SURE TASTES GOOD

And good for him, too. This lad gets a half pint of milk every day for a penny in his school under the School Milk Program of the Agricultural Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The AMA pays the farmers' price for the milk, and in this school his penny pays for the cost of pasteurizing, bottling, and delivering it.

TURNER TO FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos J. Turner left Tuesday for Fort Worth where they will both be employed at the Consolidated Aircraft factory. Mr. Turner stated.

Turner has been employed in the Cisco public schools as Grammar school principal for the past several years. He has also done special teaching at the Cisco Junior college during the terms.

Rev. Russell Dennis, pastor of the East Cisco Baptist church, is supplying at the Grammar school, it was stated.

UNIONS STILL HIKING WAGES ON WAR JOBS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Approximately 225,000 employees in 95 General Motors plants will receive wage increases of 4 cents an hour, retroactive to April 28, under a ruling by the War Labor Board.

The CIO unions representing the workers had sought a boost of 12 1/2 cents and a mediation panel had recommended a 5-cent increase. The boards vote, announced Thursday, was 6 to 3, with labor members dissenting.

The panel reported that average hourly earnings of General Motors workers at straight time, as of last May, were $1,065, an increase of 13.4 per cent from January, 1941.

A union request that rising living costs be calculated on the basis of average increases in the cities where the plants are situated, instead of the national average, was rejected.

SHIPYARD WORKERS QUIT
MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 18.—An estimated 2,000 shipyard workers planned Friday to remain away from their jobs until the city of Mobile promises to operate free ferry service to the huge Pinto Island plant of the Alabama Dry Dock and Shipbuilding company.

L. C. M'KELVY DIES
ALBANY, Sept. 18.—Funeral services were held here today for L. C. McKelvy, 73, pioneer ranchman, who died Thursday at his home, two miles northwest of Albany. He was ranch foreman for W. I. Cook for 21 years and was a charter member of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association. He served two years as a Shackelford county commissioner.

MORE YANKS TO BRITAIN
LONDON, Sept. 18.—Thousands of American troops arrived in Britain recently to swell the ranks of the rapidly-expanding United States Army in this country waiting for the opening of a second front. While they have been whisked away to camps already, announcement of their arrival was not permitted until today.

EQUAL TO TOUGH JOB

MACARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 18.—Maj. Gen. G. C. Kennedy, new commander of the Allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific, told a press conference Friday that "if anybody thinks we don't have a fight on our hands over here he'd better turn over and dream on the other side."

"Nobody's kidding me about this show," Kennedy said. "It's a fight, but I think we've got the fighters over here to do the job."

In his first formal interview since he succeeded Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, Kennedy declared that replacement of planes and pilots for the Southwest Pacific area had been stepped up in the last five months.

He also disclosed that American fliers, navigators and bombardiers are being sent home to instruct fledgling airmen.

Some airmen already have returned home and more will go as replacements arrive, he declared. Many have had experience in the Philippines and Java.

While reiterating his belief that American P-40 and P-39 fighter planes can outslug the Japanese Zero, Kennedy said that new types of planes are being produced in the United States with pepped-up engines and more horsepower.

Most all new types also have increased fire power, he said.

Questioned concerning the fact that Japanese planes have not supported their ground troops in the Owen Stanley Mountain fighting in New Guinea, he said the Japanese had lost a lot of aircraft through Allied bombing of Buna, Salamaua, Rabaul and elsewhere and may be short of aircraft.

UNIONISTS ARE URGED TO GIVE THEIR BEST AID

DENVER, Sept. 18.—Labor and management must cooperate harmoniously in America's factories and mines to make it possible for fighting forces of the United Nations to swing the war's tide from defeat to victory.

That is the urgent advice given to war industry workmen and employers by Brig. Gen. Frank J. McSherry, the war manpower commission's chief of operations.

"We're losing the war right now, but we must win and will win if labor and management cooperate effectively" in producing weapons, General McSherry told the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) in convention here.

MONTH-LONG NAZI ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE STALINGRAD IS AGAIN DELAYED BY THE MIRACLE MEN

MOSCOW, Sept. 18.—Reinforced by crack Siberian troops and a "People's Army" which manned the city's blood-soaked ramparts, the defenders of Stalingrad launched a major counter-offensive on orders from Premier Stalin and the Soviet high command Friday.

The eleventh-hour attack was ordered after long and careful preparation. High hopes were held out that under its impetus the almost month-long German onslaught against the city would be broken and the Soviet lines successfully reformed to spare Stalingrad the fate that has so long threatened it.

The order was transmitted to every Soviet unit defending the imperiled Volga river metropolis.

The Kremlin's order came as front line dispatches said the Germans again had succeeded in penetrating the outskirts of Stalingrad by literally overwhelming the Russian forces.

Soviet tanks and infantry immediately went over to the offensive in two neighboring sectors while the Germans launched heavy attacks at another point.

(Editor's Note: Reuter's News Agency, commenting on the Stalingrad situation, said: "It is significant that news of the Russian counter-offensive synchronized with unusual reticence from Berlin. The German high command merely reported 'further successes in the struggle for Stalingrad.'")

The noon communique, however, said that German tank and infantry forces ramming the defenses in the northwestern outskirts were repelled.

In one sector, two German battalions broke through into one of the streets of Stalingrad, but the enemy troops were routed and 500 Nazis were killed.

On another sector, two German companies and 12 tanks were wiped out, when the Russian troops and units of the civilian army lashed at the enemy spearheads.

However, there were indications that the Germans had reached the Volga northwest of Stalingrad. One report from the front told of the capture of four enemy guns on the bank of the river.

(The Vichy radio, which is German controlled, claimed that Nazi troops which reached the Volga after cutting Stalingrad "in two" have concluded preparations for an attack against Krasnaja and Sloboda on the east bank of the river and directly opposite the Stalingrad civic center, Reuters, British news agency, reported.)

GETTING THINGS DONE

That Baruch-Compton-Comant combination is a great team. The three-cornered task force made a neat job of it. It is not only a surprise to everyone, but it is a surprise to the government and public have promptly accepted the rubber findings and proceeded to put them into operation.

This is a striking example of the way democracy can work. WHEN IT FORGETS POLITICS and PRIVATE BUSINESS, and peels off its normal inhibitions, and settles down to deal directly and honestly with a public problem.

The procedure, to be sure, is irregular. Some political-minded gentlemen may secretly regard it as unethical. But they are still so dazed that, instead of organizing a protest and beating their breasts in pretended defense of the Constitution and the rights of congress, they merely mumble and weep into their coffee.

There might be some more good statesmanship in that keen-minded trio. The president need not hesitate in making further use of them. And there must be scores of other extra-curricular experts available to tackle problems now cluttering up the government machinery. When political tails make patriotism and intelligence alone can handle the job.

HUNGARIAN PATRIOT

In happier days the world would join with Hungary in celebrating the birth of the great patriot, Lajos Kossuth, born on Sept. 19, 1802. His struggle against the tyranny of the Austrian government and for parliamentary rule in Hungary will stand as an example of a noble, generous soul. Still he remained an unswerving friend of liberty and finally, in the revolution of 1848, he became the chief of the country for a few weeks. The Austrian troops had to sail in the aid of the czar of Russia before they could overthrow his government.

Unlike most national heroes, who have usually been successful in freeing their people, Kossuth failed outwardly. He has lived, however, in the memory of Hungarians and of lovers of liberty everywhere.

He would not find much to make him happy nowadays, with Hungary cooperating, more or less willingly, with the Axis. He would have hoped as Americans must do, for better days to come.

A SPORTSMAN-GENERAL

That "hell-for-leather" German, Field Marshal Rommel, whose whereabouts lately have aroused general curiosity, is said to be a rather decent sort, as Nazis go. There is no evidence that he insists on eating an Englishman for dinner every night, and washing him down with a Yank's blood. On the contrary, escaped prisoners tell how he likes to talk to the captives after battle and discuss the fight and in a fatherly way, show them where they made their mistakes. In short, while killing is his job, he seems more interested in the art of combat for its own sake.

Americans will recognize the type. You see and hear him after every baseball or football game. And an odd notion may arise in the mind of a military technician who dwells on the theme a bit. Can it be that Rommel went too far in this friendly procedure, and really taught the British how to lick him?

INSANITY

A good many people who live in the country think city folk are crazy. It now appears that they have some basis for thinking so. Clarence W. Schroeder of the Bradley Polytechnic Institute of Peoria, Ill., writing in the American Journal of Sociology, says that not only is there more insanity among city dwellers, but certain parts of the city harbor more insane than others. Roughly speaking, if you wish to stay sane, avoid the heart of a city as a residence, and also river valleys.

The explanation is the disorganization of city life. Many foreign-born and their children have not fully adapted themselves to their new world. Rooming-house districts harbor many lonely, unattached workers and unmarried men. No one knows his neighbors and they take no interest in him. Hence brooding and in many cases, ultimate insanity.

The country dweller will say with some exultation that he knows this already. But there is a beam in his own eye, too—the loneliness of farms, which fill so many state institutions. It is the old story. It is not good for man to be alone.

Thomas Arnold hopes that the war will make this country emphasize the "economics of opportunity" instead of the mere "economics of security." Opportunity wisely used brings security.

OTHER EDITORS

He's Doing His Part. Dallas News. How much good Wendell Willkie is accomplishing as ambassador of reassurance abroad can only be revealed at a later time. The arduous and hazardous itinerary of Mr. Willkie has been publicized for home consumption, and this may work as great good as anything he may do overseas. Here is the most dynamic and liberal-minded leader the Republican party has had since Theodore Roosevelt, proving himself an American above partisanship, setting an example which should restrain any die-hard of his party in the congress who may be tempted to employ obstructive tactics or shame them if they do employ them.

Since the last presidential campaign, Wendell Willkie has grown in stature and in the estimation of the American people. He would let sell into the machine for prosecuting and winning this war, and in more responsible capacity than that of a special roving ambassador. Earlier in this conflict, he was quoted as saying that he wanted to keep free of any governmental assignment. By the time he gets back to America, he may have changed his mind on that.

Development of the resort facilities at Lake Cisco, particularly the picnic grounds just below the swimming pool, occupied the greater part of the session of the chamber of commerce board of directors last night. The meeting lasted two hours. A more hopeful attitude was adopted by the board at this meeting it was revealed in the discussion of questions brought before the members. Seventy-five dollars was appropriated for the construction of additional picnic facilities at the grounds. These will include ten barbecue pits, eight tables and ten benches, construction of which will be started immediately. Methods of beautifying and advertising the lake resort facilities were discussed. The question of sending a representation to Washington, D. C., to urge upon the proper authorities a hastening of work upon the federal building allowed Cisco was referred to a committee, to be named by President J. J. Collins, which was instructed to work with Postmaster F. A. Blankenbecker and the city commission to determine the advisability of sending such a representation. Those present at the meeting were: A. D. Anderson, J. A. Bearman, J. J. Collins, E. P. Crawford, H. S. Drumwright, Dr. Charles Hale, W. J. Leach, R. L. Poe, H. I. Stock, P. P. Shepard and F. D. Wright, directors, and J. E. Spencer, secretary.

A. J. Miller, post commander of the American Legion here, will be honored at a buffet supper to be served by the John William Butts post at the Legion here this evening at 7 o'clock. Mr. Miller, assistant to the superintendent of the Humble Pipeline company of the Cisco division, has been transferred to Longview, where he will have charge of the Humble's new pipeline office. A beautiful silver loving cup, awarded for having won first place in the state Boys' Life Essay contest of the National High School Awards, has been presented to John Peter Huey, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Huey of this city. The cup was sent to Mrs. Alfred Irby, of the high school faculty, who presented it to John Peter. Mrs. Irby was responsible for John Peter's entrance into the contest and assisted him in the preparation of his manuscript and his success is a testimonial to her work as an instructor in English at the school. Both the cup and the model airplane, which was the subject of John Peter's essay, are on display in the windows of Miller-Lauderdale here.

Orchestra numbers by G. W. Collum, director; Dick West, Haywood Kinsey and J. B. King, and tap dancing by Miss Gilbert furnished entertainment for the Cisco Lions club luncheon today noon. Mickey Carroll was program chairman. Two new members were reported to the club. They are F. A. Blankenbecker and Coach R. L. Jeffries. The incoming district governor, Horace Candelary of Eastland, was a visitor and made a short talk to the club. Reports were heard from the captains of the two membership teams into which the club is divided—J. A. Bearman and W. K. Johnston. Mr. Bearman reported two new members on his side. Program committee for next week will be H. B. Hackleman and J. B. Pratt.

Lieut. John Kilborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kilborn, West Point graduate and cadet in the U. S. army's flying corps, arrived last night for a two-week furlough with his parents before resuming his flying instructions at Kelly Field. Lieutenant Kilborn has just completed the preliminary course at Brooks Field and was a member of a group of about 33 young pilots who completed the field's course with a cross-country air jaunt that carried them over Cisco recently. He has been stationed at Kelly Field eight months, beginning his flying experience there. He has had more than 100 hours in the air soloing after the first eight hours.

CROSS PLAINS

(Callahan County)

First bale of 1942 cotton was brought into Cross Plains Saturday by Heck Brown, who lives between here and Burkett. It was the second straight year that Mr. Brown has won the first bale distinction. The bale weighed 465 pounds and was bought by E. I. Vestal of the Planters Gin company here for 18 cents per pound. The gin donated the ginning, as is the custom for the first bale, and Cross Plains merchants made up a premium of more than $20, which was also awarded the first bale raiser. The first bale this year was the latest in 13 years.

RISEING STAR

(Eastland County)

Mike Morgan, farming a few miles northeast of town, has the distinction of producing the first bale of cotton for the new season and the first bale to be ginned in Eastland county this year. The bale was ginned by the Cawley gin at Okra late the past week and was brought into Rising Star.

Mr. Cawley says that the cotton crop in the county this year will be considerably more than last. Practically all cotton of the county is raised in the southwest part and the Cawley gin at Okra is the only gin now serving this territory.

possible. After advising with club leaders in Austin and the state, Mrs. Walker said that it seemed advisable to give time only for necessary business sessions and adjourning in time to allow return trips before the heavy weekend travel.

The state board will be called into session Tuesday afternoon, November 10, at state headquarters building. The convention proper will open that night with a forum program featuring an address by Mrs. Hobby. Wednesday will be given over to business, reports, by-law considerations, resolutions, elections, etc. and that night there will be a dinner forum directed by Mrs. Whitehurst. The business sessions will be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Driskill hotel. Installation of new officers will take place at the headquarters building on Thursday morning, November 12, followed by adjournment.

For the first time in several years there will be no contested offices this year in the Texas Federation. Candidates are Miss Ethel Foster, Sterling City, president; Mrs. Florence Johnson Scott, Rio Grande City, first vice-president; Mrs. J. C. AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—Two war service forums, one to be directed by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, director of the WAACS, and the other to be led by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, president of the general federation of women's clubs, will feature the election-year convention here of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs November 10-12.

Due to war restrictions, the three day convention will be geared entirely to the TFWC war-work program, election of officers, and routine business necessary to the function of the 70,000-member organization, according to Mrs. J. W. Walker, president, who made the official convention announcement.

"The shortened time of the convention session does not mean there will be any lack of interest in the convention program proper," Mrs. Walker said. "It simply means there will be fewer formalities and more serious business accomplished. We shall make every moment of our time count to the best advantage. There will be no social features, only one dinner session honoring the outgoing and incoming officers," she said.

Original convention plans had called for schools of adult education to be given under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Sutherland of the Hogg Foundation, University of Texas. Plans were well under way for such a meeting when notice was received from GFWC that the January board meeting of the national organization had been cancelled. State groups were asked to consider the travel limitations imposed by the war, and to also consider confining their meetings to business sessions.

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—The Texas liquor board reports the collection of more than nine and one-half million dollars in liquor revenues during the fiscal year ending August 31, surpassing by far the revenues of any one year since the board was organized in 1935.

Our 1942 Taxes Would Blast Adolf, et al., With 55,200,000 Bullets Like These!

Bullets, not politics or words, will win this war. Bullets, guns, tanks, planes, and ships. These are all items that can't be just talked into existence—they must be MADE. And it takes MONEY and unselfish work.

Money, real man power—and ample electric power.

To make and use these weapons, men must be trained.

In all the categories vital to the war effort, this company is taking an important part. As for MONEY—our payment in 1942 taxes will total not less than $1,150,000... enough to buy 55,200,000 bullets at the Army's specified price of 25 cents a dozen. The company has bought $50,000 in war bonds. Its employees are buying bonds in a united, organized program.

As for MAN POWER, a total of 122 men from this company are already in the armed forces where their experience and training in business, electrical engineering and distribution service has been of inestimable value to Uncle Sam. Twenty-one of them already commissioned officers... one lieutenant colonel, six majors, four captains, nine lieutenants, and one ensign.

Both, money and man power, are things which are being given... must be given... by every West Texan, every American. These are contributions which each man, woman and child can make to the Victory cause.

As for ELECTRIC POWER—it's a job for specialists. Today we can be thankful that America has men in non-political enterprises who can deliver the goods—with surpluses!

America's electric companies, now under business management and FREE of Hitlerian political control and threats of the concentration camp, are providing more POWER than Hitler can command in ALL the Nazified countries combined!

This is one factor on which hinges the final outcome of the war. With the wealth of this nation, its resources and man power, a victory for the United Nations is inevitable.

We can all look forward to a future made even brighter by electric service in a land where people are free to plan and create enterprises that build and serve!
