COL. BARLOW WINSTON, NOW AT EXARKANA, WILL BE SENT INTO COMBAT DUTY AT HIS REQUEST

EXARKANA, Feb. 25.—Col. Barlow Winston, government aviator, has received warning orders from Washington that he will be sent into combat duty within days or two weeks.

In disclosing the information, Winston said he would be sent to Camp Lee, near Roanoke, Virginia, where he will take a "refresher" course. Later, upon completion he will go directly into combat duty.

Colonel Winston expressed satisfaction at being sent into combat work, and explained that he had asked for such duties several weeks ago. He said that he did not know yet what division of service he would be assigned to.

He came to Texas from El Paso, where he had been stationed since mid-summer of 1938. There, serving in the construction division of the Quartermasters Corps, he built the cantonment at Fort Bliss, Biggs Field, enlarged the William Beaumont army hospital, and constructed a new aircraft training center. He was commended for his speedy and efficient work in El Paso.

In native Texas, he was born and reared at Cisco. He was a member of the famous First Officers' training school in 1917 at Leon Springs, Texas, and came out as a second lieutenant.

Since then over a period of 25 years he has obtained an aviator's wings, completed a motor school, a chemical warfare school and a quartermaster school and the army industrial college.

LEGISLATIVE TALK OF "SAVING" MEANS LITTLE; "COMPROMISE" HABIT COSTLY TO TAXPAYERS

AUSTIN, Feb. 27.—Texas is experiencing the unusual "between session" economy. It is a period of compromise after each legislative session has ended and before another begins.

Legislators are protesting that expenditures must be curbed, especially in war time. Some are making lots of campaign blarney about it. The sad part about the economy is that the appropriations usually have been made by the legislature, and if there is to be a "between session" economy, it must come from the legislature that does not meet until Jan. 12, 1943. The Appropriations committee of the legislature will take effect until Sept. 1, 1943.

Some senators who are making speeches against spending do not vote to run in the coming summer election. All members of the House of Representatives and 26 of the 31 senators must face the voters, then if they wish to be members of the 48th legislature.

Their opponents may be expected to consult copies of the appropriation acts of the 47th legislature to compare economy talk with their votes on spending.

Gov. Coke Stevenson is doing the bulk of the talking but has the final board of control starting early on its preparation of the new budget. Stevenson is not open to political attack on the appropriations, even should he talk about them. As president of the senate he was not called upon to vote on them, and the veto power was exercised by former Gov. W. O'Daniel, now U. S. senator.

Like all state legislation, appropriations are largely a matter of compromise. Because a member votes for an appropriation bill with some pork barrel items is not an infallible indication that he favored those items. Maybe he favored that way to keep down opposition to an expenditure which he considered vital to his district. And after the appropriations pass the house and senate separately there must be more compromise in a "conference committee." All of which is of course very bad business from the taxpayers' angle.

Former Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, in her second administration, hit upon the only way that ever has proved effective to stop state spending. She demanded that a one-fourth blanket reduction be made in the appropriation bills. Whether the net result was bene-

TROY STEWART ROY PIPPEN MISS SARGENT DOC PARMER ARE MARRIED BUSY MEN

Troy Stewart of Cisco and Miss Madeline Sargent of Albany were married in Albany Monday, in the home of Rev. D. D. Denison, Methodist minister, who officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home in Cisco. Mr. Stewart, former star Lobo football player, is employed at the J. T. Richardson Humble company service station.

Mr. Pippen, well-known farmer north of Cisco, brought in seven eggs this week and says he sells about that quantity each week. He uses commercial poultry feed and finds it pays.

Mr. Pippen also finds that turkey pays, and is growing some fine ones for Thanksgiving and Christmas this year, he says.

Another well known farmer was in this place of business at the same time and said he had only brought in 25 dozen this week. He is Doc Parmer, who was reared between Cisco and Delham. He states that his family eats lots of eggs since he likes them and thinks they are as cheap as any food that could be bought for the money eggs bring.

These farmers have found that farming pays if you grow at home every thing that can be grown. They think that leghorn hens and good stocks of turkeys are the farmer's best bet. No department of farming pays as much on the investment as does that of poultry. Eggs bring a fair price now and fryers are in great demand.

CATTLEMEN'S DAY.
ALBANY, Feb. 27.—Saturday, Feb. 28, will be cattlemen's day at Albany. Hereford breeders in that section will exhibit their cattle and 4-H club boys will exhibit their baby beavers on display. The sale that is usually held in Albany was passed up this year due to the fact that breeders sold most of their cattle at private sales before the auction date. W. T. Macee is county agent and B. A. Elliott of Moran will judge the calves.

DISTRICT MEETING OF CISCO MASONIC CHAPTER AND COUNCIL IN SESSION HERE TODAY

Cisco chapter of Royal Arch Masons and Cisco council of Royal and Sovereign Masters, will hold a joint district meeting starting at 8 p. m. today in Masonic Temple.

J. W. Witten is high priest of Cisco chapter and G. L. Duncanson is high illustrious master of Cisco council.

Committee of arrangements is headed by E. E. Crawford, George T. LaMar and C. L. Duncanson. Referees committee is headed by Cabaness, E. T. Huffman and W. E. Dean.

Approximately 100 persons are expected to participate.

Starting at 8 o'clock a chapter of Royal Arch Masons will be opened, the Royal Arch degree conferred, the chapter closed and refreshments served.

Following refreshments a council will be opened and a council degree conferred.

Composing the Cisco district are the chapters and councils located at Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Bronckridge and Buire. The entire membership of these chapters have been invited, as well as members of the chapter and council at Rising Star, which is in an adjoining district.

Officers of the Grand Royal Arch chapter of Texas and the Grand Council of Texas, together with the past grand officers of those bodies, have been invited.

Grand officers and past grand officers expected here for today's meeting include W. J. Chesney, Colorado City; C. F. James, Dallas; Frank Oldham, Waco; Clarence Young, Abbott; T. W. Barbee, Waco; Dr. E. W. Wood, Abilene; George E. White, Brownsville; S. B. Alkinton, Florence; Jesse D. Cox, Brownfield; J. T. Ellis, Maxwell; Eugene Duggs, Austin.

FLYING SCHOOL A FACT

Sturdy Dutch and their Allies braced against an imminent all-out Japanese attack against Java today, smashing at new enemy invasion forces in Sumatran waters; but the long arm of the Japanese air power reached out and into the Indian ocean to bomb the Andaman islands.

The Andaman attack was the first of the war against Indian territory. The islands lie in the Bay of Bengal, south of Burma and, with the nearby Nicobars, constitute the last barrier to Japanese operations in the Indian ocean.

At a session in Major G. F. Wintham's office this afternoon a committee was appointed with Doc Cabaness as chairman to enroll students, so that training could begin at once.

A number of young men between the ages of 18 and 24 made application at this meeting.

The city sponsors five of the 20 required to begin operation. The federal government absorbs the expenses for the other 15 men. Applicants agree to contribute their own tuition training after completing classes here, when they will begin to receive $75 per month and, after graduation, will be ranked as lieutenants, with salaries usual to those ranks.

Applicants must have high school education and live within 15 miles of the city, or establish residence within that zone. The Cisco unit will be kept intact and be given AA rating in registration.

Other members of the enrolling committee in addition to Mr. Cabaness are T. J. McCarty, Edward Lee, F. B. Warsawski, J. D. Landers, A. D. Anderson, G. P. Miriam and O. L. Slames.

MANY FINE PURE-BRED ANIMALS ENTERED IN CISCO LIVESTOCK SHOW; MANY BOYS PARTICIPATE

"One of the best things about the Cisco Livestock Show is the fact that one sees boys presiding at practically all the animal stalls. It is boys who are caring for and grooming, as well as feeding, these animals for this event," said A. Z. Merrick, who himself has boys entering animals in the competition.

Like Mr. Merrick says, boys are the future men of the country. If they become interested and learn how to grow better stock and find out by actual experience the values of feeds and scientific breeding, the next generation of farmers will grow stock to fit in with the needs of the farm.

Early this morning animals were filling up the space in the T. A. Graves lot and the Cisco Lumber & Supply company yard.

It is safe to say that some really good animals will be judged this afternoon, when experts begin their counting up of the good points of the stock entering the competitive lists.

Judging of Jerseys, sheep and goats began at 2 p. m. today. Hogs will be judged Saturday morning beginning at 10 o'clock and beef cattle will be judged Saturday afternoon.

The foreign born must be trained in citizenship and taught how to be real Americans. Citizenship duties must be understood by everyone so that these will be performed willingly and effectively. Devotion to America must be so strong that service to the country will be joyfully given and sacrifices for victory gladly made.

LEGION WOMEN TAKE LEAD IN AMERICANISM

Education in Americanism is a vital part of the defense of the nation, said Mrs. Irene Hallmark, Americanism chairman of the Wm. Butts Post unit of the American Legion auxiliary in presenting plans for the auxiliary's 1942 work in this field.

"As we fight for the defense of democracy, we must teach the principles of democracy more effectively than ever before," Mrs. Hallmark stated. "Young and old alike must know exactly what our free form of government means to them, and how it gives them advantages they could not enjoy under any other form of rule."

The foreign born must be trained in citizenship and taught how to be real Americans. Citizenship duties must be understood by everyone so that these will be performed willingly and effectively. Devotion to America must be so strong that service to the country will be joyfully given and sacrifices for victory gladly made.

MAN KILLS FORMER WIFE, TWO OTHERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 27.—The divorced husband of an Oklahoma City laundry employee shot and killed her and two other women as they ate lunch at a rooming house shortly after noon today.

The dead: Mrs. Minnie Pierce, 48, laundry employee; Mrs. Ann Bow, 38, operator of the rooming house; Betty Cunningham, 48, companion employee of Mrs. Pierce at the laundry.

The slayer jumped from a window of the rooming house in an attempt to escape, but police captured him. They said he was Norman Pierce, 45. He was taken to the city jail. He was injured slightly in his leap from a second story window.

J. C. KING BE BURIED HERE AT 3 SATURDAY

J. C. King, well-known and highly respected Ciscoan since 1928, died at a hospital in Denison Thursday. The funeral will be held from the Cisco Church of Christ Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment in Oakwood cemetery. Rev. G. C. Ross of Winters will officiate and the Lane Funeral home will have charge of the body.

Mr. King was born February 19, 1888, in Farmersville, Texas. He came to Cisco about 14 years ago and was an employee of the MK&T railroad here until March 31, 1941, when he retired because of ill health. He entered the service of the MK&T on October 21, 1910. He was a member of the Cisco Masonic lodge.

Survivors include the wife and a son, J. B. King of Brownwood; a daughter, Miss Noma King, Cisco, and three sisters—two of whom live in California and the other in Oklahoma.

Funeral services will be A. Z. Merrick, E. L. Laird, Ed Daniel, N. C. Packer, L. H. Qualls and Roy Huffmyer.

THE JOB AT HAND

"Stick to the job you are doing until your country calls you for service—only do that job a little better." That's the advice of Miss Margaret Bondfield, former British minister of labor.

That's one of the hard things for people to learn. In a time of general excitement, everybody wants to go out and do something spectacular. Our minds tend to function in an aura of glory.

But the fellow in the factory who does his own job so carefully that nothing ever has to be altered or sent back to be done over is serving his country well. The woman who does her housework so intelligently that the family's letter card for that ever is serving her country well.

UNITED WE STAND

Our first American troops reaching Java are few in number but strong in spirit and promise. The immediate effect of their arrival has been to reassure the Dutch and worried Australians. They know now that they are not alone. They know that, although half a world away, we understand their situation, and are with them in spirit and purpose, and will fight beside them increasingly until our common enemies are beaten.

We cannot fail them in this struggle, because it is our struggle as well as theirs. The free and decent forces of civilization must hang together and fight together until this shabby world is quiet and clean again. Then we can start shaping a better world.

ADMITTING A WRONG

"This war has been unnecessarily and unconstitutionally begun by the president of the United States." So resolved our own house of representatives in January, by a vote of 85 to 81.

But wait a minute! This did not happen in January of 1942, but in 1848. It was a protest against the Mexican war, which most students of our history now believe began through our own aggression rather than the fault of Mexico. This belief was shared by one of the Illinois congressmen of the time, named Abraham Lincoln.

It shows that in the past, when we have been at fault, we have been willing to recognize the fact. Is this true of Germany or Japan?

SINGAPORE AND AFTER

Now, regarding the Singapore collapse that we Americans have been talking about so dolefully, and some of us perhaps with bitterness—

Maybe we were all standing at Singapore, in a way, when the little brown men overwhelmed it. Maybe our Anglo-Saxon civilization was standing there—maybe Shakespeare and Milton and Washington and Lincoln and others in the shadowy and endless line.

Not that it was the end. But it seemed a climax to so many disasters. Always good men retreating, taking blows face to face without whimpering, but walking backward. How much longer could it last for Britain, for the Empire, for us? Some Americans, too, have had a disheartened feeling of being "let down" by the British retreats, although Heaven knows our own Pearl Harbor failure was bad enough—we are still jumpy from it. And the British have been courteously silent about that.

So what? The surest thing in the world to any American or Briton who takes a realistic view of the world today is that the English-speaking race must hang together. The British need us and we need them, and the world, we venture to say, needs both. Together, in full trust and partnership, along with the heroic Dutch and Chinese and other loyal allies, we can win.

But no more retreats! From now on we must attack.

INVADING JAPAN

The most popular thing that our feet and air force could do would be to carry the war to Japan. That would be a new experience for the Japanese, who have never been invaded. The Sea of Japan has been as effective an ally of our enemies as the English Channel for Great Britain.

Back in the thirteenth century the Mongol hordes swept undefeated over Eastern Europe and Asia, and gradually built up an empire that stretched from Poland to the Pacific. Kublai Khan, the Mongol emperor of China, tried to conquer Japan; but hurricanes scattered his navy Japanese compare their resistance, aided by storm, to England's famous defeat of the Spanish Armada.

A country that has once drunk deep of invasion may think twice before losing war on the world again.

DOCTORS CRACK DOWN

It's going to be a cold world for "hypochondriacs." That is a ten-dollar word applied to people morbidly depressed and needlessly worried about their health. Such patients take up far too much of doctors' time that should be devoted to people really sick. Right now there is a big medical shortage expected because 12,000 doctors are needed for the army. Physicians are advised to ignore worriers.

It may be a good thing for the hypochondriacs in many cases. When the doctor won't take them seriously, they may decide to boycott all doctors just to get even with 'em. That would work out nicely all around.

BLAZE CHASERS URGED TO STAY AT HOME NOW

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 27.—As a result of the national emergency, the public here has been asked to surrender voluntarily one of the liberties dearest to the American heart—the right of chasing the fire engine to a blaze.

Fire Chief Fred Martin, backed by Chief of Police Bart J. Riley and Sheriff Al McLeod, issued a request to the public to stay home when there is a fire in the neighborhood.

The request pointed out the danger from explosions in any burning dwelling, and called attention to the fact that during the emergency the number of incendiary fires is likely to increase.

The chief points out that the firemen are perfectly capable of putting out the blaze without the assistance of kibitzers and that the latter only get in the way. "Instances have arisen," he states, "where the department has been delayed 15 minutes in getting into action because of the throngs about the fire."

PLANES DOOM SKYSCRAPER IN FUTURE PLANS

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Because of the bombing airplane and air raids, the era of the skyscraper is over, according to Harvey Wiley, fellow of the American Institute of Architects and designer of many giant structures throughout America.

There will be no more skyscrapers built, he said, because they "are not a necessity from any point of view, and they only cause undue congestion in the streets wherever they are grouped."

This revolutionary view from the man who was chairman of the Architectural Commission of the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago and associate architect for the Rockefeller Center development, has a distinctly utilitarian basis.

Suppose you were a business man

You'd discover in a hurry that your own interest is best served when you keep the consumer's interest always uppermost in mind!

WE'D LIKE TO VENTURE the expert opinion, because we deal with them daily, that American business men as a group are perhaps the most honest and conscientious people in the world.

If a business man tries to fool the public by getting his prices too high, then a competitor comes in with a lower price.

If a retailer gives poor service, people leave him and trade at a competitive store.

If a manufacturer puts out poor quality products or misrepresents them, people just stop buying from him and the business man goes broke.

So no matter what a business man thinks or what you think about business men, the facts are that business men have to keep their prices, service and quality in line or they eliminate themselves. The operation is automatic.

It's a great system that protects the consumer like this and in case you haven't guessed it, it's the American System of Free Competitive Enterprise, which guarantees the right of our people to buy where they please and which guarantees our people the right to make things and sell them within the law.

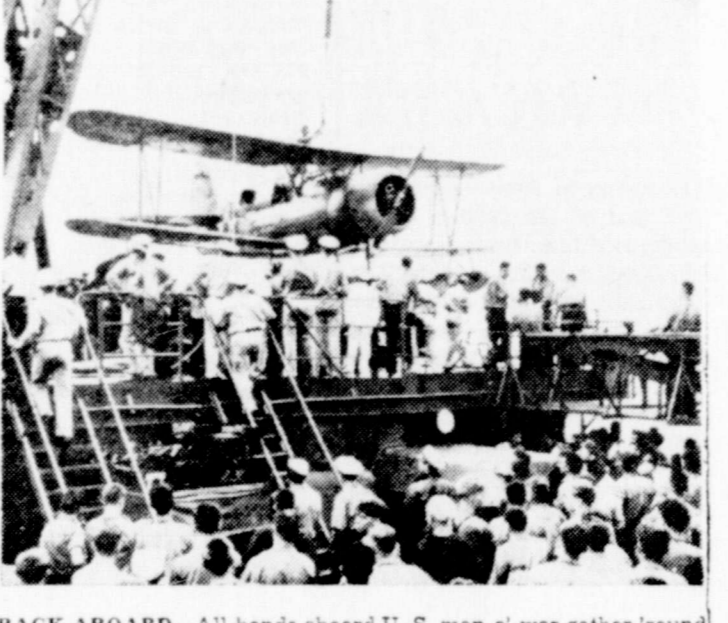

WHAT TO DO Make advertising your buying guide because you can be pretty sure that a consistent advertiser is keeping his price, service and quality in line, giving you full value for your money.

And another thing. When you run into one of these smart boys who thinks our system is all wrong—just remind him that it isn't an accident that we have the highest average income—the highest standard of living in the world (see panel)—then suggest that HE go into business and see for himself how quick the public smacks him down if he pulls against your interest, the consumers interest.

OUR AMERICAN SYSTEM IS SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

The average annual income per person is higher here than in any country in the world.

Dishes and pans in which eggs have been cooked or served will wash more easily if soaked first in cold water. Hot water causes eggs to harden and stick to the dish.

Try this for delicious salad dressing. Drain off some of the superfluous syrup from glassed peaches, pears or any fruit and use it to thin prepared mayonnaise.

Never pile silver flatware or serving dishes on a rubber drain mat, even for a short time. Chemical reaction tends to tarnish the silver.

When the recipe calls for sour milk, and there's none in the house, pour the required amount of milk from your hand-quart bottle into a measuring cup. Add a little vinegar or lemon juice to sour the sweet milk.

CHINESE LOVE COUNTRY AND DESPISE JAPS

SHEPPARD FIELD, Tex., Feb. 27.—Like thousands of other U. S. soldiers, dark-haired Dana Dodge wants to get a crack at the Japs, but it will be a return bout for him.

A private for Uncle Sam now, the serious-eyed Dodge flew as a major with the Chinese Air Force and used to bomb Japanese troops by dropping buckets of hand grenades on them. He is at this technical air corps center awaiting transfer to bombardier school.

Reading of the exploits of American fliers in Burma, he recalls his old outfit — "as romantic a squadron as ever you'd find."

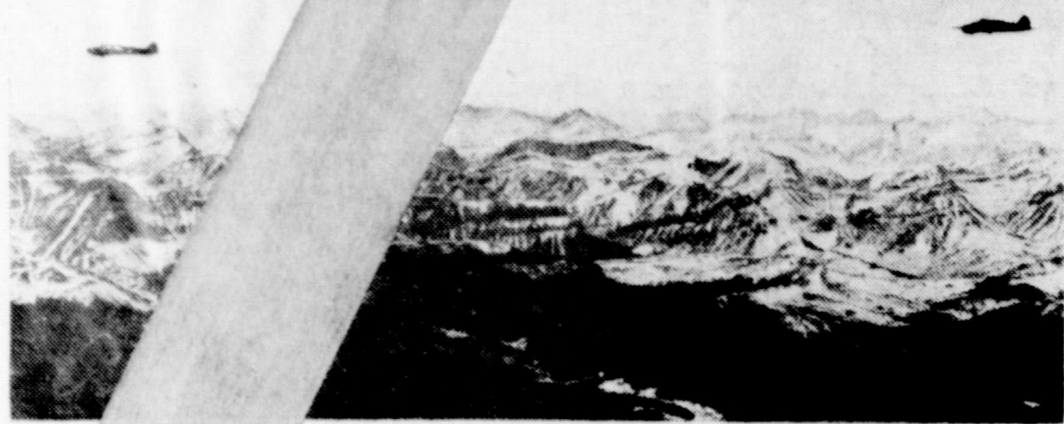

They came from all lands to fight at Chungking and nothing was asked of their past except their ability to fly and shoot.

Chinese Courage
Dodge left the University of California with 14 others at the behest of a Chinese friend.

In China he was a machine gunner and bombardier with fliers whose equipment was 80 obsolete planes. Their duty was to protect thousands of square miles of Chinese territory.

"The planes had fewer instruments than a modern trainer," he said. "It took pilots with nerve and ability to fly them. China was fighting alone then and had to use anything available."

Dodge returned from China impressed with the courage and ingenuity of the Chinese. Almost without armament production—

R. C. A. Canadian air force flying cadets wing their way over the lofty Rocky Mountains in Alberta, Canada, where they're undergoing rigorous training in the difficult terrain. Flight above is at 11,000 feet to clear treacherous peaks.

WALKING ON AIR—Stopped motionless by high speed camera this skier is seemingly "walking on air," but to the contrary he's zipping through space at a "mile-a-minute," after takeoff from ski-run at Banff, Alberta, Canada, where winter sports season is in full swing.

after losing their coastal cities—the Chinese fought a well-equipped army to a standstill.

Left Business
"Sure, thousands of Chinese died," Dodge said, "but life is cheap in China and people are thinking of saving their country, not their lives. I never met a Chinese who wouldn't gladly die if he were sure of taking a Jap with him."

Dodge had returned to the United States and was in the construction business at his home town, Fallon, Nev., when Pearl Harbor was bombed.

He joined the Air Corps as a bombardier.
Total length of all railway trackage in the U. S., including sidings and yards, amounted to 405,975 miles in 1940.

GOOD POSTURE

AUSTIN, Feb. 27.—"Chin up" was the watchword of 204 University of Texas co-eds a few days ago when they participated in the annual "posture contest." Based on the assumption that good posture is an essential part of good health, the annual posture parade is more than just another contest in women's intramurals. Aside from selecting a dozen girls as exemplifying good posture, the parade creates interest in the subject which carries over to physical training classes. Alice Slicker, arts and sciences student from Cisco, was selected as a semi-finalist in the contest. Judges are members of the women's physical training department staff.

Guns and Vitamins

...it takes both to win a war!

"AN ARMY TRAVELS ON ITS STOMACH"—this is one fundamental that has not been changed in the technique of war. Likewise our civilian defense cooperation can be no better than our physical ability to meet our wartime responsibilities. But all the food planning and careful marketing in the world cannot preserve healthful vitamins unless care is exercised in the preparation of the food for the table.

THE RIGHT KIND OF FOOD is especially important these days. It can mean the difference between giving your family foods rich in healthful vitamins—and serving meals that have very few vital elements. Vitamin saving is easier with modern gas cooking methods.
