FASCIST DRIVE IS MASSACRE GREEKS CLAIM

Italian Leaders Are Reported Furious at Failure

ATHENS, Greece, March 17 (AP).—At least 50,000 Italian soldiers in a fascist army of 120,000 were thrown out of action and Premier Mussolini's personally directed blitzkrieg aimed to smash the Greeks at all costs turned into what the Greeks called a real massacre authoritative Greek sources declared Sunday night. The official Greek spokesman asserted that Italian prisoners said the fascists were furious because the seven-day offensive in the Tepeleni sector was crushed at terrific losses. Mussolini himself has gone back to Rome from the Albanian front "with his prestige weakened and his authority shaken," the Greek radio said in a broadcast heard in New York. The radio also said the Italians suffered terrible losses.

SHOTGUN IS DISCHARGED INTO STOMACH

Tragedy Occurs Seven Miles South of Cisco Sunday

Curtis Haislip, 16-year-old worker in the construction of Camp Bowie at Brownwood, was fatally injured when the 12-gauge shotgun with which he was hunting seven miles south of Cisco accidentally discharged into his abdomen about 12:30 Sunday afternoon. Haislip and a companion, Bill Barber, also of Brownwood, had come to Romney to visit Haislip's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Hopper. Sunday at noon they purchased some shells for the gun at Cecil Carter's filling station and store and drove north of Romney to hunt squirrels. According to Barber, young Haislip sighted a squirrel in a tree at a small creek five miles north of Romney and started to pull the shotgun from the rear seat of the car to shoot it when the hammer hung in the upholstery and the gun fired, the charge tearing away a portion of the youth's abdomen. Barber drove the injured and unconscious youth to Rising Star but the youth died five minutes after reaching a doctor.

To Stop Birds From Pulling Up Corn

A home remedy to keep birds from pulling up corn has been given by Elmo V. Cook, county agent as follows: Mix a tablespoon of crude carbolic acid with two gallons of seed corn. Relocation of Highway "67" Is Discussed

EASTLAND, March 17 (Spec).—A proposed relocation of highway No. 67 through Eastland county was the subject of discussion between members of the county commissioners' court and representatives from Gorman, Desdemona and Eastland at a commissioners' meeting in Eastland early this week. The proposed extension would shorten the route between Eastland, Gorman, Desdemona, and points beyond by the construction of a road from Eastland to where it would connect with the existing road. It is being pointed out by those favoring this extension that the state has already appropriated $122,000 for this work, but that if the county doesn't take action soon that the appropriation will be recalled and the county will lose the money. It seems that the proposed route is not entirely satisfactory to all parties, there being those who want a more direct route from Eastland to a connection Highway 80 via Lingleville, Stephenville and other points beyond.

Rulers With the Morals of Kidnapers

THE world has not in years had greater calamities in its experience.

We are no longer shocked at things which would have shocked our grandfathers. It would take a book to read a good book to explore all the reasons. War has become a thing that makes men believe that the end justifies the means, even down to morality.

Perhaps a nation had no morals, properly speaking. But its leaders have, or should have, and what they do unfortunately must pass at any given time for the morals of their people.

SINKING of battles fought, slaying of defensive civilians, women and little children—all these we have been taught to accept. But there is one phase of our recent immorality that no body seems to notice at all. That is the growing practice of making a man's honest family suffer for what he has done or is doing.

reprisals as a club over him. We think of kidnaping as the lowest form of crime because the suffering of a victim is paralleled before his loved ones to compel them to bow to the will of the kidnapers. Morality can sink to lower.

Yet it has become established practice in Europe. Russia has the dubious honor of having perpetrated the first. No one will ever know how many innocent people have been slain because relatives displeased to regime. How many have been held in line by fear of what might happen to their innocent dear ones? In Germany the same technique have been applied, with a long arm that reaches across the Atlantic. How many Germans and Italians in America north and south, have been coerced into support of the axis because of threats and fear of what may happen to their relatives in the old country if they do not fall in line?

NOW in Norway it is announced that the property of families of all men who aided the British in their raid on the Lofoten Islands, or who went away with them, will be burned. "Reprisals" cover the main newspaper in Norway, Fritt Folk. Let the attempt be permitted for the "sons" of the "guilty."

Remember when Grover Cleveland Bergdoll dodged the draft in the World war and fled to Europe? If it was even suggested that his aging mother be clipped into jail or robbed of her property until he returned, we didn't hear of it. Such a thing is repulsive to America. Yet it would have paralleled what is going on in Europe today.

Until leaders arise who have better morals than kidnapers, how shall Europe have peace?

Surely Saragoff is quite often pronounced "that Turkish foreign minister."

Modern politicians consist of a man offering his seat to a woman when he gets out of the street car.

Mysterious sea serpent discovered in Canada. Maybe it's just a secret weapon being developed against the submarine.

Maybe they'll begin to call people who try to dodge income-tax payments the Hides of March.

SERIAL STORY

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

MENTHONED jammed into the subway, Beatrice noticed a pretty girl, eyes so large, so blue, so clear. She was looking at her. She was looking at her. She was looking at her.

FORNERS FROM HUNTINGTON'S "O" she had seen. The girl had been there. She was looking at her. She was looking at her. She was looking at her.

THE next day, looking back her head with an effort, she saw the girl. She was looking at her. She was looking at her. She was looking at her.

"In all right," she said. "Sorry I was late." "What's a million dollars now?" she thought oddly. "In the same way as they are here. With all kinds of things."

She had a chatty way. Looking back, she saw a big man carrying a little girl. "But she's holding the girl by the arm."

In that dark tunnel, under the river, with danger pressing around them, an unexpected danger came of them. "Beatrice," he said. "I've been thinking about you. I've been thinking about you. I've been thinking about you."

She never knew how long it was that she walked in darkness, in that narrow, lit along the rail-way. "Beatrice," he said. "I've been thinking about you. I've been thinking about you. I've been thinking about you."

the taller to the lunatic asylum." "I'll be a moment, the coincidence seemed incredible. That out of a city of seven million people, Beatrice, who owned Huntington's, should have picked a subway car in which to ride and found herself side by side with a girl who worked in Huntington's. But in the next breath, she realized that it wasn't so surprising after all. Hundreds of girls worked in Huntington's. Girls who kept the stocks, girls who washed on customers, girls who mended clothes, girls who ran the elevators, girls who typed the letters and answered the telephones and wrapped the packages.

"What do you work?" the girl was asking. "I work in Huntington's," Beatrice thought out of her reply. "What? Oh, I—well—the" (Continued on Page Four)

ANYONE UNDERSTANDING BILL AIMED AT FARM BILLS WILL KINDLY STEP FORWARD

BY PETER LINDON, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The new bill aimed at the farm bills, which is now being introduced in the House, is a temporary measure. It is a bill to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, and the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937.

It is a bill to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, and the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937. It is a bill to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, and the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937.

"HEAVENLY IMPOSSIBLE" If a farmer should take sufficient interest in this bill to make it a bill to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, and the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937.

For the House Appropriations Committee of 40 members began to consider this bill last Jan. 7. They held hearings for seven long weeks, almost every day, and in that time took testimony from Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and everyone else on the subject. This testimony fits 2000 pages of the thickest reading any farmer ever strained his eyes on while parking his soiled feet on a base butter rail. And much of it would be unintelligible to a man who might know all the answers or more and more service, but not about corn borers and boll weevils.

Glass to Fight Cut In Lease-Lend Fund

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Administration supporters opposed by President Roosevelt's approval for speedy total action to arm the democracies, served today.

Chairman Carter Glass (Dem., Va.) of the Senate appropriations committee, said he would fight a proposal by Senator Gerald P. Coy (Rep.) of North Dakota, a committee member, to cut the immediate appropriation to one-half of $2,000,000.

Praying the president's talk Saturday night before the White House Correspondents' association as a very explicit declaration of his intent to see that the appropriation bill was passed in its present form.

The credit and other loans definitely appropriated in 1941 are valued at $225,000,000, according to the report.
