VOLUME XXII.

CISCO, TEXAS, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1941

NUMBER 69

An area of wonderful climate, blessed with an abundance of the purest lake water, possessing the best in recreational facilities, situated on the Bankhead, all-weather route, with three railroads and many highways, Cisco is the best place in Texas to live and to work.

JAPS DEFY U. S.; SAY THEY WILL GO AHEAD

SANTA CLAUS ARRIVED IN CISCO BY AIRPLANE SATURDAY; RODE IN PARADE; GREETED CHILDREN

Santa Claus was given an ovation Saturday afternoon when he began his parade up D avenue at 4 o'clock. He was brought from the airplane to Fourteenth street, where he rode for five minutes before the time set for the event.

Seated atop one of Cisco's three fire trucks, which had joined the parade at the starting point in front of the Daily Press office where many merchants' cars and those of private individuals had gathered for the start, Santa distributed candy and souvenirs as he progressed south along D avenue to Fourteenth street, where the parade turned back and retraced its route to Eighth street, before turning westward to E avenue, the dispersing point.

One little boy, who used forethought in preparing for the visit of Santa Claus, handed the good Santa a letter describing his wishes for Christmas time.

Santa Claus will appear in Cisco again next Saturday, December 13, and will give candy kisses and souvenirs.

He will begin visiting rural schools of this trade district Monday, December 8.

Charles Sandler, general arrangements chairman, desires to thank all those who participated in the parade, as well as all committeemen who contributed to its success.

The chairman extends special thanks to Don Robbins, who went after Santa Claus and brought him to Cisco in his airplane. The good Saint Nick had been resting up at the Mitcham ranch, about ten miles northwest of Cisco, and boarded the Robbins plane there.

Red Cross Shipment To Be Made Dec. 15

Mrs. W. W. Wallace, co-chairman of the Red Cross work of Cisco and vicinity, requests that all finished garments be brought to Red Cross headquarters Monday or Friday of this week. Shipment not later than December 15 is requested from St. Louis.

Mrs. Wallace appreciates the splendid co-operation and help she has received and will not have other work for the helpers until after January 1.

Tests seem to indicate that the core of the earth is made of an iron-nickel alloy.

OPEN AIRMAIL SERVICE TWIXT U. S., AFRICA

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Airmail service between the United States and West Africa was opened officially early Saturday with the departure of Pan American Airways' Capetown clipper from La Guardia airport.

The giant flying boat carried eight passengers, including William T. Miller, chief of air carriers inspection of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, who will make the round trip flight of 20,000 miles.

Stops are scheduled at San Juan, Puerto Rico; Port of Spain, Trinidad; Belem and Natal, Brazil; Bathurst, British Gambia, and Lagos, Nigeria, before the clipper reaches its destination, Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, on Dec. 11. The African Clipper and the Comet Clipper will fly mail from Miami, meeting the Capetown in San Juan. The Comet was added to the first run because of a large load of philatelic covers.

N. S. Advisory Board Thanks Citizens

The Nursery school advisory board met in the chamber of commerce Thursday morning with good attendance. Mrs. James Harvey, president, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for a Christmas tree to be held at the nursery school on December 18, at which all children six years old and under, whose parents are connected with the WPA, will be presented with gifts.

The advisory board appreciates the splendid cooperation of many people of the city in donating needed articles and decided to publish a list of donors, as follows: Mrs. Judson Prince, Mrs. Jack Anderson, Mrs. Sterling Drumwright, Mrs. W. C. Hogue, Mrs. W. S. Mitcham, Mrs. Sutton Crofts, Mrs. G. C. Rosenthal, Mrs. Alex Spears, West Texas Produce, Mrs. John Shertzer, Rawson Tin Shop, A. M. Worley, A. G. Motor Co., Mrs. H. J. McArdle, Mrs. James Harvey, Mrs. Wilson Davis, Misses Helen Crawford and Lillian Shertzer, Mrs. C. M. Neville, Glenn Furniture company, city street department, Neil Lane, city water department, O. Gustafson, J. J. Collins, C. L. Tume, Miss Anne Buckley, Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer and all business concerns, individuals and clubs for their contributions for Christmas party; and the Cisco Daily Press for frequent publicity.

WOMAN'S THIRD TRIAL

LAKE CHARLES, La., Dec. 6.—District Judge Mark C. Pickard Friday fixed January 20 for the third trial of Mrs. Annie Beatrice Henry, charged with murder in connection with the 1940 St. Valentine day race field slaying of J. P. Calloway, Houston salesman. The defendant was twice convicted at previous trials but each time the supreme court set aside the conviction and granted new trials. Finnon Burks, her accomplice, convicted of murder at a separate trial is awaiting execution of death sentence.

ALABAMA MAKES READY

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 6.—Alabama's Crimson Tide will begin preparations for its Jan. 1 meeting with Texas A. & M. in the Cotton Bowl on Wednesday or Thursday of next week, Coach Frank Thomas announced Saturday.

LABOR LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senate Republican Leader Charles McNary of Oregon proposed today that the senate postpone consideration of labor legislation for a week to allow time for hearings on house-approved anti-strike legislation.

MR. VAN EAMAN DEAD

News received by Cisco friends this week stated that Mrs. C. H. Van Eaman died at the family apartment in Austin Wednesday. Funeral and burial services were held in Austin Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Van Eaman and children were residents of Cisco from 1926 to 1930 and made many friends while here.

INCOMPREHENSIBLE

HELSINKI, Dec. 7.—Finland's president, Risto Ryti, told his people by radio today that "it is incomprehensible that Britain, at the Soviet Union's demand can declare war against us." He added that British and American friendship with Russia would do them "irreparable injury."

RAILROADS MAY RAISE FREIGHT RATE, THOUGHT

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The threat of a nationwide railroad strike, scheduled to start Sunday, was dissolved Friday night.

Representatives of 350,000 union operating employees ratified terms of a compromise settlement worked out through mediation of President Roosevelt's fact-finding commission, and a contract embodying the provision was signed by all parties.

The settlement provides wage increases of 9 1-2 cents an hour or 76 cents a day for operating employees who have been receiving upward of $5.06 a day and had called a strike to enforce demands for a 30 per cent boost.

Representatives of 900,000 union nonoperating workers said negotiations affecting them probably would continue for several days. These unions did not call a strike although they refused to accept previous terms.

For nonoperating labor, the compromise called for raises of 10 cents an hour or 80 cents a day. They have been paid an average of 63.4 cents an hour and had demanded increases of from 30 to 34 cents.

Reporting to Roosevelt on its mediation, the fact-finding commission said Friday in Washington it believed its first decision in the dispute was "entirely reasonable" although as mediators the members, in effect, had reversed original recommendations.

The railroads accepted, but the brotherhoods rejected, original proposals of 7 1-2 per cent temporary wage increases for operating labor and 9 cents an hour for nonoperating.

The commission said that in its rehearing of the case the employees' counsel presented no new evidence, urged larger increases than those recommended and incorporation of them in basic wage rates.

Increases recommended in its Nov. 5 report, it continued, would have increased average hourly rail labor earnings about 19 per cent compared with a 17 per cent increase over 1937 levels, enjoyed by manufacturing labor.

Traffic executives of the roads ended a private conference Friday on proposals to seek increased freight rates and passenger fares to compensate for payroll increases estimated at $300,000,000 a year.

UTES FOR HEAD PINEER FAMILY HELD FRIDAY

EASTLAND, Dec. 5.—Funeral for Frank Simmons, 88, Eastland county pioneer who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mattie Ward, at Sidney, Comanche county Wednesday night, was conducted at the grave-site in Eastland cemetery Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The deceased was a member of one of the old pioneer families of this section. He was born in Titus county, Texas, the son of Dr. E. C. Simmons, and had resided in Eastland and adjoining counties for more than a half century. He made his home alternately with Mrs. Marion Seaborn, a daughter, in Eastland, and with Mrs. Ward at Sidney. He left Eastland about a month ago apparently in good health for one of his ages.

Among the survivors in addition to Mrs. Seaborn and Mrs. Ward are two sons, Lawrence and Elliott Simmons, lives in Oklahoma, and the latter of West Texas, and a number of grandchildren, nieces and nephews. A brother, E. Y. Simmons, resides in Oklahoma. His wife died about 20 years ago.

TEXAS' UNCLE SAM AND BRITAIN ARE READY PENSION ROLLS

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—Within a few more months the number on the old age assistance rolls will reach its peak, approximately 175,000, at the present rate of monthly increase, and if more are added to the rolls after that figure is reached a corresponding reduction in the average payment will become necessary since revenues are limited under the tax levies and legislators are opposing additional tax burdens.

The public welfare department is sending monthly checks to a few more than 161,000, an increase of 60,000 in the last eleven months, while the average payment $19.13, is an increase of $5.20.

The large increase in the number of pensioners is directly due to a liberalization law passed by the forty-sixth legislature, the chief feature of which provided that the income of a child or other relative should not be considered when an applicant seeks to get on the rolls.

Under the constitution, all pensioners can not be paid $30 a month, for the state is restricted to a top of $15, based upon needs, the federal government matching, and while some on the rolls receive $30 others receive a minimum payment of $5 a month. Under a system directed by the law a constant checking and rechecking goes on, inspectors over the state reporting any change in a pensioner's financial status. If a person on the rolls receives $30 a month and experiences an improvement in income, the department must then decrease the amount of pension. But the system works both ways, for increases also are allowed.

Under the amended law an applicant for assistance can not be denied aid because of ownership of a homestead, another liberalization clause added by the forty-sixth legislature.

While the constitution and law forbid the department to pay everybody $30 a month, coinciding Stevens on, occasionally receives letters from old folks inquiring why they are not getting $30. The majority, however, are much better satisfied than they were a year ago, and thousands in addition are getting payments who previously could not be placed upon the rolls. Stevenson, when lieutenant governor and speaker, helped the liberalization bills.

The law guiding the public welfare department in determining how much to pay an applicant which shall be determined by the department through its district or county agents with due consideration to the income and resources of such aged persons and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department. Actual contributions to the applicant must be considered by the department. The amount of assistance given shall provide such aged persons with reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health, within the limitations and provisions of the constitution of Texas.

A child or other relatives, the law provides, may make a voluntary statement as to contributions supplied to an applicant.

At each session of the legislature some member proposes to amend the constitution so as to pay everybody over 65 years old $30 a month. Since it is estimated there are 275,000 who would be eligible under such an enormous change it would require a cash outlay of close to $100,000,000 annually to pay the bill, and a man having $1,000,000 would be just as eligible as a poverty-stricken person.

All effort to submit such a constitutional amendment always has been defeated in the legislature.

Japan stiffened its opposition to the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union Saturday and further emergency precautions were taken in the Philippines and at Singapore and Thailand.

Renewing their bitter attacks against Washington as "insincere" in its peace negotiations, the Japanese declared they were going ahead with the creation of a "new order" in East Asia, regardless of the actions of hostile powers, and that it was up to President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill whether there would be war in the Pacific.

The Tokyo newspaper, "Hochi," also attacked Russia and charged that Russian troops had been shifted eastward to boost the Red Army to 840,000 men on the Siberian border at a time when the Soviets were reporting improvement of the Moscow front and continuing attacks along the Muys river against German forces driven back from Rostov.

In Libya the British again were on the offensive in swift raids against Axis forces in the desert, reporting strong attacks on four enemy columns which were scattered with heavy casualties. A total of 45,000 Italian and 3,000 German prisoners so far have been counted, a communique said. British imperials are attacking also in the Bir el Gobi sector.

NEW YORK — The Columbia broadcasting system today heard a British radio broadcast to the effect that "Russians are reported to have broken through German lines along the highway to Leningrad."

Over a million and a half pounds of waste paper are now being salvaged for defense every week in the New York area alone.

GOLD AFTER THE WAR.

A business writer brings up again the question of gold, rather ignored lately with so many other things going on. We now have about $23,000,000,000 of gold laid away in those underground vaults in Kentucky, and elsewhere around the country. Canadian gold mines are adding nearly a billion dollars a year to this hoard. Hundreds of millions continue to drift in from other sources. And the same old question arises, "What's the good of it?"

"I think we might better pay those Canadian miners to dig copper and other metals more useful than gold. But it is hard to drop the habits and illusions of 5,000 years."

Evidently the United States government is taking a big chance in gathering and "hoarding" all that yellow metal. Somewhere, when we have 25 or 30 millions of it salted down, the rest of the world decides that it has no further use for gold as a medium of exchange.

"On the other hand," suppose that if the democracies win this war, and all the nations but ours are then bankrupt and all their treasuries empty, Uncle Sam quietly brings out his golden hoard and offers to share it on easy terms with the other nations, to use for a basis of exchange in restoring the world. What will the answer be?"

"CO-PROSPERITY."

The totalitarians have a grand way about them, not only in their claims of world domination but in the terminology they use. In the latter respect the Japanese supermen surpass even the Fascists and Nazis. What the Japs are undertaking now, they tell the world, is a "Greater East Asian Co-Prosperity Sphere."

And like most of the other terms and slogans of these modern Alexanders and Caesars, it is obviously false. For what the Japanese are trying to establish is not a "co-prosperity" sphere at all, but a vast sphere in which the only prosperity would be for the conquerors and overlords. The other people would be far worse off. The masterful little supermen would seize the natural resources of the Orient and the South Seas, and the present owners and operators would work for them as the Koreans and Manchouquoans and the people of occupied China are forced to do now.

The first step toward understanding international problems is to get the names of things straight.

BY AIR TO CONGO.

Regular air service will soon be established between Florida and the Belgian Congo and beyond. Preliminary flights have been made.

There will be bi-weekly passenger and mail flights. On the trip from Africa to the United States emphasis will be on the return of pilots who have flown American-made airplanes to the British and their allies by way of Africa.

Established air connections will be set between Leopoldville and the Near East. Here is a service of vital importance in the immediate future. Later on, when the democracies have won the war and world peace has been restored, tourists and trade should make excellent use of it.

RADIO "COMMERCIALS."

Since the National Broadcasting company recently rounded out its fiftieth year on the air, interested people have been reviewing the changes that have come about and the progress that has been made in that time. Robert S. Stephan, newspaper radio editor, reports that N. B. C.'s sponsored programs have increased from 15 per cent of the total broadcast time in 1926 to 27 per cent of it in 1941. He thinks that is a good thing, within limits.

"The commercial system of broadcasting has been successful in this country," he writes. "Competitive radio has brought the dialer better programs as far as the chains are concerned. If it can be kept within the bounds of good taste and is not permitted to overrun the listening, as it has at times threatened to do, it should continue to be successful. The rumor is out that after the war the British Broadcasting corporation may change over to the commercial system of broadcasting."

Many dialers will pause at those words about "the bounds of good taste" and "over-running the listening." An appalling amount of the commercial stuff now certainly is not in good taste and some of it over-runs the listening to such a degree that listeners are becoming expert in tuning it out and coming in again only for the program they wish to hear. Sponsors, and the writers of the commercials, should get wise to themselves and correct this condition. In the end they will find that it improves the good they seek and the sales they wish to promote.

New System Proposed. Scottish Rite News Bureau: One of the educational problems that has never been satisfactorily solved is the question of grading New methods of examination have been evolved that make grading automatic instead of a question of judgment, but the problem of the teacher's personal bias either for or against a student still enters the picture.

Dr. Walter T. Marvin, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of Rutgers University, believes that a separate staff of examiners should take over the responsibility of testing and grading students. This would leave the teacher free to actually teach, and would tend to take some of the strain out of the pupil-teacher relationship.

Undoubtedly such a method would bring a closer relationship between students and teachers. It could conceivably make these two traditional enemies of the classrooms partners in an effort to get good results before the examiners. The teacher's sole responsibility would be to increase the student's proficiency in a given subject, and the pupil would be on a more friendly basis, since he would know that the instructor had nothing to say about the examinations or grades.

Dr. Marvin does not go into the expense of such a system. On the surface it would appear that a special staff of examiners would jump school costs considerably. At a time when taxpayers are being so heavily pressed for national defense, it would seem unwise to make drastic innovations in the public schools.

Paul and Eugene. San Angelo Standard-Times: Governor Talmadge of Georgia, hearing a clemency appeal on behalf of Ku Klux Klansmen who brutally flogged union mill workers, has not only boasted that he himself had flogged a man, but put himself in rather exalted company. The Apostle Paul once flogged men, he said.

Well, it is true. One reads in Acts 22:19 Paul's own confession: "and I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on Thee."

But Governor Talmadge is on dangerous ground citing Scripture for his purpose in Georgia, for there are a lot of people there who read their Bibles. And they know that Paul spoke the words in contrition and repentance, and that even so, when the people had heard them, they "lifted their voices and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth..."

For Paul's persecutions were done in the days before his conversion, when he was Saul of Tarsus, not Paul the Apostle, the

STATE EMPLOYEES GET PLENTY HOLIDAYS, WITH PAY; PRIVATE CONCERNS CAN'T KEEP PACE

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—Holly wreaths already are hanging figuratively about the Texas capitol. Most state employees will have all of Christmas week as a holiday. This in reality gives them an opportunity to leave Austin at noon on Saturday, Dec. 20, and return to work Monday morning, Dec. 29. In addition, they will be given a one-day holiday on New Year's day.

The board of control has adopted Dec. 21-28 as its Christmas holiday period and most departments follow the board of control patterns, though the decision is left separately to each department head.

The state department of education has announced its holiday period will start on Dec. 20, and most of the other departments are expected to choose the same date.

The state highway department may be an exception. The highway commission expects to conduct a monthly hearing on Monday, Dec. 22, so at least a part of the highway department staff must remain on duty almost until Christmas eve.

Before starting on the holidays, most departments will have Christmas trees or Christmas programs. Usually the department head gets a gift to which the department workers each contribute small amounts. In most of the departments, the exchange of gifts among the workers is arranged by lottery so that each person receives one present and is donor of one. Who will give to whom is decided by drawing names.

The state department of education will make its Christmas party on Dec. 19 a sort of reunion. Because of the nature of the departmental work, a large part of the force is on duty at places other than Austin. All of these people are being invited to stop at Austin on the way to their homes and take part in the party. It will be held at an Austin hotel ball room, with an old-fashioned Christmas tree, games, refreshments and singing of carols.

Civic organizations in Austin were given permission to erect holiday signs on bill boards at the entrance to the state capitol grounds at the head of Congress avenue.

Large billboards with holiday scenes flank the entrance gateway. One signboard pictures Christmas of today in an American home and the other the Christmas at Bethlehem. The picture of the manger, the Star of Bethlehem and the Three Wise Men then is given a patriotic twist that does frightful damage to chronology. A large American flag appears in the poster. State officials, who were appealed to for an explanation of the flag over the Bethlehem scene.

The 1942 plates, with colors reversed from the way they were used in 1941, will be available for use in Texas beginning March 1 and must be on vehicles by April 1. The exception is that automobiles bought in March must be registered for a month under 1941 licenses. Cars that already have said: "Ask the chamber of commerce." To state employees the holidays will mean merely holidays. To the persons living in the various state eleemosynary institutions Christmas will mean a variation from their usual existence.

Patients who are well enough physically and mentally to leave state hospitals will be permitted to visit relatives. U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, who started a campaign to have children from state orphanages invited to private homes for the Christmas holiday period, has requested that the practice be continued.

The O'Daniel family took two orphans to the mansion last Christmas, but because of the serious illness of Mrs. Stevenson it is doubtful if Gov. Coke R. Stevenson will be able to follow the precedent. Allowance is being made in the institutional December budgets for turkey dinner on Christmas day with all the usual Christmas dinner dishes, and there will be Christmas trees at the institutions where there are children. A dollar allowance is made for purchase of individual gifts.

A study of teachers' salaries in Texas has been undertaken by the division of information and statistics of the State Teachers' association. That an increase will be recommended is apparent from announcement that the investigation is to determine the amount needed to bring school teachers' salaries up to a level to take care of the increased cost of living; the number of teachers now receiving salaries below fixed levels; and the increased state funds needed to bring them up to another level.

Texas highway officials are puzzled about 1943 automobile license plates. With prospect that steel will not be available for new plates, various substitute methods of licensing cars, trucks, trailers and motorcycles have been proposed but there are objections to all. Plates now being issued for 1942 were made before there was any thought of a material shortage for 1943, and it is feared the 1942 plates will rust to a point of illegibility if they were used an additional year, especially in the Gulf coast areas. Windshield stickers have been suggested. Objection is that they are not suitable for use on trailers and motorcycles.

Some states are proposing to manufacture "permanent" plates that will last five years. That plan may be adopted if steel is made available for their manufacture.

The 1942 plates, with colors reversed from the way they were used in 1941, will be available for use in Texas beginning March 1 and must be on vehicles by April 1. The exception is that automobiles bought in March must be registered for a month under 1941 licenses. Cars that already have

"Dear Santa....."

"Please bring me some toys to play with in bed this Christmas, Santa, and next year when I'm well I'd like a tricycle," phones little Audrey Mae Hatcher, 2, to Saint Nick from her bed at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, in Dallas. Audrey is one of 60 Texas youngsters who'll have their Christmas tree in the hospital where they're being nursed back to health and strength.

1941 licenses can discard them and begin using the 1942 plates March 1.

No 1942 plates lower than 5,000 are to be issued, doing away with the scramble for low numbers that caused the department considerable embarrassment in the past.

The omission of low numbers will move up the numbers assigned to various counties.

Shower Honors Mrs. M. Ivie Recent Bride

Mrs. M. C. Stivers and Mrs. Cecil Adams were hostesses at a shower in the Adams home, 907 W. Fourth street, honoring Mrs. Marvin Ivie of Odessa, who was in Cisco visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cooper. Mrs. Ivie, the former Miss Bobbye Lee Cooper, was married in Odessa, November 22, to Marvin Ivie, former Ciscoan.

Chrysanthemums and pot plants were the decorations used. Corsages were presented Mrs. Marvin Ivie, Mrs. A. B. Cooper and Mrs. W. R. Ivie by the hostesses, Misses Margie Crawford and Juanita Beene presided at the bride's table. After the guests were seated a program was carried out which was much enjoyed. Mary Philpott was presented in a clever reading and accordion numbers were played by Dana Thornton.

Games, in which all took part, followed, and the last one, "Fort-felits," resulted in Mrs. Marvin Ivie being requested to go to the adjoining room and pull a child's wagon into the living room. The wagon was filled with packages of gifts for the honoree. The gifts were then opened and inspected. Refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were passed to the guests.

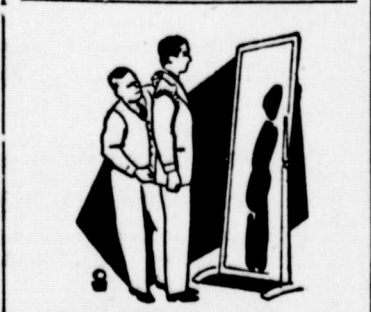

Those present were Mrs. Marvin Ivie, Mrs. A. B. Cooper, Mrs. W. R. Ivie, Mesdames O. L. Mason, C. K. Padgett, Edna Clark, W. C. Clements, Berta Carmichael, Lula Condrone, E. L. Wisdom, Fred Grist, C. CISCO JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAYS FIRST BASKET BALL GAME WITH RANGER COLLEGE; LOSES, 20-21

In a hard-fought battle that left the end of the score in doubt until almost the last moment, Ranger Junior College took the large end of the score of 21-20 in the first try of Cisco Junior College at basket ball this season.

At the end of the half it was 10-9 in favor of the local college boys, but the final whistle found Cisco trailing one point.

K. C. McCasland, assistant high school football coach for the season, began early this week to whip the collegiates into form for a try with the Ranger college boys. The locals responded rapidly to training under McCasland, but ragged edges could not be rounded in so short a time.

A return game at Ranger, Tuesday night, will be played, at which time Cisco will try for a comeback and a comfortable lead.

J. W. Culwell, local science teacher, was referee. Cisco's lineup was as follows: Etchinson, Houser, Heyser, Robinson, Newbury, Crawford, Caraway, Huntington, Tolerson, Ledbetter, Cash and Pack.
