SEN. SMITH IS HIGH MAN FOR LIEUT. - GOV.

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, high man in Saturday's primary for lieutenant governor, has issued the following statement:

"According to late returns I am leading Senator Beck by over 35,000 votes. This is, of course, very gratifying to me. I am grateful to the many loyal friends throughout Texas who faithfully labored in my behalf. I had not

$26,056 IN JULY BONDS

R. L. Ponsler, Cisco chairman of the July war bond drive, Saturday announced that the bonds and stamps purchased in this city for the month of July totaled $26,056.25.

Mr. Ponsler made the following statement:

"I am truly proud of Cisco's voluntary response in the purchase of bonds and stamps for the month of July.

"Considering the fact that we were unable to see everybody in the July campaign, and with the continued hearty cooperation of the local committee, I believe the August response to the needs of our government may even exceed Cisco's July total.

"Each and every member of the committee will please accept my sincere thanks and the committee joins me in thanking the general citizenship for its cordial and loyal cooperation."

VARGE DANIEL WRITES THAT HE IS WELL

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daniel, of Eastland, who formerly lived in Cisco, have just received a letter from their son, Sgt. Varge Daniel, who is presumed to be "somewhere in Australia." Sergeant Daniel, who is well known in Cisco, is well and enjoyed copies of the Cisco Daily Press recently. He says:

I received both packages of candy and it was really a treat to have a bite of good old American candy. Thanks a lot. And you may send me something else, too, since I can receive packages. I need a cheap wrist watch. I can't get my good one repaired here—seems all the jewelers have been drafted. Yes, and throw in some razor blades and cigarette lighter, with lots of extra flints. There isn't much for me to write. We usually go in to town and have a steak and go to a movie; lots of the good shows we saw a year ago, though.

We have a victrola and radio in the barracks; have a very good selection of records. They are songs that were popular some time ago but we have very good arrangements.

I have had several letters from relatives and home folks. The last one received was mailed May 17, but we should be getting a load of mail any day now.

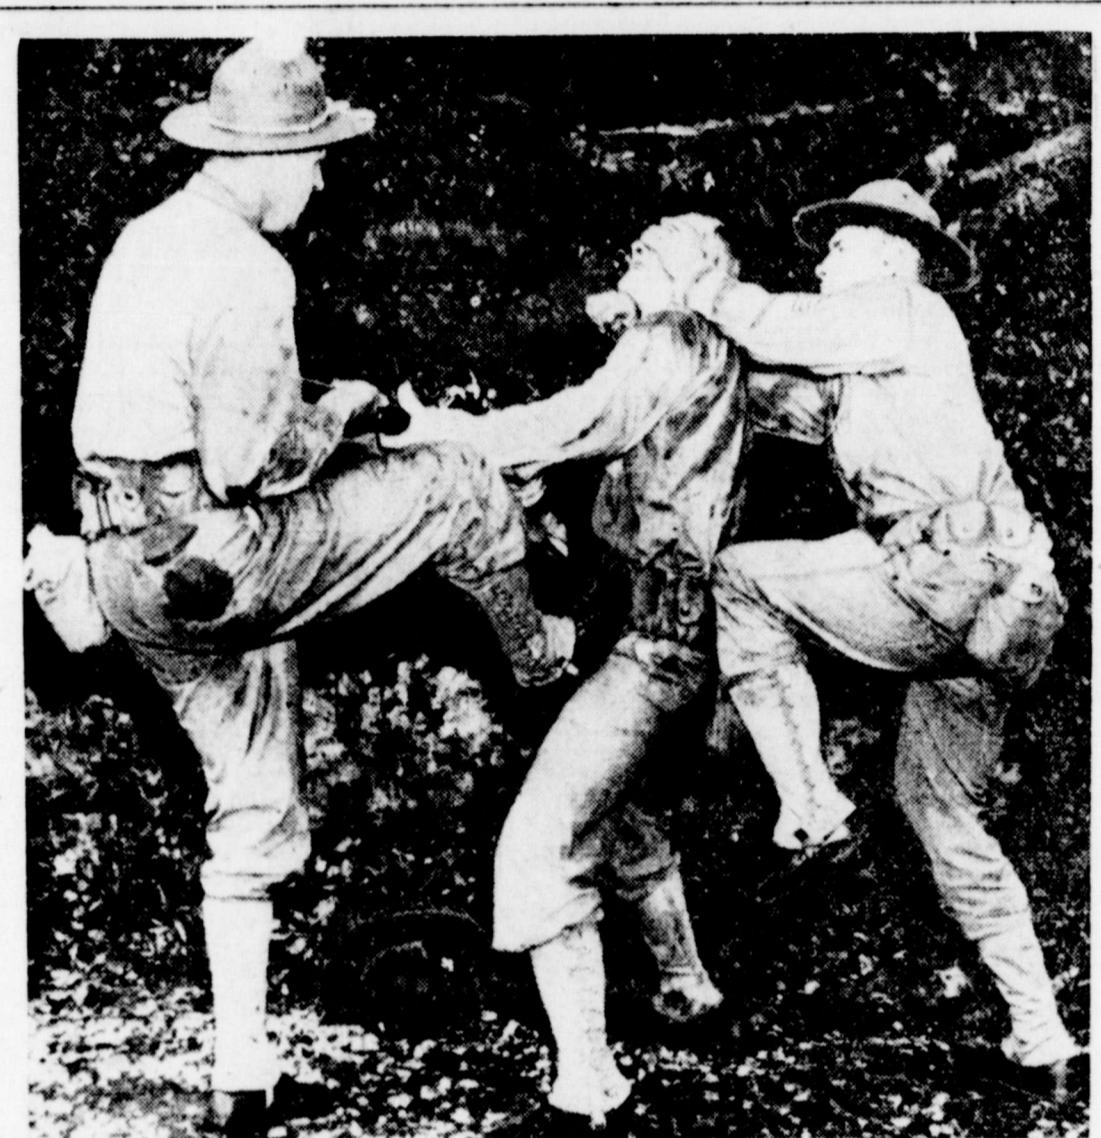

I have received a couple of Cisco papers lately that were happily read, with interest.

We heard a few July 4th programs, especially broadcast for us, but it was July 5th here.

Hoping everything is under control there.

CARLILE FAMILY PLEASSED

The Carlile family—200 strong and here from California, Colorado, Oklahoma and many points in Texas—ended a three-day family reunion at Lake Cisco Saturday.

The visitors found so much pleasure in the meeting and appreciated the facilities for recreation to such an extent that it was decided to assemble here again next year.

This was the second reunion of the family at Lake Cisco.

The groups were headed by R. W. Carlile of Moran and L. N. Carlile of Cisco. About 200 were in attendance said Gordon T. Davis, manager of the Lake Cisco Amusement company, who played a prominent part in making the gathering thoroughly satisfactory.

Members of the huge party were strong in their praise of the courtesies extended by Davis.

Swimming, skating, boating and fishing facilities afforded enjoyment for the visitors.

BILLY FRED MICHAEL AT HOME FROM THE SEA

Billy Fred Michael, U. S. coast guard at Cape Henry, Norfolk, Va., is visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Michael, in the Bedford community, just east of Cisco. He leaves for service on the seas Monday.

Young Michael regretted to find his father ill, but says he is much better. He added that he also regretted that he would not be able to see all his old schoolmates, but shortness of his time here made it impossible.

LUTHERANS TO PRESENT PICTURE AUG. 4

The motion picture, "The Power of God," will be shown at the city auditorium August 4, 9 p. m.

The picture will be sponsored by Grace Lutheran church, Sixteenth and F avenue, of which Rev. W. H. Symank is pastor; and by Christ Lutheran church, five miles south of Cisco, Rev. E. Steyer, pastor. There will be no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken.

The picture tells, in the form of a modern story, what Christianity is and what it does to the individual, and what the individual should do with it, says Mr. Symank. The characters might be living next door to you. It is a picture every Christian should see and wherever shown it has inspired the audience.

Roland Reed produced the picture through R. K. O. and under the supervision of the Lutheran church, Missouri synod. Everyone is cordially invited to see "The Power of God," said Mr. Symank.

TWO-WAY WAR IN ALEUTIANS SAYS ZANUCK

SEATTLE, Aug. 1.—Col. Darryl F. Zanuck, former film executive now with the United States army signal corps, who returned here Friday after placing motion picture cameramen in strategic spots in the Aleutians, said American soldiers on that front are on a par with England's Commandos.

"The soldiers and sailors on the Aleutians have the most difficult jobs of any men in the armed forces anywhere in the world," he told newsmen.

"There's a hell of a war up there," he said. "There's really two wars, one against the Japs and one against the weather."

"People think our men are sitting around up there. But our army and navy men are flying in weather which tugs their wing tips from view. To bomb Kiska they must fly farther than from London to Berlin, in weather that has no equal in the world."

ALAMEDA GIRL CHOSEN AS CO. 4-H STAR GIRL

Wanda Myrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Myrick of Alameda community, and member of the girls 4-H club, was voted Eastland county 4-H gold star girl for 1942 in judging that took place Wednesday. She is bedroom and yard demonstrator for her club, whose object was her this award.

Other winners were Bobby Neil Spurlin, Olden club, second; Johnnie Lee Broom, Gorman high club, third; Nieta Putty, Desdemona club, fourth; Lillian Ruth Sudderth, Bullock club fifth. The county star girl will be awarded a gold star pin, purchased with the 4-H fund of A. & M. college.

The judging committee was composed of Mrs. T. E. Robertson, council chairman; Mrs. Thad Henderson, chairman of the education committee of the home demonstration council, and two club girls—Helen Demosey, Bullock club, gold star girl for 1940, and Ima Timmons, Kokomo, gold star girl for 1941.

NAZIS BROKE THROUGH RUSSIAN DEFENSE LINES NEAR BATAISK, BUT LITTLE HEADWAY WAS MADE

MOSCOW, Aug. 1.—Red Star, official organ of the Soviet army, intimated today that any Russian soldier who retreated would be shot, as the noon communique acknowledged that the Germans had broken through Red army defense lines south and southeast of Bataisk.

It was the first admission that Russian positions had been penetrated in the critical Bataisk area, some 15 miles south of Rostov, although German gains had been admitted three times in 24 hours.

Front line dispatches said the Russians had destroyed a number of Nazi panzer divisions on the Kleitskaya front, including the 22nd Tank Division, but the noon communique reported a slight Soviet retreat on one sector there.

Red Star, which necessarily prints the opinion of the highest Soviet officials, said:

"The Red army hasn't the right to retreat any farther. History and the people will not pardon a further retreat. No position must be abandoned while one man is still alive."

It recalled, significantly, two incidents: The first concerned 28 Soviet infantrymen who died to the last man last winter trying to halt a German tank thrust toward Moscow. They executed one of their own number because he wanted to surrender.

The second concerned an order of the day People's Leader Nicholas Schoor wrote in 1918 when the Germans invaded the Ukraine. The order said, "The soldier who abandons the battlefield without his superior's orders will be shot as a traitor."

Then Red Star reprinted the phrase of Nikolai Lenin, father of the Russian revolution: "Sentimentality, like fear, is a crime in war."

"Each officer and each political instructor is responsible for the impregnability of their position," Red Star said editorially. "The officer or political instructor who is unable to fulfill this is unworthy of the honor bestowed upon him by his country and people. It is better for him to die on the spot with his men than bear the shame of retreat."

Three days ago, Josef Stalin, premier and defense commissar, exhorted the army to stand and fight to the death, not to take one step back.

The communique described fighting on the two hottest battle fronts as follows:

LEGION WORKING HARD
 FT. WORTH, Aug. 1.—Two new navy recruiting offices, a part of the American Legion's campaign to help enlist the largest delegation of men from this area in the U. S. navy during August and September than in any two months in history, were opened here today.

SUBS GET 406
 The Associated Press count of announced Allied and neutral cargo ship losses in the Western Atlantic since Dec. 7 was 406 Saturday, with Friday's navy announcement of the sinking of a Panamanian vessel and disclosure of Brazil's eleventh ship loss of the war. Sinkings announced in July totaled 79. This represented successful U-boat attacks over a period of many weeks.

"South and southeast of Bataisk, there is heavy fighting. The Germans succeeded in breaking through Russian defense lines and penetrating Soviet positions, where fighting is continuing.

"The enemy brought up large forces with which he continued his attacks, and fighting in this area frequently goes over to bloody hand-to-hand battle. One of our units stemmed an enemy onslaught in the course of 24 hours and destroyed 17 tanks and more than 1100 Germans. However, the enemy succeeded in breaking through our defense lines and penetrating the positions of our troops, where fighting is now going on.

"In the Kleitskaya region, our troops waged violent battles with enemy tanks and infantry. Our troops routed two headquarters enemy units, and destroyed 12 anti-tank guns, two tanks, three armored cars and at least 1500 enemy soldiers and officers."

BELIEVES SON ALIVE, THOUGH STILL MISSING

Bob Evans, father of Arnold Evans of Rising Star, who was listed that his soldier son was missing in action by the war department a few weeks ago, believes his son is alive. The soldier was attached to the ill-fated USS Perry when the vessel sank being hit by a Japanese torpedo.

The father has just returned from San Antonio, where he talked to a shipmate of his son, Sam Evans, who was rescued after the ship was hit. Logan told the father that he knew his son and was he did not go down with the ship as Arnold Evans was among the engine crew that was blown off of the sinking ship by the explosion, and feels sure he saw him in the water after the explosion.

Logan's statement causes the father to more firmly believe that he will yet see his son again.

ROOM FOR RETREAT

One thing it is well to keep in mind, in that cosmic struggle now going on in Russia, is that the Germans, if they are to win, must win quickly, whereas the Russians can play for time.

The Nazis could hardly endure another Russian winter with the enemy still unconquered, and a longer line than ever for Hitler to hold. The Russians still have plenty of room for retreat. They can walk backward, fighting all the way, for another thousand miles if they have to. They destroy as they go, in the famous "scorched earth" manner used long ago against Napoleon. They are harder than the Germans and can live and fight on less food and war material.

Moreover, the farther eastward the Nazis are drawn, the more peril they have at their backs and the better chance the Allies have to establish their second front by land, air and sea. Thus, although the free nations would rather stand fast than retreat, the situation is probably not so catastrophic as it looks to most people. A forced Nazi retreat from the Caspian sea and the Ural mountains might be as bad as Napoleon's retreat from Moscow.

NORTH AMERICAN DEFENSES

It has been reassuring to learn that units of the Canadian army and squadrons of the Royal Canadian air force are now in Alaska, sharing with United States troops and flyers the defense of that vital bastion of North America. It is a natural situation, because whatever safeguards American interests in that region also protects Canada.

From now on, it may be assumed, defense of the two countries as a whole will be meshed to any extent found desirable, on any front. Politically separate, each nation preserving its own free institutions, the two will function as one in facing external danger from any quarter. There is no definite treaty to this effect. But the two nations are more closely joined by common culture, spirit, language and institutions, and by neighborly intercourse and trade, than they could be by any formal pact.

CAMPAIGN RECORDS

One of the interesting things this year about an otherwise rather dull campaign is the covering-up process as applied to the records of senators, representatives and others in public life who were wrong before December 7. The Washington scene is naturally the most obvious, because that is where governmental power is centered and because Washington, ever since the present world war started, has been the greatest listening post in the world.

The law-makers who fought American preparedness and denounced foresighted men as "warmongers" right up to the murderous assault at Pearl Harbor are naturally busy now demonstrating their patriotic zeal and comprehension. But they do not go unscathed. Voters, even while granting their good faith, question their intelligence. People persist in asking such embarrassing questions as, if they did not understand the world situation and the American peril before, how can the public be sure they understand it now?

This is a time when, more than any other time in American history, public men need to know what is going on in the world and where American interests lie.

WORKING WAACS

Nine-tenths of the white officer candidates of the Women's Army

Auxiliary Corps now at Fort Des Moines are college graduates. Two-thirds have taught school or held clerical positions and one-tenth are 40 or older.

More than three-fourths of the Negro candidates are college graduates, one of whom holds an advanced degree.

They all want real work. They look for nothing easy. Nine-tenths of them want to go overseas.

There's nothing silly, lazy or sensation-seeking about these women. They are there to give their best to win the war. They will undoubtedly be a valuable asset to the army.

FORGOTTEN GENERAL

Soldiers are like other people: they need a chance to show what they can do. If there is no war, the commander of an army may be a second Napoleon, but no one will know it.

Something like this was the fate of perhaps the ablest American general between the Civil war and the first world war, Nelson A. Miles, born on August 8, 1839. In the Civil war he was one of the youngest of the Union generals, commanding a corps of 26,000 men when only 25 years old. From this promising beginning he rose to lieutenant-general, yet never had an adequate chance to show his talents. His chief battles were against the Indians: Cheyennes, Kiowas, Comanches, Nez Perces and, most important of all, the Apaches under Geronimo. In all he performed brilliantly. In the Spanish war he was out of favor with President McKinley and Secretary of War Alger, who gave the command of the Cuban expedition to the far less qualified Shafter, so fat that he could not sit a horse. Toward the end of the war Miles was allowed to clear the Spaniards out of Puerto Rico, which he did with masterly dispatch. Retiring for age in 1903, he lived until 1925.

When it comes to land warfare for our armies, it will be fortunate if they have as able a leader as Nelson A. Miles.

OPEN FORUM

Barbarians.

Editor Daily Press: Considerable resentment has been stirred in the townships of persons by the vandalism of persons or persons who overturned a number of monuments in the Cisco cemetery one night recently.

The number of monuments disturbed, some of which were pushed over by their pedestals, have been variously estimated as around 20; the exact number is not known, since some were replaced by persons who first discovered the desecration.

One of the larger stones displaced was that of the late W. T. Boyd, father of George and Walter Boyd of this city. This stone required the combined efforts of several to replace it.

This wanton vandalism and desecration of the abode of the dead is made worse by the fact that it is an uncivilized, un-Christian, un-American act. It is an act of immorality, and one that should be met by the law. It is an act of sacrilege, and one that should be met by the church. It is an act of barbarism, and one that should be met by the civilized world.

One can not justify such devilry except as the act of a war-torn—a throwback to the age of the barbarians who came down into southern Europe, destroying works of art and all vestiges of civilization they could lay their hands on.

It is deeply deplored that there are persons so low in the scale of human development that they would descend to the level of scavenging places made sacred by the memory of the departed. These people surely have sacred memories of mother and father and other loved ones who are now sleeping somewhere in some such place, allocated to their mortal bodies. And one would think that this, if nothing else, would deter such savagery in places that hold all that remains mortal of persons who lived and were loved by their fellows.

Can it be that there lives in Cisco persons whose minds are so grewsome and so intent on destruction

FOUR COMMANDMENTS OF CLEANLINESS IN CREAM PRODUCTION

- 1 CLEAN, DRY HANDS well wiped flanks and udder. 2 STRAINING thru fresh cotton filter. 3 STERILIZATION with boiling water. 4 SUNLIGHT drain and air dry equipment. Do not wipe.

Unless he keeps a single key-word in mind constantly, it is impossible for a farmer to produce good cream—whether or not that cream is destined to be churned into butter. That word is cleanliness.

Old, unsanitary equipment cannot possibly yield No. 1 grade cream. A battered, seamed or rusty pail is a definite threat to cream quality. Old-fashioned strainers or unsanitary cheesecloth will spoil clean milk. An efficient, well-kept, mechanical separator is a necessity. Syrup buckets, lard cans, crocks, cooking utensils or other makeshift containers are not suitable for holding cream. Good equipment is a good investment, and the profits from the improved quality of the cream will pay for it over and over again, tests have demonstrated. But even good equipment must be well cared for. The best of equipment cannot produce the best of cream unless it is cleaned and sterilized each time it is used.

Failure to observe these simple precautions is estimated to cost farmers of the United States $40,000,000 a year, if seizures of unfit cream and butter, and losses resulting from the lower value of poor cream, are taken into account. Forty million dollars is enough to pay for a new battleship or to pay a big part of the U. S. farm families' yearly clothes bill. The farmer in search of extra profits and the farm woman who bears a large portion of the responsibility for the maintenance of the sanitary standards surrounding the production of cream

Miss Curry Was Honored With Shower Thursday

Miss Ima Jean Curry, whose approaching marriage was recently announced, was complimented with a shower Thursday night in the home of Mrs. E. L. Jackson. Various arrangements of summer flowers were used as decorations throughout the rooms. The table held as a centerpiece a lovely arrangement of novelty flowers in blue, flanked by white tapers which expressed the honoree's chosen colors. A military note was observed by a small flag, placed near the bride's book and tiny flags that were attached to miniature airplanes. Miss Helen Draganis presided at the guest book; Mrs. Frances Boone and Miss Dorothy Sue Lamb served refreshments.

An interesting program was presented in which Miss Marilyn Shertzer played "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," "Viennese Melody" and the "Rosary." "I Love You Truly" was sung by Miss Billie Cole, playing her own accompaniment. Mary Philpott was presented in three readings which were much enjoyed.

Just before the array of gifts brought by the guests were presented the honoree, a surprise package was brought in—a two-piece set of beautiful luggage from the West Texas Produce company. Miss Curry then opened the packages and displayed them for all to see.

The guest list included Miss Ima Jean Curry, Mrs. W. L. Curry, Misses Margaret Key, June and Mabel Halbert, Henryetta Moss, Billye Cole, Madeline Ruppert, Freda Grist, Eulala Reames, Louise Flaherty, June Dennis, Jane Moore, Brenda Warwick, Jane Gilman, Marilyn Shertzer, Norma Jean Jones, Betty Sue McCandless, Margaret Hagaman, Winona Cameron, Mrs. V. Sweet Sample. FIRST OF THE SEASON. Frances Gifford, featured film player, samples the first jar of sweet pickled peaches and maraschino cherries to be produced in the United States in 1942. According to agriculture experts, there will be no shortage of these two fruits during the coming year because countless thousands of glass jars, made by the new durable technique to assure lighter but stronger containers, are now being packed.

Safe Edge. LIBBEY SAFEDGE tumbler feature rims which are protected against chipping by a tiny bead of glass around the edge. Ellen Allardice, Navy Poster Girl, runs her finger around the protective rim, which is actually six to eight times tougher than the sides. A special offer has made a limited quantity of these fine glasses available at Whelan's stores at attractive prices. Each glass is banded in 22-karat gold.

Sell Waste Fat To Help Win War. BULLETS FOR BERLIN—TNT for Tokio—that's what noted actress Helen Hayes pours from her skillet. And the sailors think of depth bombs while Miss Hayes, as an American housewife, shows them how she saves waste fat to supply Uncle Sam with glycerine, essential to explosives. The War Production Board asks every housewife of America to: (1) Save all fat and grease. (2) Strain through a kitchen sieve into a clean, wide-mouthed can and keep in a cool, dark place; (3) When you have saved a pound or more, take to your meat dealer, who will pay the established price and send the waste fat on its way to war. Grease is gunpowder. Every ounce counts.

Child's Glass. AMUSING CHARACTERS from Dumbo decorate this Safedge glass which makes drinking milk a pleasure to Brenda Talbot, age 2. Light and sturdy, these glasses are ideal for children because of the beaded rim which is guaranteed against chipping. A special process makes the rim eight times tougher than the sides.

Relaxing. CAROL BRUCE, lovely Hollywood film star, relaxes in the yard of her home in the motion picture capital with her favorite soft drink, a "Coke," for good company. A refreshing pair, Miss Bruce has appeared on the Broadway stage and is now one of Hollywood's leading lights. She is pictured in a three-quarter length jacket with terry cloth hood and trim.

Uniformed. NEW WAR DRESS. Simplified bottles of glassed foodstuffs are the latest plan of the U. S. Department of Commerce and the glass industry. The new uniform, economy containers will save huge quantities of wartime essentials because of their simplicity of design. Linda Johnson, Hollywood starlet, is pictured with samples of the new bottles.
