NAZIS CLAIM ROSTOV; SOVIETS ARE SILENT

THOUGH THE CITY IS UNDOUBTEDLY NEAR CAPTURE, RUSSIANS STILL HOLD CAUCASUS RAIL LINE

The Germans today claimed the capture of strategic Rostov-on-the-Don gateway to the rich oil of the Caucasus and although the Russians did not immediately confirm the Nazi announcement, it appeared that the city was virtually encircled if not actually lost.

On the North African desert battlefield British artillery and armored patrols lashed at Axis positions after consolidating ground won by the British in the hard fighting of the past three days, but there were no important changes in the struggle.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters in the east announced the capture of Rostov in "hard fighting" and said that the mopping up of remaining Russian forces in the area was under way.

However, the Germans on July 7 made a similar claim in regard to Voronezh, 290 miles north of Rostov, but now -- 17 days after that claim -- they still are battling to take the city and appear to have lost ground in several sectors before hammering Soviet attacks.

Today's Russian High Command communique told of hard fighting around Rostov and left no doubt as to the desperate nature of the situation there with the Germans slicing in from Taganrog to the west, from the Voroshilovgrad region to the north and down in a curving arc around Novocheerkassk at the conflux of the Don and Donets rivers 32 miles northeast of Rostov.

It appeared that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko believed the Soviet position at Rostov to be untenable and was withdrawing to a line below Rostov and the Don, for a defense of the northern Caucasus. Last Nov. 22 the Germans seized Rostov and the Russians made such a withdrawal, finally regrouping their forces and striking back to retake the city and launch their winter offensive.

The Germans claimed in their communique that Russian resistance in the Don loop, which curves to within 35 miles of industrial Stalingrad, one of Russia's greatest war centers, has been "broken," and other reports said the Nazis had struck across the Don and into the Caucasus between Rostov and Stalingrad.

British commentators, although making no effort to disguise the seriousness of the situation which may determine whether Russia's armies are to remain intact in the south, said that the decisive battle remained to be fought in northern Caucasus.

The best defense positions lie on the southern bank of the Don, below Rostov, and it is there that the Soviets may withdraw, if they have not already done so. The Russian high command reported important gains around Voronezh and acknowledged a withdrawal in the Novocheerkassk area, guarding the eastern flank of Rostov, under threat of encirclement. The Germans also were admitted to be heavily attacking Tsirilyanskaya, 100 miles east of Novocheerkassk and 115 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

On the Egyptian battlefield the British Imperials were delivering their strongest blows against Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Axis forces in the northern sector, just west of Alamein and the central sector, where light British bombers attacked enemy targets and enabled the Imperials to dig into their newly-won positions, meanwhile keeping Rommel on the defensive. The southern sector was quiet, although six Axis planes were downed in air fighting.

The British air force, maintaining its destructive pounding of Germany's industrial centers, carried out wide-ranging night attacks on the Ruhr and Rheinland centers, airdromes, railroads and other targets in the Nazi-occupied Low Countries.

About 40 German planes attacked British East Anglia and the Midlands, and seven were shot down--five of them by a squadron led by Wing Commander Max Aitken son of Lord Beaverbrook. The British acknowledged the loss of seven planes in the night attacks across the channel.

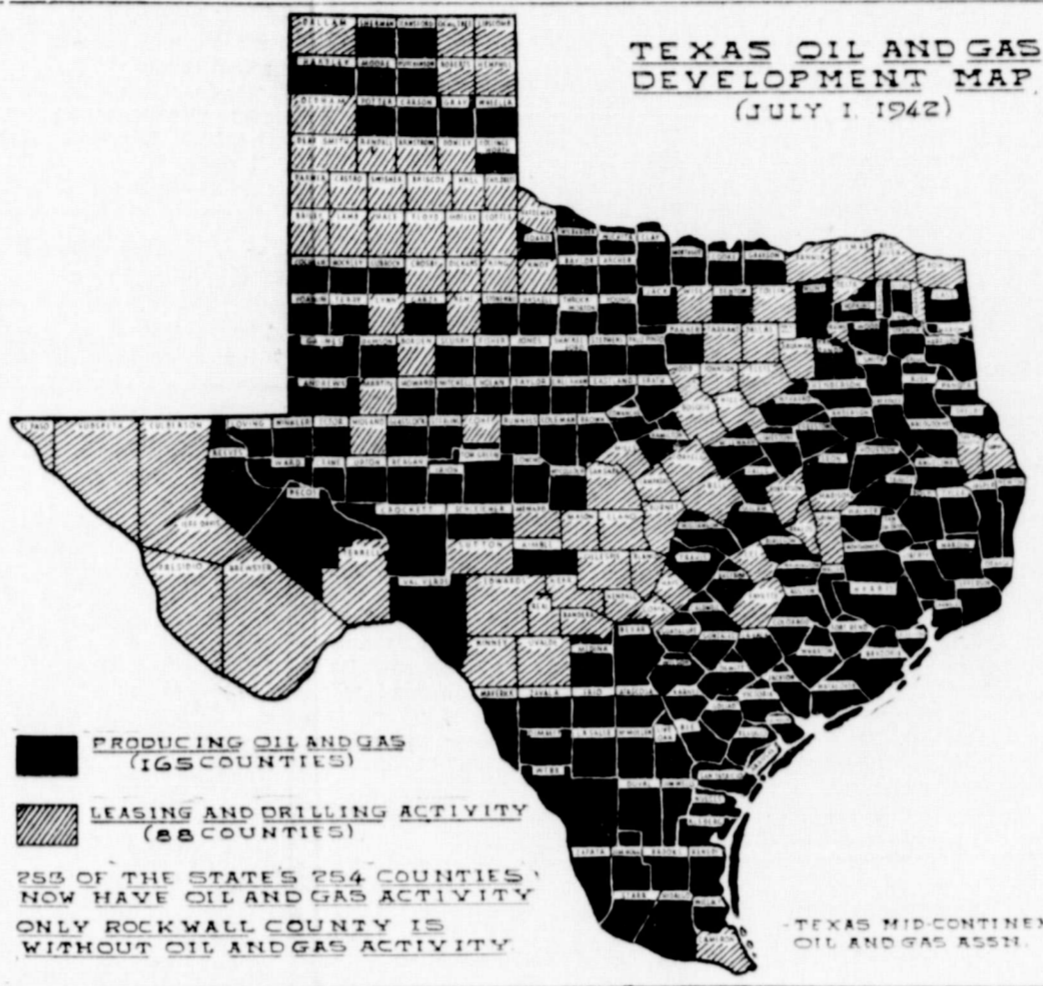

On the Australian invasion front Allied planes made five new strong attacks in Japan's new invasion base on the northern coast of New Guinea, only 110 air miles from the Allied advance base at Port Moresby.

Allied dive bombers, making on the Buna-Ambasi-Gona area, their first appearance in the Australian zone, aided the attack where the Japanese have landed a force of about 2500 men. A 5,000-ton enemy transport believed to have been carrying munitions, was bombed and set afire while the dive-bombers attacked buildings and landing barges at Gona.

Since the enemy invasion fleet was sighted there Tuesday night the Allies have sunk one transport and badly damaged two others.

WOMAN LEGION OFFICER

BROWNWOOD, July 24—Members of the Isham A. Smith Post of the American Legion this week elected Charles Kyle as post commander, and, for the first time in the post's history, named a woman to a legion office. Miss Rosa L. Lane, navy nurse from 1918 to 1935, was elected second vice commander of the local post. Nat P. Broome was elected first vice commander.

DALLAS, July 24—All but one of Texas' 254 counties now have oil or gas activity, a statewide survey just made by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

RED CROSS TAKES ON ANOTHER IMPORTANT FEATURE OF WAR-TIME WORK; HELP WITH METAL

The Red Cross has been called upon for a new service. A meeting was held at Camp Bowie Base hospital yesterday and representatives from 10 county chapters were present.

The Red Cross headquarters were represented by Paul Nixon of St. Louis, military and naval welfare worker, and Mrs. Pendry of Fort Worth, field worker for these 10 counties.

The new phase of service was instituted as a result of the public asking: "What can we do for the boys in the hospitals in our camps?"

The needs and possibilities were presented by officials of the hospital and by Red Cross workers in charge of work at Camp Bowie. Four full-time workers, headed by Miss Shockley, look after the needs, comforts and entertainment of the patients and convalescents at Camp Bowie.

The buildings and bare necessities are provided by the government and the army. Many articles of furniture, musical instruments, such as violins, guitars, horns, saxophones, radios, victrolas and pianos, also games are needed. A small piano on wheels, which could be moved from ward to ward, would be a great source of entertainment.

Each ward has a lounge room for patients not confined to beds. These rooms need curtains, lamps, teams will draw for opponents and a regular schedule posted. 5. A game is 21 points. 6. Rings count 5 points, "leaners" 3 points, and nearest show 1 point. 7. Number of games played to determine the winners will be governed by the number of entries.

W. D. M'GRAW MOVES HERE; BUYS A HOME

Dr. W. D. McGraw, optometrist from Belton has purchased the former Jewel Poe home at 700 W. Ninth street and has moved into it with his family—Mrs. McGraw and a son, Wendell, eight years of age, who will be in school this year. McGraw has his office in his home and his announcement appears in today's Cisco Daily Press.

Mr. McGraw is a native Texan, having been born in Newton county. With the coming of defense projects in that section the family decided to seek a quieter place for their home.

They liked Cisco so well that they immediately decided to buy a residence here and make it their permanent home.

Incidentally, Dr. McGraw has been a minister of the Church of the Nazarene for more than 40 years. He still preaches occasionally.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Jones, who sold the property to Dr. McGraw, have moved to Eastland and have bought a home there. Mr. Jones has also purchased a farm near Eastland.

MOTHER COLLAPSES

WASHINGTON, July 24—Mrs. Erna Haupt testified in behalf of her son, Herbert Haupt, 22, the youngest of the eight Nazi saboteurs now on trial before a military commission in Washington, it was learned Friday at the hearing entered its fourteenth day.

BOMBS THROUGH FOG

NEW YORK, July 24—The Tokio radio broadcast a Domei dispatch Friday in which a Japanese correspondent on Kiska Island at the western end of the Aleutians reported United States bombers were attacking Japanese forces there two or three times a day, dropping bombs through fog.

CURB WAR PROFITS

WASHINGTON, July 24—Laws to curb the profiteering fringe of war contractors were demanded Friday as the result of a year-long investigation by the House Naval committee. In a summation of its inquiry, the committee said that 95 per cent of contractors were doing an honest job but "the other 5 per cent appear to be taking advantage of the war situation."

A FRIEND TO EDUCATION

I would like to commend to the voters of this section L. A. Wood, present State Superintendent of Public Instructions for re-election to this most important office, so important to education in Texas.

DR. L. A. WOOD

For Re-election

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION FOR TEXAS

Dr. Wood has proven himself SOUND, PRACTICAL and PROGRESSIVE during his administration, as shown by his academic, financial and business ability in working for the best interests of the city and rural schools of the state.

Keep Texas tremendous education war program going by voting for Dr. L. A. Wood.

Most sincerely,
R. N. CLUCK, Supt. Cisco Public Schools
President of Cisco Junior College.

Group Three Met With Mrs. Shockley

Mrs. Lonnie Shockley was hostess when group three of the First Christian church council met in her home Tuesday. The meeting opened by group singing of the hymn, "To the Work," and Mrs. A. J. Ward brought the devotional from Matthew, chapter 20, using as a subject "The Master Calls." The lesson was ably discussed by Mrs. J. S. Mobley.

Marriage Rites Held Saturday Unite Couple

A wedding of interest to Cisco friends took place in Fort Worth Saturday evening at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Mildred Cottingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker, became the bride of Morris Clayton in a ceremony read in the parsonage of Rev. Jordan, who officiated. Attending them were her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs.

Cisco, Let's Help the Man Who Helped Us.
RE-ELECT . . .
OMAR BURKETT
For STATE REPRESENTATIVE
107th Flatorial District
Callahan and Eastland Counties
Let's give this home-town man a big vote Saturday and show our appreciation for what he has done.

C. S. ELDRIDGE MAKES STATEMENT

I was your county superintendent from 1934 to 1938 and during that one term I believe that the records made, prove to you that I did more for Cisco schools than any County Superintendent you ever had. Let's take a look at some of the things done while I was your superintendent. Acting in co-operation with your school officials, nine districts were transferred to Cisco with an increase of more than 170 pupils and more than $12,000 annually added to your funds. This could be done only through the County Superintendent's efforts and co-operation. I am happy to say the transferred districts profited as much as Cisco. Children who had been getting six and seven months terms and no affiliation could get advantages of a nine months term and a first class, fully accredited high school. Cisco, you know how proud you are of your schools. Please remember me as the one County Superintendent who helped you do it. Consult those officials who served from 1934 to 1938 and find out if what I have said in the above is true. If so, I sure would appreciate it if you will vote for me for a second term as your County Superintendent. Viewing our future schools as the best in the state where every boy and girl must be taught how to live and how to make a living, I'm asking you again for a second term and if elected I will do my best to make you glad.
Thanks a lot, folks.
C. S. (Clabe) ELDRIDGE.

CISCOANS SPEAK OUT

Citizens of Cisco who are mindful of the work of P. L. (Lewis) Crossley while a member of the Texas legislature, want to show their appreciation of his labors as the friend of education and other measures for the good of Eastland county and the people whom he represented.

Most especially do Ciscoans commend him for his labors in the interest of the bill granting state aid to Junior colleges of the state, which include those of Cisco and Ranger.

These citizens call attention to his candidacy.

P. L. CROSSLEY FOR COUNTY JUDGE OF EASTLAND COUNTY

His experience and native ability fit him for the office and he promises, if elected, a term devoted to the best interests of our citizens based on rigid economy, with constant reports on what is being done through his office.

CISCO Can Pay a DEBT.

Cisco friends of Senator John Lee Smith take this opportunity to thank him for the splendid work which he did in the Texas legislature to pass the bill granting state aid to Junior colleges of the state which included Cisco and Ranger Junior Colleges.

We therefore commend him to the voters of Texas in his candidacy for the office of

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

He has demonstrated great powers of leadership, as well as a zeal for the education of the youth of our land. We believe, if elected to the office he now seeks, he can and will render even greater service of which we shall all be proud.
