HEAVY GRAIN CROP YIELD IS PREDICTED

Farmer and Wife Bring In 16 Dozen Eggs As One Week's Hen Production

Farmer and his wife, bringing a rate of eggs that numbered 16 dozen, which they said were laid in one week from their flock of hens, was an unusual feat, according to local growers.

Farmer and his wife said they are the greatest asset they own on their farm. "We grow corn, milk a few jersey cows, raise and butter, feed the milk to pigs and hens, but other crops we grow on our farm are not equal, as money to the revenue we get from eggs," they agreed.

Recently we read in a Cisco paper a farmer stated there was a market unless one grew a few chickens, but we have kept up with expenses and know we make money even if we feed. We sometimes think perhaps it would be better to raise our own chickens. The best commercial feeds produce eggs from our flocks when we feed our own home-grown," they stated.

The quantity in the hen houses is plenty of clean, clear water, very essential item in egg production in growing fryers, farmers said.

Memorial Day Dedicated to J. Smith

Memorial day services will be held at the First Christian church Sunday, May 25, with the pastor, J. R. Wright, preaching the sermon at 11 a. m., which is to be dedicated to the memory of the J. Smith, recently drowned.

Smith was past department commander of the state of Arizona, Legion. He was the son of J. H. Smith, Sr., and Mrs. W. E. Spencer, of Cisco.

A dedication service is sponsored by the American Legion, VFW, and both local auxiliaries urged to attend, and he is cordially invited to the morning service.

Mother of V. O. Hatcher Dies

V. O. Hatcher of Eastland, former publisher of the Eastland Record, received a message advising him of the death of his mother, Mrs. G. L. Hatcher, at Fort Smith, Ark., late Monday of this week.

Mrs. Hatcher, 83, fell and fractured her hip. She died within a few hours after the accident. Mr. Hatcher was unable to attend the funeral.

Weather

WEST TEXAS: Sunday, partly cloudy, scattered showers in eastern portion; moderate to occasionally fresh southerly winds.

EAST TEXAS: Fair, little change in temperature Sunday.

GRADUATING ACTIVITIES SCHEDULED

With the senior play held Friday night at the high school auditorium, and the Junior-Senior banquet on the Laguna roof garden, Saturday night, commencement activities may be said to be well under way. Both of these events were outstanding achievements and showed the results of much planning and execution by sponsors and class members.

A large attendance was out to witness the last contents of a three-day tournament, of which each match in all flights proved to be "nip-and-tuck" battles, a gentleman and lady being paired to play a similar pairing.

In the first flight, two West Texas Utilities employees were opponents from the gentleman's standpoint, Norman Huston and Mrs. G. R. Nance playing against Vernon Housley and Mrs. K. N. Greer. This match was a hot contest throughout the entire game, with the latter named pair winning the match at the 18th hole.

Winners in all flights were as follows:

First Flight—Vernon Housley-Mrs. K. N. Greer; over Norman Huston and Mrs. G. R. Nance, 1-up.

Consolation—Red Milner - Mrs. Reggie Henderson over J. L. Thornton-Mrs. I. A. Brunkenhoefer, 3-2.

Second Flight—G. R. Nance-Mrs. Roy Huffmeyer over C. B. Shaw-Mrs. Joe Black, 4-3.

Consolation—W. C. Newman-Mrs. I. Henson over Jack Elkins-Mrs. Nick Miller, 3-2.

Third Flight—L. S. Jenkins-Mrs. Bob White over Rev. Caspacheras-Mrs. Wilson Davis, 19th hole.

Consolation—Alex. Spears-Mrs. Paul Wood over W. J. Leach-Mrs. Norman Huston, Default.

Today Designated 'I Am An American'

Today, May 18, has been designated, "I Am An American" day, by President Roosevelt, with the idea in mind that the American Legion and VFW organizations, in cooperation with schools, will provide patriotic programs, contests and other events to cultivate patriotism and Americanism in the minds of school children.

A poster contest is a feature in many of the events sponsored, providing the following rules and regulations:

1. A patriotic subject must be used, and the poster may be illustrated or arranged as the contestant desires.
2. Each poster shall contain 150 words, or less.
3. Posters must be 11 x 14 inches in size.
4. Any pupil of the school may be eligible to enter the contest.
5. The name of the school attended by the contestant should be placed at the bottom of the poster.

Prizes are usually given by some store or individual where posters are left, not later than May 26, when the contest ends.

Banquet's Theme Is "Pot of Gold" at Rainbow's End

The banquet held on the roof garden of the Laguna hotel Saturday night, staged by members of the Junior class honoring the seniors of 1941, was a gala affair with all the pomp and splendid dignity usual to such occasions.

The setting of the head table depicted the rosy future being wished for for those upper classmen, who are entering on the Commencement of Life.

Arranged before Toastmaster Raymond Thomas, president of the Junior class, was a beautiful rainbow with each end resting on the fabled "Pot of Gold." And on each side of those, were long, lighted tapers in crystal holders. Big vases of carnations, glass flowers, flanked these candles. In front of this rainbow were arranged in navy blue crepe on white table cloth the words, "Seniors 1941."

Behind the head table, an outdoor scene was arranged with blue sky, across which an immense rainbow in life colors, was spread. The rainbow theme was carried out in all the decorations which extended to windows and the vestibule, where an outdoor scene greeted the guests as they entered the banquet hall. An arrangement of water with colored lights drew expressions of delightful surprise from all guests.

The tables were spread with white cloths, down the center of which were navy blue stripes of paper decorations. White tapers in crystal twin holders aided in carrying out the class colors of navy blue and white, while lovely vases of sweet peas emphasized the rainbow color theme.

There were about 180 juniors, seniors and faculty guests present.

Noah Fowler Goes To Kansas City

Noah Fowler, Cisco electrician, left Saturday for an indefinite employment at Kansas City, Mo., where he will be employed as one of the 1000 electricians called for to work at the big bomber plant under construction there.

There is also projected for that area a small arms and munitions plant which will give further employment to skilled workers.

His family will remain in Cisco.

Texas University Gets $25,000 Grant

ARKANSAS PASS, May 17.—The Rockefeller Foundation has granted the University of Texas $25,000 for the construction and equipment of a marine laboratory at Port Aransas. The entire field of oceanography will be its work and it will be the only one of its kind on the entire Gulf coast, Dr. E. J. Lund, head of the zoological department of the university, revealed Friday.

WHEAT PRICE TO BE 75 CTS. OR HIGHER

As harvest time approaches for wheat and oats, guesses are being made as to probable yield per acre. Farmers north of Cisco in the grain belts of Eastland, Callahan, Shackelford and Stephens counties, say 15 to 25 bushels per acre for wheat, and from 40 to 75 and even as high as 100 bushels per acre for some fields of oats, are not too high for figures for that crop.

Prices for grain, especially wheat, are mounting a sensational rise in the market being recorded for this past week. Wheat is expected to open at 75c or better, and market manipulations may determine further advances. It is understood that loans are available at 85 cents per bushel.

A block of about 10,000 acres of wheat in Stephens county, directly to the north of Cisco and much of which lies in Cisco trade territory, is rated at not less than 15 bushels to the acre. Much of this acreage may thresh out even better.

Oats were never finer, and the heads are so heavy that barring some unforeseen damage, will yield bountifully. The price is problematic, oats being used principally for fattening beef in the northern markets, but if war demands are sufficiently strong to demand unusual supplies of beef for armies, the price might trend rapidly upward. About 30 cents is the present guess per bushel.

Announcement Eases Oilbelt Tense Worries

The announcement a few weeks ago that the Illinois Pipe Line company, serving the Ohio Oil company, would cease carrying oil through these lines, caused consternation over the oilbelt, since much of the oil of this section was being conveyed through this carrier.

But now word has been received that the Illinois Pipe Line company will continue to carry crude oil from the West Central Texas counties which it serves, to the Fort Worth refinery of the Ohio Oil company for an indefinite period.

The Ohio Oil company had previously announced that it would:

New 1941 Driver's License Law Has Teeth - Affects All Drivers

October 1, 1941; those numbered 450,001 to 900,000 expire March 31, 1942, and are to be renewed January 1, 1942; those numbered 900,001 to 1,350,000 expire June 30, 1942, and are to be renewed April 4, 1942, and those numbered above 1,350,000 expire November 1, 1942, and are to be renewed July 1, 1942. Owners who neglect the renewal of their licenses on time will be required to stand examinations before they are issued new licenses.

For those present license holders who are qualified for renewal of their licenses, this table of dates merely means routine regulation with which they must comply; but with those who do not hold licenses for those whom the law deems and not qualified to be issued renewals, the law begins to mean something else. It, figuratively, begins almost imperceptibly to bare its teeth, unless the person is exempt. And these exemptions under the law include those driving official vehicles in the service of the United States; those driving farm or road machinery, or commercial vehicles on highways in time of emergency; those who are non-residents, at least aged 16, with operators' licenses from home states, and aged 18 for chauffeurs, except when employed in this state or when their vehicles are registered in their home states; and non-residents, aged 18 or over, for 90 days, if license is not required in their home states, and their vehicles are registered in their home states.

No Licenses Granted.—No license will be granted to any person under 14 years of age, and no commercial or chauffeur's license will be granted to any person under 16 years of age, but a youth between these two ages may be authorized by the county judge to apply for an individual operator's license. No license will be granted to any person whose license is suspended or revoked; and likewise no license will be issued to any person who is a habitual drunkard or narcotic addict; who has not been judicially restored or released; who has an incapacitating physical or mental disability; who is unable to understand highway signs written in English; and any person whose driving is inimical to safety.

Qualified Holders.—Drivers not coming under those bans—and that inimical to safety provision has a formidable elasticity about it—may, of course, make sworn applications for licenses. An applicant who is under 18 years of age, however, must have his application signed by parent, employer, guardian, or county judge, and his license so obtained can be revoked upon the request of such signer. Applicant's examination, which must be held not more than 10 days from application in county of residence, will cover vision, understanding of signs in English, knowledge of traffic laws, and mental and physical fitness. The license issued must be numbered, must show age and residence, must give a brief description of the holder, and must be signed by the holder, or licensee. The license must be carried at all times and must be exhibited on demand, or in court. And the licensee must notify the Department of Public Safety of any change of address or name.

Under the new law, a driver may have his license suspended if he has committed an offense for which automatic suspension of license is required upon conviction; if he has been responsible as a driver for any accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another person, or serious property damage; and if he is a habitually reckless or negligent driver. His license may be suspended, too, if he is a habitual violator of traffic laws, if he is incapable of driving, if he has permitted unlawful or fraudulent use of his license, and if he has failed or refused to submit a report of any accident in which he was involved. And, significantly, he is also liable to suspension of his license if he commits in another state an offense that would be sufficient grounds in Texas for suspension or revocation. And just in case any Texan may have thought of it as an escape mechanism, he cannot operate his automobile in his home state under a foreign license if his own license has been suspended. He is, as the old-timers say, caught "goin' and comin'."

Automatic suspension.—Under the new regulation, the license of any driver shall be automatically suspended upon final conviction of any of the following offenses: Negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle; driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs; any offense punishable as a felony under the motor vehicle laws of this state; a conviction of a driver involved in an accident or collision, upon a charge of failure to stop, to render aid, and to disclose his identity at the scene of the collision or accident; and a conviction upon a charge of aggravated assault upon the person by means of a motor vehicle.

Penalties provided are a first suspension of six months and an additional suspension extended for a like period, in addition to other penalties, if the driver is convicted of operating a motor vehicle while his license is suspended. The "other" penalties referred to, according to section 34 of the law, are a fine of $25 to $500 and six months in jail.

The law reveals more teeth when it is discovered that license violations consist of displaying or possessing fictitious, cancelled, revoked, suspended, or altered license; permitting use of a license by one not entitled to use it, or using another's license; failing to surrender license on demand of authorities; applying for or having more than one license; and giving fictitious name, address, and false statement on license.

No car owner shall permit a child or ward under 18 years of age, or any other person without authority, to drive his automobile; and no person shall employ an unlicensed chauffeur or any other unlicensed individual to drive for him. The owner should keep records of rental of his automobile to other drivers, for he is responsible for his own motor vehicles.

Report Required.—Anyone involved in an automobile accident that results in death, injury or damage of $50 or more must report the accident to the Department of Public Safety within 48 hours. Failure to do so incurs the liability of license suspension or revocation. Forms on which these reports may be made out are supplied by the department, and it is the department's responsibility to analyze and to tabulate this information and to publish it in statistical form. Penalty for violation of any part of the act where the penalty is not otherwise stipulated is declared to be a fine of not more than $200.

MAKING AMERICA STRONG

Science Provides Saving of World

The role of science in this discordant time was touched on recently by Dr. E. H. Skinner, in an editorial in the Kansas City Medical Journal.

"Science," he wrote, "can provide the means and the measures to bring this old world out of this chaos of despair that has been imposed by the philosophy of totalitarianism.

Science sets men free. It is when we pervert the achievements of science and turn them to such purposes as war, that this truth is temporarily but it is science which gives us the means to produce greater leisure, earning power, greater opportunities for advancement and It is science which fights and banishes pain and makes for longer, fuller lives. Science is individual intelligence, ambition, turned to the benefit of all people.

Conversion Cited as Good Example for World's Present Leaders

Text: Acts 9:1-16

WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

have remarked before, it is a great day for the church when Saul, the persecutor, became Paul, the apostle. Here in our lesson is the story of Paul's conversion.

seems to have been in a deeper experience some-thing preparing him for such a conversion. He realized that it was not a mere change of name, but a change of heart.

history of religion shows instances of sudden conversion. Often some tragic event or danger enables a man for the first time to see the way of his own soul. It may be the view one attains when he suddenly ascends the hill or the top of a mountain and sees for the first time his real environment.

Farm Workers To Be Taken Off WPA Rolls

Farmers throughout this section of Texas were reminded today by H. W. Holtzer, district manager of the Work Projects Administration, that WPA workers will be released from projects wherever needed, to make farm help available.

Anticipating an abnormal demand for farm labor because of unseasonable rains during the past few weeks, Holtzer issued the following statement: "It is likely that many farmers in this section will be needing additional help during the next few weeks. I wish to remind all employers seeking labor that the rolls of WPA are open to them. Project employment will not be provided for persons who may be otherwise employed in private industry."

"The policy of WPA states definitely that project employees are expected to accept bona fide offers of private and public employment, whether of a permanent or temporary nature, provided:

1. The project employee is capable of performing such work.
 2. The wage for such employment is not less than the prevailing wage for such work in the community where the employee resides.
 3. Such employment is not in conflict with established union relationships.
 4. Such employment provides reasonable working conditions.
- Furthermore, all certified project employees are required to maintain active registration with the local employment service office in order that they may be available for referral to jobs in private industry."
- Holtzer added that any WPA workers who refused any offer of private employment within the stated conditions would be removed from the federal payroll.

Registrants Must Notify Boards of Changed Address

Warning to all registrants under the Selective Service Act that they must notify their local boards promptly of any change of address, or become liable to severe penalties, was given today by General J. Watt Page, state selective service director. It is the duty of every registrant to keep his local board advised at all times of the address at which mail will reach him without delay. General Page pointed out. Any registrant who fails to conform to the Selective Service Act and Regulations, is liable to punishment by imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000 or by both such fine and imprisonment. General Page stated that so far most cases of delinquency have been found to have been due to ignorance of the law or carelessness on the part of registrants. It is the policy of the Selective Service system, he said, and of the department of justice, which is charged with the enforcement of the act, to be lenient in cases where it is apparent there has been no willful intent to violate the law. Nevertheless, he stressed, investigation of such cases is taking up valuable time of local boards and of the department of justice agents which should be devoted to urgent work for national defense. To relieve this situation, and also to protect registrants who do not willfully attempt to violate the law, General Page has asked all local boards to use every means of investigation at their disposal and to wait a reasonable length of time before reporting apparent

New Panama Canal Locks To Meet Air Raid Threat CONGRESS has appropriated $277,000,000 and work has already started on a new set of locks for the Panama Canal, designed to minimize the danger of closing the waterway by bomb attack. The construction scene on the stamp above, picturing the building of Gatun Locks, will be repeated in the six years required for completion of the project. The locks will be built at a distance of one-quarter to one-half miles from the present passages which will be 1200 feet long, 135 feet wide and 45 feet deep. The locks in use today are 1000 feet long, 110 feet wide and 40 feet deep. Approach channels will connect the new locks with the main channel. Locks in use today are not only vulnerable from the air, but also are under constant threat of blockade if the enemy should sink a ship in the locks during transit. Constant watch is maintained on all ships, and U. S. officials are in charge of bridge and engine rooms while vessels pass through the 40-mile lifetime of the United States.

Morris O. Huse Winner of Sears $1,000 Award

Because he exercised skill and care in the preparation for market of an opossum pelt worth approximately 25 cents, Morris O. Huse, a farmer of Crandall Gap, Bosque county, came to Dallas to day to receive a check for $1,000. Mr. Huse, who is 32 years of age and has a wife and five children, received his check from Luther Jordan, general manager of the Sears, Roebuck and Co. mail order plant, as the result of being named first winner in the Twelfth National Fur Show conducted by that company.

Each year trappers from all over the United States and Alaska market more than a million skins of all types through Sears. Ten grand awards and a number of sectional awards are given out in this annual contest to determine the best prepared pelts among those sent in. The final judging is done by a committee of fur experts. Two years ago Mr. Huse won a $50 award in the same competition.

Although most of his time is taken up with operating his father's farm where he and his family reside, Mr. Huse traps in his spare time as a hobby and in extra money. He has attended grade school in Hamilton county, Texas, and is of Norwegian descent, long time residents of Texas.

Some of the COMMON SKIN DISEASES

School teachers have requested an article on Skin Diseases, because so many children go to school with contagious diseases of the skin and infect other children.

All skin diseases are not contagious. Some are caused from systemic substances, such as acne, some types of eczema and warts caused by sensitiveness to protein or pollen, dermatitis caused from plants or chemicals, such as hair dye, hair powder and poison ivy.

Infections caused by "bee" organisms, such as erysipelas, ophioid erythematous, impetigo, ringworm, scabies or itch, are contagious. In a recent study of 100 skin diseases of children under 12 years, the following percentages were obtained: 21% of the cases were eczema, 11% ringworm, 10% impetigo, 7% scabies, and the balance, or 51%, were systemic or non-contagious.

If you, or any member of your family, has a skin eruption, or irritation, see your doctor. Picking, scratching and squeezing are strongly advised against. Infection may be carried to other parts of the body or spread into the deeper tissues. Your case may require a simple local treatment, it may need the X-ray, ultra-violet, radium, vaccine, or it may call for systemic treatment and special diet.
