9,056 CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS IN U. S. IN 1941; BUT ONE STATE UNTOUCHED

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—For a second time in a succession of three heavy epidemic years the number of reported infantile paralysis cases in the United States has topped the 9,000 mark.

HELP FIGHT

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

The figures for the fifty-two weeks of 1941, compiled by the United States public health service, were released today through the office of Keith Morgan, a liaison chairman of the committee for the celebration of the president's birthday, for the national foundation for infantile paralysis, which committee conducts the annual "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

They disclose a total of 9,056 cases for the fifty-two weeks of 1941 and reveal that Nevada was the only one of the forty-eight states which was left untouched by the recent infantile paralysis epidemics.

Despite the fact that severe epidemics swept more than a dozen states, including those in the southland with their heavy concentrations of soldiers in training, the disease was kept from spreading to the army camps. The national foundation worked with local health authorities night and day to combat the epidemics and, due to this work a most serious situation was prevented, Morgan said.

The reported cases in 1939 were 7,298, and in 1940 the count was 9,768. These, with the figures for the past year, show that during the three years more than 26,000 American homes were invaded by the mysterious and body-maiming virus of that disease.

And the 1941 record is the more significant because it represents the first time in the history of this disease in this country in which heavy infantile paralysis epidemics have continued without a break for three consecutive years. Always before there has been a definite lessening of the attacks every two or three years.

The figures released by Morgan show New York as leading all states in the total number of cases—its count for the fifty-two weeks being 1,174. But on the ratio basis, the Empire state is eighth in the standing.

Alabama, with a total of 880 reported cases, shows 31.1 cases for each 100,000 unit of its population, whereas the New York ratio per 100,000 is 8.8.

Other states with high ratios are Georgia, with 25.0; Tennessee, with 18.6; Florida, with 14.6; Maryland, with 13.4; Washington, D. C., with 11.3, and Minnesota, with 9.4.

The states to report 100 or more cases follow:

1. New York	1,174
2. Alabama	880
3. Georgia	778
4. Pennsylvania	725
5. Tennessee	541
6. Ohio	487
7. Illinois	397
8. New Jersey	360
9. Michigan	276
10. Florida	274
11. Minnesota	267
12. Maryland	244
13. California	217
14. Kentucky	217
15. Massachusetts	188
16. Mississippi	168
17. South Carolina	154
18. North Carolina	152
19. Virginia	120
20. Texas	116
21. Indiana	116
22. Connecticut	116
23. Wisconsin	114

Commenting on the persistent and heavy epidemics, Morgan pointed out the tremendous increase in the demands upon the national foundation and the need for the most generous support this year for the annual "Fight Paralysis" drive which will be climaxed on January 30 in the celebration of President Roosevelt's sixtieth, or "diamond jubilee" birthday.

YEAR AND HALF SUPPLY OF OIL HELD BY JAPAN

Failure of the Japanese attack on United States possessions is assured if Japan can not secure access to oil producing fields during the next 18 months, according to Walter Levy, petroleum economist in a survey of Japanese oil supplies in the current issue of World Petroleum. Japanese policy is based on a gigantic gamble that with a year and a half's supply of oil, the army and navy can secure the production of Netherlands India, Borneo or Burma and safeguard its transport to Japan for refining.

In an article entitled "Japanese Strategy Based on Inadequate Oil Supply," Levy estimated Japan's present annual consumption of oil in active war as being in excess of 40,000,000 barrels. While every effort has been made in the past to reduce civilian consumption, build up huge stocks, and increase domestic production of natural and synthetic petroleum, Japanese policy has been based on seizure of the rich oil fields of Netherlands India in event of war.

Since refineries in the South Pacific would be destroyed before they could be seized, a large refining industry was constructed in Japan; one of the world's fastest tanker fleets was created to import the stolen oil; and domestic stocks of oil for about 18 months of war were maintained.

Japan now possesses more than 30 refineries with an annual throughput capacity of 27.6 million barrels, including some aviation gasoline. Japan's tanker fleet has a capacity well above 500,000 tons capable of transporting 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 barrels of oil annually from Netherlands India to Japan in peacetime, perhaps half this quantity in wartime.

Levy calculates that Japan produced in 1940 at best 4,000,000 barrels of synthetic petroleum, 2,000,000 barrels of Sakhalin crude, 3,000,000 barrels of Manchurian shale oil, 2.6 million barrels from domestic wells, and 500,000 barrels of motor alcohol, a maximum total of approximately 12,000,000 barrels. With war time demand at 40,000,000 barrels, the annual deficit to be withdrawn from storage would amount to 28,000,000 barrels. As long ago as 1933 Japan possessed 15,000,000 barrels of storage capacity. Even if that figure has been increased 300 per cent by 1942, Japan will encounter a serious slowing down of military operations in a year to a year and a half if she does not succeed in seizing, producing and transporting the oil of Netherlands India, Borneo or Burma.

BASKET BALL AT CISCO HI 7:30 TONIGHT

Cisco Junior college and Weatherford Junior college will meet tonight at the high school gym in a basketball contest that should be interesting, says Coach K. C. McCasland of the local artists.

The game will start promptly at 7:30 and the low admission charge of 15 and 25 cents, including tax, should bring out a large crowd.

The teams are thought to be evenly matched. Both have been defeated by John Tarleton, but each has improved some since those games.

FREE SPENDING WITH CONTROL OF PRICES 1942

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The nation's department stores Tuesday were told that, unless the money is taken by higher taxes, those now earning two or three times their normal salaries in war production work would spend with "abandon."

Frank J. Scott, vice president of the Morris Plan corporation of America, in an address prepared for delivery at the National Retail Dry Goods association convention drew this wartime business picture of the United States:

"Subject to some qualification, we probably shall see retail business in 1942 on a high level, but below the 1941 volume.

"In war production industries wages will be higher due to rising costs coupled with a tremendous demand for skilled and unskilled labor. Unless syphoned off by higher taxes, higher social security assessments and through other means, money (of these workers) will be spent with abandon."

Merchants anticipate retail price control and are wondering now only what form it will take, a New York department store executive said, while noting America's clothes may become fairly standardized.

F. W. Stuart, Jr., assistant general merchandise manager of Stern Brothers, told the convention:

"We have been told by the government that industry will not be asked to standardize—merely to simplify. Yet it is most probable that simplification will bring about a fair degree of standardization, even in regard to such goods as fashion merchandise."

WELFARE BODY IS AN ACTIVE ONE IN CISCO

During the last month 679 persons have called at the office of the city welfare association according to a report made of the board of directors by Mrs. B. S. Huey, executive secretary, at the monthly meeting of that body this morning. Eighteen members of the board were present.

Reports had to do mainly with activities at Christmas. A total of 73 baskets were provided for as many families, the various churches and civic organizations cooperating in this effort.

Certain organizations and institutions were cited for special appreciation for services rendered, including the boy scouts who did much in the matter of repairing and repainting toys, the picture show, which gave a benefit program for the welfare association, and the merchants of Cisco who gave so liberally of fruits, candies, toys and trimmings for the Christmas tree.

It was reported that 26 families were provided with venison for Christmas, two deer having been contributed by Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Tuttle and Mr. and Mrs. Sutton Crofts.

Present urgent needs in the matter of clothing are shoes and warm underwear. If these items are brought to the welfare office Mrs. Huey will distribute them to families most in need of them.

Neil Lane, chairman of the board, stated that cash contributions are also urgently requested, both from those who have pledges as yet unpaid and from those who have made no contribution.

Plans were approved for providing garden seed for families desiring to plant spring gardens.

The next regular meeting of the board will be February 10.

110 CITY EMPLOYEES AND THEIR FAMILIES ENJOYED HOSPITALITY OF MAYOR MITCHAM LAST NIGHT

Mayor G. P. Mitcham was host at a banquet last night at Laguna hotel to about 110 city employees, which included members of the city commission, directors of the chamber of commerce and members of the fire department. Former Mayor J. T. Berry sat at the head table as a guest, and responded to a call from the audience for a few words near the close of the program. Mrs. Mitcham and their daughter, Sunshine Mitcham, also sat at the table with the mayor.

Commissioner Edward Lee was toastmaster and presided in his usual inimitable manner, providing much humor between numbers of the program which he so ably directed.

In addition to the regular program, heads of the various departments spoke a few words in appreciation of the mayor and city commission, and pledged their full support to the city's program and for full defense cooperation.

Mr. Mitcham opened the meeting and welcomed the guests to the banquet. He also thanked the group for their cooperation and said he was glad to be able to have so large a group come together in this good-will meeting.

Former fire chief and chamber of commerce director, J. J. Collins, responded to the mayor's welcome. City Secretary Geo. Downie presided at the piano as Commissioner Neil Lane led the group in singing America.

Other numbers on the program were: Dr. W. P. Lee pronounced the invocation, after which all guests were asked to introduce themselves. Ray Judia played several piano numbers and was encored. Interviews of business men regarding their reactions to the policies of Mayor Mitcham and the city commission was given by W. H. LaRoque. A quartet by George Boyd, Neil Lane, Don Rupe and Elbert Raines with George W. Downie at the piano followed. They were encored and sang other negro spirituals. Talks by heads of the different departments followed. Water, G. R. Kilpatrick; police, M. L. Perdue; fire, W. W. Sledge; office, Geo. W. Downie; street, Don Rupe; sanitation, Gene Watson; health, Dr.

JAPANESE ARE MOWED DOWN IN PHILIPPINES BY BELEAGUED AMERICANS; DUTCH REINFORCED

Allied united fighting forces engaged in a Japanese offensive on all fronts in the Far East today and smashed at the Axis in Russia and North Africa.

In the Philippines the beleaguered American defenders of Bataan peninsula scored a triumph in a heavy artillery duel, drove the enemy back, crushed armored columns and broke up infantry concentrations attempting to mass for an all-out assault.

In the East Indies Allied air reinforcements appeared to have arrived, probably from America, and intensified the aerial action now starting against Japanese invaders of the Dutch islands of Tarakan and Celebes, as well as enemy sea and land forces in the western Pacific and Malaya.

Dutch bombers, using some of the fifty secret jungle airdromes prepared against the Japanese, roared eastward over Borneo to strike at enemy naval and land forces in Tarakan and Celebes islands, and Dutch officials said a program of heavy, systematic bombing of the enemy had started. An official statement said a scorched earth program had destroyed all oil resources on Tarakan island before it surrendered.

Increased Allied air forces appeared in action in Malaya, where the Japs made the most severe night and day air raids on Singapore, but suffered losses of almost 10 per cent of the attacking bombers.

MURDERERS OF MRS. NANCY FROME AND DAUGHTER, IN 1938, MAY BE UNDER ARREST IN CAL.

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—Texas and California officers today arrested a man and two women and hoped to solve the desert torture murders of Mrs. Weston Frome and her daughter Nancy in 1938.

Investigators said participation of members of a dope ring was "part of it."

Charged at Van Horn, Tex., with the murders were Charles Hatfield and wife, Bonnie. They are reported to be held at Los Angeles and Gov. Coke Stevenson has sent extradition papers to return them.

Arrested at her home near Groesbeck, Tex., was a farm wife, formerly married and living in California. This woman, officers said, was "in Van Horn" when the murders were committed.

AMERICAN POWER.

"Give us the tools and we will finish the job," urged Winston Churchill in a notable appeal last year.

"Give us the raw materials and we will do the work," says American industry now, welcoming the biggest manufacturing contract in human history.

The employers are ready and the workers are mobilizing for the big push. Both groups say, in response to the president's appeal for an unprecedented effort, "It can be done and it must be done." The moral and material power has been here all the time. It only awaited organization and inspiration. Now we are getting them. We begin to realize the full truth of a declaration once made by Wendell Willkie: "It is inconceivable how strong this nation is!" All that is necessary is to organize and direct the strength, and this is being done.

LABOR MONOPOLY.

The employer members of Labor Industry Conference board appointed by the president to negotiate an agreement whereby industrial production will continue without strikes or other delays for the duration of the war, have agreed to do everything in their power to peacefully settle disputes. But, as they point out in a public statement, labor must not be permitted to use the emergency to enforce a "closed shop nation," in which no man could obtain or hold a job unless he belonged to and paid dues to a union.

The statement says: "It would be a serious mistake to abandon the principle that the right to work should not be infringed by government through requirement of membership in any organization, whether union or otherwise."

"The closed shop is the most highly controversial and emotional question in industrial relations today. To accept it as an issue for government arbitration would intensify agitation, increase labor disputes, and divert the energy of both labor and management from the vital job of production. From our experience, we are convinced that the continual presentation of this issue before government agencies would seriously impair the nation's productive activities."

A universal closed shop would amount to nothing more nor less than a labor monopoly. A handful of labor leaders, who are not subject to public control of any kind, would be virtual czars of the country's production facilities. Not a wheel could turn without their permission.

We must never give any group domination over this country. We will lose freedom here at home if we ever reach the point where the right of a man to a job depends upon union membership. What the nation must have now is production—and every man and woman, union or non-union, must do their part.

HOARDERS IN HIGH PLACES.

Government power agencies are hoarding tremendous quantities of essential and scarce war materials. That serious charge has recently been made by responsible critics of the drive to socialize the electric power industry.

Speaking on the floor of the house, Representative Winters of Kansas said that the Rural Electrification Administration is holding millions of pounds of copper, not for the purpose of employing this vital defense metal in the distribution of power to new farm homes, but to further a program of socialization of the utility industry. This copper, he said, could never be used to illuminate a single additional rural home or barn, as it is in heavy cables which are usable only for high transmission lines.

The Oregon Voter charges that the Bonneville Power Administration is also hoarding basic materials. It states that Bonneville officials "will not tell the quantity already hoarded or the amount to be requisitioned for building 'propaganda' lines. It would not set well with the hundreds of industrial concerns deprived of much needed copper, steel, aluminum, to learn that a governmental agency right on through the national emergency is consuming trainloads of the strategic metals needlessly."

These charges should be thoroughly and immediately investigated by congress. There is no excuse for any organization, whether it be private or an agency of government, hoarding war materials at this time. Every unused, available pound of copper, steel or anything else should be at once released and placed where it can do the most good in behalf of the war effort. In the electric power field, the private utilities have said that they will build new facilities as fast as they can be given supplies. They don't hoard materials. They put them to work to generate and distribute power for defense.

It should be understood once and for all that the drive to socialize the electric utilities is a menace to war production and the free enterprise system—and that means it is a menace to the safety of the nation. The socialists must be stopped before further damage is done to the cause of American security in a world torn with war.

"SERVE IN SILENCE."

H. D. Collier, president of the Standard Oil company of California, made a statement to that company's employees which is worthy of attention. Mr. Collier said: "One of the most important ways of contributing to success, is to protect the army and navy by refraining from discussing their activities."

He pointed out that where the company employees (this applies with equal force to the employees of any company) are in contact with our armed forces, they should keep all information acquired to themselves. "Don't even tell your friends. A casual comment about the movement of ships, naval or merchant, or about the movement of troops, might be of great value to the enemy and lead to a disaster. Military authorities are pleading that the public refrain from gossip and the spreading of rumors."

"We have a most serious duty. 'Serve in silence.' Don't reveal military information." Each and every citizen can perform a valuable service for our armed forces as well as the people at home, by following this sound advice.

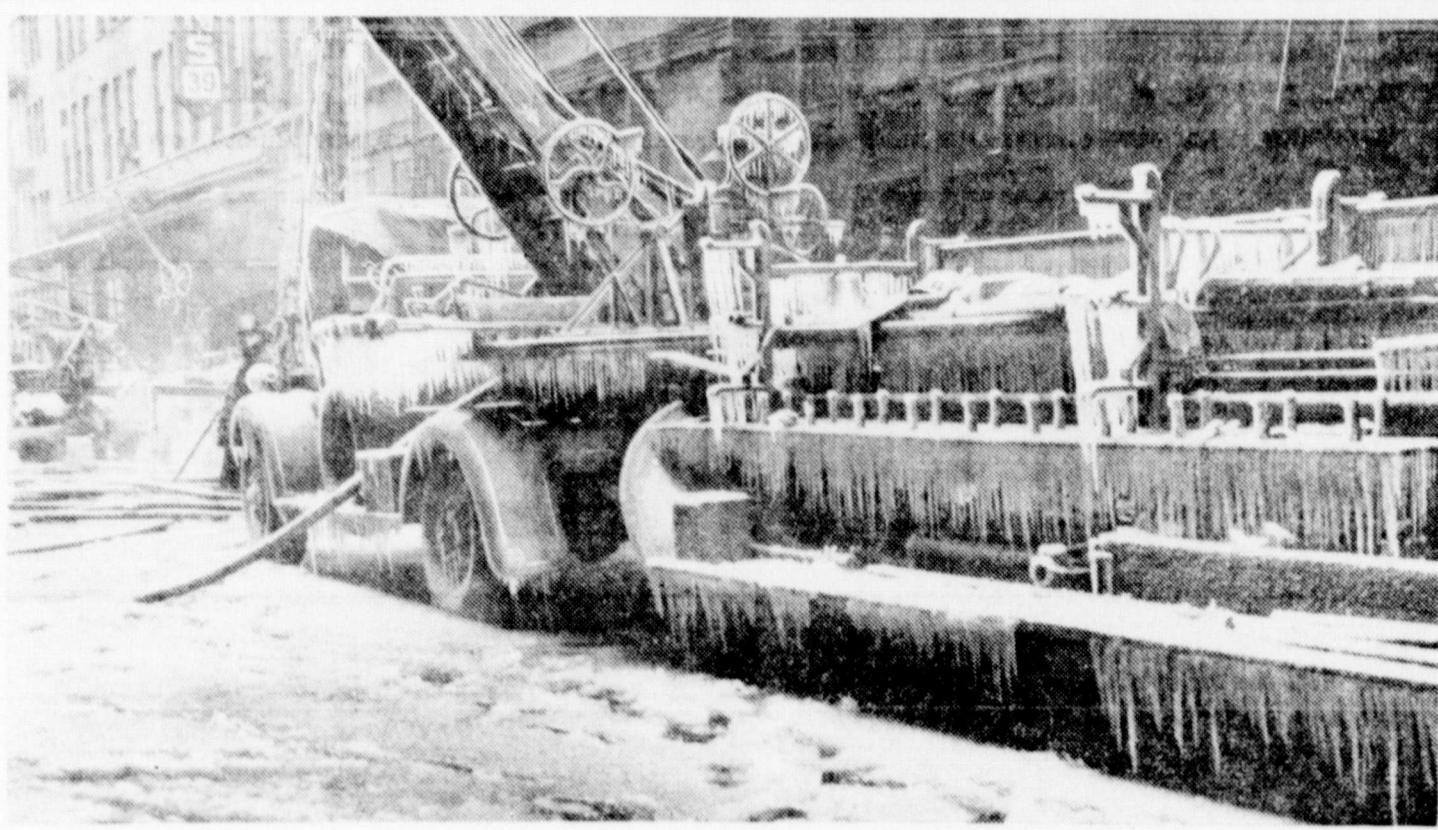

4,542 ACRES LEASED FOR OIL AND GAS

COLEMAN, Jan. 13.—Total of 4,542 acres was leased for oil and gas rights here last week, according to records obtained at the office of County Clerk George M. Smith Tuesday.

One-half of the acreage was leased by R. H. Murray, trustee, Coleman, who turned one-half of it to the Standard Oil Company.

Most of the leases call for "$1 and other considerations."

Most of the land being leased lies between Coleman and the Novice and Silver Valley oil pools. Jack Spratt had no fat; his wife had no lean; and so between them both they kept the house too hot or too cold for one another and felt mean.

How to Distinguish Nationality of Aircraft

Civilian air raid spotters will have no difficulty distinguishing Axis planes from those of the United Nations if they memorize the markings illustrated above. American and British planes have designs of red, white and blue, and Russia has a red star. Watchers on the southern border occasionally may see the red triangle of Mexico. Axis raiders are easily spotted through the familiar black cross and swastika of Germany, the round red rising sun emblem of Japan and the Roman fasces insignia borne by Italian planes.

JAN. 23 WILL BE TEXAS FOOD-STANDARD DAY IN EASTLAND CO. LAND USE COMMITTEE STATES

Helping the people of Eastland county meet nutritional needs is one of the large objectives of the county Land Use Planning committee.

Bumper crops, improved soil, better housing and better home conditions are directly or indirectly affected by the food taken into the body.

Knowing that healthy bodies are the foundations on which sound homes and communities can be built, the committee is making an effort to see that every rural family in the county becomes acquainted with the Texas food standard. This food standard was set up by the state nutritional committee and made for Texas people.

Five thousand copies of this food standard have been printed so that each school child may receive one. January 23 has been designated as "Texas Food Standard Day in Eastland County." Each school is to devote some part of the day explaining, practicing or giving a program to emphasize need of correct foods.

Copies of these food requirements are being sent to each school

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13.—Eighth Naval District headquarters Tuesday announced the following Texans had been commissioned as officers in the United States Naval Reserve. Lieut. Russell B. ARGENTINE IS ONLY HOLDOUT IN SO. AMERICA

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 13.—Argentina's reluctance to enter into any military alliances promised Tuesday to be the major obstacle to unanimous adoption of an anti-Axis front by the 21 American republics.

A highly-placed official, here for the Pan-American conference opening Thursday declared that 19 of the republics were ready to approve a declaration severing all relations with the Axis powers, and a twentieth—Chile—is expected to fall in line when her delegation arrives Tuesday.

The official made it clear that Argentina's attitude alone was in doubt, and diplomatic circles eagerly awaited the outcome of a meeting between United States Undersecretary of State Welles and Argentine Foreign Minister Ruiz Guinazu which they hoped would clarify the situation.

Welles, who arrived Monday at the head of the Washington delegation, voiced confidence in the success of the Pan-American conference and said he had no doubt it would result in decisions rendering "this hemisphere impregnable from attack." The Argentine was expected to arrive here by plane Tuesday.

Regardless of what the Buenos Aires government decides, the opinion prevailed here that there could be no compromise as was the case at the Panama and Havana conferences, when Argentina's individualistic stand forced modification of hemisphere projects.

Should Argentina bow to the policy outlined last week by Ruiz Guinazu, who said his government was opposed to any belligerent measures or any military alliances, the other nations were expected to say to Argentina in effect: "You go your way and we will go ours."

BANK'S PROFITS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Report of Gordon S. Rentchler, chairman of the board of directors, shows that the National City Bank of this city had earnings last year of $17,721,821.97, compared with $18,169,449.14 in 1940. Included in these figures were profits from the sale of bonds and securities in the amount of $6,406,663.45 in 1941 and $6,712,098.33 in 1940, which were transferred to reserves, leaving current net earnings for 1941 of $11,315,158.52, as compared with $11,457,350.81 for 1940.

PEARL HARBOR REFUGEE BACK HOME TALKS INTERESTINGLY OF HONOLULU BOMBARDMENT

Refugees of the Pearl Harbor and Honolulu raids are Mrs. W. A. Gilmore and four-year old son, Duane, who arrived Sunday night and are spending the time while in Cisco at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone, 1003 A avenue.

Mr. Gilmore, husband and father of the Cisco refugees, is muster sergeant of Hickam field headquarters, a suburb of Honolulu. He of course remained at his post.

"Naturally everyone was surprised at the raid, though most of the army folk realized it and when a raid was made that Pearl Harbor and its environs would most likely be the first targets," Mrs. Gilmore said. "However, the raid was a surprise, as no one believed it would come as it did, without warning."

"Our home was on one of the last streets of Pearl Harbor, and myself and small son were the only ones at home at the time it began. I thought the place was being machine-gunned until my husband arrived from army headquarters and told me that the 'Japs' were staging a raid." His first act was to get the boy and myself to a place of safety. Our car was riddled with bullets and stripped, so he had to borrow a car to get to a safe place.

"Of course, as most people know, the bombardment began at 7:55, Dec. 7. While my husband said there were three bombardments, it appeared to me to be one continuous bombardment."

"A number of houses in our neighborhood were badly damaged, but the barracks at Hickam field suffered most. A few of our friends there were killed and wounded."

"My little son and I watched the raid until a Jap plane was shot down. The noise frightened him, so he came in the house. After the firing had slowed down a bit, the little fellow said: 'When I am grown I'll shoot hell out of those Japs.'"

"Another incident of interest was when a neighbor of ours rescued her baby from the damaged home. She returned to get a wrap for the child and found a sharp, jagged piece of glass had fallen in the child's bed.

"Later buses came around and rescued those who had not gotten away."

Mr. Gilmore is still at his post of duty. When asked did she expect to return to Pearl Harbor, she replied: "I'll answer as my little son did when he was asked 'do you want to see his father?' He replied, 'not until the war is over.' So, I feel pretty much the same way about Pearl Harbor. I don't care to return until the war is over. Pearl Harbor and Honolulu are delightful places in which to live. There is no cold weather."

Mrs. Gilmore was there for 21 months, holding a position as stenographer in one of the departments. She said she had applied for a transfer to San Antonio.

"However, the officer who recommended me for the position I held, in saying goodbye, remarked: 'I'll see you back again in 1943.'"

Aubrey Williams Leads Youth Workers

Learning a Job By Doing It

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—Every thirty days Texas NYA supplies 3,249 of the national total of 36,400 shop-trained NYA youth who join the battle of production behind the men behind U. S. guns, according to a report just made public by Aubrey Williams, administrator of the National Youth Administration.

"Under the defense program the NYA makes available practical shop experience to youth between 17 and 24 years of age," the report states. "Emphasis is placed on preparation of workers to do the jobs required in ship building aviation, machine tools and the mechanized branches of the armed forces. Young men are groomed for war production jobs by doing similar jobs on NYA projects. From February 1, 1941, to December 1, 1941, a total of 19,329 Texas youth have gone from NYA projects to jobs in private industry." The report indicates a complete streamlining of the NYA program throughout the country with emphasis on quick basic training along lines where a scarcity of defense workers may be expected in the immediate future.

EXPEDIENCY IS OUR BIG FAULT SAYS WILLKIE

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—In this war the United States "is paying the bitter price of our worship of expediency, our endless seeking of the easy way out," says Wendell L. Willkie.

"We will be doing our job the hard way because we have so long sought the easy way," the 1940 Republican presidential candidate said last night.

"It would have been hard to guard democracy in 1931 when Japan broke the peace of the League of Nations by marching into Manchuria. It would have been hard to guard it when Mussolini moved on Ethiopia, or in 1938 when Czechoslovakia was betrayed."

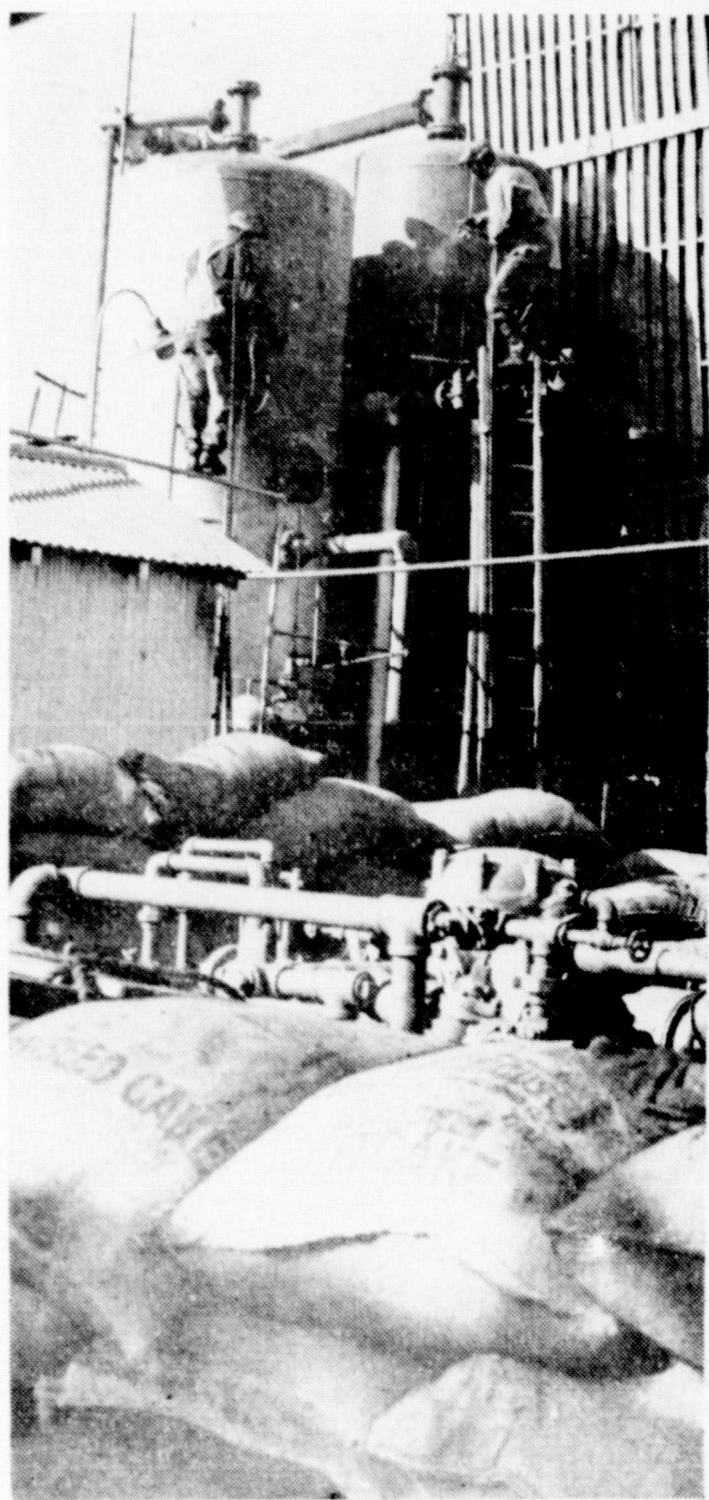

"In all those cases the guardianship of democracy might have meant war. And yet today when we can no longer put it off, today when the easy way is at last closed to us, the task is even harder."

Willkie called on the people to "pour out our wealth, our energies and if necessary our lives into this overwhelming effort," declaring that we can not hope to meet the president's war program "unless we lead Spartan lives."

He said United States standards had been too low and "the economists have become the high priests of our civilization."

"They have told us what to do and what not to do," he declared, "and we have followed them. Even in matters of state we have not sought to do what was good, or noble, or courageous, or generous or worthy. We have rather sought to do what was expedient. Expediency is a poor standard for mankind."

Willkie spoke at a dinner opening a drive for $750,000 to modernize St. Vincent's hospital. Former Governor Alfred E. Smith and former Postmaster James A. Farley are leaders in the campaign.

RAY ALDERSON 11-PIECE BAND HERE JAN. 30

Charles J. Kleiner, Eastland county chairman for the Celebration of the President's Birthday for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, yesterday received word from Ray Alderson, of Dubuque, Iowa, stating the Ray Alderson orchestra of 11 pieces would be here on January 30 to play for the President's Ball.

The Cisco dance will be held Friday night, January 30 and the Eastland dance will be on Saturday night, January 31. Alderson will furnish music for both affairs.

RAY ALDERSON.

The Alderson orchestra, which headquarters at Dubuque, played a club dance here in 1938 and was well received. This band has spent its last four winters in Texas and has played the official Fat Stock Show dances at San Angelo the past two years.

Buddy Hisey, pianist with the band, doubles on solo-vox—a new type of electric organ. He also carries a celeste, a small French-type piano which features bell effects. Drummer-man Otto Willkie, of Rochester, Minn., is featured on drum novelties. Vocals are capably handled by Clive Weber, who sings them "both sweet and hot."

The band has a modernistic stage set-up and its music library is comprehensive and up-to-date. The boys travel in their own sleeper bus, which is called the "Pullman of the Highways." They play all leading dance spots in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska, Alderson says.

If you begin doing free work for relatives they will soon expect you to work longer hours for the same salary.

SMOOTH SALE-ING

Right straight to the January Sales advertised in the Daily Press

It isn't hard to guess where they're "sale-ing" to. Not if you let the Daily Press spread the news for you. Last month customers came into your store in hordes --- the Christmas rush was on, and you had all you could do to take care of the terrific business. But this month the story is a little different. Everyone thinks he's broke, and the last thing he wants to see is the inside of a store. So it's up you to create that desire. You undoubtedly plan to do this by holding a sensational January Sale. And the best way of putting this over really successfully is by running an advertising campaign in the Daily Press.

Our circulation has taken a beautiful leap this past year. That means that your ad will reach a far greater number of prospective customers than ever before since this paper has been in existence. And they won't be only 'prospective' for very long---not when they read about the wonderful bargains they can find at your store. You have the chance of a lifetime! From merely being the "month after Christmas," make January hit a new all-time high in sales records! The Daily Press will sail your Ship of Sales into the Sea of Success!
