ROMMEL'S DESERT LOSSES ARE MOUNTING

REGISTRATION FOR GASOLINE RATIONING BOOKS STARTS AT HIGH SCHOOL THURSDAY A. M.

Registration for gasoline rationing will be held at the high school gymnasium beginning at 9:30 Thursday morning for all residents of Cisco. Since those in the rural districts must come to town to secure their application blanks, they will be registered in Cisco at this same place on Friday, instead of in their rural communities as they were for sugar rationing, according to Supt. R. N. Cluck, who is in charge of Cisco. Of course, all communities patronizing Cisco schools will register in Cisco.

It will not be necessary to dismiss school as was the case in sugar rationing, said Mr. Cluck, since citizen volunteers and a few teachers will be able to care for the situation. Schools will be dismissed Wednesday, Nov. 11, for the football game with Ranger at Ranger, and Wednesday morning will be utilized by the teachers in getting the rationing organization perfected for Thursday.

The procedure to be followed in securing rationing books for each of the classifications into which the regulated use of gasoline is divided under the rationing program, is outlined by Jack Frost, chairman of the Eastland county war price and rationing board, which has general supervision of the program in the county. A special board, headed by Joseph M. Weaver of Eastland, will administer the gasoline rationing program.

Following are the procedures: 1. To secure A or D basic rationing books, first secure application form R-534 at service stations to which the forms will be distributed Monday. Second, fill out this application before registration day. The form must show the serial number of each of the five tires which the motorist is allowed to keep per vehicle. If applicant has more than five tires per vehicle on registration day, he will not be issued a gasoline rationing book. Third, on registration days (November 12, 13 and 14) application must be taken to the Cisco high school gymnasium, and the form must be properly filled out and presented to the registrar. The next step is the issuance of a ration book to the motorist if the application form is in order. At the time of application the registration card (license) of the car must be presented.

If the motorist thinks he is entitled to a supplemental ration for a passenger car, he secures form R-535 at the time he registers. This he fills out later and either mails or takes in person to the rationing board, where the application is acted upon.

2. To secure gas ration book for commercial vehicles, the applicant obtains before the day of registration at a service station form R-536, which he executes and presents to the rationing board along with his certificate of war necessity furnished by the office of defense transportation.

3. To expedite the issuance of certificates of war necessity required of trucks and commercial vehicles beginning November 15, blanks are now available at the office of defense transportation motor transport district office located at 218 Professional building, Waco, Texas, Ray Martin, district ODT motor transport manager, Waco, announced Saturday.

4. Gas rations for non-highway purposes, such as tractors on farms, stationary engines, etc., are obtained by taking form R-537, properly filled out, directly to the local board. These forms are obtained at the same place where the others may be obtained.

5. Gas rations for fleet passenger cars—meaning a group of three or more passenger cars owned by or leased by some person or firm—are obtained by application to the local board on form 4-551. These cars may not obtain a basic A or D ration book, but will be issued their rations in the form of "B" or "C" coupon books. This applies to passenger cars owned or leased by the state, local or federal government.

VISITING MINISTER DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Rev. J. M. Wynne, of Waxahachie, here with Mrs. Wynne to attend the Methodist conference, died at a local hospital at 1 o'clock Saturday morning. The first attack came Thursday morning and the visiting clergyman grew steadily worse.

Deceased, a retired minister, was well known in Cisco and his sudden death was a distinct shock to family and friends. He was pastor of the First Methodist church of Cisco many years ago.

He is survived by the wife and nine children and funeral arrangements were incomplete Saturday, awaiting word from a daughter who lives in Kentucky. The remains are at the Green funeral home and will be shipped by train to Waxahachie this morning. Burial will probably be in Hillsboro. Seven of his children were at his bedside when death came.

CARL T. MOORE WILL GRADUATE AS U. S. FLYER

Mrs. W. W. Moore, Mrs. C. A. Cox, Thelma Halstead and Wightman Moore will go to Victoria Monday to be present when Carl Tom Moore receives his wings and commission at Foster Flying Field.

With the commission the Cisco young man, son of Mrs. W. W. Moore and brother of Mrs. C. A. Cox, Joe Lea Moore and Wightman Moore, automatically becomes Lieutenant Moore of Uncle Sam's flying forces.

The Red Front drug store will be closed during their absence, said Wightman Moore yesterday, but will reopen Friday morning.

COTTONSEED OIL MILLS

DALLAS, Nov. 7.—Texas cottonseed oil mills, now idle six to eight months of the year, may soon be engaged in crushing soy beans for the war effort. C. C. Farrington, vice president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, outlined a plan to use the idle facilities, at a Dallas meeting of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' association. More than 200,000,000 bushels of soy beans will be produced in the middle west this year, Farrington said.

The Cisco roll call is going forward nicely, said Mrs. R. B. Caiswell, county chairman, but is not complete. West Ward roll call has been under direction of the teachers. Two dollars in cash won by West Ward, given by Cisco Lions drive, was donated to the Red Cross. Grammar school and East Ward are entering into the roll call, but are not 100 per cent as yet.

Funds derived from Junior roll calls are divided between national and local work. The local funds provide materials for projects arising through the year. These projects are always something children can do, apart from the regular national Red Cross program. Mrs. Caiswell stated.

OSBORN VISITS FAMILY BEFORE JOINING COLORS

Lieut. H. C. Osborn of the U. S. naval forces, accompanied by Mrs. Osborn, is spending the weekend in Cisco with his parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Osborn and A. L. Osborn, Mrs. Walter King, of McAllen, sister of Lieutenant Osborn, is also here.

Lieut. and Mrs. Osborn drove here from the east, where he has just finished his preliminary training. He will depart for San Francisco early Monday to enter active service.

Junior's going to war at eighteen won't be anything new. His grandfather married at that age.

No rich old man really "marries to get a nurse." He could hire one 90 per cent cheaper.

ITALIAN SUPPLY PORT GETS FIFTH BOMBING

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Britain's big, home-based bombers revisited Italy Friday night for the fifth time since late October, showering Genoa with fire and explosives which by the Italians' own word, inflicted "notable damage" on Italy's most important supply port for the Axis armies in North Africa.

The air ministry called the attack "concentrated and effective" and the Italian communiqué itself said that "particular damage was reported in the center of the town, and in the eastern part notable damage was caused."

The long haul to and fro over virtually the length of continental Europe and twice across the Alps was made in bad weather, the British communiqué said, but the night skies opened over Genoa and the British bombers were able to unload on clear targets.

FERTILIZER BE HIKED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Ceiling prices on fertilizer shortly will be increased about eight per cent to cover increased costs of nitrogen and transportation, the Office of Price Administration announced.

BROKEN AXIS FORCES CONTINUE HEADLONG FLIGHT; SIX ITALIAN DIVISIONS READY TO SURRENDER

CAIRO, Nov. 7.—With 100,000 of Rommel's total of some 140,000 desert troops captured or trapped and his tank strength grievously crippled, the British chase of the broken and tattered Axis forces swept on Saturday past Matruh, Egyptian port almost half way to the Libyan border from the starting point of the Allied drive.

The headlong flight of the once-proud Axis Africa Corps continued at a rapid clip, the British reported in a communiqué which listed 20,000 Germans and Italians already captured along with 350 tanks seized in addition to hundreds of others knocked out, and 400 guns and uncounted thousands of vehicles in the hands of the Army of the Nile.

Far behind and mostly inland from the coastal road were six Italian divisions left in the lurch when Rommel pulled stakes on the El Alamein front. Mussolini's abandoned men, in a bad way without food and water, were reported waiting meekly to be picked up when the British could get around to them.

Among the beleaguered Italians were the Bologna division, which was in the southern sector of the El Alamein front, and the Trieste division in the north, both including some of Italy's choicest troops.

Saturday's British war bulletin said the remnants attempted a stand at Fuka, about 50 miles east of Matruh, but was crushed and from there the main body of Rommel's forces was pushed on beyond Matruh.

At Fuka, the Axis forces tried in vain to take advantage of an escarpment which afforded some degree of natural defenses but vigorous attacks by British armor nullified their feeble effort.

The figures given officially on Axis losses in manpower were considered here to be extremely conservative and estimates on how much manpower Rommel had left were lacking, but in the words of one military commentator "he had very little."

REDS ARE WINNING.

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—The Red army threw the Germans from two fortified positions in a factory area of Stalingrad Saturday and held firmly from the Arctic to the deep Caucasus against Nazi efforts to crack the defense lines.

Gray-uniformed dead continued to pile up before Stalingrad gunpits. The Russians were reported to have handed out heavy punishment to the invaders on the Black Sea and Nalchik-Ordzhonikidze fronts.

About a company of German infantry fell before the counter-attacking Red army troops at Stalingrad, the noon communiqué said.

"On a southern sector of the city's defenses a Red army detachment destroyed nine blockhouses and killed about 180 German officers and men," it was announced.

Further Nazi fortifications were reported wrecked by Soviet shell-fire on the steppes northeast of the city, now in its seventy-fifth day of siege.

About 1,000 of the enemy were declared to have perished in vain efforts Friday to expand their holdings in Stalingrad, falling back to their original lines, despite tank and plane support.

A tank-supported infantry brigade struck at Russian defense positions before the Caucasian slopes southeast of Nalchik, but was driven off with heavy losses, the communiqué said.

"Two Soviet armored trains, in a six-hour battle knocked out 10 German tanks and armored cars, brought down a German plane and dispersed about two companies of enemy infantry," it was added.

BRITISH PRODUCTION

If the British were given to bragging, they might well show their boots more loudly about war production. Their government announces that it is now producing more war materials per capita than any other nation in either side of the war.

Why, then, it will be asked, are American ships, planes and war materials of many kinds still being shipped to England so liberally? The answer is simple. It is because Britain is sending four-fifths of her production to others of the Allied Nations.

It is well for Americans to bear such facts in mind when discussing our own war output. We are doing increasingly well, but we reap for ourselves a much larger share of our production than Britain does—and we waste precious hours when misguided workmen stop the wheels because of fancied grievances.

A FIGHTING PSALM

The Lord is our strength and our help, the Lord is our help in the time of trouble. He will save us from all our enemies, he will deliver us from all our distresses.

That is the way, when the lines are close and the bullets whizzing, to keep a cool head and a steady hand. And that is the way, when the smoke is thick and the noise is deafening, to keep a clear mind and a brave heart.

Just the same, the report of rifles from the old Testament, American soldiers fighting in the Hebrew Scriptures, had there in a passage in the 144th Psalm that comes pretty close to the modern version. It says:

"Blessed be the Lord of my strength, when I say, 'My hands are outstretched, and my fingers will gain, and a little farther in. I will turn lightning and water there, shoot down arrows and cast them. Other striking weapons of the modern fighting song might be found in these ancient Psalms."

No more bugles for the kibitzers, nor silk stockings for the Ma's. Rationed gasoline for autos and tin beefsteak for the Pa's. Coffee short and sugar shorter, bananas, blankets thin. That's what folks are buying for— it's a war, they've got to win!

ELEANOR ABROAD

They seem to like Eleanor Roosevelt in England, even if a good many Americans do lack enthusiasm for her. She shows herself as a friendly, sympathetic and disarming person, who appreciates the job that the British have done and is eager to learn from them. She seems to take pot-luck and ask no difficult favors. She puts on no airs and at the same time toadies to nobody. She laughs at herself as an "old woman" poking around and bothering busy people. Naturally the British prefer that to the important air that some American visitors assume. They seem to accept her cheerfully and minister to her as to a highly reliable "Kibitzer" who will not be annoyed by any attention she may pay to them.

CHURCHES

First Presbyterian. The Presbyterian church joins the other churches of the city in extending a very cordial brotherly welcome to all the members of the Central Texas Methodist Conference. It was unusual privilege and pleasure to have such a body meeting in our midst. We hope their stay has been a pleasant and profitable one. We are sure it will be a source of blessing to all the churches in the community. This church is peculiarly fortunate in having one of the most distinguished of these visitors, Rev. Dr. J. N. R. Score, president of the conference, who will present at the eleven o'clock hour. Bishop Board needs this introduction in church circles in this state. For many years he has been a beloved pastor in the Methodist church, and one of the most outstanding preachers and leaders in that denomination. We extend to him and to his many friends who may desire to hear him a most cordial welcome. The public is invited to a service of an unusual and interesting nature at the evening hour. Mrs. S. E. H. Brown will give an organ recital of twenty minutes. Mrs. W. W. Wallace will present some interesting facts from the recent home mission text book, "While It Is Day." This will be followed by thirty or forty minutes of screen pictures of home mission scenes. The self-denial offering for this cause will then be taken. Miss Willie Word, home mission secretary, will be in charge of the program and T. C. Williams will operate the projection machine. GARY SMITH, Pastor.

LAUGHING-STOCK

The British are laughing at the American visitor's assumption that they will accept her cheerfully and minister to her as to a highly reliable "Kibitzer" who will not be annoyed by any attention she may pay to them. They are laughing at the American visitor's assumption that they will accept her cheerfully and minister to her as to a highly reliable "Kibitzer" who will not be annoyed by any attention she may pay to them.

Seek U. S. Air Supremacy

NEW YORK CITY—America's fighting planes, financed partly by Americans who buy War Bonds, came a step closer to world-wide air supremacy when this group of aircraft manufacturers formed a council this month for the purpose of achieving that goal. The builders agreed to pool their combined resources of engineering, research, manufacturing, patents, facilities, materials and personnel in this all-out endeavor. Left to right, seated are—Glen L. Martin, head of the Martin Company and Vice President of the Council; G. W. Vaughan, head of Curtiss-Wright, and President of the Council; and Victor Emanuel, President of The Aviation Corporation. Standing, left to right—O. L. Woodson, Bell Aircraft; R. S. Damon, Republic Aviation; J. Carlton Ward, Jr., Fairchild; L. C. Goad, General Motors; George Chapline, Brewster Aeronautical Corp.

TWO WINDOWS WORTHY OF CLOSE STUDY

The home demonstration displays of canned goods and garden vegetables being shown in the windows of J. C. Penney company and Drumwrights, Inc. should be lessons in victory campaigns. No family with a pantry like the demonstrations displayed in these plots of ground and the physical strength to do the small amount of tilling necessary to make the land produce quantities of food to feed the families while the major products of the country are being shipped to the soldiers and the starting people who have been reduced to those straits by rubber competitors.

The demonstration in Penney's window is by the Lake Cisco Home Demonstration club and includes canned items of most every possible vegetable and fruit grown in this part of the state, in addition to many items such as turnips, carrots, tomatoes, Chinese cabbage, potatoes and pecans, in the raw state.

The display in the Drumwright window contains similar items, but of course is different in character. This display is by the Word Home Demonstration club. The skill shown in the canning and in the arrangement demonstrates knowledge of the canning art to a marked degree. The blouse, curtains and dress were made of feed sacks and like the hand-work were made by members.

JOHN-BUTLER WEDDING TOOK PLACE FRIDAY.

A quiet wedding took place at 7 o'clock Friday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jones, when their daughter, Miss Winnell Jones, became the bride of Stanley Butler of San Diego, Calif. Rev. L. H. Clegg, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few close friends and relatives. Miss Ruby Jones, of Cisco attended her sister as maid-of-honor and Bill Gaskin of San Diego attended the groom.

The bride wore a victory blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of red carnations; Miss Ruby Jones wore a soldier blue frock with black accessories with corsage of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. Miss Jane Hooker presided at the bride's book where relatives and guests recorded their names as follows: Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jones and family, Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Clegg, Samuel Greer, Miss Oleta Huestis, Miss Jane Hooker, Miss Jo Nell Bains, Miss Archer and Bill Kelly, all of Cisco; others from out-of-town were Mrs. Elmer Dunaway, Red Wood, Calif.; Mrs. Mattie Mayes, Houston; Bill Gaskin, San Diego.

Mrs. Butler, an honor graduate of Cisco high school, later attended Cisco Junior college and has recently been employed by Drs. Clark & Ball in their office. Mr. Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Butler of Putnam, is a graduate of Putnam high school and attended Cisco junior college and Frye Aircraft school, Dallas. He is now employed at the Consolidated Bomber Plant, San Diego where they will make their home.

MRS. G. C. ROSENTHAL HONORED BRIDE.

Mrs. G. C. Rosenthal honored Mrs. Howell Ray Clark, the former Miss Billie Jo McArdle, with a lovely shower Wednesday evening. The house was decorated throughout with yellow chrysanthemums in crystal vases, yellow being the bride's chosen color. A hand-made lace banquet cloth covered the dining table, which ding candelabra. Mrs. G. M. Stephenson played "Traumerel" as Ensign E. York Murphy, brother of Miss Tomlinson, entered and lighted the candles. The music changed to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride entered in the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Robert W. Thompson, sister of Miss Tomlinson, acted as matron of honor, and James Brazz, Jr., of Lubbock, served the groom as best man.

The bride wore a Hattie Carnegie gown of beige crepe, with sequin trim and her traveling dress was of cotton Angora Jersey with maroon accessories.

Following the ceremony, guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. The table, covered with an Italian cut-work cloth of hand-woven linen, with inserts of Venetian lace, held the pretty three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped by a miniature bride and groom. After Mrs. Bledsoe cut the cake, she was relieved by the groom's mother, Mrs. M. H. Bledsoe, who served the guests. Mrs. Thompson labeled the punch.

The guest list included Mrs. M. H. Bledsoe and James Blagg, Jr. of Lubbock; Ensign and Mrs. E. York Murphy, Dallas; Mrs. Robert W. Thompson and small daughter, Elizabeth Ann, recently of Washington, D. C.; Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Stephenson, Judge and Mrs. Eugene Lankford, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Elliott and Mrs. Lila Thorman, all of Cisco.

Mrs. Bledsoe was reared in Cisco and graduated from the local high school with the 1937 class. She then entered John Tarleton college, from which she graduated in 1939, and received a bachelor of business administration degree from Texas Tech in 1941.

Lieutenant Bledsoe received his degree from Texas Tech and was a law student in Texas university prior to entering the army air corps.

The couple left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip.

after which they will be at home at Tampa, Fla.

THE QUESTION.
The United States Navy is an interesting subject. Why did you join the Navy?

THE PLACE.
New York City.

THE ANSWERS.

Louis Reiser, machinist's mate, first class, home, New York City. "I've always had the desire to be in the Navy because I've always loved the sea. I served in the Navy before and during the last war, and although I was not subject to the draft, I couldn't wait to join our fine Navy again for this war."

Lyle N. DeKen, seaman, first class, home, Denver, Colo. "Because I like the Navy better than the other military services. The personnel always impressed me as being a smart and clean-cut looking group. I also wanted to go to different places, quickly. I've been in the Navy 29 months and I like it even better than I thought I would."

C. W. Fritz, hospital apprentice, first class, home, Terre Haute, Ind. "Because my whole family, practically, was or has been in the Navy. My two uncles are in now, both in regular and Dad is enlisting soon. We've always had some one in the Navy I joined as soon as I could."

Mitchell Casgren, apprentice seaman, home, Yonkers, N. Y. "I joined the Navy to be of what service I can in this war and, in particular, to learn a trade. I intend to be a motor machinist, a trade I can follow after the war. I can't explain how much I love the Navy and I'm only sorry that I didn't enlist sooner."

Leonard C. Lifer, apprentice seaman, home, New York City. "Because I've wanted to be a sailor in the Navy ever since I was a child. I know Navy history and traditions from the days of Admiral Sims. Now, I'm delighted to be a seaman in this war, in the finest Navy in the world."

J. P. Wamester Jr., hospital apprentice, first class, home, Haverhill, Mass. "I joined before the war because I wanted to see the world in an outfit that I could be proud of. Although I had the year of college, I still had to give letters of reference. That's how choosy the Navy is, and that's why it's so good."

ROMMEL'S DESERT LOSSES ARE MOUNTING

BROKEN AXIS FORCES CONTINUE HEADLONG FLIGHT; SIX ITALIAN DIVISIONS READY TO SURRENDER

CAIRO, Nov. 7.—With 100,000 of Rommel's total of some 140,000 desert troops captured or trapped and his tank strength grievously crippled, the British chase of the broken and tattered Axis forces swept on Saturday past Matruh, Egyptian port almost half way to the Libyan border from the starting point of the Allied drive.

The headlong flight of the once-proud Axis Africa Corps continued at a rapid clip, the British reported in a communique which listed 20,000 Germans and Italians already captured along with 350 tanks seized in addition to hundreds of others knocked out, and 400 guns and uncounted thousands of vehicles in the hands of the Army of the Nile.

Far behind and mostly inland from the coastal road were six Italian divisions left in the lurch when Rommel pulled stakes on the El Alamein front. Mussolini's abandoned men, in a bad way without food and water, were reported waiting meekly to be picked up when the British could get around to them.

Among the beleaguered Italians were the Bologna division, which was in the southern sector of the El Alamein front, and the Trieste division in the north, both including some of Italy's choicest troops.

Saturday's British war bulletin said the remnants attempted a stand at Fuka, about 50 miles east of Matruh, but was crushed and from there the main body of Rommel's forces was pushed on beyond Matruh.

At Fuka, the Axis forces tried in vain to take advantage of an escarpment which afforded some degree of natural defenses but vigorous attacks by British armor nullified their feeble effort.

The figures given officially on Axis losses in manpower were considered here to be extremely conservative and estimates on how much manpower Rommel had left were lacking, but in the words of one military commentator "he had very little."

REDS ARE WINNING.

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—The Red army threw the Germans from two fortified positions in a factory area of Stalingrad Saturday and held firmly from the Arctic to the deep Caucasus against Nazi efforts to crack the defense lines.

Gray-uniformed dead continued to pile up before Stalingrad gunpits. The Russians were reported to have handed out heavy punishment to the invaders on the Black Sea and Nalchik-Ordzhonikidze fronts.

About a company of German infantry fell before the counter-attacking Red army troops at Stalingrad, the noon communique said.

"On a southern sector of the city's defenses a Red army detachment destroyed nine blockhouses and killed about 180 German officers and men," it was announced.

Further Nazi fortifications were reported wrecked by Soviet shell-fire on the steppes northeast of the city, now in its seventy-fifth day of siege.

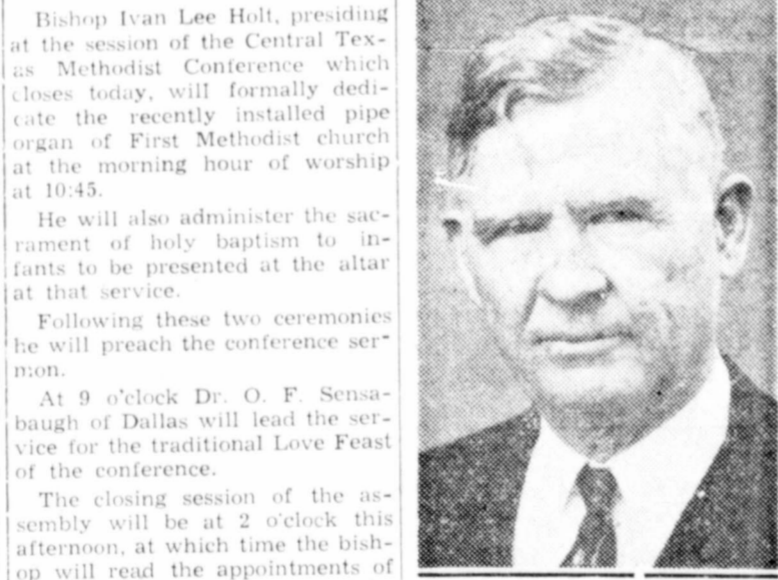

About 1,000 of the enemy were

COTTONSEED OIL MILLS

DALLAS, Nov. 7.—Texas cottonseed oil mills, now idle six to eight months of the year, may soon be engaged in crushing soy beans for the war effort. C. C. Farrington, vice president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, outlined a plan to use the idle facilities, at a Dallas meeting of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' association. More than 200,000,000 bushels of soy beans will be produced in the middle west this year, Farrington said.

REGISTRATION FOR GASOLINE RATIONING BOOKS STARTS AT HIGH SCHOOL THURSDAY A. M.

Registration for gasoline rationing will be held at the high school gymnasium beginning at 9:30 Thursday morning for all residents of Cisco. Since those in the rural districts must come to town to secure their application blanks, they will be registered in Cisco at this same place on Friday, instead of in their rural communities as they were for sugar rationing, according to Supt. R. N. Cluck, who is in charge for Cisco. Of course, all communities patronizing Cisco schools will register in Cisco.

It will not be necessary to dismiss school as was the case in sugar rationing, said Mr. Cluck, since citizen volunteers and a few teachers will be able to care for the situation. Schools will be dismissed Wednesday, Nov. 11, for the football game with Ranger at 10:30, and Wednesday morning will be utilized by the teachers in getting the rationing organization perfected for Thursday.

The procedure to be followed in securing rationing books for each of the classifications into which the regulated use of gasoline is divided under the rationing program, as outlined by Jack Frost, chairman of the Eastland county war price and rationing board, which has general supervision of the program in the county. A special board, headed by Joseph M. Weaver of Eastland, will administer the gasoline rationing program.

Following are the procedures: 1. To secure A or D basic rationing books, first secure application form R-534 at service stations to which the forms will be distributed Monday. Second, fill out this application before registration day. The form must show the serial number of each of the five tires which the motorist is allowed to keep per vehicle. If applicant has more than five tires per vehicle on registration day, he will not be issued a gasoline rationing book. Third, on registration days (November 12, 13 and 14) application must be taken to the Cisco high school gymnasium, and the form must be properly filled out and presented to the registrar. The next step is the issuance of a rationing form in order. At the time of application the registration card (license) of the car must be presented.

If the motorist thinks he is entitled to a supplemental ration for a passenger car, he secures form R-535 at the time he registers. This fills out later and either mails or takes in person to the rationing board, where the application is acted upon.

2. To secure gas ration book for commercial vehicles, the applicant obtains before the day of registration at a service station form R-536, which he executes and presents to the rationing board along with his certificate of war necessity furnished by the office of defense transportation.

3. To expedite the issuance of certificates of war necessity required of trucks and commercial vehicles beginning November 15, blanks are now available at the office of defense transportation motor transport district office located at 218 Professional building, Waco, Texas, Ray Martin, district ODT motor transport manager, Waco, announced Saturday.

4. Gas rations for non-highway purposes, such as tractors on farms, stationary engines, etc., are obtained by taking form R-537, properly filled out, directly to the local board. These forms are obtained at the same place where the others may be obtained.

5. Gas rations for fleet passenger cars—meaning a group of three or more passenger cars owned by or leased by some person or firm—are obtained by application to the local board on form 4-551. These cars may not obtain a basic A or D ration book, but will be issued their rations in the form of "B" or "C" coupon books. This applies to passenger cars owned or leased by the state, local or federal government.

THE QUESTION.

The United States Navy is an all-volunteer outfit. Why did you join the Navy?

THE PLACE.

New York City.

THE ANSWERS.

Louis Reiser, machinist's mate, first class, home, New York City.

"I've always had the desire to be in the Navy because I've always loved the sea. I served in the Navy before and during the last war, and although I was not subject to the draft, I couldn't wait to join our fine Navy again for this war."

John N. Drexler, seaman, first class, home, Denver, Colo.

"Because I like the Navy better than the other military services. The program impressed me as being a smart and clean outfit. I also wanted to go to different places, quickly. I've been in the Navy 20 months and I like it even better than I thought I would."

W. F. Fritz, hospital apprentice, first class, home, Telfer, Ind.

"Because it's my whole family, practically. I was or has been in the Navy. My two uncles are in the Navy, both ensigns, and Dad is an ensign. We've always had some one in the Navy. I joined as soon as I could."

M. J. Casper, apprentice seaman, home, Yonkers, N. Y.

"I joined the Navy to be of what service I can in this war. I'm particularly interested in the trade. I intend to be a motor machinist. I know I can follow the trade after the war. I can't explain how much I love the Navy, and I'm only sorry that I didn't enlist sooner."

Leonard C. Lifer, apprentice seaman, home, New York City.

"Because I've wanted to be a sailor in the Navy ever since I was a child. I know the Navy's history and traditions from the days of John Paul Jones to those of Admiral Sims. Now, in the midst of the war, it's the finest Navy in the world."

F. Wainwright Jr., hospital apprentice, home, New York City.

NO USE, ADOLF- You Can't Shut Out That Hum!

Adolf: Dot humming—vot iss it?

Reddy: That, Adolf, is the hum of power by which you will meet your doom. Power in the air... power afoot, on tap to build more planes, more tanks, more guns, more ships. It's the hum of American men and machines at work—twenty-four hours a day!

Adolf: Ah, but I haff power, too!

Reddy: Listen, Adolf! America has more power than you and all your stooges and conquered countries put together. Free men and women are using that power, turning out weapons of war in thundering quantities, because they want to stay free.

Adolf: Yes, but I haff men and women working for me, too.

Reddy: Slaves, Adolf. They toil with bayonets at their back. They have no spirit for the work. They are slowed down by hunger. The machines they work are worn by years of war. Manpower can never do the work of electric power!

Adolf: Sure, but I got the jump on you! I command everything—

Reddy: That's where we differ, Adolf. Your system is based on state slavery and political control and operation of all natural resources, industry, religion and education. In West Texas... and in all America... we respect the rights of the individual and the institutions he has created. Over here, we believe in free enterprise under government regulation... a system under which men and women know they'll be rewarded for initiative, ambition and production.

It's a powerful incentive, Adolf, and it's helped make America power-ful. Consider electricity, for example. It's helped give West Texas homes about twice or three times as much electric service for their money as they used to get ten or fifteen years ago.

American business management is behind that hum you hear, Adolf, and its success depends on giving more for less cost. It's a hum that will beat upon you until freedom is restored to the earth. It's the hum of fate, Adolf!

Here Comes WINTER

AND WILL YOU BE READY WHEN IT COMES

OFTENTIMES OUR COLDEST WEATHER IS IN NOVEMBER AND MUCH HEAT IS NEEDED

It is also true that many persons wait until cold weather is here before getting their heating equipment ready for use. A part of our service to the customers is to aid him in getting the most out of his equipment, and our service department is at the command of the customer to see that he has adequate heat for his home or office.

In order to render the greatest quality of service we would appreciate it if customers who need our service in installing their heating equipment for the winter would let us give that aid now before the rush which a cold wave or snow storm always brings. Delay might cause great inconvenience to the customer since naturally the shortage in man power would not allow us to reach everybody on the same day.

IF WE CAN SERVE YOU LET US DO IT NOW.
