CITIZENS OF CISCO

As you doubtless know, probably seventy-five men are endeavoring to organize a unit of defense guards. Since our national guard has been taken into the regular army, there is no organization to take care of our local police and fire department that could be ready for service in an event of an emergency. This unit has been drilling intensively. Practically all of us have obtained uniforms at the approximate cost of $6.00 and we know that a number of men have declined to join the organization because of lack of work, they do not have the money to pay for the uniforms. In addition to the expense of uniforms, there is a considerable necessary expense incurred from time to time for equipment of various kinds that state cannot furnish. The local defense council is that if these men are willing to give their time for this thing, that those citizens who are financially able to do so, who are not in a position of good reasons to become members of this unit, should contribute to a fund to help pay a few uniforms and other incidental expense necessary in the carrying on of this work. Your contribution which you like making would be appreciated by the local defense council and every member of the Defense Guard. Send your check or make a donation to Edward Lee, Treasurer, Executive Committee of Defense Council. Signed, EXECUTIVE COM. CISCO DEFENSE COUNCIL.

3 Public School Examiners Pay Cisco Official Visit; Hint Status O. K.

Supt. R. N. Cluck was host today at the Laguna to three state examiners for continued affiliation for Cisco's public school system, and to members of the school board, also heads of the various key men's clubs of the city and to the mayor and newspaper. In presenting the invitations to the various guests and in introducing them, Mr. Cluck explained that the representatives present were key workers for Cisco's educational and community life. Therefore he was pleased to present them as a part of the examination of the public school system's "exhibit A" to the state high school and college men who were looking to the continued eligibility of Cisco as an affiliated school of the first class.

Visitors were G. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent; Dr. Alfred H. Nolle, chairman of the committee on standards for the state association of colleges, and Dr. E. C. Dodd, state examiner. Mr. Holbrook complimented the Cisco system in serving 23 rural communities — many more than is served by any other like school in the state. He said Cisco was doing a wonderful job in bringing this high school work to these communities and much more efficiently and economically than they could serve themselves.

Dr. Nolle said Mr. Cluck was unusually progressive and that records and present observation showed Cisco was making much progress. Both he and Mr. Dodd emphasized the fact that the main work of a junior college, such as Cisco Junior college, lay in the training for practical community service in what ever line students might choose to engage, because very few would continue their college training into senior institutions. Cisco Junior college is emphasizing that training through its commercial classes, it was brought out.

Guests present were as follows: H. R. Garrett, representing high school and college; O. L. Stamey, Lions club; Rev. James R. Wright, ministerial association; G. P. Mitcham, city of Cisco; J. D. Lauderdale, chamber of commerce; Edward Lee, Rotary club; W. Frank Walker, L. A. Warren, W. J. Armstrong, Pete Nance, E. L. Jackson, Mrs. N. A. Brown and Mrs. P. R. Warwick, school board; W. H. LaRoque, newspaper.

AGE OF THRIFT

Hitler has done this for us, anyway—we're turning thrifty. Many of us office workers have taken to saving paper clips, and soon we may find ourselves picking up pins. Women are said to be already salvaging and hoarding safety pins.

And now comes an economy that we never expected to see in this plutocratic land, at least. It is official, too, with the power of the United States government behind it. We can't get another tube of tooth paste or shaving cream without turning in the old tube or its equivalent in tin content.

We may joke about it—humor is free in this country—but it is a serious matter for the munition makers. At a time when tin is needed more than ever before, for military use, important sources of this precious metal are closed to us. It will also be a serious matter for store people who disregard the order; they may be sent to jail and fined as much as $10,000. So play fair and don't ask for special favors at the drug store or department store.

And while we're assimilating such shocks as this, let's remember that we haven't seen anything yet. We may escape serious privation, but we have a lot of education coming to us in the realm of personal and family economy.

ILLITERACY

Education and intelligence are not necessarily the same thing. When we are told that a person is illiterate, that does not prove him stupid.

Take India, for example. Out of its 400 million people, nearly eleven-twelfths are illiterate. They have never had a chance to be otherwise. Many of them are none the less clever. A recent traveler in India tells of seeing an illiterate native friend, sitting on a doorstep, apparently without a thing in the world to do. Accused of doing nothing, he said: "I am figuring out my profits to the thirty-second part of a penny." His brain was adequate for this complicated calculation. And elaborate and beautiful works of art, such as rugs, have been done all over Asia by craftsmen who could not read and write.

As this traveler reminds us, many of the great sages of Asia have been illiterate. Mohammed, the founder of a great religion, could neither read nor write, yet he changed the history of the world.

NEW ROADS WANTED

New York state is planning a 300-mile rival to Pennsylvania's famous turnpike, to be built, of course, after the war. It will be a divided highway on a 200-foot right of way, from New York City up the Hudson and then west, following in a general way the route of the New York Central railroad. It is hoped to connect it with similar projects further west.

Our roads are going to be better and better. Roads like the Pennsylvania turnpike and this new one, in certain states, are invaluable in war-time. Germany owes much of her speed in troop movements to her abundance of wide, well-planned roads. We have many excellent highways, but not nearly enough on the scale of that planned in New York.

FISH OR CUT BAIT

Our distant neighbor, Argentina, having chosen to do business as usual with the Nazi Axis, but finding that Hitler and Mussolini and Hirohito can't do much for her at present, comes back to Uncle Sam for military and economic help. But Uncle isn't so easy as he used to be. In this particular case he's pretty hard-boiled.

So Argentina is told that until she pulls her share of the defensive load in this hemisphere, as her Latin-American neighbors are doing, we must naturally give what we can spare to those neighbors. And when we have done that; there isn't any more. There is no grudge about it.

Uncle explains. It's just a matter of logic and business sense, and appreciation of the way our more realistic neighbors in South and Central America are cooperating with us for the general welfare. And when Argentina sees her way clear to join our hemispheric brotherhood, we shall take another look at the cupboard and the arsenal and see if we haven't overlooked some things we might spare for her.

ENEMY ALIENS

Some 5,200 enemy aliens have been arrested. It is a small percentage indeed of the 1,100,000 that are estimated to be living in this country. The first impulse is to call the ratio far too small, but the government seems to be adopting a wiser procedure. All aliens arrested have a hearing before specially constituted civilian boards, with the final decision up to Attorney-General Biddle. So far, 1,050 have been tried. Of these 200 have been released, 400 paroled and 450 interned. This shows the care with which investigations are being carried on.

The fact is that many of our enemy aliens (aside from the Japs) are harmless, and in some cases are actual opponents of the Axis. To make the innocent suffer for the sins of their guilty countrymen may gratify a love of vengeance for Axis crimes, but it is not the American way of doing things. However, we see no reason why a single Jap should remain in this country after the war. Investigation should continue, but should not be turned into mob persecution. There is enough law available and now being applied to jail every dangerous alien.

OTHER EDITORS

Function of Editor.

Lexington (Ky.) Herald: The title "editor" is sometimes misunderstood by newspaper readers not because they want to misunderstand but because they have never been told just what the functions are of the person who holds this title. An editor to explain briefly is one who supervises, revises or prepares literary matter for publication. The title does not necessarily mean that the policy of the newspaper is set or controlled by the editor. On large newspapers, there are many editors, and policy is usually decided upon by the managing editor. The duties of the other editors, city, sports, suburban, women's page and others, is simply to carry out the duties prescribed in their particular spheres.

Essentially the editor is a human being, writing and dealing with men, women and children. He may be young or old, lazy or energetic, bold or timid, superficial or deep, querulous or constructive, slovenly or businesslike, grasping or generous. He is certain to be human. He reacts to praise and criticism, to good and evil in much the same way as those who share community life with him. The editor, and this is true of 99 per cent of all small town editors, recognizes the inherent decency of the country side. He is still sufficiently old-fashioned to believe with his readers that the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule have neither been repealed, improved upon nor modified by modern advances.

It is the editor who decides what is fit and what is not fit to print. It is he who differentiates between news and propaganda. It is he who can, if he will give the leadership that every energetic community must have. He is not hard to get along with, but he has a code of ethics which often cause him to refuse business rather than accept it against well grounded principles. He is not a superhuman. He is a hard working individual doing an important job in the community to the best of his ability, and if at times he fails in his task, it must be remembered that he is like every other human being in the community, heir to the frailties with which all mankind is endowed.

Unpatriotic, Unchristian. New York Times: The last issue of the Florida Catholic, a religious weekly published in St. Augustine, oldest Episcopal See in the United States, contains a blistering denunciation of the "disloyal activities" of "that un-American paper misnamed Social Justice." The Florida Catholic does not mince words in expressing its opinion of this widely circulated sheet. The editor condemns the sabotage of the national war effort by this "Axis-minded magazine," but what burns him up is the idea that it should be regarded as a Catholic paper.

Few intelligent persons believe that this propaganda sheet represents Catholic opinion in this country, but the fact that it was founded by Father Coughlin and is sold at the doors of some churches on Sunday makes useful and timely the indignant repudiation published in behalf "of the good name of the church and of Catholic journalism" by a weekly which is the diocesan organ of Bishop Joseph P. Hurley, until 1940 an official of the secretariat of state of the Vatican.

"Social Justice is not a Catholic paper," the editorial asserts. "It does not reflect Catholic views. It does not acknowledge or obey Catholic authority. Indeed, it has on various occasions made bitter attacks on those authorities." "Despite its mock concern for the welfare of our country, despite its peculiar brand of piety, this magazine is both unpatriotic and unchristian."

The first celebration was on Tuesday when a well known man from his native state—Arkansas—came to Cisco to deliver a message of democracy to West Texans. Burette, as Cisconians know him familiarly, didn't hesitate to let it be known that he was born in the same state as was Senator Joe T. PENNEY'S 40th ANNIVERSARY JUBILEE! THE PENNEY WAY IS THE THRIFTY WAY... RAYON CREPE 44c yd. COTTON 19c yd. BETTER CREPES 79c. Save on Notions 4c. Rayon SLIPS 77c. MEN'S SHIRTS - SHORTS BRIEFS 39c.

To You... A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER OF THE J. C. PENNEY COMPANY: A TREMENDOUS TASK LIES AHEAD OF US! Today America is at war. Now, in wartime, because of the tremendous job ahead of us, we must learn again to work hard and to live simply—to put into the preserving of America what we once put into the building of it—to return to the old ways of Thrift and Savings that were the general rule at the beginning of this century. We feel that the Penney Company is peculiarly well equipped to make a substantial contribution toward the Thrift and Savings of the nation—because the Penney Co. knows from long experience what thrift is all about. Thrift is nothing new to the Penney Company—it is our stock in trade. When the Penney business was founded, in 1902, hard work, and spartan living were the general rule. Our first little store in Kemmerer, Wyoming was dedicated to Thrift, and all through the years, as our business has grown, Thrift has continued to be our guiding principle. THRIFT AND SAVINGS ARE A BIG PART OF THE JOB The Penney Co.'s practice of Thrift and Savings is evidenced in everything we do: We buy for cash and sell for cash; we make no deliveries; we eliminate all costly frills and extravagances; we operate on an extremely small margin of profit per transaction; we buy at the source in the most economical quantities; we save at every turn! All this means that now when Thrift and Savings mean more than ever, it will pay you, it will save precious dollars for you, always to shop first at Penney's. WE REDEDICATE OURSELVES, TODAY, ON OUR 40th ANNIVERSARY, TO THE SERVICE OF AMERICA We re dedicate ourselves to Thrift and Savings. We re dedicate our 1600 stores, which now stretch from coast to coast, to the great job of helping American families to continue to live well for less. THE PENNEY WAY IS THE THRIFTY WAY—THE THRIFTY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY! J. C. Penney

THRIFT POLICIES REAFFIRMED ON FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF DEPARTMENT STORE CHAIN

J. C. Penney Company, in Nation-Wide Celebration, Points Out Country's Need For Universal Economy.

The Company has travelled a long road since Mr. Penney's first little store in Kemmerer, Wyoming (Right). Now it includes such stores as the Company's largest in Seattle (Above), which, in many a single day, does several times the business which the Mother store did in its first year of operation.

In a celebration featuring the historical background of the business, the J. C. Penney Company marks its fortieth milestone. 1609 stores all over the country are taking part in the celebration, which extends through the month of April. The keynote of the event was set by the founder of the company, Mr. J. C. Penney: "We have chosen Thrift as the theme of our fortieth anniversary," said Mr. Penney. "Because it seems to us particularly timely to stress the need for our return to pioneer simplicity. Today America is at war. Now, in wartime, because of the tremendous job ahead of us, we must learn again to work hard and to live simply—to put into the preserving of America what we once put into the building of it—to return to the old ways of thrift and savings that were the general rule at the beginning of this century.

Mr. Penney behind the counter during the closing days of the Company's fortieth year, a place he still loves to occupy after 40 years of storekeeping.

"We feel that the Penney Company is well equipped to make a substantial contribution toward the Thrift and Savings of the nation — because the Penney Company knows from long experience what Thrift is all about. Thrift is nothing new to the Penney Company—it is our stock in trade. When the Penney business was founded, in 1902, hard work and spartan living were the general rule. Our first little store in Kemmerer, Wyoming was dedicated to Thrift, and all through the years, as our business has grown, Thrift has continued to be our guiding principle." This Thrift theme appears in advertising and window displays in Penney stores all over the country, together with messages reminiscent of his early store days by Mr. Penney. Back in 1902, when Mr. Penney founded his first store, he found that many people who could ill afford it made a practice of buying everything on credit, and "paying up on pay day." He came to the conclusion that he could serve people more

Earl C. Sams, President of the Company has been associated with Mr. Penney since his early days.

STEWARDS OF 1st METHODIST HAVE MEETING

At the meeting of the board of stewards of First Methodist church last night the pastor, Rev. Leslie Seymour, reported that 25 new members were received into the church during the period of Holy Week observances. The church attendance committee composed of S. H. Nance,

George Boyd and W. J. Foxworth, presented a report of the record of attendance over a period of two months culminating with Easter Sunday. This committee also made suggestions regarding a continued emphasis on regular participation in the worship services of the church. The pastor stated that the period between Easter and Pentecost, seven weeks, was especially opportune for giving attention to a new awareness of the reality of the risen Lord and announced that the services during the next seven Sundays would all point to "the inner experience" that came to the disciples on the day of Pentecost nearly two thousand years ago. William Reagan, chairman of the board, called attention to the opportunities the stewards have for quietly promoting all phases of the church work. The stewards voted unanimously to disburse services next Sunday night in deference to the service at First Baptist church which marks the close of the pastorate of Rev. Judson Prince. Permission was granted the pastor to be absent during the ten days from April 27 to May 6 to hold a revival meeting at Meadowbrook Methodist church in Ft. Worth. F. B. Altman, church treasurer, made a financial report showing all current obligations paid up to date.

COLE RECITAL PLEASED MANY, DESPITE RAIN

The recital at the First Baptist church Monday night presenting Miss Bilye Cole by her instructor, Hjalmar Bergh, was well attended, despite the downpour of rain that began before the time for the program and continued during the program, attesting to the popularity of Miss Cole and her instructor. Miss Cole was in good voice and the rich mezzo of her soprano tones were well rounded and appealing to the audience, which showered her and Mr. Bergh with encores, as well as Miss Rose Ann Woods, who played a violin obligato to one of the numbers. Misses Margaret Key and Henrietta Moss acted as ushers.

"Give us weapons!" cry desperate kids on the firing line. "Here's some more pay," gush politicians; "maybe that will pacify you."

You pay less income tax than rent, don't you? Well, isn't it worth as much to live in a free country as to live in the house you have?

To Help You Make Your Car Last

As one of America's important oil companies, our big job is to supply great quantities of high-grade gasoline and lubricants to our fighting forces. This is now being done to an extent beyond the imagination of anyone not familiar with the facts.

dealers now serving in the armed forces, are using their knowledge to splendid advantage in helping to maintain our new mechanized Army, the Navy and the Air Forces. Those who are left at home have the knowledge and the ability to train new employees.

Our second important job is to see that the great army of commercial and civilian automobiles stay fit and continue to run so long as it is humanly possible to keep them operating.

Magnolia Dealers Know How To Keep Cars Fit

For years the Magnolia Petroleum Company conducted Service Schools where Magnolia Dealers learned the most efficient methods of lubricating and servicing an automobile. Today, this knowledge stands as a second-line defense to keep America's automobiles running.

As a direct result of this specialized training, many of our former

Service Meetings

To meet the present emergency, Service Meetings are now being conducted at key centers throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico to school Magnolia Dealers in new methods and new services to make your car last longer. Hundreds of Dealers who attend these "post-graduate" courses go back to their own neighborhood stations, equipped to help you squeeze every last mile of service from your automobile.

It is your patriotic duty to take care of your car. As long as it continues to run, it is a national asset that cannot be replaced until this war is over.

MAGNOLIA OFFICER TELLS HOW CARE FOR CARS

"Conservation of cars and tires," said George Miller, vice president in charge of marketing for the Magnolia Petroleum company, "should be accepted as a self-imposed duty by all patriotic motorists."

"No longer can anyone consider his car a 'pleasure' car. It must be thought of, and used, as a 'war' car.

"The reason for this is that every private automobile is actually a part of this nation's transportation system. Public forms of transportation can carry only a portion of all the people who must ride to work.

"For that reason every car owner in the nation should keep his car fit, and drive it carefully, so that it can continue filling its place in the transportation system so necessary to keep essential industries operating at capacity.

"The matter of careful driving," continued Mr. Miller, "has been stressed before, but it can't be stressed too much. The old saying that 'Haste makes waste' should be in every driver's mind each time he gets behind the wheel of his car. Speed is the surest way to wear out tires and cars as quickly as possible.

"One of the largest tire manufacturing concerns states that normal tread rubber wear occurs at an average driving speed of 30 miles per hour. Higher speeds burn up the rubber faster and reduce tire mileage. At 40 miles per hour, wasted rubber amounts to 55 per cent, and at 60 miles per hour, wasted rubber amounts to 55 per cent of normal tire mileage.

"Equally important to make cars last as long as possible is proper servicing at the right time. The right time, or mileage, is just as important as the right kind of lubricant.

"Car manufacturers, without exception, recommend a complete check-up and servicing at this time of the year to prolong car life. Magnolia dealers call this work Summerize Service.

"To make sure that Magnolia dealers are informed of every practical means of helping to conserve your car and tires, the Magnolia Petroleum Company is conducting service meetings throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico. From now on Magnolia dealers will be even better qualified to keep cars in 'fighting trim,' for the duration.

"Every motorist can do his or her bit by observing the slogan now being used by the petroleum industry, 'Care for Your Car—for Your Country.'"

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

BEST storekeeper I ever knew was a fellow named Sam Abernethy. Sam's specialty was to take over some run-down store that somebody else had given up as a failure. Then Sam would turn it into a gold mine.

"But the most important thing of all," he used to say, "is to remember who's boss!"

"You may think you are Boss of your business... but you're not. The Public, your customers, are the real bosses... and you've got to run your business the way they want it."

That little statement of Sam's made a big impression on me... particularly since it certainly seemed to work so well in Sam's case.

And Sam isn't the only one. I see the beer industry feels the same way... certainly, the brewers believe in running their business the way you and I would like to see it run.

Folks like us like to see beer sold in clean, quiet, decent places.

It's a good plan... and it stands to me it ought to work. I find it is already in operation in a number of states and is extended.

It's a mighty fine thing to see a great industry has the guts to do a job like that on its own initiative. And if Sam Abernethy was right, the brewers should be mighty successful... because they're running their business the way the public wants to see it run.
