Defense to Be Theme of WTCC Annual Meeting

MINERAL WELLS, April 29 (Sp.)—Program plans for the West Texas chamber of commerce convention, its 23rd annual gathering, are steadily going forward. The WTCC's convention office said this year's convention theme—west Texas business and the region's place in the national defense picture—is winning interest and approval, said Max Bentley, convention manager. Bentley said that advance hotel reservations are coming in rapidly from directors of the regional chambers, high army officers, local chamber of commerce delegations, and in some cases by town delegations en masse.

The West Texas chamber is urging its affiliates to appoint delegate groups and see to their attendance at the Mineral Wells sessions May 13-16. Berger has responded with appointment of a delegation of five: C. R. Stahl, chairman; C. S. Goldsmith, chamber of commerce president; W. F. Swearing, S. M. Clayton and Walter David. The Paducah delegation is composed of J. A. Crump, chairman; J. W. Goodwin, Ernest G. Darnmore, W. V. Bigham, Lawson Reid, E. A. Carlock, B. A. Shotts and V. H. Worley. From Olney will come a delegation composed of Harry Bettis, A. D. Cummings, E. G. Thornton, A. A. Cooper, V. W. Kunkel and Tom Watson.

The directors' first business session will be at dinner at the Crazy hotel Thursday evening, May 15. This is to be followed by a patriotic mass meeting in Mineral Wells' great downtown convention hall with music by a military band. A dance, 9:30 p. m., at the Baker hotel, will close the day's events.

Full Day Friday
Friday, second and closing day of the convention, will be crisscrossed with events both on the business and entertainment side. The convention day will open with a 7:30 breakfast for directors, old and new, at the Baker hotel.

The concluding convention session, expected to be the biggest in the two days, is the All-West Texas "To-Hell-With-Hitler" banquet, on the Baker roof, starting at 7 o'clock. J. S. Bridwell, WTCC president, will open the banquet, then hand the gavel to Amon Carter of Fort Worth, who will be master of ceremonies in the winning five-minute contest will be heard. Then Cong. Ewing Thomason of El Paso, chairman of the house military affairs committee, will pay tribute to the late Senator Morris Sheppard, and will address the banquet group on "The People and National Defense." There will be other prominent speakers.

High army officers, including commanders of west Texas defense projects, will be guests of the convention at the concluding dinner. Among them will be Major General Richard Donovan, VIII Corps area; Maj. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead, 36th division; Brig. Gen. W. H. Simpson, Camp Wolters replacement center, and others.

A dance at the Crazy hotel, starting at 9:30, will bring the 1942 convention to the close. Miss Marie Winston of Abilene spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Winston.

DEFEAT OF PLANS SEEN IN STRIKES

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP)—Disputing statements by government officials concerning defense industry strikes, Walter D. Fuller, president of the national association of manufacturers, asserted tonight that "propagandizing ourselves into believing that strikes in defense industries don't amount to much is to invite national tragedy."

"America needs to be shocked," Fuller, who is president of the Curtis Publishing company, told a regional A. A. M. conference. "America needs to be brought up short against the stark reality of what is going on about us. X X X playing ostrich with the unrelenting day-to-day facts of defense production is gambling with our destiny."

Declaring that "the activities of the administration X X X have been pretty much limited to efforts to belittle the effects of strikes with assertion that 'they don't amount to much,'" the manufacturer's head said, "it all depends on what you mean by much."

The soft coal strike "is classified by government spokesmen as a non-defense stoppage," he declared and added "during the first three months of this year strikes in defense industries alone lost 1,577,816 man-days of production."

"Is that much or isn't it? Perhaps the mothers and fathers of draftees will answer when they learn that the time lost has been enough to equip 1,402,480 American boys with the latest Garand rifles or to provide more than five billion rounds of ammunition."

Although strikes are "admittedly the major bottleneck in defense production," Fuller asserted, "we find a disposition, strangely reminiscent of the entire past decade, to overlook all faults except those which X X X can be laid at the doorstep of industry and management."

Former Eastland Oil Man Succumbs
EASTLAND, April 29 (Sp.)—Lonnie King, 48, former oil man of Eastland, died at his home in Abilene Monday morning, April 28, it was reported today.

German Ship Tries to Penetrate Blockade
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, April 28 (AP)—The 3,290-ton German freighter Lech left her dock here tonight on an apparent effort to dash through the British blockade with a cargo of fuel oil, cotton seed, hides, iron, mica, coffee and other merchandise. The Lech was the first German ship to succeed in reaching Brazil through the blockade. The Lech arrived here March 3 from Bordeaux, occupied France, after a 31-day voyage. Lewis Cook of Putnam transacted business in Cisco Monday.

Nursery School Will Hold Open House Thursday

Highlighting observance of national "Child Health day" in Cisco on Thursday, May 1, the Cisco Nursery school will entertain the public with open house at the school from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. It was announced today by officials of the advisory board.

The observance will enable citizens to see the tots at their regular routine of study and play and supervised recreation and rest. A special program will be presented. Members of the advisory board will act as hosts for the occasion, and arrangements will be made to furnish transportation to and from the school for those who have no automobile. Detailed plans will be announced Wednesday.

Kokomo Girls to Can School Vegetables

The Kokomo Girls' 4-H club plans to keep busy at a worthwhile job this summer. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. A. L. Wood, and the assistant county home demonstration agent, Alice Wheatley, they plan to can vegetables for the school lunch room.

The club building, which is located on the Kokomo school ground, will be turned into a small size cannery as the girls preserve part of the surplus foods which will be growing in their orchards and gardens. The girls plan to furnish the extra vegetable and fruit and do the work. In this way they will have a part in putting over a community project, make worthwhile use of their time, learn to be responsible, learn how to work with others, and also learn some principles of food preservation. These were some of the reasons given by the girls for wanting to do this as they told Miss Wheatley of their plans at the last club meeting.

Named Outstanding First Year FFA Boy
Mittford Johnson was selected as the most outstanding Greenhorn of the first year vocational agriculture students at Cisco high school by a committee composed of Gene Duncan, president; John Potter, vice president, and McCarty Daniels, secretary. Other Greenhorns who received honorable mention were Victor Childers, James Callarman, Rex Ramsoner, N. M. Coats and Jack Page.

Young Johnson has for his project this year three barrows, one gilt and is growing five acres of grain sorghum. He is a member of the following committees: Swine improvement, constructing FFA booth at fair, and securing certified grain sorghum for the charter members. Mittford has run terrace lines on 50 acres, constructed contour furrows on 18 acres, built a hot bed, dug a drainage ditch, pruned trees and budded pecans.

LINDY ANSWERED
WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—In a British answer to Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh, Sir Gerald Campbell declared last night that Great Britain would not make a "negotiated, false, inconclusive peace" because to do so would be "yellow."

OMNIBUS BILL GETS OKEH OF STATE SENATE

23 Millions Would Increase Present Taxes, Create New

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—The senate's answer to the state financial problem, a $23,000,000 general tax bill, increasing many present levies and creating new ones, was given late yesterday.

By a 31 to 0 vote, the senate passed finally after a grueling week of work an omnibus tax measure estimated to produce some $2,500,000 less in new revenue than a bill which the house recently approved.

The tax bill, by all odds the number one piece of legislation before the lawmakers this session, now goes back to the house for concurrence in amendment. If the house refused to accept the alterations it could ask for a free conference committee to adjust differences.

The senate version allotted an additional $11,500,000 yearly to the old age assistance fund, gave the deficit-ridden general fund about $6,000,000 more each year and provided $3,100,000 annually for teacher retirement, $400,000 for aid to the needy blind and $1,500,000 to dependent children. It also earmarked new money for other state funds.

Final action climaxed a sometimes heated session which saw fade away some of the prospective revenue contained in the state affairs committee bill recommended to the senate.

An 18 to 12 vote knifed out a 2 per cent gross receipts tax on soft drinks approved last week. Another motion, similarly adopted, placed a new interpretation on some levies previously approved and reduced potential new revenue from these sources by about $2,000,000.

Overwhelmingly accepted was an amendment knocking out a previously approved tax on gas commingling.

3 Supervisors of Soil District To Be Elected

Landowners in the Upper Leon Soil Conservation district will elect three additional supervisors on Saturday, May 10, according to information received from the State Soil Conservation board by Ed T. Castleberry, who is one of the two appointed supervisors of the district. The district includes all of Eastland county west of the Jake Hammond railroad except an area north and west of the Cisco city limits. All landowners living and owning land in the district are eligible to vote and should do so, according to Mr. Castleberry. The supervisors will have the responsibility of managing the district.

Landowners will be asked to vote for three supervisors. Four nominees for supervisors are J. B. Eberhart of Rising Star, W. J. Fritts of Comanche and H. J. Hudleston and Pink Scott of DeLeon.

Voting boxes will be located at the peace office, Eastland; the city hall, Ranger; Carbon Trading Co., Carbon; Scranton school; newspaper office, Gorman; city hall, Rising Star; county agent's office; Comanche; DeLeon; Proctor school house; and the Dublin city hall.

Father of Ciscoan Dies at Jennings

Accompanied by Mrs. Farnsworth and children, Major, Jimmie, Donald Ray and baby Farnsworth left here Monday afternoon to attend the funeral, which will probably be held this afternoon.

C. J. Thompson of Coleman, formerly of Cisco, has been visiting here.

Southern English City Is Nazi Bomb Target

A SOUTHWEST TOWN IN ENGLAND, April 29 (AP)—A German air attack described by some observers as one of the heaviest ever in this area blasted this town for several hours early today.

Starting late at night, the raiders were over the town almost constantly despite a violent anti-aircraft barrage. First indications were that casualties were relatively light, considering the severity of the attack.

A few bombs were also dropped on districts in east Anglia, while London sirens remained quiet. Weather over the straits was cold and cloudy.

MINERS AGREE TO CONTINUE PRODUCTION

Settlement Reached on Enactment of Proposal by President

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The White House announced Monday night that the southern coal operators had agreed to resume production of coal immediately.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, issued this statement:

"The president shortly after 11 o'clock tonight received a telegram signed L. Ebersole Gaines, chairman southern coal operators wage conference" advising him that "The 13 districts which have not yet negotiated a wage agreement accept your proposal without equivocation" adding "we are ready to resume work immediately."

President Roosevelt's proposals, which he publicly recommended on April 21, were:

"1. The miners and operators already in agreement resume coal production under the terms of that agreement.

"2. The operators and miners who have not yet reached an agreement, enter into wage negotiations and at the same time reopen the mines, the agreement ultimately reached to be retroactive to the date of resuming work."

At the same time the proposal was advanced the northern operators and the union had reached an agreement for wage increases, but the southern operators and miners were deadlocked.

Earlier in the evening a delegation of southern coal operators conferred with Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, it was learned from southern operators. It was understood that the cabinet member urged the southern producers to accept Mr. Roosevelt's proposal a week ago that the southern miners enter negotiations with John L. Lewis' United Mine workers, reopen the mines, and make the ultimate agreement retroactive to the date production was resumed.

Gaines said in a statement that pending the completion of a wage scale contract with the union, the southern coal producers were proposing to put a wage increase of $1 per day into effect at once, along with related advances for other day and piece workers.

The wage scale in southern mines was $5.60 a day, under the terms of the biennial contract, which expired April 1.

Late in the day a senate committee had decided to try its hand in bringing about a settlement. After a closed meeting of the special committee to investigate defense programs, Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) said the members had discussed the possibility of submitting a "peace formula," but this effort was shelved by the agreement tonight.

The committee heard John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers (CIO), and representatives of northern and southern mine operators state their positions.

Lewis declared the miners were determined to wipe out the wage differential in the south, which has heretofore paid $5.60 per day compared with $6 in the north. The miners want $7 in both areas and northern operators agreed to pay it. L. T. Putnam, representing southern operators, said that because of disadvantageous freight rates they could not comply with northern mines if they paid the same wages.

RAPIDLY IMPROVING
Mrs. Neil Lane, who recently underwent surgery at Graham hospital, is reported greatly improved. She has been removed to her home.

Spears, conveyed lot 7 in block 73 of the Cisco town site to W. R. Manning for a consideration of $800. The deed bears the signature of D. B. Trammel, notary public, on the affidavit.

● SERIAL STORY LOVE POWER

BY OREN ARNOLD

YESTERDAY: Leana Sormi is angered by the way Bob trusts Carolyn, hates the efficient secretary. After a turbulent session with Bob, Leana returns to her own office. A plan begins to develop in her mind. She owns a share in X-999. She will take it, leave the laboratory wrecked. It will not be necessary to murder Bob. Leana decides to act, quickly.

CAROLYN READS A WIRE
CHAPTER XIII

IN less than an hour Leana Sormi had crystallized a rather daring plan. One to change the entire course of her life hereafter.

Robert Hale's tact reprimand, because she protested against Carolyn's "intrusion" here, had left her furious. Plainly, then, she must take complete possession of the X-999 herself. In a way, it belonged to her; Dr. Hale could never have achieved his great discovery without her aid here, at least not for many more months, she felt.

And with the substance actually in her possession, plus her own reputation as a scientist in the Schoenfeld laboratory with Dr. Hale, she could command attention in any other scientific center—command the world to bow at her feet.

Before stupid, childish Robert Hale could even realize what had happened, Leana told herself angrily, she could make herself immensely powerful and rich. Maybe, then, Robert Hale would come crawling to her if she still wanted him!

The young woman built up the scene in her imagination to astonishing reality. Normally, she would have been shocked at herself; shocked that an otherwise orderly, trained mind could go off at such a tangent. But in her intense training, Leana Sormi had taken no cognizance of the personal self, and did not now recognize that she was, after all, very human.

As if to strengthen a case which needed strengthening, Leana wrote a telegram. She worded it with infinite care so as to indicate tremendously important information without actually revealing anything for sure. She didn't dial the telephone; she called the telephone office for a delivery boy. The message was addressed to the general manager of one of the greatest industrial plants in North America, one whom Leana had known personally for several years and who had maintained a more than ordinary interest in her work here with Robert Hale.

"He will jump at the chance!" Leana assured herself, with keen satisfaction. "He will recognize the possibilities at once. He will keep quiet and still do exactly as I say!"

BOB HALE readily agreed to Carolyn's suggestion that the meticulous care, she knew. In two days more, perhaps less time, the priceless element—if X-999 could be called an element—would be all ready to move.

A definite sense of excitement had crept into Carolyn's being ever since Bob returned home, partly because she was near him again and had been ordered to go west with him, partly because they were again handling the explosive, power-laden X-999, and all faced danger together.

She had utmost confidence in him; but still, her heart clung to a vague sense of danger for him. It was a growing apprehension, if not actual fear.

To a degree, it disturbed her work so that she was a little nervous that afternoon. She walked often into the office hall just to gaze out at the laboratory and its guards across the open compound.

About 3 p. m. she was standing near the drinking fountain when the outside door opened and a telegraph messenger came in.

"I'll sign for it," she said, quite naturally. She smiled at the lad, and a smile from a girl as pretty as Carolyn was worth more than the conventional dime.

Idly she opened the yellow envelope; it easily came unsealed. She started inside to put it on Bob's desk as she had done with numerous other routine business messages, reading it as she went to see if it demanded his immediate attention. It said:

"DEFINITELY INTERESTED YOUR STATEMENT YOU CAN HAVE EXCLUSIVE POSSESSION OF FABULOUS NEW POWER SUBSTANCE. MONEY NO OBJECT BUT KEEP ABSOLUTE SECRECY. LEAVING

LISBON, Portugal, April 29 (AP)—Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar broke a long silence on Portugal's foreign relations last night by declaring at his birthday celebration that "national dignity, liberty, independent and territorial integrity" are values to which "everything else ought to be sacrificed."

Before scores of thousands of Portuguese gathered in Black Horse square he added: "But I do not think that any nation ignores them."

Nazi, Greek Flags Fly Side By Side

BERLIN, April 29 (AP)—The Greek flag is flying side-by-side with the Nazi swastika over the Acropolis at Athens, a German correspondent who flew over the ancient ruins reported Monday.

"An elegant expression that we honor Greece," he commented. "Far below in the streets," his account went on, "we sighted the first conveyances—motorized infantry."

"A great mass of humanity was moving on the streets and squares. Here and there one sees great throngs where German vehicles are parked."

It's Derby Day

By Art Krenz

With pride and grace, not too far back, Old Dobbin pulled the family hack;

But men have switched to gas from hay, The motorcar is here to stay.

The sturdy covered wagon trains Are gone forever from the plains;

The modern pioneer approaches The Land of Promise in chromium coaches.

In an era past, over pony trails, The brave, bold riders sped the mails;

Now your letters to Aunt Josephine Are zipped through the sky in a flying machine.

The farmer's not behind the plow, His nag's no longer at the prow;

Science, that great benefactor, Has given us, instead, the tractor.

But once each year, let come what may, The horse still has his Derby Day.

Germans Cease Trade With New Mexico Firms

ROSSELL, N. M., April 29 (AP)—Because of the arrest of three German seamen from the immigration internment camp at Fort Stanton, German officials Monday suddenly halted all business dealings with Roswell business firms.

In a terse letter to Roswell business houses, which has supplied staples and engaged in other business with the 412 seamen at the camp, Captain Wilhelm Daehne of the scuttled liner Columbus wrote:

"As the police authorities of the City of Roswell apparently, through the unwarranted arrest of our purser, do not want any business connections between your good selves and the Columbus camp, Fort Stanton, N. M., I beg to advise you that with the delivery of our last order our business connections, which up to now have been in our full satisfaction, must be severed at once."

The seamen were transferred by the immigration service from San Francisco to Fort Stanton, 80

Airplane Figures To Be Kept Secret

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Secretary of War Stimson Monday banned publication of airplane production figures to place them in the same category of military secrets as troop and ship movements.

The war secretary held that in most cases the reports were confusing and did not really reflect actual output. In some cases, he declared, planes are held up because of lack of parts on month and then finished the next, so that production figures from month to month vary so greatly they do not give the true picture.

Raymond Turknett returned Sunday to John Tarleton college in Stephenville after spending the week-end here.

Cubans Seize Mystery Yacht

HAVANA, Cuba, April 29.—Cuban navy headquarters announced Monday night that gunboat Cuba had seized off southern coast a yacht flying United States flag and manned a crew of nine men believed to be German.

The yacht was taken to Bano and the crew was charged of conspiring to overthrow the Cuban government. The men carried identification papers and the navy department said it would investigate their activities.

Well-informed circles previously reported the men were engaged in distributing axis propaganda.
