NUMBER 269

CISCO—A home city, a delightful place in which to live; oil fields, rich agricultural lands, cattle, sheep, goats, hogs, turkeys, egg producing hens, feed crops, grain, truck farming and fruits.

In an area of benevolent climate, blessed with an abundance of the purest lake water, possessing the best in recreational facilities, situated on the Bankhead, all-weather route, with three railroads and many highways, Cisco is the best place in Texas to live and to work.

12 PERCENT U. S. ARMED FORCES ARE IN TEXAS

About Our Friends

By STEP A. LONG

It wouldn't if we could do so, but a big buying drive in Cisco things one doesn't need, just because of the impending scarcity of these goods in prices that are already on their way much higher than the ordinary individual.

Several weeks ago grocery men and dry goods leaders were talking about advances in prices. Gradually, but surely, these advances have become a fact. They must pass it on to the consumer, and from there it will be more and more noticeable in mark-ups of new goods.

Up to now small advances have been taken by the retailer, who has a profit by the small margin. Now it has reached such proportions that they can no longer ignore it in their price tag. They must pass it on to the consumer, and from there it will be more and more noticeable in mark-ups of new goods.

Not only has this advance become alarming to retailers but it is now being confronted by the scarcity of many items. Goods, such as woolens, khaki for overalls, and materials already taken by the government, are all but vanished from the markets. There are many other items being demanded. A dry goods man will supply and have his order on certain limits, too small for demand. Ask your merchant to ask your merchant.

Over the first shock of finding prices on well-known articles have advanced, the customer pay the new price. When the supply which he is buying is limited, he will get a price and think only of getting actual needs. That breaks the wholesaler in the manufacturing centers find the demand increasing, mark up their prices, some of which are not wanted, and begin to take a profit. Of course the retailer, your local merchant, must raise the price on you, his customer, and there you are.

There is what you should do. If you find there are items you will need soon, buy them now. They will be higher next week, and still higher the week after. Better buy NOW.

In the months to come, we are sure that inferior articles may be produced in order to meet demand for "the same old thing" and if you get new goods, bought on the rapidly advancing markets at the same old price, you will probably find the quality is lacking. You may be able to see it, but wear will tell. Again we say BUY YOUR GOODS NOW.

Early last winter we advised you to buy homes immediately. They would soon go up from the unusually low prices they were offered at then. Whether or not that was a result of that advice is a column that you did so, we are not even going to suggest, but all available homes were sold, and at the mercy of land speculators who might say many things. MOVE, are now living in homes and paying them out at a measure they are seeing, so long as they keep up payments no one can tell them to move. And now prices are much higher for homes than they were six months ago. In fact, real cheap bargains in Cisco are not to be found so far as we have observed. Men who bought homes for $500 to $1,000 have added to their homes. They could sell for that much more than their deals.

Now we are suggesting that you buy your blankets, cotton

BURKETT WILL VOTE FOR LEE; TELLS WHY

Age Also Serves

To the Citizens of Eastland County and Surrounding Territory: Tomorrow, the 28th, is election day, and I am sure a vast majority of the voters will go to the polls to register their choice of those campaigning to succeed the late Senator Morris Sheppard. I trust that the voters, supporters and friends in Eastland county and surrounding areas of the Cisco and Ranger Junior colleges will give due consideration, and show their appreciation, the same as I, Governor O'Daniel's approval of the bill to provide $50 for each student attending junior colleges by casting your vote for him.

As most of you know, I have strongly favored state aid for junior colleges and have done what I could to bring about the passage of the junior college aid law so as to assist local boys and girls to get a fair education at home. Every town in Texas which has a junior college has urged their representatives to put forth every effort for junior college aid. Up to the time the junior college aid bill was finally passed and signed by our governor, the superintendents, members of the school boards of Cisco and Ranger and many other public-spirited citizens of both towns and in the area served urged me to put forth every effort to see the bill become a law, and further urging that we do everything possible to have the governor give final approval of same.

Governor O'Daniel did sign the bill which is now the law for two years. I want to state here and now he had plenty of pressure put on him to disapprove the bill, but approved the measure just the same notwithstanding much concerted opposition.

I did my part as best I could and now the best I can do is to show my appreciation in your behalf by voting for Governor O'Daniel for senator; and I trust sincerely that the citizens of Eastland county and the areas served by the Junior colleges of Cisco, Ranger and our state, likewise will show by their vote that they also appreciate Governor O'Daniel's efforts to aid those less able to help themselves.

With best wishes, I am, sincerely yours,
OMAR BURKETT,
Rep., District No. 107.

EASTLAND CO. MEN GET ARMY CALL, JULY 8

The men named below have been chosen for induction into the army by the Eastland county selective service board. They must report to the board at 7:30 a. m. on July 8; whereupon they will be sent to an induction station at Fort Sam Houston. Order numbers and names:

- 284—E. Thomas Dabney.
- 355—Ira Lee Files.
- 598—Elton Henry Langford.
- 706—Jacob Cyress Lyeria.

- 831—Howard Newton Kile.
- 833—Doy Thurman Reynolds.

BILL HUEY GAVE BEST YEARS OF LIFE TO CISCO, HIS HOME TOWN; ALWAYS AN OPTIMIST SAYS KLEINER

Charles J. Kleiner, city commissioner, was asked by the Daily Press to let the public know what is being done, or what may be expected in regard to the removal of rubbish and vegetation covering some of the streets and alleys and practically every vacant lot in the residential districts.

"The necessity for a general clean-up drive is obvious," Mr. Kleiner said. "There is no question but what the weeds, grass and rubbish should be removed as soon as possible. In fact, the city commission has discussed the matter and is agreed on taking steps to remedy the situation. However, owing to the unavoidable absence from Cisco of Street Commissioner Edward Lee, nothing has yet been done. Now that he is at home again, I am sure this will be attended to."

"One handicap," continued Mr. Kleiner, "is the city's lack of finances. We have no public funds available for this work on a city-wide basis. Property owners should contribute in a large measure to keeping the city clean by cutting the weeds and removing rubbish from all vacant lots, since the city has a full-time job keeping city-owned property clean."

"True, we could permit delinquent water patrons to pay their rentals in this manner, but it is different with delinquent taxpayers. The city must account for all ad valorem taxes, since $1 of this tax must go to the sinking fund, and should delinquent taxpayers be permitted to work out their taxes the city would be forced to draw on the general fund for the money due the sinking fund. Such procedure would be cumbersome and undesirable."

"So, the commission will make all possible effort to clean and beautify the city in other ways. I think you may expect a solution of the problem at an early date," Mr. Kleiner concluded.

Cisco Ladies Play In Women's Tourney

Mrs. K. N. Greer and Mrs. Charles Sandler are in Wichita Falls, where they are playing in the West Texas golf tournament now being staged in that city. Both are giving pretty good account of themselves on the links, according to the story of the tournament from Wichita Falls appearing in the Star-Telegram this morning. Mrs. Greer is credited with defeating her opponent, Mrs. Leo Gordon, 6 and 5 in the second flight Thursday. In the third flight medal play the play was Mrs. Charles Sandler, Cisco, 187-133-270; Mrs. L. F. Metz, Stamford, 159-125-284.

Funeral Attended By Cisco Friends

Robert Lee Needham, 61, who died in Shreveport, La., June 25, was an employee of the Humble company, and was formerly a resident of this county. The body was shipped to Cisco by rail and carried to Sipe Springs by the Jay Kountz Undertaking company of Rising Star, where interment was made.

Deceased was a member of the IOOF lodge of Kilgore, Texas, and members of that organization, from Kilgore, Ranger, Eastland, Brownwood, Comanche and Cisco attended the funeral and burial rites.

Those attending from Cisco lodge No. 281 were Messrs. A. J. Olson, Coe McLeRoy and J. A. Jensen.

Surviving are a son and a daughter, his wife having died several years ago.

Mrs. John E. Moriarty is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Howell G. Foy, and Mr. Foy in Dallas.

RUSSIAN WAR ENCOURAGES COMMUNISTS

PORT ARTHUR, June 27.—In a fighting speech against Red activities in labor organizations, Congressman Martin Dies revealed a copy of instructions sent out by the Communist party in New York City for party workers to take full advantage of this country's stand with Russia in its war against Germany.

"Everyone is urged to redouble his efforts and to continue the drive for the control of the basic industries through the trade unions," the instructions said, as read by Dies in his senate campaign speech before a large crowd at Lions Park.

Dies said the letter was sent out by the central committee of the Communist party of New York to all organizers and workers.

Other children by a former marriage are Roland Huey and Mrs. K. Bailey, of Los Angeles; grand-children: Gloria Bailey, Los Angeles; Mrs. Vance Morrow, Miss Norma Huey and Mickey Huey, of Liberty, Texas. There are also two great-grandchildren.

Funeral Monday

The funeral will be held from the First Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, with interment in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. Gary Smith, Presbyterian pastor, will preach the funeral sermon. The remains, in charge of the Green funeral parlor, will rest at the home, 500 F avenue, until carried to the church.

Active pallbearers are P. W. Campbell, Abilene; Sam Baugh, Nimrod; Forrest Wright, E. P. Crawford, Dr. Paul Woods, Charles Spears, Coleman Williams and Leon Maner.

Honorary pallbearers are Will Seaman, George Seaman, Charlie Dickens, Johnnie Sanders, E. C. Smith, Frank Williams, Leonard Macatee, Houston; Avner Maybnew, Dallas; and all Cisco friends of the family.

Always an Optimist. Bill Huey, as deceased was familiarly known, was always an optimist, a progressive. When the oil strike brought a boom to the Cisco County in 1919, Mr. Huey at once took his place alongside other Cisco builders and boosters. He first recognized the need of a daily paper here and took the lead in buying the Weekly Round-up and establishing the Cisco Daily News, of which he became president and publisher. Cisco needed another good hotel, so Bill Huey talked and worked for it and was later rewarded in seeing the handsome Laguna hotel a reality. In fact, every forward movement of the early 1920's found Bill Huey taking an active interest and doing his full part financially toward building a bigger and better city in which to live. When the Oil Belt Baseball league was formed, Huey bore more than his part of the local cost.

He was an ardent Elk, Country club official, chamber of commerce officer and worker and was a director of the West Texas chamber of commerce for several years. He was signally honored by the Elk fraternity, having served as past president of the Texas Elks' association, past district deputy exalted ruler and exalted ruler of Cisco lodge No. 1379.

For This Reason and Because Vacation Period at Hand, State Police Director Fears Greatest July Traffic Jam in History

AUSTIN, June 27.—A crisis is something Hitler likes to stir up, and Texas is going to have one next month.

As was the case in France and the Lowlands countries, where a panic-stricken people created a traffic jam which prevented defending troops from getting at the enemy, State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., today expressed the fear that traffic in Texas during July may hamper internal defense efforts of law enforcement officers.

"Local, state and federal officers all have their hands full in waging a war against the underground armies which are attacking the nation," Garrison said. "Under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI, Texas officers of every jurisdiction have rallied to the president's call for unity in law enforcement. The officers in Texas today are working together as they never have worked before. And it is well that we should, for this war we are fighting becomes more crucial as each day brings German-American relations nearer the point of utter collapse."

People Must Help. "Our handful of Texas Rangers can not begin to handle the enormous volume of fifth column investigations, and for months the Highway Patrol has been quietly helping out with this work. The Patrol has become virtually an organization of shock troops, concentrating its efforts upon these investigations, and the control of traffic in the vicinities of military establishments and along the principal arteries of the state. There is a limit to the work a man can do, and these men cannot be called upon for more than the 12 to 18 hours a day they are working. They cannot be in two places at one time.

"With our forces in such a state of overtaxation, we now face the prospect in July of the greatest traffic jam in Texas history. "Because people are working and have money to spend; because foreign travel has been limited; because traffic volume has been increased tremendously by defense works and the presence in Texas of 12 per cent of the nation's armed forces, and because normal vacation travel will be greatly augmented by folks coming from everywhere to visit tramees, there's likely to be a wave of prosperity for the undertakers, hospitals and auto repair shops."

Time to Think. "The preservation of our American security demands that law enforcement efforts not be diverted from this defense job. Yet, on the other hand, neither can we stand by and see our people needlessly slaughtered in traffic. "It may sound trite to declare that every Texan has a patriotic duty to help with the solution of this problem, but that is exactly what I am doing. We who are charged with these responsibilities realize all too clearly their profound significance, and we realize equally as well that we alone cannot discharge them adequately," Garrison continued.

No real Texan would deliberately subvert our efforts to combat the fifth columnist or weaken our defenses by contributing to the death or injury of any soldier, defense worker, or civilian. And these things will not be done deliberately, but carelessly, by show-offs and willy-nillys and good, solid, substantial citizens who don't realize the part they are playing in the world's second greatest drama. This individual responsibility must be brought home to all our people. I appeal to all Texans — and especially the press, radio and clergy — to help us with this gigantic problem."

NAVY ASKS EXTENSION. WASHINGTON, June 27.—The navy asked authority today to hold enlisted men in the service beyond the time of their present enlistment if congress declares the national interests are imperiled.

O'DANIEL HAS HIS EYES UPON PRESIDENCY?

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT. TEMPLE, June 27.—Unpredictable Texas votes its preference Saturday for mountain music, an old friend of the president, a crusader against termites or a former all-American football idol with an unassailable public record.

It's the finish to the strangest and most intense political scramble in Texas history—a special election to find the man for the gaping vacancy created by the death of Senator Morris Sheppard.

In my opinion, the winner and still champion will be Wilbert Lee O'Daniel.

Some of the tincol has dropped from O'Daniel's bandwagon and the reception to his corn-flavored comment isn't as rapturous as it once was, but he still weaves a certain spell out in the bustings.

It isn't so much the zinging of his fiddles or the plunk of his guitars, but the inescapable fact that money still converses in loud and blatant tones.

Just this month the old folk of Texas, those past the age of 65, received the largest social security pension checks in the history of the state. Coincidentally or not, it was the clincher in this election.

His Strength Is Declining. The old folk were out the last week in full force, crowding the governor's gaudy bandwagon and nodding assent to every word he hoarsely shouted into the microphone.

Confidently he told each gathering that the old folks would send him to the senate. He predicted that the infirm, lying in bed, would be carried to the polls on stretchers to vote for Lee O'Daniel.

Some 350,000 residents of Texas are 65 or older. They are exempt from payment of poll taxes. The majority of them are on pension rolls. The governor publicly states that those votes United States senate.

Find an argument against his statement and there may be the basis for belief that he won't be elected.

In this off year slightly more than 800,000 poll taxes were paid. But the vote could run higher. With the race split into four definite camps—O'Daniel, Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann, Representative Martin Dies and Representative Lyndon Johnson—the winner can get by with a vote that ordinarily would make him a moderate runner-up.

Over thousands of miles I have traveled the last few weeks, touching the pulse of the electorate while trailing candidates, there is a noticeable decline in the strength of O'Daniel's support.

LAW MAKERS CLOSE SHOP AND GO HOME

AUSTIN, June 27.—Election fever coursed through the legislature Thursday as house and senate worked briefly and then adjourned until Monday.

A homeward trek in order to vote in Saturday's special United States senatorial election was the program of most members on this, the one hundred sixty-fourth day of the general session, a new longevity record.

Unsettled as the legislators dispersed was the question of final adjournment. The senate killed a house recess-adjournment resolution and sent the house a July 3 sine die resolution.

Heading a suggestion of Speaker Homer Leonard, the house decided against further consideration of adjournment plans until after the election.

"Nearly everybody can come back next week and we can finally determine the question then," Leonard said.

The consensus was that the session would end late next week, after members reviewed Governor O'Daniel's vetoes of major appropriation items, if any. He has through July 2 to review the big money bills.

Before adjourning for the weekend the senate by a paper-thin margin overrode the governor's veto of a bill remitting to counties $4,500,000 annually in state property taxes.

The senate passed, with amendments, house legislation conforming the public welfare law to Federal Social Security regulations without which, sponsors said, Texas would be deprived of federal matching funds for old age assistance payments in the quarter beginning July 1.

The house refused to accept the amendments and asked for appointment of a free conference committee which will attempt to draw a version acceptable to both branches.

The legislation sets up a merit system for Public Welfare department employees and requires that all resources be considered in determining the eligibility of an assistance applicant.

Current Texas law exempts from consideration ownership of a homestead and ability of children to support aged and needy parents.

Governor O'Daniel repeatedly had urged enactment of the legislation.

The house session featured adoption of a conference committee report on a bill revising the mechanics of the present liquor control statutes. Senate adoption was necessary to give the revised law effect.

The conference bill will delegate to the liquor board authority to determine whether wholesalers had allowed unlimited or unusual credit and discounts to retail liquor dealers.

This provision evoked opposition from members who declared it was unconstitutional and "silly" in that the term unlimited credit was not defined. The bill empowered the board to order the practice stopped if, after hearing, it determined too liberal credit was given for the purpose of encouraging sale of a particular brand of liquor.

TRUSS EXPERT

COMING TO CISCO

If you are one of the thousands ruptured; suffering the tortures of a gouging, binding, ill-fitting truss; WHY SUFFER LONGER?

Mr. Linden L. Moore, expert appliance technician will hold an all day demonstration of his non-surgical method of rupture control at the Moore Drug Co., Cisco, Monday, June 30th.

This mechanical method of hernia relief is the result of years of scientific experiment and is endorsed by every physician who has seen it. The appliance used is entirely different from other trusses. It has no knobs or balls to gouge the tender rupture muscles, gradually enlarging the opening; no belts or obnoxious leg-straps to gall and irritate or retard circulation. A soft concave, vacuumic pad holds ruptured muscles together securely like the hand, giving complete protection. Cool and comfortable, washable and sanitary. For Men, Women and Children. No matter how large, long-standing, or severe your rupture; no matter what failures you have had with other trusses; don't pass up this chance. Arrange to see Mr. Moore.

JOHNSON LEADS IN CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Campaign finance statements filed with the secretary of the United States senate by candidates in the Texas election show that Representative Lyndon B. Johnson had received contributions totaling $9,645, the greatest sum received by any of the four leading candidates.

The statements were submitted in compliance with a federal statute requiring that the candidates file with the secretary within 10 and not less than 15 days of the election accounts showing contributions and expenditures up to that time. Final and complete figures must be filed within 30 days after election.

Attorney General Gerald Mann showed contributions had totaled $4,695.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel swore contributions to his campaign had amounted to $3,244.65.

HOUSTON, THE OLDEST U. S. SENATOR, DIES

WASHINGTON, June 27.—U. S. Senator Andrew Jackson Houston died Thursday night, 24 days after taking his senatorial seat. He was 87 years of age and last surviving child of Texas' greatest hero, Gen. Sam Houston. His two daughters were at his bedside when he was written.

Houston appeared on the senate floor but four times. He introduced but one bill, one authorizing $250,000 to complete a southwestern historical museum at the base of San Jacinto monument on the battleground where his father led the Texas forces to victory over Santa Anna on April 21, 1836.

A lawyer by profession, he was appointed U. S. marshal for the eastern district of Texas by President Theodore Roosevelt. As prohibition candidate for governor of Texas he canvassed the state in 1910 and 1912 in behalf of that party and for suffrage for women.

He was the oldest man ever to enter the United States senate.

Methodist Young People Aid Mother

The Young People of the First Methodist church, assisted by members of the Crosses Caravan who are working with that group this week, sponsored a drive to make up $15 that was to be given to a young mother and two small children who were injured in an automobile accident recently. This money helped to provide transportation for these people who were discharged from the hospital this week.

Through the cooperation of the business men and citizens of Cisco, the money was soon collected.

Beside several cash donations, the following contributed: Rev. Leslie W. Seymour, Mrs. V. W. Hampton, Mrs. L. E. Vaughn, Mrs. Jennie Allen, Mrs. John Shorten, Miss Lela Lantz, A. R. Westfall, Nell Lane, Bernice Allen, Shobal Houston, Skiles Greaney, Yowell Snerell, J. F. Alford, E. P. Crossford, W. B. Hooton, H. T. Huffman, O. L. Duckett, G. B. Nance, Earl Edwards, W. J. Foxworth, Cisco Transfer and Storage Co., Good Year Service store, A. L. Osborn, Lonnie Tolson, A. G. Motor Co., Conrad Alexander, J. J. Collins, Evona Ross, J. A. Jensen, C. B. Powell, O. J. Tilghmash, Dean Drug Co., L. C. Moore and W. J. Leach.

Double Octet Birthday Club Meets Thursday

The Double Octet Anniversary club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. M. C. Stivers, celebrating the birthdays of the hostess and Mrs. W. F. Walker. A patriotic theme was observed in the decorations and all appointments. A covered-dish luncheon was served buffet style at 1 o'clock.

After the meal members enjoyed the honorees and sang "Happy Birthday to You." The afternoon was spent with members busily engaged in needlework of various kinds and in playing interesting games. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Misses Miriam Ghormley and Willie Frank Walker were welcomed as honorary members.

Guests attending were Misses E. J. Poe, H. J. Moyer and B. B. Black; and members Misses W. F. Walker, Alice Sciles, W. I. Ghormley, J. B. Burnett, W. D. Hazel, Judson, Prunoe, Barton, Philpott, Leon McPherson, Willie Bogan Dunne, W. D. Brecheen, Misses Willie Frank Walker, Miriam Ghormley and the hostess, Mrs. Stivers.

Breakfast In Henderson Home Honors Two

Mrs. H. C. Henderson was hostess to members of the Blue Bonnet Birthday club which met for a 7 o'clock breakfast in her home Thursday morning celebrating the birthdays of Mrs. W. H. Hayes and the hostess. The rooms were artistically decorated with gaudoli, sweet peas, roses and other seasonal flowers. A patriotic theme was emphasized in the appointments. Breakfast was served buffet style, with guests seated at small tables while eating. Misses Morehart and Jackson assisted in the dining room.

Following the breakfast a splendid program was given. Vivian Jean Grantham was presented in two plans; numbers; a clever routine in Negro dialect was given by Mrs. W. H. Hayes, and Miss Martha June Morehart played a piano number which concluded the program.

"Pals" were revealed during the meeting and new names drawn for July. A number of interesting games were played. Those present were, Misses W. H. Hayes, J. C. King, G. C. Morehart, Ray Haley, B. C. Metcalf, J. J. Tobelman, Ray Wilbanks, C. E. Moore, Misses Vivian Jean Grantham, Eula Mae Jackson, Martha June Morehart and the hostess, Mrs. Henderson.

O'Daniel Has-- (From Page ONE)

ervation and only Thursday brought up the subject of parity payments to farmers. His idea? To get 25c a pound for cotton. Eighteen months from now the champion must come back and defend his title. This election is only for the unexpired term of Senator Sheppard. Between now and then, and mark down for reference, there will be started an O'Daniel-for-President movement. It's more than just a thought. Definite plans will be laid.

Taylor County Auto Tax to Be $100,000

ABILENE, June 27.—The state's new one per cent tax on automobile transactions, both new and used cars, will amount to approximately $100,000 in Taylor county in a year, it was estimated yesterday in the tax assessor-collector's office.

The tax became effective May 1, as a part of the omnibus tax bill which was passed and approved by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, long an advocate of transaction taxes.

The tax must be paid by purchaser of a car before he registers it or gets a transfer of machine.

A boy like this

Some day will be running Your Electrical Servant

WHO knows w' se boy? ... Ma, se yours. Or your neighbor's.

But he's somewhere in this neck of the woods... on some West Texas farm or in town... burning with the grand old American urge to "get ahead"... try his wings at running a business.

One day he will join this organization. As a clerical worker. Or a lineman. Or a helper in the power plant. Or perhaps a meter reader.

It doesn't matter what the job... he'll do it well. And he will climb. A boy like this... intelligent, clean-cut, strong, unafraid... asks only for the opportunity. There are plenty of opportunities with Your Electric Servant... opportunities to serve the people. This boy will win out without having to depend upon a temporary political or government job.

It's the American way... the healthy, solid pattern that has built free enterprise in this country.

And (this is important) because this boy is of the people, he will know best how to serve the people.

That is why we're always looking for likely youngsters. Let them grow up in the business like all of those now connected with the organization.

The result is that Your Electric Servant is made up of trained and experienced men and women who are devoting their lives to serving you. Because they know their jobs, and know your needs, they have succeeded in providing you greatly improved service at constantly lowering cost.

Electric Service is modernized and improved all the time. The cost is only about half what it was 10 to 15 years ago. Today you get twice as much service as you did a few years ago for the same money.

Years of training and experience enable the people who work for Your Electric Servant to keep on giving you better service and more for your money. That's their business. And they know that only training and experience can continue to improve service, bringing more benefits of electricity to more and more people at less and less cost.

"OLD BILL" CONTEST

LISTEN VOTERS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

Three of the Candidates now running for United States Senator are already in position to do everything possible for our great State and the emergency which exists. Lyndon Johnson, as Congressman from Texas; Martin Dies, chairman of the Dies Committee; and Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as Governor of our State of Texas are now in position to play important parts in helping Texas to secure factories, army, air and naval bases and other Defense projects in our great state. Why should they ask to be elected to other offices?

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann is a real Texas citizen and a Christian gentleman. He will do everything possible for our State and will be an outstanding Senator. His ability is above reproach and his qualifications for the office merit your serious consideration and the promotion he asks for.

It is the duty of every Texas voter to cast an honest vote as they see it.

So consider this. A VOTER AND CISCO CITIZEN. (Political Adv.)
