Campaign For Sale War Bonds and Stamps to Be Launched Monday Morn

A drive to systematically sign up all Cisco citizens for the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will start early Monday with breakfast in room 102, Hotel Laguna, for local directors of the organization.

R. L. Ponsler was recently appointed Cisco chairman and the choice was evidently a wise one, as evidenced by the thorough manner in which he has card-indexed each and every citizen, the data revealing those who have bought bonds, where and in what manner.

If a person is buying bonds through the bank, Ponsler can instantly find the record in the file he has prepared. If one is buying systematically --- that is, buying as per a schedule --- that card can be found as quickly.

The chairman explained that this is not a high-pressure campaign of selling to citizens, but would be an endeavor to convert each individual to a systematic purchase of Bonds and Stamps --- according to his ability.

Billions must be gathered from the men and women of America to defray the cost of this most expensive and comprehensive of all struggles the peoples of the earth have been called upon to face.

The soldiers whom we are sending to fight are giving themselves and a practical way must be provided to take care of the financial cost.

Uncle Sam devised this equitable and voluntary plan and it will be continued if the response is sufficient for governmental needs in this great emergency.

DAN MOODY, former governor and now a candidate for the U. S. senate.

M'CREA IS IN AFRICA

Marshall McCrea, formerly of Cisco, son of Mrs. L. H. McCrea and a brother of Postmaster Luther H. McCrea, is "somewhere in Africa." McCrea, a veteran flyer, is attached to the U. S. airplane ferry command, and assists in the supervision and delivery of fighting planes to various points throughout the world. His military rank is that of major.

The following letter, which was written June 26 and delivered in Cisco Thursday of this week, will be interesting to all and especially to his many warm friends in Cisco: Dear Lute:

Little did you expect that you would receive a letter from me which would be written in Africa this year. The fact is, I am in Africa and am enjoying the sights and climate, etc., very much. We have delightful quarters and the meals are really good and are prepared with American goods. I am not permitted to state where I am, other than in Africa, and not where I was supposed to be, as first planned. The climate is somewhat like that at Cisco, and a lot of vegetation is green. The hills are really high and you can not imagine the numbers! I have not been hunting yet, but you can bet that I am going to get a lion and tiger before I return, and our camp is very very far from where game is not plentiful. Our crossing the "pond" was uneventful, other than for seeing many boats and crossing the ocean in a short time.

I have not received a letter from home or anywhere else since I arrived here. However, I did receive a radio message from Lib on Father's Day, and the message was handed to me when I disembarked from the plane in Africa. I have had a good time on my gambling on the way, as I won enough money to pay my expenses from the United States to Africa, by winning the bets on the time of arrival at different places, and by pitching dollars into a hole. I won all the landing bets, which was quite some record, and on one I hit it smack on the nose and the distance was over 800 miles!

Lute, my new address is APO 606, care Postmaster, Miami, Fla. and in the event it changes I will advise you. Tell everyone I am OK, and will surely like to be back in the good old USA. Give my love to the family. Your Brother, MARSH.

DETROIT, July 4.—Five of mysterious origin swept through a section of the huge Currie Lumber company today, causing damage of between $150,000 and $200,000. Chief loss occurred in stacks of ready-cut lumber which was to be used for a housing project at the Willow Run bomber plant. Currier, the owner, was in the national spotlight several months ago during a dispute with a labor union. Since that time his home has been bombed.

CAPTURED CITY, NOW IN RUINS, WAS RUSSIA'S CHIEF CRIMEAN NAVAL BASE; VERY BEAUTIFUL

MOSCOW, July 4. --- The Germans, with huge forces of tanks, planes and troops freed for fighting elsewhere by the fall of Sevastopol, threw strong reserves into their three-pronged offensive between Kursk and Volchansk on the South-Central Front today.

But the Germans were suffering such losses that the Soviet army organ Red Star said they were in danger of "petering out" in their drive from Kursk.

The first Soviet communique today revealed that Hitler's Hungarian allies were helping him in his long-heralded "summer offensive." It said that the Russians had fought the Germans in "the direction of Kursk, Belgorod and Volchansk."

"In the Kursk sector a unit commanded by Partenov killed several thousand (enemy) officers and men, most of which were from the Hungarian corps," it said. "In the same fighting our unit set afire 63 German tanks. On another sector, several dozen enemy tanks were destroyed and a large number of men put out of action. Our aviation in air combat destroyed 13 planes.

Fifteen thousand German officers and men were killed and more than 250 tanks destroyed in one day's fighting around Kursk, last night's Soviet communique said. Tremendous German infantry, tank and airplane attacks forced the Red Army back on one sector of the Kursk-Kharkov front, press dispatches said.

Russia announced last night that the gallant garrison of Sevastopol had withdrawn yesterday and that the Germans had entered a city of ruins. Sevastopol, Russia's greatest Crimean naval base, once was one of the most beautiful cities in Europe.

The Germans, a special communique said, had hurled 300,000 soldiers and more than 400 tanks and 900 planes against Sevastopol. The final assault, which the Russians said had raged ceaselessly for 25 days, cost the Germans 150,000 men and officers of which at least 60,000 were killed, the communique said. In the eight months that the Germans had besieged Sevastopol, they lost a total of 300,000 men, killed and wounded, it asserted.

At the end of its resistance, Sevastopol had been pounded into rubble by German guns and planes. It was cut off from land communications with the rear. It had no airdromes, and ammunition and food were disappearing. Where the garrison is now was not disclosed. Presumably it was fighting on in the little peninsula below Sevastopol.

Although sizeable German forces still were needed to fight Sevastopol's retreated garrison, large forces of men and material which had been necessary to gain the main objective were freed for action on other fronts.

They might be rested, regrouped and sent to the Kerch peninsula for a drive against the Caucasus, or to the Kursk-Volchansk front. At any rate, big reserves were being poured into the German drives on the south-central front, and dispatches reported that planes were used to help 200 German tanks force their way across an important river—perhaps the Seim or the Rat river, which flows into the Seim southeast of Kursk—had come from as far away as Crete.

ALLIES GAIN IN EGYPT.
CAIRO, July 4.—British troops have captured hundreds of prisoners and 40 guns in counter-attacks against the Axis forces on the Alamein line and the Allied air force, in operations on a scale unprecedented in the Middle East, has shot down 24 enemy airplanes in a single day, it was announced today. The ground forces put many tanks out of action in a series of

FIRST OF SUMMER UNION SER- VICES WILL BE HELD TONIGHT ON THE FIRST METHODIST LAWN

A full schedule of meetings and other activities begins today for Dr. James T. Carlyon of Southern Methodist university, who arrived yesterday for a week's series of special services at First Methodist church.

The visiting minister and Bible scholar will address four different meetings today, according to the pastor, Rev. Leslie Seymour. At 9:45 he will teach the Sunday school lesson for a joint meeting of all the adult classes in the basement room of the church. At 10:50 he will bring the first in the special series of sermons to be given during the week.

At 8:30 in the evening Dr. Carlyon will preach to the combined congregations of the First Christian, the Presbyterian and Methodist churches on the lawn, this to be the first of the summer union services.

Preceding this hour of worship he will address a joint meeting of the young people of the three congregations, this service to be held at 7:30 in the church parlors.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock a banquet for the men of the church will be held in the basement with Dr. Carlyon as honor guest and main speaker, this occasion being sponsored by the board of stewards, with Wm. Reagan chairman.

Preaching services will be held each evening at 8:30 on the lawn, all of the sermons to be specific and intensive studies in the Bible. The ladies of the church will have a luncheon Tuesday at 1 o'clock honoring the distinguished guest, at which time he will bring a special message on the work of church women today. Other group meetings will be announced later in the week.

AUTO RACING BANNED
WASHINGTON, July 4. — All automobile and motorcycle racing has been banned effective July 10 to save tires. About 1,000 midget racers and 500 large cars are affected by the order.

HEALTH HEAD WARNS PEOPLE ABOUT FLIES

AUSTIN, July 4.—Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city and community in the state," urged Doctor Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"The most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," Doctor Cox said. "Flies breed in filth, and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her life time of several months, one house fly lays from 600 to 1000 eggs. Thus it can easily be seen that a season which usually begins in the spring of the year, the descendants from one fly number countless thousands."

PENSIONERS LIKELY TO GET BONUS, AUGUST

AUSTIN, July 4.—The Texas Welfare Department may have a bonus for old age pensioners in August, under a ruling by the attorney general that $1,750,000 must be placed each month in the pension fund of approximately $1,460,000. If to this were added $1,750,000, plus federal matching funds for the entire amount, there would be in excess of $5,800,000 to distribute, as compared with the usual monthly distribution of about $3,500,000.

Unless the excess now in the fund is distributed before the end of the current fiscal year, it will revert back to general revenue on September 1.

COUPON 7 GOOD FOR 2 POUNDS SUGAR JULY 10

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Ration card holders will get a two-pound sugar bonus in the July-August period because shipments of sugar into the country were somewhat larger than expected.

The extra two pounds may be bought any time between July 10 and August 22 upon presentation of Coupon No. 7. Originally Coupon 7 was for use beginning Aug. 22. Under the bonus, No. 8 will come into use on that day.

LOUISIANA IS SET TO FIGHT FOR TEXAS SOIL

BATON ROUGE, La., July 4.—Louisiana today prepared for a legal battle intended to justify claim to some of Texas' more than 170,000,000 acres.

A $10,000 appropriation for court costs and other expenses in settling the boundary dispute was authorized when the senate late yesterday passed, 34-4, a house-approved bill. Louisiana contended a surveyor's error of 1819 gave Texas about 57 square miles of valuable oil-producing water bottoms in the Sabine river area. Texas has countered with a claim to 1,300 acres of northern Louisiana.

TWO-WEEK RE- VIVAL AT EAST CISCO CHURCH

A revival that is expected to continue for two weeks starts this morning at the East Cisco Baptist church and Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor-evangelist from Post, Tex., will do the preaching. Music will be under the direction of Don Rupe, church choir director. The service this morning will begin promptly at 10 and the evening service at 8:30 o'clock.

"This will be a revival for the entire city," said Rev. Russell

Dennis, church pastor, "and a most cordial invitation is extended to the public."

Continuing, Mr. Dennis said: "This is certainly a time when we should turn our minds to spiritual things. The great question of our time is not Communism vs. Idealism, or Europe vs. America, but instead it is whether man can bear to live without God."

The East Cisco Baptist church has developed and made much progress the past three years under the leadership of Mr. Dennis. During his pastorate there have been more than 200 additions, with approximately half of these coming by baptism.

CHAS. SPEARS ENTERS NAVAL RES. SCHOOL

Charles Spears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Spears, left Saturday for South Bend, Ind., for a month in the naval reserve school there, after which he will go to the Great Lakes training school in Chicago for a three-month course.

Spears, who was born and reared in Cisco, has just completed a post-graduate course at the University of Texas, where he took his master's degree a few years ago. Following his graduation at the university, young Spears spent one summer in European travel before becoming cashier and a director in the First National Bank, of which his father, Alex Spears, is president. The recent post-graduate course at the university was in higher mathematics and naval science. A large crowd of friends were at the train Saturday morning to give Mr. Spears and Leonard King, who is to attend the same courses, their best wishes in their naval careers.

FOES IN DISGUISE

What shall be done with Ernest Burger, Robert Quinn, Edward Kerling, Herbert Haupt, George Dusch, Heinrich Henck, Walter Thiel and Herman Neubauer?

They are the saboteurs, experts carefully trained in Germany, brought to this country in submarine and set ashore with powerful bombs to blow up key defense industries in this country.

All of these men had lived in the United States and profited by its advantages, though some had returned to Germany to live.

There is no doubt about what would be done with American civilians caught in similar activities in Germany. They would promptly be shot.

Some of these men seem clearly guilty of treason and the others are at least classifiable as alien enemies engaged in criminal or military warfare against the United States.

JUST DOGS

People admire dogs for their loyalty. And this loyalty is not confined to their masters. They are often very loyal to each other.

A woman heard a beagle barking excitedly out in a field, and saw him running excitedly back and forth. When he had kept it up for several hours, she asked her husband to go and see what was wrong.

He tramped over the field, and the beagle came to meet him and led him to a clump of bushes. There was an old, abandoned well there.

The man lifted him out and carried him to the house, and the woman poured some whisky down his throat and put him into a tub of warm water.

THE CCC

There are two sides to this CCC business, as there usually are to any disputed question. The obvious one is that the CCC was instituted in the depression to keep boys off the streets when there were no jobs.

The other side is that the CCC has turned out to be no charity, but a valuable aid to the army and forest service. The young men who belong to it are, many of them, too young for army or navy.

The wise solution doubtless would have been a compromise—to keep the CCC insofar as it is really needed, but to hold it down, not to expand its numbers or expenses connected with it.

Some of the measures of the early thirties were depression-emergency measures, pure and simple. But it does look somewhat as if the CCC had justified itself on a more permanent basis.

It would be neat, too, if Providence rounded up those old Egyptian plagues and could pour 'em on the invaders, without hurting the defenders.

PEOPLE WANT ACTION.

When anybody writes a critical letter to a newspaper, it probably means that a lot of other people are thinking in the same way.

"Anger is not enough," says the writer. "The situation calls for action. The public has faith in our fighting forces. Why, after showing our hand in the Doolittle raid, did we quit?"

"What is the matter with us all? This waiting game all over the map is silly. With 5,000 airplanes a month, we should be ashamed of our continued idleness, and China should be disgusted with us.

It isn't all so simple as this. But certainly the people and the times call for action.

REGENTS OF TEXAS UNIVERSITY MAKE IT CLEAR THAT EMPLOYEES MUST USE CARE IN USE OF WORDS

AUSTIN, July 4.—Members of the faculty of the University of Texas should and must WATCH THEIR STEPS and their WORDS.

Refusal of regents to re-employ three instructors who criticized a Dallas anti-strike meeting caused many faculty members to dig up and read the "rules and regulations" of the board of regents for the government of the University of Texas.

These rules and regulations are the subject of University of Texas bulletin 3631 and, according to the bulletin, they were adopted by the regents March 14, 1936.

There are 134 novel-size pages of the rules and regulations printed in type of the size ordinarily used in daily newspapers.

Apparently the regents overlooked one of their own rules in the action on the three instructors. Page 16 of the bulletin notes that "when possible at least three months' notice shall be given of the intention not to reappoint an assistant professor or instructor, but failure of the university to give such notice shall not constitute reappointment."

The Dallas mass meeting was held on March 22, 1942. Federal Judge Whit Davidson of Dallas wrote to regents complaining of the economics department after its instructors said the Dallas meeting was not conducted fairly toward labor.

of a controversial or political question.

"Members of the staff should refrain from involving the university in politics, futile controversies, and harmful publicity, and should refrain from publicly criticizing university policies before sending the criticism to the president for the consideration of the board of regents."

"The offense of the instructors was sending a protest to the Dallas News, which said: 'In connection with the allegedly spontaneous mass meeting held in fair park auditorium Sunday, we should like to make the following comments: '1. The meeting was NOT spontaneous—but was very well organized.

"2. The meeting was not democratically conducted—but all volunteer speakers were refused. '3. Speakers were not selected on the basis of representation—but on the basis of previously assured viewpoint.

"4. The pretended fairness of the meeting was smoothly circumvented—condemning all sides in general, and labor in particular."

Many other regulations not involved in the current case apply to full-time instructors at the University of Texas. They are not permitted to engage in outside work in competition with legitimate private agencies, or without approval.

Even part-time instructors must get approval for their outside professional work. They cannot use university stationery or equipment in connection with outside work, nor can they accept employment that will bring them into antagonism with the interests of the state of Texas.

If a faculty member accepts outside work, he must make it clear the work is unofficial and that the name of the university is not to be connected in any way, exceptions being made to the extent that the author of books, pamphlets and periodicals may have the name of the university used together with that of the author.

Section 14 of the regulations prohibits members of the university staff communicating with the legislature and other state officials. It designates the president and the board of regents as the proper channel for recommendations.

This rule goes farther and says that an employee of the university who, by invitation of a member of the legislature or state official, shall discuss policies affecting the university is under an obligation of honor to inform the president of the nature of such discussion.

"He should emphasize the fact that his opinion is personal and not institutional," the regulations require, and continue:

"In all matters, members of the staff should refrain from exhibiting rancor, prejudice or undue partisanship, exhibiting contrivance a dispassionate temperament and a power to present fully and fairly all the arguments on all sides

GRAND MOTHER SENTENCED TO DIE IN GEORGIA

ATLANTA, July 4.—Mrs. Minnie Lee Griffin, 49 and a grandmother, was under sentence Saturday to pay with her life for the killing of a comely 20-year-old neighbor.

The frail woman calmly sat through the trial and as calmly heard the court sentence her Friday to die in the electric chair August 7 for the death of Mrs. Mildred Williams, shoe store clerk whose disappearance of several months was solved only after her body was found crammed in an old trunk in Mrs. Griffin's basement.

Should the sentence be carried out, Mrs. Griffin would be the first woman to be electrocuted in Georgia, and the second one to undergo capital punishment. The only other woman against whom a death sentence has been carried out in the state died by hanging in 1870.

The defense was based on a plea of counsel that the woman was of unsound mind, but psychiatrists differed in their testimony, one holding her a victim of hallucinations, and another declaring her "just a very mean woman."

Defense testimony also was offered that she was obsessed with a suspicion that her daughter's husband, Kenneth Hubert, "was running around with Mrs. Williams," and that Mrs. Williams would break up her daughter's marriage.

Mrs. Bigsput is wealthy, so she can afford to feed her guests cheap sandwiches, but Mrs. Jimpson is poor, so she must serve expensive food to make a showing.

PLENTY WATER NOW.

ALBANY, July 4.—Instead of observing Independence Day with a fireworks display, barbecue or rodeo, Albany celebrated a new fresh water supply Saturday. Water from Lake McCarty, named after Dick McCarty, editor of the Albany News, went into the town's mains after brief dedicatory ceremonies by Mayor J. Carter King, Jr. and other city officials. McCarty for years had campaigned and worked to have a lake large enough to supply water for years built. Ill-health prevented him from attending the ceremonies. He is in a veterans' hospital at Waco.

SURFACE "VALETS" AID DIVERS IN "DRESSING."

With billions of dollars worth of shipping already lying at the bottom of the seven seas and the end of wartime sinkings nowhere in sight, a mountainous job lies ahead in both current and post war salvage operations. England today is training hundreds of men for an underwater role—now and later. One of the most interesting of the Naval establishments engaged in this work is the Royal Naval School of Diving in Southern England. Here volunteers are first taught the theory and then the practical side of the future duties. Many dockyard workers, familiar with ships and their construction, have already become undersea veterans, while white collar workers are fast being moulded into divers of the deep. Both the diving students and their surface attendants are pictured in a routine day at the school.

Texas War Bond quota for May was $18,594,000 and she went over the top nearly $4,000,000 to spare. Results of the June quota have not been published.

But Uncle Sam has boosted the quota for Texas to $33,677,000 for July -- a 20.9 percent over May.

But demands for more armament is imperative -- Uncle Sam must have the for men and equipment.

Texas will do her part -- Cisco must do hers by raising her quota. Let's roll our sleeves and start the job now.
