New U. S. Army Seen as Ball Team That Hasn't Yet Played a Game

NATIONWIDE MANEUVERS WILL COORDINATE BIG UNITS

"Grueling" is the counterterm of current army maneuvers—and the foot-slogging doughboys above will have many a long march, many a night alarm. They're part of the 2d Army, pictured near Manchester, Tenn. In the new war games, motorized and mechanized forces will be massed on unprecedented scale...

WASHINGTON, June 14—The newly expanded U. S. army is like a new baseball team that has had batting and fielding practice but has not played a game...

So they are being put through the stiffest course of training sprouts in our military history...

There are still horses. For the first time, an American armored division's full 11,000 men will operate its full 2,000 vehicles...

gining June 13. Also it will act as spearhead for the Rolling Fourth, our sole completely motorized infantry division...

So the maneuvers as a whole will be less than fully realistic and advanced. And only about one-third of the force now mobilized will have the benefit of them...

It will be "first time" that American troops have learned these tricks, now old stuff in Europe. Our maneuvers have been relatively mock-up affairs, "stove-pipe cannon wars." But this year, although the army has three times as many soldiers as last, it has basic weapons like rifles and machine guns for them all...

WORK AND NOT SPELL-BINDING JOHNSON WAY

Candidate for Senate Tells Cisco Friends He'll Be With Team

Cong. Lyndon Johnson of Austin, candidate for United States senator in the special election of June 28, paused in Cisco Saturday afternoon for a visit with friends and supporters...

Johnson was welcomed by 25 or more business men who came to the headquarters on short notice. His visit to Cisco had not been prearranged and it was not until noon that it was announced.

For twenty minutes he discussed the campaign informally and with a frankness and sincerity that impressed the group.

"I don't have any dignity," he declared. "When I've been kicked out of one door I've gone to another. If I've done anything for my district, and I have been credited with securing more than all the rest of Texas put together, it is because I have not been afraid of a kick in the pants."

Among those who met Mr. Johnson were Mayor G. P. Mitcham, Harry Reynolds, A. D. Anderson, Nick Miller, H. S. Drumwright, E. P. Crawford, J. C. McAfee, Wilson Davis, Nick Nicklas, Dick Lauderdale, Sutton Crofts, Roy Tuggle, Orie Kearn, Jim Flournoy, B. A. Butler and others.

Mr. McNeely succeeds J. C. King, long time agent of the Katy road here, who recently retired, having reached the retiring age of service with that road.

209 Eastland County Notaries Qualified. According to the records in the county clerk's office at Eastland there are 209 notaries public who have qualified up to June 10.

New Katy Agent to Arrive This Week. J. E. McNeely and family are expected to arrive in Cisco early this week where Mr. McNeely will take up his duties as agent of the Katy road at Cisco.

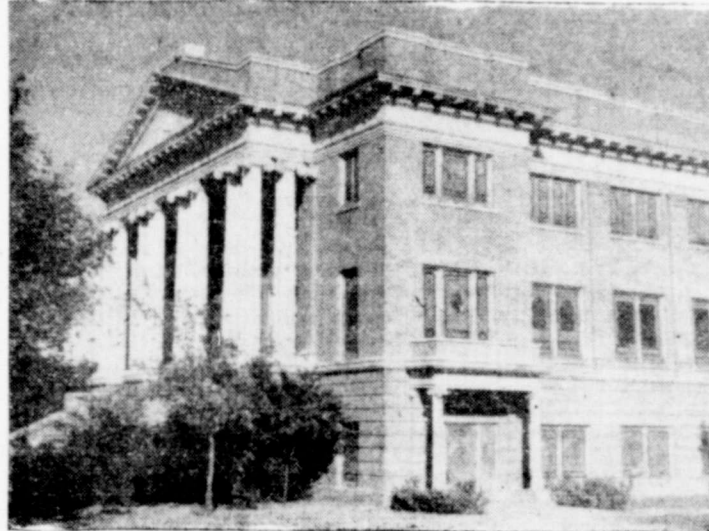

Manager of Johnson Cisco Headquarters. Miss Bessie Johnson, an employee in the municipal offices at Ranger, arrived Friday to take over the office work at the Cisco headquarters of Lyndon Johnson, candidate for United States senator.

BURIED AT SLATON. The body of Milton Wallace of Eastland, who died at a Cisco hospital Thursday, was sent to Slaton for burial in the Slaton cemetery Saturday.

BRECKENRIDGE DONATES $500 FOR FLOOD RELIEF. BRECKENRIDGE, June 14—J. D. Sandefer, Jr., said his home city of Breckenridge raised more than $500 in a few hours time Thursday as its contribution to the rehabilitation fund for Albany flood victims.

Miss Laura Kittrell of Winters visited her mother, Mrs. W. H. Kittrell, a few days last week.

Pioneer Baird Woman Be Buried This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. John Wilson, mother of Mrs. Lawrence W. Jensen of Cisco, will be held at the residence in Baird at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A native of Missouri, deceased had lived in Callahan county some 66 years. She was born December 15, 1869, her maiden name being Selinda Carolyn Owings. Her marriage to John Richard Wilson, a Civil War veteran, was on September 18, 1888.

This pioneer woman had been a life-long member of the Methodist church and a devoted Christian. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. L. W. Jensen of Cisco, Miss Dollie Wilson of Fort Worth, Mrs. Charles L. Robinson of Baird, and Mrs. J. W. Maddox of Holtville, Calif.

The following grandchildren also survive: Mrs. Roy George, Mrs. Nick Nicklas, Mrs. Florence Tucker and Mrs. Gerald Jensen of Cisco; Mrs. Burrell Osburn of Holtville, Calif., and Wilson Jensen of New Orleans. There are also nine great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Asie Carlton of the First Methodist church, Baird, will conduct the funeral services. Active pallbearers are Col. Dyer, Fred Hart, Hugh Ross, W. E. Haley, Dr. V. E. Hill and Leslie Bryant. Honorary pallbearers: T. Emmons Joe Mitchell, Ed Wristen, J. F. Dyer, J. S. Hart, Judge B. L. Russell, Judge J. R. Black, W. D. Boydston, W. M. James, C. W. Conner, T. E. Powell, H. A. McWhorter, E. C. Fulton, H. Swartz, Judge Otis Bowser, Dr. R. L. Griggs, B. L. Boydston.

The following granddaughters were named as flower girls: Mrs. Nick Nicklas, Mrs. Roy George, Mrs. Burrell Osburn, Mrs. Florence Tucker.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Wylie funeral home and interment will be in Ross cemetery by the side of her husband, who died June 29, 1923.

Everybody Worked. Working with these men and inspired by their earnest zeal, were the members of the congregation generally, the Women's Society of Christian Service, of which Mrs. Jimmy Allen is president; the church school, with Garland Nance as general superintendent; the choir, of which Mrs. R. Suitable Ceremonies to Be Arranged to Celebrate "Victory Achievement"

There is much rejoicing among the members of the First Methodist church, and with good reason. This past week a check was sent to the General Board of Church Extension of that denomination paying off entirely and finally the church debt that has been against the congregation in decreasing amount ever since the present edifice was erected back in 1920, when Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey was the pastor.

Dr. Umphrey Lee, now president of Southern Methodist university, was pastor when plans were first started for the building.

Tentative plans had been made for an all-church banquet and celebration during the coming week, until it was learned that Wm. Reagan, chairman of the board of stewards and one of the band of faithful members who carried the burden of the debt when the carrying was hard, was to be out of town on a trip to Washington. As soon as he and Mrs. Reagan are back home the celebration will be observed in full glory, according to the pastor, Rev. Leslie Seymour.

W. J. Foxworth, B. A. Butler and A. D. Anderson comprise a special committee for the occasion.

Boyd Was Chairman. The committee directly responsible for raising the funds to liquidate the debt was composed of George Boyd as chairman, G. P. Mitcham and Jonah Donovan. From the time they were selected last December for this task, the entire board of stewards have been joyfully supporting them.

The personnel of this board is: Wm. Reagan, chairman; W. J. Foxworth, vice chairman; F. B. Altman, secretary-treasurer; A. D. Anderson, J. T. Anderson, Geo. Boyd, B. A. Butler, Wm. Childers, Dr. F. E. Clark, Jonah Donovan, Homer Ferguson, Ed Huestis, Wm. Huestis, Sam King, Neil Lane, R. W. Merket, Henry Drumwright, G. P. Mitcham, S. H. Nance, Jess Proctor, A. L. Osborne, Jess Reynolds, O. L. Stamey, W. B. Statham and Carlos J. Turner, as solid and faithful a group of officials as can be found in any church, states the pastor.

UNFOUNDED CHARGES

Michael Edelstein is dead and buried. Does it seem late in the day to take note of that? The New York congressman died suddenly of a heart attack in the House cloakroom immediately after making his last impassioned speech. The customary tributes were made by his colleagues, and it was duly noted that his last words were concerned with the essential equality of men and the love they have for freedom.

It would be unwarranted, no doubt, to imply that Edelstein died from the emotional strain of that last speech. He "should have died hereafter," like Lady Macbeth, and when the heart stops suddenly, no one has a formula to say how much was contributed by the other physical failure. No one can know whether the staccato of the words of the speaker preceding him contributed much, or any, to his dying.

Edelstein is gone and can no longer dispute those words. It is so much more the duty of others to dispute them candidly.

They were the old, familiar, moth-eaten charge, hurled forth in the usual general terms, that "a little group of our international Jewish bankers" has been trying to lead the United States toward war.

Such a group either exists, or it does not. Either it is acting thus, or it is not. No good purpose, and many an evil purpose, may be served by repeating this phrase, repeating it again and again in a sinister and mysterious tone, always without specific evidence, or left untried.

To begin with, it's pretty clear that international bankers these days don't have the weight they used to have, and that they are far less free than they used to be in throwing about the weight they do have. Further, it remains to be shown that such international bankers as happen to be Jewish are any more united on any single point of view than those who happen to be Christian. Yet the dark insinuation comes forward again and again, always without specific evidence subject to check.

The best that can be said about those who propagate these silly insinuations is that they are ill-informed. The worst is that they are deliberately trying to create the kind of schisms in the United States which so effectively cleft France asunder and which helped Hitler to power in Germany.

Michael Edelstein is dead and buried, dead in the very act of fighting a scurrilous and thoughtless charge which has so often been advanced to create division and confusion. The fight for clear and demonstrable truth, and against dark innuendo, goes on.

47 YEARS AGO

(Cisco Apert, January, 1894; Warner Wilson, Editor)

The city council was on another rampage Friday night and handled all kinds of ordinances without gloves. If good will, considerable talk and no money will accomplish anything, the present council will surely be re-elected. They refused to allow any more bills paid for carrying off people's dead property. They say the dogs must and will go from the city limits soon; that the loose cow and horse must be controlled, and also that parties leaving their teams hitched to the wagon without a guard will be fined.

The First National Bank of Cisco elected J. H. Holcomb president, C. H. Fee vice president, F. C. McVaux cashier. Directors are J. H. Holcomb, C. H. Fee, John J. Winston, F. C. McVaux and Ernest Patterson.

The prohibition election last week resulted in 18 majority for prohibition. Votes cast totaled 206.

A party from Colorado was here recently with the view of purchasing Dr. Bettis' gold mine.

One of the most charming affairs of the season was the "Twelfth Night" reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. McVaux last Friday night. The decorations of the entire house with pot plants and evergreen added much to the occasion, when we think of it being makeshift. Miss Lucile assisted her mother in making the guests feel at ease.

Captain Jedia is in the city from Monahans.

Married, E. P. Kilborn and Miss Bellie Estell Cooper, at Abilene, December 28, 1894. Their home will be in Cisco.

Miss Georgia Puckett, en route from Mulland, and Miss Mary Shrock, on her way to Sherman, were guests of Miss Nora Epler this week.

Born to the wife of Mr. Walter Stovall, Nimrod, on the 2nd inst., a girl. All doing well, Walter especially.

A real estate exchange took place in the hub this week. The new two-story Bettis building was bought by the Masonic order. They take possession of the building at once, occupying the upper story and renting the lower.

Last Friday night the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Chandler was the scene of much pleasure to a large number of Cisco's belles and beaux. Miss May made all feel at ease and presided in such a way that in the future many sweet memories of the night of December 29, 1894, will pop their heads through the Windows of Time and look back.

Miss Fannie D'Spain of Moran and Miss Cole of Albany were visitors in the city this week.

Ivan Lee Holt, presiding bishop for this area in Texas, to be present for a Sunday morning service, at which time he will formally dedicate the church.

Pastors who have served this congregation since the church was built are, in order of their appointments: Rev. Ambrose Lee, Rev. Lewis Stuckey, Rev. Bascom Watts, Rev. L. A. Webb, Rev. T. E. Bowman, Rev. Sam J. Ranker, Rev. P. T. Stanford, Rev. F. E. Singleton, Rev. H. D. Tucker, Rev. O. Odom, Rev. Frank Turner, Rev. W. H. Cole, Rev. J. J. Patterson, and the present pastor, Dr. Roy A. Langston is the district superintendent and has lent his aid and encouragement to the undertaking.

It is planned that some repairs will be done on the church structure in the next few months as soon as the congregation can "catch their breath" from this effort.

All Cisco rejoices in this movement, for it is more than a matter of congregational concern, it is of interest to the civic-minded people of the community of all faiths.

Some Highways Remain Closed

ABILENE, June 14.—United States highway 80-A is the only major traffic route in this area which remains closed following recent heavy rains. S. J. Treadway, district highway engineer, announced late Friday. The highway is blocked west of Breckenridge.

All other highways previously reported closed are now open, with the following exceptions:

State 31, state 276 at the Pecon river near Montague; state 29, Bowie to Montague; state 24, Bridgeport to Decatur; state 114, northwest of Dallas; U. S. 77, Denton to Dallas; state 78 and U. S. 287 in Freestone county; state 21, Paige to Lincoln; state 71, west of LaGrange of the Colorado river, and state 105, Conroe to Montgomery.

Bandits Snatch Two Ranger Coin Machines

RANGER, June 14.—Coin machine bandits were busy in Ranger for a few minutes Thursday night, snatching two machines from one establishment and leaving town immediately after the theft, according to Chief of Police Lee Ames.

Two men drove up in front of the Texas drug store on Main street about 10:30 Thursday night and one of them entered the store while the other remained in the car.

The man entering the store ordered a small item, and when the clerk went to the back of the store for it he grabbed two machines and fled.

Both front and back license plates on the automobile in which the two men fled had been bent so they could not be read, Chief Ames reported, but a good description of the car was obtained by clerks at the store. They reported that the car was a green 1935 model Ford coupe.

The car apparently turned toward Strawn, and officers there were notified, but did not find the car.

Nance Motor Co. Has New Time Payment Plan

S. H. Nance, local Ford dealer, calls attention to a new service now available to purchasers of Ford automobiles. This innovation is the time payment plan recently introduced by Universal Credit company.

Under this plan, in addition to its nation-wide low cost service, with broad car insurance coverage, Universal adds the outstanding features of personal accident insurance, towing and emergency road service on new passenger cars, bail bond certificate and an emergency credit certificate.

Nothing like this has ever been offered the buying public, says Mr. Nance, and all the new protective features are made available at extremely low additional cost.

Complete details of this new time-financing service can be secured at the Nance Motor Co., Inc., local authorized Ford dealer.

Crippled Children Have Pet

Every youngster needs a dog, and little patients at Texas State Hospital for Crippled Children have Dasher, a black border collie who never leaves the premises. He loves romping with the children and is especially fond of the boys.

The children and their pet will greet visitors at the hospital's main entrance. Dasher is 12 months old, weighs 40 pounds and is a very intelligent dog. He is trained to fetch and bring back the keys to the hospital's main entrance.
