BURMA BATTLE NEAR CLIMAX

KNOWN DEAD 123

U.S. PILOTS DOWN 11 OF 27 PLANES

PRYOR, Okla., April 28.—Safety Commissioner Johnson reported shortly after noon today that so far 123 bodies have been recovered from debris along the main street of tornado-struck Pryor.

Johnson said identification of victims is getting under way. He added that the work was slow because most of the casualties were new residents, employed at the war plant at Chateau, near here.

Johnson said the Red Cross discovered the bodies of 20 victims on state highway 20, a few miles east of the city. He said the tornado's funnel had swept its victims to the outskirts of the city.

Approximately 600 or 700 ordinance plant workers are aiding in clearing away the debris.

Red Cross and WPA workers are caring for the dazed, injured and frantic residents of the town, which was hit by a 20-minute cyclone at 5:30 yesterday afternoon.

The death toll is expected to mount and Johnson indicated workmen have cleared away the debris from two-thirds of Main street, which was hit hardest by the twister that swirled in, toppling everything in its path.

Nearly every building along the 15 block main thoroughfare was leveled.

Authorities believe that 250 injured is a fair estimate.

Meanwhile a call has gone out for anti-tetanus serum.

American pilots shot down 11 more Japanese war planes and Chinese armies fought a bitter battle today against an enemy drive to conquer Burma, entrap the main Allied forces and cut off the supply route to China.

The battle for Burma is obviously near its climax, with the outlook so grave that Chinese forces began the systematic destruction of roads near key communications center of Lashio, in an effort to stem the advance of 100,000 enemy troops paced by dive bombers and tanks.

But the Chinese armies under General Stilwell, USA., are still fighting, slashing enemy communication lines and preparing to defend the Lashio sector with the aid of reinforcements now pouring into northern Burma and China.

The American volunteer group, returning to battle against numerically superior air squadrons which bombed Lashio, shot down at least 11 out of a squadron of 27 Japanese bombers supported by fighter planes.

Last report placed the Japanese some 67 miles south and slightly east of Lashio, driving toward Hsipaw, south of Lashio.

Varying from fiery, quick-spoken to many with rheumatism and other lameness which slowed down their activities, about 554 men between the ages of 45 and 65 registered in Cisco yesterday, with many of them declaring they were ready to do whatever Uncle Sam might think they were best fitted to do.

It was a noticeable characteristic with most registrants that they seemed eager to register, and many expressed the wish that they might be able to live over again the experiences of the first world war, in which they had served.

"A chance to get at the Japs," seemed to be the all-pervading desire of these men, who still considered they had something more in them than just to remain at home as the protectors of the fire-sides. They wanted action.

Tom Stark and his corps of registrars were kept rather busy during the morning rush, but took it more leisurely during the afternoon.

DALLAS, April 28.—Even race bookies and gambling house operators have to make war sacrifices. Police Chief J. M. Welch closed all gambling and horse race booking establishments Monday with the explanation, "Gamblers are not going to take money that could be invested in war stamps and bonds over a dice table, poker game, at a bookie joint or by any other form of gambling." A veteran gambler said similar action was taken here in 1917 during the First World War.

EASTLAND MINISTER EASTLAND, April 28.—A. F. Thurman, minister of the Eastland Church of Christ for six years, has accepted a call by his congregation to serve another year. He came here from the Church of Christ at Bowie.

ABOUT 554 MEN REGISTERED IN CISCO MONDAY

With a downpour of 1.3 inches of rain last night the total for the month of April was raised to 11.8 inches, according to the rain gauge at city hall.

The level was raised at the marker on Williamson dam at Lake Cisco to 87 feet and 5 inches, the highest level ever reached for this great body of fresh water.

Ciscoans were alarmed about 8 o'clock last night, when a roaring was heard to the northwest of the city and great wind clouds scurried eastward. Some feared a cyclone, while others were fearful of damaging hail.

A number of Ciscoans, headed by W. P. Caldwell and J. A. Jensen, who vie for the title of best gardener, wished for a storm cellar large enough to shelter their gardens, and more especially their Irish potato patches, which they claim are almost locking in the rows.

E. L. Pugh, telegraph operator at the T&P offices, was looking for a carpenter today to patch a roof of his house in Eastland, where hail damaged several hundred houses last week. Mr. Pugh stated that it was impossible to get a carpenter in Eastland.

He will remain at the field as instructor of twin engine bombers.

Mrs. Hill says her son was looking well, not quite so heavy as formerly but in fine health.

INCREASE SOLDIER PAY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 28.—A 20 per cent increase in the pay of American soldiers serving in Australia was announced Tuesday by United States authorities. In Washington the War Department explained that under a new law enlisted men received a 20 per cent increase and officers a 10 per cent increase in base pay while serving at foreign bases. The law was signed by President Roosevelt March 7, 1942.

Mopping-up operations were reported continuing. One plane, 417 rifles, nine machine guns and 272 trucks were listed among captured war material.

J. Z. BYERS OF NEAR CARBON A VISITOR TODAY

J. Z. Myers from near Carbon was shopping in Cisco with his family today. He says one of the heaviest rains he ever saw fell in his area yesterday afternoon and last night. Farms were flooded and much damage done to crops and gardens. There was very little hail.

Sixteen dozen eggs were brought into town as part of his excuse for coming, he said. There are about 75 hens in his flock, and about 200 little chickens are growing nicely. He has four hens sitting on eggs now.

Asked if farmers were using other livestock as part of their farm operations, he said goats, and some sheep were being grown. Most every farmer has a few Jersey cows in the timbered part of the area, while to the south of Carbon, where there is quite a bit of good pasture land, beef cattle are grown.

Corn and Irish potatoes are doing fairly well on the tighter land, and gardens look good in some sections. Peanut planting will come later—from May 10 to 20, he said.

EARLY PEACE DRIVE

LONDON, April 28.—President Eduard Benes of the Czech government in exile predicted Tuesday that Adolf Hitler's Reichstag speech of Sunday would prove the forerunner of a Nazi attempt to secure a "stalemate" peace.

Benes, last president of Czechoslovakia, told a meeting of the Foreign Press association that "Hitler knows only too well that the German people will not stand up to a second Winter of war in Russia."

THE IRON GATE OPENED BY ITS OWN ACCORD

Rev. Seba Kirkpatrick, pastor of the Twelfth-street Methodist church, says the revival services being conducted at the church by E. N. Scarlett will continue through this week and that the church is cordially invited.

The Monday night sermon subject was "The Iron Gate Opened by Its Own Accord," showing how Peter was delivered from the Roman jail by an angel—an emergency resulting in a great victory for the early Christians. By apt illustration this miraculous event was illustrated by the speaker in a very striking and helpful manner, Mr. Kirkpatrick stated.

LETTERS OVERSEAS

Asked what they most want from home, the boys overseas shout one word: "Letters!" Home folks are urged to write more and more to boys in service.

It takes a long time to get letters to Australia. The news is already old when it arrives. But if another letter is coming off the next ship, it's all right. The boys are not homesick in any weakening sense of the word, but they are a long way from home and they want to maintain in full strength the bonds that bind them to the home country.

So write by all means, write early, write often, to every boy you know—and send the home paper when possible to do so. His mother will write, even if it's hard for her to say things on paper. Wife or sweetheart will write, though they, too, have difficulty in saying things they want to say without having the written word sound foolish.

But make packages small, please. Send big ones to boys in camp here. But ship space and tonnage are needed for shells, plane parts and food. Use it sparingly and with careful good sense.

VAPORIZING ETHER

The Nuffield Department of Anesthetics of the University of Oxford has developed a process for vaporizing liquid anesthetics, and Lord Nuffield, automobile manufacturer who endowed the laboratories, has presented to the British war services 1,000 of the machines which do the work.

A part bottle of liquid ether is transformed by this vaporizer into ether vapor, and then automatically mixed with air, turning out 5,000 times the volume of gaseous ether. The patient breathes air through the machine in which the ether vapor has been mixed in the right proportions. Economy of transport is said to be one of the great advantages.

Many medical discoveries of high value came out of the last war, and others are already showing up now. Out of so great has will come some gain.

GREEK WEAKNESS

A ship from Australia drew up recently at the Piraeus, the Greek seaport five miles from Athens which has served that city for nearly 3,000 years. The ship carried 7,000 tons of wheat. Never was cargo more welcome. Never were stevedores more anxious to get it unloaded speedily and on its way to hungry folks awaiting it. There were no laggards or lazy bones on the docks.

Nevertheless it was slow and difficult unloading. Crew members of a Swedish ship in port at the time told about it later. The longshoremen were so exhausted by lack of food that they were hardly able to move the wheat sacks. The Axis and United Nations together arranged for safe passage of the cargo. What small fraction of it gets by the voracious Nazis to the Greeks will give them bread for a while. The sweet smell of baking loaves will fill the land with joy. Children will wolf the bites and suck the last savor from the last brown crusts. They will not ask for butter or for jelly. The good bread alone will be manna in the wilderness. For some children, however, it comes too late.

This is the beautiful New Order in Europe. That children should die of starvation. That the men normally strongest, most used to lifting and carrying heavy weights, should be so weak as hardly to be able to move the saving grain. How long must this be endured?

STREET MINING

As the demand for steel grows and the iron supply dwindles, new sources are discovered in the most surprising places. City streets, for example, Metropolitan Boston, apparently following a tip from the Gardner News, about 50 miles off to the northwest, began prospecting along some of its main streets.

There must be an immense amount of rails, spikes, cross-bars and other forms of steel, abandoned and covered over with asphalt, tar or concrete, two or three decades ago, when so many municipal trolley lines went out of business. It often seemed more expensive to tear up the rails than to leave them in the ground. Now town after town is reaping the benefit of such thriftlessness.

And that is only a visible and public part of the thrifty mining now in progress on many fronts. People begin to see how wasteful they were of the truly "precious" metals.

Even the fish in the sea are out of luck now, when they come up for a bit of air, they get their gills full of fuel oil.

Mother Shipton

Prophecy of 500 Years Ago. Reprinted by Request.

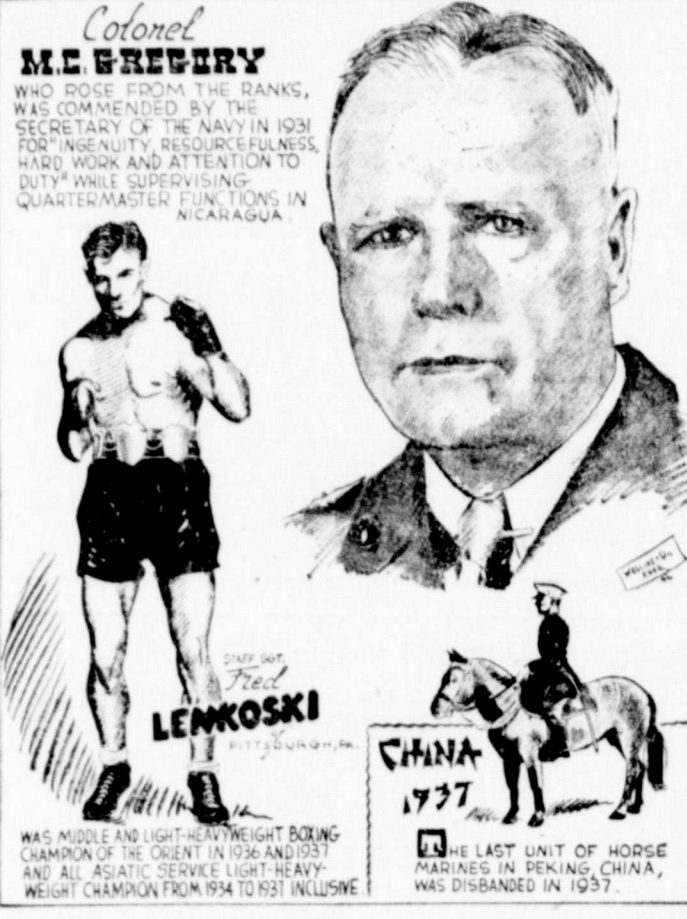

Some people seem to believe the prophetic age passed with the Apostles. Here is a prophecy written 500 years ago by a woman. Read and see if you can suggest how she could have improved it if she had written it this month. Before reading it, please undertake to transport yourself back across five centuries and live when there were no steamships, no steam railways, no sewing machines, no automobiles, no flying machines, no submarines and none of the many other inventions so common today.

Now, if you are back there, sitting alone in your quaint old-fashioned dwelling, read this poem and see if you do not think she had a real vision of the future happenings of the world.

Mother Shipton was born in Norfolk, England, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, 1449. Thus you see she died 43 years before Columbus discovered America.

(Original Mother Shipton Prophecy) A carriage without horses shall go. Disasters fill the world with woe. In London, Princes Hill shall be. Its center hold, a bishop's see. Around the world men's thoughts shall fly. Quicker than the twinkling of an eye. And waters shall great wonders do. How strange, and yet it shall come true. Then upside down the world shall be. And gold found at the root of trees. Through towering hill proud men shall ride. Nor horse nor ass move by his side. Beneath the waters men shall walk. Shall ride, shall sleep and even talk. And in the air men shall be seen. In white, in black, as well as green. A great man then shall come and go. For prophecy declares it so. In water men then shall float. As easy as a wooden boat. Gold shall be found in stream or stone. In land that is as yet unknown. Water and fire shall wonders do. And England shall admit a Jew. The Jew that once was held in scorn. Shall of a Christian then be born. A house of glass shall come to pass in England—but alas! alas! A war will follow with the work. Where dwells the pagan and the Turk. The states will lock in fierce strife. And seek to take each others life. When North shall thus divide the South. The eagle built in lion's mouth. Then lead and blood and crust will war. Shall come to every humble door. Three times shall sunny, lovely France. He led play a bloody dance. Before the people shall be free. The tyrant rulers shall be seen. Three rulers, in succession, be. Each spring from different dynasty. Then, when the fiercest fight is done. England and France shall be as one. The British olive next shall twine. In marriage with the German vine. Men walk beneath and over streams. Fulfilled shall be our strangest dreams. All England's sons shall plow the land. Shall off be seen with hook in hand. The poor shall now most wisdom know. And waters wind, where corn did grow. Great houses stand in far-flung vale. All covered over with snow and hail. And now a word in uncouth rhyme of what shall be in future time. For in those wondrous, far-off days. The women shall adopt a craze. To dress like men and trousers wear. And cut off their lovely locks of hair. Their right attire with brazen bow. As witches on a broomstick now. Then love shall die and marriage cease. And nations wage as babies decrease. The wives shall fondle cats and dogs. And men live much the same as hogs. In nineteen hundred twenty-six. Build houses high of straw and sticks. For then shall mighty war be planned. And fire and sword sweep the land. But those who live the century through. In fear and trembling, this will do: Fly to the mountains and the dens. To bog and forests and wild fens. For storms shall rage and oceans roar. When Gabriel stands on sea and shore. And as he blows his wondrous horn. Old worlds shall die and new be born.

New Vitamin-Rich Vegetable

Oscar of the Waldorf prepares a serving of Celtuce with a sauce he created to enhance the flavor of this new vegetable. At right is a field of Celtuce with a few stalks cut and trimmed for market.

FROM the border of Tibet to the tables of New York City is a long jump for a vegetable. But that is what happened to a delicious member of the lettuce family, introduced this year to American gardeners by David Burpee, famed Philadelphia horticulturist.

The new vegetable is called Celtuce, because it combines the tastes of celery and lettuce, though it is rightly a member of the lettuce family. The first seeds were sent to Mr. Burpee by a missionary friend in China, near the Tibet border. That was in 1933, and this year he has offered seeds to the public for the first time. The new vegetable is rich in vitamins A, B, C, and G.

Oscar of the Waldorf, most famous of chefs, said this week: "I have tried Celtuce, the delicious new vegetable. In many ways, cooked, hot and cold, as well as raw. Recently we served it as a hot vegetable with a fine Hollandaise sauce at a dinner given here at the Waldorf-Astoria by Mr. Lucius Boomer, president of the hotel, and all agreed that it was especially good. Here is how it was prepared with my own recipe for the sauce: "Medium size selected Celtuce stalks were well peeled and well cleaned," he explained, "allowing a few greens to remain at one end

CAR OWNERS HAVE WRONG IDEA, CLAIM

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Government officials plan to clamp down rigid controls over the nation's entire transportation system, even to the point of telling a motorist how far he can drive each year.

Nonessential train and bus travel may come under restrictions at a later date, it was said. Unless tires are conserved, it was warned, there may be no automobile transportation at all by the Fall of 1942. Joseph B. Eastman, head of the Office of Defense Transportation, has sent letters to all governors and heads of cities of more than 10,000 population calling on them to start a "nationwide war transportation program." He urged quick adoption of a three-point plan:

- 1. Systematic staggering of business, school and working hours.
2. Group riding in private automobiles on a planned, neighborhood-by-neighborhood basis.
3. Improved regulation of local traffic to make possible more efficient movement of passenger vehicles, both private and commercial.

Eastman sent to the mayors copies of a brochure containing a master plan embracing the three points which has been put into effect in Pontiac, Mich. In the communication the ODT said: "A sense of utterly false security exists in the private automobile owner's mind. He believes he can ride in the bus, street car or train when his car is gone."

The statement said in effect that this will not be possible since to make enough extra buses, street cars and trains "the national industrial effort would have to be turned from tanks and planes to buses, street cars, trains and trucks."

Pointing out that three out of every four workers depend on their own automobiles to get to their jobs, the statement said: "If all of the 33,000,000 motor vehicles (operating in the United States) were equipped with new tires today, motor transportation would disappear entirely by the Fall of 1944. But they are not all equipped with new tires—creeping paralysis would set in long before that date."

Eastman said the average number of passengers per car at present is less than two, including the driver, where most cars can carry five. He said the cars must be conserved to outlast the war.
