ELECTION BRINGING OUT FEW

Very little interest was evinced today in the election which in all cases except one was merely the confirmation of the democratic nominees named in the August primaries.

This exception is the six men running for state senator from the 26th senatorial district, the vacancy being caused by the resignation of Senator John Lee Smith, who has been nominated for lieutenant governor.

There are five state amendments on the ballot, but apparently they will be defeated here, if street talk is any indication.

It was announced over the radio that James V. Allred and Mrs. Allred voted for Senator W. Lee O'Daniel this morning at Houston, with Allred saying that there was nothing else for him to do, since Mr. O'Daniel was the democratic nominee.

Candidates on the special ballot for state senator are:

Cleve Callaway, Callahan county.

Frank S. Roberts, Stephens county.

Charlie A. Jones, Fisher county.

Pat Bullock, Scurry county.

Cecil A. Lotief, Fisher county.

Howard C. Davison, Fisher county.

Election judges for the two Cisco boxes are:

West Cisco—Fred Grist, Judge; J. N. Heyser, Tom Stark, Mrs. J. S. Mohley, W. R. Ivie, Mrs. L. A. Harrison, Mrs. W. W. Fowell, Mrs. Edward Lee, W. W. Fowell, Mrs. Paul M. Culp, C. R. West, Yancey McCrea, L. A. Warren and F. E. Shockey.

East Cisco—W. W. Wallace, Judge; W. R. Huestis, C. R. Gilmore, Kent Word, Mrs. R. B. Carswell, Mrs. W. R. Huestis and Miss Virginia Carter.

RUDY JOHNSON DIED AT LEVELLAND THIS A. M.

Rudy Cleo Johnson, about 25 years of age and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson of Cisco, died at Levelland at 8:25 o'clock this morning. The young man had gone to Levelland about six weeks ago for his health. His wife and parents were at his bedside when death came.

The body is expected to arrive at Cisco this afternoon and will be taken to the Lane Funeral home and rest there until 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the funeral will be held from the First Baptist, with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

EASTLAND CO. BOY AT SCHOOL IN ENGLAND

Corp. Galand S. Poe, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Poe, of Eastland, who is with the 347th engineering corps in England, writes that he is well and that "everything is all right."

Poe, 31, is married and has a wife and two children, who live in Eastland. He was born in Eastland county and was an engineer with the Lone Star Gas company for six years before volunteering in the U. S. armed forces. At present he is attending a school of instruction in England.

CHEST MEETING TODAY DREW BUT FIVE MEN

Last week representatives of the civic and service organizations of the city met in response to a call by L. W. Seymour, temporary president of the Welfare association, for the organization of a Community Chest group to center all charity drives into one, in order that duplicate drives would not be necessary.

At this meeting officers were selected to form the Community Chest executive organization.

A call was made by the chairman chosen, H. S. Drumwright, for a meeting of the heads of the five agencies who are to share in the proceeds of the drive, to be held at the chamber of commerce today at 2:30 p. m.

Five men attended, but only one agency was represented. After looking over and discussing literature obtained by Chairman Drumwright from Breckenridge, which included a constitution of their community chest, it was the opinion that another meeting would be held representing the five agencies which are to participate in the funds, and that group should appoint an executive board of directors whose duties would be to adopt a constitution. Meanwhile Chairman Drumwright will be busy with details preliminary to this meeting.

Those present at today's meeting were L. W. Seymour, H. S. Drumwright, R. L. Ponsler, A. E. McNeely and W. H. LaRoque.

CHURCH ENDS YEAR FREE OF INDEBTEDNESS

At the regular meeting of the board of stewards of First Methodist church Monday night, the last meeting of the church year, a resolution was unanimously adopted requesting Bishop Ivan Lee Holt to return Rev. Leslie Seymour as pastor of the church for another year.

Reports showed the past year one of the best in the history of the church from the standpoint of finances as well as otherwise. All financial obligations of the year have been paid in full, leaving the church free of any indebtedness.

Chairman William Reagan named the various committees for the ensuing year.

Plans for attending to last-minute details in preparation for the annual conference session that starts here Thursday were drafted and special responsibilities assigned to designated committees.

It is expected that a few of the officials will arrive tonight and others tomorrow, including Bishop Ivan Holt and his cabinet, but the general delegations will not come until Thursday, according to the pastor.

Homes that are entertaining guests will expect these Thursday.

LIQUOR QUESTION ALWAYS GETS 'EM OUT

FT. WORTH, Nov. 3. — Early reports from Tarrant county's polling places indicated a brisk start today in the vote on county-wide prohibition, the general election ballot and amendments to the state constitution.

Observers said that the early voting was heavy for an off-year November, when no county of state offices are at stake.

The prohibition issue was the main attraction at the county's 116 polls.

Polling places, which opened at 7 a. m., will receive voters until 7 p. m.

G. P. GASKINS TO BE BURIED AT OLD HOME

G. P. Gaskins, 69, died at 4:10 a. m. today at Graham Sanitarium. Deceased came here for medical treatment a few weeks ago from San Diego, Cal., where the family has been living for several months.

Mr. Gaskins, an outstanding man, was born at Clarksville, Tex., November 25, 1872. Until the family moved to California to engage in war defense work, they had lived at Putnam, where deceased was in the grocery business for 31 years.

The funeral will be held at the First Baptist church in Putnam, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. N. Balderee, assisted by Rev. J. F. Hollis, of Abilene. The Green funeral home will be in charge of the remains.

Survivors include the widow (sister of Dr. F. E. Clark of Cisco) and the following children: Wilford Gaskins, San Diego; Mrs. Ardelia McMillan, Jal. N. M.; Billy, 18; Kenneth, 13, and James Franklin, six, who reside with the mother in San Diego. One brother, L. H. Gaskins of San Angelo, also survives.

LIQUOR PLAGUE MERELY SHIFTS TO NEW FIELDS

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 3. — This city's experiment with county-wide prohibition, starting Sept. 1, has driven whisky to the alleys and beer to the country.

Whisky that sells in legal stores for $1.50 a pint is $3 and up here. Beer has virtually disappeared from the city, as its value-for-weight makes it impractical to bootleg. A 24-cent bottle of beer is bulkier than a $3 bottle of whisky.

The beer drinkers, including thousands of soldiers from Shepard Field, flock to the Archer county line, about six miles away. On Saturday night, Wichita Falls taxi offices are jammed with soldiers trying to get rides to the county line or to a few country places in Wichita county which still sell beer.

Some of the soldiers take girls with them. The country places are soon overcrowded and the beer drinkers take to the fields. They have a board fence built along the road in one place, to keep the parkers and drinkers off the highway.

CATTLE MARKET

All classes of cattle and calves found an active and steady market at Fort Worth Tuesday. Hogs were unchanged on all grades and weights, with the top $13.85, while packers paid up to $13.75. Slaughter ewes ruled steady to strong, with some sales 25c higher. Other classes of sheep and lambs sold steady.

Estimated receipts Tuesday compared with actual receipts on Tuesday of last week were: Cattle 4,000 and 5,522; calves 2,700 and 3,090; hogs 1,600 and 1,291; sheep 7,000 and 9,636.

Good beefs were held around $13 and higher, while common country line and grades of slaughter steers and yearlings cashed at $8.50 to $12, with two loads of grass steers at $11.75.

Most of the good and choice 180 to 300-pound butcher hogs cashed at $13.75 or $13.85 with good and choice 150 to 175-pound averages at $13.25 to $13.65. Packing sows cashed at $13.25 to $13.50 and stocker pigs at $13 down.

In the sheep yard good and choice fat lambs sold at $12 to $13.25, later price being paid for club lambs. Yearlings brought $11 to $11.75; aged ewes $5.25 to $5.60, and feeder lambs $9.50 down.

ALL ARE WORKING.

PERTH, Australia, Nov. 3. — Prime Minister Curtin said that not a single physically fit man in Australia was idle as he opened a $321,000,000 austerity loan campaign, Tuesday.

"The government makes no apology for imposing what is called austerity on Australians," Curtin said. "Australia and a great group of nations all are struggling in the same cause, all are obliged to make the same sacrifices and all are compelled to leave nothing undone to make us stronger."

LOSE MANY PLANES.

LONDON, Nov. 3. — The Air Ministry described the mid-October air battle over Malta Tuesday as a "deliberate trial strength" by the Axis and said the enemy, with 138 planes shot down, had suffered such a disaster he had to call quits after 10 days.

Censorship doesn't offend Americans. It holds out certain facts, but allows any kind of crank opinion.

SEEK TO SERVE—Appeal for fire watchers by London authorities brought out this hundred-yard line of residents consisting mostly of women, many of whom had to stand in line over two hours, to register, leaving their Sunday dinners to their fate on the kitchen stove at home.

SOVIETS CONTINUE STRONG; NAZIS WEAKER

MOSCOW, Nov. 3.—A conglomerate force of 50,000 German and Rumanian mountain infantry, armored troops and sailors edged forward Tuesday in a narrow sector southeast of Nalchik, but the enemy was reported on the defensive in other parts of the flaming Caucasus battlefield.

The main Nazi thrust, which has forced a Red army withdrawal from Nalchik itself, apparently was aimed at Ordzhonikidze, 60 miles away on the military road leading to the Georgian Pass through the Caucasian mountains.

The army newspaper, Red Star, said the Germans, weakened by enormous losses at Stalingrad, were unable to mount a general offensive in the Caucasus and were throwing their full available strength into the comparatively local advance below Nalchik.

Instead of carrying on their previously favored nonstop offensive tactics, the newspaper said, the Germans now are taking a breathing spell after each assault in order to bring up reinforcements.

METHODISTS TO BRITISH MAKE CUT DISTRICTS MORE HEADWAY

FT. WORTH, Nov. 3.—The annual session of the Central Texas Methodist Conference, which opens Thursday night at Cisco, is under order to consider a resolution passed by the last annual conference to reduce the number of districts from 10 to 8, becoming effective, if possible, in 1942, and not later than the conference session in 1943.

Regarding this matter, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt stated:

"There are before me two carefully worked out plans for reducing the districts from 10 to 8, one plan being to eliminate the Cisco and Waxahachie districts, and the other plan to eliminate the Cleburne and Corsicana districts. I doubt whether it is possible to eliminate two districts or even one at this year's conference session. The bishop and his cabinet are ordered by the conference to eliminate two districts by 1943. I hope to prepare outlines of the two plans for study by members of the conference though the responsibility for outlining the districts rests upon the bishop and his cabinet."

SOLDIERS GET HOTELS.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 3. — Navy blue will be worn at the Hollywood Beach hotel this season and army khaki will be in vogue at the Miami Biltmore in Coral Gables. This is a wartime fashion note, for these famed hostilities, kingpins of South Florida's glittering peacetime winter season, have been taken over, respectively, by the navy and army.

Henpecking isn't the worst of it. If Ma sets the example, the kids also ridicule everything the old man says.

M'ARTHUR BOMBERS DROVE JAP CONVOY OF 7,000 MEN AWAY; ONE TRANSPORT WAS SET AFIRE

The Allied position in the Southwest Pacific was improved further today by capture of Kokoda, air base village in the Owen Stanley Mountains of New Guinea, and further reports of Japanese naval losses in the sea battles around the Solomons.

The Kokoda victory was scored by MacArthur's Australian troops which pushed down the north slope of the high mountain range and continued their advance in the direction of Oivi.

MacArthur's bombers struck hard at Japanese attempts to bolster their forces on New Guinea by blasting a troop convoy, estimated to be bringing 7000 men up to the Buna area on the north New Guinea coast.

The convoy included a 10,000 ton ship, a 12,000 ton ship, a cruiser and a destroyer. The Allied bombers drove the convoy off before it could land and later one transport was seen burning in the vicinity of Gasmata, New Britain. Five Japanese Zeros were shot down.

MacArthur's successes came as official reports from Washington and dispatches from the Pacific took a more optimistic tone regarding the Solomons situation.

U. S. Marines, ashore on Guadalcanal, took the initiative and drove the Japanese back two miles at one point while American planes continued to harass the enemy both on land and sea.

A dispatch by William Tyree, United Press correspondent, from South Pacific General Headquarters, dated October 28, reported that the U. S. had assembled one of the most powerful fleets ever put to sea in the Solomons area.

The entire theater of war, Tyree reported, was being flooded with fresh material, supplies and reinforcements.

It was this large American sea force, he reported, which drove the Japanese back northward in the big sea battle of October 26. The Japanese, themselves, had a powerful flotilla in the area, said to include four battleships, three aircraft carriers, 10 cruisers, 18 destroyers and nine transports.

Two of the three Japanese carriers were damaged in the Oct. 26 action in which an unnamed American carrier was lost and the Japanese retreated to the north Solomons where they were brought under heavy air attack by MacArthur's bombers.

Frank Tremaine, United Press correspondent at Pearl Harbor, reported that the Japanese may have lost as many as nine warships in the naval action west of Savo Island, Oct. 11-12. This was the estimate of Capt. Ernest G. Small, who commanded an American cruiser in the battle. Small said a heavy cruiser and a destroyer were sunk and possibly three more cruisers and four destroyers.

Naval observers said it still was too early to appraise the Solomons situation optimistically. But the fact remained that the news from Guadalcanal this week was the best to come from there since the prelude to the battle of 10 days ago began early in October.

Naval officials warned against attaching too much importance to the land offensive on Guadalcanal. They said it was purely local in character, apparently aimed at driving the enemy from a salient that was close to and threatened the western limits of the vital airfield.

They conceded, however, that it could develop into a major operation and there was feeling in naval circles that a drive to smash or oust the major enemy troops might be in the making.

The continued failure of the Japanese fleet to reappear after last week's battering at the hands of American airmen did much to dispel pessimism here.

BROWNWOOD WOMAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The war department made public Tuesday the names of 137 American civilians interned by the Japanese in the Philippine Islands, believed to be at Santo Tomas University in Manila. The list, with next of kin, included Miss Rose McKee, sister of John H. McKee, Brownwood, Texas.

CYCLONE KILLS 11,000.

LONDON, Nov. 3. — British press reports from India said Tuesday that 11,000 persons or more lost their lives last month during a cyclone which devastated sections of Bengal Province.

KEEPING CALM

"In times like these," asks a level-headed minister of the gospel, "when fear seems to possess the heart of the world and civilization trembles on the brink of disaster..."

"It seems to me that the most important contribution any one can make is to maintain our emotional stability. In these troubled days the most useful persons are those who keep sane..."

AMERICA'S MUSICIAN

"If I can but write a nation's songs, I care not who makes its laws." If there be truth in this old saying, then John Philip Sousa, whose birthday will be celebrated on Nov. 6, has meant more to the United States than many a congressman.

If there ever was a youthful prodigy, it was Sousa. He studied the violin at six, won all the school medals for music at eight, and enlisted in the United States Marine Band at 13.

What people remember about him is, of course, his music. Marches like "El Capitan" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever" are a permanent part of American life. While there have been greater musicians, few have meant more to their country.

PATRIOTIC RIVALS

The whole episode of Wendell Willkie's big trip around the world and his report to the American people has been a striking example of democracy. Two public men who were rivals for the presidency, and may still be regarded, joined hands in a notable job of public service.

Mr. Willkie served as a messenger for the president, and in some degree as his representative, while pursuing his own course of speaking his own mind. He was engaged in a double job. On his return he reported to the chief who had made his trip possible, and then he reported to the American public. This latter job he did entirely "on his own."

FREE FOOTBALL

At last the gate crashers have come into their own. In Spokane, Wash., a free football game has been staged for the benefit of the Athletic Round Table. This organization last year started the "Bundies for Congress" drive which halted the attempt of our representatives to vote themselves pensions.

Having settled the pension question, the Round Table thought the country needed a free football game. So it arranged a conflict between Eastern Washington and Pacific Lutheran, entirely free, but with one section reserved for misguided fans who, in the recent world's series, had bet on the New York Yankees.

Mabel Has a Stake in This War

BURLINGTON, IOWA.—"Am I burned out?" says Mabel, the Malayan monkey who amuses park crowds here by licking War Stamps and sticking them in her book. "If those Japs do to your home what they've done to mine, you'll be hot and bothered, too."

"Well, some folks say we monkeys have more sense than some humans anyhow," says the 33-year-old monkey who was bought from Malayan natives by Frank "Bring-Em-Back-Alive" Buck years ago. "As long as I can lick stamps, I'm going to save something for Uncle Sam to use."

"Gosh, these stamps accumulate so fast that you hardly miss the money. I've filled this book quicker than I can scratch a flea. Well, every stamp I lick is another lick at those dirty Japs, so here goes."

"I'll make monkeys out of a lot of you folks who aren't doing anything with your money to help the government. My first book is already filled and ready for a bond, but why stop? The war isn't won yet, so I'll fill another."

Kaiser and Motor Car Builder Ford have to say about the economics of the future as well worth listening to. Let us hope their optimistic prophecies about a twenty-year-long boom to follow this war will be borne out.

In the matter of the estate of J. R. Couch, deceased, it appears that the accounts of J. W. We aren't too far from a civilized town."

The young man above was employed in a clerical position before the war, but now he is a seasoned mechanic with several months of schooling and over a year of practical experience.

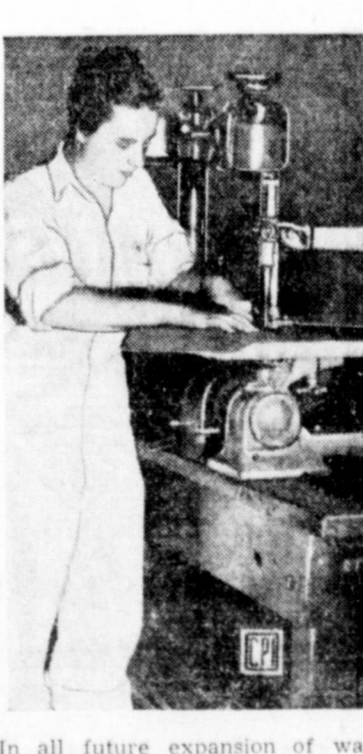

On top of taxes and compulsory savings, $1,200,000,000 must be loaned this year to finance the war. Canadian women are both working at and financing the war.

The Army is not "going to sit back of the ditch that's called the English Channel," says Gen. McNaughton and 350,000 soldiers at home and abroad cheer his words. Commando tactics, like above, are in their training.

Food for fighting men, for munitions workers and other Victory Bond purchasers is produced by 1,250,000 farm workers. If Britain were cut off from her munitions supply she could carry on for some time, but not if Canada's food convoys were blocked. This year's bumper grain crop assures Britain of plenty. Courageous merchant seamen are also carrying more cheese, fish, pork products across the sea.

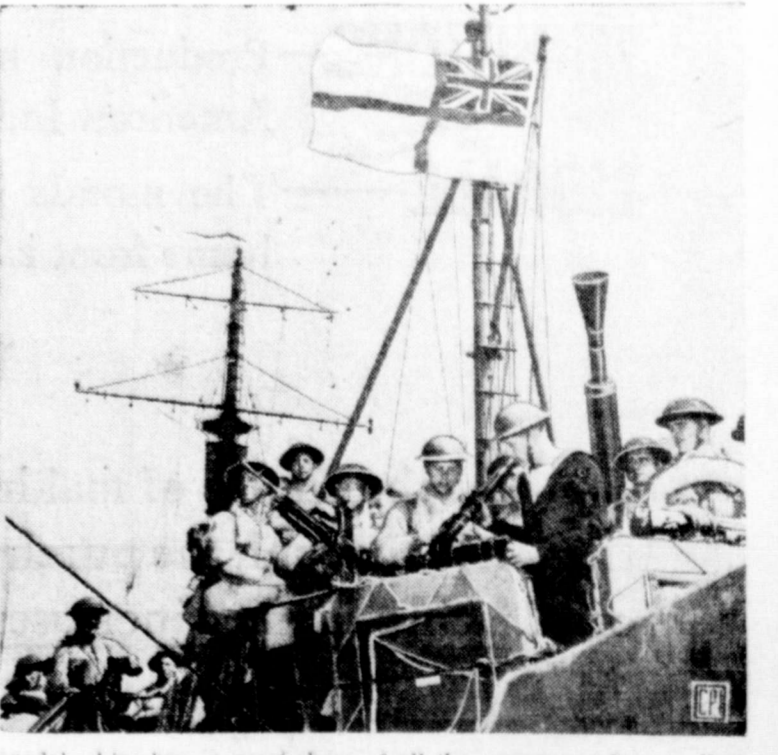

In all future expansion of war industry, Canada must rely upon womanpower, now 145,000 strong, in munitions and related factories. A recent national registration of all women is expected to swell this figure.

Father pays taxes, buys Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates, works for an A.R.P. unit. He is riding a bicycle or street car to work instead of using his car, operating his business in spite of shortage of manpower and materials.

Mother is still master of morale, saving by economy in the kitchen, working for Red Cross and Citizen's Service Committees, keeping the home fires burning. National rationing of some foods has further complicated Mother's life. Between outside war activities she cans foods that are in season.

Canada's ships bear a great share of all the convoy work as well as performing guardian patrol along U. S. and Canadian coastlines. Now a navy of 450 ships and 41,000 men, it started with 15 ships and 1,800 men before the war in 1939. Photo shows a ship carrying troops on a combined operation. Getting "the stuff" there—safely and on time is the aim of the R.C.N. This aim is not empty one. To date the convoy system has been 100 percent perfect on delivery of armed forces.

GOOD REASONS WHY YOUR CAR MUST LAST LONGER

WAR demands sacrifice. There can't be both airplanes by the thousands and automobiles by the millions. If America is to build the fighting superiority necessary for victory, then every American must forget luxuries... even do without necessities. That's why your car must last longer than you ever thought possible. Your present automobile will give you thousands of extra miles of service if you take extra good care of it and use it wisely.

BONDS OR TAXES

We are going to win the war with:

- MEN—Our men in the armed forces are doing their job.
MINUTES—Let us make every minute work for victory.
MONEY—Our Government must have more money.
MUNITIONS—Production miracles are being performed by American Industry.
MORALE—The morale in the armed forces and on the home front is excellent.

We have the choice of making the soundest investment in the world through the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps, or of facing further increases in taxes.

We can choose—either more War Bonds or more tax receipts.
