LAKE AND MANCILL BARBECUE BRING 'EM BACK

C. V. Bogel of Abilene, district manager for Mrs. Baird's bread, headed 50 dealers and their families in a get-together gathering of that organization at Lake Cisco last Sunday. This was the second annual meeting of the Baird organization at Lake Cisco and it was unanimously voted to come back next year.

Horseshoe pitching, dominoes, skating and swimming lent pleasure to the day and whetted the appetites of the large throng for the delightful barbecue prepared by Bob Mancill.

The site of the outing was at the Kimmell ranch on Sandy creek, northwest of Lake Cisco. Despite the fact that the returns in fish were not as great as might be expected, the boys report a good time eating the two meals and enjoying the social contact.

Boys of the group were Bill Russell, Norvell D. Gallagher, Bobby Poe and Sam Kimmell.

SCRAP GIVEN TO RED CROSS BEING WEIGHED

Edward Lee, local chairman of the Red Cross, announces that the scrap metal donated to the organization during the recent drive has been sold and the cast iron has already been shipped. The tin will be shipped as soon as cars are available.

Lee said that there was still some metal out that had been promised and he is very anxious to get it in, so this drive can be closed, since another national drive is to start September 28.

The scrap was sold to Cisco Lumber & Supply Co., and was divided into the various classes of metal, which command different price scales.

Complete totals will be given when all the metal is weighed and shipped, said Mr. Lee.

The nation is crying for more metal and there will be little pause until every available scrap is shipped to munition factories.

YET HOUSE-TO-HOUSE, STREET-TO-STREET STRUGGLE GOES ON AND ON, WHILE MANY MEN DIE

MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—Soviet air reinforcements arrived today to beat off swarms of German bombers assailing Stalingrad, while the Russians drove the enemy back from a vital hill in the northwestern suburbs.

The fighting men of Stalingrad, meeting in groups on all sectors amid a rain of shells and bombs, took oaths to defend their city to the last man. There was bloody hand-to-hand fighting in the streets and a battle for every house.

The fighter plane reinforcements followed fresh detachments of Siberian troops who had been brought across the Volga and thrown into the battle.

The hill that the Russians recaptured, after a five-hour battle, controls river crossings (presumably of the Volga) and the center of Stalingrad.

Bombers as well as fighters were brought up to aid the defense and were delivering increasingly heavy attacks on German positions and communications.

But front-line dispatches emphasized that the situation was more acute, and said the fighting now was for the city itself. The Germans also had brought up aerial reinforcements, from as far away as Africa.

"On the northwestern outskirts of Stalingrad, fierce fighting continued," the Soviet noon communique said. "One of our units repulsed several German attacks and destroyed four tanks, three anti-tank guns and wiped out more than 200 Hitlerites."

The Soviet army organ, Red Star, emphasizing the gravity of the situation, said the German high command continually was throwing in fresh reinforcements and trying to wear the Russians down with uninterrupted attacks.

Stalingrad itself was the front, but conditions were particularly acute on the northwestern outskirts, where the Germans were making their greatest efforts to crumble the defenders' position—half demolished walls, houses and street barricades.

The Russians officially acknowledged last midnight another penetration of the streets of northwest Stalingrad. It was the third penetration since Wednesday. The first two had been wiped out.

was to try to protect lives rather than property.

Owing to the prohibitive cost, bomb shelters would not be built over the country, but persons would be trained to strive for individual protection. Storm cellars would be best, he said. After that, basements and lastly, houses. Lying flat on the ground or in depressions on the ground are considered proper procedure for bombing areas.

In addition to the above persons there were firemen from Eastland, Ranger and Baird at the meeting, according to W. W. Sledge, fire department chief.

LEGION MEETING

Plans for the district American Legion meeting, which will be held in Cisco October 18, will be discussed at a joint meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary Monday night. A wiener and chili supper will be held at 7:30, preceding the business meeting. All ex-service men and their families are invited to take part in the supper and the meeting following.

Frank M. Williams, of A. & M. college, representing the state fire marshal school, was a guest at a special meeting of the Cisco fire department Friday night, when members of the local Defense Guard were also guests to hear the lecture and demonstration regarding incendiary bombs. About 80 persons were present.

Williams had three kinds of modern bombs that are being used in bombing England by the Germans. These bombs were real, but not loaded. In his discussion, the speaker said considerable had been learned as to protective measures from the experiences in England, one main item of which American steel are sunk on the way to Europe or furnished to other countries. The result seems to be that in practical terms, the United States is not yet beating the Axis in this important field.

American production is scheduled to reach 80,000,000 tons by the middle of next year. If it does, there will be a different story. The Axis powers will have to fight. The "red dirt" buried in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans will be a different color.

There's FIGHTING METAL in your OLD KEYS... deposit them in your nearest Victory KEY-KAN

NATIONAL KEY COLLECTION CAMPAIGN, SEPT. 17 TO OCT. 1 Sponsored by the PAPER & TWINE CLUB: a National Organization of Paper Men

Yes, there's fighting material in those old keys that are going to waste in your home, and a plea has been sent out from Donald M. Nelson, head of the War Production Board, to get them in to the war department at once, saying that 80 pounds of keys are worth a ton of scrap metal, and yet scrap metal is very valuable and sorely needed just now.

Ciscoans are heeding that call. Since the installation of the Key-Kan at the Cisco Daily Press office, thousands of keys have been brought in and thrown into the receptacle. Most of the donors have registered their names and they are to be found on the Honor Roll printed below.

The barrel must be filled, so bring in yours at once.

Just to show how some Ciscoans are responding to the call to do their bit, we mention those persons who have made contributions and registered:

- O. M. Lindsay, a 15-year-old youth, who had started a key collection, gave up the idea and contributed them to Uncle Sam when the call came—126 keys! Jack Reeves, of Reeves key shop, contributed 7 1/2 pounds of keys. M. E. Goldberg contributed 205 keys. Howard Barton Robinson (9-year-old son of Howard Robinson, U. S. marine, on Midway Island), 65 keys. Other key contributors are: Maggie Hood, E. P. Crawford, Louise Poe, Mrs. W. E. McWhorter, K. N. Greer, Casper Waters, E. L. Pugh, Mrs. T. J. Brittain, Harpersville community, C. U. Horn, route four, Cisco, J. W. Slaughter, Mrs. B. E. Morehart, Mrs. G. R. Kilpatrick, A. R. Purifoy, Railway Express Agency, Mrs. O. J. Mr. McBee said no effort will be spared to make Dallas visitors to the Texas Mid-Continent oil convention feel at home. Entertainment events now being planned will include an evening reception at the Dallas Petroleum club, Friday, October 9, followed by the annual dinner meeting at which a prominent speaker will address the oilmen.

McBee stated also that many of the visiting oilmen are planning to attend the Texas-Oklahoma football game at the Cotton Bowl, on Saturday afternoon, which will afford an opportunity on Saturday morning for many of the delegates to compete for the Hamilton cup in the annual golf tournament. The golf tournament will be held at Brook Hollow Country club, after which a buffet luncheon will be served.

AIRPORT

By CHARLES D. ROBERTS Clearance Officer

Last Sunday was our largest Sunday since the opening of the airport. About half the visitors were out-of-town people, some coming many miles to visit our airport. They wonder why the local people don't turn out more.

Some local people would have to ask directions to find the airport, perhaps.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg Robbins have moved to Cisco and have started their two little girls to school. Their son, Jack, is an army instructor at Fort Stockton Flying school.

Ridgdon Edwards of Sweetwater, flying a Piper Cub 41, made a stop here. He had been to Stephenville on business and was on his way home. Edwards is a former Ciscoan, having been connected with the Magnolia Petroleum sales and service in Cisco. He was a member of the Lions club and took an active part in civic affairs.

R. A. Finiker, pilot, flying an Aeronca ship with R. T. Redis, policeman, as a passenger, came in from Abilene on a short stop.

W. T. Eura of Houston, flying a Piper J-3, arrived from Garland, Texas, clearing for Big Spring on his way to El Paso. His business is crop dusting.

Don't get scared if you see a plane that looks like it is falling, north of town, most every evening. It is just Frank Coats doing his spins, which he says he really enjoys and states he is now ready to deliver the route mail north when Uncle Sam says the word.

The boys at the airport wonder how the mayor and the others at city hall can get along with G. R. Kilpatrick since his long trip over south Texas with Reg Robbins in that fast Beech Craft. The trip began as only a short trip to Fort Worth and Dallas, but Robbins had a phone call on arriving at Dallas for him to go to Austin and pick up Lyndon Johnson, fly him to Houston to catch the airliner for Washington, D. C., stay over night and back to Dallas the next morning. Kilpatrick is still crowing about that trip.

Reg Robbins cleared for Houston.

Mrs. Hazel Muir and son, George Roy, Paul Immell of Detroit, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. H. Imnell of Sullivan, O., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Davis over the weekend.

A week of prayer for home missions will be held next week at the First Baptist church each day through Friday. The meetings will begin promptly at 2:15 and will dismiss at 3 p.m. On Tuesday after the prayer program has been observed, a business meeting of the society will be held.

There will be no meeting of the Presbyterian auxiliary Tuesday afternoon, due to the district conference in Sweetwater, which will be attended by a number of auxiliary members, says Mrs. Homer Slicker, auxiliary president.

Mrs. Bruce Younger is visiting Mr. Younger in Grand Prairie.
