> Sensational New Type of Cooking Will Vary Menu

Magic Chef 'Broilecuing' Is Simple and Economieal

A whole new field of cooking adventure has been opened up by this clever new Swing-out Broiler on the Magic Chef Gas Range. Meats cooked by direct heat rays cious. And this Swing-out Broiler is high enough so that you can even broil a whole chicken, a ham or a thick roast of beef. Slow broiling, with the meat placed far enough from the flame, is possible n this designed broiler

New type Magic Chef triple-use for "broilecuing."

Six slots for the broiler pan provide any distance from the oiling. And with the broiler pan placed high, you have extra space beneath for a heating compartment to warm rolls or keep other foods hot till serving time. The broiler swings out on a door, away from the flame, so that the cook is protected from spattering fat. There's no need to vorry about smoking, however, proiler pan is of the smokeless type that makes broiling a real pleasure. It's high enough, too, to save stooping and crouching. You don't have to stoop to light he broiler because on Magic Chef models you get automatic

Broiled foods, health authorities tell us, are most digestible. Today nutrition experts recommend broiled meats for young and old. But so many old-fashioned stoves make broiling a distasteful chore, that many families are deprived of delectable broiled meats on their dinner tables. The Swing-out Broiler is included on many Magic Chef Gas Range models
