ALLIED AID WOULD TIP BALANCE IN RUSSIA

DEATH STRUGGLE IS UNDER WAY OVER A 700-MILE FRONT; AXIS TRIES TO CLOSE IN ON ROSTOV

MOSCOW, July 14. — Axis mass attacks twice broke into the blazing defenses of Voronezh and surged southward 100 miles below the Don river front in a menacing pincer offensive toward Rostov today despite mounting losses and punishing Red Army counterattacks.

Expected aid from the Allies — both men, planes and tanks — will tip the scales in favor of the Red army it is now generally conceded. When that aid will arrive is a military secret.

In addition to driving into the streets around Voronezh in one of the fiercest battles of the war, the German offensive thrusts were reported to have pushed southward toward Millerovo. This is less than 100 miles north of the Rostov gateway to the Caucasus, while the enemy's most easterly advance beyond Boguchar was less than 190 miles from the Volga industrial center of Stalingrad.

Dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Agency in London said that growing Russian counterattacks were cutting into the German north flank on a wide front in the Voronezh sector, forcing the enemy to retreat before tank, cavalry and infantry charges that killed thousands, but these reports of big scale blows were not otherwise confirmed.

Fighting was intensified on vital sectors of a 700-mile front stretching from the Kalinin area, where a battering Russian counter-attack put the Germans on the defensive 135 miles northwest of Moscow, to the Don River bend and thence southward to within perhaps 90 miles of Rostov.

FARMERS TO BE AIDED IN SECURING SEEDS

E. E. Blackwell, county chairman of the seed improvement committee of the agricultural victory council, announces meetings at various points in the county at which he will assist those interested in locating oats, barley or wheat seed for demonstration purposes. Prices and varieties will be furnished at these meetings and it is said early action is desirable.

The time and place for the meetings are as follows: Cisco, chamber of commerce—Tuesday night, July 21, at 9 o'clock.

Gorman, school building—Wednesday night, July 22, at 9 o'clock.

Ranger, chamber of commerce—Wednesday night, July 22, at 9 o'clock.

Staff, church—Thursday night, July 23, at 9 o'clock.

Okra, church—Thursday night, July 23, at 9 o'clock.

Eastland, court house—Friday night, July 24, at 9 o'clock.

GESTAPO CHIEF SLAIN
LONDON, July 14.—Assassination of another Gestapo chieftain in Nazi-occupied Europe was revealed in London Tuesday coincident with disclosure that 700 Yugo-Slavian patriots had been slain in reprisal. The victim was Major Helm, Nazi Gestapo chief of Zagreb, capital of Croatia.

AUSTRALIA IS QUIET
GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, July 14.—Activity in the Australian zone yesterday was confined to aerial reconnaissance, a United Nations communique said today.

ACTION OVER NEW GUINEA—Flying so high as to be invisible to the naked eye, American fighter planes leave streaks of exhaust in their wake as they maneuver to attack Japanese bombers near New Guinea on a mission of destruction. Flight height was given as 20,000 feet.

Noted Nazarene Churchman Opened the District Camp Meeting at Lake

The camp meeting of the 68-church district of the Church of the Nazarene began at Cisco Sunday night with the address of H. V. Miller of Nampa, Idaho, to be followed by other distinguished speakers during the week.

J. Glenn Gould of Kansas, Mo., editor of Nazarene school publications, spoke morning at 9:30 and this afternoon at 3:30. Dr. Miller speaks morning at 11 o'clock and at the evening.

ALEX M. FERGUSON of Howe, Grayson county, Texas, candidate for governor.

ROMMEL UNABLE TO ADVANCE

CAIRO, July 14.—British imperial forces have beaten off a new Axis attack on their coastal line, it was announced today.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel threw his men, Germans with Italian infantry, against the new British battle line west of El Alamein, anchored on the Hill of Jesus and a strong ridge to the south.

As the infantrymen debouched from their trucks and made toward the imperial line they were met with artillery, machine gun and rifle fire and the attack was broken.

It was the second time in two days that Rommel attempted to regain—perhaps for a renewed offensive against Alexandria and the Nile—the positions he lost in the British attack of last week.

Today's joint communique of the middle eastern command and the Royal air force, also reported that toward the southern end of the line, which ends at the Qattara salt bogs, British and German tank and armored car columns were clashing in the desert dust bowl.

The communique noted that aerial activity was intensifying in the battle area, with the British and South African forces evidently retaining their domination.

Imperial fighters, bombers and light bombers attacked the Axis landing grounds at El Daba, just west of the present line, and bombed and machine gunned a big concentration of vehicles, the communique said. All attacks were described as successful and it was said that some tanks were destroyed.

At least six enemy planes were shot down in air battles in addition to others destroyed on the ground, the communique said.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. French and Mrs. Leon McPherson, H. N. Lyle, Chas. Roberts and Miss Leatha Estes attended a joint meeting of the American Legion and auxiliary in Abilene Sunday. They attended the service at the First Baptist church, where Dr. Millard Jenkins delivered the sermon for the two groups, and enjoyed the luncheon at the American Legion hut. Andrew Dilworth, state commander, of San Antonio, and Colonel Poland of Camp Barkeley were speakers in the afternoon. Among auxiliary officers attending were Mrs. Geo. Berry of Lubbock, state past president, and Mrs. Strong of Austin, president.

FORCED SAVING

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Chairman George of the senate finance committee predicted today that congress will act to force people to save a part of their earnings as an aid in controlling inflation. George told reporters he believed congress will have to direct enforced savings by regular percentage deductions from pay checks and other income if it hopes to prevent runaway increases in prices.

BLAST KILLS FOUR

WAYNESVILLE, N. C., July 14. A thunderous explosion early today at the distributing plant of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey killed at least four persons and hospitalized eight others. The condition of the injured was described as serious.

CATTLE MARKET

Rather heavy receipts of cattle and calves on the Fort Worth stockyards today brought a slow market and uneven prices. Early sales of medium to choice grades of steers and yearlings were about steady but common grass steers and yearlings were slow with most bids lower on early rounds. Cows were slow with prices steady to 25 cents lower. Bull prices were unchanged. Fat cows sold steady. Good stockers were steady with medium and low grades 25 to 50 cents below last week's closing levels.

In the hog yards a few sales to shippers carried prices 10 cents higher, but most butchers were 5 to 10 cents below Monday's average levels with the extreme top $14.50 and the packer top $14.35. In the sheep yards spring lambs ruled steady. Fat yearlings were scarce. Receipts included a liberal supply of canner and common sheep that sold strong.

In the cattle yards good to choice fed steers and yearlings ranged from $12 to $13, this range including five loads of steers at $12.50 and one load of yearlings at $12.50. Medium grade caked steers and yearlings brought $10 to $11.50 and included two loads of heifers at $11.50, two loads of steers at $11.50, and two loads of steers at $11.25. Common grasser cattle sold at $7.50 to $9.

Good beef cows sold mostly at $8.50 to $9.25 with occasional cows up to $9.50 and higher. Common to medium beef cows brought $7.25 to $8.25. Canners and cutters cleared at $3.50 to $7.

Good fat calves sold mostly at $11 to $12 with very choice calves at $12.50. Common to medium slaughter calves ranged from $8.50 to $10.50. Cull calves cashed at $7 to $8.

Stocker steer calves sold at $13 down with heifer calves at $12 down for good animals. Common to medium stocker calves cashed at $7.50 to $10.50. Stocker steer yearlings sold largely at $11.50 down. Stocker cows went back to the grass at $9 down.

INTEREST IN DRILL LACKING

The executive committee of the Cisco Defense Guard sent out about 250 letters early last week to local men eligible to voluntary military drill, but the attendance at the Friday night meeting showed only two or three new faces at the weekly gathering. Those participating Friday night were as follows: J. D. Yardley, M. M. Farmer, R. W. Merket, Floyd Rains, C. J. Collins, W. A. Marsh, A. V. Osburn, Donald Mueller, J. E. Hayes, George W. Downey, F. D. Wright, George Boyd, Cecil Penn, I. J. Pence, L. E. Sublett, W. E. Morris, W. A. Pence, W. H. Robinson, Leslie Fleming, Wyatt Jacobs, J. A. Alsbrook, Ben F. Roland, O. L. Stamey. Several of the regular attendants were absent from the city hence could not be present at the regular meeting, it was stated.

30,000 ARMEN YEARLY

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Anticipating the greatest fleet of aircraft carriers the world has ever known, the navy is concentrating on a pilot training program which soon should be turning out naval aviators at the rate of 30,000 a year.

Nothing can have the force of law unless everybody knows that violation of it will bring punishment.

MARRIED MEN BE DEFERRED IF POSSIBLE

FT. WORTH, July 14.—Selective Service Director Hershey today sent detailed instructions to local draft boards on the order of inducting men into the armed services to "protect" family groups, and listed 34 occupational activities for which registrants may be deferred.

Hershey said bonafide family relations would be safeguarded "as far as possible."

The new dependency classifications:

1. "Single men with no dependents."
2. "Single men who do not contribute to the war effort but who have dependents."
3. "Single men with dependents, who contribute to the war effort."
4. "Married men who are not engaged in the war effort but who maintain a bonafide family relationship with a wife only."
5. "Married men (of the same classification) who are engaged in the war effort."
6. "Married men who are not engaged in a war effort and who maintain bonafide family relations with wife and children, or children only."
7. "Married men of the same classification, who are engaged in the war effort."

Thus, single men will be the first called; married war workers with children will be last on the list.

Hershey defined a "bonafide dependency relationship" as one entered into prior to Dec. 8, and at a time when induction was not imminent.

MORTGAGE IN WOLEN CLOTHS BAXTER

William Baxter, Jr., manager of American Red Cross, St. Louis quarters, says we are now with a definite shortage in supply of woolen cloth for uniforms. Because of lack of ship-facilities, imports of wool abroad have greatly decreased at the same time the need for woolen cloth and yarn has increased following the expansion of our army and navy.

War production board has taken a number of conservation measures, among which is rationing of cuts from men's suits trousers. The conservation became effective March 1 the following rules have been sent to county chairmen of Red Cross:

Let this up as a special chapter object and appoint a small committee to handle it. This committee should be a sub-committee production committee and, possible, should have on it representatives of the production merchant tailors, clothing etc.

Have this committee contact local visit, telephone or let local merchants, tailors and selling men's clothing, and let them to save and turn over chapter all "wool clips" that are already being disposed of regular commercial channels.

Operating with the above suggestions, Mrs. A. C. Green has appointed local chairman of "wool clips" and Mrs. E. P. Crawshaw assistant chairman.

N. M. Phillips and daughter Jean Phillips will leave today for their home in Des Moines, Ark., after spending the few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Lee Leiske.

SENATOR IN AFRICA

People here and there who try to keep a roaming eye on the United States senate have been wondering a little about Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. He never seemed to be around any more. But suddenly the senator turned up again in Capitol Hill, with his usual dignity and self-possession, but very unburned. He had been on the battle front in Libya, to see for himself what was going on, and the nature of desert fighting; how the American tanks stood up in combat, and just what an American army would be up against if it had to fight there.

Now Major Lodge—for that's his title outside of the senate—knows those vital things from direct observation, including the knowledge of how it feels to be inside a General Grant tank under fire. He had been through all the regular training operations at home, and handled troops and supplies in southern maneuvers under conditions approximating actual war, but he thought that wasn't enough. Now when he discusses this war and its requirements, the other senators listen and the public listens. Sooner or later the senator again will be missing from the senate, and he may next be heard of in the war news from Africa or the Near East.

There is a basic reality in such procedure that makes ordinary senatorial operations seem very unimpressive.

USE OF CARS

Recent talk and thought about automobile tires has been very confused. People don't know what to expect, whether business or vacation trips are going to be possible, whether they can drive to the mountains or the sea, to Canada or Mexico, with a reasonable chance of getting home again with their tires or not.

This uncertainty must be accepted calmly as "one of those things" caused by the war. The government itself, as the president acknowledges, is uncertain. The situation will clarify somewhat as dependable figures are obtained for the number of good tires and tubes left in use and in storage, the amount of scrap rubber collected in these national drives, the junk yard stores, and so on, and the rate at which factory production of artificial tires and tubes can be speeded up.

Alongside of all these factors must be placed the country's war requirements, which come first. Mars himself runs on rubber.

Is it not the sensible and decent thing now for every car owner to regard his car as a national war asset, which he is entitled to use as long as the government doesn't need it? In this situation should not every good citizen take good care of his car, keeping it in commission to avoid deterioration, but not using it unnecessarily?

BASTILLE DAY

The grim old French prison fortress called the Bastille was built by Charles V between 1370 and 1383. It was enlarged about the 17th century. By 1789 it had become a symbol for unjust punishment, for throwing political enemies into dungeons without trial, cut off from communication and from the world. It stood for all the wickedness and unfairness of an old regime.

Therefore when, on July 14 of that first year of the Revolution, a mob stormed it, broke down its doors, let the prisoners out and started the destruction of the old stone building itself, that day became the symbol of the overthrow of old injustice, the installation of a newer and better way. For more than a century and a half Bastille Day has been to the French something like Independence Day to Americans. It was the day of determination that Frenchmen should be free.

This year there are rumors that Bastille Day will mean more to France than a memory. Determination rises again in the souls of Frenchmen, under a heel as cruel as that of any French king. There will be mobs and riots again. Beyond this day rises hope. Here's to Bastille Day of 1943—may it dawn on a free France!

CHINESE INGENUITY

Americans brag about pioneer ancestry, and ingrained ability to get along and improvise things and "make do" in any emergency, and indeed there is a reality behind such claims. Yet when you get down to bed-rock, are "Yanks" really superior to "Chinks"?

Major General Chu Shih Ming, military attache at Washington, was telling the news men a few things the other day. "You Americans," he said with a twinkle, "have the streamlined idea that everything must be perfect before you start. But we Chinese have the ricksha mind, and can patch and mend planes and get them against the enemy somehow."

So he insisted that with only 500 bombing and fighting planes, his people could start a good offensive against the Japs immediately, and could keep it going. The Chinese have really done so much with so little in a hundred ways, during these last five years, that even American ingenuity is humbled.

BALANCED EDUCATION

Young people are thinking more seriously about education than for some time. Educators are realizing that the chaos of the last twenty or thirty years must give way to some sort of order in the schooling process.

When science came to the fore, in the late nineteenth century, there was a tendency to throw out the "humanities" as old-fashioned. But the scientifically schooled young people prove just as one-sided and lacking in ability to adjust themselves to life as ever were those who could write Greek poetry and didn't know what made it rain. There has to be a balance. The educated man or woman should read his own language and at least one other with ease, and might well know a little of a third. He thus learns what language is and what it does. He should know some mathematics, some modern science, some history, some social sciences, something of the fine arts. Through all these must run some knowledge of philosophy, of moral discrimination as to what is right. Without that strong thread running through them all, the beads of the necklace of education fall apart. Young people need the balance and contrast of subjects to enable them to cope with the problems of democracy.

PRIMARY ELECTION IS 11 DAYS AWAY

The Democratic primary will be held in Eastland county on July 25, along with the other 253 counties of Texas, to determine what candidates will represent the party in the general election of November.

Since there is only one party of numerical presequence in the state, the July primary action determines the final election.

On this page will be found the solicitations of some good men who seek the offices named in their advertisements. Some are seeking reelection, in which cases their records speak for their fitness.

Others are seeking the offices named for the first time, and voters must use their judgment in determining whether they will be more and suitable to the office than the one who now holds it.

At any rate, voters should give all these men careful and thoughtful consideration.

Care in choosing office holders has much to do with good government, or the lack of it.

FORMER EAST- LAND WOMAN DIED SUDDENLY

Mrs. Elvie H. Jackson, widow of the late W. K. Jackson, who was in the employ of the Prairie Oil & Gas company at Eastland for a number of years, died at her home in San Antonio and was laid to rest there Saturday.

During her residence in Eastland, Mrs. Jackson was society editor of the Eastland Telegram and was well known in social and club circles.

Mrs. Jackson had been engaged in newspaper work in San Antonio since her removal to that city and her death resulted from a fall sustained early last week.

It is incorrect to say divorced people "remain good friends." If they had been good friends, they wouldn't be divorced.

Cases Pending

Bobbie Williams, minor, by next friend, R. R. Williams, vs. W. M. Forbes, is a personal injury suit in which plaintiff alleges he is damaged in the sum of $5,000 punitive damages and $2,000 actual damages. Judge Eugene Lankford of Cisco and Frank Sparks of Eastland are attorneys for plaintiff.

Plaintiff alleges that on or about November 12, 1941, while riding on his bicycle on the Lake Cisco highway, using the extreme western edge of the pavement, defendant maliciously was exceeding the speed limit, to frighten plaintiff or for his amusement, drove dangerously near to plaintiff and did contact his bicycle by striking the handle-bar with his rear bumper and dragging plaintiff for a distance of 100 yards, completely demolishing the bicycle and injuring plaintiff to an extent that he was unconscious for some hours, necessitating his going to a hospital for treatment.

Plaintiff asks judgment for the value of his bicycle, hospital, surgeon's fees and medical bill and for actual and punitive damages in the sum of $7,000.

This case is docketed in the 91st court and will be one of the first cases to be assigned by Judge Davenport on his return to his bench from Fort Worth, where he has been presiding for Judge

Frank P. Culver of the 17th district.

Judge Davenport stated while in Eastland Sunday that he would likely conclude the Burnett-SMU case by Thursday, and would then return to his own bench.

Other cases pending are Leather Peacock vs. J. B. Peacock, divorce. Mrs. S. E. Reynolds et al vs. Myrtle Warren et al, trespass to try title and damages.

A decree of divorce and custody of minor children was ordered by Judge Patterson, sitting for Judge Davenport, in the case of Mayme Fry vs. Herbert Fry.

Six Children Graduated From Nursery School

A program featuring the graduation of six children from Cisco nursery school was given at the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Education group, Friday, at the school.

Mrs. Claud Tucker registered the members and guests as they arrived at the school and Mrs. William Joyner, chairman of the group, presided over the meeting.

The meeting was opened by all standing and repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Following this the salute to the flag was given and the song "God Bless America" was sung by the graduation class. Mrs. W. W. Fowell, invited guest speaker, was presented. She gave a most interesting and inspirational talk on "Better Youth for Better America."

The children to be graduated then sang a series of nursery school songs and gave some finger plays. Richard Villaneuva and Tony Ramirez, two members of the class, sang "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Presentation of diplomas by Mrs. Bessie Pass, manager of the nursery school, followed. In a few well-chosen words Mrs. Pass told parents and guests how the management appreciated having the children in the nursery school and thanked parents for their co-operation in carrying out the routine of training and care of the children.

Diplomas were presented to the following children: Sammie Ruth Bell, Bobbie Joe Johnson, Frances Macias, Richard Villaneuva, Tony Ramirez and to Betty Joe Alexander who was unable to be present.

The program was concluded by all standing and singing "America." During the social period, refreshments were served to 15 members and 25 guests.
