WAR WILL BE LONG AND BLOODY, J. T. M'KISSICK TOLD ROTARY CLUB; MUST WORK, SACRIFICE

Rotarian J. T. McKissick was the principal speaker at today's Rotary meeting. His subject was National Defense and he handled it in a manner that was both interesting and instructive. In part, the Rotarian said:

A Long War.

"We are in for what may be a long and bloody war. The Japanese people are fanatic fatalists—they rejoice to die for their country. In the Boxer Rebellion some years ago several nations furnished contingents of soldiers—5,000 each—to quell the rebellion—Italy, England, Germany, Japan and the United States. It was necessary to have the gates of Peking blown off to take the city; but the Chinese would remove the explosives and the gates remained; call was made for volunteers to stay and hold the explosives in place; two Japanese soldiers did the job—and were blown to pieces, of course. They delight in dying for their country, feeling it is promotion to glory. But they are bled white by the war with China; they started the war with China intending to finish it in six months; they have been four years and six months with the job yet undone. "Flanked by Russia, none too friendly but protected by a treaty; with China in the rear openly hostile, with Australia and England to the south and the mighty resources of the United States to the east, there is little hope that Japan can achieve victory. But they will do their best and the great distance aids them.

Ways We Can Aid.

"It is our duty as citizens and patriots to help in every possible way. We note some ways in which we may help much: "First. Buy bonds; they are the shew of war; they help our nation carry on; and the nation must marshal its resources to the limit.

"Second. Reduce travel; that saves vital resources—rubber and oil; 98 percent of our rubber came from the East Indies.

"Third. Produce everything possible—the world must be fed. Livestock, grain, cotton, produce of every kind; export foodstuffs must be raised in quantities.

"Fourth. Save in every way possible. Being of Scotch ancestry, some of us know what that means; of an old Scotch elder some one said that he kept the commands and everything else he could get his hands on. Certainly economy must be practiced to win the war.

"Fifth. Leave off the delicacies and reduce the necessities. This is the time when we all must share in the burdens.

"Sixth. Destroy rodents—rats, mice, roaches and other destructive vermin; make all you can, save all you can; give all you can. "Lastly, be patriotic to the last degree. This is the time for all of us to stand by our great nation, one hundred percent; the saboteur, the slacker, the chiseler has no place here.

"There is no doubt but that we can win the conflict; but it is a task in which all must participate. Perhaps we can illustrate by the reply of a young preacher when asked how many elders he had. He replied: 'We have but two; one of these won't act at all and the other acts like the devil.'

Rotarians McNeely and Hittson gave two violin numbers, being accompanied at the piano by Miss Billie Cole. Visitors present were Otto Bendorf, Breckenridge; J. B. Blount, Eastland; T. J. McCarty, Cisco. President Edward Lee presided.

CISCO LIONS, IN RESOLUTIONS, LAUD ROOSEVELT, STEVENSON, MITCHAM FOR DEFENSE WORK

As a part of the Cisco Lions club program for Victory Week, held at the Laguna hotel Wednesday, the club voted to send resolutions to both Gov. Coke Stevenson, Austin, and to Mayor G. P. Mitcham, Cisco, as a token of their all-out co-operative spirit to aid in any way possible in the struggle against despotism as opposed to democratic ideals.

A telegram was sent to President Roosevelt assuring him of the club's wholehearted support, and commending him in his work for American preparedness.

Whereas, our Lions club in common with 4,000 other Lions clubs in the United States have always held to our slogan, "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," and

Whereas, our club represents a well-organized unit of business and professional men, with experience in organizing community affairs, and

Whereas, this week has been designated Lions Victory Week in which all Lions clubs wish to demonstrate en masse their loyalty and readiness for action.

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, that we commend you as our state leader and hereby pledge our full cooperation in your state program to the end that every effort will be made and complete victory will be ours in this war against the forces of oppression and enslavement.

Mitcham Resolution. Whereas, we are engaged in a war and are determined to make every effort to insure a complete victory, and

Whereas, the Lions club under its slogan, "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," has always striven to encourage the patriotism and the spirit and effective cooperation in our community, and

BIGGEST SUBMARINE.

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre et Miquelon, Jan. 8.—Free French sources have disclosed that the world's largest submarine, the 2,880-ton Surcouf, participated with three corvettes in the occupation of St. Pierre and Miquelon Dec. 24. Vice Admiral Emile Muselier said Wednesday that the huge undersea craft, which is unique in that it carries a plane in a deck hangar, was one of the vessels he employed to execute imperative secret orders from Gen. Charles de Gaulle to take over the French islands south of Newfoundland.

HOW TO MAKE A SOLDIER.

For more than a year the American army has suffered from the conception that it was a training force, preparing to fight an indefinite action, and able to alter its methods and experiment with technique indefinitely. It had no concrete mission and no stimulus to intensive action. It came very nearly to being little more than just a game it was playing with rules and umpires and all that.

Now the situation has changed. The assault upon Pearl Harbor has shown us who our first foe will be and has given vigor to our every effort.

This is not a conflict made by "warmongers" or "merchants of death" or for vague details. It is a war to the finish for the future of ourselves and our nation. The new phase will create new seriousnesses. Wars are not won by worrying over entertainments for soldiers.

Wars are not won by motorized joy riding along country roads.

Wars are not won by mere knowledge of technique. Wars are won by being hard, by fitting men physically so they can endure the last hardship, by fitting them mentally so that they will be eager to sink the rising sun, so that nothing else in the world matters.

Coddling of men in uniform ceases at a time like this. A strict control and an unflinching demand for superlative achievement are the marks of a war-time soldier life. There are no "desires" or policies of a commanding officer in war, only demands. He must demand the last ounce of physical and mental effort from his men, and they must be ready to give more than they have.

For the past year, with its complicated training courses, the army has given the impression that wars are won by technique, and that superior skill wins. Those who train troops this way for actual war have forgotten the Napoleonic saying that the value of the moral to the physical is as three to one. Those who train our American troops for war now will be demanding the last moment of time and the last ounce of energy. They will be impressed with the need to push and drive, to exact absolutely the last that a man has to give.

When a soldier enrolls in the service, he surrenders a long list of civil rights. He should surrender himself completely to the cause of his nation. This surrender should be acknowledged by his leaders and should be utilized by them. Only by such acknowledgment and such utilization can the leader make his men into the best soldiers possible. Each soldier is entrusted to his leader by the nation so that the nation may have the complete services of the soldier. The leader who looks for less is betraying his nation. The leader who exacts not only perfection of performance, but also absolute fullness of effort, is the only leader who is doing his job. Both leader and led must realize this. When they do, America will have a fighting force instead of a mere training corps in uniform.

JAP PRESS AGENT DARES U. S. AND BRITISH NAVIES TO "COME OUT, FIGHT AND END STRUGGLE"

TOKYO, Jan. 8. --- (By Cairo) --- Capt. Hideo Hiraide, press chief of the naval section of imperial headquarters, challenged the American and British navies today to "come out and fight" in the Pacific.

"Sooner the better for Japan, because such a battle would end the struggle at once," Hiraide said in a nation-wide broadcast.

APPLICATION BLANKS FOR AUTO DRIVERS

Cisco people who desire to renew their drivers' license may now call at Cisco city hall and secure the proper application blanks and other information, says Mayor G. P. Mitcham.

This was made possible today when representatives of the state highway department left the blanks with Mr. Mitcham, thus making a trip to Eastland by local people unnecessary.

AEF VETS DIE. DALLAS, Jan. 8.—Two disabled veterans of the last World war died of burns Wednesday. John E. Williams, 50, was burned when his clothes were ignited on January 1. The other victim was Ed Hilliard, 49, whose clothes caught fire when he attempted to light a stove. Fire Marshal Jack Thompson said.

BOWLERS' CONVENTION. ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 8.—Imagine a national sports tournament lasting from 12 to 13 weeks with 30,000 contestants, and with as many as 240 teams competing in a single day. That, says Secretary E. H. Baumgarten of the American Bowling Congress, is a typical ABC national tournament and he predicted today all records would be broken for number of participants in the forthcoming 1942 meet at Columbus, O.

P. I. IN GRAVE DANGER

Axis battle lines were driven back in Libya and Russia today, but Japanese in the Far East still hammered at British lines in Malaya and enemy reinforcements missed for a drive against American lines in the Philippines.

Singapore communique said Japanese tank attacks on the Malaya front, 50 miles north of Kuala Lumpur and 290 miles north of Singapore, had forced new British retirement south of Slim river. Japanese forces also were reported infiltrating eastward in an apparent attempt to flank Kuala Lumpur.

In the Philippines the fighting was "of varying intensity" on all sectors, a war department communique said, but "Japanese reinforcements are being brought to the front and indications point to a renewal of the offensive by the enemy."

Allied forces are pressing the offensive in Libya, where German-Italian main armored forces have been driven back on Tripolitania.

In Russia the Red army offensive continued to make gains from Crimea to Leningrad.

In the Mediterranean, the Dutch reported one of their submarines sank a German submarine.

XMAS TRADE O.K.

Following a check of the business done by Cisco merchants for the month of December, Nick Miller, chairman of the Merchants Christmas Trade Expansion program, said the result of this campaign was very satisfactory in every respect. The month's sales were unusually good and every program for out of town participation was well attended and sales for those days far exceeded merchants' anticipation.

"Committees for the various activities did their duties well. They are to be commended for their diligence. The enthusiasm expressed at all committee meetings showed an excellent spirit of co-operation and, if cultivated, cannot fail to make itself felt in Cisco's commercial growth," Mr. Miller continued.

"The executive committee would like to thank all business men and, in fact, every one who had any part to perform, for the way they discharged that trust," Miller said.

He also expressed for Cisco merchants the thanks of the group to all patrons who responded to the invitation to shop in Cisco, and hopes they found doing this so pleasant and profitable that they will continue to make their shopping point at all times in the future.

PROPOSALS OF LABOR LEADERS ARE REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Labor's bid for a share in control of the automobile industry's war production program was rejected by the OPM Thursday because of a labor-management deadlock in the committee chosen to direct it.

The two-day-old committee of five management and five labor representatives and an OPM official which was to have set up the mechanics of converting the industry to war production failed to agree on how much authority it should exercise and was replaced by a new group.

The new committee will have no authority to act by itself but will make recommendations to the OPM. It will consist of three management and three labor representatives and an OPM official.

Edsel Ford, C. C. Carlton of the Motor Wheel corporation, and C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, were mentioned as management members of the group.

Wilson declared labor's rejected proposal that industry, labor and the government share equally in managing the war effort would have amounted to socialization, destroying "the very foundation upon which America's unparalleled record of industrial accomplishment has been built."

SINGING CONVENTION.

The Eastland County Singing convention will meet Sunday at the Mountain Top church, near Romney, says Stanley Webb, president of the organization. It will be an all-day meeting and a large crowd is expected if the weather permits. A quartet from Abilene will be present and other singers from adjacent counties are expected.

TWENTY-EIGHT DIE.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 8.—Twenty-eight persons were counted dead Wednesday as the result of a torrential storm which hit the vicinity of Rio de Janeiro Tuesday night, causing damage estimated at $1,000,000. Scores were injured and 100 houses were destroyed.

ONE LEADER THINKS THIS THE ONLY WAY TO INCREASE YEAR'S REVENUES 9 BILLION DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. --- Congress appeared today to be in the mood to give careful consideration to a general sales tax as the means of increasing the federal government's revenue this year by $9,000,000,000.

One congressional leader believed such an increase --- which would bring total tax collections to $27,000,000,000 --- was an impossibility without a sales tax.

Chairman Robert Doughton, North Carolina Democrat, of the house ways and means committee, and other committee members have shown increasing interest in sales tax proposals.

Proposed Measures.

Speedy action on two other important war-time measures were promised by house leaders.

These measures were:

1. Legislation to broaden the social security law so as to bring under it millions of people not now covered and raise an additional $2,000,000,000 in federal revenue in this field. This would be over and above the general $7,000,000,000 new tax bill.

2. A bill to raise the ceiling on the national debt, which already is getting close to the legal $65,000,000,000 limit. In his budget message, the President estimated the national debt will be $70,000,000,000 by June 30, the end of this fiscal year, and $110,000,000,000 by the end of the next fiscal year.

JACK IS TOO OLD TO FIGHT, SO BUYS BONDS

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Balked by age in his attempt to enlist in the army, Jack Dempsey Wednesday tossed his brown into a defense bond-buying program.

The former heavyweight boxing champion added to his $71,300 holdings of defense bonds by purchasing a $500 bond for himself and one for his wife, the former Hannah Williams, and $25 bonds for his daughters, Joan, 7, and Barbara, 5.

Dempsey also declared that he would use half his weekly earnings, estimated at $1,000, for the purchase of defense bonds and stamps.

Now 46, the former boxer added that he hoped the army would find some way to waive its age limit and reconsider his enlistment application.

Just to give the bond purchase a glamorous setting, Dempsey bought Wednesday's bonds from Dorothy Lamour, film star.

JOHNSON CASE PASSED.

The case of the estate of Texas vs. Bill Johnson, charged with assault to murder, was passed in the 88th district court Monday, and the jury dismissed for the term.

NEW JERSEY STANDARD.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 8.—J. J. Kist, assessor for Flemington Borough, announced Thursday he had fixed the assessment for the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, which has its principal legal offices here, at $51,735,000 for 1942. The assessment, on intangible personal property, represented an increase of $975,000 over 1941. The tax rate in Flemington last year was 74 cents per $100. The budget is now being prepared as preliminary to fixing the 1942 rate.

PACIFIC FLEET DANGER.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Vice Admiral Robert Lee Gormley of the United States Navy declared Thursday that American-British naval cooperation is of the highest order and that the danger confronting the United States Pacific fleet extends to the shores of California. Speaking as honor guest at a meeting of the St. James club, famous London diplomatic organization, Gormley pointed out that "Japanese fishing boats with a cruising range of 10,000 miles and 'bait bins' capable of carrying mines and torpedoes have been patrolling the shores of Northern California for years."

FALL IS FATAL.

SAN SABA, Jan. 8.—Mrs. R. S. Crain, wife of a long-time miner here, died in Temple hospital Wednesday afternoon after a hip injury suffered December 21 while leaving First Methodist church. Services were held at the church Thursday with burial in City cemetery.

THE RED CROSS.

As its 3,700 chapters climb steadily toward attainment of the Red Cross $50,000,000 war fund for assistance to the armed forces and home defense operations, the American Red Cross is mobilizing swiftly its far-flung organization for operations on a wartime scale.

Number one task facing the Red Cross, according to William M. Baxter, Jr., of St. Louis, the organization's midwestern area manager, is fulfillment of the congressionally chartered obligation to men of the armed forces and their families.

War-time emergency is requiring unprecedented expansion of Red Cross military welfare services vastly greater than during the past two years of national preparedness, Baxter said, in outlining the various needs of service men which the Red Cross is meeting.

One of these, he said, is assisting in the solution of personal problems which cause worry and thereby undermine morale. The man away from home, conforming to military restrictions and regulations, might at times feel quite upset at getting bad news from home. It is then he needs a staunch and understanding friend with whom he can be confidential, a friend to whom he can tell his troubles, to whom he can turn for advice and assistance.

He has that kind of friend in the Red Cross field director. These trained Red Cross workers are located in all army and navy stations, hospitals and training camps, specially schooled for giving this personal assistance. They go where the men go, on maneuvers, on the fighting fronts.

Baxter said that field staffs, considerably expanded in the past two years to meet increased needs of the growing armed forces, now number more than 250 field directors and assistant directors, who handle problems of the able-bodied, while about 200 professionally trained women are engaged in Red Cross activities in army and navy hospitals. Working together with the field staffs are trained home service workers in Red Cross chapters in the men's home communities throughout the country, he said.

A service man's personal problems can be many and varied, Baxter pointed out. "Serious illnesses and deaths in the family, loss of home, and financial troubles cause the most frequent requests."

He outlined a typical case. "A soldier stationed at a training camp receives a wire or letter reporting his mother, or father, or wife seriously ill at home, possibly hundreds of miles away. He considers going home, applies to his commanding officer for a furlough, and together they present the problem to the camp's Red Cross field director. The director wires the chapter in the soldier's home town."

"A chapter representative, who is a trained home service worker, visits the family home, also calling on the attending physician. The physician's report on the sick person's condition is obtained. If the seriousness of the case warrants, military authorities will, upon receiving verification from the chapter, grant an emergency furlough."

"The Red Cross field director loans the soldier money for transportation home if needed, helps him arrange transportation schedules, does everything possible to speed his trip home."

"Quite frequently a chapter visit to the home discloses the illness to be not as serious as at first believed, and the soldier is saved the expense of a trip home, and his mind freed of worry. At the official military agency of the army and navy, the Red Cross is responsible for furnishing family reports needed by the military authorities to determine whether furloughs can be granted for emergencies."

Baxter said the Red Cross, through its field directors and chapters, will properly advise men or their families in financial difficulties, make loans if necessary, on request of commanding officers, furnish confidential Red Cross reports where an application for discharge from service on the grounds of dependency is involved; assist members of the family to obtain employment, arrange for material relief, obtain medical-social information for medical authorities in army and navy hospitals, act as liaison between the man and his family in all matters involving his own or their personal welfare.

For service men in hospitals of the army and navy, Baxter said, the Red Cross also maintains a program of medical-social case-work, and provides recreation for convalescents. Trained volunteers from nearby chapters assist in this work.

Other services of the armed forces, conducted on a nation-wide basis, include enrollment of medical technologists, trained nurses, blood donors for the blood plasma reservoir, the furnishing of surgical dressings produced by volunteers, and the supplying of recreation equipment to army camps and naval stations.

"Many chapters," Baxter said, "have been swamped recently with requests from relatives or friends to assist in obtaining information about U. S. fighters or civilians in the Pacific war zone. "There's little the Red Cross can do at present to furnish information about men in service. The army and navy, for obvious reasons, cannot afford to divulge such information which might be useful to the enemy. However, a member of Red Cross inquires about civilians in the war zone have been successfully handled. Efforts are being made to improve this service, now slow and uncertain, due partly to military priority to telegraphic and cable services, and partly to shifting of populations in the bombed areas. Before approaching Red Cross chapters, inquirers seeking information about civilians are urged first to try the existing means of communication."

Months before the Pearl Harbor attack, the Hawaiian Red Cross had set up first aid stations, accumulated reserve stocks of clothing, medical supplies and food for handling emergencies likely to be caused by bombing attacks and resulting mass evacuation of civilians. Similar preparation had been made in the Manila area by the Philippine Red Cross.

"In Honolulu," Baxter said, "the Red Cross nurses were mobilized immediately to care for wounded soldiers and sailors. Hundreds of Red Cross first aiders, doctors and nurses were at their posts in first aid stations set up by the Hawaiian chapter."

While the $50,000,000 war fund is to be used for the wartime expansion of services to the armed forces, Baxter pointed out that it must also be used to meet the organization's expanded needs in home nursing, first aid, disaster preparedness, and production of garments and surgical dressings; and for food, shelter and medical care for civilians who are victims of bombing raids or sabotage.

Liquor Regulations. Dallas News: Senator W. Lee O'Daniel's announcement that on January 16 he will call up the Sheppard bill to regulate liquor sales to the armed services and vice in the vicinity of army camps may be an indication that the junior senator is resolved also to catch the torch of prohibition leadership flung from the falling hand of his predecessor in office. Morris Sheppard continued courageously to reintroduce a prohibition amendment after repeal and died at a time when supporters of that cause had some reason to expect results.

If the Sheppard bill is adopted, repetitive history will have another lining. Government prohibition of liquor sales to men wearing the uniform was an early regulatory act of World War I and probably it did more than anything else to bring about national prohibition. So, if the O'Daniel bill results in passage, we may be on our way to another experiment with a dry era.

As a matter of fact, civilian use of alcoholic beverages is likely to be severely curtailed without any statute whatever, due to the forced economy in high prices of necessities. At this moment it is a good guess that the government

War Facilities.

Star-Telegram: There are 21 plants in Texas which have been training youths under the NYA program for such skilled trades as sheet metal work, arc and acetylene welding, forging, machine shop and foundry work. These plants are in good condition and, partly through government aid, have been equipped with the best machinery money can buy. The same set-up prevails in other states, meaning there are several hundred trained youths ready for immediate armed production.

In the event of termination of the NYA, these shops and their skilled workers might well be put to work on military subcontracts that will speed up the delivery of planes, tanks and other industrial supplies for the armed forces of the United States and our allies. To the extent that training is needed for more skilled workers, the NYA plants might continue that function along with armament production. Even if the NYA is not abandoned next year, the war usefulness of the 21 plants in Texas and those in other states is apparent.

TEXAS SMILES AS WEATHER MAN RELENTS

FT. WORTH, Jan. 6. — Held tightly in the grip of one of the most severe cold spells in several years, Texans Thursday nevertheless had reason to smile. Streets and highways were generally free of ice and warmer weather was in sight.

Although temperatures were lower all over the state Thursday morning, the difficulties of transportation faced 24 hours before had been eliminated and a person could walk with something approaching safety. The freeze extended into the Brownsville and Laredo areas after dropping temperatures to a low of 8 degrees at Pampa, 11 at Amarillo, 14 at Lubbock and 11 at Fort Worth. The cold was widespread, reaching from the tip of the Panhandle and spreading over East and West Texas.

TAMMANY MAY LOSE ITS OLD HOME BY SALE

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The Tammany Tiger is about to lose its den. Members of the Tammany Society, owners of Tammany Hall, which has been the home of the New York County Democratic committee since 1927, Wednesday night authorized its board of sachems to sell or lease the building because of the society's precarious financial condition.
