About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

One of the really big things for Cisco that has received little attention from Cisco businessmen and town citizens, is the livestock situation at the pens in south Cisco. It has already outgrown its wild dream, and instead of being a small exchange conducted each week, now attracts big crowds of farmers and stockmen in sections even far removed from our trade territory. And the big thing about it is that it has raised the value of stock, so that a man now can buy his animals, whether they be hogs, cows, calves, sheep, goats, will not only have buyers, but they will bring fair value; if one man will not see value offered, some other buyer will do so and they will go begging. A few years ago a man could get a surplus animal or two—enough to pay him to ship—and it was highly probable if he could get much for them locally. Somewhere in the country there would be some one wanting this stock, but the buyer and seller could not be brought together because there was no organization with this business mind. Now that is changed. . . . if a man wants to buy, he goes to the weekly auction at Cisco, and there he will find what he wants, if one wants to sell, he takes his stock to the auction and there will be the one who wants to buy. And nothing in Cisco is going to do more benefit to farmers and stockmen than this organization, which brings producer and buyer together.

J. S. Job Pace To Clear Rolls Within One Year

Unemployment in the United States may soon be wiped out if figures submitted by government officials are index to the trend now observable by the parade of new workers into private industry caused by national defense employment. If this pace is maintained it would put 5,000,000 unemployed to work within a year. Paul McNutt, federal security administrator, reported that state employment services during March placed 376,000 men and women, 55 per cent more than in the same month last year. In addition, 53,000 placements were made in March by the employment offices bringing together worker

Sabano Farmer Finds Skeleton of Ancient Sea Monster of Past Ages

What is probably the skeleton of some ancient sea animal of the Paleozoic era of some 250,000,000 years ago, was brought to the Daily Press office Saturday by L. N. Carlile, farmer, who lives about 12 1-2 miles south of Cisco on the Rising Star highway. J. Y. Culwell, head of the high school and Cisco Junior college science departments, viewed the strange structure, which shows a base of lime formation, saying that it was impossible for him to exactly identify the skeleton, but he believed it must have been an animal of the ancient sea bed or arm of the sea, since its decay took the formation of calcium and phosphorus bases. It could have been the skull of some low form of sea fish or animal, or it could have been the body of the animal. This age was about 250,000,000 years ago, when the sea covered this part of the

Sen. Clark Says War Declaration Expected Soon

Senator Bennett Champ Clark (D-Mo) said in a prepared speech at Kansas City, Mo., Friday night, "We now learn from London that the forthcoming address of the president will be practically a declaration of war." FEDERATED CLUBS AWARD FOR CLEAN-UP

The city federation sponsored a clean-up campaign during April, offering awards and special mention to citizens who excelled in co-operation with the organization in efforts to make Cisco a clean city, in keeping with its reputation of long standing as a city with no flies or mosquitoes. The club, in making the awards, warns that the recent heavy and continued rains will demand constant vigilance to maintain this standing, since weeds will make harboring places for both flies and mosquitoes. Those who keep cows are urged to clean up lots every day and use lime liberally.

Awards Announced
Clean-up campaign awards have been announced as follows:
Mrs. R. F. Weddington, one-half gallon floor wax, donated by Glenn's Furniture Co. Mrs. Weddington's large lot was pronounced not only perfect in cleanliness, but one of the most beautiful.

Petroleum May Supplant Quinine For Malaria

The oil wells of California may supplant the Cinchona trees of Java in the Dutch East Indies as the source of medicine for the 1,000,000 malaria sufferers in the continental United States, a research chemist told the Virginia Academy of Science in a talk Friday. Excitements are well advanced with compounds whose base is obtained from petroleum, said Dr. Alfred Burger, chemistry professor at the University of Virginia. These compounds give promise of having more effectiveness than the universally used specific, quinine, whose source is a virtual monopoly of the East Indies, or the synthetic coal tar derivatives plasmochin and atropin.

J. C. King Retires From Katy Railroad After More Than Thirty Years' Service

J. C. King

J. C. King, veteran railroad man, has retired from active service on the Katy railroad system after an unbroken service of 30 1-2 years. He has been succeeded as agent by Frank Haggard of LaGrange, Texas, after 12 years of service in Cisco. Mr. King retired on March 24, over the protest from officials that he only take a vacation to recuperate his failing health, as he could have worked on 14 more years, but since he had reached the period of maximum retirement pay, Mr. King thought that he could best adjust himself to retirement.

Closer Cooperation Requested on Fires

Chief of Police Purdie makes the following request: "The police and fire departments ask closer cooperation from the public when a fire alarm is heard. Please pull in to the curb and park and be sure all of the trucks and firemen are passed before proceeding, then do not follow the trucks to the fire. This is a violation of our city ordinance and we have been instructed to give tickets for this violation. "We have had our streets so congested that if another alarm had come in from some other location, the trucks could not have made their way through the cars to answer the alarm, so please don't get in the path of our firemen. Give them the right of way and let them protect your property in case of fire."

Henley Says Cisco Should Go After Big Army Camp

Ed Henley, Brownwood business man, called at the Daily Press office Saturday to see A. B. O'Flaherty, an old friend. He was in the city on a short business trip. Mr. Henley thinks Cisco should get in the running and annex one of the many army camps being established in Texas by the federal government. He called attention to the fact that our excellent supply of good water would be a compelling asset—the set-up demanded for a permanent camp, and dilated on the huge financial advantages accruing to Brownwood from its camp. Mr. Henley added that he and other Brownwood citizens would be glad to give all aid possible should Cisco decide to throw its hat in the army camp ring.

A highway employe, Otto Denham, made three attempts to swim to Falls with a rope, but failed. The creek was about one mile wide. Falls clung to a tree after a flood swept his car off the highway.

Putnam Stages Homecoming Fiesta; King and Queen Crowned in Glamour

A number of Ciscoans enjoyed the Homecoming Fiesta and glamorous stage arrangement event at the Putnam ultra-modern high school Friday night, when an unusually large audience witnessed the crowning of the king and queen in the traditional manner. Ex-students wore a blue ribbon while students wore the white to distinguish themselves. The stage arrangement was unique and very beautiful with white stars on a blue background, with lovely roses entwining in profuse beauty. The arrangement was by Lenox Byrd, and played directed by Supt. R. F. Webb, Mrs. Earl Sunderman and Mrs. Stanley Webb. The program follows: Crown bearer—Mary Dell Wood, Patsy Harrison.

Saturday Is Busy Day in All Lines

Unusually large crowds thronged Cisco's streets Saturday afternoon and jammed traffic on Avenue D, south to Fourteenth street. Merchants were busy, including dry goods stores, groceries, garages, service stations, drug stores and cafes. People not only looked, but clerks seemed to be rushed to keep up with demands in some of the stores. One merchant said, "This looks like old times in Cisco. Would like to see lots of Saturdays like this—and a few such days thrown in through the week."

CALLER FROM MITCHELL

J. J. Livingston of the Mitchell community, was a welcome caller at the Daily Press office Saturday. Mr. Livingston has not been in the best of health the past several years, but is now recovering some of his old-time vigor. He was born in Alabama and came to Texas fifty years ago. He is 64 years of age.

SOUTH CISCO FLOODED IN AFTERNOON

Traffic Suspended For Several Hours on Highway "23"

With the earth thoroughly soaked, the rain Friday reached torrential proportions in Cisco and this entire section. Streets ran curb full like rivers while south Cisco was inundated, causing suspension of traffic, and flooding low places on Ham branch, near the Thornton feed mill. The rainfall for the day was 2.9 inches, the city rain gauge disclosed.

Leon Creek, south of Cisco, flooded the highway, where traffic was suspended for several hours.

Lake Cisco rose five feet, bringing the lake to a depth of 60 1-2 feet, within one foot of the all time high mark. As this was the first run-off rain of the continued precipitation that has fallen in this area, most of the rain had been absorbed as it fell.

Lake Dathan Over Highway

Lake Dathan, about six miles west of Cisco, ran out of its banks, flooding highway No. 89 to a depth of 2 1/2 inches, but hardly sufficient water to interfere with traffic over that paved thoroughfare. This water quickly subsided, parties from the community stated Saturday.

Much of the farm land in the southern part of the county, suffered damage to small grain, as many of the fields were inundated. The damage would have been greatly enhanced had the rainfall been normal in this section, but by reason of the continued precipitation, all crops were backward, and very few farmers were able to commence the planting of spring and summer crops.

Farm Lands Flooded

L. N. Carlile, living on Sabano creek, in the Rembey community, reported while in Cisco Saturday, that Sabano creek was out of its banks, with water covering many of the farms lying on that stream. He said that the stream was a quarter of a mile wide in most places, and his entire farm was covered by water except about 50 yards. Mr. Carlile said water was standing over his grain fields, which would likely suffer considerable damage, as the grain being too tall, he thought, for it to ever right itself after the water receded.

W. L. Borgdon, Romney, stated he had started to Gorman Saturday, but on reaching Leon creek, was compelled to turn back, as that stream covered the highway, and its waters were all over the fields adjoining Mr. Brogdon. Mr. Brogdon said most of the damage from the flood will be land erosion, as few crops were planted.

The same conditions as in this area prevail over practically all of west Texas, according to reports from that section.

No bridges were reported washed out, which fact was due to the permanent structure of concrete bridges that have been placed over the streams of this section.

The most serious threat to highway No. 89 was the cave-in on "Thurber Hill," east of Ranger, to which the highway maintenance crew was sent.

CALLER FROM NIMROD

L. D. Stanaford, of Nimrod, called at the Daily Press office Saturday and spent some time chatting with old friends. Mr. Stanaford was born in Alabama and came to Eastland county from Arkansas 51 years ago. He will be 84 years of age next February and is enjoying good health. Mrs. Stanaford is also in good health. They have eight living children, but none are at home with the parents. Mr. Stanaford is a Missionary Baptist and a Republican, and proud of both connections.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

One of the greatest traits of the doctor is his inability to relieve a condition after making his diagnosis. Any doctor will tell you that one of the hardest patients to handle is one living under high pressure—who refuses to slow down.

"Moderation in all things" is the oldest recipe for health.
Moderation in work, play, diet, recreation and rest. Overwork may be mental or physical, and the tissues of the brain as well as the body should be allowed "time out" for rest. Work is not nearly as dangerous to health as worry, and as a matter of fact work within reasonable limits is a good antidote for worry.

However, to accomplish rather than to LIVE, is costing too many valuable lives. Life is a one-way road, and to "stop on it" and rush through at the expense of your health is foolhardy. RELAX AND LIVE! Recreation is a rest for your posture, energy, and serves as mental balancer to prevent your thoughts and issues from becoming stale and unwholesome.
Don't even take your sports too seriously! Love play for play's sake. Competition and the intense desire to win can rob play of its value to your health.

What's your hurry? If you rush from bed to shave like mad, work all kind of hours, drive at breakneck speed as a matter of habit, rush through your meals—and sprinkle a lot of worry in between—take an inventory and slow down. Talk to your doctor and let him advise you how to RELAX AND BE HEALTHIER.

Middle-Aged Workers to Be in Employment

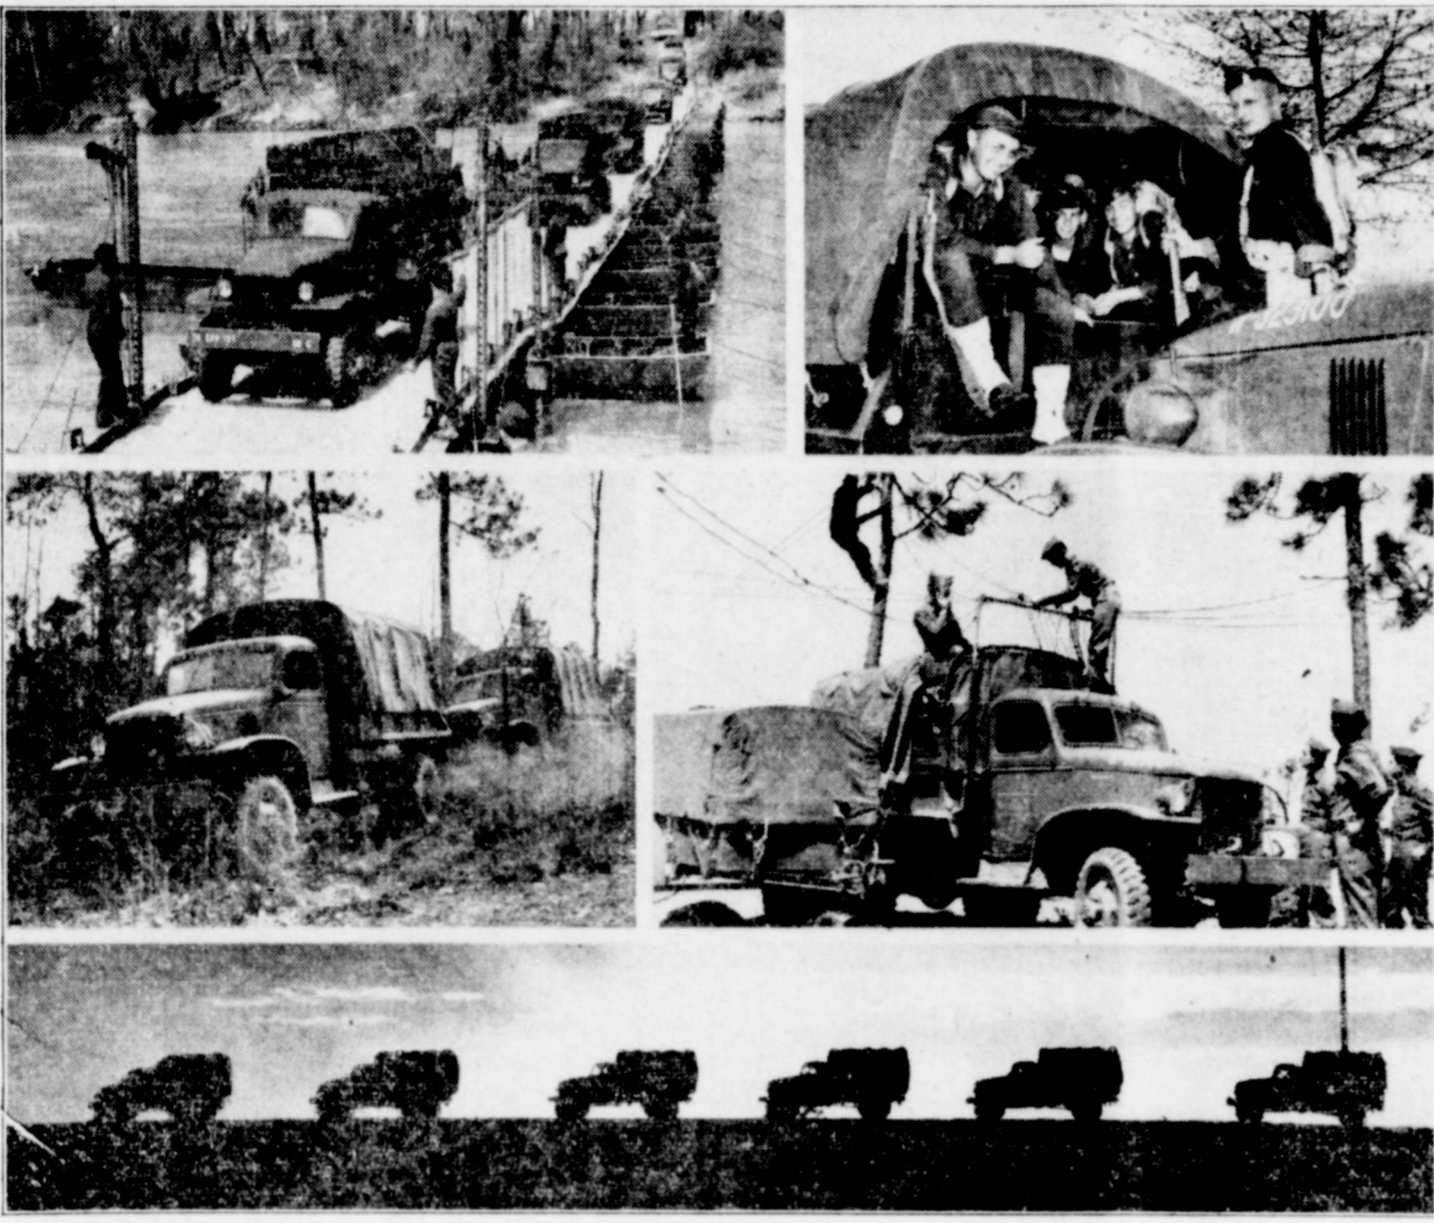

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3—The Security Administrator today called upon 500 full- and part-time state employment offices which are coordinated under the United States Employment Service to unite with war veterans and other civic organizations in finding jobs for men over 40 during National Employment Week, beginning today. By presidential proclamation, signed April 3, the week of April 4 to 10, inclusive, has been designated as National Employment Week.

McNutt stated that men experienced in the field of airplane manufacturing, shipbuilding, and die making are particularly needed at this time. He pointed out that very few young men have had time to acquire the skills necessary to hold down important jobs in these industries. On the other hand, he said, women in middle life have the abilities and skills which are in demand in many of the war industries.

Men and Motors—The New Army on Wheels

Uncle Sam's motorized force—the new army on wheels—is symbolized by the "dawn patrol" of Chevrolet 4 x 4 army trucks shown across the bottom of the photo. At the upper left, heavily laden trucks rumble across a 10-ton-capacity ponton bridge, built by army engineers in a practice maneuver in 41½ minutes. In the foreground is a Chevrolet 4 x 4 carrying foot-bridge units. Upper right, doughboys of the Fourth Division start the day's work with smiles. Lower left: Rugged, four-wheel-drive trucks roll through trackless forests when necessary. Lower right: Another familiar Chevrolet 4 x 4 carries a post command telephone switchboard, nerve-center of a division. All photos were taken at Fort Benning, Ga.

Davies J. McGough Is Made Sergeant

In orders issued by Colonel H. R. Harmon, commanding officer of Kelly field, May 1, 1941, Davies J. McGough, son of Mrs. Dee Peugle, of Rt. 4, Cisco, Texas, was advanced from the rank of private first class to that of sergeant. Military authorities at Kelly field stated that Sgt. McGough's promotion was based on his attention to duty and soldierly qualities. Promotions in the air corps are earned by application and hard work, and any man serving his country wholeheartedly is given the opportunity to earn a quick rating.

J. C. King— (Continued from Page One)

Mr. King began railroading at New Ulm, in October, 1910. He was successively at Smithville, Georgetown, Belton and San Marcos, before coming to Cisco in 1929. He has never missed a payday in the more than 30 years, despite ill health a part of that time. Mr. and Mrs. King own a pretty home at 1609 Bullard in west Cisco, where Mr. King is endeavoring to take it easy and rest. He expects to find a hobby, since a man of his active habits will find it hard to be idle. Mr. Haggard, new Katy agent, expects to move his family, wife and daughter, here about June 1st, or as soon as school closes at La Grange. All but three of Texas' 254 counties now have oil or gas production or exploration.

WTCC Convention Promises Large Attendance May

"One of the largest downtown crowds in Mineral Wells' history is promised for Friday afternoon, May 16, closing day of the West Texas chamber of commerce convention. The occasion will be the parade of bands, starting at 5 p. m.," said P. R. Warwick, secretary of the Cisco chamber of commerce.

Parade plans were worked out Monday night by local committees in conference with Brig. Gen. W. H. Simpson, commander of the Camp Wolters infantry replacement training center, and Lt. Col. Otto F. Lange, plans and training officer at the center. Colonel Lange accepted the post of director general of both parade and the patriotic mass meeting to be held Thursday night, May 15, in Mineral Wells' downtown convention hall.

The parade will be a composite of both military and civilian bands. Leading off will be the Camp Wolters band, and in the military section a whole battalion of troops, four companies, 1,000 men, will march. The honor spot in the civilian band section will go to the 80-piece Odessa high school band, directed by G. Ward Moody. This is the 1941 WTCC official band. Other civilian band units will include the famed Cowboy band of Hardin-Simmons university, with their six horses; a Fort Worth high school ROTC band, the Weatherford high school band, the host band from Mineral Wells high school, and others.

The Odessa official band is also expected to play in Thursday night's patriotic mass meeting. During this event, as an offering by the Mineral Wells chamber of commerce, gift sponsors from the territory—west Texas beauties—will be presented to the big audience. There will be no contest feature in this event. Following the sponsor's presentation a patriotic oration will be delivered by an outstanding speaker, and this probably will be broadcast.

and employer but not carrying through the actual employment process.

If the new job pace holds for 12 months, a social security spokesman pointed out, the rolls of registered, able unemployed virtually would be cleared. On April 1 the active rolls of employment offices showed 5,166,391 persons seeking work. Of this total more than 1,600,000 registered during March in response to McNutt's call for a nationwide listing of persons available for work in defense industries.

North Carolina, with 20,912 placements in March, had the largest percentage gain over that month a year ago for any state. With 1924 placements, Rhode Island had a gain of 215 per cent to follow North Carolina. Among states which showed declines with the placements and percentages were: Oklahoma, 3,646 and 19; Texas, 26,563 and 7; Arkansas, 3,155 and 4; Washington, 5,509 and 10.

More than 97 per cent of the automobiles stolen in the first nine months of 1940 were recovered.

Studebaker Makes Announcement of New 1941 Models

K. B. Elliott, Studebaker vice president in charge of sales, today announced a new addition to the 1941 Studebaker Commander and President lines. The new models, called the "air-ship" incorporate the efficiency of a coupe with the roomy comfort and passenger seating capacity of a sedan, according to Elliott. The new car is an addition to the Commander and President Sedan Coupe and touring sedan models.

made by Raymond Loewy, the air-ship is said to be low and long. Its doors are wide and the front seat is the full width type with divided back which tilt forward and upward for rear passenger. General rear seat and headroom dimensions insure maximum comfort. Rear seat was said to be wide wider than that of the previous Studebaker Commander and President sedan. The new Studebaker sedan is reported to be the first of the new cars to incorporate a one-piece, curved windshield in standard equipment. Besides sitting in the smooth flowing line of the new car it gives maximum visibility for greater safety.

Some. The Skyway models have four wheel steers and whitewall tires as standard equipment and are available in a choice of two interior and an exterior color scheme as well as solid black. The new Studebaker sedan-coupe is now on display at Shaw-Tractor & Equipment Company, located at 103 West 9th street.
