Millions Are Scattered In State Bounds

Texas has no room to grumble over the amount of federal money spent on defense projects.

This expenditure has been so scattered that almost every part of the state has benefited.

A breakdown of all Texas contracts since July 1, 1940, shows: Army contracts, $84,852,089; navy contracts, $130,010,907; U. S. Maritime commission (emergency ship program), $66,198,750; Farm Security administration (agri.) (defense housing), $108,693; WPA defense projects (FWA), $14,043,349; defense housing—FWA and CHA, $712,500; USHA defense housing projects (FWA), $2,022,149; Public Buildings administration, defense housing (FWA), $3,011,500; office of education defense training (PSA), $2,473,520; NYA (defense training funds for 1941), $2,792,474; Defense Plant corporation (FLA), $15,707,407; Reconstruction Finance corporation (FLA), $15,882,500.

WHEAT, OATS LYING FLAT MAY RISE UP

Farmers Already Late, Deploy Still Further Delays for Plantings

Strong wind and heavy rain, that measured 19 inches, last night wet gardens and fields, and laid grain and corn flat on the ground.

There is little danger that wheat will not right itself, but oats are so tall and the heads are so heavy, that its chances are not so good.

In the sandy land portions of the trade territory, farmers had just begun to get into their fields to kill the grass and weeds that had threatened to overwhelm them.

There is still plenty of time to plant peanuts, and some farmers say late corn on the sand is a better gamble than if it was planted earlier.

U. S. A. AND CANADA

Thirty years ago, when William Howard Taft was president, reciprocity was offered to Canada, but refused on the ground that it seemed to weaken that country's ties with the motherland. Yet, today, something very like it is readily accepted because it will enable Canada to implement more effectively her loyalty to the same motherland.

Partial lowering of tariff barriers and other restrictions on trade between the United States and Canada is readily accepted today by both countries in the name of furthering their joint defense. It is simply one more step in the drawing together of the two North American countries. Pooling of productive facilities so that each country may produce what it can best produce, without duplicating or overlapping in the effort, is certainly a sensible approach to a common problem.

England belatedly tried to conclude a union with France in those last hours of France's downfall, recognizing the possible strength that lay in establishing a common monetary system and in trading freely with one another, unshackled by customs barriers and formalities. But it was too late to set up any such a thing in that last hour. In more unshackled and untroubled fashion, Canada and the United States may well be working toward such understandings today for the future "after the war".

New techniques of the relations between countries will have to be devised anyway—techniques by which countries can pool economic resources and function freely in natural trade territories without an scrupulous regard for national boundaries as formerly. Without sacrificing political independence and political self-rule, nations are going to find ways to step over economic barriers. That which is now being done in the way of economic cooperation with Canada as a war measure may well be pointing the way to a later and more permanent co-operation.

Over 97 per cent of the mail produced in the United States in 1939 was used for industrial purposes, chiefly by makers of beverages, while in 1929—during the prohibition era—more than one-half was sold by producers to wholesalers and retailers, according to the census.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

STACKS OF TESTIMONY, FOUR YEARS BICKERING AND SUPREME COURT RULING BEHIND FORD STRIKE

BY PETER EDSON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Behind the latest labor disturbances at the Ford River Rouge works is a record of nearly four years wrangling with the National Labor Relations Board—covering nine principal cases at Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis, Richmond, Va., Long Beach, Calif., Buffalo, Dallas and Dearborn plants—costing no one knows how much in lawyers' fees, court costs and time for N. L. R. B. hearings. One case went to the Supreme Court.

The Labor Board is only a little over five years old and all but one year of its stormy young life has been marked by Ford grief. Its Ford files are voluminous, the exceptions made by the company in the St. Louis case alone filling a box as big as an old-fashioned cloak and suit salesman's trunk. The problem is how anyone could write that much, let alone read it. THE present trouble at Dearborn is, in a way, a direct follow-up on the first Ford case, the one that got to the Supreme Court. That case began May 22, 1937, when the company was charged with interference and coercion against the employees' right to organize and bargain, and with discrimination against individual employees by firing them for organization activities. Hearings began in July and went through the rest of 1937, a decision and order finally being handed down just before Christmas. Then followed nearly two years of wrangling, ending in a new decision in August, 1939, and the N. L. R. B. petition to sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, a month later, to enforce the order. The court handed down its decision in October, upholding the company are attracting larger crowds, now that colder weather has been experienced," declared P. G. Berry, manager of the Lake Cisco Amusement company Saturday. "The dances, for which music is being furnished by the Leonard's Colorados, are drawing many people here from outside of Cisco, and the attendance as a whole is more satisfactory than at any time since the dance season began."

Homer Tudor Field Scout Now on Job

Homer Tudor, new field scout executive for the Comanche Trail council, has taken up his duties in this profession during the past week. Mr. Tudor, his wife and daughter, will reside in Eastland, which is a central location for his work in Stephens, Eastland and Erath counties, where he will spend most of his time.

On April 30, Mr. Tudor was graduated from the 167th National Training school for men who plan to enter Boy Scout work professionally. This school is held at Schull Reservation, Mendham, N. J. Mr. Tudor has been interested in and has worked with boys for many years. At the time he decided to enter Boy Scout work professionally, he was scoutmaster of troop 17, Breckenridge. Before moving to Breckenridge, he had his family resided in Stephenville, where he was also scoutmaster of a troop. His long association with boys and men in scouting and his training in this national school of scouting, make Mr. Tudor thoroughly qualified for his work in the Comanche Trail council.

For the past several years, Mr. Tudor has been associated with The Hub, men's clothing, in Breckenridge, as assistant manager.

The last U. S. census enumerated 106,939 stores handling apparel, or one store to each 300 families, and 560,549 food stores, or one to each 62 families.

PRESIDENT HAILS AID BRITISH LABOR CAMPAIGN

WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
May 5, 1941

My dear Mr. Wall:
I have your letter of April twenty-third with regard to the American Labor Committee to Aid British Labor.

I feel sure that the practical expression of fraternal sympathy of the working people of America to the working people of Britain will be most welcome, and it is certainly true that the interests of organized labor in this country and in Great Britain are bound up with each other.

I hope you will have success in your campaign for the aid which you propose to extend.

Very sincerely yours,
Franklin D. Roosevelt

Mr. Matthew Wall,
Chairman,
American Labor Committee to Aid British Labor,
9 East Forty-sixth Street,
New York, N. Y.

This is the President's response to a letter from Matthew Wall, Chairman of the American Labor Committee to Aid British Labor, in which Mr. Wall stated that American Labor has undertaken this work as "its own particular and distinctive contribution to the cause which claims the loyalty of all of us—the cause of Democracy." The Committee, of which William Green is Honorary Chairman, is co-operating with the British War Relief Society and will transmit all collections through the Society to a special committee of the British Trades Union Congress for the relief of civilian victims of Axis horror raids. Committee headquarters are: 9 East 46th Street, New York City.

ROOSEVELT
CORRECTS
BAD MISTAKE

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The 48 states again will celebrate Thanksgiving on the traditional last Thursday in November because, in the words of President Roosevelt, advancing the date failed to accomplish its purpose.

This will not occur until next year, however, so calendars, football schedules and sales campaigns will not be thrown out of kilter.
For 1941, as he has done for the last two years, Roosevelt will proclaim the next to the last Thursday in November to be Thanksgiving Day. That will be November 20.

When he announced in August, 1939, that he was advancing the date, the president said retailers wanted the change because they figured business would be better if there were a longer interval between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Besides, he said, Thanksgiving had not always been celebrated on the final Thursday in November.

A check was made on the economic aspects of the situation, and Roosevelt told his press conference today that the commerce department had found that a majority of retail stores agreed that the shift had made little difference in their sales.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You

It's always the SORE thumb that sticks out...

Odd, isn't it—the way everybody notices
the sore thumb?

It's the same way with the retailing of beer. Everybody knows about the one undesirable place...everybody seems to forget about the thousands of worthwhile retailers who operate clean, decent,
law-abiding establishments.

To protect the good name of beer, we
of the beer industry want the few... but noticeable... "black sheep" retailers eliminated.

That's not all. Such retailers endanger an industry that brings important economic benefits to the community. Right here in Texas beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for materials, equipment, and services—from more than 100 other industries.

You can help us protect these benefits in two ways—by (1) patronizing only the law-abiding places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.
