ROTARIANS ATE HOT ROLLS AND HAD REPORTS FROM DELEGATES TO WICHITA FALLS CONFERENCE

After doing ample justice to the hot, home-made rolls and other good foods supplied by the ladies of the First Christian church, Rotarians heard reports from the retiring president, Edward Lee, vice-president, Lonnie Shockley and incoming president, Ernest Hittson, who were delegates to the Rotary conference at Wichita Falls, May 10-11.

Following these reports, Ernest Hittson, A. E. McNeely and Mrs. Ben Krauskopf played several violin numbers with Miss Billye Cole at the piano.

Rotarian Hittson gave some highlights of the talk by Rotarian Ed F. McFaddin of Hope, Ark., in which he mentioned the loss of 393 Rotary clubs in Europe on account of the war, this being about ten percent of the clubs of the world.

Another conference speaker, O. B. Sellers, mentioned that it would be a hard year on Rotary because so many small businesses would pass out of the picture, and because others would be moving about and attendance would be cut down, Mr. Hittson said.

Lonnie Shockley, who attended the Community Service program at the conference, made mention of the observations of Rev. J. Stuart Pearce, formerly of Cisco, who was on that program. Edward Lee told of the argument about endorsing the new dictator being groomed from Texas. He also mentioned the spirit shown by a Rotarian from Crowell, which had been so recently hit by a tornado, destroying almost the entire town. Lee said he was impressed by the spirit of those people who were building back their town. Lee also mentioned that the Cisco Rotary club had donated to the restoration of the town.

District Governor-elect Charles Paxton was voted official delegate to the International Rotary convention at Toronto, Kan., for the Cisco club.

98 GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUPILS GOT DIPLOMAS

Carrying out the idea of self-education—doing the things themselves—Cisco Grammar school class ended its year of work and received its diplomas of graduation from the hands of the highest, and next highest honor students—Joe Tom Poe and Dorothy Grantz.

Charles Pence, announcer, presented individually the 98 graduates and the above-named honor students handed out the diplomas which permits them to enter Cisco high school at the next term. Principal Carlos J. Turner said this was one of the largest classes he has had to graduate since his coming to Cisco, several years ago. And it has been one of the best from the standpoint of work done.

"They have entered into the spirit of work and have prided themselves in raising the standard of their school, both from the point of behavior and of grades made, and I bespeak for them many honors during their high school careers," Turner continued.

The exercises were held in the high school auditorium, which was packed to overflowing. Rev. L. W. Seymour, pastor of the First Methodist church, made the address.

The program ended with the pledge to the flag by all present and the class singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

LUTHERAN COLLEGE HEAD, SEGUIN, May 28.—President William F. Kraushaar of Texas Lutheran college will receive his honorary degree at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, Friday. Kraushaar has been head of the local college for the past 13 years.

50 CAMP BOWIE MEN

Mrs. W. W. Wallace, chairman of the homes committee of the Men's Service club, informed the Daily Press today that a convoy of 50 soldiers from Camp Bowie will arrive here at about 8 o'clock Saturday night to be guests of Cisco folk over the week-end.

Lieut. Kenneth W. Gardner, of Cisco, will be in charge of the visitors. Lieutenant Gardner and family reside on west Fifth street, but he is stationed at Camp Bowie.

Mrs. Wallace said an effort would be made to contact those Cisco home owners who asked for but failed to get soldier guests on Mother's Day, when Cisco successfully entertained 114 men from Camp Wolters.

Others wishing to open their homes to the soldiers this week-end may telephone Mrs. Wallace at 435, Mrs. Philip Pettit at 73-W or Mrs. K. N. Greer at 655.

There will be a dance for the visitors at Cisco Country club, Saturday night. Mrs. Edward Lee is chairman of the hostess committee and will also be in charge of the dance.

PRUSSIA BOMBED. BERLIN, May 28.—Enemy planes dropped bombs Wednesday on East Prussia, DNB reported Thursday. Two of the raiders were shot down, the news agency added.

PRINCIPAL STAMEY SAYS THAT CLASS IS SMALLER THAN USUAL, BUT QUALITY OF WORK BETTER

About 67 graduates of Cisco high school will receive their diplomas tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at high school auditorium. Eleven of these are honor graduates, having made grades of 90 per cent or above.

This class is one of the smallest to graduate from the Cisco school during the past few years, but according to Principal O. L. Stamey it is one of the best classes from the standpoint of quality of work.

The percentage of honor students is also unusually high, according to Mr. Stamey.

Hon. Virgil Seaberry, Eastland attorney, will address the student body, while Principal Stamey will give the awards of honor from local clubs and organizations of the city.

These comprise the award in History; Diversified Occupation award; the award given by the Industrial Arts club on home-making; the Rotary club award to the most valuable boy in the senior class, and the scholarship awards from various colleges and schools.

Supt. R. N. Cluck will present the class to L. A. Warren, who will represent the school board in awarding the diplomas.

Highest class honors go to Jackie Leach for the boys and to Golda Warren for the girls.

NEED US. COAST GUARDS

Joseph A. Lamb, U. S. coast guard recruiting representative from the Fort Worth office, was in Cisco today and called at the Daily Press office.

"The coast guard needs men," said Mr. Lamb, "but they must stand a first-class physical examination and be able to furnish good character recommendations."

"Men between the ages of 17 and 35 are eligible if they meet the requirements mentioned above. Motor mechanics, machinists, cooks, bakers, yeomen and storekeepers are needed. These men, if accepted, will start at $75 per month, plus $34.50 per month for married men. The 17-year-old applicants must have a high school education and will start out at $21 per month," Mr. Lamb concluded. Those interested may apply at 1011 Electric building, Fort Worth, Texas.

YELLOW DEVILS USED POISON GAS, YANGSHI

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—A poison gas attack by Japanese at Yangshi was reported Thursday by Chungking radio in a broadcast recorded in San Francisco by the CBS short wave listening station.

The broadcast said: "Enemy forces which attacked Yangshi, west of Chienteh, attempted to cross the Hsian river but were repeatedly repulsed. In desperation the enemy dropped gas bombs from planes and under that cover crossed the river. Chinese forces are engaging the enemy forces there."

JAPS SURE TO TRY US. RAID SAYS STIMSON

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary of War Stimson Thursday warned the nation that a Japanese air raid upon American cities is "inevitable" in retaliation for the "stinging, humiliating" bombing of Tokyo April 18, carried out by United States army planes.

Stimson made the assertion at a press conference when questioned about the possibility of Japan attempting to even the score.

"The United States government through Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle administered a stinging, humiliating surprise blow when it bombed Tokyo," Stimson said.

"This was shown by the fact that at the time of the raid the Japanese were boasting about their invulnerability to such an attack."

The Secretary added that to anyone who knows Oriental psychology the raid was a most serious loss of face "which can only be wiped out by a return, bigger if possible than the one suffered."

JOHN D. DOUBLED GIFT

A gift of $200,000 by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to USO, is announced by Prescott S. Bush, national war fund chairman.

This gift is a doubling of Mr. Rockefeller's gift to USO last year.

"I believe with President Roosevelt," Mr. Rockefeller said, "that USO should be supported by everybody — cheerfully, generously and now."

"The democratic ideals and freedoms at stake in this war cannot be saved or wisely directed unless we preserve and add to the moral and spiritual resources of our nation. Therein, only, lies the hope of ultimate victory—the hope of a just and lasting peace."

"To maintain and replenish these well-springs of moral and spiritual power among our fighting forces is the mission of USO. Because of the magnitude of this task, because it is being performed by the united efforts of our three great religious faiths, because USO is so vital a part of our war effort that it cannot be allowed to fail, and because the extension of the war has doubled the demands made upon USO, I am doubling my gift to its $32,000,000 budget and am happy to contribute $200,000."

"For the sake of all that America holds dear, and in the hope of a better world for those who come after us, I wish for the USO campaign the fullest possible measure of success."

Cisco people who have not contributed to USO and would like to do their bit, may contact Charles S. Sandler, city chairman, or Charles J. Kleiner, county chairman.

Mr. Kleiner would like to secure sufficient additional contributions this week to reach the county quota of $3,000, in order that the drive may be concluded.

LONG TIME NO SEE. LONDON, May 28.—Dawn Thursday ended the first 1,000 nights of the British blackout, which began Sept. 1, 1939.

REDS OUTFIGHT AND OUTSMART TIRING NAZIS

MOSCOW, May 28.—The Germans are being forced to give ground in both the Izyum-Barvenkova and Kharkov sectors, the Russians declared Thursday, indicating that the initiative on both those major battlefields of the Ukraine was firmly in the hands of the Red army.

Front-line dispatches said that the Germans, blocked in their offensive in the Izyum-Barvenkova area, were trying to dig in on new defense lines but that constant heavy pressure from the counter-attacking Russians was forcing them to fall back.

From their own freshly-fortified lines before Kharkov, the Russians said they were pushing forward. They battled fiercely overnight against German tank and infantry forces in both sectors and reported that before Kharkov one three-day battle had burned or otherwise knocked out 46 German tanks.

Russian accounts said the Germans had resorted to ruses in which some of their tanks flew Red banners and displayed Red stars and some of their troops wore Red army uniforms.

There also were several "psychological attacks," in which the Germans charged the Russian lines, firing wildly and shouting at the tops of their voices.

In one such case they tried the stunt three times, but finally fell back, leaving 1,000 dead "psychologists" on the field, the Russians said.

L. R. Holder, Scott Field, Ill., wired Monday that he has finished his training as airplane mechanic at Scott Flying Field and is coming home to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Holder and his sister, Miss Sybil Holder, at Eastland. He will also visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Holder, at Scranton.

STAND OF GOVERNOR ON RATIONING OKD

AUSTIN, May 28.—Approval of Governor Stevenson's recent stand on gasoline and car and truck mileage rationing in Texas was voiced Thursday by the Texas Safety association.

At a meeting in Austin Wednesday, members of the executive committee of the group endorsed the governor's statement to Texas representatives in Washington that such rationing in Texas was "unnecessary" and would prove "disastrous to the public spirit."

UNIONS CAUSE TROUBLE.

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ., May 28.—Two thousand workers employed at a government war project 21 miles west of here looked about Thursday for some place to eat as restaurants and all other businesses remained closed in a merchants' protest against activities of union organizers.

RIISING AIR POWER

Major Alexander de Seversky is probably right in his glorification of air power, only he seems a little ahead of the game. Wars may be won in the air, over the land and over the sea, if given the right kind of equipment and enough of it. The present war strongly suggests this conclusion, in spite of the effectiveness with which Russia is using tanks and even old-fashioned cavalry. We seem to be coming into an era when, although armies and navies continue, the "air arm" will be superior to them and will normally bear the main brunt of warfare.

Navy may become primarily carriers and supply bases for war planes. There may be an end to what Seversky calls "the complex absurdity of building airplanes to protect navies against airplanes, so that navies may do the work which the airplanes can do far more quickly, more economically and without dependence on the support of another service." But much of this expansion of aerial warfare is still in the future. For the duration of the present war, at least, the big knockout blows may continue to be delivered by land and sea forces, supplemented by an increasingly powerful "air arm." The control of the world by aerial police forces imagined by Rudyard Kipling early in this century is yet in the future.

THE DIVIDED FRENCH

Two Free French governors on New Caledonia are in conflict. The U. S. and Great Britain have urged Gen. Charles de Gaulle to straighten this out and to clear up similar situations in Syria and French Equatorial Africa.

Military adherents of de Gaulle want him to stick to military objectives. Other elements want him to adopt political objectives. The U. S. has given military but not political recognition to the movement.

Besides these minor uncertainties in the Free French government in exile, there are greater matters of indecision and uncertainty in France itself. De Gaulle is pre-eminently a military leader. The German successes of the first years of the war were based on de Gaulle's own book. The war of swift movement, of flexible troops, is de Gaulle's idea. His own people rejected it in favor of the Maginot Line theory.

But de Gaulle has had no experience in civil administration. In the political field, one does not "say to a man, 'Go!' and he goes; say to him 'Do this' and he does it" as many famous army men have found to their cost. He enters a land of compromise, of give-and-take based on temperament and historical precedent. So minor troubles are not surprising.

If the French can get one great idea, they can save themselves. The word is Unity. Individual preferences, parties, theories, must give way to the common good. They must follow one leader, whether or not they approve him. Unity is the only thing that now can save France free.

CAUTIOUS OPTIMISM

The recent wave of confidence that has swept over this country and through the Allied Nations gives way to a spirit of caution. Many officials at Washington, and many independent critics, sound the same note. There is a legitimate expectation of victory, but with it is the knowledge that it would be very dangerous to take victory for granted, with the let-down of spirit and effort that might result from long delay.

The wise thing at present is to take nothing for granted, excepting the will and the power to win if the nation throws all it has into the struggle and keeps everlastingly on the job. It is better to realize that we could lose this war, by thinking the job easier than it is.

POLITICAL BUNK

James V. Allred and ex-Governor Dan Moody, senatorial candidates, have addressed letters to State Democratic Chairman E. B.

Germany advocating action by the state committee to permit men in the service to vote in the primaries, if otherwise qualified, and both will appear in person to argue the question when the committee meets in Austin June 8.

Of course, nobody objects to soldiers voting in the democratic primaries or at regular elections. However, there is a rumor out that this country is at war and it may not fit in with the ideas of army and naval heads to call a halt in military preparations in order that the soldiers boys can cast a ballot for Moody or Allred or anybody else. If they do vote, however, they will vote like their folks at home — AS THEY PLEASE!

With the present practice of running words together, complains a critic, it begins to look like a "dimout of the English language."

Of course the Nazis couldn't locate Shangri-La. And if they did, they wouldn't know what it was about.

OTHER EDITORS

New Yorker Talks Willard Chevalier, publisher of Business Week: "What does it take to win a war? According to the slogans, war bonds will win the war, or production, or taxes."

But none of the slogans, of course, is true. Only one thing can win the war, and it has not been put into any slogan. For it reeks of blood, sweat, and tears, and such grim matters do not make slogans.

That one thing is fighting. Only fighting will win the war. And before any people can fight to win, they must be filled with a fighting spirit. They must be for something or against something hard enough to throw in all they have. They must be willing to fight as naturally as they eat, sleep, or breathe.

To use to whom such a notion is distasteful should be reminded that their country was won for them by such fighters only a few generations ago, and that our one hope of survival now is that their fighting instinct still glows beneath the ashes of self-indulgence and easy living. No nation, rich, productive, pampered, scornful of others, can be maintained by any means short of readiness to fight at the drop of a hat.

I am writing this in Texas. And I write it because of all the places I have been since Pearl Harbor, this is where the fighting spirit seems to burn the fiercest. Down here you almost sense a sort of private Texas-Axis war. I don't know what proportion of the Texans are in the Army and Navy but I'd suspect it's high. For Texas has gone to war with the only weapon that can win wars — a fighting spirit and a heart for battle. Here I feel that more than anywhere else. The other evening someone asked me why that should be, and ever since then I've been mulling it over.

Certainly, man for man, the Texans are not radically different from the rest of us. They come all kinds and pack about the normal quota of American virtues and vices. But it does seem that down here this vital fighting spark is more universal and intense than elsewhere. Why should that be? Yesterday it seemed to me that I got a glimpse of the truth. One again I stood in the Alamo. I thought of that desperate Sunday morning and of the men who there deliberately chose certain death to surrender. And as I read the records there, I was struck for the first time that these men should be called Texans and honored as Texan heroes.

For, of the nearly 200 who died in the Alamo, only nine were native Texans, and all those were of Mexican blood. The others were native to 26 states and six foreign lands. Travis was of South Carolina, Crockett of Tennessee, Bowie of Kentucky. Dr. Pollard was a Yankee, from Massachusetts. I think even Sam Houston, who averaged the Alamo at San Jacinto seven weeks later and established Texan independence, was a Virginian.

But for more than a century these men have been honored as Texans, above any who has been born on the soil they freed. Why? When you answer that question, you'll be close to knowing what breeds a fighting spirit and why it runs so strong in the Texans.

For the thing that made Texans of Travis, Bowie, Crockett, Pollard, Houston, and all the rest of them is not what they got from Texas but what they gave to Texas. Texas did not give birth to them; they gave birth to Texas. And that's what makes them THE Texans of all time. They gave their all that Texas might be. They were fighting men. And they fought for something bigger than themselves.

Ever since then, Texans have had to be fighters. They have fought to build an empire on the site of the nation their fathers founded. They had first to fight wild beasts and wild men, then they had to keep up a running fight with the elements to make their dreams come true. Even after most of our country had been "civilized" — and already softening — Texas still bred fighting men. Until quite recently, the conditions of the Texan's life have preserved his fighting instincts. Whatever his future success may do to soften him up, the Texan of 1942 still is close to the fighting generations of his tribe.

So, it seems to me, if the rest of us Americans would share that fighting spirit, we must first fight off the temptation to esteem our country only for what we can get out of it and not at all for what we put into it. That is a weakness that comes to older lands; lately it has been getting to us. Too often the American's prowess is judged by what he can contrive to get out of his country, rather than by what he is willing to put into it.

Here is no place to speculate on the origins and implications of that failing. Here let me say only that such an attitude does not win wars, it does not breed the fighting spirit we need to win our war. And it surely does not make us into good Americans, any more than a tickle becomes a Longhorn just because he lives off one.

In short, what I am trying to say, I guess, is that it's too bad we haven't an Alamo in every state.

A most enjoyable occasion, as well as a fitting close of the gridiron career of the 1924 Fighting Lobos was the banquet tendered the high school football team Monday night in the basement of the First Presbyterian church. The banquet hall was decorated in Lobo colors—black and gold—and gathered around the festive board were over one-hundred gridiron stars, friends and fans to do honor to the West Texas champions of 1924. Plates were laid for 125, and only a few vacant chairs were noticed. The program was formally put under way by all singing "America," followed by the invocation delivered by Dr. W. P. Lee, the godfather of the Lobo aggregation. Before the banqueters commenced to partake of the palatable feast prepared by the Presbyterian ladies, a telephone messenger arrived with a message addressed to Bill Morse, which was delivered to Toastmaster R. Q. Lee, which read as follows: "The Chicago University is offering you $10,000 to serve as head coach for the Chicago team during 1925. Can you accept?" Interspersed through the several courses each of the Lobo graduates received telegrams of similar nature from the athletic associations of the leading colleges of the land, all of which were read to the assemblage by Toastmaster Lee, and lent added zest to the occasion. The climax was a telegraph message signed by Abilene chamber of commerce bidding for the entire Lobo team to matriculate in the Abilene high school, that that institution might regain the West Texas championship, and containing a supplemental offer for any means of permanently eradicating the "Honk" and the "Chigger" from which Abilene had suffered in the past. At this juncture the program was turned over to Coach Chapman, who stated that at this time the captain for 1925 would be elected, and called for nominations to succeed Captain Pinkie Alsbrook. Dr. Chas. Jones, in a humorous speech, placed himself in nomination, declaring he was but 18 years of age, weighed 250 pounds, would matriculate Monday, could run 100 yards in ten seconds, and that he had learned to sidestep by fighting bulls in Mexico. However, his nomination failed for want of a second, and C. H. Grist was elected Lobo captain for 1925. Pinkie Alsbrook, the retiring captain, complimented the team on past achievements, and predicted a more glorious season for the new team. Captain Grist responded when his name was called and stated that with the continued support of the community that was given the team the past year, the 1925 Lobos would bring home the bacon. "The Eyes of Texas" sung by all present, concluded the festivities of this annual banquet to the retiring and incoming Fighting Lobos, marking one of the most successful events staged in Cisco. To the committee, John Fanning, D. J. Moss and Tom Foley, is due largely the credit for the success of this joyous occasion, which was dismissed by Rev. Gaines B. Hall, with God's blessings.

A large crowd of parents and friends filled the high school auditorium Friday night to witness the graduating exercises of the seventh grades of the Cisco schools. Thirty-five boys and girls received their certificates of promotion to the high school. The program of the evening was well rendered by every member of the class participating. William Sledge, honor pupil of the east ward, delivered the welcome address, speaking with the ease and fluency of a veteran of the platform. Agnes Toombs, honor pupil from the west ward class, spoke to the subject "Where the Brook and River Meet." Supt. Murray H. Fly, of Strawn, delivered the address to the class. His address was directed particularly to the class and in it be outlined the elements of success necessary for the completion of the high school course. He said that each boy and girl must have a clear cut aim, that he must be willing to make sacrifices, that he must possess determination, and that he must have teachers who are in sympathy with him and his work. The address was well fitted to the occasion and was received with hearty applause by the audience and class.

At the last stroke of the clock on the hour of six Tuesday evening, the spirit of Thomas Patrick Cochrane took flight from its earthly environs. His passing caused genuine sadness among the host of friends who have known him for many years and there was a spirit of gloom even with those of more recent acquaintance. Christmas eve, while helping arrange the Christmas tree at the First Methodist church, he fell and broke two ribs, which is thought to have contributed to the pneumonia attack from which he died. Mr. Cochrane was born in Gates county, N. C., June 9, 1846, and came to Texas in 1891, locating in Stephens county, where he engaged in stock farming and conducted a blacksmith and wood working establishment. In April, 1919, he removed to Cisco, buying a home on West Seventh street, where he lived until the fire which destroyed his residence about a year ago, when he purchased the Platt home on the corner of West Fifth street and F avenue, where he died. Among the many and beautiful floral offerings was a fiery cross containing the three Ks, a tribute from that organization. Serving through the Civil war, deceased was a gallant soldier of the Lost Cause, and at its termination was one of those intrepid souls who helped to restore civilization to the Southland through the government of the invisible empire. Besides the widow the following children are bereaved by the passing of Thomas Patrick Cochrane, an esteemed citizen of Cisco, and indulgent parent: William Cochrane of De Leon; Mrs. Roy Keathley, Mrs. H. E. Wilson of Cisco; Mrs. E. G. Pierce - of Breckenridge; Mrs. Luther Harbin of Mesquite; Mrs. Howard Boone, Miss Tommie Cochrane and Curtis Cochrane of this city.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 1 pint a day. When a disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it causes nagging backaches, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, get-up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Has Birthday Event

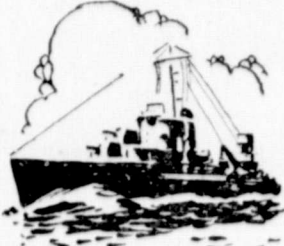

The auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church met for a birthday party Tuesday afternoon in the church. The party celebrated the birthday of the auxiliary in the southland. Each member attending brought an offering to this annual event, which goes one year to foreign missions and the next year to home missions. The offering this year will be given to Stillman Institute at Tuscaloosa, Ala. to be used in training negroes for church leadership among their own people.

A splendid program was presented which was directed by Miss Willie Word. Mrs. John E. Moriarty brought the devotional; parts were given by 20 members telling of places where offerings have been sent since 1922, and at the close of her talk each member pinned a tiny Christian flag on the map where mission station is located. Mrs. W. W. Wallace concluded the program by stating the objectives of this year's offering.

The group was then invited to the lower auditorium of the church for a social hour. Refreshments were served at the conclusion to Dr. and Mrs. Gary L. Smith, Mrs. C. H. What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Ships of the Destroyer type comprise the bulk of our fighting ships in the American Navy. Their average displacement is about 1800 tons, and they are fast, powerful, and hard hitting. They have been particularly effective in convoy duty and gave a good account of themselves in the Coral Sea engagement. They cost approximately $3,600,000 each

Every Navy shipyard is turning out Destroyers in record time. They are essential for our two-ocean Navy. Purchase of more and more War Bonds will assure all-out production of these vital units for the Navy. Buy every pay day. If everybody invests at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds we can do the job. U. S. Treasury Department

CATTLE MARKET

The cattle market was slightly uneven at Fort Worth Thursday. Steers and yearlings ruled about steady. Calves and cows were slow with spots lower. Bulls and stocker supplies showed no change. Hogs sold steady to 10c lower, with the top of $14.10 paid by packers.

In the sheep yards Spring lambs were steady to weak. Practically nothing else sold early and packers were talking lower prices on shorn lambs and on aged wethers, the latter being in liberal supply and making up about 25 per cent of the offering.

Good to choice fed steers and yearlings ranged from $11.50 to $13.50. Sales included a package of steer yearlings at $13.50 and two loads of steer yearlings at $13. Medium grade short-fed and pasture-fattened steers and yearlings cashed at $9.50 to $11. Common light weight butcher yearlings ranged downward to $8.50.

Good to choice beef cows sold at $9 to $9.50, with heiferettes up to $10. Plain and medium butcher cows brought $8 to $8.75, with canners and cutters at $5 to $7.50. Bull prices ranged from $7.50 to $9.50.

Good to choice fat calves cashed at $11.50 to $13, with a few higher. Common to medium butcher calves brought $9 to $11. Cull calves cashed at $7.50 to $8.50.

THEY'RE OFF!

COME IN AND HAVE A LOOK, FOLKS!

Our Pig Growing Contest is off to a rootin', snortin' start.

Just a couple of days ago, we picked out two frisky little porkers, both from the same litter. They were both fresh off their mama's bottle, and each a living image of the other.

We brought these two pigs into the store and put them in separate pens. There they will eat and eat until they make big hogs out of themselves. One gets all the grain he wants, and the other gets grain plus Purina Hog Chow, the pork-building supplement.

Now we have an idea, folks, that the "grain plus Hog Chow" pig is going to out-gain this other pig. Why don't you drop in and estimate what you think their difference in weight will be on the date that is set for weighing them in? It will be fun to watch 'em grow, and see just how much difference Purina Hog Chow can make.

Our door swings easy, folks, so come in!

What men have done can still be done, AND SHALL BE DONE TODAY

SAD, yet proud, Uncle Sam thinks of all the soldier dead of wars gone by. The faces of the men who fought in the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and World War I pass in review. And on this Memorial Day, soldiers of World War II are added to that parade of heroes.

AMERICANS everywhere feel sadness for the lives lost, but only pride when they think of the justice of the cause for which these soldiers died, and for which they die today. Liberty is the name of that cause. In the past we have recognized the basic truth of Daniel Webster's words, "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it." Today we are asked to defend that cause once more. And we will succeed, for what men have done can still be done, AND SHALL BE DONE TODAY.
