OLDSMOBILE DELIVERS MILLIONTH SHELL TO U.S. ARMY

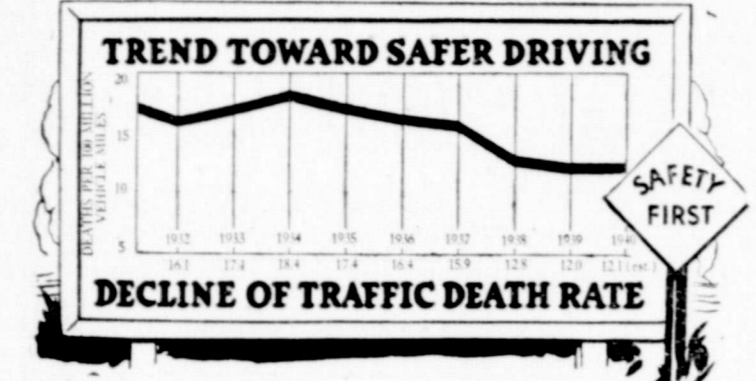

Presentation of the millionth shell produced by the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Corporation by General Manager S. E. Skinner, left above, highlighted the visit to Lansing of Colonel Merle H. Davis, Ordnance Department, Washington, D. C. The shell, which was especially plated and suitably engraved, was presented to Colonel Davis. A group of high ranking army officers who were present on the occasion considered this a dramatic example of the contribution now being made by the automobile industry toward the defense program. They pointed to the fact that only a few months ago Oldsmobile's forge plant was converted from the manufacture of automobile parts to the production of high-calibre shells for artillery and other army use.

RUSSIA CALLS ITS MEN FROM 16 TO 50 YEARS

MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—The Soviet Union began assembling its almost illimitable manpower Thursday for the creation of the greatest reserve military force in history—estimated unofficially at not less than 25,000,000 men—while early Autumn fog and rain were declared to be swallowing Hitler's last hope of quick and decisive victories. Announcement of Premier Stalin's new conscription of every man between 16 and 50 not already in service to train after working hours in the use of weapons was accompanied by declarations that for Russia the struggle just had begun. Asserting that the German general staff faced the approaching Winter with no further hope for a blitzkrieg in the east, the official organ of the Soviet armies, Red Star, nevertheless warned: "... But we must realize that the war will be long and severe." "Realization of this measure (conscription) is of enormous significance in the entire course of the people's war against German Fascism," Red Star added. "Our nation never was the slave of the Germans or any other enemies and shall not become a slave now." (Regular Soviet troops already in the field against the Nazis are estimated at 9,000,000 and, the British have said, Moscow also has another 4,000,000 trained and equipped and ready to go into action at any time.) The program, which will not interrupt civilian production, will go into effect Wednesday.

Storm Troops, 84,354 dead, 292,690 wounded, 18,921 missing. The air force, 1,542 dead, 3,980 wounded, 1,378 missing. The German air force was said to have lost 725 airplanes. Losses of the Soviets in prisoners, the German high command declared, "thus far exceeded 1,800,000," adding, "according to experience, their losses in dead are at least as high and probably higher." (Before the invasion of Russia Germany had acknowledged these aggregate losses: 42,322 killed, 148,781 wounded, 217,440 missing.) TRY A CLASSIFIED AD.

Public Safety Record Better Since 1933, Analysis Reveals

Mr. and Mrs. America can be proud of a marked improvement since 1933 in social trends affecting public safety. Reductions in the rate of automobile traffic fatalities, in deaths from alcoholism and in incidence of crime stand out among the improvements in the period since Prohibition was repealed. Basic statistical reports recently issued by governmental and other authoritative agencies provide the figures for analysis. The 1941 edition of "Accident Facts," just published by the National Safety Council, shows that the highway fatality rate was 12.1 deaths per 100,000,000 vehicle miles in 1940. This contrasted with 19.0 in 1925, the first year for which the statistics were compiled. The average motor vehicle death rate for the prohibition years from 1925 to 1932 was 17.49 per 100,000,000 vehicle miles, while since the end of Prohibition, the average rate has declined to 15.26, and for the last three years it has averaged 12.3. The death rate from alcoholism has been halved since 1928, when the high mark of 4.9 per 100,000 population was recorded. In 1938 and 1939, the latest years for which these Census Bureau figures are available, the rate was 2 per 100,000—the lowest since 1921. The death rate from alcoholism for the first seven years of repeal (1933-1939) averaged 2.5, as against an average of 3.5 for the last seven years of Prohibition. A third major phase of social trends—the incidence of criminal offenses—also shows an improvement since Prohibition ended. In 1932, the first year for which the Federal Bureau of Investigation published compilations of municipal crime rates, there was a combined rate of 1,645 offenses per 100,000 population. The rates are for offenses "known to the police" in the following categories: murder, manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft. The rate for 1940 was 1,566, a decrease of about 5 per cent since 1932. Indications are that 1941 will show a still better record, as the rate for the first six months was about 152 as against 176 for the corresponding period in 1940. The 1941 figures are from 2,034 cities with a population of 84,005,186. The crime and accident reports above quoted lend emphasis to the recent statement of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, who said: "The repeal of Prohibition greatly added to public respect for law and order, reduced racketeering and gangsterism, and brought substantial economic gains to industry and labor."

ICKES REFUSES TO LIFT CURB ON GASOLINE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Declining to heed the recommendation of a senate committee that gasoline restrictions in the east be lifted, Secretary of Interior Ickes, the defense petroleum coordinator, declared such action would be "stupid." He told newspapermen the rationing of motor fuel to service stations and the 7 p. m.-7 a. m. station curfew would continue. "To take off all the restrictions now, and yell 'Come and get it,'" he said, "that would be stupid." Ickes, just back from a month's vacation in the west, stated the position of the petroleum office at his first press conference here since the committee, headed by Senator Maloney (D-Conn.), reported there was no petroleum shortage in the east, that "unnecessary alarm was created," and that "we believe that present restrictions should be lifted." The committee said the only shortage it found was one of surplus stocks. Ickes said he had no comment on the committee's conclusions except to say that "The whole thing is in the lap of time and time will tell the story." However, he framed this question for reporters: "When you say there's a shortage, don't you?" To emphasize his contention that an emergency existed, he cited reports of the American Petroleum Institute showing that for the week ending Sept. 13 gasoline stocks on the Atlantic seaboard dropped 365,000 barrels, making a total decline of 1,023,000 barrels for a week period compared with a drop of only 160,000 barrels during the corresponding week of last year. East coast gasoline stocks, he said, now are about 2,700,000 barrels or 12.5 per cent less than they were at this date in 1940, while demand is about 11 per cent higher than last year. "Those are the facts," Ickes commented, "I'll let the facts speak for themselves."

STREET HOLDS WAGE, HOUR CONFERENCE

ABILENE, Sept. 19.—Individual and group conferences of West Texas employers with Gus C. Street, regional administrator of the wage-hour administration, and Sterling Williams of the regional office, rang the curtain down Thursday afternoon on a district wage-hour clinic here. Largest group conferring with the wage-hour officials was composed of Central West Texas oil operators. The clinic opened Thursday morning in the Wooten hotel ballroom with a general session at which Street was principal speaker. Representatives from approximately 65 firms in this section attended. Street's final activity here was a 15-minute interview over Station KRBC, beginning at 6:45, on the wage-hour act. New Regulations. At the morning session, Street disclosed that regulations concerning keeping of records of the wage-hour act were changed Sept. 2. "No specific form of records is required, but they must include certain information." According to the new regulations, records must include the employee's name, home address, date of birth if under 19, occupation, hour of day of work on which the employee's work week begins, basis on which wages are paid such as hourly rate or piece rate or salary, time worked each day and total for each week, and total daily or weekly straight-time earnings or wages (including straight-time earnings for any overtime worked). "When overtime is worked, records must show the regular hourly rate of the employee and total additional daily or weekly overtime payments due," said Street. The administrator explained basic provisions of the act, such as the 40-hour week, 30-cent per hour minimum wage, time and a half for overtime, and liability of all firms engaged in interstate commerce. He emphasized that a firm was covered by the wage-hour act if only part of its activity involved interstate commerce. "The percentage of interstate commerce is of no importance. It does not matter whether your volume of interstate commerce is one per cent or 99 per cent. Coverage exists in either case." Godhavn is the capital of Greenland.

GERMANS FIX LOSSES IN WAR AT 402,865

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Germany's losses in the Russian campaign have been 402,865, the German high command announced Friday in revealing for the first time the official Nazi totals of killed, wounded and prisoners. Only one German was put out of action for every nine Russians killed or taken prisoner, the official German statement declared in estimating the Soviet losses in dead and prisoners at "at least" 3,600,000. German losses for the period between June 22 and Aug. 31 were announced as: The army, including the SS elite

Six hours after the union rejected a government ultimatum to arbitrate its war bonus demands, Capt. Junior College Reception Monday Evening

SCHOOL WILL SHOW CISCO'S PROGRESS

Reception for Cisco will be Monday evening at 7:30 at Junior College in order to show the progress of the school. The school is now in its second year and has made great progress in all departments. The evening's activities will be followed by a concert by the Cisco school band in the gymnasium. This will be the first appearance of Leonard King, band director. The concert will be followed by a short program. President H. R. Garrett will be the main attraction. He will be the first to speak and will discuss the progress of the school. He will also discuss the facilities and equipment which the school now has. An effort will be made to have 125 students and their parents from out of town, for the open house. The parking space has been fixed and there will be plenty of space for parking all cars. Refreshments will be served at the home of the entertainment committee. The college has made rapid progress since its beginning last year and it was through the efforts of the citizens who saw the need for a junior college for this area that the school was established. The school officials and students are looking forward to showing the progress of the school and to the Monday night which the school has done and is doing, that may become better acquainted with the college.

SUMNER THINKS WE ARE CRAZY

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 20.—The United States, in the opinion of Representative Hatton W. Sumners of Texas, is "next on call" in Germany's drive toward world domination "unless we do something."

"Your nation and mine—next on call—and what are we doing?" the Texas congressman asked in an address before the Michigan State Bar. "Fighting for survival as a democracy? No, fighting for profit and gain—business as usual."

"We're crazy. We play, we go to parties, we nurture our selfish little concerns while the nations of the earth are dying."

"We must do something and we must do it now. We must not let the historians of our country write, 'They got busy, but too late.'"

He appealed for rebirth of the will to strong government and asserted the United States was following in the footsteps of France by "trying to make a democracy function from top down, when anybody with intelligence knows that a democracy functions from the people upward."

CHARTING YOUR INCOME TAX BILL

The following table shows the greatly increased income taxes that millions of Americans will have to pay next year under the higher rates and reduced exemptions of the new tax bill.

"Net income" means a person's entire income after deductions for such things as contributions, interest paid out, and bad debts. It is the figure remaining before the personal exemption is subtracted. The personal exemption will be only $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married.

The table assumes that all income is "earned"—that is, that it comes from salaries, wages and commissions. Persons whose income is derived in whole or in part from investments would pay somewhat higher taxes.

Persons with dependents would pay lower taxes than those shown in the table as there is an allowance of $400 off net income for each dependent.

R. N. Cluck, Cisco school superintendent, was elected chairman of District 9AA for the third consecutive year Thursday night at a meeting in Breckenridge.

John F. Bailey of Breckenridge was chosen vice chairman, and Ivan Oliver of Stephenville, secretary.

At the meeting it was decided that 25 and 50 cents would be charged for admission to all conference games, with each town splitting the gross receipts 50-50. It also was decided that ward school teams would be admitted free to the games in order to build up interesting ward teams in the game.

Bands and pep squads will be admitted free to all contests.

Members of the committee present were:

Jimmy Marshall, coach, Stephenville; W. Doyle Graves, high school principal, Breckenridge; L. G. Worthington, high school principal, Mineral Wells; Eck Curtis, coach, Breck; John F. Bailey, superintendent, Breck; W. A. Ross, superintendent, Mineral Wells; J. R. Stalcup, high school principal, Brownwood; H. G. Jennings, coach, Ranger; Cecil B. Townsend, assistant coach, Ranger; Cy Perkins, coach, Mineral Wells; G. B. Morris, assistant coach, Breck; O. L. Stamey, high school principal, Cisco; J. O. Hatley, high school principal, Ranger; B. Jones, high school principal, Stephenville, and Ivan Oliver, superintendent, Stephenville.

It is probable that a cut rate for soldiers who attend the games will be worked out, Mr. Cluck said.

EXPLAIN PLAN IN CLEAR-CUT TERMS, NOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Sen. Walter George, Georgia Democrat, demanded tonight that clearcut issues of the American foreign policy be placed before the people now far an "ultimate decision they alone must make."

Without so saying, Senator George left no doubt that he felt that the decision concerns active intervention in the war. Other issues, he said, especially regarding repeal and modification of the neutrality act, do not face the issue squarely and their discussion tends to confuse the public.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas earlier predicted through the press that the neutrality act would "be repealed or modified" within a few months.

Luncheon Saturday Opens Delta Kappa Gamma's New Year

Beta Upsilon chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, opened its year with a luncheon at 12:30 at Laguna hotel, Saturday. The table, centered with rose buds, featured the fraternity colors of red and gold.

Mrs. O. L. Stamey, the outgoing president, presided. During the luncheon each member told how she spent the summer. This was followed by the installation of the following officers: Miss Marion Chambliss, president; Miss Marie Winston, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Daniels, recording secretary; Mrs. Bruce Campbell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Minnie Hill, treasurer; Miss Doris Pyle, parliamentarian.

Special recognition was given Mrs. Lucretia Irby for her song "Sweetness and Light," inter-national winner in the Delta Kappa Gamma song contest. A brief business session followed, after which the meeting closed with a song fest led by Miss Ella Andrews.

The following members were present: Mesdames Irby, Campbell, Berry, Brown, Swaney, Bagbell, Hill, Cluck, Allen, Hazlewood, and Stamey, and Misses Donaway, and Lowry, Yunk, Grimes, Pyle, Chambliss, Daniels, and Winston.

CISCO FUTURE FARMERS SHOW WELL AT FAIR

The Cisco F. F. A. chapter won first place with its booth in the club division at the Rising Star fair, which ended Saturday night, and several members of the chapter won places in the livestock exhibits.

Cisco Junior college entered a highly decorated school bus in the parade at the fair Saturday morning.

SURRENDER OF RED GARRISON AT KIEV AND CAPTURE OF TWO ISLANDS CLAIMED BY GERMANS

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—A Nazi communique claims surrender of the Soviet garrison at Kiev, the capture of two Baltic islands and a foothold on a third in a blasting drive clear to the sea approaches of Leningrad.

German armies in the south were reported slashing toward the Khar'kov and Donets industrial basin. Kiev and a great German encirclement area extending 125 miles east were being mopped up in relentless fighting.

German sources say the Kiev salient has been completely wiped out and the Nazi advance runs from Gomel to Konotop to Poltava, and on the south to the Crimean peninsula.

SITUATION "CRITICAL."

MOSCOW, Sept. 20.—A special press dispatch dated "from Kiev," reports a terrific battle raging, that defenders "will not yield the city cheaply," and that ten German regiments had been knocked out in 45 days. (There was no Moscow statement on the German report of the capture of Kiev.)

In Pravda a correspondent frankly called the Kiev situation "critical."

The United States Coast Guard was created by an act of Congress in 1790.

WAGE DEMAND MAY STOP BIG BOMBER PLANT

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 20.—A wage dispute threatened Saturday to halt production at Consolidated Aircraft Corporation's great San Diego bomber-building plant.

AFL machinists announced they were prepared to strike for a blanket 10-cents-an-hour pay increase, twice what the company is offering.

The question was referred to the National Mediation Board, and George C. Castleman, international vice president of the machinists' union, petitioned Sidney Hillman, co-director of the Office of Production Management, and John Steelman, chief federal labor conciliator, to bring the matter to an immediate hearing.

"The membership wants to strike to obtain its demands," Castleman said, "but because defense orders are involved we are exerting every effort to avert a walkout."

Some 23,300 of them unionists, would be affected by a strike, Castleman said. So would Consolidated's $750,000,000 in contracts for land and sea bombing planes to equip the fighting forces of the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia and the Netherlands.

Base pay at the San Diego plant now is 55 cents an hour. The company offers to increase this immediately to 60 cents, with automatic 5-cent raises every four weeks to a top minimum of 75 cents after 12 weeks' employment.

W. J. Chudleigh, president of the local, said the union was satisfied with the 60-75 cent minimum scale, but felt that it should be accompanied by a general 10-cents-an-hour boost.

Castleman pointed out that Lockheed-Vega, another big California plane builder, recently subscribed to the 10-cent increase, and he declared that it carried mediation board indorsement as a fair wage.

He received his second class rating as electrician mate on his submarine.

WANE CALLS MEETING FOR WEDNESDAY A.M.

The people of Cisco, business and private citizens, will be given an opportunity this week to contribute to the work of the City Welfare Association for the next twelve months.

Lane, newly-elected president, called a meeting of the board of directors at the chamber of commerce for Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. At this time the campaign for funds will be started.

The Welfare Association represents the concerted efforts of Cisco to provide for the relief of emergencies that arise which cannot be wisely met by the some recognized body of citizens to investigate and give relief.

The board of directors is made up of men and women selected by various groups, such as clubs, parent-teacher associations and others.

The directors have selected Mrs. S. Huey as their employed secretary to have immediate charge of the benevolent work and to be responsible to them in the manner in which the work is done.

The funds that are secured in the annual campaign, a considerable quantity of clothing and household necessities is distributed through the year to be collected by Mrs. Huey.

Mrs. Huey expresses the belief that there will be a ready and generous response to the appeal for relief, because this is a civic duty of legitimate concern to the people of Cisco and carries with it a benevolent work that meets the heart interest of the individual.

Editor Daily Press: I have just learned that the lunch rooms in our public schools will not be in operation this school year as they have in the past two years. This comes as quite a surprise to me and I do not understand the reason for not having this needed project in our schools.

To my knowledge, the citizens of Cisco contributed very generously to purchase and install the necessary equipment to prepare the food for our children. What is to become of this equipment? Is it to just remain idle when it could be put to such fine use as feeding children who actually do not get enough food at home to enable them to have strong bodies and minds such as their little playmates have?

There are other schools in the county in which the WPA hot lunch project is being efficiently operated for the benefit of their under-privileged and under-nourished children. Why cannot the children of Cisco have the same opportunities as the children of other communities in our county? The WPA is furnishing the necessary labor to carry on this fine work and our government is furnishing large quantities of surplus commodities to feed these little bodies, so, again I ask, why does not Cisco have a hot lunch project in the public schools?

HURRYING FEET.

Hither and thither through the street, Whence are you bound, all you hurrying feet? Bearing your forms, both the frail and the strong, Eager and hasty you scurry along. Anxious expectancy marked on each face, Lending an impetus quickening the pace. The spirit of contest grows ever more warm. So its scramble and struggle, bustle and race, Jostle your neighbor and step in his place, With only a thought for the hue and the cry And never a moment to glance at the sky. And what are your aims, all this zeal to excite? Are they matters of moment, quite worthy the fight? And what is your goal, you strenuous file, And when you arrive, will you think it worth while? If the whole of this energy garnered might be And applied to some one mighty purpose, then we Might learn—to our weal—while dwelling below, The secrets which only the Gods can bestow.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

(From the Cisco American, April 13, 1922.)

The hurricane which struck Cisco at 7:45 o'clock last Saturday morning (April 8, 1922) lasted only a few minutes, but during this brief period there was a property damage of probably $50,000. That no lives were lost is considered very fortunate, indeed. Mrs. R. W. Turner of East Broadway was struck by flying timbers and painfully injured, but at last reports she was resting nicely at Humble sanitarium. Two of the Turner children and one or two others in different parts of the city sustained minor bruises or cuts. All in all, Cisco was lucky.

The hurricane first touched the city by unroofing the Milling sanitarium, on W Twelfth street. Dr. F. E. Clark's residence, just across the street, came next, but escaped the full fury of the wind. The home of L. W. Hilgenberg, one block east of the sanitarium, was badly damaged, being pushed off its foundation a distance of seven or eight feet. The hurricane then lifted and passed over several blocks of the residence district, inflicting little or no damage until it reached the home of Judge J. D. Barker near the First Baptist church. Judge Barker's house was partially unroofed. The Gude hotel, the American cafe, Broadway theater, the Bleasie Motor company and the Masonic hall were in the path of the storm and suffered considerable damage. The Spencer building and Miley & Ledford's also suffered loss, as did the E. J. Barnes Co.

On the east side, the M. K. & T. freight depot was completely wrecked and a number of small cottages badly damaged. The greatest damage to residences in this part of the city was sustained by Will Mayhew and Joe Wilson. The Nazarene church at Broadway

COMMUNITY FAIRS EDUCATING FARMER BOYS IN STOCK-RAISING

S. J. Glenn, farmer in southern part of Eastland county, while shopping in Cisco Saturday, remarked that the local communities of this county were doing quite a good work in educating its citizens (farmers) to better agriculture and stock raising. "I could not help comparing the stock now being shown in community fairs with that grown and shown at fairs when I was a boy not so many years ago. Local farmer boys are showing better stock now than was shown at the state fair of Texas not so many years back," Mr. Glenn said. "Stock farming," he continued, "is putting new life into farmer boys' ideas regarding farming. It is my prediction that in a few more years, perhaps by the time this war ends, that the trend will be back to the farm rather than away from the farm to the cities. Stock raising will mean a cash income all through the year instead of just a short period one time a year which has been the main cause for boys and girls wanting to go to town. It is worth to have some cash money income, weekly or monthly." Mr. Glenn went on to say that stock growing went hand in hand with feed growing. And there is no better feed land in the whole of this part of Texas than in Eastland county. The whole county, and Cisco trade territory, lends itself to stock farming. The hard land for grazing and mesquite grass, and the sandy land with its brush, are both ideal for stock. It has been found that when goats have eaten the brush and paid a profit on the investment while doing so, that grass will grow on the sandy soil. At first perhaps, coarse grass and weeds will come up. Sheep will eat this vegetation and pay their owners a profit on that investment. This will be followed by finer grass which will fatten cattle at a profit also.

So Mr. Glenn says these three kinds of stock, goats, sheep and cattle, form a sequence in stock farming that will apply to all lands in the county. And the demand for mohair, wool and beef makes all these animals very profitable and gives the ambitious farmer boy something to aim at worthy of his best efforts and dreams. These community fairs are educating these boys about stock types, and their fathers are lending ears to their pleas for a chance to try their hands at growing a prize winner. And once they have produced a pig, a calf or any other show animal, they will be sealed to the stock farm for their lives. They will have an object worthy of their ambition and an opportunity for a regular income that will tie them to the land and their stock.

Along with the study of how to feed and grow these fine animals, comes the teaching of how to con-rol diseases common to stock. Yes, this country is changing and we are now learning how to farm the successful way instead of the hard and unfruitful way our pioneer farmers knew. Nice comfortable homes with modern conveniences, a steady income and rich acres fertilized the natural way by the stock themselves, will be the rule rather than the exception during the next generation, Glenn says.

Cities of over 100,000 population spent 65 million dollars for recreational purposes in 1936, and 48 states spent eight million dollars for the same purpose, according to the Census Bureau.

Much has been written about Missouri mules, but according to the census, several states report more mules on farms. Farm reported 193,565 mules in Missouri; Texas had 537,801; Mississippi, 337,620; Georgia, 316, and North Carolina, 299,188.

Lobos Come From Behind to Whip Coleman

PROVED CISCO TEAM GAINS TO 6 WIN OVER BLUECATS THRILLING BATTLE FRIDAY

Moseley on the throwing end, which Cleveland Dunaway snagged beautifully on the three yard line. Lasater ran the ball across in two line plays. Sanders kick was good to tie the score at 7 to 7.

The Cisco offensive was kept in check for the remainder of the first half by penalties that nullified several long gains that might have resulted in another touchdown before the half time mark.

The final and game winning score came early in the fourth quarter after Lasater had intercepted a Coleman pass and returned it to his own 45. Then the Lobos struck swiftly, scoring in three plays.

On the first play Moseley lateraled to Lasater who carried to the Coleman 28 as the third quarter ended. On the next play Lasater went off tackle to the 13, and the diminutive Moseley broke through the left side of the line, sidestepped a couple of secondary defenders, and scored. Sanders' kick was no good and the score stood at 13 to 7.

The not-to-be-denied Coleman boys came back fighting, filling the air with passes, but never managed to get within the Lobo 30 line.

Cisco attempted five passes, completing two, and Coleman attempted 17, completing eight.

The victory was well-earned for the Black and Gold. They were against a smooth Class A team that matched the Lobos well. With the exception of the improvement shown by Moseley, there were no individual stars. Garland Lasater lived up to expectations by playing a good game all the way. His line plugging and broken field running sparkled and he backed up the line in a manner that would please any coach.

But Moseley and Lasater weren't by themselves in the backfield. The blocking of Cleveland

This Bedroom Features Fluorescence

Above mirror and head of bed, streamlined fluorescent lamps produce a wealth of cool lighting for make-up and reading. Note, too, the floor lamp next the chair. This portable uses a 3-light filament lamp designed to give milady enough light for almost any sewing or reading task.

By Carlene Waldo

WOMEN who have heard their husbands talk about the wonderfully generous new fluorescent lighting in their factories or offices have been asking, "Can we use the tubular bulbs in our homes, too?"

The answer, concerning home use, is "yes" . . . with reservations.

In the home shown here a full-length mirror placed between two bedroom windows has been beautifully and evenly lighted. Two 30-watt white fluorescent lamps, each 36 inches in length, with reflectors, are placed behind a shield of translucent material at the top of the mirror. Persons using the mirror are uniformly and smoothly lighted from head to toe . . . a grand aid to quick, sure, and easy grooming.

The decorative scheme of the mirror lighting is further carried out with additional fluorescent lamps concealed beneath the cornice over the windows. The whole effect is quite lovely and unique.

These new tubular non-fluorescent bulbs were introduced not so long ago. They give in some cases two or three times as much light as filament bulbs, for the same amount of power, and produce a cool illumination. They require special auxiliary equipment for proper operation and an entirely different socket from the kind used for ordinary lamps. Only a limited number of home fixtures and portable lamps are as yet available on the market to hold the new lamps.

Good as the new fluorescent may be, let us not forget that there are many home lighting problems solved

BRITISH TROOPS CROSSING A STREET IN TOBRUK WHERE A CHURCH STILL STANDS AMID RUINS.

AUSTRALIAN SOLDIER WATERS A MULE LEFT BEHIND BY ITALIANS.

MAIL FROM HOME IS ALWAYS GOOD NEWS.

THIS SIGN SHOWS SPIRIT OF GALLANT DEFENDERS.

SOME OF TOBRUK'S DEFENDERS LIVE IN CAVES.

HEROIC TOBRUK

When the history of the Second World War is written, one of the most heroic chapters will be the defense of Tobruk in North Africa by British and Australian troops. Surrounded on land on all sides, but with the port still open to receive supplies, a handful of men have held out against repeated German and Italian attacks through a scorching summer. They have turned back the enemy's dive bombers, tanks, and infantry with heavy losses.

Tobruk was first captured last winter by the British in their advance into Libya, and in the spring the Germans and Italians rolled the British back beyond Tobruk, but were unable to take the town or its vital harbor on the Mediterranean Sea. As long as the gallant defenders of Tobruk hold out, the whole Axis position and line of communications in North Africa is vulnerable.

Not merely content with holding their own, the hard-fighting Australians at Tobruk have captured important positions outside the town, and thus strengthened their defenses.

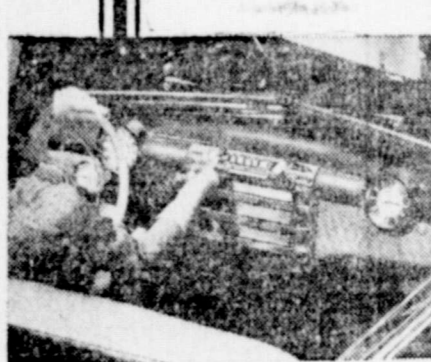

One detachment of infantry, operating within easy range of the enemy's guns, recently captured several Italian artillery pieces, repaired those which needed it, dug in for gun positions, and formed crews made up of cooks, orderlies, and everybody except artillerymen. When the enemy attempted to storm their forward position, these rookies fired 1,100 rounds of ammunition into the opposing lines within two hours, quite an achievement even for artillery experts. Later, when their fire was checked, it was found to be not only rapid but exceedingly accurate.

Of such heroic exploits will the epic of Tobruk some day be recorded in full.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Commerce Department said Friday large shipments of lend-lease food and other supplies to England boosted United States merchandise exports in July to the highest level of the year.

Food exports, particularly, jumped in July, although they have been declining almost steadily since the war began. Food shipments totaled $46,000,000, more than double the monthly average so far this year, and included $11,000,000 of meat, $6,000,000 of lard, $9,000,000 of dairy products, and $4,000,000 of eggs.

The department no longer gives the destination of individual commodities but indicated nearly all of this food went to England under lend-lease.

July reports so far available show that exports totaled $359,000,000 but the department said that delay in filing and tabulating export documents made it inadvisable to accept this as a final figure for comparison with other months. However, the figure compared with $329,737,000 in June and $316,669,000 in July of last year.

Imports declined slightly to $277,847,000, compared with $279,536,000 in June and $232,393,000 in July, 1940.

For the first seven months of the year, exports totaled $2,445,676,000, imports $1,871,944,000 and the export excess was $573,732,000.

In the similar period last year exports were $2,331,056,000, imports $1,526,455,000, and the export excess was $804,601,000.

The Ledbetter No. 2 oil well, in the Scranton field, is reported to be drilling at the 1,100 foot level and casing has been set at that depth. Red Little of Putnam is doing the drilling and states that No. 2 is logging about the same as the discovery well, which is one location north and the No. 2 is expected to be a good producer. When brought in, Ledbetter No. 1 produced 135 barrels on the gauge and is still producing more than its allowable.

U. S., BRITAIN AGREE QUICK AID TO RUSSIA

LONDON, Sept. 20.—An agreement on immediate material aid to Russia has been reached here by the United States and British missions to Moscow. W. Averell Harriman, head of the American delegation, said Saturday.

Harriman emphasized that the agreement was on immediate shipments only and that no settlement had been reached on general policy. The American delegation expects to go to Moscow soon.

Saying that Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply and head of the British mission, already was in the Russian capital, Harriman added laughingly: "I have no concern over who arrives first as this is a contributing mission."

He said that Gen. James E. Chaney, special military observer in London, would take the place on the Moscow delegation of Gen. George H. Brett, now in the Middle East, because Brett will be unable to complete his business there in time.

Harriman's press conference spiked a report that he already had left.

Regarding the particular supplies which will be sent, Harriman said: "There will be hundreds of American planes and tanks sent to Russia, but I would not wish to specify when or what types. The flow will be constantly increasing and eventually will be limited only by problems of transport."

It is "reasonable to assume," he added, that the question of replacement of raw materials lost by Russia through German conquests or bomb damage, also will be considered by Britain and the United States.

Costa Rica Supports U. S. Defense Policy

COSTA RICA—"rich coast"—is one of the pure democracies left in the world. The little republic just north of Panama has no army, the president gets paid $268 per month, and the government has few secrets. Some 600,000 people live in an area smaller than West Virginia.

The Costa Rican government issued the stamp above in 1927 showing the ruins of Ujaras. With four other Central American republics—Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador—Costa Rica won its independence from Spain in 1821. While other Central American countries stayed in a state of almost perpetual unrest, Costa Rica settled down to a tranquil existence.

The United States is deeply concerned with the welfare of the tiny republic because of its proximity to the Panama Canal. The Costa Rican government has indicated its willingness to co-operate with Washington to the fullest extent. It is strongly pro-American. Nazi activities, allegedly at a feverish pitch in 1940, have declined sharply.

LEGISLATORS' 11-DAY MEET HISTORY NOW

AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—The halls of the legislature were just another tourist attraction Saturday. The special session of the legislature, an 11-day meeting, was only a memory as porters cleared away the debris which inevitably showers the floors in the final hours of a session.

As members scattered homeward they left on the statute books a brand new road bond law, signed Friday by Governor Stevenson a few minutes after the extraordinary session died at 1:25 p. m.

The law became effective upon signing because the bill received more than a two-thirds majority vote in both branches.

In a final message Governor Stevenson thanked the legislators for speedy handling of the road bond question and termed the accomplishment evidence of ability to rise to the heights of statesmanship in the public service.

Although not the shortest session on record, it was one of the quickest and most harmonious, members agree.

GRAINS FALL; PRICE CONTROL IS THE CAUSE

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Wheat and rye prices fell more than a cent a bushel at the opening Saturday and soy beans were down about 3 cents.

About one hour before the close wheat was one-half cent lower, rye eightths cent lower, and soy beans eightths cent to 1 1/2 cent lower. The market's weakness was attributed to renewed speculation with price control war news and continued flour demand.
