THE NAZI THREAT TO CIVILIZATION

Probably the most terrible thing in Europe is the plight of the Jews in Germany and in the countries under Nazi domination. It is so distressing that sensitive Christian people who cannot help the situation hesitate even to talk about it, and so the destruction of an ancient race goes on steadily in comparative silence.

There is no telling how many Hebrew men, women and children have been destroyed by Hitler and the young Nazis he has trained to cruelty and murder. If those deliberately starved to death are numbered with the victims of wholesale assassination, they may run into millions.

William L. Shirer tells of listening to Nazi soldiers in a cafe, boasting of their exploits in killing defenseless Poles. They also told with gleeful pride how they went out casually to "hunt Jews" for sport, shooting them on the streets and highways as casually as they would shoot rabbits in the fields.

To such degradation and inhumanity has Hitler brought a generation of young men of his country. They can be defeated in war, and peace can be restored, but how long will it take for such barbarism and cruelty to be trained out of the Nazi mind?

No matter what provocation, imagined or otherwise, may accutate Adolf Hitler and his Nazi leaders, incalculable of the racial "killer" spirit can only spell ruin for the incalculators and all those brought under their devilish influence.

Here is one of the big peace problems—for Germany herself and for her neighbors.

BASEBALL HEADACHES

Organized baseball has found a worse enemy than the war. This enemy is located on American soil, consisting of the New York Yankees. Last year they won the American League pennant by a 17-game margin and took four games out of five in the world's series. That makes five years out of the last six in which they have won the American League championship, and in each of those years they carried off the honors in the world series. This year, with the season less than a third gone, they have a good lead, and apparently are going to coast in.

It is not merely monotonous; it is boring to the customers. Only when the Yankees come to town are the stands full. When the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox played a much publicized game for the benefit of the navy, less than 8,000 persons turned out. Other cities make like reports. With the pennant race practically settled, the fans think there is nothing interesting left to fight for.

The National League is less troubled, although there Brooklyn has a substantial lead. The minor leagues each stand, or fall to stand, on their own feet. Theoretically, it should make no difference to them what happens in the American League. But when such a prominent organization suffers from the over-development of one team, the whole game suffers.

BLOOD GIFTS

Human blood nowadays is hoarded as precious metals used to be. The war offers plenty of opportunities, and interesting cases arise. In New York the other day two Russian sailors, hearing about the stored blood for wounded soldiers, went into the Brooklyn Red Cross headquarters and contributed a pint each. They wanted to do it, they said, as "thanks for America's generous help to their country."

The incident is a reminder of the extensive mixing of stored blood that must be in progress now throughout the world. Perhaps the German Nazis still insist on "pure racial blood" for their transfusions, whether or not there really is any such thing. But mostly in these military transfusions, there seems to be little attention paid to the origin of the blood used, except to make sure that it is free from disease taints. There are special "blood types" that have to be recognized, and the blood of one person injected into the body of another must conform to the type. But apparently there is nothing about it that is racially important.

WHY WE FIGHT

Carl Van Doren, American historian and author of a life of Benjamin Franklin, has explained in a few words the fundamental conflict between the United Nations and the Axis. "The democratic countries believe that men are created equal and that they have inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The totalitarian powers deny that men are equal or have such rights as these, even to life; they insist that liberty is not for individuals, and private happiness is unimportant. Here is a fundamental conflict, in which each party challenges not only the other's means but also the other's very ends."

OTHER EDITORS

Service for All Scottish Rite News Bureau: Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the 3rd United States Army, told Masons and others attending the annual memorial services honoring those who have made requests to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children at Dallas, Tex., that the path ahead of the United Nations is long and hard but worth every sacrifice to insure victory. He was the principal speaker.

General Krueger contrasted the position of unfortunate crippled children in the Axis countries, where they are looked upon as handicaps to the state, and their position in this country. Here, due to such institutions as the Shriner's and Scottish Rite Hospitals for Crippled Children, they receive the finest medical treatment and the best of care so that they can eventually "take their places as normal, useful citizens."

This is an excellent illustration, General Krueger pointed out, of the things United States soldiers are willing and eager to fight to protect. He stressed that no child needed to be of a particular faith or have a fraternal affiliation to enter the hospital, that all who needed treatment were accepted as patients.

MISSING IN ACTION

He was not ready for the gift of sleep. Old men lay down their burdens in these hills. Where mountain laurel herd like sheep

And dogwood splashes white along the rills. This boy who loved the wild anemone, Whose heart would lift to see the shadblow bloom. Sleeps in the restless gardens of the sea With whorls of spray and salty flowers of spume.

The hills know that their freshest flower is gone. Broken too soon from its reluctant stem. Thrushes and orioles sing for you, John, And little winds whisper your requiem.

—INEZ GRIDLEY.

But if people must sacrifice because officials lacked foresight, they should at least have the consolation of seeing the officials fired.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Equipment in clothing for our American flyers costs about $200 for every aviator, so it takes a lot of money for our rapidly increasing air force. This clothing is especially manufactured of horse-hide jackets and trousers, fleece lined.

The kit also includes a "B-7" which is a complete jacket and trousers zipper suit, also made of horse-hide and is fleece lined. Two pairs of shoes, helmet, goggles and other lesser equipment complete the ensemble. Your purchases of War Bonds, at least ten percent of your income every pay day, will help buy these outfits for our flyers everywhere, for our Army and Navy needs thousands of them.

A Kick For Adolf

A CANADIAN shoe factory is now turning out a product with a much more violent kick in it—guns. Vickers machine guns and two-pounder anti-aircraft pom-poms are being assembled here in the same plant where the gun mountings are manufactured. Browning, Vickers and Sten machine guns are coming off Canadian production lines in increasing volume as part of the mammoth war production program totalling more than $3,447,000,000 since July, 1939. The Canadian government has provided about $600,000,000 worth of capital assistance for the construction of new plants, extension of old and the installation of machines and equipment. Production of guns, mountings and barrels includes 22 different types ranging from field guns to safety fuse pistols. Output of Bren guns, for instance, is nearing 4,500 monthly. More than 100 types of ammunition, 12 types of chemicals and eight types of explosives are included in the program, and other weapons will be in production soon. Canada's armament industry is in high gear.

Handling Boys. CROSS PLAINS

Frank Steidle, long driving Camp Bowie soldier and amateur champion of Arkansas, became the fifth man ever to win the championship of Philpeco country club's annual invitation golf tournament Sunday afternoon as he downed Billy Barton, sweet-swinging southpaw, who grew up at Pioneer and learned his shots on the Philpeco course. Steidle beat Barton seven up with six to play. In the 10 years of Philpeco invitations there have been but five different titleists. The first event was won by Gid Faircloth while Sam Conner and Tommy Bolt also have a tournament conquest to their credit. All others were won by J. T. Hammett, the lad who literally put the local course in the map. Medalist honors in the tournament ended Sunday were won by Jimmy Phillips, Coleman flying instructor, who fired an even par 72. Driving contest laurels were taken by C. E. McLister, of Ranger. Other prize winners included: Bobby Sikes, Eastland, who won the championship consolation; Cecil Cantrell, Brownwood, first flight; W. A. (Red) Milner, Cisco, first flight runner-up; C. B. Shaw, Cisco, first flight consolation; Jack Scott, Cross Plains, second flight; J. W. Thornton, second flight consolation; Pete Nance, Cisco, third flight; Sid Miller, Brownwood, third flight runner-up; H. D. Locke, Blake, third flight consolation. Defense stamps were given as prizes.

Deer Plains school district was consolidated with Cross Plains Saturday by a majority vote of citizens at each of the two polling places. In Cross Plains the vote was 30 to nothing favoring the proposal. At Deer Plains the count was 17 for and 15 against. Although consolidation of Deer Plains will enlarge the Cross Plains district by some 16 square miles, to a total of about 154 square miles, it will mean no addition in the number of scholars for Deer Plains students have been transferring here for several years. Addition of Deer Plains, however, brings the total valuation of the Cross Plains district to approximately $1,250,000. Prospects for the future of Cross Plains school are now the brightest in history.

Word has been received here of the recent marriage of Miss Katherine Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira H. Hall, of Cross Plains, and J. S. Freeman. The ceremony was solemnized in Washington, D. C., March second, where both the bride and groom are employed by the civil service commission. The bride is a graduate of Cross Plains high school and North Texas Business College at Sherman. She enjoys a large circle of friends both in Cross Plains and at Sherman. The groom is also a Texan, having formerly lived in Plainview. The nuptial came as a complete surprise to both family and friends.

Some of Allred's friends fear that if the judgeship is not filled before the election, he might be embarrassed in his race. ## A PLEDGE FOR AMERICANS

I am a citizen of the oldest republic in existence. I am proud of it.
I take pride in being a free citizen in a free society, but I know that the priceless blessing of liberty is not a heritage, but a won atreth or lost by each generation.
I therefore pledge myself to all those Americans who have gone before me and to all those who will come after me to do my part and to pass on this Freedom.
I will listen to no idle rumors. I will repeat no destructive gossip.
I will support loyally and in friendship all the United Nations who are joined with us in this righteous compact to defeat the Axis powers.
I know my country must win this war, and I will conduct myself as if I alone bore the responsibility for the victory of Democracy. In the words of a soldier of other days, "I will work, I will save, I will sacrifice, I will endure, I will fight cheerfully and do my utmost as if the issue of the whole struggle depended on me alone."
I dedicate myself to this cause. I swear that to win it I will make any sacrifice, however great, and perform any task, however humble.
So help me, God!

FLAG WEEK... JUNE 8 to JUNE 14

Cooperating with proclamations Gov. Coke Stephenson and Mayor G. Mitcham, Citizens of Cisco are joining holding programs of celebration honoring this emblem of Liberty and the stars and stripes stand for in America, and in other parts of the world wherever men are striving for the thing for which this flag is emblematic.

We join with them on this occasion to pay homage to Our Flag, and to cherish it as symbol of our liberties, paid for so dearly by those early Americans who spilled their blood to attain and to establish those liberties.

Today, the flag of the United States waves proudly over our land and in lands of the seas. Long may it wave may our reverence for what it symbolizes never grow dim.
