BROWN CAR SOUGHT IN MYSTERY DEATH

AUTO DRIVEN TO HOSPITAL WITH BODY

Stranger Drives Off When Nurse Finds Man Dead

State and local officers were on the hunt today for a 1940 brown four-door Chevrolet which figured last night in a death mystery that came to light at Eastland.

Shortly before midnight, Miss Hazel Alford, night nurse at Payne hospital at Eastland, was summoned to the rear of the hospital by a stranger who asked for Dr. L. C. Brown. He explained, the nurse said, that his brother had been shot and he was afraid he was dying. He also told her that Dr. Brown had delivered a baby for his brother's wife about 10 months ago.

When Nurse Alford told him Dr. Brown was away, he left. Twenty minutes later, the nurse said, the man appeared again at the rear door and asked her to examine a man in the rear seat of the sedan. The nurse went to the car where she found a well-dressed stranger lying on a pillow. She examined the body.

"This man is dead," she exclaimed.

Drove Away
"That's what I thought," said the driver and hurriedly cranked the car and drove away.

The incident took place so quickly that Miss Alford was unable to obtain any identification beyond the kind of car and the general appearance of the men. Local officers endeavoring to trace the car, were still without information this morning, except that Chief Cy Bradford of the Strawn police learned that a car of similar description containing three men, one wounded, had stopped at the Strawn cafe about 9:30 last night. They told cafe attendants they were on their way to Abilene.

Abilene officers were checking mortuaries and hospitals and seeking other leads this morning. No undertaking establishments in Cisco, Eastland or Ranger were able to throw any light on the mystery.

Bradford told Eastland county officers that he believed the car was from Mineral Wells. He was uncertain of the first three numbers on the license plate, but said the last three were "313," the first numerals, he said, were either "N38" or "N36."

Walton Re-Elected Ranger School Head
RANGER, Feb. 13 (Sp)—W. T. Walton, superintendent of the Ranger public schools for the past few years, was re-elected for a two-year term at the regular meeting of the Ranger school board Tuesday night.

At the same time P. O. Hatley, principal of the high school; H. L. Baskin, dean of Ranger Junior college and Charles H. Bell, vocational agricultural teacher were each re-elected for one-year terms.

Brownwood Five Takes Game From Lobos Wednesday
Cisco went down in "glorious defeat" to the Brownwood Lions in a cage game there Wednesday night. The score, while close, favored the wrong team. It was 32 to 30, with a three-minute overtime period.

Wayne Barnhill accounted for 12 of the Lobos points, with the other boys dividing up the remainder of the tallies fairly equally.

A game with the DeLeon team will be played at the local high school gym tonight at 7:30. A good match is expected. A game with the Baird five early next week will wind up the cage season.

Mrs. J. R. Bragg has gone to Dallas for a visit after spending several days here in the L. C. Moore home. Her home is in Lubbock.

Face Quiz in Ex-OGPU Chief's Death

Belief that Gen. Walter G. Krivitsky, former chief of the Russian secret service, died from self-inflicted gunshot wounds is not being accepted by Washington police. They will question Marguerite and Wolf Dohert, above, in hopes of clearing up the death of Gen. Krivitsky. The Doherts are believed to have been the last friends of Gen. Krivitsky to have seen him alive.

Young Accordion Artist Presents Rotary Program

Yancey McCrea, Jr., youthful accordion artist and son of Mr. and Mrs. Yancey McCrea, presented a much-appreciated program at the Rotary club luncheon today. After two chosen numbers, Yancey was called back for encores. He was presented by A. C. Green, program chairman.

Mr. Green then called on Minor Huffman of Dallas, guest of Garland Nance, who made a splendid talk on the relationship between Rotary and Boy Scouts, with regard to principles and aims. Mr. Huffman, regional scout executive, is here to aid in the annual Boy Scout drive to be held here Friday.

Mr. Huffman pointed out that Boy Scouts and the Rotary movement were begun at about the same time, and that Rotarians were often referred to as "grown-up" scouts. He likened the world-wide scouting movement to other youth organizations throughout the world.

Ensign Enders Huey, who graduated from Annapolis Naval academy, Annapolis, Maryland, last week, was a guest of the club, and made a splendid talk about his work for the past four years. He said that he had been assigned to the USS Richmond, in Hawaii, and would leave for his post around the first of March.

Rotarians were urged to attend the "kickoff" scout breakfast at the hotel Friday morning at 7 o'clock, and participate in the annual drive for funds for the coming year.

Guests for the luncheon were Glenn Harper of Corona, California, D. J. Bolch of O'Donnell, Paul McCarty, president of the Abilene club, and Morgan Hampton of Abilene, all Rotarians; Jimmy Witcher of Abilene, guest of Mr. Hampton; Leon Maner, guest of O. J. Russell; Minor Huffman, guest of G. R. Nance, Enders Huey, guest if the club, and Mrs. Yancey McCrea.

Rising Star Man Charged in Shooting

Bill Johnson of Rising Star, faced charges of assault with intent to murder at Rising Star today after a shooting at Johnson's home, southeast of Rising Star last night in which Dick Fenwick was wounded in the right leg. The shooting took place about 7 p. m. yesterday. Fenwick's leg was shattered below the knee by a charge from a shotgun. He was taken to Gorman sanitarium where physicians said amputation was necessary.

No motive for the shooting was ascribed.

MUSSOLINI AND FRANCO IN AGREEMENT

Two Leaders Confer Few Miles From French Border

By the Associated Press
Generalissimo Franco of Spain and Premier Mussolini of Italy have "arrived at a complete identity of views" in their discussion of "all problems of a European character interesting these two countries in the present historical moment, a communique issued in Madrid said early today.

The two leaders met twice yesterday in Bordighera, Italian Riviera town a few miles from the French frontier, the brief communique disclosed. It gave no detailed results or the purpose of the conference.

The phrase "all problems of a European character," however, would appear to rule out any immediate possibility of Spain actively or passively aiding hard-pressed Italy in Africa. There was speculation that Italy was seeking air and naval bases in Spanish Africa in the fight against Britain.

Mussolini conferred with Franco amidst speculation he had told the Spanish caudillo it was time to repay Italy's help during the Spanish civil war.

Franco was expected to see Philippe Petain in southern France today in another of a series of mysterious moves in southern Europe.

The Greeks announced in Athens that Mussolini's men in Albania had abandoned vain counterattacks and the British reported a five-hour pounding of 11 Duce's airfields on the island of Sicily, believed to have been the bases of recent German dive-bombing attacks in the Mediterranean area.

What Franco and Marshal Petain might discuss seemed anybody's guess but some observers insisted the coming conference indicated Rome and Berlin still were pressing France to allow use of her navy or bases against her erstwhile ally, Britain.

The Royal Air force communique reporting the Sicilian attack said bombers struck their targets at 20-minute intervals. Fires were reported seen 60 miles away, presumably from Malta, which the Germans reported raiding again yesterday.

Nearly 600,000 German soldiers were reported in Rumania awaiting the order for any southeastern move Adolf Hitler might take.

Ice on the Danube river was vanishing in premature spring weather prevailing in the Balkans, and with it vanished the last real obstacle to Germany's penetration. It was reported from Ruse, Bulgaria, a Danube port, that German bridge pontoons were in place along the Rumanian bank at that point.

With such a strong German force in Rumania across new Bessarabian frontier, soviet Russia called to head her army general.

Project Has Party At Center Tonight

An old-fashioned country party will be held in the Recreation project community center, across from the Community Gas company, tonight from 8 to 10 o'clock, it was announced by project officials. The party is for the public, and a variety of forms of entertainment will be offered.

On Friday night the Ranger recreation project will sponsor a folk dance festival at the Ranger hall at 312 1/2 Main street. An invitation was extended to Ciscoans to attend and participate in the schottische, Virginia reel and other folk dances that will be enjoyed. Those who do not care to participate, are invited to go and watch the fun.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Surles of Mineral Wells, formerly of Cisco, spent Wednesday here and in Putnam.

New Students Come From Many Towns

Widely separated cities of west and central Texas are represented in the student body at Cisco Junior college. The two pictures above show seven of the students who matriculated at the beginning of the second semester getting down to the business of books and classes in the library of the college. At the top are, left to right, Arnette Erwin of Cross Plains, Steve Etchison of Lamesa, Jane Murphy of Dickens and Linouise Cundiff of Big Spring. In the lower photo are, left to right, L. A. Duff of Lubbock, Gladys Hoffman of Eastland and Robert Jim Edwards of Gatesville. (Daily Press Photo).

WALTER BOYD HAS SECOND HEART ATTACK

Walter L. Boyd, though still in a critical condition was reported resting satisfactorily today following a second severe heart attack this week.

Mr. Boyd, a rural mail carrier, was preparing for work Monday morning when he was stricken with a heart attack. Physicians were summoned, and he was reported greatly improved by Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday morning the second attack followed, and his family was called to his bedside.

Those who are here are his daughter, Mrs. Wayne Cooke of Wheeler; his son, Glenn of Texas Tech, Lubbock, Durwood of Littlefield, and the Rev. Marvin Boyd of Merkel; his brothers, the Rev. R. H. Boyd of Garland, the Rev. Joe E. Boyd of Rotan, and L. E. Boyd of Odessa, formerly of Cisco. George Boyd of Cisco is another brother.

Clyde Karkalite of Eastland transacted business in Cisco today.

More Students, Projects Occupy Junior College

Among the new students registered at the Cisco Junior college at the beginning of the second semester are youngsters from widely scattered cities. Twenty new names were on the rolls of the college this week as classwork for the second part of the first term got under way.

College officials were busy taking care of the increased enrollment, preparing for remodeling the large administration building under a WPA project, which is expected to be approved shortly, or as quickly as federal funds are appropriated, and with getting the second CPT aviation school of 20 young fliers off to its start by February 15. The first flying class of 20 was completed two weeks ago. The new class will receive instruction on the new airport built on the Carl Wilson land a mile and a half north of the city.

Condition of Judge Lankford Better

Judge Eugene Lankford is reported greatly improved and able to sit up a part of every day at the Harris Memorial hospital in Fort Worth, where he has been since last week.

Mrs. Lankford, who has been with him, returned from Fort Worth Wednesday. She expects to go back the latter part of the week.

COTTON FIRE LOSS SET AT $200,000

High winds of gale velocity swept over West Texas Wednesday, bringing smothering clouds of sand and dust, and leaving a mass of charred ruins in Stamford, where two large cotton warehouses were demolished.

Fire of undetermined origin began in or near one of the two warehouses, and the wind carried the blaze to the adjoining building, completely destroying them both and burning 3,297 bales of cotton stored there. The loss was estimated at $200,000.

The cotton was fully insured, except for a few hundred bales owned by the government, and the warehouses were insured for about two-thirds of their value. The buildings were the property of C. A. Douthatt.

Farmers Asked to Meet on Saturday

W. E. Starr has called for a meeting of all farmers at the chamber of commerce at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, it was announced today. At this time orders will be pooled for a car of high-analysis fertilizer, to be shipped during March.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Surles of Mineral Wells, formerly of Cisco, spent Wednesday here and in Putnam.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Your view of the action of state prison board in vouching to abolish the use of the whip in disciplining convicts depends upon what you regard as the object of the state prison system. If it is to discipline criminals, your opinion that criminals should be put in prison and made to do labor in confinement as punishment for violating the laws, your view of the action probably is not favorable. Consistently, it should not be.

The ancient law of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth is nothing more than a requirement that enough suffering be exacted from erring persons to compensate for the sufferings and inconveniences they have caused others. The "bat" is an instrument designed to act some of this toll of retribution from the hides of incorrigibles.

If it is your belief, on the other hand, that a modern prison system is a reformatory institution, designed to cause suffering, but to recover from those imprisoned there the better part of their natures and talents that they may be restored to society better and more useful persons than they were before, then your view will probably be sympathetic. The use of the whipping and other forms of corporal punishment hardly meshes with the ideals in this case.

The old law that men would suffer in proportion to their sins actually was intended to serve a purpose which the inadequate social and political philosophies and institutions of its period could not otherwise serve. Its primary object was to prevent. It employed the fear of retribution, of certain punishment, as the persuasion toward a righteous life. Once that persuasion failed, it was necessary to carry out the threat as an example to others. Implicitly, the victim of that treatment was regarded as lost, of no further worth or rights in society and serviceable only as a demonstration that society meant it when it denied the individual, the privilege of injuring others.

Society, however, has advanced slowly but surely to new possibilities. It has found other and more effective means of dealing with the bad in men. It has discovered that much of what men are depends upon the environment and education afforded them. And it has learned that it is less costly to imprison and belabor human talents than to make these talents productive. Not all convicts have recoverable qualities. But a great proportion of the men who tramp through the narrow stone and steel corridors of those abiding keeps, have self-respect and honest motives, yearning for the respectability of self-support and conscientious service which could be salvaged under more sympathetic treatment.

Fort Worth Evangelist For Revival Here

A spring revival meeting will begin at the Church of Christ on the evening of April 3 to continue through April 13, with Evangelist Leroy Brownlow of Fort Worth preaching. It was announced Saturday by D. Dee Hukel, minister.

"The Cisco church feels fortunate in securing the services of Evangelist Brownlow," said Minister Hukel. "The evangelist began preaching when he completed high school and is a graduate of Abilene Christian college. He is recognized over several states as an able proclaimer of the Gospel."

Abilene Christian college has produced during the past few years some of the best debating teams in the southwest. Evangelist Brownlow was a member of one of these teams while attending the college. At present he is the minister for the Vickery Boulevard Church of Christ in Fort Worth, where he has been for three years. During that time there have been 301 additions to the membership.

Caleb Story, an Irishman, in 1756 bought what is now the thriving town of Kernerville, N. C., from the Indians for four dollars of rum.

It's the Principle of the Thing

We are all accustomed to catchwords, and the old business of "disagreeing with every word you say and fighting for your right to say it," is accepted as a commonplace.

As a general principle, almost every American accepts it. Only when the principle comes down to application is it sometimes difficult to stick by one's guns. Yet it must be obvious that only insofar as it is applied is the principle of any practical value.

Out in California there is a court case brewing. It concerns an application for naturalization by one Hans Diebel, who quite frankly and openly announces that he is an anti-Semite. The U. S. naturalization service opposed the grant of citizenship.

A memorandum was then filed with the court by the American Civil Liberties Union
as a "friend of the court," asking that Die-bel's application be granted. A. L. Wirin, veteran attorney for the A. C. L. U., bases the memorandum on the contention that the Naturalization Act "makes certain behavior,

not briefs, ground for denial of naturalization," and that "freedom of thought and of speech is guaranteed to the alien as well as the citizen, and... includes freedom for the thought that we hate."

THE Civil Liberties union has often been accused of a too-ready defense of those espousing radical causes, when their civil liberties were infringed upon. Yet the Union has defended Henry Ford's right to air his views, and here defends the position of a man whose confessed point of view is probably thoroughly repugnant to Wirin personally and to practically all the officers and members of the union.

Is it thus to defend those whose views are completely at variance with basic American ideas? Our whole American way is built on the belief that it is not.
For what is the alternative? If prospective citizens are to be barred for beliefs not covered by the constitution to which they must swear allegiance, we are forcing men into a mental mould. And we believe that the state has power to regulate action, but that thought and speech must be free, else more is lost than could be gained by regulating them.

We hope that if Diebel gets his citizenship he will have learned a lesson in toleration, for he will owe it partly to the intercession of those who utterly disagree with him.
May he then go, as a certain lawyer was once bidden, and do likewise.

In this age of speed and more speed, why couldn't next summer have come this winter?

Pennsylvania state police found 10 cases
of fake booze with real labels. Circumstances alter cases.

BRUCE CATTON'S AMERICAN ROUNDUP

HERE'S WHY AND WHEREFORE
OF THAT NAVY "CENSORSHIP"

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — News you
read about the United States Navy is now practically under a censorship, but it's nothing to be alarmed about. The navy doesn't want it called a censorship and since the country isn't at war, doesn't like the idea of having to hold out on any legitimate news.

If a national intelligence news
is considered
no particular point
in spreading
before the world at large
just where the navy is strengthening its bases or moving its ships and men.

Secretary Knox and the navy press officers are approaching the whole problem by asking the newspapers to co-operate in a voluntary censorship. To just what extent this will apply is to be cleared up within a few days,
after conferences with publishers
and the press associations.

The whole trouble began several months ago, when a good deal of news of value to "potential enemies" got into the papers.
Most of it, the navy confesses, came from officers who just couldn't keep their mouths shut,
gave out figures or released statements they shouldn't, or talked too much at cocktail parties.

Twice the secretary circularized all naval establishments
asking the personnel to pipe down. When that didn't do any good, the problem was put up to the newspapers direct.

EDITORS CO-OPERATE
FIRST step was a personal and confidential letter to newspaper editors and correspondents, asking them to refrain from using news of ship or aircraft movements, new naval construction projects, or development of secret weapons. There was no intention to crack down on doesn't require a

gram, and it's all appeal basis. Only
some 1500 editors
wouldn't co-operate.

Photographing
naval installations
secret or restricted order. Presidential March cover this
ing $1000 fine and
on for violations
also unauthorized
of any factory
plies. All news
are passed by army
and navy publication.

If it all sounds
unnecessary, or will show the ship. Take a installation in
naval intelligence
naturally after
they can get it
force the navy to hard work getting
themselves—spen-
money on the job
of the information
ing gaps in the right—then the paid.

Also, there's the
keeping the other
naval base, its departments.
observed. But if or purpose of the
is unannounced,
fellow has to send
all over the Pacific
what goes on.

It's amazing, too,
little bits of infor-
revealing. If news
350 men at station
air base, it doesn't
power's intelligence
long to figure out
planes are kept
they're for.

STILL PLENTY OF NEWS
TO keep the public
informed on mili-
val affairs, the ser-
to give out all the mation they can
of news which can printed, and will be

Highway Deaths in This District Above Average

ABILENE, Feb. 12 (Sp.)—During 1940 deaths from highway and street accidents in the 24th senatorial district exceeded the state average increase. This is revealed in a study of the statistics on traffic fatalities compiled by the Texas department of public safety.

While the number of deaths in Texas traffic accidents increased 10.99 per cent over the fatalities in 1939, the fatalities in the 24th senatorial district exceeded the state average by reaching a total increase of 43.59 per cent.

Deaths by counties which comprise the senatorial district were tabulated by the department as follows:

SABREY, 37; Fisher, 1; Jones, 5; Shackelford, 1; Stephens, 4; EASTLAND, 11; Callahan, 4; Taylor, 16; Nolan, 3; Mitchell, 1; Throckmorton, 2; and Hackell, 5.

Deaths in the district totalled 54, an increase of 17 in number over the previous year. The state suffered an increase of 174 deaths during 1940—a total of 1757, as compared to 1583 during 1939.

Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton is a member of the senate committee on highways and motor traffic, which is to hold a hearing at an early date on the proposed bills to remedy some of the present traffic evils of Texas. The legislative program asking for a standard driver's license law, a revised speed law, and other measures is being sponsored by 21 state organizations. By the proposed changes in the laws and in an increased highway patrol they hope to add in materially re-

Spring Edition of Highway Map Is Available

AUSTIN, Feb. 13 (Sp.)—The 1941 spring edition of the Texas highway map issued by the Texas Highway department is now available to the public. The cover of the spring edition is a natural color photograph picture showing a sunrise scene on the gulf coast of Texas, and the new map shows all state highways, cities and towns, and, as with every issue of the map, shows that pavement has been placed on many unpaved gaps since the last map was issued in the spring of 1940.

Features of the 1941 spring edition map are the new federal census figures for Texas cities and towns. Shown on the map itself are oil and gas regions, national forests, and principal lakes and streams. Inserts around the map show in larger scale the routes into and through the larger cities. On the back is a brief description of state parks, and other attractions; facts about Texas, and interesting pictures of industry and development in the state. The data includes comparative distances showing that it is farther between some cities in Texas than from the same cities to Los Angeles, Chicago and Jacksonville, on the Atlantic ocean.

DESDEMONA

The ladies of the Baptist W.M.U. met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. Skipping for a royal service program, with Mrs. J. H. Jackson as leader. The book which they are studying is "Three Years Through the Bible," and the lessons for the next several months will be the second year studies. Those present were Misses Grace Bray, Charles McFatter, Clayton Williams, Gid Tarpley, C. A. Skipping, J. H. Jackson, Floyd Moore, Miss Eva Northcutt, and the Rev. Orville Richardson, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Nance and baby daughter left Saturday for their home at Hillsboro, after having been here a week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Genoway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rushing and three daughters drove over to Stephenville on business Monday.

Walter May, accompanied by his brother, C. E. May, of Ranger, went to Mineral Wells Sunday and spent the day with his sister, Mrs. Lola Mitchell, who lives on a ranch near there. On his return he stopped in Ranger to see Dr. Kuykendall, who had been seriously hurt in an automobile crash Sunday. Dr. Holt, who was with Dr. Kuykendall, was also seriously injured. Their many friends here hope they may both soon recover.

Miss Della Wall went to visit her mother near DeLeon Saturday. She was accompanied by Miss Edith Creighton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fineman, who moved to Lingville a few weeks ago, visited here Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Nabers returned Sunday afternoon from Eastland, where she had gone on Friday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Guy Patterson, and family.

Mrs. O. G. Lawson and son, Melvin, of Cisco, came Friday and visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, Miss Mollie O'Neal and her sister, Mrs. Annie Daniels, and a number of other friends and former neighbors. Melvin has been working the past year in New Mexico and Louisiana, and is now on his way to San Antonio, to enter the aviation branch of the United States army. Melvin spent his childhood in Desdemona and his many friends here feel sure he will make a good record in the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Pool and children moved Saturday to Odden, where he was transferred by the Magnolia company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parks and son, Earl, went to Gorman Saturday night to see the picture "Gone With the Wind." They were accompanied to Gorman by Mrs. W. H. Powers and son, Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Brown and two children of Comanche and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown of Stephenville, spent Sunday here with their sister, Miss Alva Brown, and their brother, Alton Brown. Another brother, R. A. Brown, and family, whose farm and new brick house are near the home of Alton and Miss Alva, went over and spent the day with the others of the family.

On Saturday morning the following members of the Desdemona Eastern Star chapter went to Ranger and attended an all-day school of instruction conducted by the district deputy, Mrs. Lois Burnett. Desdemona chapter was one of the eight co-hostess chapters that assisted with the school of instruction. Those who attended from here were: Mr. and Mrs. Gid Tarpley, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ragland, Misses J. H. Rushing, I. N. Williams, Gifford Acree, J. E. Heeter, Bill Parks, W. C. Bedford, C. W. Maltby, J. H. Jackson and A. D. Baker. During the day examinations were given and nine A certificates and four B certificates were awarded to Desdemona members, a certificate for each one who attended the school of instruction. The guest of honor was Mrs. Robbie Dyer of Amarillo, worthy grand patron of the grand chapter of Texas. Several other officers of the grand chapter were present and were luncheon guests at a noon luncheon. The school was attended by 165 members from the various towns in district 3, section 4. The Masonic hall, where the school was held, had been attractively decorated with pot plants and draperies of red, white and blue bunting. At the opening of the session a large U. S. flag was presented and saluted, and placed in its proper place in the east, where it remained until the closing hour in the afternoon when, with solemn ceremony, it was retired, the ceremony being given by a member of the Cisco chapter.

On Tuesday night of last week at the high school gym a large crowd gathered for a varied program sponsored by the football boys and their coach, C. L. Branham. First there were two basketball games, two boys' teams from nearby towns playing one game and then Alameda girls playing Desdemona, with the local team the winner. Next the several classes of high school, the football team and the grade school put on some amusing stunts. Then came the pie supper, with L. E. Clark, president of the school board, serving as auctioneer and doing the job so well that of the 52 pies that were sold only two or three brought less than 50 cents, and several brought $1 each. A football quilt that is to be sold soon was exhibited. The $62 from the entertainment will pay for part of the sweaters.

The following item was received from a class reporter of Draughon's Business college at Abilene: "Joe Pool, who has been attending Draughon's, has accepted a position with the Balfanz Construction Co. as bookkeeping clerk." Joe is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Pool and graduated from Desdemona high school in May, 1939. His many friends are delighted to hear of his success and feel sure he will merit all opportunities that may be given him.

J. T. Craig, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Craig, left on Monday last week for Abilene to take his first examinations as a volunteer for the U. S. navy. On Friday a letter came saying he had passed and for him to come to Abilene on Monday of this week for a final physical test and to come prepared to go on to San Diego at once and he left early Monday morning. Although enlisting in the navy, he expects to become an aviator after some training in the navy.

They're Pouring In On Uncle Sam, Too

- Yes, Sir! Our government is getting plenty of bills. Uncle Sam has a big job ahead, paying the cost of preparedness. Bills for fighting planes, ships, tanks, guns, and for the training of men.
- The electric industry is helping to pay those bills.
- The regulated utilities of America are paying out in taxes 15 1/2 cents of every dollar collected in gross revenue. This amounts to 45 per cent MORE than the taxes paid by non-regulated types of business which pay a tax levy of 8 3/5 cents out of every dollar in gross revenue.
- It means that the electric industry is paying over $400,000,000 a year to the various forms of government. The amount increases as the industry expands to meet increasing needs.
- It's a part of Your Electric Servant's contribution to national defense—this, and an abundant supply of Electric Service to meet the wartime requirements of the people and the country it serves.

The Electric Industry Is Equipped to Defend the American Way of Living Without Government Aid in Tax Expenditures

Wage Earners Get Half of Oil Expenses

DALLAS, Feb. 13 (Sp.)—Texas workers received half of the money spent in the production of Texas oil, according to a booklet just issued by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. The booklet, entitled "Important Facts About Texas Oil," is now being distributed by the association from its headquarters in the Continental building here.

Wages and salaries to Texas oil production workers amount to 49 1-2 per cent of the net cost of producing the average barrel of oil in Texas, the booklet shows. One-eighth of the net cost dollar goes to Texas tax-collectors for state and local taxes. Supplies cost about 26 1-2 per cent, while depreciation, depletion, overhead and federal taxes make up the remaining 11 per cent.

To this net cost must be added an extra one-eighth of the price of the oil which is paid as royalty to the Texas farmer or rancher who owns the land on which the oil is produced.

Texas petroleum workers and Texas farmers together receive red payment plan," social security, cost of living, and social life—have sprung from economic, social, and political change, Miss Gearing pointed out.

The majority of families are no longer bound together as an "economic unit," no longer have a sense of purchase value of commodities from personal knowledge of production, she explained. The conference will consider what can be done to replace these home responsibilities, to train intelligent consumers.

Problems of the child of today—such as parents' lack of time for their children, insufficient wholesome recreation, overcrowding of school rooms, health of the individual—are some of the serious factors which have sprung from these changes, she continued. Causes include outside demands on parents, separation of recreational life of the children from the home. How can parents strengthen family ties and meet their social and economic problems?—the conference will attempt an answer.

Problems of the youth of tomorrow—including lack of knowledge of forthcoming problems, parents' "pre-determination" of their children's careers—these, too, must be recognized, according to the conference program. Underlying social causes here include insufficient training for the youth of tomorrow to face economic, social, and political problems.

Conference at Texas U. to Study Family Problems

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—"Put your house in order" might be the battle-cry of parents who will gather at the University of Texas next week to evaluate home and family life problems.

The home, one of the three fundamental social institutions, along with the church and state, is being seriously affected by the "changing social order," Miss Mary E. Gearing, director of the three-day Home and Family Life conference, Feb. 11-13, said today.

To be held concurrently are seven other conferences on mental hygiene as applied to various other phases of community life—social, religious, civic, legal. The entire program marks the inaugural of the university's Hogb foundation for the advancement of education in Texas.

"How can parents meet the problems in the home of today in order that they may educate the child of today to face the problems of tomorrow?" This challenge underlies most of the questions now pouring into Miss Gearing from mothers, housewives, clubwomen over the state to be discussed in the Home and Family Life conference.

Parents attending the sessions will hear their personal problems interpreted in the light of "social change" by more than 20 national leaders. They will then train a practical eye on their own problems discuss them with other parents, and seek a solution.
