Army's Need for More Nurses Is Pressing Now

An urgent need for additional nurses to be commissioned in the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma and Colorado, as many military activities have been concentrated there with troops from northern states undergoing winter training. The principal source of nurses for the army nurses' corps reserve is among those who have registered for such service with the Red Cross. This source, however, is not adequate in the present emergency, and in order to meet it the secretary of war has authorized the commissioning as second lieutenants of any nurses who meet army standards. Active service as a reserve nurse must be on a voluntary basis for at least one year. To be eligible nurses must be single, between 21 and 40 years of age, and able to meet the required standards of physical fitness. They must be graduates of approved schools of nursing and registered as provided for in state laws. Only American citizens are acceptable. The duties of army nurses are very similar to the duties of civilian hospital nurses. The initial rate of pay is $70 per month, plus full maintenance and travel expenses. To meet this problem, Miss Jane Murray and Miss Rosa Schladweiler, nursing consultants for the American Red Cross, are now visiting all nursing schools, hospital centers and Red Cross chapters in this corps area, for the purpose of obtaining additional applications for duty as nurses. A special section on nursing has been established in the office of the surgeon, Eighth corps area, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where applications for service and information are receiving daily attention.

14 Selectees Are Honored At Dinner

Fourteen of the 29 draftees who reported for military training under the selective service act were honored at an impressive dinner program sponsored by the Cisco Lions club at the Laguna hotel Monday night. John Turner, chairman of the Eastland county local board, was the principal speaker in a program dominated by the patriotic theme and featured by a beautiful flag ritual. Toastmaster for the evening was H. R. (Pop) Garrett, commander of the Cisco VFW post and a member of the Lions club. He was presented by E. L. Jackson, president of the club after the singing of America following the dinner. Garland Nance, president of the Rotary club, spoke for that organization. Music was by the Schaeffer-Hilton orchestra, with Ray Judia at the piano. At the beginning of the program a spotlight centered upon a large silver American flag, waved by a concealed electric fan, as the gathering stood in the otherwise darkened room to sing "America." The same ceremony was carried out during the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," which closed the program. A sound film of the national anthem was shown during the singing, the audience joining in.

February Army Call for Eight in County

Eight Eastland county youths will be called for Tuesday, February 11, in the selective service military training plan, according to officials of the local draft board. Of this quota, four volunteers have already been accepted. It was stated, leaving only four to be inducted. It was hoped that the number would be completed in volunteers. ## Garner Completes 38 Years Of Legislative Work

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—John Nance Garner, leaving a borrowed silk hat on the seat behind him, stepped to the rostrum of the inaugural platform Monday to swear in Henry Agard Wallace as vice president and thus wind up his own 38-year career in the nation's legislative halls. The smiling, shy Wallace spoke our loudly "I do" as the retiring vice president completed reading the 71-word oath in a clear, strong voice. The crowd cheered. Wallace smiled and bowed slightly. Garner, grinning broadly, stepped back to his seat and picked up the silk hat which he had borrowed from Bascom Timmons, Washington newspaper man, to complete his formal outfit for the day. That silk hat, anathema to the 72-year-old Garner, symbolized the hardy-comfortable day he spent in burning over the second-highest office in the nation to Wallace, 20 years his junior. First, Garner discovered that the two silk hats he owns were at his home in Uvalde, Texas. One of them he acquired on a trip around the world and is dubbed his "Oriental" topper. The other he bought.

Thomas E. Hardy, who has chaperoned vice presidents about Washington for 16 years, suggested diplomatically that he could rent a topper for $1.50. The outgoing vice president would not hear of it and Timmons, a long time friend, stepped into the breach. Timmons had, he said, a silk topper which Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and, like Garner, a Texan, had borrowed several years ago. If he could get it back, Timmons said, the vice president could wear it. Jones, informed of the situation, said he would be glad to part with the topper because someone else had given him one and he didn't need it any more.

Garner was not destined to be at ease in that particular silk hat, however. It was too small and fell off three times, once in church, where Garner complained audibly because the ushers kept the door door open too long and let a cold draft blow on him. The door had been opened to let in what Garner described succinctly as "the Roosevelt tribe."

1918 War Letter Just Translated

WACO, Jan. 23 (Sp). — The central powers had lost the war in 1918, and a member of the Austro-Hungarian army was writing to his sister and brother-in-law after the war's close. "The way the war came out was all to the good," he wrote, though it was his army that had been defeated. "Now," he rejoiced, "the Slovak people will again have their own schools." That letter, written in an American camp where the Slovak was held prisoner, had been given to an American soldier to be mailed. That soldier, William R. Malone of Brady, was unable to get the letter translated and, fearful that it contained military secrets, preserved it—along with a cigarette case, a photograph of the man and a citation ribbon. It was translated for the first time Tuesday, when Malone mailed it to Prof. Guy B. Harrison, curator of Baylor university's Texas history collection, who asked Dr. Sandor B. Kovacs, a Slovak member of the Baylor faculty, to read it. The material will be preserved in the history collection.

Youpon Holly Excellent For Texas Gardens

By VIRGIL McPHAIL
State Department of Agriculture

Of utmost importance at this time of year when most of us are thinking of touching up the home gardens and grounds is the fact that our native Texas shrubs are perhaps the finest type of landscape material available. They fit in with a more floral landscape arrangement, soften the "graveyard" effect of the more formal evergreens and are vigorous in growth, hardy, acclimated and require a minimum of attention and care.

The Youpon holly is perhaps the best known and most reliable of these native shrubs. Let us emphasize here that in this native shrub, as well as in all our native shrubs, the nursery grown specimens are greatly to be desired over forest grown plants. They have been reset several times in the nursery row and have developed a root system far more excellent than forest trees. They have been sprayed and treated and grown under expert supervision and are sold under the certification of the Texas state department of agriculture, which insures the quality and dependability of the shrubs. The forest tree peddler is unlicensed, is almost always a "bottlegger" of the product he is attempting to sell, is ignorant of the care and attention live plants must have if they are to succeed.

Youpon holly is a broadleaf evergreen, leaves are lustrous green above, paler beneath and the transparent red berries which are borne in great profusion, cling all through the winter. It will thrive in the shade as well as in sunny locations and is excellent for foundation plantings. It can be pruned to all shapes and sizes and with little pruning, will look well at all seasons of the year. It is immune to all known insect pests and plant disease.

Trimmed to globes or squares or pyramids or cones, the Youpon has no equal. At the same time there is no finer hedge plant to be found. It is apparently free from nematode infestations so common in the private family. The hedge requires little shearing, retains its uniformity, and is an excellent harbor for songbirds that feed upon the berries.

"Most certainly," Christopher said he replied.

BRUCE CATTON'S AMERICAN ROUNDUP

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT LIBERAL BLOC WINS 8-YEAR FIGHT TO PUT STRESS ON CONSUMPTION

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—An eight-year-old fight between liberals and conservatives in the Department of Agriculture is ending at last with the liberals winning all along the line.

Symbol of the liberals' victory is the retention of Claude Wickard as secretary of agriculture in the third-term cabinet.

In substance, the victory means a defeat for the AAA group, led by such men as AAA Administrator R. M. Evans and I. W. Dugan, head of AAA's southern division. The victors' leaders are Milo Perkins, head of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation; C. B. Baldwin, chief of the Farm Security Administration, and Howard Tolley, head of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The decision will mean less emphasis on crop restriction and more emphasis on measures to increase consumption—less of the AAA program and more of things like the stamp plan and the farm tenant program.

give cotton grow 73 cotton stamps rather than cash for making further reductions in cotton acreage—a measure aimed at increasing consumption of cotton goods at the same time that it cuts production of raw cotton, thereby biting into the surplus from both sides.

The argument between the two wings of the department dates back to the beginning of the New Deal. In the main, the conservative group stood for the theory that the farm problem could be solved by cutting production and keeping prices up. It has fought to retain agriculture's foreign markets, via export subsidies. In cutting domestic production, it has consciously or unconsciously followed the viewpoint of the large-scale farmer, the big plantation owner, the farming-i-a-business man.

"PURGE" REVERSED

FROM the start this brought about a scrap. The other group in the department protested that the AAA program was making the plight of the tenant and the share-cropper worse, that only a broadening of the domestic market offered any real hope, and that to insist on keeping the export market at all costs would ultimately raise hob with the nation's foreign policy.

Several years ago the conservatives triumphed, and there followed the famous "triple-A purge" in which such men as Jerome Frank and Gardner Jackson were ousted. But events played into the hands of the liberal bloc. The war helped kill the reliance on export markets. The existence today of a 14,000,000-bale cotton carry-over has stimulated the effort to broaden the domestic market. And with President Roosevelt giving his backing to Secretary Wickard in the latter's siding with the liberals, the reversal of the conservatives' victory in the "purge" is about complete.

FIGHT GOES WAY BACK

TWO actions by Secretary Wickard recently gave the tip-off on the victory. One was his public statement urging farmers to raise more hogs to take advantage of rising pork prices. This was heresy to the conservatives in the department, who argued it was simply a means of knocking down pork prices all over again.

Another was Wickard's announcement of a supplemental cotton program, which in effect will

March of Dimes Is Sponsored By A. L. Auxiliary

The American Legion auxiliary will sponsor the local "March of Dimes Parade," in connection with the birthday celebration in the national fight against infantile paralysis.

At the auxiliary's regular monthly meeting Monday night, Mrs. Laila Smart was appointed chairman of the project. Containers will be placed in several business houses in town, and those who are interested in seeing the work of the foundation go forward, are urged to drop dimes into these containers.

The funds derived from this campaign will be given to the Eastland county board, of which

Charles J. Kleiner is chairman, and half of the money will be sent to the national fund and half retained for use in this community.

Ciscoans Attend Sunday School Meet

The Baptist Associational Sunday school conference was held at the First Baptist church at Eastland Monday night, with the Rev. Levi Price of Gorman, president, in charge. The group, a new organization, meets once every three months to discuss improvements and standards of Sunday schools in this association.

Attending from the Cisco church were the Rev. Judson Prince, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Poe and F. E. Shepard.

Some of us season our lives so highly that we don't get the taste of good old simple life itself.

Selectees Off to First Phase Of Military Work

The 29 young Eastland county men chosen in the first call of the selective service military program, left Eastland by a chartered bus Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock to be inducted into the first phase of one year's army training. After final check-up in Dallas, the group will be sent to Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, where they will remain six weeks, later being sent to one of the army's large training camps.

Wendell Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Russell, was named leader of the group by the local board. He will be in charge of the boys until they reach point of induction. He will be assisted by J. D. Pittman, also of Cisco.

A large number of Cisco citizens were present to see the young men off, and gaiety was added to the otherwise solemn occasion by the appearance of the Eastland high school band.

Those who left today were J. T. Yancey, Charlie Grady Buntin, Chester C. Hogan, Woodrow Cecil Wilson, Lee Alton Harbin, J. D. Pittman, Hubert Bryan Buchanan, Candido de Los Santos, Bernard Williams, Carl Wendell, Billy Ray Lyerla, Winfield Allen Craddock, Jesse Arnold Ainsworth, Orville Hughes, Coe Owen Garrett, Claude Odell Hogan, Avery Darnell Holt, Roy Alton Callarman, Elmer Bibby, Raleigh Edward Darnell, Joe Hugo Bustamantes, Truman Rufus Bean, Miles Gardner Ervin, Adolph Milton Montgomery, Wendell Harold Russell, John Russell Gage, Clyde Clifton King, Elvy David Clark, Cornelius Parker Hines and Willie Fisher Hunt.

There will be revival services each evening and at 11 a. m. at the rural church during the stay of the Carsons at Romney.

Quail Shooting In Texas Spotty

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (Sp)—Texas quail hunters had varied luck during the season which just closed, but biologists of the state Game, Fish and Oyster commission believe hunting was somewhat better than it was last year.

Excessive rainfall during the nesting season in some areas cut the quail crop, biologists and game wardens reported to the executive secretary of the game commission. An example of the spottiness of the quail hunting, which, of course, cannot be expected to be good near the large centers of population due to the large number of hunters, is contained in reports to the Austin office of the game department. A bobwhite shortage was reported in east central Texas, where there was excessive rainfall in the spring. Hunting was reported as good in north central Texas, but a shortage was reported in south central Texas. Good hunting was reported, however, from Tyler north and east to the Louisiana line.

Biologists of the game department are working with hundreds of Texas farmers and with other state and federal services in setting up fenced areas in which quail will have a sufficient supply of food and cover, which are vitally necessary for quail survival. Landowners are being urged to leave fence rows weedy and many of them are sowing seeds of plants which produce winter food for quail along fence rows and gullies, land which cannot be used for other crops. The work has not been carried on sufficiently long to make quail hunting excellent in Texas, but game managers believe it is doing considerable good.

Lawson Appointed Secretary of State

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—Governor O'Daniel Tuesday announced appointment of William J. Lawson, his private secretary for two years, as secretary of state, succeeding M. O. Flowers, whose term expired.

Governor O'Daniel chose Lawson as his secretary early in his first term. At that time Lawson was secretary of the State Parks Board.

Flowers, a Lockhart resident, was named secretary of state after Governor O'Daniel's original appointee to that post, Thomas L. Beauchamp, was appointed to the court of criminal appeals to fill a vacancy. Judge Beauchamp was elected for a full term on the appeals bench last November.

Assert the Brotherhood of Man!

THE very words, "brotherhood of man," sound old-fashioned in the world of today.

It is true that no age and no country, perhaps, ever accepted the phrase with complete literalness in every implication. But at least lip-service was given to the ideal, at least there was a sense of shame in falling short of that glistering goal.

Today, however, there are whole governments and systems based specifically on the rejection of this universal brotherhood, and entirely on the theory of "master race." We owe obedience and unflinching servitude, in times past, the brotherhood of man was an as yet unattained ideal, a shining goal from which men in their weakness fell short. Today, in large sections of the earth, the brotherhood of man is deliberately rejected.

WE of the United States just as deliberately reject the idea of a "master race." We believe in men, in individuals; that the least of them is still a man, and that the best of them can be no more than that. On this ground our forefathers took their stand, on this ground we stand today. We believe that ground is not only solid but holy ground.

The week of the birthday of Washington (Feb. 22-28) has been chosen this year for the annual Brotherhood Week sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and President Roosevelt has urged its observance "to purge our hearts of all intolerance and to build all our citizens in a common loyalty."

As never before, this Brotherhood Week should be marked by Americans to show the world how utterly we reject racial doctrines which are to us false and obnoxious. There is, thank God, in the United States no dominant group which merely "tolerates" others as a grudging duty. Every group has its contribution to make to America, and our strength lies in the combination of them all under a common urge to create here a better society.

SOME time during this Brotherhood Week it would be a fine thing if every person in the United States would read to himself in quiet, or aloud to another, these words from the call for the week's observance:

"We affirm the inherent dignity of every human being of whatever blood or creed. And, beyond all the divisions of our imperfect society, we assert the brotherhood of man."

People get there faster and safer if they hurry slowly.

South Is Land of Opportunity For America

The south is America's great new industrial frontier! This is the message of the leading article in the latest issue of "The Advertiser," national magazine of the advertising business, and the statement comes from an authoritative source. The author is Allen T. Preyer, executive vice president of the Vicks Chemical company, former chairman of the board of the Association of National Advertisers, and a business man of national prominence.

"The south has advanced industrially while other sections of the nation have stood still or declined," declares Mr. Preyer. "Government statistics on manufactures, from 1900 to 1937, reveal a steady and sustained progress for the south. The impetus of this progress, backed by new and increasing industrial opportunities, was sufficient to carry the region through the recent depression to 1937, with a loss of only three per cent of the value of its products from 1929. The loss by the rest of the nation, on the other hand, amounted to 14 per cent."

Why southern business weathered the depression better than the nation as a whole, Mr. Preyer can state from experience. His own firm, the Vicks chemical company, of Greensboro, North Carolina, chose the hard economic times of 1921 to bring out two entirely new products, Vicks Vapo-rub for nose and throat, and Vicks medicated cough drops, supplementing the well-known Vicks Vapo-rub salve. With Vicks, as with many another aggressive southern business, sales and pay-rolls rose steadily throughout the depression.

"The ten-year period just closed (1930-1940) has represented a decade of progress for the south, for it has brought numerous beneficial readjustments," says Mr. Preyer. Especially important is the widespread diversification of industry, which has proved a stabilizing influence. Among the industries that have brought diversification and expansion in the south are meat pulp and paper, rayon, petroleum refining, other heavy industries and textiles.

In proving "that industry is now Dixie's honor," Mr. Preyer points out that more than $100,000,000 was spent in general industries for new plants and modernization in the south—a sum which was $60,000,000 greater than that spent in all the rest of the country combined.

"The industrial strides made by the south have been reflected in the whole economic life of the region," says the writer. "The aggregate resources of southern

STORIES IN STAMPS

Augustus Caesar Made Rome World's Capital

THE glory and power of ancient Rome, which modern Italy would restore, was first achieved under the first Roman emperor, Augustus Caesar, pictured on the stamp above. Dictator Mussolini has kept the memory of Augustus fresh in the minds of modern Italians with several stamp issues. One set of 10 values and designs commemorated the bi-millenary of his rule.

But Augustus had more luck in Greek and Egyptian campaigns than in Rome. After the assassination of Julius Caesar, Augustus, as Caesar's heir, came into power. With Mark Antony and Lepidus, he defeated Brutus and Cassius in eastern provinces. Lepidus was removed and Antony and Augustus ruled.

Later Antony joined Cleopatra in war against Rome. Augustus was victorious and became sole ruler of the Roman world.

The first emperor was a builder as well as a conqueror. He made Rome a city of marble, encouraged arts and literature. After his death in 14 A. D. the Romans honored him as a god.

banks in 1938, for example, increased by more than six hundred million dollars over 1931. The total federal internal revenue payments increased from $22,166,000 in 1931 to $1,337,516,442 in 1938. Life insurance in force rose during this period by nearly four hundred million dollars, and total wages paid in industry increased by some one-half billion dollars.

"What lies ahead for the south? There are definite signs that even now point the way to new and expanding fields of development. Again it appears that pulp manufacture—newsprint from southern pine, and sulphate pulp from the region's $200,000,000 rayon industry—will be the explosive spark to set off the new advance."

Development of these new fields not only for the south, but for the economic life of the whole nation

WTCC Message Congratulates Gov. O'Daniel

ABILENE, Jan. 23 (Sp.)—The West Texas chamber of commerce sent hearty commendation and congratulations to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel on the good government section of his message to the Texas legislature.

The chief executive asked the two houses for legislation encompassing budgetary and other fiscal reforms in the state government. "All squarely in line with our organization's recommendations," said J. S. Bridwell, WTCC president. Bridwell continued, "are contained and specifically recommended in the good government program put forward by the West Texas chamber of commerce following our Big Spring convention and carried to our people in a series of regional meetings. Our program and plan, containing all of the points stressed in the executive's message, are brought to a head by a bill by Rep. Joe Humphrey of Abilene. The bill has been drawn and is ready for submission when the organization of the lower house has been completed."

"We are gratified to hear the governor stress the need for these badly needed administrative changes, such as a more effective budget control system with a complete executive budget and creation of a new post of budget director, such as independent post-auditing of state expenditures and making the state auditor an appointee and agent of the legislature; a merit system for employment of state personnel; and broadened responsibilities and leadership for both the executive and the legislature."

"Another high official of the WTCC is Judge Jas. D. Hamlin of Farwell. The WTCC's campaign for reorganized budgetary and financing practices in the state government was launched under leadership of Hamlin's commission on public expenditure. Hamlin said: "The Humphrey bill, if enacted now, will fully meet the governor's desires as expressed in his message Thursday. We believe the bill will meet the desires of the taxpayers of Texas, in whose interest—for the elimination of duplications, inefficiencies and wasteful spending—the West Texas chamber of commerce plan was devised and from which the bill was drawn."

"Our measure has attracted an immense public showing. We have endorsements by boards of directors of more than one hundred organizations, many of statewide scope, and of taxpayers' groups. We believe sentiment for enactment of the Humphrey bill will

A Dollar Buys Five Times As Much Electric Service Today as in 1928

IN spite of the big reduction in electric rates in recent years, many folks say their bills have not been reduced. In many homes that is true because today people are using bigger lamp bulbs, they have radios, refrigerators, washing machines, and in many cases ranges and water heaters they didn't used to have. Their bills are about what they've always been, but today they get from twice to three or four times as much Electric Service for their money. For example, in 1928, $5 bought about 20 kilowatt-hours but today it buys 100 kilowatt-hours, or five times as much for your money.

Cisco College Success Told in Magazine Story

Recognition of the Cisco Junior college is given this week by "West Texas Today," monthly magazine of the West Texas chamber of commerce, in an article appearing on Page 21 of that periodical.

The article, illustrated with pictures of Supt. R. N. Cluck, O. L. Stamey, high school principal and college dean, and H. R. Garrett, college vice president and registrar, briefly reviews the organization of the school and its success in securing first class rating in its first year.

The work of the chamber of commerce in raising a fund for equipping the new college and the purchase of the former Randolph college properties to house the school are mentioned.

Following is the story:

"West Texas' newest educational institution is at Cisco, whose junior college was officially opened on September 9, when class work for the 100 pupils began. The formal opening ceremonies and dedication of the school were held on the college grounds September 17. Confirmation of its affiliation was received December 22.

"Through the efforts of the Cisco chamber of commerce and the cooperation of the board of trustees for the city's public schools, the former Randolph Junior college buildings were purchased for the purpose of housing the college units of the local public school system.

"Recognized as an ideal location for a college site, the old Randolph properties will undergo a complete renovation. An extensive landscaping program is already in progress on the 40-acre campus.

"In selecting the executive faculty for Cisco Junior college, the board of trustees designated R. N. Cluck, superintendent of the city schools, to serve as president. O. L. Stamey, high school principal, was made dean of the college. Vice-president and registrar is H. R. Garrett, also a member of the high school faculty.

"Surprised to learn of the number enrolled for the first term of a new municipal junior college was Dr. E. H. Herford, chief examiner for the state board of college examiners. It is of considerable interest to note the early accrediting of the youngest of this state's municipal colleges. By way of further comment, the Cisco public school system is serving as 'received' for rural school children out of 18 separate school districts. Recognizing that a large number of these students in this territory were unable, for various reasons, to attend colleges or universities in the state, the local chamber of commerce directors agreed to provide educational facilities for all who might wish to achieve a higher phase of training.

"The first steps having been satisfactorily completed, through the raising of funds, the faculty of the separate departments in the school have worked diligently to create and maintain the standards of a junior college of the first rank.

"An interesting branch of the college is the CAA flying school, which has been in operation some months under the management of Reg Robbins and his staff of instructors. Twenty students have been enrolled in this branch of the school and satisfactory progress is being made by the entire group."

"Seven Keys to Wisdom" Offered By Professor

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (Sp.)—How's your memory? If you forget as easily as the average reader, but want to retain some of the vast information you encounter each day in newspapers, magazines, and books, try these "seven keys to wisdom," suggested by Dr. B. F. Holland, University of Texas professor, and expert on reading.

(1) Intend to remember. Read with the intention of remembering rather than of amusing yourself.

(2) Read according to topics. Follow all war news, all defense plans, all state legislation, rather than jumping from a story on one topic to one on another.

(3) Quiz yourself. Ask yourself what you know of a topic before you start reading and then after you have read.

(4) Study all pictures, maps, graphic illustrations. If none is supplied, try drawing your own diagrams.

(5) Relate material to your own experiences. Ask how the story or article could affect you.

(6) Use newly acquired information socially. Discuss the topic with someone. Groups might work out their own information quizzes.

(7) Collect materials on topics. If you have a special interest, clip material from papers, magazines to make an information file.

11 Mid-Year Seniors Will Get Diplomas

Misses Gloria Graham and Rose Ann Woods, violinists, will play "Ave Maria," and Miss Billye Cole will sing "Thank God for a Garden." The invocation will be spoken by the Rev. Leslie Seymour, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Presentation of diplomas will follow the address of Justice Grissom.

Texas Payrolls Up 10 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (Sp.)—Texas payrolls last month were up 10 per cent above December, 1939, University of Texas statisticians report.

Exclusive of agriculture employment also gained over last year, up 5.4 per cent from the preceding December, the university's bureau of business research records show.

Employment was up 3 per cent, payrolls 4.5 per cent above November, 1940.

Manufacturing industries employed an estimated 140,419 workers and payrolls totaled $2,849,785 in December, the bureau reported.

OIL MAN DIES WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 23 (P)—E. C. Norwood, 55, veteran Northwest Texas drilling contractor and oil operator, died of a heart attack here Tuesday.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX No. 1 Gross Income Determines Liability

There are two arresting facts in the 1940 income tax law. First, the basis for determining liability for a return has been changed from net income to gross income.

Second, the exemptions have been lowered from $1,000 to $800 for a single person, and from $2,500 to $2,000 for a married person or head of a family.

Every citizen or resident of the United States must file an income tax return, if single, or not living with husband or wife, and his or her gross income is $800; or if married, and his or her gross income is $2,000; or if their aggregate gross income equals or exceeds $2,000.

It matters not what the net income of such persons may be, or if the return, by reason of allowable deductions, the personal exemption, or credit for dependents is nontaxable, the gross income of all such persons must be reported to the government.

Early Texans Listed For Santa Anna Prize

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (Sp.)—Texas once labored under its own purge list, records in the University of Texas library show.

Just before the Texas revolution broke out, the names of a handful of Texans were published as being on Santa Anna's black list and were held punishable by death.

Three of them were citizens of Stephen F. Austin's settlement, probably among the most peaceful of the early Texans.

Army Plays Delilah With Farmer Draftee

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 23 (P)—Ivan Barzella Heiderich isn't worried about becoming a draftee soldier except for one thing—he's never had his hair cut and that's something the army won't tolerate.

The 33-year-old Marietta, Okla., farmer arrived in town Wednesday for examination by an army induction board and greeted quite a stir with his shoulder-length blond curls.

"I'm going to protest," he announced. "I don't want to go in the first place. I don't want my hair cut. That's what started it. When I was a little boy I had beautiful curls and my mother wouldn't cut them.
