MAKE IT EASY FOR OLD FOLK SEE ADJUSTER

A large number of applicants for old-age assistance pensions were in Cisco to file their petitions for new pensions or increased allowances with Examiner Gilmer, who was here Monday. The number and names of those appearing before the examiner was not available, but the Daily Press was informed that Mr. Gilmer was busy the entire afternoon.

While here he had his office in the room west of the stage in the city hall auditorium, and to reach him the old people had to be assisted in climbing the stairway. It would be appreciated by these oldsters, one said, if a room on the ground floor of the city hall could be assigned for the use of the examiner, as many of those who have business with him are aged and infirm, and to climb a long stairway is difficult.

Housewives Urged To Save Peach Crop

A letter from Mrs. James W. Walker, state president of the Women's Federated clubs, to Mrs. Wm. Reagan suggests the importance of saving the fruit crops. Mrs. Walker says:

"At the request of Miss Mildred Horton of A. & M. college and the peach growers of Texas, I am bringing to your attention the fact that Texas is almost overwhelmed with a bounteous peach crop. The peak of production will be reached between July 25 and August 8.

"Will you avail yourselves of the wonderful opportunity thus afforded and supply your pantry shelves with food for the coming month, and at the same time help an economic situation in Texas? Let me urge that you do this and that you ask members of your clubs and your friends to do likewise. I shall depend on you to stimulate the movement of peaches to family tables and pantry shelves."

39TH DAY OF NAZI-RED WAR HAS PASSED

Harry Hopkins arrived in Moscow today to confer with Stalin on United States war aid to Russia. Hopkins' arrival marked the 39th day of Germany's war with Russia.

In the Far East tension was heightened by new developments, including the damage inflicted on an American gunboat by Japanese bombs. No casualties were reported on the gunboat Tutulia by bombs which landed on the American vessel during a heavy Japanese air attack on Chungking.

Russia reports effective counter-attacks around Smolensk and the Nazis admitted that fighting is still in progress there.

The Soviets also revealed that their soldiers are resisting strongly at points deep in Latvia.

Meantime, the British took new economic sanctions against Japan and an Italian editor urged Axis warships to fire on the United States navy as "enemy belligerents."

TOKYO GETS READY FOR TOTAL WAR

TOKYO, July 30.—Premier Fumimaro Konoye today submitted four new decrees to mobilize Japan for "total war."

The leader suggested that the possible spread of the European war in the Far East might make it advisable to settle the war with China by "direct negotiation."

House Com. Would Keep Selectees

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The house military committee today approved a resolution declaring U. S. national interests to be imperiled and authorizing the president to retain selectees, national guardsmen and reservists for the duration of the war.

CATHOLICS TO DROP WEDDING MARCH; PAGAN

CLEVELAND, July 30.—Catholic churches in the Cleveland diocese are gradually and quietly dropping the custom of playing the so-called "Wedding March" from the German opera "Lohengrin."

Most of the churches already have discontinued the number, which has no part in the marriage ritual. Other music with a religious background is being substituted.

"Lohengrin" one of several operas written by Richard Wagner, was first produced on Aug. 28, 1850.

The position of the clergy at Cleveland's St. Aloysius Church, one of the largest on the East Side, was expressed in the current parish bulletin.

Under the heading "The Wedding March—Pagan or Catholic?" the announcement said it was a mystery "how it ever came to be used in Catholic marriage ceremony" and that the opera was typical of "the great German composer's pagan point of view."

MARCHMAN GRAVE WILL HAVE MARKER

R. E. Sparkman of Italy, Tex., passed through Eastland county this week and announced the approval of an application for a government headstone for the grave of the late Cisco N. Marchman, well-known Eastland county pioneer and Confederate soldier, whose death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Beane, in Cisco, June 29, 1940.

This is one of a number of Confederate graves in Eastland county to secure government markers through the assistance of Mr. Sparkman; others are in process of being marked.

Trigg Sustained Painful Injury

John Trigg, who lives at 1108 W. Fourteenth street, was the victim of a painful accident a few days ago. He was driving livestock on the grounds of the local livestock exchange, and while urging the stock onward with the aid of a whip, a small part of the latter flew off and struck him in the eye.

The wound caused Mr. Trigg much pain and considerable loss of blood. He was taken to a specialist in Fort Worth by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Younger, relatives, and it is now hoped the injured member will be fully restored.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Klinger of Big Lake spent the week-end with the families of S. C. Trigg and Bruce Younger.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—President Roosevelt today warned that America's defense efforts are being jeopardized by inflation threats.

The president has asked congress to enact price-and-rent-control legislation and called for the establishment of wage ceilings by cooperation of labor and industry.

Mr. Roosevelt also asked for authority to establish ceilings for prices and rents and the power to purchase materials and commodities when necessary to assure price stability.

EIGHT YOUTHS APPLY AS CCC CAMP WORKERS

Miss Elsie Glenn, county worker of the state department of county welfare, reports a satisfactory response to her appeal for CCC workers, which was published in the Daily Press recently.

"Counting two who had previously filed their applications for employment in the camp at Albany, we have accepted and sent eight young men to that camp since the publication of the appeal," Miss Glenn said.

"These applicants are Louis Bisbee, Homer Doyle, Jr., Marvin Harris, Albert Thames, Ralph Whitely, William Slatton, Clifford Thames and Avon Sullivan.

"The above list completes our quota, which expires July 31, and no other applicants can be accepted until the next call, which will likely be some time in October," she said.

"Enrolees are enlisted for six months and may stay for two years, provided they make good."

"These boys are paid $30 per month. If their families need the money, $15 of the salary is sent home. They are paid $8 in cash for incidental expenses and $7 per month is held in reserve until they are discharged from the camp."

Do You Remember? (From Files of Cisco Daily News, June, 1925)

The annual tea given by the Junior Twentieth Century club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Ester Hale was one of the notably beautiful entertainments of the season and was attended by approximately 250 guests. The reception room, which was attractive and fragrant with a variety of summer blossoms, carried out the green-and-white color scheme. Miss Ester Hale greeted the guests in her cordial manner and presented them to the members of the receiving line, which was composed of Mrs. Charles Hale, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Miss Edith Martin of Fort Worth, Misses Juanita St. John and Ruth Williamson. Miss Helen Williamson conducted the guests to the dining room, where softly shaded lights and tall vases of delicately shaded roses presented a scene of much beauty. The table was covered with a handsome Venetian lace cloth. A mound of roses and ferns held central position. Unshaded green tapers burned in cut glass candlesticks, which were decorated with large bows of white tulle. Misses Mary Fee, Katherine Pettit, Mary Elizabeth O'Flaherty and Mrs. Jack Kelly served the refreshments, consisting of green- and -white brick ice cream, individual angel food cakes embossed in green icing, and mints. Dainty bouquets of sweet peas and nasturtiums were the favors given. Little Miss Scottie Womack, attired in a frock of pink tulle, mingled with the guests and furnished them with pins for their bouquets. At the door leading to the music room little Julia Lee Simon, wearing a hand-embroidered organly frock, collected the calling cards in a silver card basket. The guests spent some time in pleasant conversation with Mesdames J. M. Williamson and Leonard Simon in the music room and at the same time enjoyed excellent music rendered by Miss Theresa Johnson of Rising Star.

C. W. (Red) Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Moore of Cisco, was one of the four graduating from Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college in agricultural engineering this year. Red was a former Lobo football star.

J. E. McCord, new executive officer of the Commercial State bank, today assumed his duties of first active vice president, taking the place in that financial institution recently held by W. W. Woods, who departed Saturday for Dallas. When seen at the bank this morning Mr. McCord expressed himself regarding Cisco as follows: "Since leaving Cisco last year I have been to many parts of the United States, and was in Mexico for quite a while, but found no place that was better than Cisco as a business town and certainly no better people than those who live here. Owning a home here, and my family being here, I resolved to come back and anchor in Cisco. The banking business is somewhat of a new line to me, but it is simply business after all, and believing I understand business methods, I see no reason why this line will not prove very congenial." Speaking of the addition of Mr. McCord to the Commercial State bank, G. B. Kelly, one of the directors of that institution, stated: "We feel that the bank was fortunate in getting Mr. McCord to associate himself with us. He is well known to all the people of Cisco and surrounding territory, and his connection will have a local influence that few others would have. As manager of the Higginbotham Lumber

Keep 'Em Flying

Co here for many years, he formed perhaps a larger circle of friends than most any other man, and his well-known integrity will mean much to any business institution. A bank, like any other local business, profits or suffers by the character of those administering its affairs. In J. E. McCord the Commercial State bank has made a valuable acquisition, and we hope his many friends will call and see him in his new capacity of active vice president."

The Lions partook of their first luncheon at Laciaco Inn, Lake Cisco, today. Features of the luncheon were fried chicken, cat fish and corn bread. Today's session was devoted entirely to the transaction of business. Lions Williamson, Caburnes, Pittard, Danney and Patchall were appointed a committee to work out the details for the Ranger-Eastland-Cisco minstrel, to be held at Eastland some time in June. An invitation from Eastland Lions for a game of baseball was respectfully declined, since none of the local fans cared to go into practice for the event.

The library committee of the Twentieth Century club, composed of Mrs. C. H. Fee, Mrs. J. J. Winston, Mrs. G. B. Kelly, Mrs. R. Q. Lee, Mrs. William Reagan, Mrs. J. J. Hutto and the president, Mrs. E. J. Dean, has closed a deal with the Cisco Elks club whereby the Twentieth Century club acquires the building now owned and occupied by the Elks as a lodge room. The building will be moved to the corner of E avenue and Sixth street and converted into a library building. This will be done just as soon as the Elks are ready to start work on their new home, probably some time next month. Organized in 1897, Twentieth Century club members have been indelicate workers for everything that would better and brighten the civic life of Cisco. Many years ago they established our present public library and have maintained it through the years.

The Rotary luncheon will be held at Laciaco Inn, Lake Cisco, tomorrow. Group One will be in charge of the meeting with A. B. O'Flaherty as program chairman. Group One members are Minter Womack, chairman; A. B. O'Flaherty, G. C. Richardson, James J. Collins, Roger Q. Lee, William Reagan and Robert W. Mancill. Tomorrow's program follows: Song—All Rotarians participating in invocation—Dr. Gaines B. Hall, introduction of visitors. Luncheon. A partial history of my life—Robert Mancill. Talk—J. H. Morgan, superintendent Cisco schools. Talk—G. H. Wells, principal Cisco high school. Business. Rotary song and adjournment promptly

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

Add Capital Worries: Big Police Row With Huey Long Foe Leading the Charge

BY PETER EDSON NEA Service Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—To read the newspapers of the city of Washington, you might get the idea that the most important function of Congress was to govern the District of Columbia. More space is devoted to the going-on before the District committees of Congress than almost every other subject. This is perhaps excusable for Washington is after all home to the "chiff dwellers," the people who were born here or who don't work for the government.

Why Congress should have to bother with all these purely local affairs is something you'll have to refer back to the founding fathers and the Congress of 1878, who figured out this complex system of non-local government. So large do these problems of local government loom in the congressional scheme of things that every Monday in the House is designated as District Day. That day the representatives corrugate their brows over problems that would be settled by a body no more august than a town council in any city of equal size. For sheer cumbersome, this gives Washington not only the most unwieldy, but also the most expensive top government in the country—500 senators and representatives at $10,000 a year each—worrying at times about such things as traffic regulation and local tax rates.

It's the District police force that all the shouting is about, particularly the detective force and the homicide squad which have had 79 violent death cases to deal with since June 1, including six murders culminating in the horrible attack on government worker Jessie Elizabeth Streiff a few weeks ago.

A sub-committee of the House District Committee is now conducting an investigation in true congressional fashion with the net result that the superintendent of District police, Maj. Ernest W. Brown, will probably be retired and the detective bureau will be upheaved.

THE man really responsible for lifting the lid off the Washington police scandals is one of the men largely responsible for lifting the lid on the Huey Long scandals in Louisiana. He is F. Edward Hebert (pronounced eye-bear), a freshman in the House, and a member of the District committee.

All the energy which Hebert displayed in exposing the Louisiana mess have gone into his expose of Washington police. Demanding the investigation, Hebert has served on the special congressional sub-committee, for a time presiding, flying witness after witness, un-corking the whole unlovely mess, just as he did in Louisiana.
