PROST THINKS CO. WAR BOND GOAL REACHED

Mayor Issues Proclamation Urging Observance of National Flag Week

The 8-14 has been designated National Flag Week by the United States Flag association, during which period patriotic exercises will be conducted by loyal citizens throughout the nation. The mayor and city commission recently appointed A. Anderson as general chairman for the observance in Cisco and Mr. Anderson stated this morning that he will announce his committees and general program in Sunday's Cisco Daily Press.

R. Garrett, district commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, says his organization will cooperate with General Chairman Anderson in every way possible, the spirit of what the national emblem stands for may be thoroughly visualized by the young people of this area and their elders.

3 SHORT BLASTS OF SIREN

Homer Ferguson, chief air raid warden, and M. L. Perdue, chief of police, will meet with members of the Cisco Defense Guard at the fire department at 6:30 this afternoon. Later, the guard will assemble at the football park for its regular meeting.

The purpose of the gathering at 6:30, said Mr. Ferguson, is to assign guards to the territory they are expected to police during practice blackouts or during actual air raids, familiarize ourselves thoroughly with siren signals and to get together generally for thorough cooperation.

Blackouts will be heralded with THREE SHORT BLASTS of the siren.

The ALL - CLEAR signal will be ONE LONG BLAST.

No one knows when blackout signals will be sounded, but ALL CITIZENS will be expected to cooperate quickly and fully when they hear THREE SHORT BLASTS of the siren.

CHILD PRISONER.

PARIS, June 5. — One of the youngest members of the nation's armed forces, Pvt. Paul I. Yates, 16, is a prisoner of war, according to word received from the war department by his mother, Mrs. Beadie P. Yates of Paris. Mrs. Yates has not heard from her son, who enlisted in the army on Sept. 3, 1941, at the age of 15, since before the Pearl Harbor attack. At that time, she said, he was in Manila. The war department report to Mrs. Yates did not indicate where her son was serving when he was captured.

"We are at the gates of the city," German report. Those Russian cities must be a long way from the gates.

SEYMOUR WILL HAVE CHARGE ENCAMPMENT

Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Seymour will spend next week at the Methodist encampment at Glen Rose, where the former will have charge of the young people's summer assembly for the Central Texas conference.

Mrs. Seymour will teach a course, "Friendship and Marriage," one of five classes to be offered.

Registration will be limited to one hundred young people between the ages of 18 and 24, with a staff of some fifteen adult leaders.

This is the first time a separate assembly has been provided for the older group of young people, the ages heretofore having included all from 15 to 24. The younger group will meet at Georgetown, the week of June 15 to 20.

The Glen Rose assembly begins Monday morning at 10 o'clock and closes Saturday noon.

21 KILLED IN ILLINOIS EXPLOSION TODAY

POLIET, Ill., June 5.—An explosion rocked the mammoth Elwood Arsenal, one of the largest in the nation, early this morning, leaving at least "21 known dead," Capt. David P. Tunstall, army press relations officer, announced.

More than a score were injured, and 28 others working in the shipping building escaped unhurt.

Three of the dead were identified, but Tunstall did not announce the names of any of the 40 casualties.

The blast, heard for a radius of 50 miles at 2:45 a. m., destroyed the shipping building of Group Two of the Elwood ordnance shell-loading plant, which had been described by its director as the largest in the world.

Captain Tunstall said there was no hint of sabotage, but that its possibility would be investigated.

PHILPECO TO LAUNCH GOLF DUEL TODAY

Qualifying rounds at the Philpeco golf course, west of Rising Star, begins today.

The barbecue and Calcutta pool will be held tonight.

A number of Cisco golfers are expected to attend.

Play starts Saturday, with semifinals and finals played Sunday.

W. T. Hammett, last year's champion for the Philpeco tournament, will not be present, he being stationed with Uncle Sam's warriors somewhere in Mississippi, it was learned.

Publicity might prevent chiseling in country towns, but imagine a New Yorker afraid of his neighbor's opinion.

RCAF WOMEN STUDY AMERICAN WAY—Twenty members of the Women's Division of the Royal Canadian Air Force, who have arrived in New York to study the methods used by the American Women Volunteers serving with the first fighter command, are pictured around the Interceptor Table, taking a lesson in plotting the flight of attacking enemy planes.

F. D. R. WARNS JAPS

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The president of the United States gave clear-cut notice to Japan today that continued use of poison gas by that country against the Chinese would bring certain retaliation by the government of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt said he desired to "make this unmistakably clear," as he exhorted the Japanese for resorting to this "inhuman form of warfare."

The president said the United States is in possession of "authoritative reports" concerning several instances in which the Japs used gas in the China campaign.

"We shall be prepared to enforce complete retribution," the president said.

Roosevelt, in measured tones, read the following terse statement to his press conference:

"Authoritative reports are reaching this government of the use by Japanese armed forces in various localities of China of poisonous or noxious gases.

"I desire to make it unmistakably clear that, if Japan persists in this inhuman form of warfare against China or any other of the United Nations, such action will be regarded by this government as though taken against the United States, and retaliation in kind and in full measure will be meted out. We shall be prepared to enforce complete retribution.

"Upon Japan will rest the responsibility."

A reporter inquired whether this government had received any information on the use of poison gas on any of the European battle fronts.

The president replied that such reports had been received, but they were not yet authoritative.

317-BARREL WELL

COLEMAN, June 5.—Completion of the States Oil Corporation of Eastland, No. 2-B White, for a 317-barrel well highlighted news from Coleman County Friday.

The well is in T&NO survey, block 2, section 27, and is 1,401 feet from the south and 1,467 feet from the east lines of the north half of the section. Total depth is 3,594 feet, in the Gray sand, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set. Eastland Oil company et al. are drilling at 3,370 feet, in the Ellenburger lime, on the No. 1 Rob O'Hair wildcat, five miles northeast of Coleman.

Location is 330 feet from the north and west lines of lot 17, Casper Simon survey 716.

GASOLINE RATIONING WILL ABSOLUTELY WRECK TEXAS' ECONOMIC STRUCTURE, IS CLAIM

AUSTIN, June 5.—A committee of state officials today worked on a statement to be mailed to Texas members of congress to outline in detail the drastic effect which gasoline rationing will have on the state's economic and fiscal structure.

The committee was named at an informal meeting held under the sponsorship of Charles E. Simons, an official of the Texas Good Roads association. The members are Comptroller George Sheppard, Railroad Commissioner Olin Culbertson, State Superintendent L. A. Woods and Highway Engineer Dewitt Greer.

These officials primarily were concerned with the loss in revenues from gasoline and crude oil production, but at the meeting representatives of those industries pointed out the situation in which they would be placed by rationing.

As to the state itself, the gasoline tax largely supports the state highway fund, and the schools, while the oil tax goes to schools, pensions, other welfare work and support of the general state government.

Sheppard asserted "gasoline rationing absolutely will wreck the economic structure of Texas" while Woods anticipated the schools would lose $9,000,000 in gasoline tax money and taxable values of property, also going to support of schools. Greer said it would bring a virtual halt to all highway work excepting maintenance.

SOMEBODY HAS MESSED KILDAY'S CHANCE

AUSTIN, June 5.—Whether a vacancy existed on the Texas railroad commission apparently is in doubt today.

Governor Stevenson Thursday announced he had not accepted Jerry Sadler's resignation.

Sadler then declared the office vacant and asserted the governor had agreed to accept his resignation and appoint James E. Kilday, director of the commission's motor transportation division, as his interim successor.

Requested to comment on Sadler's statement, the governor then said:

"Jerry told me Saturday he was not going to resign. I told him then that he could not prolong his prospective resignation right up to the deadline for candidates to file so as to prevent other people from getting on the ticket. I just don't think Jerry's action was right."

Sadler announced his resignation Tuesday, effective as of Monday at 4 p. m.

Prior to the filing deadline Monday midnight, Kilday mailed his application for a place on the ballot to the State Democratic Executive Committee and apparently became the only candidate for the vacancy.

"The same interests which I fought in Washington," Sadler said, "now object to the successor whom I have suggested being appointed to office. They know Jim Kilday will keep waging war which I started against them. . . . I am declaring this office vacant because I have been accepted by the United States Army, and I believe no man can serve two masters."

The governor said he had informed Sadler he had no objection to naming Kilday.

LITTLE WORK; BIG FEE.

DALLAS, June 5.—W. R. Proctor, Dallas oil man, received a $9555 commission for directing a prospective borrower to the offices of Law Partners W. H. Slay and U. M. Simon, defendants in the $500,000 Mary Coats Burnett suit in 17th district court today. Slay formerly was chairman of the Trust board and Simon was trust attorney. The trust, established for recovery of trust funds lost through bad loans and for profits they derived from other loans that were repaid.

PACIFIC JAPS IN FLIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—A major naval and air battle in which the Japs already have lost the first round was developing today in the far Pacific where U. S. planes and warships are in pursuit of an enemy fleet.

The U. S. Pacific naval command at Pearl Harbor announced that "our attacks on the enemy are continuing" after the damaging of a Jap battleship, an aircraft carrier and probably other vessels which attacked the American Pacific outpost on Midway Island Thursday.

The unsuccessful attack on Midway, only 24 hours after two Japanese air raids on the Alaskan naval base of Dutch Harbor, highlighted suddenly intensified fighting on sea and in the air along a vast battlefield reaching from Alaska to Australia.

It marked a sudden shift in Japanese strategy, the purpose of which still remains obscure.

Dispatches from Honolulu said the Japanese attacks on Dutch Harbor and upon Midway, which lies 1653 miles southwest of the Alaskan Aleutian islands base, may have been for either one or two main purposes:

1. To serve as a diversion for a bigger assault—upon the United States west coast, upon Pearl Harbor or against the U. S. supply route, over which vast amounts of war materials are pouring into Australia.

2. To provide a defense against what the Japanese fear may be an Allied attack and to blunt the attacks of the "daggers" of Dutch Harbor and Midway, which are pointed at Japan's island empire. Dutch Harbor is 2835 miles from Tokyo and Midway 2588 miles.

TWO CONVICTS CAPTURED.

HUNTSVILLE, June 5.—Jack Williams and M. W. Barbee, who escaped from Eastham prison farm No. 2 Thursday afternoon, were recaptured today by guards near Alto, Cherokee county, and Barbee was seriously wounded, prison officials reported here today.

Details of the shooting were not available immediately. Prisoners still at large are Walter Lemay of Dallas, serving 12 years for burglary from Fannin and Van Zandt counties, and Lloyd Rannels, serving life for robbery from Montgomery county.

But while one boat is engaged in deep sea pleasure fishing, we are not doing our best to catch subs.

PRESS TO HAVE STATEMENT IN DETAIL SUNDAY

"Eastland county's May war bond and stamp quota as set by the federal government was $62,500," said Cyrus W. Frost, county chairman, this morning, "and I believe final tabulations will show we have slightly topped that goal."

"Today's figures show we have $58,500 in hand, but all reports are not in and a number of credits we are entitled to have not been taken into consideration as yet."

"It looks good to me and you may tell Cisco Daily Press readers that we will furnish a detailed statement for the Daily Press of Sunday morning -- with the exact amount purchased by the various cities of the county."

The quota assigned to Eastland county for June by the government is $61,900.

GREAT ALLIED TROOP CONVOY REACHES INDIA

NEW DELHI, India, June 5.—As Jap forces pressed to a point 45 miles east of India's Burma frontier, the British announced today that the largest convoy of reinforcements ever to come to the defense of India had been unloaded at Eastern India ports.

The reinforcement included light and heavy anti-aircraft guns, British and American light and heavy tanks and large number of both fighting and technical personnel.

The convoy put into Indian ports early in May and was so big it could not be handled at one port. It came through without loss.

Among the troops were some Indian soldiers trained in Britain and other troops with battle experience in France and Libya.

Crews for Hurricane fighters and American-built Kittyhawks now operating in India arrived on the convoy.

The number of troops and material was described as possibly the largest ever to leave the United Kingdom.

TO OPPOSE THOMPSON.

DALLAS, June 5. — Another name was added Friday to the list of candidates for the post of Texas Railroad commissioner now held by Ernest O. Thompson. The office of E. B. Germany, state Democratic executive committee chairman, announced that the application of Baker Saulsbury, Amarrillo oil operator, had been accepted.

DECLINE OF NAZISM

The regime that Hitler, in his earlier and more buoyant period, said would live a thousand years, now seems less confident. A new appraisal might reduce the tenure of that glorious system to a mere hundred years. Or to be realistic rather than sarcastic, say five years, four, or three, or two. It seems unlikely that such a tremendous blessing could come to the world now, in less than two years. But such a guess no longer seems absurd. When greatness starts slipping, it sometimes sinks much faster than it rose to power.

Every dent made by the Russians in the German battle line is a blow at Hitler's regime and tenure of office. Every new crime that he commits against enslaved neighbors may now be another nail in Hitler's governmental coffin. He seems to be losing his judgment and strategic instinct. He strikes out more wildly, and increasingly hurts his people and himself.

There will still be much hell to pay for letting such a monster rise to power, and rivers of blood may still flow. But there are limits to the power of evil. Such diseases as this crazy effort to master and enslave the world, making it subject to one fanatical nation or individual, run their course and are destroyed by the vigor and sanity of mankind in general. They rouse foes that quell them. This has happened many times, and is happening now.

We have about enough factories now to lick Hitler, and will soon have enough men.

OLD SHOES

The scientists have just settled a June problem that has bothered many people: why do persons who ordinarily behave politely go wild at weddings? Why, for instance, do they throw old shoes and rice at the bride? They would never dream of acting so at a luncheon or bridge party. Nor would anyone behave in this way at a funeral, which is after all not so much more serious than a wedding. How do people get that way?

Historians of popular customs have found the answer, and it is rather unexpected. Such actions, they say, do not rise out of a feeling of jollification. They go back to an old superstition, the fear of evil spirits.

Such spirits are everywhere, according to primitive or uneducated people. The Chinese couple on the Yellow River continually zig-zags his boat about to fool the demon living in wait for it ahead. Evil spirits are a danger at all times, and above all at weddings. There they gather in force to do their stuff. The only thing to do is to scare them away. Hence the old shoes and the general hullabaloo, noisier than in our day, with which our pioneer ancestors used to celebrate a wedding.

The old fear is forgotten, but the custom remains. So when people cut up at a June wedding, they are acting just as their ancestors did thousands of years ago.

They also serve who only stand and operate a riveting machine.

OVER THE HUMP

There is good news in recent figures of war production. American industry, in spite of what seemed a slow start, has shamed the pessimists and done the impossible. War goods to the amount of $20,000,000,000 were turned out last year. It was hoped to double that for this year. But so rapidly has output rolled up that, instead of $40,000,000,000 worth for 1942, the output is now expected to reach $50,000,000,000, nearly three times as great as last year.

So, Uncle Sam is beginning to produce the war materials at a rate never matched before, not even by the German war machine when concentrating the utmost effort of several countries on that job after years of preparation. From now on we should be able to swamp Hitler with armament—if we can deliver it over there.

Transportation is the bottleneck

now. Too many carrier ships are being sunk. When that difficulty is overcome, as it was in the last war, and will be in this, our enemies will be sunk—Germany first and then Japan.

SAVING THE TENTH

The National Thrift Committee gives some suggestions for saving that ten per cent of the income which is going into War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

First comes postponement of purchases not essential to family health and vigor. Next is non-purchase of things made of materials needed for war.

Necessaries are to be bought only as needed, not in quantities to hoard. Living requirements are to be "streamlined," a procedure which means cutting off extra bumps and projections—living simply and practically.

Then it is suggested that accumulated savings be left where they are. If some are drawn out to buy bonds, replace them from current earnings. Budgeting, next on the list, perhaps should be first. Without a definite plan none of the other methods work very long. The budget would call for deducting amounts for tax payments from regular pay checks, and putting aside regular amounts for life insurance and house payments.

Paying off debts as fast as possible is another suggestion. So is taking good care of all materials, using heat, telephone and electricity to get what is needed without waste. The whole list comes to this: Make a sensible plan with war savings first on it. Then live carefully and thriftily on what's left.

VEGETABLE JAM

When the Wright Aeronautical Corporation was ready to begin excavating on the 12-acre farm of A. Revicki of Woodbridge, N. J., Revicki invited the public to come and get the vegetables growing thereon. Some were ripe and ready to eat, some were coming along nicely and might be safely transplanted.

By 1 p. m. of the Sunday 350 cars jammed the highways near the farm. It took the police of three village departments and the county cops besides to straighten out the ensuing traffic snarl. Motorists brought all sorts of containers, sensible and otherwise. At 7:30 in the evening there were still 100 cars parked at or near the farm, their owners still picking or digging.

It is safe to say that most of the motorists spent more for gas than they would have done for seeds or seedlings from a nursery. But they probably had fun, and to some it may have brought an encouragement of enterprise. The story doesn't make much sense. But Revicki got a generous glow in his soul, and it doesn't matter about the tramping of his fields, because they are by now under the dig-and-dump of the big steam shovels.

TEXAS HAS GREATEST CROP OF A1 TOMATOES IN ITS HISTORY, MARKETING THEM IS A BIG JOB

The Ben E. Keith Co. of Fort Worth, is one of the pioneer produce firms in Texas. The company is cooperating with truck growers in Texas to aid in marketing the big crop of fine tomatoes now ready for distribution. Many grocers in this section are now selling these tomatoes.

Texas tomatoes provide one of the most economical sources of good nutrition. The tomato enjoys prestige for several good reasons. One is that it passes all taste tests with its matchless flavor. It scores again on food value, because it's an inexpensive source of the necessary vitamin C. And it has eye-appeal with the bright red of its coloring. In fact, the tomato is so colorful that seventeenth century Englishmen grew it purely for its ornamental value.

Tomatoes march hand in hand with the citrus fruits through every diet plan worked out by nutritionists. These two foods are the good old vitamin C standbys—almost the indispensables, so far as this vitamin is concerned. They are commonly termed Vitamin C insurance. Although the tomato built up its reputation with the dietitians on the basis of its vitamin C content, that's not all this vegetable has to offer. It almost runs the gamut of the vitamin alphabet. Besides vitamin C, it supplies A, B1, G, and the pellagra-preventive factor. Tomatoes are now moving from the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. Under the Texas law, tomatoes must be packed in standard lugs at shipping points. Three grades are recognized, U. S. No. 1, U. S. No. 2, and culis. The grade must be plainly stamped on each lug by the shipper. It pays to know the grade of tomatoes you buy. Tomatoes are served many ways, both raw and cooked. Tomatoes contain enough vitamin C to be rich in vitamin C. They're cooked or canned. Try the Classified Ad.

Preparing against the day when they will be called upon to traverse rough enemy territory without the aid of their mechanized units, British artillerymen bring their mules into play as they go through toughening-up maneuvers in the picturesque mountains of Wales. Over terrain that would be impossible for mechanized transport, men and mules demonstrated their ruggedness, wending their way over tortuous rock-strewn slopes, narrow mountain passes, over mountain and through valley to gain their objectives and set up their field pieces in assault positions. Field guns are dismantled into eight pieces for transport, the mules bearing all equipment and stores. On reaching an assault position, highly skilled artillerymen assemble the guns for action in less than two minutes. British censor has released these photos.
