300 PLANES BOMB BREMEN, CITY OF 350,000

GERMAN HORDES PENETRATE EGYPT MILES IN DASH TO REACH HIGHLY VITAL SUEZ CANAL

DECEMBER TO SEE OIL MEN BETTER SHAPE

AUSTIN, July 26.—The noise looped around the throat of Texas' oil industry by slashing submarine attacks on tankers will be loosened by December.

Allocation of steel by the War Production board to construct a 550-mile oil pipe line from Longview to Illinois marks the biggest wartime step yet taken to break the transportation bottleneck throttling the oil industry, in the opinion of Commissioners Culbertson and Thompson of the Railroad Commission.

The pipe line is scheduled to be completed Dec. 1 under government ownership.

Three hundred thousand barrels of Texas crude sloshing daily through the 24-inch pipe line "will help give Texas its rightful place in supplying Eastern petroleum needs," says Commissioner Culbertson, pointing out that the capacity of the new oil artery will be more than the present daily allowable of the entire East Texas field.

Thompson, chairman of the state oil regulatory agency, describes the pipe line as "a 300,000-barrel move toward a 1,300,000-barrel job—that is, three-thirteenths of the solution."

Right Direction.

The steady procession of torpedoed oil tankers crashing against the door of Davy Jones' locker from Dec. 7 until authorities banned them from intercoastal service partially has blockaded 1,300,000 barrels of Texas oil which formerly moved to the East by tankers.

To Chairman Thompson "the pipe line is a step in the right direction and similar steps should be encouraged."

"This line is the next best thing to a direct line from Texas to the East," remarked Culbertson. "It means more to the industry than anything yet done."

"But I am hopeful of an extension of the line across the Alleghenies to give us direct access to the East. This would take us out of the mercy of high tanker rates, where we have always been."

The projected oil convoy will decrease the cost of transportation from producing fields in Texas to the big Northern refineries, Culbertson said, reminding "there is a big difference in the cost of transportation from Houston to the East and from Illinois refineries to the East."

HOSTILITY GROWING.

BUENOS AIRES, June 26.—Anti-German hostility surged in Argentina Friday, sparked by the first street outbreaks in the capital, as Argentine neutrality apparently hung on Berlin's response to a formal protest over the U-boat sinking of the freighter Rio Tercero.

Informed sources said Germany must give satisfaction if friendly relations are to continue. The strongly worded note insisted on reparations for loss of the Argentine ship and five of its crewmen, assurances against a repetition and a gesture of respect for the Argentine flag. The Rio Tercero, second Argentine merchant marine victim of a German torpedo, sank after Nazi explosives had been received for what Berlin called an accidental attack on the tanker Victoria.

VICTORIA GETS PROJECT

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The war department announced Friday it had authorized construction of a tire force training school at Victoria, Texas, to cost in excess of $3,000,000. Construction will be supervised by the Galveston district office of the corps of engineers.

41,000 POUNDS RUBBER

A collection of rubber 24 feet in diameter and 18 feet high is not such a mountain as mountains go, but this immense pile at the Harvey Thurman service station, secured through efforts directed by M. L. Keasler, distributor for Gulf products, does represent quite a lot of co-operation for Uncle Sam, and it does attract attention.

Many people saw the advertisement of Mr. Keasler in last Sunday's issue of the Daily Press and the pile began to grow. Many friends made little contributions of rubber because that was all they had, and just waved their hands in friendly gesture as they threw it on the pile. Others brought in larger loads.

Success succeeds, according to Keasler, and as they saw the mountain grow they helped by bringing more.

Many tourists slow up their cars to get a better look, Keasler said, and then they drive on.

"I am very thankful for the cooperation of friends," said Keasler, "and I am thankful that we can get so large a pile that it may help keep rationing of gasoline away from Texas for awhile at least," he continued.

And this pile of scrap, as it stood Thursday afternoon, represented above 41,000 pounds, and covers almost every conceivable thing made of rubber. It is interesting to note the varied articles contributed.

INSTITUTIONAL USERS SUGAR TO REGISTER

Sugar registration for institutional users for July and August will be held June 29 and 30 at the office of Eastland county war price and rationing board, Prairie building, Eastland, says O. J. Russell, Cisco member of the board.

Those establishments whose first registration was for the months of May and June only will be registered at that time. The following establishments come within this class:

Bakeries, ice cream manufacturers, drug stores, cafes, boarding houses, hospitals, churches, lodges, clubs.

Each of the establishments must be prepared to give a full report on the use during the months of May and June of the sugar allowance it received on the first registration. Also each must be able to report on the amount of sugar it has on hand at the time of the registration of June 29 and 30.

Establishments for marketing sugar, such as retail and wholesale groceries, which maintain their original allotment by exchange of consumer stamps and certificates, will not be required to register. Those establishments of this class which require revision in their allotments, and may be entitled to such revision under the rationing rules, may file application with the board after July 1.

The following periods will be set aside for registration, according to alphabetical listing:

Monday morning, letter A, B, C, D, E, F.

Monday afternoon, letters G, H, I, J, K, L.

Tuesday morning, letters M, N, O, P, Q, R.

Tuesday afternoon, letters S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

All registrants are urged to make every effort to be present at that time, in order to make the registration as convenient as possible to themselves and the registrars.

No certificates for canning sugar will be issued on Monday, June 29, or on Tuesday, June 30.

CAUGHT JAP OFF GUARD

MELBOURNE, June 26.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's planes, in one of the heaviest aerial assaults ever launched in the Southwest Pacific, struck the first blow today in a fight for control of these Southern skies.

Operating over a 2,000-mile front, American and Australian air men raided Dili, in Timor Island of the northwest invasion zone, and Rabaul in New Britain Island of the northeast zone.

They spread ruin through the target areas, smashing airdromes, grounded planes, barracks and supply dumps, and started fires which the plane crews saw from 60 miles away as they flew home.

In addition to the main raids, Allied planes successfully attacked enemy troop quarters at Salamaua, on the north coast of New Guinea, and drove off a determined force of Japanese Zero fighter planes which attempted to raid Port Moresby, the Allied advanced base on the New Guinea south coast.

MacArthur announced in his communique that the Allies came through this big series of engagements without loss.

Four Allied planes were hit by machine-gun bullets from Japanese Zero planes in the savage Port Moresby dogfight, but none was damaged seriously, and at least five Zeros staggered off with serious damage.

No doubt was held here that the Allied raids on Dili, Rabaul and Salamaua opened a finish fight, on a scale never seen in the Antipodes, for supremacy of the air.

Both sides had been organizing for it. For four days, Allied and Japanese planes had been conducting aerial reconnaissance, marking the final preparation, and MacArthur then hit first and hard.

Seizing the initiative in the dark early hours of this morning, one great fleet of Allied planes, including Boeing Flying Fortresses and great Consolidated B-24 bombers, set out for the 500-mile flights to Dili and Rabaul from their secret bases.

At Dili, on the Portuguese end of Dutch-Portuguese Timor, the Allied planes roared in at low altitude and scored direct hits with their biggest bombs on enemy-occupied buildings. Great fires blazed.

In a similar night attack, Allied planes concentrated on the enemy airdrome runway, plane dispersal areas, and building areas of the great Rabaul base.

At Salamaua, a smaller unit woke up those Japanese it did not kill by plastering the troop barracks with bombs and machine gun bullets.

NEW OFFICERS OF BLUE LODGE ARE INSTALLED

With George Boyd acting as installing officer, and Joe Britain as marshal, the officers-elect of Cisco Lodge No. 556, A. F. & A. M., were inducted into their respective stations Thursday night. Those installed were:

The lodge, in called session next Monday night, will work in the entered apprentice and fellowcraft degrees. A full attendance is desired, the past worshipful master announced.

BURROWS IS IN HOSPITAL AT FORT BLISS

Mrs. Faye Moore, 303 E. avenue, has ordered the Daily Press sent to her son, Luther Burrows, at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Burrows, who is 23 years of age and a former Cisco high school student, joined the army about three years ago. At present he is in hospital at Fort Bliss for treatment of his feet, the trouble being broken arches.

SATTERWHITE OF EASTLAND BURIED TODAY

H. O. Satterwhite, 72, well known Eastland man and city commissioner, died at his home in that city early Thursday. Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock this morning at the First Baptist church there, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Franklin E. Swanner. Burial was in the Eastland cemetery.

Mr. Satterwhite was a native Texan and was born at Crockett, Sept. 4, 1870. He came to Eastland from Roaring Springs in 1922, and engaged in the mercantile business. He was a candidate for county tax collector several years ago and for the past seven years has been a member of the city commission.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Billy, and four brothers, E. C. and Judge Satterwhite, Eastland; Earl Satterwhite, Ranger, and T. B. Satterwhite, Oklahoma City. A sister, Mrs. W. J. Langford, of Stevens county, is also a survivor.

FRANK LEACH TO PRESIDE AT MASONIC MEET

Frank Leach of Cisco, district deputy grand master of the 73rd Masonic district, will preside at a meeting in Eastland Masonic temple tonight. The meeting was called by Most Worshipful Grand Master Dr. E. M. Wood, of Anson, who will attend.

The 73rd district is composed of the Masonic lodges of Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge, Gorman, Wayland, Rising Star and Desdemona.

Refreshment will be served previous to the business meeting. A large number of Cisco Masons will be in attendance.

CISCO FLYER HERE FOR A SHORT VISIT

Technical Sgt. Howell Moore, stationed at Roswell, N. M., with the 91st air base squadron, arrived in Abilene by plane and came to Cisco Wednesday for a day and night visit with his uncles, Charles J. and John Kleiner and their families.

Moore is well known and popular in Cisco, having graduated from Cisco high school with the class of 1936. He also attended John Tarleton college and later signed up with the U. S. flying corps at Kelly Field.

GREATEST AIR RAID IN HISTORY SPREAD DEATH AND RUIN; RAF LOST MORE THAN 50 PLANES

LONDON, June 26.—The Royal Air Force made the greatest bombing raid in the history of aviation Friday morning upon the vital German city of Bremen, with a giant fleet of more than 1300 planes showering immense demolition and incendiary bombs upon Nazi war industries.

The air ministry, in its first communique announcing the raid, said the planes had set great fires in the target area which includes submarine works, shipyards, a dive bomber factory, cotton mills, the giant Focke-Wulf airplane plant and the largest high grade oil refinery in Germany.

Furthermore, though it was subordinated by the news of the attack on Bremen, the air ministry announced that a second force of bombers and fighters disorganized Germany's defenses by attacking airdromes in Holland and Belgium which were in the path of the bombing fleet.

"There were many combats between our bombers and enemy fighters in course of which some enemy planes were damaged or destroyed," the communique said.

Admitting that 52 planes were lost, the air ministry said that a telling blow had been struck at the German air force which attempted to fend off the British raiders.

It was indicated that the actual force of planes engaged, including those of the Coastal and Fighter Commands, was well over 1300 because well-informed quarters understood that the percentage loss was under 4 per cent.

Canadians, Poles, Czechs and American volunteers of the Royal Air Force joined Britons in the raid in which mammoth four-motored bombers, carrying up to eight tons of bombs each, patterned a target area of almost unequal importance in all Germany.

Criss-crossing Bremen, a city of 350,000 in an intricate manner which Air Marshal Sir A. T. Harris, commanding the Bomber Command, had worked out to the last detail, the planes hurled bombs up to 4480 pounds in weight on such targets as the Deschimag and Atlas Submarine Works, shipyards large enough to build trans-Atlantic luxury liners, a dive bomber factory, and the giant Focke-Wulf airplane works.

Winging 350 miles or more across the North Sea and the Low Countries, the bomber fleet hit the River Weser and started showering their bombs on the entire Bremen area, one in which it would be hard to drop a bomb of the new British devastation type without hitting a war target.

Incendiary bombs were mixed with the high explosive demolition bombs to insure that the resultant fires would multiply the damage.

Not a German plane was reported over the British Isles during the night while the Royal Air Force was taking advantage of a full moon.

POLITICS AND WAR MUCH THE SAME

"From harmony, from heavenly harmony, this universal frame began," wrote the poet Dryden. "From harmony to harmony, through all the measures of its course it ran, the diapason ending last in Man."

Attu. This, lying east of the international date-line, ranks as part of North America and not of Asia. For good measure, throw in the submarine sinkings in the St. Lawrence river and the "to-ken" shelling of the Oregon and British Columbian coasts.

The last war was confined to Europe, Asia and Africa. The Seven Years War, from 1756 to 1763, when Frederick the Great of Prussia, with England as a helper, stood off Russia, France, Austria and part of Germany, was also waged in India and in colonial America under the name of the French and Indian War.

Five continents, however, is a record. All that remains is for war to reach the soil of South America and Antarctica.

OPEN FORUM

Wondering Out Loud. Editor Daily Press: I cannot help but wonder how many of our people fully realize that our country is at war; how many feel an urge to do their part in bringing final victory to ourselves and millions of distressed peoples throughout the world?

There should be something for all of us to do, each day; something to fill in our idle hours usefully, instead of trying to shape the lives of those about us.

We should be too busy at this time to indulge in gossip about neighbors and friends, and thereby add to the doubt and confusion that exists everywhere. There is no excuse today for narrow-mindedness and ignorance -- with the press, radio, free public schools, free text books and the many other advantages once unknown.

Let's make a supreme effort to do something to do that will help bring the victory we so fondly desire, rather than indulge in meaningless chatter based on misinformation.

I wonder if it is possible for some of us to do this? A READER.

Funeral services for J. B. (Bess) Bond, 57, who died of heat stroke Sunday afternoon, were held from the First Baptist church in Rising Star Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. Interment was made in the Rising Star cemetery. Bond had been working at one of his oil properties and became over-heated. He got in his automobile and drove to the home of R. W. (Slim) McNeel in Cross Plains. He told Mr. McNeel that he was extremely ill and did not believe that he would live long. A physician was summoned; however, in a short while Bond expired. Survivors include two sons, Jesse Buddie Bond, of Port Arthur, Texas, and Edward G. Bond, of Holiday Cove, West Virginia; also two

MILITARY COMMAND

"We have just had another object lesson," says Major George Fielding Eliot, in the New York Tribune, "in the futility of attempting to conduct a vast, worldwide war of coalition by means of loose understandings and hasty improvisations. We have lost our positions in Libya and we shall be lucky if we do not lose Egypt and the Suez Canal."

Water Lippman observes: "The reverse in Libya is a grim reminder that battles are not decided merely by quantity of material and troops. There is also quality of command. It is the most critical of all the factors in war."

Very likely centralized and unified command in the critical war situation has been one of the foremost needs considered by the American president and British premier in their Washington talks. The need is obvious.

SUEZ DANGER

Tobruk in itself was not so much. The danger is to Egypt and the Suez Canal. Even Suez can be lost and the war yet won, but if Suez now be lost the war cannot be won this year. Victory in 1942 had never more than a slight chance against heavy odds, and if Suez be caught in the pincers, the odds are weighted too heavily for anything but a miracle to avoid a war of long years and wasted resources.

Despair, however, is not called for. Despair is weakening; it stalls action. Fury, too, is weakening; it explodes the forces.

Grinness is needed in this hour. Determination. A miracle intervened to save Paris—and France—and the Allied cause—in September, 1914. It was the miracle of a divine strength coming to determined men. They shall not pass!" cried the French. Nor did they. The United Nations need that grinness today.

Speaking of putting lights out, as CD is always doing, and teaching people how to put fires out, as the air wardens are always doing, how about doing without something you want but don't need, and buying another bond to help put the whole fire of war out?

FIVE-CONTINENT WAR

Never before has a war been fought in five continents at once. The present struggle began, of course, in Europe, and soon spread to Asia and Africa. Australia and the neighboring islands, part of Oceania, have suffered bombing raids, and in some cases invasion. Lately has come the Japanese landing on the Aleutian island of recreation, according to Dr. Gary L. Smith, business manager for the encampment.

There have been two periods each day for religious instruction and services—at 11 a.m. and the vesper service at 8:30 each evening, usually followed by some special program. Other hours of the day are given over to supervised recreation.

This encampment will be followed next week by the two presbyteries joining forces again with the young people in the age range of 15-17 years. There will be about 80 of those groups, Dr. Smith said. There are 116 of the Pioneers, exclusive of the adults in the supervising and instructional groups. The director for the Young People's group next week will be Rev. Bruce Brannon, pastor at Hillsboro. Rev. Mr. Johnson of the Ballinger church will be assistant director.
