RESOURCEFUL REDS RALLY--STAGE COMEBACK

Scrap Metal Begins To Flow Into Assembling Centers in a Big Way

"We are greatly pleased with the progress of the scrap metal drive which is to culminate in the Round-Up program on Fifth street Monday night at 8 o'clock," said A. D. Anderson, chairman for the city organization, this morning.

Bin, commissioner of the present No. 4, the Cisco said that four men and will be available to haul from rural districts, provided it is donated to the Red Cross.

Scrap metal dealers daily buy your scrap. As a result of fact, dealers say many metal are being brought in as a result of the drive.

As an example of local effort to comply with the government's urgent call for all scrap metal, Frank H. Jones, representing the Hickok Press, has already brought more than 150,000 pounds of scrap and expects to secure a great deal more.

Business men are cooperating in the drive for scrap metal. Many of the drive are being held at the chamber of commerce, to say they would contribute.

Chairman John Kleiner reported that Rising Star has entered into their usual vim and vigor, closing their drive and in a three-hour drive in twenty-three tons of metal. However, Mr. Kleiner says they have not yet been able to get the many tons of scrap from rural districts.

L. Jackson's program committee reports that all details have been worked out and that addition to the local entertainment. Camp Bowie will send five weapons mounted on trucks on exhibit. These will include tank, field piece, anti-tank and armored car.

NURSERY ADVISORY BOARD TO MEET MONDAY

Bill Mitcham, the president, announces a called meeting of the nursery school advisory board for 10 o'clock Monday morning at the chamber of commerce. Wiley, district representative, will be here and the president that all board members

GERMAN PLANTS BOMBED

LONDON, Aug. 28.—A force of big British bombers attacked Gdynia in Poland on a 1700-mile round-trip bombing mission during the night, it was revealed today. Gdynia also is an important German supply base for operations on the northern Russian front.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—British bombing planes in their biggest attack in four weeks, pounded on the Great German war industry center of Kassel during the night.

An admitted loss of 30 bombers in a concentrated attack on the gigantic locomotive, airplane and aircraft and automobile motor factories there indicated that the raiding force consisted of far more than 600 planes and might even prove to have approached a 1,000-plane level.

The British planes, including four-motored Stirlings and Lancasters with their eight-ton bomb loads, rained thousands of incendiary and hundreds of explosive demolition bombs, believed to include many two-ton "block-busters," on their targets by the light of a bright bomber's moon.

Targets included the Henschel Locomotive Works, the largest in Europe, the Fieseler Aircraft Works, producing Messerschmitt fighter and Fieseler Storch reconnaissance planes, and the Henschel Aircraft Engine Works, producing the famous Daimler Benz airplane and automobile motors.

Special importance attached to the results of the bombing of the locomotive works. British bombers and fighters and the astonishingly successful U. S. Army Flying Fortresses are making railroads and rolling stock factories a prime objective, in an attempt to cripple the entire German transport system.

SIXTY-FIFTH MEETING

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—The American Bar association closed its sixty-fifth annual meeting here Thursday night with the induction of officers and the announcement of awards of merit.

Around 20 scouts from the two Cisco troops are to come up for advancement at tonight's court of honor, with more than 70 merit badges to their total credit. These merit include such items as camping, cooking, pathfinding, pioneering, farm home planning, dog care, poultry keeping and care, swimming and life saving—all very valuable arts and achievements for a boy from the practical standpoint of life.

Cisco scoutmaster, Ernest Hittson of troop 101, and Sim Ledford of troop 49, stress courtesy as one of the outstanding things a boy scout is taught. They both say that this is a characteristic found in all men who have had boy scout training in their youth. It is a trait that does not leave them and aids in their contacts with men in the business world.

MITCHAM AT TARRANT FIELD

Fred Mitcham, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Mitcham, who has been attending the regimental quarter-master school at Camp Lee, Va., completed that course last Friday and has been assigned to Tarrant Field, near Fort Worth, with the title of second lieutenant.

THIS IS THE ARMY—Army life is Army life whether you're an actor or not, as all-soldier cast of Irving Berlin's "This is the Army" show, can well attest. In addition to their daily performances on the stage, they undergo two hours of drilling. They are shown at "present arms."

FIERCE COUNTER-ATTACKS CUT NAZI LINES AND DROVE ENEMY FROM 3 STRATEGIC VILLAGES

MOSCOW, Aug. 28. — Soviet dispatches asserted today that the Nazi advance on Stalingrad has been blocked for 24 hours and the German Air Force has launched a terrific bombardment of the key Volga city, apparently designed to level the entire town.

MOSCOW, Aug. 28. — Suddenly lashing out with a fierce counter-attack northwest of Stalingrad, the Russians have cut off strong German forces that broke across the Don river and penetrated deeply toward the city, and today were systematically wiping them out.

The Russians seized the initiative when it seemed their backs were to the wall. Now the most dangerous German spearhead threatening Stalingrad and the Volga river line, one that was only 30 or 35 miles away, faced quick destruction.

The counter-attack cut German communications and drove the enemy from three villages. Frontline dispatches said the Russians were now tightening a ring of steel about the remaining German forces — 100 or more tanks and several large infantry units.

Dive bombers continuously hammered the trapped Germans. Soviet tanks and infantry were breaking them up into smaller units, which were being exterminated, one by one.

The Germans were desperately trying to relieve their troops by rushing reinforcements from the south and dropping fuel and ammunition from transport planes.

The trap was closed on the Germans by a numerically inferior force under the command of Officer Gorelik. Previously he had stopped the enemy at the approaches of most important military objectives.

In a battle lasting several hours, the Russians destroyed 60 German tanks. At the same time, units attacking from the south wedged into the lines of the Germans and cut them off from their main forces.

The Russians were driving through the streets in North Rzhev. A violent struggle was anticipated because it is an important center of communications in any attack that the Germans may be planning against Moscow.

JUNGLE JAPS ON DODGE

MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Aug. 28.—Action blazed in the air and on the ground today over the southeastern end of New Guinea where the Japs landed a new invasion force on the muddy shores of Milne Bay.

MacArthur's planes shot down 12 enemy fighter planes. Dive bombers damaged two more so severely they probably crashed, and damaged at least four more in three savage fights.

Anti-aircraft guns shot down three more enemy craft to bring the five-day score of planes downed to date: Japanese, 37; Allies, five.

MacArthur reported in his communique, No. 137 from his Southwest Pacific headquarters, that action steadily was developing between the Allied ground forces and the Japanese holding Milne Bay, 225 miles from the Allied base of Port Moresby.

The Allied forces were moving through mud three feet deep on narrow jungle trails to engage the enemy but, though it was known their attack was now developing, details were scarce because of the difficulty of communications.

It was indicated that as soon as they landed the Japanese had scattered into the thick jungle so they could not be detected from the air.

Two of the air battles MacArthur reported took place over the Milne Bay area.

The Allied fighter craft had made a dawn machine gun attack on enemy barges, supplies and fuel dumps along the shores. Then Allied medium bombers

TO SELL WAR BONDS OVER AIR

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—For the first time in radio history an entire network will go on the air Saturday night, August 29, to sell War Bonds directly to listeners.

From 9 p. m. Eastern War Time Saturday to 4 a. m. Eastern War Time Sunday, radio, stage, and screen stars and the nation's leading dance bands will be featured by the blue network. Throughout the night the network and individual stations will appeal to listeners to send in orders for War Bonds by Western Union, telephone, or mail. Staffs will be on hand to handle all orders. In some instances purchasers of War Bonds will go on the air. More than 120 local stations have prepared local features which will be cut into the blue network program at intervals during the night.

went over on a daylight attack. Between 10 and 13 Japanese fighters engaged them. MacArthur's bombers destroyed four of the enemy fighters and returned to base without loss.

Allied medium bombers with a strong fighter escort plastered the Duma airdrome. Ten Zeros rose to combat them. Four of the Zeros were shot down, two probably were destroyed and three others were damaged.

In the only Japanese offensive action reported, two enemy bombers caused slight damage in an attack on the north Australian base of Darwin and two seaplanes did minor damage in a raid on Broome, down the northwest coast from Darwin.

VEGETABLE OILS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Brazil has agreed to reserve her entire exportable surplus of castor beans and babassu kernels, which produce vitally needed vegetable oils—for the United States and any nations which this country specifies under new purchase agreements.

INFLATION PLAN FLEXIBLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Roosevelt said Friday that his program to combat inflation contemplated a flexible rather than a rigid stabilization of farm prices and wages.

The chief executive also declared, in a general press conference discussion of the inflation problem, that he thought farm prices and wages should be kept within a fixed ratio to living costs.

He said he was in accord with Price Administrator Leon Henderson on the stabilization issue.

WAR MOVES IN

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 28.—A decline in tourist travel and the desire to conserve motor equipment prompted officials to close hotels and stop bus service in Yellowstone National Park Thursday. However, tourist cabins and cafeterias at Old Faithful and Fishing Bridge will remain open until Sept. 10, and general stores at Old Faithful and Yellowstone Lake will stay open as long as roads are passable for the convenience of motorists.

22 WOUNDED

VICHY, Aug. 28.—A bomb which exploded in a suburban meeting of Marcel Deat's National Popular headquarters Wednesday night killed one person and wounded 22 others, a Paris dispatch reported Friday. The bomb was tossed into a crowd of 1,200 persons from a gallery, the dispatch said.

OFFENSIVE KEY POINT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Senator Burton of Ohio, member of a senate committee just returned from Alaska, described the territory and Siberia Friday as a natural, direct military route to the heart of Japan. He advocated recognition of Alaska as a key point for early offensive action which he said would be less costly and hold greater promise of large scale success than would defensive operations by the United States.

ILLEGAL LABOR.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—Mexican and United States labor organizations are co-operating to halt an illegal flow of Mexican workers to the United States, Fidel Velazquez, head of the Mexican Labor Federation, said Friday.

RAPID TRANSIT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—New York City will be placed within 17 hours of Mexico City with the inauguration of international airline service between the two cities Sept. 5, American Airlines announced Friday.

CUT TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—For the second consecutive month traffic deaths in the nation showed a 30 per cent decrease in July compared with the same month last year, the National Safety Council announced Friday. A similar decrease was noted in June. The council reported that 2,300 persons were killed in July, compared with 3,290 in July, 1941.

CHEERS FOR NELSON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Donald M. Nelson, urged on Capitol Hill to become a Simon Legree, has cracked a whip over the flow of war materials by stripping the army and navy of their authority to issue priorities. The war production chief announced Thursday night that effective Sept. 7 power to grant priority ratings will rest solely with WPB district offices. He described the new procedure as a step toward "a much stricter system of distributing critical materials."

SCHOOL SOLDIERS

The army of young people is getting ready to go back to school. Have the members all had their physical examinations? They should be looked over while they have their books.

The shortage of dates and dentists is already showing. This winter, at the time when medical work is always heavier, it will be still heavier to get things done.

Parents need not be afraid the children will not cooperate. In peace time it seems to be every American's privilege to kick about the dentist, postpone the oculist, resist changes in diet.

Get busy, you younger soldiers! Study hard. Work hard. Be considerate of tired parents and teachers. It's your war, too, and your country.

IS TO ONE

Addressing a typographical union on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of several members, a labor leader makes this notable statement:

"Usually," he says, "because of this kind of an honor of the closing chapter in the activity of those whose past labors are to be esteemed. But the idea that a man must quit and get out when he reaches a certain age was changed by the Japanese attack on Dec. 7. Suddenly the lives of all of us took on a new meaning. It requires 18 men to keep one soldier at the front. Thus all men, women and children will have to give their aid. Today, for those who are behind the lines, no matter what our age, this is a new era of toil. This can be no time of ease and comfort for those who are growing old. To youth has come an order: 'Forward march!' and to age a new order rings: 'About face!'"

It is not so for everybody, but it is true for so many people that while this war lasts, it may almost be considered the rule.

BRAZILIAN AID

Brazil's war declaration against the Axis is epochal. There is every indication that the Brazilians are serious and eager about it and they will play a manly part in the war. Brazilians and North Americans understand each other easily and can cooperate to mutual advantage in many ways as the war proceeds.

It may also be a reservoir for troops in due time. If the war drags on, there will be Brazilian expeditionary forces, and the Brazilian flag will be carried eventually to Berlin along with the Stars and Stripes. But for some time to come, at least, the function of this new member of the Allied Nations will be to train and discipline her legions, to keep the enemy out of South America, and to provide materials for her war associates, including Uncle Sam. This is a great and worthy role.

No less important, perhaps, is the incidental effect of Brazil's action on her sister republics throughout

LAND-BASED AVIATION NEEDED TO WIN THE WAR, SAYS DE SEVERSKY

HOW are we going to win the war? While there is no question in our minds that we are going to win there is tremendous difference of opinion among the military and naval leaders of how it is to be won.

Probably no authority in recent months has created such a furor as Major Alexander P. de Seversky in his best-seller, "Victory Through Air Power."

In the September issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, Major de Seversky again presents his views and charges flatly that "Land-Based Aviation Will Win the War."

Pointing out that Congress has just approved the building of new aircraft carriers, Major de Seversky says: "The aircraft carrier happens to be the most vulnerable vessel afloat. It is doomed as soon as it ventures within the striking radius of land-based aviation."

Continuing, the famous aviator says, "In this war bitter experience has taught us the importance of dispersing airplanes and facilities. We no longer huddle planes and repair shops and supplies in one spot for the convenience of enemy sky raiders. Instead, we scatter them over a large area. But the carrier defies this principle of dispersment. On the contrary, it packs a maximum of aircraft and other equipment in a minimum of space. As a result, it is the answer to a bombardier's dream of a concentrated target."

"If any doubt of the futility of carriers in offensive operations remained, it should have been wiped out by the events of Coral Sea and Midway. Those engagements were played up as 'sea battles' in the popular imagination, but they were nothing of the sort. The naval forces never even came into contact. Those were sea battles only in the sense that aviation fought over the sea and that navies provided the targets."

"Practically all the aircraft carriers mixed up in the operations were sunk or crippled. We lost the Lexington and the Japs lost at least four, perhaps five, of their carriers. The tragic helplessness of this sort of vessel—exposed to assault horizontally, above and below—was exhibited as if in a laboratory experiment."

"The fact is that the epoch of naval offensives is ended. War has resolved into a struggle for mastery of the skies. Air power has taken the lead. Surface forces are either reduced to auxiliaries or entirely eliminated until the issue of who controls the air is decided. Until we take this fact to heart, we shall blunder from disaster to disaster. We must recognize that there has been a revolution in war-making due to the advent of the air weapon. None of our traditional strategy applies, because it was a two-dimensional strategy, whereas air power has yielded warfare into the third dimension."

"We can and we will win this war—provided we face the fact that this is primarily an aerial war and proceed to develop the strategy and the aircraft to win it. In the final analysis, that means long-range, hard-hitting aviation based on land. It means air power capable of carrying an offensive across water directly to the source of the enemy's power—to his home land."

"By reversing the process, by using powerful land-based aviation, we can effectively turn back recent Pacific history and retrieve the lost territories, island by island. That we may judge from the kind of preparations now under way, is what United Nations strategy proposes today."

The logic of these elementary truths must be hammered home until our nation realizes that our war effort must be revised, with aviation as its decisive element. Only then will we begin to channel the main part of our national wealth and skills, labor power and materials, to the creation of an irresistible force of land-based air power."

"The waste involved in a construction program on irrelevant types of weapons would not be serious if we could afford it. But we can't. We are reaching the point of industrial saturation when we no longer can indulge in the extravagance of building anything and everything that comes to mind. We must concentrate on the weapons essential for direct offensive. That means, in the first place, long-range, land-based aviation."

the hemisphere. Nearly all of them are in earnest about helping on the Allied side, in whatever ways they can. Brazil becomes the focus of a militant Latin-American movement more effective in spirit and morale, than anything the United States could accomplish in Latin-America. It is this fact that may play up Brazil accordingly. By such an attitude hemisphere unity may be accomplished, with possibly even Argentina adhering eventually.

UN APPRECIATED

Musicians are grooved. The Yugoslavs do not love their Italian masters. Says a Fascist correspondent from Trieste: "We Italians deceived ourselves into thinking that the populations of the newly-occupied zone would appreciate and recognize our readiness to tackle economic, cultural and sanitary problems, our sense of human justice and the kindness of our soldiers."

"We were mistaken. Exhausting guerrilla warfare has been going on for nearly a year. Raids follow acts of sabotage. The streets are everywhere and nowhere in the relentless war of ambush, which is much worse than open warfare."

In another words, Yugoslavs prefer freedom to the autocratic rule of a tyrant. Americans can understand that.

To this union were born four children, two of whom preceded their father in death. Surviving, with the widow, are

ALBANY

(Shackelford County.)

The tragic death of James Lynden Miller Saturday morning saddened this community. The boy, 11 years old, was drowned in Big Sandy creek, some six miles west of Breckenridge, when the boat in which he was riding by himself capsized. James Lynden was in the creek Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Blair of Albany. They camped on the creek that night. Saturday morning while others were fishing, the boy got into a boat to ride down the creek a short distance. In some manner the boat capsized. The body was not recovered for two hours after the accident.

The deep wildcat 3 miles southwest of Ibeex, drilled by R. H. Roark, No. 1 W. H. Green, failed to come up to preliminary data, caught sulphur water in the Ellenberger lime at 4,356 feet, and is being plugged. This well is in the southwest corner of Section 1, Orphan Asylum Lands, 7 miles southeast of Albany. However, it is the first test to the lower horizons in a large area. Top of the Caddo lime was low at 3,712 feet, which is the main producing horizon at Ibeex and in Stephens county to the east, and the top of Ellenberger was called at 4,283 feet.

Special honor was paid W. Henry Green Wednesday evening of last week when members of the Men's Brotherhood of the Matthews Memorial Presbyterian church, and guests from Abilene, Moran and surrounding ranches, gathered at the Green ranch for a meal and program. The occasion was to celebrate the 50th year of Mr. Green's residence here, where he has been very successful as a rancher in Stephens and Shackelford counties. The gathering had a particularly historical connection in that the scene on the banks of Hubbard creek was where Mr. Green had come 50 years ago and set up camp. Then he was a young man, graduated from old Trinity University at Tehuana, prior to its removal to Waxahachie. The men gathered around a meal of fine steaks, ranch style beans, watermelon and trimmings.

Funeral for Mrs. Alice Lyons Overton, 84, was held August 27, at the Matthews Memorial Presbyterian church. Rev. J. A. Owen, pastor of the church, of which Mrs. Overton was a devoted member, officiated for the rites. Mrs. Overton, a prominent pioneer resident of Shackelford county, died Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Walter Reynolds, in Elizabethton, Tennessee.

John William St. Clair, well-known peace officer of Albany, died Wednesday evening at 8:40 at the family residence after a long illness. In failing health for 15 years, he was bedfast for the past year. Mr. St. Clair had been a member of the Baptist church for over 50 years. He was a true gentleman of high ideals, loyal to his friends, and a devoted husband and father.—Albany News.

Cross plains schools open for the fall term Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend the initial exercises in the high school auditorium. With a full corps of 23 teachers, Superintendent Leo Varner told the Review yesterday that he was looking forward to a very successful term.

Congressman Sam Russell was in Cross Plains Friday morning visiting with friends and constituents. He told the Review that he planned to return to Washington within the next few days. The grind of congressional duties slackened recently for the first time since America's entrance into the war and Congressman Russell decided to avail himself to a few days of rest in Texas.

Pat and Mike Moore, sons of Mrs. Cecil Moore, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock to the Misses Annie Mitchell and Elaine Eakin. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eakin in Rising Star, with the Rev. W. A. Rodgers, pastor of the Pentecostal church at Pioneer, officiating. The brides are double cousins.

Lexie Dean Robertson, Rising Star poetess, has started a novel, the setting of which is this section of Texas. She spent Monday afternoon reading old files of the Review to brush up on local color for the period between 1916 and 1921.

Mrs. L. F. Foster, who was rushed to a Cisco hospital last Thursday for medical treatment, is reported to be convalescing normally. She will probably be returned to her home within the next few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Jones Evans of El Campo announce the birth of twin sons, August 16. The little boys have been named Jay Donald and John Ronald. Mrs. Evans is the former Miss Mary Moragne of Cross Plains.—Cross Plains Review.

Council Group Canned Pears For Orphans

The Christian church council met Monday afternoon in the church basement and held a period of work during which they canned pears for the Juliet Fowler Orphan home. The regular meeting of the group was held after the canning.
Mrs. Randolph Lee Clark brought a splendid devotional, giving a twentieth century version of the teachings of Jesus as set forth in the beginning of His ministry. A song, "Holy, Holy, Holy," was sung by the group after which they repeated the Lord's prayer in unison.
Mrs. James Mobley presided over the short business session following. The meeting was closed by all repeating the missionary benediction.
Delicious ice cream was passed to Mrs. Randolph Lee Clark, Mrs. Claire Swartz and small daughter, Dena Kay; Miss Jo Gray, Mrs. C. L. Tume and Mrs. James Mobley.

RECRUITING OFFICER CHIDES COM. SEEKERS

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—Col. Claude K. Rhinehart, commanding the Dallas recruiting district, Thursday strongly advised all married men now expecting to be drafted to enter the army rather than to seek commissions direct from civilian life.
Recent announcements of pending wholesale drafting of married men have brought a deluge of applicants seeking immediate commissions, Colonel Rhinehart said.
He instructed Col. F. W. Steffen, district public relations officer, to inform those applicants the proper thing for these men to do is to "enlist in the army of the United States and immediately find their places."

Commanding officers of all units have been directed by high authority to study all men under their command with a view of appointing those qualified to an officers' training school, Colonel Steffen said.
"There is no doubt," he said, "that many married men are to be inducted very soon. It is to their best interests to put their uniforms in shape, and be ready for the call to the colors."
"We are most frequently asked the qualifications necessary for a commission and what vacancies exist in the various arms. This question cannot be answered off-hand. The needs differ and vary from week to week. Qualifications necessary can best be ascertained at a reception center after a man has enlisted and been classified."

New Zealand may be but a tiny part of the British Empire, but she'll be no push-over for the Japs if and when they attempt to invade her shores. The recent army defense display put on by her armed forces throughout the island demonstrated her ability to give any invader a hot reception. Included on the program was a guerilla warfare demonstration showing how her armies are trained to harass the enemy behind the lines. Fifth columnists and para-troop invaders also came in for their share of attention. Concluding war games was a mass parade by United Nations' forces through the streets of Auckland.

GOVERNOR WILL CONTROL SEPT. 8 CONVENTION

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—Plans are developing for formal assumption of the Texas Democratic convention Sept. 8 of leadership of the Texas Democratic party by Gov. Coke Stevenson and prospects were that complete harmony would prevail in the selection of party officers and in dispatch of the party's business.

Governor Stevenson, it was indicated, would be in complete control of the convention. It was believed likely that adherents of Senator W. Lee O'Daniel and his opponent in the recent heated primary election for the six-year term for United States senator, James V. Allred, would play only a minor part in the convention proceedings.

When you move, folks will slowly admit that it is something to you.
