LOVE ON THE LINE

CHARL FRIGGINS

CAST OF CHARACTERS: CARRIE LANE—an eastern girl who came into the frontier west to find a home. MARK DEUEL—a homesteader who keeps his business to himself. ASHTON OAKS—a land agent with town lots to sell.

YESTERDAY, Visiting her homestead site with Ashton Oaks, Carrie is overwhelmed by the immensity of the new west. Later at the hotel, Oaks tries to sell her town lots, promising the railroad will soon come to Sioux Springs.

CHAPTER III: SORTA stirred things up last night, didn't yuh? Nevt greeted Mark outside the livery stable next morning. "Hell, I don't see why somethin' like that can't happen to me when there's a pretty woman around to show off to."

Mark grinned. "Wasn't exactly showing off, Nevt?" "Well, it sure worked out that way, her a-clingin' to your lapels and Oaks down and all."

"Oh, just another land agent trying to make some quick money," Mark said. "New country like this is full of 'em."

"Always something worse'n the hot weather and grasshoppers," said Nevt. "What can I do for you, Mark?"

"Got a good horse, Nevt? I want to ride out to Rock creek today. Be back by night."

"Best in the barn," said Nevt as he disappeared inside the big rambling building.

He came out quickly leading a spirited sorrel. "Here you are, Mark. See ought to get you out there real lively. Say," he added as an afterthought, "Rock creek—that's where that Lane miss took up her claim, ain't it? Thinking of homesteadin' out there, too?"

"Winked significantly. Mark grinned without replying and swung into the saddle.

THEY were having dinner when Mark rode up to Carrie's claim at Rock creek around noon. The Taylors had hauled out supplies, window and door frames, boards and tin for a roof.

Carrie had ridden out with them. She was to return to town with them, bringing out more supplies in the morning.

The Taylors, living just a mile from Carrie, were going to bring over their plow the next day and turn the first furrow for Carrie's new home, the real "soddy" she had read about, but never had dreamed some day she would build.

"Get down off that horse and come in," greeted big Ed Taylor, laughing loudly and indicating the spot where Carrie's soddy would be built.

There was a moment of tension as Mark dismounted, dropped his reins and tipped his hat to both Carrie and Mrs. Taylor. Taylor introduced his wife, then turned to Carrie. "Miss Lane, this here is Mark Deuel. Filin' a claim, too, an't yuh, Deuel?"

Mark nodded. "Miss Lane and I have met before." He thought Carrie reddened ever so slightly, fidgeted with her dress. "Why, yes, Taylor, I have been thinking of taking a claim out here on Rock creek."

"Well, better get moving, then," Taylor put in, "she's going pretty fast."

"That's why I'm here today," Mark explained.

They sat down to dinner, a cold meal of salt pork, canned tomatoes, and cornbread. Carrie, Mark noted, was herself again, gay, chatty, as she had been on the first morning he had eaten with her at Ma Parmley's.

"Wonder how far I'll have to go for water?" she said, turning to her neighbor.

"Well, don't know," Taylor said. "I guess you'd better ask Mr. Oaks."

Illustrated by Harry Grissinger. Carrie stepped closer. Her hand was on the saddle. She was pale, frightened. "You won't see him again?" she begged. "Promise me that you won't!"

Cisco Youth Aids in Drafting Plans for Fastest Plane

Eugene Lankford, son of Judge and Mrs. Eugene Lankford, Sr., of Cisco, helped draft the plans for the world's fastest military airplane, the Lockheed P-38, details of which were recently released. Eugene is an employee of the Lockheed company at Los Angeles, which is building large numbers of the new plane for delivery to the United States army and to Great Britain. The latter has ordered 800 of them at a cost of $50,000,000.

"Somebody mention my name here?" Oaks was snarling, insolently. "Just indirectly," Mark answered, turning to face the bar again to ignore the agent. But Oaks jerked him back. Like a ruddy flame, then, the red crept up Mark's neck, flushed his face. He swung around, stepped down from the bar.

"Oaks," he said, and his voice was low, steady. "I don't argue with a drunk man."

Whether it was the sudden memory of Carrie Lane, standing there in the hotel and pleading with him not to fight, or standing there on the knoll at Rock creek and still watching him "when he looked back, Mark Deuel would never know what prompted his next move. Ignoring the agent again for the last time, he turned, said good night to Nevt Gale, and walked, slowly, deliberately toward the door. Others in the room were scarcely aware of the incident.

But Mark never reached the door. There was a shot, glass crashed and the place became pandemonium. Ashton Oaks lunged forward, Newt Gale after him. "Deuel," somebody yelled, "Mark Deuel, he shot at you!"

The new plane was recently inspected by General Arnold, chief of the United States army air corps, in connection with William S. Knudsen, chairman of the National Defense Advisory Commission. Toledo collected $10,809 in July in gambling fines alone.

Wire Loop Snags 7 Foot, 8 Inch Gar

The wire nose recommended by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission for the sport of catching gar has scored again. Shown above, right, is R. L. Reese of Longview, Texas, who recently topped an earlier catch of a six-foot gar by hauling in the alligator gar shown above. It measured seven feet, eight inches, and the weight was estimated at 180 pounds.

The huge gar took the bait and was away, diving deep and often. The gar pulled Reese over Caddo lake for more than an hour before the fish could be subdued with the help of five shotgun shots placed in its head. The big ones run deep and do not jump out of the water. Reese said. Big gamefish tackle is not necessary, he thinks, planning to try the sport next time with a good stout fishing pole. A leaflet showing how to make the gar loops can be obtained by writing the game department at Austin.

PROGRESSIVE AND EDUCATIONAL

We have established our business in Cisco, because we believe Cisco to be the most progressive educational center of West Texas. This fact is clearly shown in the opening of the Cisco Junior College. We extend our heartiest congratulations to the Faculty, Student Body, and Citizens of Cisco on the opening of Cisco Junior College.

"It tastes better"

"Helping Build West Texas"

It's The Truth!

To the thinking observer there are increasing evidences of the fact that Cisco is making progress on the road to real recovery. Some of the evidences that Cisco has not lost its progressive spirit are: The establishment of our Junior College, Securing a Bottling Plant and the erection at this time of a modern plant on 8th St. that is to house a market for produce and dairy products, a thing long needed here.

Another, and a very significant evidence of progress, is the increasing tendency on the part of our citizens to own their homes. More and more families are taking advantage of the opportunity to purchase homes at approximately half the cost of construction, and on most favorable terms being offered by the loan companies who accidentally acquired them during the early part of the depression.

As the youngsters start back to school, let us all rededicate ourselves to the task of building Cisco into that kind of place in which we will all be proud to own a home and rear our families.

LAST MEETING OF DESDEMONA WMS

The Methodist Missionary society held two meetings last week, the last ones to be held before the re-organization under the plan of the United Methodism, which calls for the name of the organization to be changed to Women's Society for Christian Service. On Wednesday night at the church the meeting was held for the World Outlook program to be presented. Mrs. Charles Lee led the program, the topic of which was "Mexicans in the United States." A very interesting study from "Great Adventures" was read and there was a general discussion as to characteristics of Mexicans in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. After the discussion ten statements were read and each member wrote true or false after the number of the statement. When the answers were read it was found that each member had answered every one correctly. Then papers containing statements with words left out were passed, but not all were filled in correctly. The meeting closed.

ed with prayer by Rev. W. E. Anderson. Friday afternoon a social meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Bedford. The entertainment feature was the playing of the Bible game, with "men" to be moved along a winding way on a board containing pictures representing the wanderings of the children of Israel. Refreshments of marshmallow pudding, with whipped cream, angel food and orange cake, and grape juice were served by the hostesses to Miss Mollie O'Rear, Mrs. G. S. Bruce, Mrs. S. E. France, Guinea Pig

WHO says France under the new constitution will not be a republic?

It is Marshal Petain speaking, with plain defiance.

What France will be, no one knows. It is not a republic today.

The American people have considerable sympathy for France. That sympathy began when Frenchmen and France helped the struggling colonists to gain their liberty. True, the debt of Lafayette was generally regarded as paid in full in 1917-1918. But Americans have liked the spirit of Frenchmen and of France.

There is today and there always will be in the United States a sympathetic interest in the French people. But that does not imply a similarly sympathetic interest in any particular government under which they may be forced to live at any given moment. The American people are bound to watch intently the development of the Petain-Laval experiment in France.

CERTAINLY France is no republic today. The whole country is now under the German heel. Nothing can be done without the approval of the German invaders. True, they disclaim interest in or responsibility for the French government. Therefore it cannot be a republic, for a proud independence is the first requisite of such.

As to what France may become: Petain said "the international capitalist system is outmoded... the base of our new state must be work, the family, and the fatherland." Well, those last three are bases of any state. As to capitalism, it may be possible to organize a state without private property and individual initiative, and retain freedom—all we know is that it has never been done.

NO present French official holds office by the votes of his fellow citizens. Is that the mark of a republic? No one may hold office in France unless born in France or a French father. Is that a democratic restriction? The new French constitution provides state regulation of religion, the family, youth, speech and the press. Is that liberty?

France may, as the marshal suggests, become again a republic. But it isn't now, and foundations have been laid for something quite different. What is built on those foundations we shall see.

The W. C. T. U. might make something of Jim Farley, a soft-drink salesman, taking over the Yankees from the Ruppert brewery estate.

ALLY OOP By Hamlin

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—At the department of commerce, they tell you that the No. 1 problem for the economic trouble shooters in the national defense program is RUBBER.

Funny thing about rubber—it's almost as American as Indian corn. But now that this hemisphere is facing a crisis, an adequate rubber supply is almost as far away as star dust. Rubber was unknown until wandering adventurers before the 17th century watched South American Indians playing with a ball that bounced like nothing the white man had ever seen before.

Back to Buggy Rides

Yet today, if rubber imports to the western hemisphere were shut off, about 30,000,000 motor vehicles would cease to chug, the defense program would be dead, and the horse-and-buggy days (without rubber tires) would come back.

The United States uses 50,000 tons of rubber a month. Seventy-five per cent of the world supply of rubber comes from the Dutch East Indies and British Malaya (each produces around 376,000 tons a year.) A paltry 16,000 tons a year come from Brazil, on the continent where rubber first bounced into the economic picture. Africa, Central America, and other South American countries and India account for the rest.

Looking over the record and considering "any eventuality," it does look pretty bleak for rubber if worst comes to worst. But even though you might have a year-and-a-half of discomfort, in event of a rubber shortage, there's no more use worrying about rubber than about tin.

Might Grow Our Own

It might be tough, but it undoubtedly would work, and perhaps in a year or two, department of agriculture experts, working with the natural supply in South and Central America, and California, would have a satisfactory crop of natural rubber in the offing.

The department of commerce says that if we have an enemy in the world, he had better not plan on licking us by snapping up all the world's rubber. He might upset the rubber-tired apple cart for a while, but in the end, we'd be popping along on all four wheels as if nothing had happened.

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (Sp.)—Movement of livestock from Texas ranches to Fort Worth stockyards and to other states for July dropped 20.5 per cent from July, 1939, University of Texas business statisticians report.

Only 4,632 cars were shipped, consisting of 2,614 cars of cattle, 741 cars of calves, 565 cars of hogs and 712 cars of sheep. Cattle shipments were down 9 per cent, calves 43.2 per cent, hogs 12.5 per cent and sheep 27.8 per cent.

Swift transportation and the enterprise of such firms as the West Texas Produce Company, have made possible the enjoyment of tropic fruits and out-of-season vegetables as a daily privilege of almost everybody. Many hundreds of carloads of fruits and vegetables are distributed through the Cisco warehouses of the West Texas Produce company each year.

We appreciate the enterprise of those who are making possible the advantages of higher education for thousands of boys and girls, such as is being done by the Cisco Public Schools in establishing Cisco Junior College. We are glad to have a part in that fine program.

45th Anniversary of Oil in Texas Be Celebrated

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29 (Sp)—Oil's 45th birthday in Texas will be celebrated by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association at its annual convention in Fort Worth, Oct. 31 through Nov. 2, E. L. Smith, president, announced here Saturday.

Carrying out the anniversary theme, special recognition will be given Texas oil pioneers including some who helped in the discovery or development of Texas' first commercial oil field at Corsicana in October, 1895. In the talks for the convention, attention will be paid to petroleum's place in the life of Texas and its rise to the state's largest industry within less than half a century.

Speakers for the meeting, the Texas Mid-Continent's twenty-first annual convention are now being arranged by George C. Gibbons, executive vice-president. They will include national leaders not only in petroleum but also in general business and government. Committee reports on the association's work during the year will be presented by Al Buchanan of San Antonio, chairman of the membership committee; Raymond M. Myers of Dallas, social security; Paul Pitzer of Breckenridge, theft prevention; R. B. Anderson of Vernon Texas; F. T. Baldwin of Houston, wages and hours; Guy L. Tate of Dallas, form simplification and B. C. Clardy of Dallas, freight rates.

A full program of entertainment both for the oilmen and their wives is already being planned. A dinner dance and show, the annual handicap golf tournament and other features will be arranged.

Regional vice-presidents of the Texas Mid-Continent service organization for Texas oilmen, are H. R. Cullen of Houston Gulf Coast; Bryan W. Payne of Tyler, East Texas; J. L. Collins of Corsicana, East Central Texas; D. Houston Bolin of Wichita Falls, North Texas; M. B. Davis of Pampa, Panhandle; Hamilton McRae of Midland, West Texas; Joe A. Clark of Albany West Central Texas and Al Buchanan of San Antonio, Southwest Texas.

The 1939 convention, held at Houston, was attended by nearly 1,000 Texas oilmen.

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

Draft Bill--

were trying to get congress to suspend the special limitations on ship and plane profits by a provision attached to the pending excess profits tax bill.

Senators pointed out that the senate amendment extending the special limitations would become inoperative if congress granted the request of the commission and the navy.

Approaching the final vote, the senate brushed aside proposed substitutes for the draft bill. One of the last disposed of was that by Senator Maloney (D-Conn) to delay conscription until January 1, while voluntary enlistments were sought to fill the army's requirements.

After the final action had been taken, Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) who voted against the bill, issued an explanatory statement, saying that while he strongly favored an adequate national defense he was "fundamentally opposed to compulsory military conscription in time of peace."

A statement by Senator Guffy (D-Pa) who voted for the bill, said he would "never vote to send a single American soldier to fight fense commission and the navy on European soil" but would "continue to support every measure that strengthens our defense and thereby discourages all thought of aggression on the part of foreign forces."

CCC Enrollees--

In addition, each of the 1,500 camps has its own garage, giving basic mechanical training to 9,000 men a year. There are 40,000 pieces of automotive equipment operated by enrollees. A total of 72,000 of them a year learn to operate trucks, tractors, bull-dozers, drag lines and scrapes. More men learn than are used in actual operation of machinery. In 1939, 45,000 learned to drive trucks and tractors, 40,000 learned how to repair them, 17,000 learned black-smithing and 8,000 learned electric welding.

Cooking and baking schools have trained 22,000 men since the CCC was founded in 1933. An army still travels on its stomach. A CCC cook is as good as any to keep that stomach filled.

Last year alone 52,000 men learned first aid. Since the CCC was founded, 300,000 have graduated. There are 3,000 CCC medical aides and orderlies in camp hospitals.

As engineers they have built 114,000 miles of roads over the roughest terrain in the United States. They have spanned streams with 7,000 bridges. As communications men they have laid 79,000 miles of telephone wire through rough country.

They have been trained in short wave radio operation until now there are 18,000 of them who know this important war-time technique. There are 26,000 photographers among them.

Let there be no feeling the nation has failed to help defend itself by not training the CCC in the manual of arms and close-order drill.

Registering Aliens Starts At Post Office

Forms for registering aliens under the law recently passed by congress have arrived at the local post office and the first alien to register at the Cisco office did so early Wednesday.

There were several applications for registration Tuesday but there were no forms available then, Postmaster Luther McCrear said.

35 Per Cent of Texas "Stripper" Wells in Area

West-central Texas has 35 per cent of all the "stripper" oil wells in Texas. We have 46 per cent of all the "stripper" leases of the state, and 25 per cent of all of the "stripper" production in the state. It is of vital importance to the people of this district, if they have any hope of retaining and continuing the benefits they are now receiving from the 5,611 "stripper" wells of the district and from the 1,301 flush wells which ultimately will become "strip-pers," to inform themselves in a definite way regarding the true facts of the industry.

A number of interesting and revealing items regarding the producing oil wells of the west-central Texas district are disclosed in the study recently completed by the West-Central Texas Oil & Gas Association.

9,937 Producing Wells
As of June 1, 1940, the 19 counties included in the territory served by the WCTOG had, according to records of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission of Texas, 9,937 producing wells. Total daily allowable of all those wells was 49,406 barrels; average daily allowable for each of the wells of 4.9 barrels per day.

However, included in the total number of wells were 1,301 producers capable of making more than their legal marginal allowable. This marginal allowable is 10 barrels for wells down to 2,000 feet deep; 20 barrels for wells between 2,000 and 4,000 feet deep; and 30 barrels for all wells deeper than 4,000 feet.

Those above-marginal wells had an average daily allowable of 19.1 barrels per day. A few of these 1,301 producers were being allowed to run as high as 50 barrels per day. That was the highest allowable granted any well in the district.

A large part—in fact 87 per cent—of all the producing wells of the district were sub-marginal wells. That is, they produced less than the minimum figures which they could, by law. Average daily allowable of those 8,611 sub-marginal wells was approximately 3 barrels per day.

23,517 Barrels Daily
Total daily allowable of all the sub-marginal wells amounted to 23,517 barrels. The individual production of one of the sub-marginal wells did not amount to a great deal. When they were all taken together, their total production, which in most instances was the same as the allowable, accounted for considerable oil. Total of this item was 23,500 barrels per day—slightly under 50 per cent of the total production of the entire district.

It is easy for agitators to go over the country and say that severance tax rates on oil production in other oil states are higher than they are in Texas. It is a fact that in Oklahoma and Louisiana, the severance tax is higher than the direct severance tax in Texas. However, these agitators do not state that the severance taxes in other states are in lieu of ad valorem taxes on oil in place and on oil producing properties. Any honest comparison of all tax factors of the different oil producing states will make it apparent that Texas oil producers are already actually paying a higher tax rate per barrel than those in other oil states.

Proponents of the suggestion to levy substantial increases in the state gross production tax on crude oil, who contend that every person who owns a producing interest in an oil well in this state is making large amounts of money—and who at the same time assert that practically all of the profits from the oil producing activity of Texas goes into the pockets and bank accounts of big corporations and people who live in New York or some other place away from Texas, do not have all of the facts regarding the industry, or they would not make the broad and incorrect statements they sometimes do.

New Society Of Christian Service Begun

The ladies of the First Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the church parlors to hear plans for the organization of a new Women's Society of Christian Service.

The meeting was called to order by the Rev. Joe I. Patterson, who read as a call to worship "Speak Lord, to me, that I may speak." The group then joined in singing the hymn "Take Time to Be Holy," after which Mrs. J. E. Crawford led in prayer.

The Rev. Patterson then discussed the purpose of the meeting and read the outline for the organization. A round table discussion of the project and questions concerning its organization was then held.

It was decided that an attendance goal of 100 could be easily attained, under the work of eight standing committees, to be appointed or elected at the charter meeting Wednesday, August 5. Officers for the organization will also be elected at this time, and a special program will be presented. For those who will be out of town or otherwise unable to attend the meeting, there will be an open scroll on which their signatures will be written, indicating their desire to become charter members of the new society.

The following committees were appointed to study plans and make their reports at the charter meeting: Nominating committee, Mrs. John Shertzer, chairman; and Mrs. T. J. Dean, Mrs. Neil Lane and Mrs. James Moore; study committee, Mrs. W. E. Ricks, chairman, and Mrs. J. T. Fields, Mrs. William Reagan and Mrs. Phillip Pettit; publicity committee, Mrs. J. E. Crawford, chairman, Mrs. L. E. Vaughn, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. C. E. Hickman, Mrs. Homer Ferguson and Mrs. R. W. Meeker, and arrangements committee, Mrs. Jimmy Allen, chairman, Mrs. Bill Childers, Mrs. S. H. Nance, Mrs. J. E. Harvey and Mrs. H. B. Allen.

The publicity committee was to meet at the church today at 4 o'clock, looking toward a visitation campaign.

Auxiliary to Have Party For Collegians

The Presbyterian auxiliary will entertain high school graduates and college students with their annual "back-to-school" party on the church lawn Monday evening, September 2, at 8 o'clock. Members of the 1940 high school graduating class and all college students are cordially invited to attend.

Those who plan to attend are requested to telephone either 435, 7973 or 66, in order that the committee in charge will know the approximate number of guests.

Personals

Mrs. Callie McAfee has returned from an extended visit with relatives in Houston.

Will Ray Long of Dublin returned today to his home from a short stay here.

Local Operators Own 90 Per Cent of Wells Here

"Over 90 per cent of all the producing wells of the west-central Texas district are owned by independent operators, most of whom — particularly the owners of the "stripper" or sub-marginal wells — live in the district. Many of these owners look after their properties themselves and do all of the work connected with producing them.

"Even by doing all of their own work, a large number of the owners of "stripper" wells are able to under present costs of production and the low price being received for their oil, to make only a very moderate living.

"Many of the operators of the small "stripper" wells report to the WCTO&GA that if they were to attempt to figure a return on the investment, they have in their properties, they would show considerable losses on their operations.

"Examples of the small return from the majority of the producing oil wells of the district are found in every county. Among these is one individual who lives on the producing properties he owns and operates and has a total of 41 producing wells. From these wells, he recovers 28 barrels per day on each day he is allowed to operate.

"Another concern operates 182 wells on 17 separate leases and produces 122 barrels per day.

"Still another operating unit owns 213 wells scattered over 24 leases and produces from all of these wells a total of 137 barrels per day.

"The two larger concerns, of course, employ men to look after the properties. The individual who owns and operates his own 41 wells does all of the work himself.

"Records of concerns operating the larger groups of producers show that after they pay one-eighth of all the money received from sale of the oil, as royalty to landowners, and pay wages to pumpers and lease men, and an average of $55.00 per well, state, county, and school ad valorem taxes, and pay the state gross production tax, social security taxes, unemployment insurance taxes, and the other direct governmental levies a net profit for twelve months operation of all of the wells owned by these two companies is realized amounting to $110.50 per year per well.

"This net is before anything has been set aside to apply on retiring capital investment, or to take care of replacements and repairs to the pumping equipment and other machinery and supplies necessary to produce the wells.

CISCO JUNIOR COLLEGE TO OPEN ON SEPT. 9

ADDS 2 YEARS TO COURSES OF CISCO SCHOOLS

Former Randolph Property Acquired as College Location

Organized as a part of the Cisco Public School system, the Cisco Junior college will open for its first term on September 9. The college will be the result of more than a year of intensive effort preceded by several years of vision. It will represent "two more stories" of educational opportunity built upon a fine public school system which today has extended its influence far beyond the boundaries of the Cisco district, providing first class public school education for many hundreds of boys and girls who are transported to and from school on a fleet of buses. The same sort of transportation will enable these students to continue their education in the junior college, living at home meanwhile and saving several hundreds of dollars annually.

The old Randolph college property on College Hill in north Cisco has been acquired by the Cisco schools as the site of the college. This property, consisting of a main, or administration building, and a dormitory for boys, affords ample accommodations for the school. A sum of $4,000 has been raised by Cisco business men to equip the college with laboratory and library sufficient to meet state requirements in this respect. Other requirements will be met so that full recognition will be assured for all work done in the college.

Tuition per year has been placed at an extremely low figure.

HIGH RATING ENJOYED BY SCHOOLS HERE

1940-41 Term to Be Opened on September Ninth

The Cisco public schools will open their doors on September 9 for a term which promises to be one of the most successful in many years of successful operation. Besides the students from the Cisco Independent School district proper, the local schools will serve scholastics of 17 outlying common school districts with which contracts have been made.

Students from these districts are transported to and from Cisco on a fleet of buses which thread an area covering more than one-third of Eastland county, bringing students to the schools in the morning and taking them home at night. A fine system of lateral roads makes possible this service. The Cisco schools enjoy a rating as high as it is possible for public schools to achieve, being fully accredited by the All-Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. They have held this rating for many years and were returned to the approved list last spring without criticism.

Tax Increase Would Close Stripper Wells

Any appreciable increase in the state gross production tax on oil would run the cost of producing the "stripper" wells of west-central Texas so high that it would be impossible for the owners to continue to operate many of them, a report by the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas association asserts.

In the opinion of numerous conservative men who are well acquainted with the returns from the "stripper" wells of west-central Texas, should a 5-cent per barrel increase in the state tax be imposed on the production from these wells, at least 50 per cent of the 8,611 sub-marginal wells of the district would be abandoned and plugged, they claimed.

Such action would not only cause the returns from the territory from these wells to be cut at least in half, but it would also serve as a serious deterrent to many operators in the contemplated drilling of more wells in the area, the survey declared. Other statements made include:

"The sub-marginal wells in west-central Texas, at their present allowable, are producing approximately 533,000 barrels per month. This adds up to an excess of 6,400,000 barrels per year. Approximately that many dollars are realized from the production of these "stripper" wells.

"Out of this sum, the land-owners of the district are being paid $2,750 per day in royalty. This aggregates $800,000 per year. Payroll of the 3,500 men employed in looking after these small producers amounts to $283,000 per month, or $3,400,000 per year. The total of these two items is $4,200,000.

"An increase in the state tax of as much as 5 cents per barrel would, without any doubt, cut this total of royalty and wage disbursements now being paid by the "stripper" wells in this district in half. On top of that, these small wells are paying taxes to the state, counties, and schools amounting to over $750,000 a year. A 5-cent per barrel increase in the gross production tax would in reality cause a decrease in the tax receipts of the state and various local political subdivisions. A 5-cent per barrel increase on the total production of the "stripper" wells would amount to around $320,000.

"That much of an increase would result in at least half of the total annual production being abandoned. This would, as a result, cut in half the $750,000 in taxes now being paid by these wells. It can be seen that if such action were to occur, the total tax receipts from the "stripper" wells of west-central Texas would decrease by not less than $55,000 per year. In other words, a 5-cent per barrel increase in the state tax would amount to the state's confiscating at least half of the "stripper" wells of this district. This would cause the loss of barrels of oil that would be discovered if these wells were kept on production."

Cowboys Open 1940 Grid Term Sept. 3

ABILENE, Aug. 28 (Spe).—To begin his sixth season as head football coach at his alma mater, Coach Frank Kimbrough will call candidates for the 1940 Hardin-Simmons university Cowboys grid machine together for the first fall workout on September 3.

With a nine-game schedule coming up that includes inter-sectional games with foes as remote as Loyola university in Los Angeles, and Catholic university in Washington, D. C., the head rancher will point at once to the season's opener, a home game with Daniel Baker college, here on September 14.

Though Coach Kimbrough is customarily shy on premature optimism, he sees an eleven this year "with a better balanced offense, and more reserve strength."

In five years at H-SU, where he was a playing star of the mid-twenties, Coach Kimbrough, whose "little" brothers are Jarrin, John, and Jack, at Texas A. and M., has compiled a record of 38 wins, 8 defeats, and 3 ties, for a percentage of 826. Last year the Cowboys won seven of nine, with one tie and one loss.

The Cowboys, the H-SU head mentor said, are due to come up with a "sounder running game" to mix with the passing threats of the touchdown twins, L. B. Russell and Co-Captain Owen Goodnight, and the 150-pound sophomore flash, Tommy Chadwick.

NYA and Library Projects to Be Sponsored Again

An NYA project and a WPA library project will be sponsored in the Cisco public schools again this year as in past years. Supt. R. N. Cluck announced this week.

The NYA is for assistance of boys and girls who could not attend high school without this employment, he explained. The WPA project makes it possible to keep the school libraries in good repair. This project is carried on

400 Expected For Sheep and Goat Day Here

More than four hundred sheep and goat raisers of Eastland county are expected to attend the educational program at Lake Cisco on Friday, September 6, according to Elmo V. Cook, county agent, who reported much interest being shown by livestock raisers, farmers, and others who either raise sheep and goats or have suitable brush and pasture land for sheep and goats. Judging by the number of sheep and goat owners in Eastland county now, as compared with a year ago, and the large attendance at the county sheep and goat day on the Terrell ranch last year, Cook's estimate of attendance of four hundred is low.

The program will start at 9:30 a. m., and will be held in the Lions club park near the Lake Cisco swimming pools. A program of talks and demonstrations will be given by W. R. Nisbet, sheep and goat specialist of the A. & M. extension service; W. H. Dameron, superintendent of the Sonora Ranch Experiment station; A. K. Mackey, secretary of the Texas Goat and Sheep Raisers association; W. I. Glass, district agent, extension service; R. Beal Pumphrey, buyer of mutton goats, and Dr. R. H. Hodges, sheep and goat raiser. The meeting will end about 4 p. m.

The second annual Eastland county sheep and goat day is being sponsored by the county sheep and goat raisers' association in cooperation with the Cisco chamber of commerce. Officers of the association are R. H. Hodges, president, G. E. Henry, vice president, and Elmo V. Cook, secretary-treasurer.

Barbecued chevon will be served at noon. The committee on arrangements is Ed Huestis, J. L. Thornton, T. G. Caudle, F. E. Harrell, G. P. Mitcham and R. W. Manell.

Maderia island, popular British winter haven 600 miles southwest of Gibraltar, has an area equal to that of the city of New York—310 square miles.

through the county library project. High school students will fill out applications for NYA work after the schools start, he said. Large numbers of students otherwise unable to do so, have been able to attend the Cisco high school as a result of this program.

Two Cisco Teachers Earn M. A. Degrees

Fourteen master of arts degrees, earned with completion of requirements at the summer session at Hardin-Simmons university, were conferred Saturday as the 14 west Texas educators completed research studies in a variety of fields.

The total comprises a record amount completed of graduated study at any H-SU session, Dr. R. A. Collins, summer session director, said.

Two Cisco teachers to earn their M. A. degrees are Ocie L. Stamey, high school principal, whose thesis study presented "A Suggested Course for Government in the High School," and Mrs. Ora Jones Kirkin, seventh grade instructor, whose thesis analyzed "Suggested Remedial Drills for the Correction of Common Grammatical Errors."

Warns Hunters Not to Confuse Regulations

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (Sp.)—While changes in migratory bird hunting regulations were few, the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission is warning sportsmen to become familiar with the new regulations and not to get them confused.

The greatest confusion is likely to come from the shooting hours on ducks and doves. Under the new federal regulations, with which Texas laws confirm, duck hunting may now start at sunrise and must end at 4 p. m. Dove hunters can start shooting at sunrise, but must quit at sunset.

Too, there is only one duck season in Texas, it opening at sunrise, November 2, and ending at 4 p. m., December 31, but there are two dove seasons and some special regulations. The dove season will be from September 1 to October 31 in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Demion, Collin, Hunt and all counties north of them, and Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Ellis, Delta and Frank counties. In the remainder of the state the season runs from September 15 to November 15, with the Texas-Mexican railway, however, only four days of shooting each week during the

Graham Man Held In Fatal Accident

Joe Hayes, 18, of Graham, Texas, was charged with murder without malice as the result of a high-way collision near Morton Valley about 12:45 Monday afternoon in which Dan Tankersley of Morton Valley was killed and Oscar Fisher of Morton Valley was seriously injured. Fisher was in the Eastland hospital.

The accident occurred when a small "pickup" car driven by Hays collided with a wagon in which Tankersley and Fisher were riding.

The open season is allowed—on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays—but this exception does not apply to the counties of Webb and Zapata.

The bag limit on doves, the executive secretary points out, has been cut from fifteen to twelve, but remains at ten on ducks. However, the limit on geese is now three instead of four, as it was last year. The possession limit is 20 on ducks and six on geese.

The closed season has been maintained by federal regulation on wood ducks, Ross' geese and swans. No hunter may kill more than three canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads and ruddy ducks or have more than six in possession at any one time.

Hunters are also reminded that their guns must be plugged to hold not more than three shells. A federal duck stamp must be obtained by persons hunting migratory waterfowl in addition to the regular state hunting license.

Women Figure In West Texas Fair Oct. 7-12

Women's interest will be amply catered to in the West Texas fair in Abilene, October 7 to 12. A large part of the fat catalogue, now in final stages of printing, is devoted to the women's department. Within this department are many subdivisions intended to bring women to the fair from all parts of west Texas.

A new decision within the women's department which will probably draw entries from men and children as well as women is the hobby show.

Worthwhile prizes are being offered in the hobby show for exhibits of hobby collections, including Indian relics, natural science collections, china, glassware, pottery, metal ware, dolls and miscellaneous.

Women who sew will be interested in textile and sewing divisions. Sewing exhibits will be divided into separate classes for children, girls under 18, and ladies. Other competition will be offered in quilts and bedspreads, rugs, laces and embroideries, and needlepoint.

Those whose interest lies in the kitchen will find a class of competition for any kind of work in which they excel. Competition will be offered in bread, cakes, cookies, canned fruits and vegetables, pickles and preserves.

Changing daily, but presenting a constant profusion of beauty will be exhibits of cut flowers and plants. Prizes will be offered for various types of cut flowers and pot plants.

Art and photography exhibits will fall in the three classes—professionals, non-professionals, and for children under 16 years of age.

Of top interest to fair visitors will be exhibits of antiques of all sorts.

So many prizes are being offered at the West Texas fair that they cannot be listed except in the catalogue. The catalogue will be mailed upon request to the Fair Association office, Abilene.

Junior College-

Students will pay $45 per semester, or $90 for the year, and this sum may be paid in monthly installments.

Seven departments will be offered.

H. R. Garrett is vice president and dean, with supervision over the actual operation of the school. Conservative estimates of enrollment range between 75 and 100 for the first year.

The college will offer two years of college work to an annual crop of high school graduates estimated at more than 800 who are within easy transportation distance of Cisco and of whom only about 25 per cent now attend college.

Collegians Appreciate Old-Fashioned Dance

DENTON, Aug. 29 (Sp.)—College jitterbugs at the North Texas State Teachers college are not too modern to appreciate the old-fashioned square dancing handed down by their forefathers, and square dancing is likely to become a regular part of the Wednesday evening recreation program on the campus if students continue the demand for it.

Several times this summer the physical education department of the college has sponsored old-fashioned folk dances with old-time fiddle music to enthusiastic audiences of over 500 students and faculty members.

The latest of the square dances was given Friday night, August 9, with dances called and music furnished by E. O. Rogers, supervisor of Ellis county recreational project, Waxahachie, and his square dance group.

College Youth Prefers Air Corps Training

DENTON, Aug. 29 (Sp.)—The air corps was the choice of the largest number of North Texas State Teachers college students in a recent campus survey conducted by the Campus Chat, student newspaper, to determine what forms of military service students would choose should it be necessary to make a selection. Ranking second in this survey was the coastal guard.

Among branches of national defense preferred by students were the navy, infantry band, chemical warfare and quartermaster's division.

That aviation was the most modern way of fighting and that there would be a good job waiting for the retiring flier after the war was over were the reasons given most often for joining the air service.

"You either don't come back or you come back in one piece," was the decision of one student. Adventure and excitement in the air were two things that interested many of those questioned.

Alabamans Acquire Texas Oil Leases

CENTER, Texas, Aug. 28.—Assignment of oil and gas leases by David Donohogue of Fort Worth, receiver of Redditt & Gray, to the Southern Production company of Birmingham, Ala., was filed in Shelby county clerk's office Monday, the stipulated price for approximately 3,300 acres in the Joachin area, owned by Pickering Lumber company, being $30,587. Donohogue was named receiver for the Redditt & Gray holdings in April of last year. The sale has been approved by the court and the new officers plan to comply immediately with the conditions of the leases given by the Pickering company. These call for the resumption of activity by Sept. 13.

GERALD MANN REPORTS UPON 'STEWARDSHIP'

Declaring his determination to continue to follow the law in the administration of the affairs of the attorney general's office, Gerald Mann reached Cisco Monday morning on his "stewardship tour" of the state.

Speaking before a crowd at Seventh and Main streets, Mann stated "two years ago when you elected me I promised that I would stay on the job. I promised that I would build a real attorney general's office, and that so long as I was attorney general the laws of our state would be enforced.

"I have stayed on the job. The biggest corporation and the humblest citizen have been given a square deal by the attorney general, but both have had to play the game according to the rules."

Attorney General Mann praised the lawyers and others composing his staff and said "we work as a team. It is not the man who carries the ball that does all the work. I could accomplish very little but for the able, loyal support of those men about me."

Described Duties
The speaker described the duties and responsibilities of the attorney general's department and said they have written more than 2,500 legal opinions during the past 18 months in giving advice to the heads of the various state departments, agencies, institutions and other state and county officials.

"And we are proud of our court record," he added. "We have been before the supreme court of the United States five times and have been victorious four times. We have been in the supreme court of Texas 19 times and have won 17 times, and in the courts of civil appeals we have had 78 cases and have won 60 of them."

Mann reviewed numerous lawsuits he has filed and successfully prosecuted in enforcing the anti-trust, cigarette tax, chain store tax, anti-pollution, and other state statutes, and asserted "we have put out of business forty racketeering insurance companies, companies that sold policies, collected the money, and then when a death occurred, refused or were unable to pay off."

"And I promised you two years ago that the attorney general's office would not be a political office, but a law office. We do not file political lawsuits or write political opinions. You may rest assured that when we file a suit we have made an investigation and believe that we have the evidence."

One Ambition
"I have only one ambition and that is to do the job well that you have given me to do."

"Two years ago I told you that I made no promise to any man or set of men. That condition

Russell Wins Congress Race By 3,089 Votes

Practically complete returns from Saturday's primary voting in the 18th congressional district Saturday gave Judge Sam Russell of Jewettville a majority of 3,089 votes over Cong. Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland in the race for reelection to congress. Russell received 27,589 votes in unofficial counts returns to 24,495 for Garrett.

Judge Garrett was seeking his third term in congress.

Another, new congressman was sent to Washington Saturday from a Texas district. He is Eugene W. Wolley of Shamrock, who defeated Deskin Wells, newspaper publisher of Wellington, for the place which the veteran Marvin Jones, named to the United States court of claims, so long held. He will represent the 18th Texas district.

In the race for the state senate from the 24th district, in which Eastland county is located, Joan Lee Smith of Throckmorton defeated Omar Burleson of Anson for the place formerly held by Wilbourne Collier of Eastland.

Smith took a majority of approximately 1,800 votes in incomplete returns. Eastland county gave him a majority of about that number. The vote by counties, with all but Eastland, Fisher and Jones complete, was:

Callahan	1,325	1,608
Eastland	2,363	4,029
Fisher	1,408	1,120
Jones	3,556	810
Nolan	2,095	1,732
Shackelford	539	1,406
Stephens	1,018	2,480
Taylor	4,819	3,031
Haskell	1,275	2,699
Mitchell	1,403	1,470
Scurry	858	1,547
Throckmorton	593	1,054

Totals 21,162 22,977

In the two state races, Olin R. Culbertson of Hillsboro defeated Pierce Brooks of Dallas with 52.7 per cent of the votes on the basis of incomplete returns accounting for approximately 98 per cent of the state's vote. He had 458,061 to 410,656 for Brooks on the final tabulation late Saturday night. Further tabulations today merely added to these totals.

In the race for chief justice of the Texas supreme court, James P. Alexander of Waco was assured of election over H. S. Luttimore of Fort Worth with approximately the same percentage as Culbertson received in the railroad commission race.

In the only race involving an Eastland county office, County Judge W. S. Adamson was returned to office by a large majority over C. S. Eldridge.

News From County 4-H Clubs

Ranger Boys Doing Good Work
A recent visit to the 4-H demonstrations being carried out by the Ranger club boys revealed that most of the boys are doing outstanding work, according to a statement made today by A. C. Pratt, asst. county agent. In the three 4-H clubs in Ranger, there are more than 60 boys enrolled who are carrying out demonstrations chiefly in swine, dairy cattle, beef cattle, and poultry production.

Thomas Fox, Jr., has purchased and carefully raised a registered G. I. C. boar, of which there are only a few in the county. This animal is typical of the breed and is being used for community service.

H. O. Woods, Jr. and Lee Greer have their beef calves purchased and part of the feed they will use in feeding the calves for their demonstration.

Roy McCleskey, who exhibited some good breeding Herefords in the Ranger Livestock Show last spring, is ready for the Eastland Fair where he plans to exhibit more animals than he did last spring.

Breland Wallace is doing good work with his young gilt that he plans to keep for a brood sow.

These are typical examples of work being done by the Ranger 4-H boys, stated Pratt, who also said the spirit of cooperation

Pioneer Boys Make Progress
4-H boys in the Pioneer community have made remarkable progress for their first year in club work, as observed by A. C. Pratt, asst. county agent of Eastland county while visiting demonstrations in that community on August 15. Even though their local club leader, J. W. Holcomb has been seriously ill most of the year, the club boys have their demonstrations and records in fine condition. H. A. Tunnell, president of the Pioneer boys' club is setting a good example in leadership and loyalty to 4-H club work.

Club Boy Doing Good Work
Robert Brown Jr., 10-year-old 4-H club boy in the Desdemona club, is going to take advantage of 4-H club work to grow into the ranching business. Being quite a rancher in his own right with several head of fine cattle on his
