MANY MARRIED MEN BE CALLED IN NOVEMBER

'TEEN-AGE YOUTH ENLISTMENT IS EXPECTED TO START LATE NEXT MONTH; LAW IS BEING RUSHED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—For the first time since Pearl Harbor the average American today had a relatively clear picture of his draft prospects until the end of 1943.

Testimony by high army officials before congressional committees on the bill to lower the draft age to 18 made this possible.

Congress is driving to place that bill on President Roosevelt's desk by the end of next week. The house military affairs committee unanimously approved the bill yesterday.

The senate committee closed its hearings, but will question Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, in secret session today. It will ask him about plans for maintaining a civilian labor force necessary to meet war production schedules.

Sen. Elbert Thomas, ranking member of the military affairs committee, said the bill probably would not reach the senate floor until next Thursday because the $16,000,000,000 naval appropriation bill receives priority Monday.

Under house rules a day's delay is necessary while a special rule for consideration of the bill is obtained. But the house was expected to approve the measure finally tomorrow.

As the bill to draft 18 and 19-year-olds moved quickly toward the white house, the selective service situation until the end of 1943 shaped up about like this:

Those who have finished high school, are not attending college and have not already started to enlist in the army or navy or marine corps or the aviation cadet corps of those services, can expect to be called, starting in late November. By the middle of February all such youths who are physically fit will be in the army.

At the end of the present school year, and no later than next July 1, 'teen-age youths who have been attending high school and college will be called. Exceptions to an extent not yet determined will be made for medical and pre-medical students, engineers and other prospective scientists.

Married Men Minus Children
They, and single men with collateral dependents, will start receiving calls immediately. In November, 400,000 of them will be inducted. Then during December, January and part of February the induction of married men and single men with dependents will be suspended while the 'teen-aged youths are taken up. In February, this draft will be resumed, until the army's requirements for a 7,500,000-man force are met.

Married Men With Children.
They will not be called before late in 1943, and probably not until 1944. The only move that can change the status of married men with children would be a revision of the selective service law by congress to remove dependency as the principal grounds for deferment and substitute essentially of occupation.

Single Men In War Industries.
They can expect to be called in increasing numbers until virtually all have been replaced. The same men on farms who are already deferred will not be called in general because of the farm labor shortage.

The house committee amended its 18 and 19-year-old bill so that all men within a state of the same category must be called before any board in that state starts working on a new category. That amendment was designed to meet the objection that some draft boards already are drafting married men, while other boards in the same city have not yet exhausted their supply of single men.

The house committee also wrote in a provision that rejection of convicted felons be limited to felony as defined in common law. That eliminates the differentials resulting from different definitions of felonies by the statutes of various states.

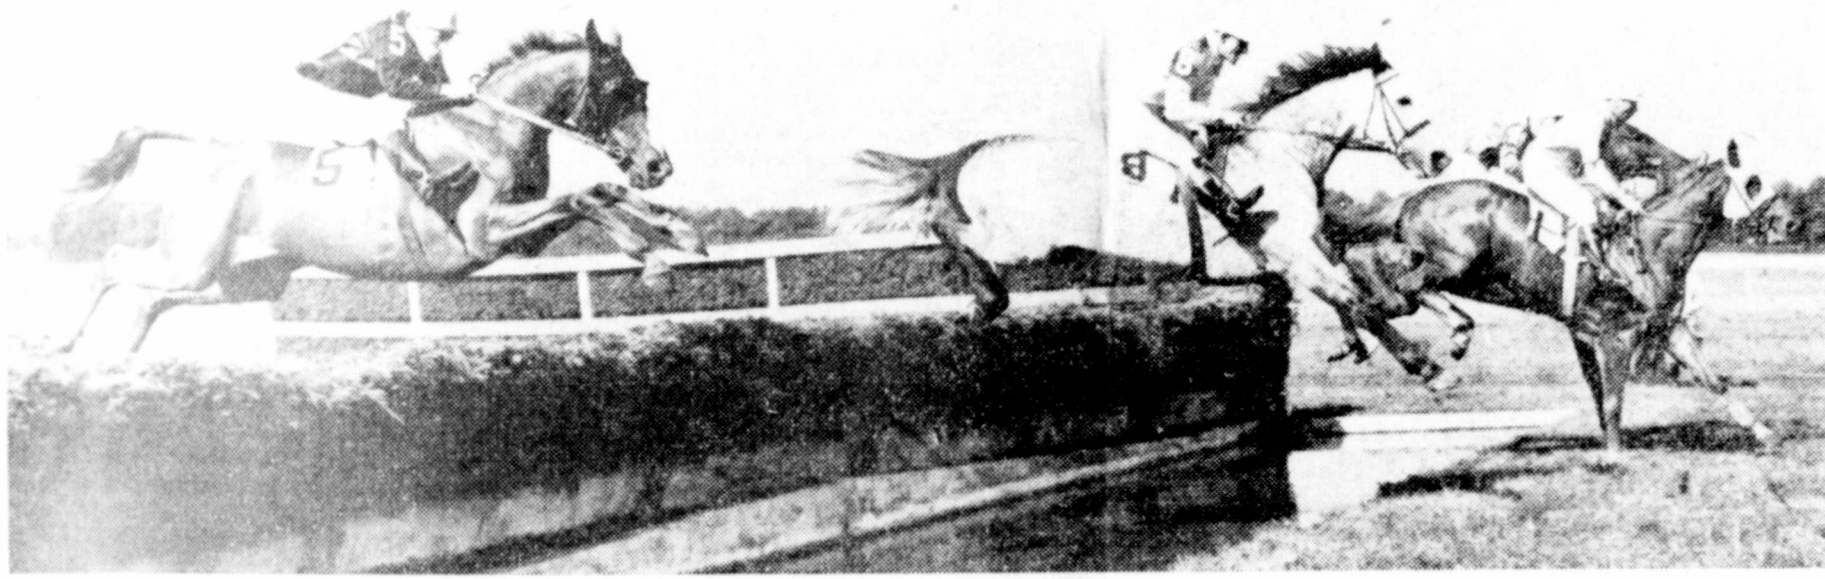

The house committee reported the bill introduced by Rep. James W. Wadsworth (Republican, New York), but amended one of the sections of the original bill to provide that 18 and 19-year-olds may be deferred at their own request to complete the present academic year only. After next July 1, all youths will be eligible for military service as they arrive at the age of 18.

But no one so far has solved the problem of what to do about maintaining a continuing supply of doctors, lawyers, engineers, chemists and the other essential scientists for a new generation. If youths are put in uniform as they leave high school, educational institutions will have no men to train, except those assigned by the army.

YOUNGEST WAR MOTHER.
BEAUMONT, Oct. 16.—The Enterprise Friday nominated the 32-year-old wife of a shipyard employe as the nation's youngest war mother. She is Mrs. Bert Albair, formerly of DeQuincy, La., and she has two sons on foreign duty with the Marines—Edd Hyatt, 19, and Ed Hyatt, 17, sons by a former marriage.

JAPS OUSTED.
HEADQUARTERS, ALASKAN DEFENSE COMMAND, Oct. 16.—American armed forces today stepped up their drive to oust the Japanese from their last remaining foothold in the western Aleutians by occupying another of the Andreanof Islands.

But if a writing man is arrested, politicians don't cry in chorus: "This is a reflection on writers as a class."

FEDERAL RUCKS GATHER SCRAP

Travis Ray and Marshall Hill, representing federal salvage firms, were callers at the Daily Press office this morning. They were accompanied by H. Kleiner, counsel for scrap metal chairmen.

Messrs. Ray and Hill announced that starting next week, with checks, they would make a house-to-house canvass of the rural areas of Eastland county and pick up all available rubber and scrap metal.

They will give receipts for scrap thus secured and the federal government will honor them and issue checks.

Farmers and others in the rural areas are urged, said Mr. Ray, to assemble all scrap metal and rubber and have trucks call.

The government just have all scrap metal and rubber and willing to pay for it at the current market price.

D.R.'S RADIO TALK ANSWERED QUICKLY

ALLAS, Oct. 16.—President Roosevelt's radio announcement last night that he was asking for 18 and 19-year-olds to be felt strongly Thursday by the army and navy recruitations here.

The most marked increase in number of teenage youths was in the army air forces airplane plant at Stone and Elm, where 100 of slightly more than 100 youths who enlisted as technicians Thursday were less than 18 years old.

When compared with previous years, about one in fifty of the age group.

C. CALLAWAY IN RACE

The vacancy caused in the state senate by the election of John Lee Smith at Throckmorton as lieutenant governor will be filled at the general election of November 3.

There are five candidates to choose from, as follows: Cleve Callaway, Cross Plains; Howard V. Davidson, Rotan; Charles Jones, Fisher county; Cecil Lotz, Rotan; A. A. Bullock, Snyder.

Absentee voting has already started in this special election set for the same day as the general election.

Cleve Callaway is well known in Cisco and Eastland county. He recently made the race against Omar Burkett of this county for floratorial representative from Callahan and Eastland counties.

Though defeated by a small margin, Callaway made many warm friends during the campaign.

He finally decided to enter the senatorial race at the behest of Callahan and Eastland county voters who would like to see a good man from this area in the important position vacated by capable John Lee Smith.

BLOODY DUEL CONTINUES IN CITY STREETS

MOSCOW, Oct. 16.—Soviet troops today fell back in the battered streets of a north Stalingrad industrial section under crushing Nazi pressure applied in the third day of what the army organ, Red Star, called the "decisive battle of Stalingrad."

Nazi tanks were attacking in waves of 30 or 40.

Reports from Stalingrad said that "several streets" in the northern industrial section had been yielded to the Nazis and that the Germans were rapidly sending more men and armored machines into the gap.

The army organ Red Star said the "decisive battle began Wednesday morning" and that "Stalingrad's defenders have repulsed hundreds of attacks."

"We must defend the city at any cost," Red Star said.

Red Star said the German air force made 1500 sorties against a sector less than a mile wide and a sector less than a mile deep Wednesday about a mile deep Wednesday morning, in an effort to wipe every vestige of life from it before sending in tanks and infantry.

SEVEN CHILDREN DROPPED FROM CROSS PLAINS SCHOOL; REFUSED TO RECITE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Seven students in Cross Plains schools were expelled this week for failure to salute the American flag, recite the oath of allegiance and sing the Star Spangled Banner, national anthem, says the Cross Plains Review.

The expulsion order was issued after a special meeting of the board of trustees Monday night. Parents of the seven children, representing three families, appeared before the board and testified that saluting the flag and other such practices were in conflict with their religious beliefs. They explained that they were members of the Jehovah Witness faith.

The students returned to school Tuesday morning, although the board told the parents their presence would no longer be tolerated unless there was a reversal of attitude. Superintendent Leo Varner contacted the children soon after their arrival at school Tuesday morning and advised them of the board's action and told them they were not to return to school for the remainder of the 1942-1943 term unless they were willing to salute the flag, recite the oath of allegiance, sing the Star Spangled Banner and otherwise join other students in patriotic ceremonies.

It was explained that failure of the children to respect the American flag in the accustomed manner had caused problems of disciplinary nature. One day last week one of the children, a boy, was accosted on the playground and trouble would likely have developed had not teachers been close at hand.

"Our children will not be injured by your action in suspending them from school," declared one of the parents. "They are in Jehovah's hands."

The order of suspension was drawn by County Attorney F. E. Mitchell and signed by all members of the board of trustees. Attending the meeting with Mr. Mitchell was County School Superintendent B. C. Chrisman.

Superintendent Leo Varner informed the Review yesterday afternoon that the teaching of patriotism in public schools was in compliance with the state law. Failure to teach this subjects faculty members and trustees to as much as two years imprisonment.

BOYS WANT LETTERS.
John H. Cloud, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cloud, route one, Cisco, who joined the navy on October 2, is now at the Great Lakes training school, 47 miles out of Chicago. Among other things, a letter received from him yesterday said: "Mother, please write. Most of the boys are homesick and want to hear from home." The Clouds have four sons with the armed forces of Uncle Sam.

RAINFALL IS 34.1 INCHES

An almost steady downpour of rain throughout the day was gauged at city hall as 2.6 inches since Wednesday night.

Unpaved streets and roads have become very muddy and difficult for travel. Some complain that even paved highways are slick in places, which slows traffic considerably.

This rainfall brings the total for the nine and a half months of 1942 to 34.1 inches.

Farmers are complaining, especially those in the peanut and cotton sections. Many farmers have just dug their peanuts and have them piled in the fields, where protracted rains like these cause severe damage to hay if, indeed, the nuts themselves are not damaged or ruined. The more forward crops of peanuts have already been threshed and peanuts housed or sheltered. In this case they are not complaining.

Cotton picking is stopped and some cotton, of course, will be damaged, but in this county, where little cotton is planted—the damage will be comparatively small.

There is some late feed that will be aided by these rains, as will turnips and other truck patches that have been planted.

Pastures have plenty of water and grass is generally good, while grain crops will soon furnish tip-top grazing for cattle and sheep.

Monthly Rainfall.
January—None.
February—1 inch.
March—5 inch.
April—11.5 inches.
May—4.4 inches.
June 3.6 inches.
July—None.
August—2 inch.
September—8.3 inches.
October—3.3 inches.

EIGHTEEN PLANES LOST.
LONDON, Oct. 16.—Hundreds of British bombers attacked the German Rhineland during the night and showered bombs among the ruins of Cologne, where on the historic night of May 30 a thousand planes conducted one of the greatest devastation raids in history. The loss of 17 planes in the night's raids was announced.

TERRIFIC FIGHT RAGES IN SOLOMONS ISLES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Hard-pressed American sailors, marines and airmen in the Solomon Islands fought stubbornly today to stem an all-out Japanese offensive to recapture Guadalcanal and its vital airfield.

Reports of the progress of the battle—on land, on sea and in the air—are lacking. The scanty ones received here during the last 48 hours presented a grim, even gloomy, picture of the Americans' positions.

But the confidence of American naval chiefs was unshaken. They have claimed that American forces will hold their positions. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz again expressed that belief in an address at Pearl Harbor yesterday. He said American troops in the Solomons thus far have effectively met all Japanese onslaughts.

One of the enemy's mightiest armadas of the war may have had control of the waters around Guadalcanal. Thousands of enemy troops have landed along the north shore of Guadalcanal and probably already are locked in battle with American Marines—reinforced by army troops. Enemy planes are bombing the Guadalcanal airfield and other American shore installations, and there have been few references for two days to American resistance in the air. Even the nearest supporting American base—on Espiritu Santo Island in the New Hebrides group, 450 miles southeast of Guadalcanal—has been shelled by an enemy ship, probably a submarine. That island was the headquarters for the American air striking and scouting forces operating in the Solomon area.

Whether the Americans can weather those attacks on land, sea and in the air will determine the fate of the Solomons and may determine the future role of Australia and New Zealand in the war of the Pacific.

CLERGY CONFINED.
LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Quisling regime has confined more than 1,100 clergymen of the official Norwegian church to their residences and replaced members of parish councils with Quisling followers, official Norwegian sources here declared Friday. They said the move was "the boldest attempt yet to take over all church property." The priests were said to have declined to recognize the Quisling regime as the official government and held to that stand for weeks despite threats.

STILL AFTER THEM.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 16.—The late Dr. John R. Brinkley, the gland specialist, his wife and six of his one-time associates were indicted by a federal grand jury here Thursday on charges of mail fraud in connection with the operation of the Brinkley hospitals here in 1940. District attorney said the charge would be abated as to Dr. Brinkley and Dr. A. C. Petermeyer, who is serving a federal court sentence on a perjury charge in connection with Dr. Brinkley's affairs. Others named in the indictment are Mrs. Minnie T. Brinkley, H. Dwight Osborne, J. H. Davis, O. B. Chandler, A. Lewis Kline and Miss Vera Wederbrook. The indictment covered twenty-four counts.

CISCOANS DONATE STEEL

Five big steel railroad rails with a history were donated to Uncle Sam's scrap metal drive today by G. B. Langston and his mother, Mrs. Frank Langston, Sr.

These long rails—30 feet in length and each weighing nearly 600 pounds—formed the sills of a cellar for many years, being so placed by the late Frank Langston, about 40 years ago.

After long service in that capacity they were later taken up and used as curbs for a garden and driveway.

Now, Mr. Langston and his mother (the latter 80 years of age) decide that in this time of need for steel they could do no better than to donate them through the Lions club to the war effort.

Mr. Langston thinks they were among the first rails used by the Texas & Pacific railroad—about 1882.

Mrs. Langston stated that she had had many opportunities to sell the rails to persons seeking supports for storm shelters, but felt she was doing greater good by giving them to the government.

Visualizing the varied and practical service of these pieces of steel, what a lesson of useful service men and women may get as an example for their own lives—not stopping at one service, but continuing on and on from one good deed to another, as long as they may live!

TIME FOR TOUGHNESS

These men are getting tough. It shows, not only in the blunt and resolute attitude taken by the state department with regard to Argentina and Chile. The former country has got used to American criticism, but the latter, hitherto cordial, seems to have a change of heart. And that is OK. Such a change, coming with the Axis, may be checked into repentance.

Obviously the democracies are growing confident. Britain herself shows it in the latest statement from Premier Churchill. There is no sign of gentleness or tolerance on that front.

There is more toughness, also, in some of the recent domestic operations in Washington. It is especially evident in the way Bill Detlers, the big rail and rubber man, jumps into a bunch of United States senators when they try to tell him how to handle his job. These statements get such a realistic job that they are still widely.

All this is great stuff. The government has been too long too long about so many things.

MARCHING

Here Superman lately has a rebellion on his hands—and it grows and grows. The wrath of tree-scaled nations is being against the emeralds. Western Europe is setting like a hornet.

The Norwegians are in open rebellion, and the Danes and Dutch are rising. The French are left for a handful of swimming and training are not only breaking up, but the sea by the Greeks and Czechs, subverting their operations. They can show their support for the liberation and revenge.

The British, who remain here, can't leave and the Americans have the credit of the present Europe. They are doing the best they can to hold the line.

INSTITUTIONAL ADS

Some of the larger merchandising concerns have been so badly affected by the war practices that they hardly, at first, dared advertise anything—lest when the customer arrived, the article be lacking and the shelves and warehouse be empty. The next stage in their thinking made them realize that, no matter how small immediate sales might be, they dared not let the public forget their names. What to do?

Many of them are now devoting some of their usual advertising space to ads for war bonds, or to getting out scrap or other practical purposes. That is a very valuable thing to do, helping both to win the war and to keep the name in sight.

Many, also, are coming to what is called "institutional advertising." That is to say, the space is given over to explanations of the company's products. The public learns how the product is made, what it is used for, the history of its invention, and of improvements in its manufacture. The specific object cannot, perhaps, be sold at this time, but the general nature of the business is made plain to the consumer. He

INVISIBLE GUESTS.

A New York Times writer suggests that "doing without things" may be a practice of sharing with invisible guests. He puts forth the idea that an individual in a family adopt an imaginary birthday for the duration—Christmas of Christmas, for example, or Freedom's birthday, or the birth of the United States, or the birth of the American flag.

Every time a man in New York set down his meaty dinner he would find a morsel of the beans and buttering on the table. Christmas, for a good thick slice of cake. He might take a piece of cake when stepping out for a walk of exercise by him, and the rest of it at the theatre, where a person might see something for a few cents cheaper, and treat Foster Xmas with a pack of cigarettes.

It is a noble thought. Why not work it up for the average family with a box on the dining table, and a table which permits of the food being served from the table, and the food being served from the table, and the food being served from the table.

The Automotive Mechanic of Yesterday Is the VICTORY SERVICE MAN of Today

Help him to help you "SAVE THE WHEELS THAT SERVE AMERICA" by getting a skilled service check-up regularly.

Take the word of millions: MORE PEOPLE GO TO CHEVROLET DEALERS FOR SERVICE than to any other dealer organization.

Just how important the automotive mechanic's work is to the nation will be clear to all who consider the following facts:

- 54,000 communities depend entirely on motor vehicles.
- Six out of every ten farms use one car or more; 67% of farm car mileage is necessity driving.
- More than 65.2% of all war plants reporting in Michigan (a typical war production state) depend on trucks to haul their incoming and outgoing freight.
- Trucks haul nearly 100% of the milk supply of most large cities—and 58% of all livestock marketed in the U. S.
- Trucks are the sole transportation system serving our 54,000 communities not reached by railroads.

The automotive mechanic—the trained Chevrolet Victory Service Man—is the lifeguard of America's millions of cars and trucks. Help him to help you and America by getting a skilled service check-up at regular intervals.

BUNDLE DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE SUNDAY

The Welfare Bundle Day committee, of which Mrs. Garland Nance is chairman, reiterates that those donating bundles for the local welfare association should either leave their bundles on their front porches, Sunday afternoon, or take them direct to the welfare building at 512 D avenue, which will be open from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Sunday.

This is an annual drive participated in by the people of Cisco during the month of October.

Mrs. B. S. Huey, executive secretary of the organization, says there is always plenty of needy to whom these donations are welcome. As an illustration, an old suit of clothes and a pair of shoes donated last year, enabled a boy to attend school when otherwise it would have been impossible for him to have done so.

Committees and the streets on which they are to collect bundles are as follows:

- Humbletown—Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Mrs. Oliver Thomas.
- College Hill—Mrs. W. W. Fewell.
- West First, Second and Third—Mrs. J. T. Anderson.
