SEVASTOPOL IS STILL HELD BY HEROIC SOVIET

MOSCOW, June 19.—Hundreds of women, who joined the Russian army and were intensively trained under fire, were ready to enter the battle of Sevastopol today.

After 14 days of the wildest day and night attacks the German 11th army could deliver, the Crimean naval base still stood, and its garrison and civilian population were pledged "to die to the last soul" rather than let the Germans take it.

The situation was grave, but far from hopeless. Across the bomb and shell-pocked approaches to Sevastopol the Germans still attacked. The Russians crushed assault after assault and fresh German corps joined hundreds that had been rotting for two weeks.

The first Soviet communique today revealed a Soviet thrust on the Kalinin front, where the Germans were thrown out of their positions.

"On one sector of the Kharkov front, a unit in the course of three days repulsed several German attacks," the communique said. "Achieving no results, the Germans suffered heavy losses. More than 1,000 officers and men (German) were left on the field."

It was believed that the German attack had reached its peak, and that the worst was over, although the Germans still were hurling 10 divisions of infantry, tanks and airplanes against Sevastopol's defenses.

(The German radio said last night that hand-to-hand fighting was in progress two miles from Sevastopol Harbor, one of the finest in the Black Sea.)

At no point had Russian defenses been broken.

CATTLE MARKET

Most classes of cattle and calves found a slow and weak trade at Fort Worth Friday with spots unevenly lower. Most offerings were of medium and low grade. However, a few loads of good fed steers and yearlings sold fully steady.

All weights and grades of hogs ruled about steady with the top here $14.10.

Sheep and lambs were steady, quality considered.

Good fed steers and yearlings ranged from $12 to $13.25, the range including one load of heifers at $12, four loads of steer yearlings at $12 and one load of steer yearlings averaging above 800 pounds at $13.25. Odd lots of medium and low grade steers and yearlings cashed at $8 to $11.

A few good slaughter cows brought $9 to $9.50, common to medium beef cows $7.50 to $8.50 and canners and cutters $4.75 to $7.50. Good heavy bulls sold at $9 to $9.75 with common light weight bulls around $7.50.

Good fat calves turned at $11 to $12 with choice calves held up to $12.50. Common and medium grade slaughter calves cashed at $8.75 to $10.50 and cull calves at $7 to $8.25.

Good stockers were scarce. Steer calves were quotable at $14 down and heifer calves at $13 down for the better kinds while common to medium stocker calves cashed at $8 to $10.75.

J. B. HELMS PRESIDENT AND BURIED TODAY CHURCHILL IN IN OAKWOOD THIRD MEETING

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill engaged today in momentous war conferences that apparently will lead to establishment of a second front in Europe.

Their discussions are taking place at an undisclosed place in the United States. It is the third time the leaders of the two great English speaking nations have met within a year—the second time in the United States since Pearl Harbor.

When and where and how the United Nations will stab at German forces in Western Europe undoubtedly will be the major subjects of their talks on "the conduct of the war and the winning of the war."

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early, in announcing Churchill's arrival last night at a surprise press conference, said reporters would be "perfectly justified" in speculating that the conferences would deal with the second front question.

Official quarters here and in London were certain that the two men, flanked by the ranking leaders of their armed forces, would get down to making decisions now that the ground work by a series of conferences on the subject for the past two months in London and Washington.

The second front received its first big boost last week when the White House, announcing the conferences between President Roosevelt and Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov, said they had reached a full understanding "with regard to the urgent tasks of creating a second front in Europe in 1942."

Churchill's third trip to meet Roosevelt was the best kept secret of the war. There had been not even a hint that the President was expecting the prime minister until the White House called newspaper and press association offices early last evening to announce that Early would meet the press at the White House at 8 p. m.

Japanese made their third raid in three days yesterday on Port Moresby, the Allied base in New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today in his communique.

Eighteen bombers, protected by fighters, again sought to bomb the harbor area. Prompt opposition by Allied fighters kept them off and they succeeded only in damaging one small ship, Mac Arthur said.

Mrs. A. L. Thomas will present her pupils in piano recital tonight at 8:30 o'clock, at the First Baptist church.

MOTHER OF W. J. CHILDERS DIED THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. (Bill) Childers and family will leave Saturday morning for Hamlin, where they will attend the funeral of Mr. Childers' mother, Mrs. C. S. Childers, 58, who died Thursday afternoon, 2:15 o'clock at an Abilene hospital where she had been for treatment for more than two weeks.

The funeral will be held at Hamlin, Saturday morning, at the Church of the Nazarene, of which Mrs. Childers had been a member for more than 35 years. The rites will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones of that city.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Childers is survived by three sons, Urbane Childers of Odessa, Charles Childers of Monahans, and W. J. Childers of Cisco; two daughters, Mrs. Floyd W. Akin of Hobart, Okla., and Mrs. W. D. Ramsey of Merkel, and her mother, Mrs. Lydia Garrett of Hamlin.

CISCO FAMILY LEAVE SUNDAY FOR CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Jones and two children will leave Sunday for their new home at Long Beach, Calif., where Mr. Jones will enter the employ of Consolidated Aircraft. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have been residents of Cisco for about seven years. For the past year he has been working for Consolidated Aircraft in Ft. Worth. Previously he was with the Norvell-Miller company, here.

Mr. Jones, by the way, was a son of Officer Tom Jones, who was murdered by the notorious Marshall Ratliffe, Santa Claus bank robber and all-around bad man, in an attempted escape from the Eastland county jail, some 13 years ago.

Ratliffe, it will be remembered, was removed from the jail by irate citizens and hanged by the neck until dead.

SHAKE THAT TREE --- AGAIN.

The rubber hunt is on and reports turned in locally and throughout the Cisco area indicates the tonnage of salvaged scrap will be heavy.

The urge is patriotism, as well as the desire to prevent the rationing of gasoline in Texas.

However, those who have been insistent that gas be rationed—even in Texas where it is plentiful—have not given up hope that this can still be forced on us, as evidenced by statements over the radio, and before the hunt was three days old, that very little scrap rubber is being uncovered throughout the nation.

The hunt for scrap iron cannot be compared with this universal search for rubber. Few sacrifices were demanded in the former; but, in this hunt for rubber and rubber materials, much of which will daily be missed, the patriotism of Texans will meet a real test.

The drive has been extended to June 30 and owners of rubber will be paid one cent per pound at any service station. Money received can be invested in bonds or stamps—or you can assist the Boy Scout organization by contributing it to them.

Take another look about the place and then phone a Scout, or deliver it to your nearest service station, as you see fit.

WOMEN, ALREADY CONSERVING GASOLINE, WOULD SUFFER TOUGH IF GASOLINE RATIONED

What universal rationing means to Texas in reduced higher taxes, poorer reduced employment, roads and disrupted transportation facilities is outlined in a report written by foes of rationing and placed before federal officials by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson.

The report, compiled by Rail-Commissioner Olin Culbertson, County Comptroller George H. and John Winters of Am- and Commissioners' Association of Texas, I. A. Woods, Department of public in- and DeWitt C. Greer, Director of the state high- and Mr. Tom Connally and W. D. Deneil.

LEARNING TO THINK

President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago says: "Democracy is the only form of government that is founded on the dignity of man—not the dignity of some men, of rich men, of educated men or of white men—but of all men."

It is for this reason, doubtless, that President Hutchins is so keen on the type of education that will teach all men to think. He'd like to see general education raised to the college level after the war. He warns, quite rightly, that people "should not expect to get this all done by Thursday." It is going to take time. But just as there was trouble getting people to accept the idea of having everybody get a college education—those who can take it.

The other levels, however, have abundantly justified themselves. It is a truism that everybody with education wishes he had more, while no one wishes he had less. And while education for the job may have its uses, while general manual training is also useful, any American when he sits down to consider seriously the matter of education, what it is for, what it does, what it leads to, is apt to agree with President Hutchins that the most important kind of education is that which teaches the young to think things through.

DOING THE IMPOSSIBLE

Now it's an army of 8,000,000 men by the end of next year and a seven-ocean navy. Since Pearl Harbor $72,503,000,000 have been appropriated for weapons and equipment that will beat the Axis. That's the victory news from Washington these days. Production schedules are so huge that you begin to ask if all that work can be done, and done in time, even in the wonder world of America's mass production factories.

But when the first war schedule was announced after Pearl Harbor it seemed so impossibly huge that the Axis called it propaganda and said that for all our manufacturing skill and great resources we couldn't do it. You remember that schedule—125,000 airplanes, 75,000 tanks, 10,000,000 tons of shipping by the end of 1943.

Today our factories are turning out these planes and tanks and ships so fast that in many instances they are actually ahead of schedule. Proof of that is given in the stories written by the newspaper men who made a tour through several of the country's closely-guarded war plants. They reported some astonishing facts.

Liberty ships are now being built in 100 days and less, instead of the original estimate of 200. A factory manufacturing machine guns has doubled its production since February. The United States is now far ahead of the Axis in the number of machine tools it is making for use in war plants.

In almost every instance weapons are being produced faster today than most people thought possible only a short time ago. Big as the original schedules were, they are actually being exceeded. And the new ones will be exceeded, too, for our industries have hit their victory stride. Doing the impossible is for them almost a routine job today.

INVENTIONS FOR VICTORY

"Never say anything can't be done. Say instead that as yet no way has been found to do it!" That's the advice of a man who knows what he's talking about—a famous inventor and engineer who has given us things like the self-starter and octane gasoline, to mention two of many. According to him, mechanical advances are being made faster than usual today because of the pressure of war needs. Already we have new devices on our planes and tanks that enable them in many instances to outperform those made by our enemies.

We haven't stopped improving them and our other weapons, either. New war inventions are being produced all the time. More than 45,000 suggestions were sent in to the Patent Office last year by America's inventors, and 3,000 of them have been adopted to date. Some of these inventions have to do with new machines, like the outrigger tank that is really a rolling fortress, and the ground strafe airplane with guns in the belly of the plane. Others concern such things as emergency food rations and lightweight armored clothing.

The last war hastened the development of several new products—the radio, stainless steel, and dozens of new alloys and metals. There's no telling yet what things will come out of today's shortages and needs. Necessity is the mother of invention, all right, and she gets in some good licks in a country like this where inventors are encouraged by industry and by our traditional patent system that has been protecting their rights for more than 150 years.

CROSS PLAINS

Callahan County

At least half the population of the Cross Plains trade territory is believed to have sought refuge from storm late Sunday night and early Monday morning. Strong winds, accompanied by an inch and one-half of rain did several thousand dollars' worth of damage. Most noticeable damage within the city of Cross Plains was that to the tent-tabernacle, belonging to E. J. Hierholzer. The tent, just south of the Community Public Service company property on South Main street, was badly ripped and abused. The loss is expected to run into the hundreds of dollars. Fruit trees were stripped of much of their fruit by the strong wind. A few small out-buildings were blown over and a number of shade trees were twisted and damaged. Although the wind did not reach its crest until about 2 o'clock Monday morning, many people had been in cellars for several hours by that time. Due to the extreme wet weather of the past few days, many of the excavations were water soaked; however, they were used nevertheless. One of the very few dry cellars within the town was that of Henry Hamilton, where 21 people sought refuge.

Those attending a reunion of the Fore family at Pioneer Sunday, June 7, were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fore, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fore, Mr. and Mrs. John Fore and J. W. Fore, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fore, Loyd and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fore and Margaret Ann, Mrs. Gerald Fore and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Huntington, Paul and Norma Jean, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Huntington, Patty Sue, Cross Plains.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Adeline Sillix, 52, who died Friday, June 12, in a Temple hospital, were held from the home of her sister, Miss Alice Bryson, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Rev. S. P. Collins, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. C. E. Poe, pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment was made in the family plot of the Pioneer cemetery. Mrs. Sillix, who had been in failing health for some time, recently returned from the

The U. S. Marine Corps and the Army too, for that matter, effectively uses the 30-caliber Anti-aircraft machine gun either mounted or on a mobile base. These rapid-firing guns literally eat up the ammunition and a thousand rounds of ammunition costs about $240.00.

These guns are used to rake low flying airplanes. Since they fire about 600 shells per minute, that $240 worth of ammunition lasts a little longer than two minutes. Mrs. Kate West, about 80, mother of Mrs. George Neel and Mrs. F. R. Mrs. West had been gravely ill for several days with a heart ailment. Both Mrs. Neel and Mrs. Anderson had been at the bedside for several days and were present when the end came. Mrs. West was an early and very prominent citizen in the Comanche area and is survived by a number of children, grandchildren and relatives, as well as a great host of friends.—Cross Plains Review.

"PIP" AND ARROWS MARK COURSE

EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND LIKE HER KEEP WATCH

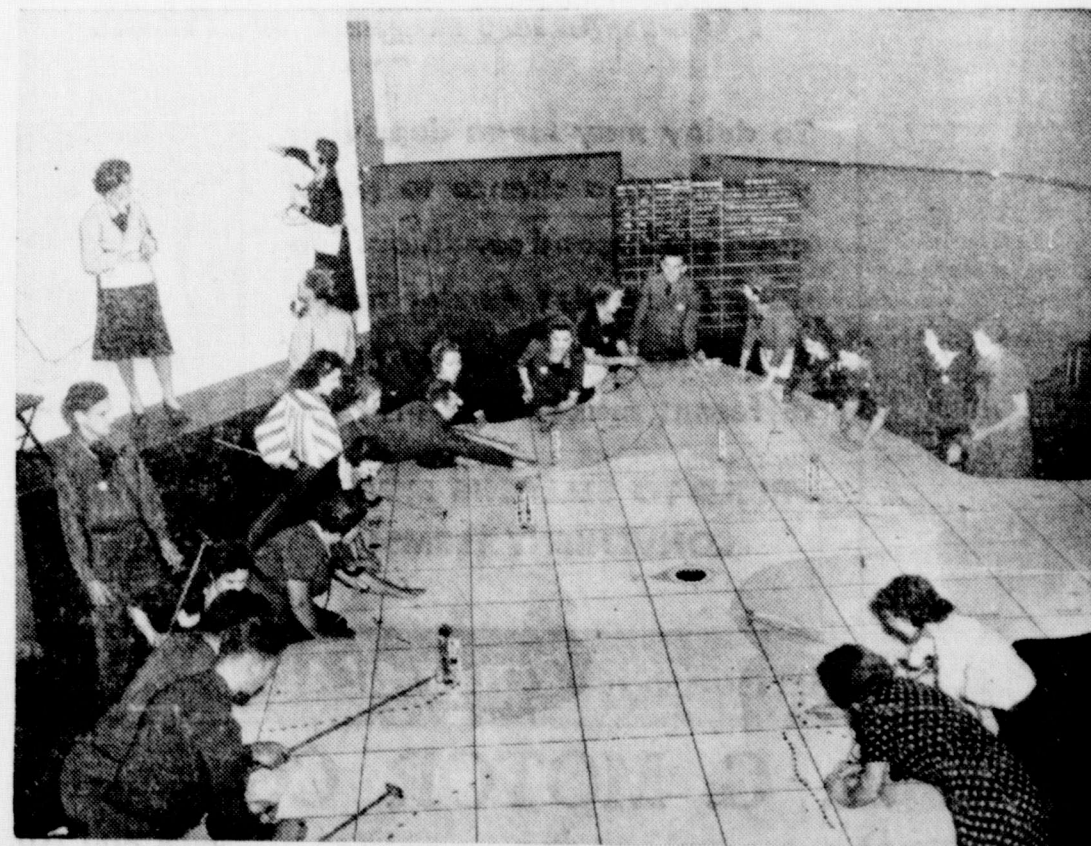

Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, feminine eyes scan the skies in New York, as in other cities throughout the country, ever vigilant against an attack by enemy airmen. Focal point for the thousands of volunteer observers in the field is the New York Information Center, where a vast network of telephones converge. Here the number, type and course of enemy planes is charted and information relayed to the First Fighter Command of the U. S. Army Air Corps, which takes over from there to repel the aerial invaders. Vigil, too, is maintained against enemy glider or parachute troops, who would seek to float noiselessly to earth from planes flying miles high. Here is a sample of the 'round-the-clock watch.
