CLUCK, STAMEY, MURPHY AND M'CASLAND ATTEND BANQUET AT BROWNWOOD FRIDAY NIGHT

Presidents of two of the nations greatest athletic organizations were active participants in the Traveling Men's club Third Annual Oil Belt banquet at Brownwood Friday night, which was attended by Supt. R. N. Cluck, Principal O. L. Stamey and Coaches Murphy and McCasland of Cisco. Superintendent Cluck is chairman of the Oil Belt district, which was honored by the Traveling Men's club.

Matty Bell, coach at Southern Methodist University and recently elected president of the American Football Coaches association, and Ek Curtis, Breckenridge mentor and president of the Texas High School Coaches association, are the two prominent presidents who participated in the stag affair.

To Coach Bell went the distinction of making the only address of the program of fun and festivity. Additional honor to Curtis was for tutoring the district's 1941 championship grid team.

Rufus Higgs, of Stephenville, was toastmaster, being introduced by Mayor Wendell Mayes, who was master of ceremonies. Supt. Ross of Mineral Wells responded to the words of welcome by a representative of the host club. The Brownwood orchestra was introduced in novelty and popular selections. Backfielder Frank McQuary of Mineral Wells, and Gus Gallagher of Breckenridge were presented trophies as number one men of the district.

Brownwood, Breckenridge, Cisco, Ranger, Mineral Wells, Stephenville and Weatherford, which compose District 9-AA, were represented.

The four Cisco representatives report a good program and a full attendance from the towns of the district.

GRAIN PRICES DECLINE SOME; TRADE SHAKEY

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Grain prices had a downward trend at the opening Saturday. Traders blamed some of the easiness on Government predictions that general farm prices in 1942 may rise only about 5 per cent above prevailing levels, the advance being checked by increased production.

About one hour before the close wheat was $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{3}{8}$ lower; corn unchanged; oats unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ down; and soybeans $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{3}{8}$ under Friday's final figure.

Opening unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ lower, $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ lower, July 1-5, wheat later held near this range. Corn started unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ off, May 85 $\frac{1}{2}$, July 87 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Grain weakness and minor price declines reflected trade confusion over development affecting price control legislation and the government's program for disposal of surplus stocks of wheat and corn.

Fractional losses were posted on all grain pits, with soybeans off more than a cent a bushel. Good shipping business in corn and oats helped to steady prices of these cereals at times.

WANTS 9 BILLION MORE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President Roosevelt today asked congress for an additional $11,000,000,000 for the navy, the Budget Bureau disclosed.

The Bureau gave no details except that $7,000,000,000 would be for the fiscal year 1943.

This will be in addition to $5,932,000,000 Mr. Roosevelt requested in the budget he submitted to congress on January 7.

MRS. STOVER MIGHT CLEAR $1,000, SAYS

G. S. Stover, farmer living northwest of Cisco, bought net wire Saturday to fence a chicken yard where he says his wife will try her hand at raising a few hundred incubator chickens. He says his wife has been reading about the probable scarcity of meats and will get ready to supplement the supply with her chickens.

Mrs. Stover, who had her arms full of bundles she had purchased and was taking to the car, reminded Mr. Stover that she had put $328.90 in the bank last year above operating expenses from the proceeds of her baby chicks grown to frying size and sold to Cisco merchants. With a little better preparation this year, she sees no reason why she could not clear more—maybe a thousand dollars, she said with a smile.

The Stovers have a small shed they have rigged up as a brooder house and with the netting they were getting Saturday, they will be able to control the little chicks and yet let them have access to the sunshine. Baby chicks are easy to grow if you watch them closely the first few days and not let them get chilled, Mrs. Stover said.

GRUVER RESIGNS

Abilene, Jan. 17.—Merle Gruver, secretary-manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce since September, 1938, announced Saturday that he was resigning to assume the post of vice president and general manager of a bus company of which he is an owner.

REV. H. A. WIESE
Rev. H. A. Wiese, missionary to China, speaks here at the Church of the Nazarene Thursday night, 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiese have seen seventeen years of service in the field with the Church of the Nazarene.

They have experienced weeks of daily air raids and days of cannon shell fire over the city where they were stationed.

They have with them a few Chinese things to show how the Chinese live and what they use. They also have a shell picked up after the battle.

They have motion pictures which they took of mission work and Chinese life which they will show. The pictures give a little of their war experience also.

J. R. WRIGHT TAKES UP RED CROSS WORK

The American Red Cross is endeavoring to render every possible help to the men now in the service and to the families they left behind them. Rev. James R. Wright, minister of the First Christian church is liaison officer for the Cisco district of the Eastland county chapter of the American Red Cross. He is well fitted for this important duty, having served with the 36th division in France during World War I.

Among the duties outlined for his office are the following: You will please get in touch immediately with the families of all United States soldiers, sailors and marines killed fighting in the Pacific and other outposts, and render needed assistance to them and those whose loved ones have been reported wounded or missing.

Material assistance from home service funds or other community resources should be given to servicemen's families in distress from any cause. Among those situations are the needs of families of men who had requested dependency discharges which were cancelled when war was declared. There will be the families of men whose pay is delayed or whose allotments are held up. It must be kept in mind however that our funds in this county are quite limited.

You will please give guidance in obtaining governmental pensions and insurance or any other benefits to which relatives are entitled. You will urge through local newspapers that wives, children and parents of the men killed, wounded or missing come to your chapter for aid in meeting needs which arise because of the war.

Please don't forget the usual home service functions of communication, information and family service.

The service outlined is a legal and moral responsibility of the Red Cross. Families should not hesitate to take advantage of such service—and we should not hesitate to extend them. If anyone, therefore, knows of the death of a serviceman, Mr. Wright will appreciate being notified, that he may render what help is possible.

Miss Betty Elda Clark will return to Burkett today after visiting a few days with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Clark.

22 DIE ON TOP OF MT.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 17.—Broken-hearted Clark Gable turned back today from a mountaineering climb toward the wreckage of a transport plane carrying his actress wife, Carole Lombard, and 21 other persons, leaving the search to an experienced crew of Indians, soldiers and hard-rock miners.

Searchers reported they were able with the aid of strong field glasses to see high on the Charleston mountain range what appeared to be charred airplane wreckage amid the broken pine trees.

Miss Lombard, 32, was returning from Indianapolis with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Peters, and Otto Winkler, publicity man for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio. She had gone there to help sell defense bonds. Gable is chairman of the actors committee which assigns motion picture stars to assist the United States Treasury in bond sales over the country.

Miss Lombard, born in Fort Wayne, Ind., had volunteered for the trip to her home state. She sold $2,500,000 worth in one day, Thursday.

HELLMAN IS NOW HALE AND TEXAN

ITALY, Texas, Jan. 17.—Siegmund Hellman, Italy motion picture show owner, has obtained an Ellis county district court order changing his name to Sidney Hale and that of his son, Hans Hellmann, 12, to Harvey Robert Hale.

His fortune taken by German exploiters and his life threatened by the Gestapo, Hellman, once a lawyer and banker in Vienna, escaped and made his way with his son to the United States through South American in 1938.

At the first opportunity Hellman filed his application for citizenship. A great admirer of the American way of life and disgusted with conditions in Europe, he decided to forsake the family name that long had been honored in Austria and Germany and take a real American name for himself and son.

Harvey Robert Hale, formerly Hans Hellmann, attends a school in Dallas.

CROCKETT, Jan. 17.—Only four convicts of the 23 who escaped Wednesday from the Eastham prison farm were unaccounted for Saturday. At Palestine Chief of Police Sam Walding said a man taken from a freight train Friday admitted he was Ernest C. Jones, of Ringling, Okla., one of the escaped convicts. Among others most recently rounded up were Clarence Redwine, Houston; L. V. Galindo, Walters, Okla.; James Rice, under sentence from Harris county; Jack Bronson, sentenced from Rusk county; C. O. Colston, sentenced from Fisher, Kent, Kimball and Scurry counties, and Cora Hudson, sentenced from Smith, Leon and Rusk counties.

FT. WORTH IN FIGHT TO RID CITY OF VICE

FT. WORTH, Jan. 17.—County authorities and state Liquor Control Board agents Saturday were working in co-operation with city police in the drive to rid the city of prostitutes and the men who work with them.

Sheriff Carter, Assistant District Attorney Ray, and Investigator Monaghan of the district attorney's office worked Friday and Saturday night checking taverns and tourist camps outside the city limits, warning that the county "is going to be decent, and would not tolerate prostitutes just moving across the city limits."

Police Inspector Curry Saturday said that the police department is not telling the prostitutes to leave town. "That would be unlawful," he said. "We can't make anyone leave town."

"What we have told the prostitutes and the men that work with them is that they must get out of hotels and obtain employment. "We are warning them that we will not tolerate them continuing their trade, that if they want to do so they had better leave."

ALLIED FORCES FIGHTING HARD, BUT STREAMS OF YELLOW DEVILS REPLACE THE ONES MOWED DOWN

Allied armed forces in the Philippines and Malaya fought furiously against Japanese offensives today, but Axis broadcasts claimed Allied troops are being driven back to last-ditch defense of Singapore.

Late Tokyo reports broadcast by Berlin radio -- which has frequently inaccurately reported Japanese gains -- said the Japanese had pushed deep into Johore state, reaching the Batu Pahat sector, about 50 miles from Singapore.

If the Nazi report is correct, it would mean a serious break through British defenses, where the Australians have been reported fighting off repeated heavy attacks.

On the rugged Philippine front, the Japanese began their long expected big scale attack against the right flank of the American and Philippine forces defending Bataan peninsula, but met stubborn resistance by outnumbered troops under General MacArthur.

Japanese airplanes and artillery supported the drive, which was aimed along the main coastal road down the shores of Manila Bay toward Corregidor.

In Malaya the British land forces, sparked by Australians, shattered waves of Japanese attackers, but the enemy forced its way across the important Muar river and established a bridgehead, which the Allies are attempting to destroy, while their bombers hammer at long columns of Japanese reinforcements.

KNUDSEN AND NELSON THE RIGHT MEN IN RIGHT SPOT IS EXPRESSION OF BUSINESS MEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—When President Roosevelt named William S. Knudsen a lieutenant general in charge of the War Department's huge production program, business men here agreed that a great manufacturing man finally had been placed in his ideal spot in the war effort.

Experts said the co-chief of the Office of Production Management and former plant wizard for Ford and General Motors, finally was about to be allowed to do the job for which he is fitted by temperament and training.

They added the Knudsen appointment, along with that of Donald Nelson as head of the new War Production Board, to their list of the really important steps taken to win the worldwide battle of output for the united nations.

The New York sentiment was echoed by army men in Washington. Secretary of War Stimson noted Knudsen's "great and unique talent as a master of production" and Undersecretary Patterson said flatly "He is just the man we need."

First Hurdle Behind. The Danish bicycle mechanic who had proved himself "one of the great production men of the world"—the President's words—is happiest making things or showing others how to make them.

Knudsen himself made it clear to a group of newspaper men in New York about a month ago that his primary desire is to "get things built."

"If they tell me what to make, I make it," he said, with the clear trace of Scandinavian accent which still clings to his speech.

Knudsen, an incongruous Viking in the high stiff collar of 30 years ago, tucked his feet on a chair, slipped slowly on his single glass of beer, and said quietly, in reply to a question: "Yes, I am more cheerful than when you saw me a year ago."

"After all, we have a year of this war production behind us. A lot of the preliminary work has been done."

"It is like getting olives out of a bottle. The first one comes hard. After that, it's easy."

Planning to build bigger battle-ships proves our sportsmanship. They'll give torpedo planes a much better target.

"IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE"

What does it feel like to lose house and home, position and family, to save only one's life when leaving one's native land for ever? Many thousands have had this experience since Hitler came to power.

The answer may be found in studies recently made by some Harvard social scientists, who systematically collected and analyzed two hundred life-histories of refugees from Germany.

This dangerous reluctance to face new facts does not threaten Germans alone. Some of us have not yet realized that, for all of us, life here is now transformed.

The mechanic has come into his own at last. It was destined to be so from the time when Ben Franklin started tinkering.

MECHANICS.

The intelligence and resourcefulness of these modern mechanics who came with the machine age is a revelation to a mere master of arts or banker or business man.

WAY TO WIN.

The only way to win a war is to work hard and fight hard, as a national team. People, or at least our kind of people, are naturally humane and soft-hearted.

FISH MARKET RECORD.

Without giving any explanation for the fact, a federal government report recently told of the biggest day in 25 years for the Fulton fish market in New York. Two millions pounds of fresh and salt water fish—clams, lobsters, eels and other forms of sea food were received.

Shipments came from many different places. Eighteen trawlers arrived from the Georges Banks. Trucks and trains brought sea food from Florida, shrimp from Louisiana, salmon and halibut from the Pacific coast.

It may be that all these fish converged on New York because some other markets are now closed to such imports. Or it may be that fishing was particularly good in places at exactly the right times to produce this record at the Fulton market.

There is probably no cosmic significance in the event, but it might be taken as a good omen of the abundance of the nation's food supply.

SERVICE in a pinch

MAYBE you've got a boy helping to do the job "over there." He's a fine lad... a brave one, too. It's a big job he's got.

And you're certain—and we're certain—that when all real Americans concentrate their efforts on production of supplies and actual fighting equipment, and insist upon discontinuing the enormous non-defense spending spree by non-productive political agencies, then this fine, brave soldier boy will get the job done.

That means there remains a truly big job to be done here at home. Everybody left behind must help.

Our own special job—this company's—It twofold: First—we must provide the light and power needed by army camps, air training schools, and defense industries in this West Texas country. Second—we must continue serving your home and business, doing all this in an economical manner so that we may also continue contributing all possible tax support direct for defense purposes.

We must conserve copper, rubber and automobiles. Our cars and trucks were reduced from 334 in 1931 to 235 in 1941. With further reduction now, many will do double duty in order to take care of the public's electric service requirements over a 45,000-square-mile area.

These vehicles, in 1941, traveled a total of 3,506,872 miles, or 140 times around the globe! Many of them have been rebuilt, and now will be rebuilt several times.

With a shortage of tires, cars and trucks, the job of maintaining the same type of good service in 1942 will be an increasingly hard task. It will require more maintenance and rebuilding throughout. This, we will continue to do, making replacement parts in our own repair shop, if necessary, to maintain the continuity of service to you.

We do not expect to be late in rendering any of the services you have come to expect of us. But, if there is delay, remember, please, that speed is being sacrificed at home so that the boys "over there" may have more and better fighting equipment.
