YOUNG DEMOCRATS
STIN, April 30.—Executive committee of the Young Democratic clubs of Texas
Thursday had been called to meet in Austin Sunday for final plans for the state convention, which will be held in Corpus Christi June 12-13. The call was issued by President
Price Daniel of Liberty, through Secretary Linden Jones of Austin.

FOR RIDING HIGH—To beat rubber shortage Dr. Don Truitt, left, of Long Beach, Calif., devised this plywood high-wheeler. Lorraine Foreman gets the first ride.

RUSSELL SPOKE TO ROTARIANS
TODAY ON RATIONING; RUBBER
TIGHTENING; ENOUGH SUGAR

O. J. Russell brought a message to Rotarians today on Rationing, which included tires, tubes and sugar, all of which, as Russell expressed it, "are foremost in the minds of Ciscons today."
Circle 4 women of the First Christian church served another of their famous meals, featuring hot rolls, which they forced upon the all too willing Rotarians, saying,
"take two" as the members timidly took the largest one on the plate and stared longingly at the one beside it, which he refused—much as Julius Caesar refused the crown of the Roman empire three times when he vain would have received it.

Russell went into his subject by quoting from the part of the talk of the president of the United States given this week when he said that we were all in it to the finish and that we must sacrifice in blood and money, but that it should not be a sacrifice, after all,
since it will mean so much to ourselves and the world to do it.
"The restriction on rubber is getting more rigid," said Russell.
Rationing has been extended to tractors and trailer tires and tubes, he said. Last month the Eastland county allotment for passenger cars was 36 tires; retreads, 18; tubes, 8 and trucks
96. And this month the allotment for tires was only 18, he stated.

Russell touched lightly on typewriters, because there was little to tell about them, he said. He then went into the sugar question which is referred to as War Ration
No. 1, since there will be other ration books to follow. Sugar will be scarce because of lack of shipping vessels in which to bring it, Russell said. In the West Indies we get 37% of our sugar. About 27% comes from Hawaii, and about 35% is produced at home.
We have all of this sugar bought,
but it is probable that the home
supply will be all we can get.
And this must be divided with our soldiers and our European allies.
We consume 28,000,000 pounds
daily.

There are 32,000 people in Eastland county, Mr. Russell stated in connection with his remarks on registration, therefore it is necessary to have help to register everyone, and for that reason teachers of the towns have been pressed into taking over that part of the program.
Garland (Pete) Nance, sugar
adviser for Cisco, was called upon to say a few words regarding the wholesale, retail and industrial registration just finished. He said

OIL PRO- RATION ORDER

AUSTIN, April 30.—An unprecedented 10-day statewide oil proportion order was issued Thursday by the Texas Railroad Commission, which has been seeking ways and means to increase the amount of oil which may be transported out of the state.

The order does these things:
1. A majority of Texas fields are ordered shut in for six of the first 10 days in May.
2. In those fields heretofore declared productive of war-needed
oil, only three shutdown days are required.
3. April "schedule" allowances are continued in effect for all fields; that is, on the days they are allowed to produce, the fields
may produce the amount they were allowed in April.

Monday's registration total about 2,900

Monday's registration of men between 45 and 65 years of age in Eastland county totals up to about 2,900, according to Leon McPherson, secretary of the county selective draft board.

RARE AIR OF CISCO PUTS MAN TO SLEEP

A hot telephone tip reached the Daily Press office this morning that a man had been run down on the lake road near the city and that a police car and an ambulance
had been dispatched to the scene.
Within a few minutes the police car and the ambulance dashed by the Press office enroute to the point of disaster.

A little later both vehicles returned to the city—empty. A hitch hiker, bound for Albany,
had been overcome by the soothing
air and had fallen asleep!

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON
May 1, 1942

TO THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS

This week a new campaign for the sale of War Bonds and Savings Stamps is under way throughout the Nation. It is the War Bond Quota Campaign.

It is urgently necessary that you double the rate at which you are now buying War Bonds and Stamps. This will mean the sale direct to individual Americans of War Bonds and Stamps to the amount of not less than one billion dollars every month.

One billion dollars a month is the National quota. It is equal to one-tenth the combined income of all Americans.

This money is needed to buy the tools of war for your fighting forces. It will not pay for all of them. Our war expenditures now are at the rate of about $200,000,000 a month, and they are growing daily. But a billion dollars a month direct from the people will make all-out production possible. Without it we cannot do our best; without it we cannot put forth our full effort.

It is desperately needed for another reason. We can't fight a war and at the same time live and spend as usual. There are not enough goods to go around—the things we buy with money. If we go on spending at the 1941 rate, we'll be robbing the fighting men to add to our own comfort or pleasure. We'll be driving up the cost of living for all of us. We'll be imposing dire hardships on our neighbors.

What is asked of you is ten per cent of your earnings—a little for liberty. It is not a tax; it is not even a contribution; it is a loan at interest, for your use and protection later.

Your Government asks you to not cut down your expenditures, to SAVE—your boys on the firing line and in the training camps, through your Government, ask you to save so that they may have what they need to WIN THE WAR for you—America asks you to save; to SAVE TO WIN THE WAR, to buy War Bonds and Stamps up to not less than ten per cent of your income.

Is Liberty worth it? Is Democracy worth it? Is America worth it? I think I know your answer.

Sincerely,
H. Morgenthau Jr.

The above letter was sent to this newspaper by Secretary Morgenthau in Washington. We publish it in the interest of the War Bond Quota Campaign and earnestly recommend that all our readers do their share in the tremendous job ahead of financing the War effort.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, April 30.—The state capital's airport soon may be known as Chenuault Field in honor of Col. Claire Chenuault, commander of the American Volunteer group which has made such an enviable record in air fighting in China.

The change in the name of the airport, now named for a local town councilman, is being urged because it was Colonel Chenuault
who selected the site where airplanes now land and depart for their Austin stop at municipal airport.

This work done by Chenuault
before he resigned as an American army flier to go to the assistance of the Chinese.

Enlargement of Austin's airfields was being planned and Chenuault was assigned to approve the area chosen. With Max Bickler, chairman of the Austin chamber of commerce aviation committee, Chenuault flew all over the country adjacent to Austin.

Other grants by the Texas congress were interesting. Henry W.
Augustine received an arrow award in the leg while fighting the Cherokee Indians in 1838. The wound became so serious that his leg was amputated. By special act, the Texas Congress gave him a wooden leg.

Lurovic Colquhoun was reimbursed by the Texas Congress at a total cost of $339.50. It was noted that this payment was for expenses incurred while imprisoned at Perote by the Mexicans, and for a horse.

The men who made up the senate and house of the Texas congress represented a wide range.
Moseley Baker had edited the Montgomery (Alabama) Advertiser, a paper still published, before he came to Texas. He is said to have made the first speech at the San Felipe convention urging the separation of Texas from Mexico.

In the war that followed the declaration of independence he rose from private to Brigadier General. At various times in his life he was lawyer, editor, soldier,
preacher and congressman.

Baker also was participant in which is probably Texas closest political race for important office.
He was defeated for Congressman
in 1841 by a single vote.

Jesse Billingsley went into the Texas Revolution from approximately where the United States
now is beginning to train thou-

LASHIO IN JAP HANDS

CHUNKING, April 30.—Japanese mass offensive, led by tanks and airplanes and supported by heavy artillery bombardment, captured the key Burma communications town of Lashio Wednesday,
a Chinese communique said today.

The communique said the battle was continuing, however, in the vicinity of Lashio, 80 miles from the Chinese border, and that both sides had suffered heavy casualties in the fighting.

Capture of Lashio cut off Allied supply route to China and threatened to encircle Chinese and British forces on the Central Burma front, but military spokesmen said enemy spearheads are being counter-attacked and might be encircled, because of their extended communications lines.

STEPHENS TO TRAIN GIRLS FOR AIRLINES

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 30.—A one-year college course to train young women for positions in the commercial air industry will be offered next Fall by Stephens College with the sponsorship of 11
major airlines.

President James M. Wood said Thursday it was the first such course to be included in American college curricula.

Students will be instructed in general aviation, commercial air transportation and basic airline traffic procedure.

The training is designed to send young women into responsible positions immediately upon completion of study. Sponsoring airlines includes American, Braniff, Chicago and Southern, Continental, Inland, Mid-Continent, Pan-American, Pennsylvania Central, Transcontinental Western and United.

WILL ROGERS DAY.
LOS ANGELES, April 30.—
Mayor Fletcher Bowron has pro-

Day and calls "upon our citizens as far as their ability permits to buy additional war stamps and bonds on this day in memory of
Will Rogers."

STARK IN LONDON
LONDON, April 30.—United States Ambassador John G. Winant
and Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander of the United States
naval forces in European waters,
arrived in London, Thursday.
Stark's visit was looked upon as an important development in United Nations strategy in view of President Roosevelt's disclosure that American naval units are now operating in the Mediterranean.

CALF BRINGS $244
SHERMAN, April 30.—One of the highest prices paid for a calf in the state this year went to Charles Terry, Southmayd High School Future Farmer boy, as his grand champion was sold following the fat calf show sponsored by the chamber of commerce
Monday.

No matter who or what he is, he is in the wrong if he thinks of personal or group advantage instead of national advantage.

BRITISH USE 4,000 PLANES IN PARIS AREA

Britain, continuing
its non-stop aerial offensive against the Nazis, bombed German-dominated war
plants in the Paris sector today and the Red army held its initiative
with new stabs at the Germans on the eastern front.

One of the biggest aerial battles of the year was reported from Dover Straits as the RAF, using an estimated 4,000 planes in the sustained 8-day offensive, renewed the daylight attacks after spreading fire and
bomb damage through
the Gnome-Rhone Motor Works and Goodrich rubber plant just outside of Paris.

French reports said 52 had been killed and probably 150 injured
in Paris suburbs.

Intense aerial fighting was also reported
from the Russian front,
where the Soviets said 247 German planes
had been destroyed in the last eight days -- a total of 900 planes and 2,000 fliers in three weeks.

Russians also reported troops holding
the initiative in scattered but severe land battles and that they had killed some 45,000
Germans during the 6-month siege of Sevastopol, in the Crimea.

AIR ACE KILLED
M'ARTHUR HEADQUARTERS

who accompanied General Mac-

was announced today. Melville Jacoby, war correspondent for Time Magazine, lost his life in the same crash.

PATENTS IN THE POT

Among important rules waived in war time are the patent laws, by which scientists and inventors are normally guaranteed the fruits of their labors. This is a large, complex subject, just now of great interest.

Foreign patents useful for war purposes were seized by the United States in the last war, but to a large extent restored afterward. The President says there is to be no such generosity this time. Those who have attacked us will lose such property rights as part of their punishment. For remuneration, the foreign owners of such patents must go to their own governments. That seems fair enough.

As for the patents on inventions and processes owned and controlled in this country, the problem is not so simple. They involve production of chemicals, machines and articles of a thousand kinds. The inventors, or other owners to whom they have sold their inventions, have developed property rights often very valuable and widely held through stock companies. What about such rights?

THE NURSE PROBLEM

It is natural for young men laid up in the hospital to fall in love with the nurses. There may be danger in that—not to the patients or the nurses, but to the Allied cause. The service men temporarily laid up for repairs naturally go back to the job when they get out, but a lot of nurses may be recruited from circulation.

There isn't much use, though, in mourning over the situation. "Love," says a soldier-patient-bridgroom, "is two weeks in the army hospital with a pretty nurse at your side," and that's about all there is to it.

Something might be accomplished by an organized effort to get homely nurses into the army hospitals and keep the pretty ones at home to sustain civilian morale. But on second thought, there would be uncharted perils in such a policy. So Uncle Sam—or maybe Hitler should have the credit for it—will have to go right on operating his informal matrimonial bureau.

SELF-SERVICE

Increasing labor shortage is making trouble for restaurants. More and more cooks and waitresses go into factories. More and more bus-boys go to war. A real problem is beginning to appear.

Miss Dorothy Penn, chief of staff of the American Restaurant Institute, told her association at its recent convention that more self-serve restaurants would have to be the answer. The business man and the woman shopper must alike push the tray along the counter if they would be fed. Only a few restaurants will be able to keep adequate help. Some will undoubtedly make a combination service, with a lessened number of servitors.

Few Americans will object to this. Every time they remember that by carrying their own trays (and getting good exercise going back to the counter for the things they forget) they release a girl to make shell casings to put down the Axis, they feel a satisfied and patriotic glow up and down their spines.

WAR-TIME VACATIONS

Holiday season comes on apace. Families accustomed to trips and fun are wondering whether it is really right to take vacations when their country is at war. They think perhaps they should buy bonds instead of recreation. It is true that money is needed for the nation to wage the war. Ten per cent of the income ought to be set aside regularly for the war savings. If the family cannot save ten per cent of its income in this way and still have enough left for a trip, the trip will have to be abandoned for this year.

But it is also true that the nation needs strong people, rested and refreshed by summer relaxation, ready for hard work in the autumn. It is also true that the people who cater to tourists as their normal work cannot buy war bonds or pay war taxes unless they have business to do during the war.

So perhaps this question, like so many similar ones involving our normal standards of living, comes down to a matter of proportion. Can the vacation be taken for half the usual amount of money? What's the matter with a short trip instead of a long one? A few days of seeing something new and different, then a few more of back yard resting and pleasant reading, may do as much for the physique and mentality as a more expensive holiday.

A good general rule in all these cases is to buy the bond first, then enjoy whatever income is left.

Hitler must be getting a lot of fun out of those Normandy fires. Remember the good old times when there was nothing wrong with the world except a slight flattening at the poles?

OPEN FORUM

Cisco Bank Robbery.

In January, 1887, on a cold, snowy day and around the noon hour, four men rode into Cisco and dismounted at the Ahart Livery Stable and Wagon Yard, which was located just back of the Red Front drug store. They scattered in pairs and met at the First National Bank building (now occupied by the A. and P. grocery store). Drawing their guns, the quartet stepped into the bank. Two remained just inside the door and the other two advanced to the front and demanded the bank's money.

Mart Owens, a cattleman, who was later killed in the Cisco cyclone of April 28, 1893—49 years ago—was in the bank and spoke to one of the robbers. Owens was quickly silenced by a blow over the head from a heavy 45.

L. E. Brannen was also in the bank at the time and they took his watch. The timepiece was later recovered from one of the thieves—John Barber—who was captured in the Indian Territory by U. S. marshalls. The federal officers were able to return Brannen's watch to him, his name having been engraved in the back of it. This writer saw the watch after its return to Brannen. (Brannen died last year in Dallas. He was past 90 and always kept the watch as a reminder of his days in Cisco.)

Another one of the robbers—Tom Price—was captured a few days after the robbery, in Comanche county, and was brought back and lodged in jail at Eastland. In about ten days—some way, some how—Price walked out in broad daylight and was never apprehended. He was from a well-respected Comanche county family and this writer and he attended school together when boys.

The robbers went west out of Cisco, or in the direction of Putnam; thence south to the mountains of Callahan county. Near the Childs farm they dismounted and struck camp for the night. Here they evidently divided the loot (about $5,000). The next day 35 cents in change was found near the remains of a fire. They split up in couples the next morning, apparently, since their horse tracks indicated two had gone southwest and the other two towards Rising Star; which, at that time, was a very small village—two stores and a blacksmith shop.

Judge D. K. Scott, still an honorable and respected citizen of Cisco, was at that time deputy sheriff under Sheriff Jim Schmick, and they were hot on the trail of the bank robbers.

A very few old timers in addition to Judge Scott, and who are yet residents of Cisco, are Charlie Fee, Bob Manell and possibly W. P. Pulley, now living at Moran.

Mrs. Lillie Baugh, Cisco post-office employe, was of course a resident of Cisco at that time. Her father, the immortal H. C. LeVeaux, was cashier of the bank at the time it was robbed.

Perry Paschall and a crowd of Cisco folk followed the thieves to the outskirts of the little town. Paschall fired at them with a 32-calibre pistol. When he did, the robbers turned around, four abreast, held up the money sacks and beckoned to the boys to come and get them. But, somehow, the boys seemed to have urgent business back in town and gave up the chase.

And that's the story of the 1887 bank robbery.

figures of the early Congress when the capital of the Republic was at Columbia. He attended the sessions wearing a buckskin suit taken from an Indian, and slept at night on the floor of the capital. Asa Brigham, Texas' first treasurer, suffered the embarrassment of losing $25,000. Although the amount was private and not public funds, it caused quite a stir.

That was long before the state had its modern fire-proof, burglar-proof. In fact, there was not a single iron safe in Austin at that time. After Brigham received the money he had no immediate opportunity to put it in a hiding place so he carried it in his pocket. He was greatly relieved when the packet was found 10 months later in a post oak grove.

Old records in the state capital contain many interesting bits of information. Tuberculosis sent David G. Burnett to Texas where he became president ad interim of the Republic in 1836. Edward Burleson, a San Jacinto hero and ancestor of the late U. S. Postmaster General Albert Sidney Burleson, was the first person buried in the State cemetery to which the remains of many early Texans are being removed. Nestor Clay, a delegate to the 1833 convention of Texans at San Felipe was a cousin of Henry Clay.

The first job of Gail Borden Jr., in Texas was compiling the official papers of the colonies. Later he established the state's first newspaper, moving it from San Felipe, to Harrisburg, to Columbia and Houston as the fortunes of war and the change of government made necessary. Beside the condensed milk with which the Borden name is associated, he invented a meat biscuit, which did not prove so profitable.

Texas are using their ingenuity on war problems. On heels of the announcement that an Austin man was co-worker in development of a control system for immediate blackouts, another gadget that depends on air waves was demonstrated in the governor's office.

The small contraption gives off an alarm when anyone comes close to it. The distance at which it will give the alarm can be regulated. Its possibilities in guarding places that cannot be kept under continuous observation was apparent.

Previously a Texas inventor showed Governor Stevenson his plans for an unsinkable boat. The governor said that to his unmechanical mind it appeared to be what the designed hopes for it and referred him to proper government authorities. The attorney general's department gave former assistant attorney general Zollic C. Steakley of Sweetwater an unusual send-off before he departed this week to join the Navy.

Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann was out of town and first assistant attorney general Grover Sellers "abdicated" in Steakley's honor so all opinions issued on the day went out under Steakley's signature as acting head of the department.

Houston's city guide, latest of the series to be issued under the Writers Project of the WPA, has hit the bookstands. It came out the day J. Frank Davis of San Antonio, head of the Writers Projects for Texas, died.

Why argue about a foolish idea? If those who defend it were capable of reason, they wouldn't believe it.

LABOR BILL TABLED BY HOUSE COM.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—By a single vote margin, the House Naval committee tabled Thursday a measure to limit war profits, lift the statutory work week limit from 40 to 48 hours and freeze the status quo of closed and open shops for the duration of the war.

The vote was 13 to 12, and came shortly after Chairman Vinson told the members that "the American people are going to have something to say about this racketeering in war plants and in labor unions in every congressional district in the nation in the November elections."

PRESIDENT'S TALK GIVEN IN TEN TONGUES

NEW YORK, April 30.—Hours and hours after President Roosevelt completed his all-network broadcast on wartime economy his words continued to go out to the world. All day Wednesday the short waves, including NBC and CBS stations, were sending transcriptions, translations and condensed versions of the talk to every available listening spot on the globe.

These relays were in addition to the direct short waving at the time the president spoke. As many as 10 languages, including Arabic, were used for the translations, with the transmissions continuing at approximately half-hourly intervals.

Recordings of those parts of the broadcast in which Roosevelt detailed the heroic accomplishments of Dr. Croydon M. Wassell, of the crew of the submarine Squalus, now the Sailfish, and of Capt. Hewitt T. Wheelers are to be sent to members of their immediate families by Frank Mullen, NBC executive vice president.

GERMANS CLAIM SIX.

BERLIN, April 30.—Six more merchant ships totaling 33,000 tons have been sunk by German submarines off the coast of the United States, the high command said Thursday. A seventh vessel, described as a "fairly large merchant ship," was said to have been damaged by a torpedo.

WIFE KILLER TO LOSE HIS LIFE FRIDAY

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., April 30.—Robert S. James, convicted of drowning his sixth wife after rattlesnake fangs felled to kill her, must die on the gallows Friday morning.

"This man is guilty," Governor Olson said late Wednesday in turning down a reprieve for the beady-eyed Los Angeles barber.

"I am convinced that James is guilty of the most abhorrent murder of his wife. If there was ever a case for capital punishment, this is one."

Thus virtually vanished James' last hope in his lengthy fight for life, a fight he has carried twice to the United States Supreme Court without success. The only loophole left was the governor's comment to Attorney Morris Lavine that any last-minute presentation could be made up to the time of the hanging.

A special rope has been stretched at the San Quentin gallows for more than two years in preparation for the day James would be executed. James recently has been conducting a Bible class for other doomed men in condemned row.

James first thrust the foot of his young wife of only three months, Mary Busch James, into a box of rattlesnakes. After the poison failed to take effect speedily, he drowned her in a bathtub and then threw her body in a garden pond. The state charged he killed her for her insurance.

The crime was committed in Los Angeles in 1935, when hanging still was the legal method of execution in California. Consequently James must be executed that way. The present method is the lethal gas chamber.

... after 10 years of something for nothing!

JIMMIE, too young to know about the newfangled theories of the past 10 years wherein you get something for nothing, is simply amazed at getting even double for his money.

A double-decker brings a "Gee-Whiz!" and bulging eyes.

And Jimmie is right. The war is disproving all the socialistic theories of the last decade. The country is paying in blood for the sweat and toil it failed to expend in honest work during a period when political boondoggling and perpetual emotion substituted for labor to make our nation strong and unite.

The awakening is painful.

Today we are straining every ounce of energy in the wartime effort while proving the old theories wrong... working night and day to get something for anything! Today we know that PRODUCTION, not reduction, makes a people strong, a nation free.

We are paying dearly for producing too little, too late!

We will win, of course.

No other country can compare with America's potential war production. No other has the men, the machines—or the electric power.

America's electric companies, under trained and experienced business men, are supplying power for the vast wartime industries where it's needed when it's needed... a supply that is greater than the combined total of all the enemy nations.

While most everything else has gone up, electric rates remain the lowest in history.

In fact, like Jimmie, you are getting a double-decker... double for your money. The average price of electric service today is about half of what it was just 15 years ago.

It's true, maybe, that your bill hasn't been cut in half.

The answer is, of course, that you use more and better lights, more new and useful appliances.

But right now for two nickels a day a majority of West Texas homes operate lights, radio, cleaner, toaster, washer and refrigerator.

No, you don't get "something for nothing." But the electric nickel buys just about the world's biggest double-decker!

Eager Naval Recruits Learn Tough Jobs As U-Boat Menace Increases Sturdy Men Train For Fierce Sea Battles in Canada's Fighting Navy

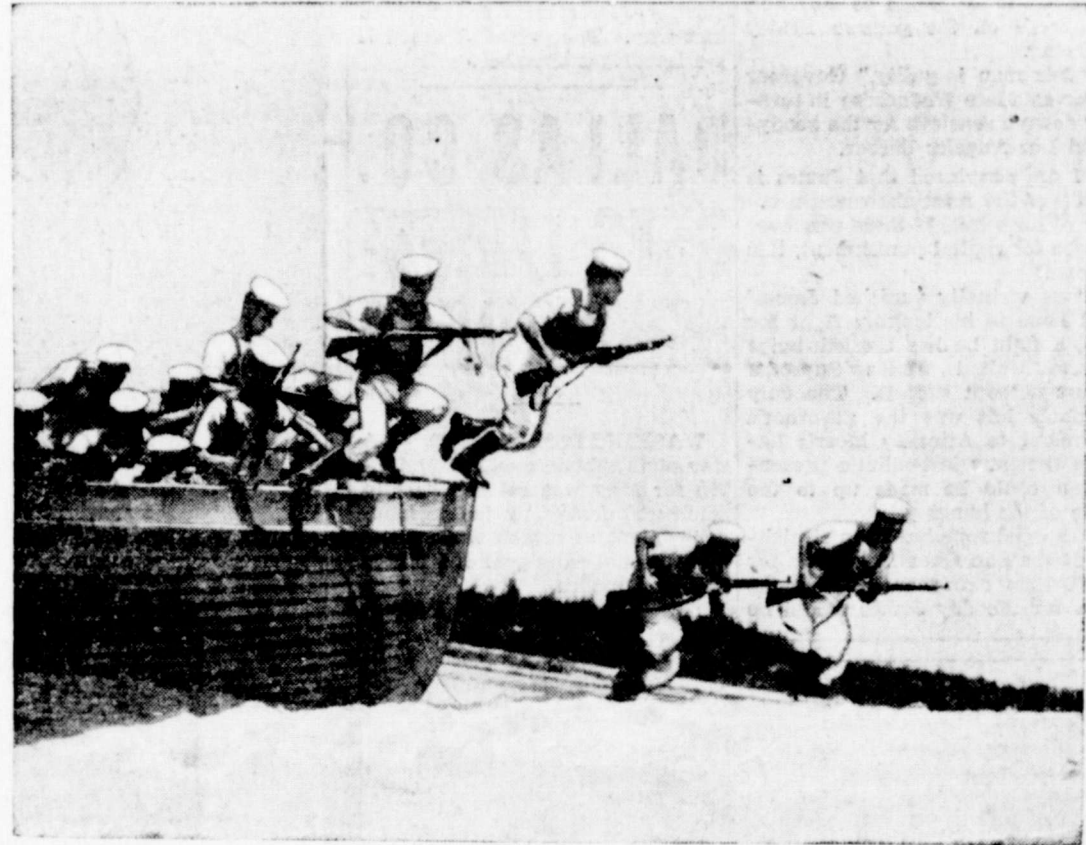

In larger centres across Canada, both inland and on the seaboard, young naval recruits are learning how to fight the axis at Volunteer Reserve Units. Here the "colors" are raised at H.M.C.S. "York," Toronto naval barracks. Final training will be given at some coastal point. Simulated battleship lends atmosphere.

End of the first day in the navy brings up the trick of turning in. Hammocks are pretty difficult for the uninitiated. Turning means falling out, but before long they will find the hammock is best in a rolling, pitching vessel. In the danger areas at sea sleep fully clad, ready for action.

On their ability to snatch from the air the brief messages allowed in wartime may depend the fate of ships and men. These wireless students are given a stiff course. They must also learn the new technical devices of modern warfare allied to wireless.

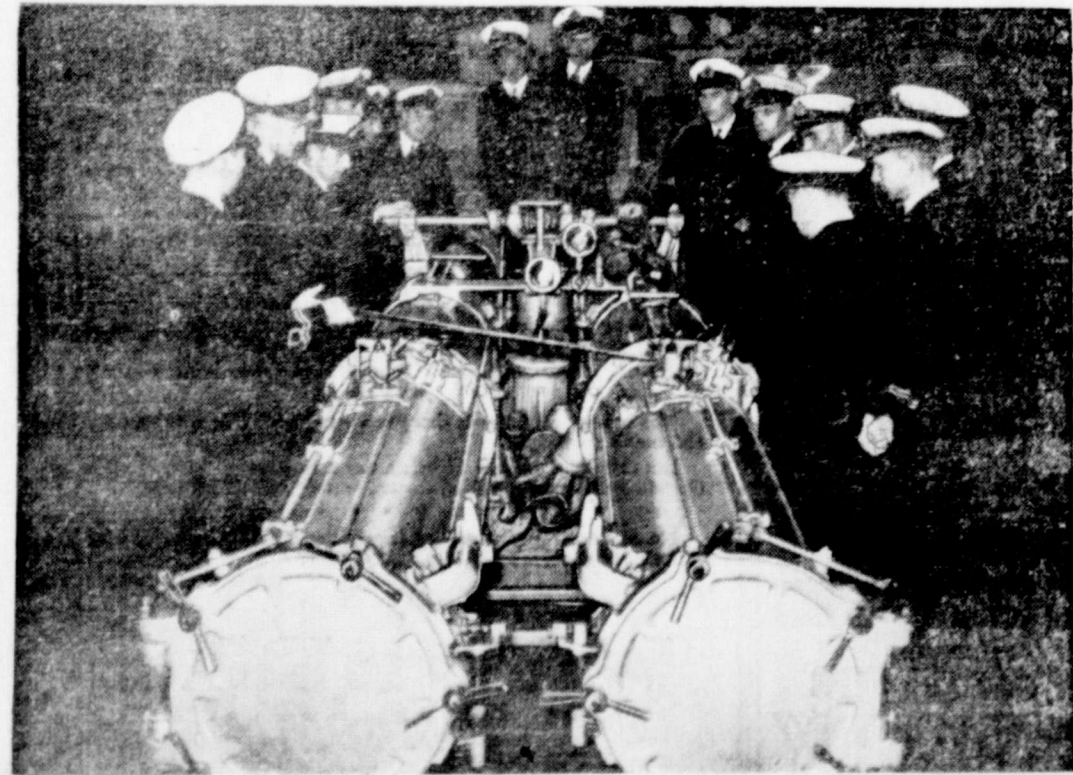

Near a British Columbia training barracks these hardy men are learning how to beat off a possible attack by the enemy on islands off the West Coast. They must become as familiar with rifles and machine-guns as their brothers in army and air force.

This blunt weapon may end the life of a U-Boat. On a ship off the East Coast these men are learning how to load a depth charge and adjust the pressure detonator.

To operate a high-angle, anti-aircraft gun under a hail of machine-gun fire from a marauding dive-bomber, sailors in Canada's navy must learn to load and fire with a speed and precision that becomes automatic. This scene is at an Eastern dockyard.

Future destroyer officers examine torpedo tubes at a West Coast barracks. Torpedoes are the chief weapon of destroyers against enemy ships. They are designed to go to any depth and to hold their chosen course. One good hit may sink a battleship.

"Night and day, in fair weather and in foul . . ." Standing at the stern of a corvette, a duffle-coated sailor of Canada's navy is ready to let go the depth charges beside him when the order comes. The corvette is a particular target of the U-Boats and vigilant eyes must keep on the alert in the zones of enemy operations. In the fog, a cable's lead away, a sister corvette helps guard the convoy with its vital supplies. The continuous success of convoy's movements across both oceans depends on alertness of trained

CATTLE MARKET

Steers and yearlings were very uneven on the Fort Worth market Thursday. Some early sales ruled steady to weak, with some later sales looking about 25c lower than on Wednesday. Cows and bulls were steady. Weakness in the calf market was most apparent on plain quality stockers and heavy-weight slaughter calves.

Hogs sold around 10c to 25c below Wednesday's average, with the top of $13.90 paid by all interests.

All classes of sheep and lambs were steady.

Good to choice fed steers sold at $11 to $13.25, with the top figure paid for a package of 828-pound steer yearlings. Common to medium steers and yearlings cashed at $8.50 to $10.50.

$9.75, butcher cows $7.75 to $8.50 and canners and cutters $5 to $7.50. Bull prices ranged from $7.25 to $9.75.

Good to choice fat calves ranged from $11 to $13.50, with common to medium butcher calves at $9 to $10.50 and culls at $7.50 to $8.50.

Stocker steer calves sold at $14.50 down and stocker heifer calves at $13.50 down. Stocker yearlings brought $12.50 down and stocker cows $9.50 down.

In the hog yards most of the good to choice 180 to 280 pound butchers cashed at $13.85 or $13.90 with a few early sales at $13.75. Packing sows were steady to weak, mostly at $12.75, a few at $13. Stocker pigs were steady, mostly $11 to $12.

Sales in the sheep yards included medium to choice Spring lambs at $11 to $12.50; shorn lambs at $10.50 to $11, latter price for lambs with a short wool credit; shorn 2-year-old wethers at $8.50 down; shorn aged wethers at $7 down, and shorn feeder lambs mostly at $7 to $8.
