not to be overlooked is the tradition that still stands. There is to be no third term for vice presidents in 1940.

As the stars have it, Hitler has had his last lucky day for some time. Thus there is nothing left in the sky to aid the nazi cause except Goering's air force.

The first U. S. gas mask was patented in 1849. Even then people knew there would be total wars and political campaigns.

We see where the perennial flapper has had her face lifted for the third time, but this is stretching things a little too far.

King Carol is demobilizing his army, probably figuring it's much better that way than to have Hitler or Stalin do it for him.

Wm. H. Ballinger and Mrs. Vera Bernice Ballinger, Ranger.

Absentee Voters.

Absentee voters, who cast their ballots in time for the July primaries, numbered 274. The county clerk's records show that 285 ballots were mailed or delivered to applicants during the absentee voting period. The time for voting absentee in the July election expired July 23. Absentee voting in the August election will expire August 21.

Matters in Probate

The following business was had in the probate court last week:

In the matters of the estate of Archie Mund, deceased. Appraisers' report was approved as filed by Roy Tucker, Grover Hastings and Alton Clark.

Mrs. Belle Fee, surviving widow of George D. Fee, deceased, petition for letters of administration, approved and citation issued for hearing July 29. Letters ordered issued upon her qualifying as the law directs. Bond placed at $14,000. Alex Spears, Connie Davis and J. D. Lauderdale appointed as appraisers of the community estate.

In the matter of the guardianship of Jennie Tolbert, minor, petition for change of guardian of her estate. Petitioner prays the court to revoke the letters of guardianship issued to J. R. Tolbert and to appoint her mother, Lilah M. Lee, as her guardian, and that the said J. R. Tolbert be required to file his final report and turn over the assets of her estate to Lilah M. Lee upon her qualifying as her guardian. This petition is controverted in a plea in abatement filed by J. R. Tolbert, who alleges that his ward has filed proceedings in the Travis county district court to have her disabilities of minority removed; that said ward is 20 years of age, and if the court's action is favorable to his ward, there will be no necessity for the appointment of another as guardian.

Baird Faced With Shortage of Water

BAIRD, Aug. 1 (Sp).—Restriction of use of water to domestic purposes may become necessary in Baird to prevent a water famine, city officials reported today.

The pressure gauge at the city hall at noon today registered 18 pounds against a normal of 88. During the day pressure was so low that water was not obtainable in some homes. Water is not pouring into the city wells in the shimmering west of Baird sufficiently to meet the requirements. Restriction may be imposed on spraying lawns, shrubbery and trees.

TP lake, new $75,000 reservoir completed too late to catch early spring rains, has a supply only adequate for the railroad shops, and roundhouse and could not be drawn upon if the city water situation becomes more acute, which it probably will do if rain does not come soon to relieve the serious situation.

Whooping Cough In Callahan Prevails

BAIRD, Aug. 1 (Sp).—An epidemic of whooping cough was reported in the county today. A baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, living on the Ace Hickman ranch southwest of Baird, was reported to be in a serious condition. Albro Wilson, living in the Midway community, brought his daughter to physicians today after no relief was obtained. He himself is affected.

NYA to Provide Jobs For 8,000

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—Applications for participation in NYA's college and graduate work program during 1940-41 were mailed to 84 Texas colleges and universities today. State Youth Administrator J. C. Kellam said in announcing plans to provide part-time jobs for more than 8,000 needy college and graduate students during the coming year.

The State Youth Administrator said as soon as applications are received from institutions desiring to participate in the program they would be acted upon in order that needy students would be permitted to begin work as soon as possible after the opening of school.

Under a new plan, instituted this year, the head of each college or university will designate an official of the institution who will be appointed by the state administrator to act as an official representative of the National Youth Administration in administering the program in each respective school.

Other requirements such as the age range of 16 to 24 and the selection of students for part-time jobs on the basis of good character and need will be identical with eligibility standards used heretofore, Kellam said.

Many members of the white race are black, as in Ethiopia.

Thank You--

To the voters and friends in and adjoining precinct number 6: I take this method to sincerely thank you for your splendid cooperation and vote given me in the July 27 primary. I am grateful indeed to each and all of you.

And to my many friends who voted for my opponents, I assure you it has not in any way affected my friendship or good wishes for you. I have been a voter for 43 years and during this time, for various reasons, I have been forced to vote against a good friend. I can understand your position. Assuring you I will make it an office of justice to all alike, I am

Notice to Those Owing Delinquent Taxes

Numerous property owners have neglected to pay their taxes until after suits have been filed and then have proposed to pay their taxes provided the Court costs, penalty and interest, etc., is deducted.

If the taxes are not paid until after the expense incident to the checking of records and the filing of suits is incurred, it is manifestly unfair to take City Funds, which have been paid to the City by those tax payers who paid promptly, and use it to pay Court costs for those who fail or refuse to pay their taxes.

If you fail or refuse to pay your taxes until after suit is filed, then the court costs incident to the suit will not be deducted from your taxes, but will be collected, as is provided by law, over and above the amount of your taxes, penalty and interest.

In an opinion rendered by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, to the County Attorney of Palo Pinto County, on May 27, 1940, it is held:

"Farm tractors are subject to the various ad valorem taxes, including those of an independent school district. The tax Assessor-collector of an independent school district is authorized and required to assess the tractor in question for taxes on said school district even the failure and refusal of the owner thereof to render same for taxation purposes. Arts. 2791, 7145, 7147, 7150, 7193, V. A. C. S."

The statutes referred to above are clearly applicable to property owned by Citizens of Cisco and each of you who have not rendered your automobiles should immediately render them for the years for which they have not been rendered.

Our Statutes authorize and direct the City Tax Collector to seize this property for the collection of taxes and it is his sworn duty to do so.

If you do not render and pay on this property, then, within a reasonable time, this property will be assessed, levied upon and sold for taxes.

U. S. Marines on Guard in Tropical Isle

Far across the Pacific is a tiny tropical island where approximately 600 Americans are living, yet it is virtually unknown. It is remote from the routes usually followed by tourist and, apart from the natives, nearly all of its white inhabitants are attached to the naval service.

The name of this little-known island is Guam. It is about 30 miles long and from 4 to 8 miles wide and has been owned by the Uncle Sam since the Spanish-American war. Thousands of U. S. Marines have served there for varying periods, and despite its isolation the island is an important outpost of the Pacific.

Guam's chief value to our government is as a naval base, although it is entirely unfortified. Its population, including the naval establishment, is about 23,000 and has increased rapidly in recent years.

"Most of the U. S. Marines who go there expect a Robinson Crusoe existence," says Sergeant William H. Greene, in charge of the Marine corps recruiting station, 401 U. S. Courthouse Building, 10th and Lamar streets, Fort Worth, Texas.

"They are surprised to learn that Guam is quite up-to-date with compulsory education, a hospital, several churches and many of the conveniences of the mainland."

The easy-going natives are called Chamorros, of Malay, Filipino and Spanish ancestry, the latter racial mixture being due to Spanish pioneers who settled there in the 17th century.

They are engaged chiefly in the cultivation of coconuts, the dried kernels of which are called copra. From copra a valuable oil is obtained, used in making soap, hair oil, cosmetics and other preparations.

Apart from safeguarding government property and providing the personnel for an insular patrol, the Marines go in for such pastimes as swimming, tennis, golf and baseball. Visiting Army and Navy transports and a radio and cable station keep the island in touch with the outside world.

52 Texas Boys To NYA Project In Louisiana

AUSTIN, Aug. 1—Fifty-two young men have been sent from Texas to enter the National Youth Administration regional work experience center at the Algiers Naval station near New Orleans, Louisiana, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator for Texas. Of the 52 youths, 11 were from the Dallas district, 6 from the Fort Worth district, 22 from the Houston district, 5 from the San Antonio district, and eight from the Waco district.

Permission was granted the NYA on October 27, 1938, by the Navy department to use the United States Naval station at Algiers for an indeterminate period under a formal permit prepared by the judge advocate general of the navy.

Kellam said the NYA has at its disposal at Algiers 35 buildings which are used for dormitories, shops, recreation centers, and administrative offices. Of these buildings, six are devoted entirely to shop work.

Shop work offered boys at the Algiers regional work experience center includes the fundamentals of metal trades, woodworking trades, electrical trades, and maintenance work. Related information is given along with the work experience and directly concerns the actual work being done by the boys.

"The purpose of the Algiers center is to permit young men to find the work in which they are interested and for which they have the essential aptitudes," state youth administrator pointed out. "A rotation system among the trades is used to find the occupation for which each boy is best fitted. Good work habits and job discipline are stressed."

of arguing that principles change, in advancing his famous "horse and buggy" analogy in his pique over the supreme court's destruction of the NRA, but his bad polemics help to establish the real point.

It is admitted that the country now faces a critical period in its history. What is done today, the course that we adopt, will be of profound and enduring significance. Even the details of administration of the various functions of government assume unusual importance. This is especially true in the case of foreign relations. Party lines tend to become obscured by an atmosphere of common concern. The man, not his political creed, becomes for the time the more important consideration. The president has plainly admitted this in passing over talent within his own party and naming outstanding republicans to key cabinet jobs. In doing so he has produced a rule of today's game.

We should, therefore, go into this presidential campaign with the following consideration clearly in mind: Whichever side wins, republicans or democrats, will be expected to choose its-official family for ability and quality, without regard to party affiliation.

Roosevelt has already declared his independence of party qualifications. Wilkie, as the republican nominee, should make a like pronouncement. He will be supported by many democrats who dislike the new deal and feel that it is destroying their party and endangering the sound democratic foundations of the country. He has endorsed certain policies of the administration, particularly its foreign policy.

Cordell Hull is the foreign policy of the United States today. Doubt that, if you wish, but you must admit that it is Mr. Hull who is doing the work. He is getting the job done. It is impossible to deny his experience, wisdom and diplomatic skill the credit for it.

The republican candidate can well afford to leave the way open to keep Mr. Hull in charge of American foreign affairs in the event of a republican victory next fall. In view of the action of Mr. Roosevelt in naming republicans to a democratic cabinet, Hull could not consistently argue a party affiliation against such an offer. In view of Wilkie's endorsement of the Hull program and policies, Hull could not consistently argue lack of sympathy. And in view of the present emphasis on talent rather than party loyalty, he could not consistently refuse to give the service required of him.

If this is going to be a campaign for the right men rather than the right party, as the administration's "coalition government" suggests, the way should be left open for the right men, regardless of which "party" wins next November.

operators said, the well would produce twice as much.

The data has been sent to Austin where allowable will be fixed. Since the McElreath opened a new pool a special allowable is due it. What this will be depends upon the determination of the commission at Austin, and pending this decision prospective offset activity will be held in abeyance, it was said.

The test of the well started yesterday at 10:30 a. m. and ended at the same hour this morning. The well, four and a half miles south by west of Cisco, is bottomed at 3,035 feet with the drill penetrating Caddo pay for 73 feet. It was acidized with 4,000 gallons three weeks ago.

The territory is virgin, and the well is believed to have opened up one of the largest Caddo structures in the section for development.

FEDERAL WATER HEATERS

Now is the time to check your water heating system before the winter months come. See our line of federal water heaters.

An old water heater consumes more gas than one of our late model automatics. Here are some of the features of the federal water heating system:

1. Approved by the American Gas Association.
2. Copper bearing tank --- years of life.
3. Thermostat controls water temperature.
4. Radio Valve, exclusive feature---100 pct. safety.
5. Draft Hood Safety Feature.
6. Heavy Insulation --- no radiation loss.
7. Jacket, beautifully enameled.
8. Full 22-gallon --- one-sixth more water at no extra cost.
9. Fan baffles in blue --- added efficiency.
10. Burner exclusive feature noiseless, no back-fire, no sooting.

See these models and let us help you reduce your gas bill and at the same time let us furnish you with plenty of water at all times.

BURKETT THANKS VOTERS

I am grateful for the fine vote given me in Eastland and Callahan counties in my race for renomination to the legislature from the 107th flatorial district. The confidence expressed in me by the voters of this district is a matter of pride and satisfaction, and I promise you that I shall endeavor to make that confidence fully justified.

Whenever I can be of service to you individually or collectively call upon me and I shall use every effort to perform that service in an honorable and effective manner.

Sincerely,
Omar Burkett,
State Representative 107th District
