TOM CONNALLY WILL SUPPORT APPOINTMENT OF ED J. FLYNN IN ORDER TO HELP PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Against most of the Republican and several prominent Democratic members of the senate, Senator Tom Connally of Texas next week will lead the defense of the nomination of Edward J. Flynn to be minister to Australia and the president's personal emissary to the Far Pacific, and he will put that defense directly to the question of support of the president's leadership in time of war.

As the result of the 13 to 10 vote of the Foreign Relations committee yesterday, Connally, as chairman, will manage the fight to have the Flynn nomination confirmed.

Those are those who, studying the senate roster, and yesterday's vote predict Flynn may be rejected.

At the outset of the debate Connally will have behind him the support of such men as Wagner of New York, Barkeley of Kentucky, Clark of Missouri, Glass of Virginia and LaFollette of Wisconsin, all of whom voted for Flynn in committee.

But against this he will have Democratic Senators George of Georgia, Van Nuys of Indiana, and Gillette of Iowa, and Republican Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Nye of North Dakota, all of whom voted against Flynn in committee.

The latter group hopes to gain the support of several other conservative Democrats, and many Republicans. Some believe they may even count on Connally's colleague, Senator W. L. O'Daniel of Texas.

O'Daniel himself won't say. He set up until 1 o'clock last night, he said, reading the testimony, but didn't complete it. Normally, he likes to keep his own counsel till the roll is called.

Reaction from Texas against the Flynn nomination was slow in reaching here. Thus far, Connally has received less than 100 letters in protest, but some quite strong.

A leading Texas politician, here yesterday, said he thought Connally's support of the nomination would hurt him at home. But a big war contractor said in his opinion it wouldn't matter.

Connally today said that in his opinion the charges against Flynn had "collapsed," and rejection of his nomination would tell the enemy that the president did not have the support of the government.

"I refuse to badger and harass the president of the United States at this critical period in the affairs of the war by rejecting the Flynn nomination," Connally added.

"Had Mr. Flynn been shown to be guilty of any wrong doing, or if he were not possessed of sufficient ability and educational qualifications, the case would be different."

AUSSIES FEAR JAP ATTACK

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 28.—Government sources indicated today that a major operation by the Japanese may be pending pending against Northern Australia.

It was learned from Commonwealth authorities that Jap troop and shipping concentrations have been strengthened heavily by enemy movements extending to areas in the Pacific remote from Australia but converging in this direction.

The movements were said to be on a scale great enough to cause deep concern.

Enemy shipping is being concentrated in the north, it was stated.

Jap activity is increasing along the south coast of Dutch New Guinea.

CLEAR AFRICA AND THEN INVADE EUROPE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The first major objective in the strategy planned at the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting was believed today to be the expulsion of Axis forces from their remaining positions in Africa.

With Africa cleared of Axis troops, the way would be opened for a large scale invasion of Europe.

The Casablanca meeting was understood to have decided upon the tactics to be used in accomplishing the utter rout of German forces from Tunisia, and to have included the plans for improving the political organization in North Africa.

It can be said on trustworthy authority that the Roosevelt-Churchill strategy does not depend upon a Giraud-De Gaulle rapprochement and that the meeting of the two French generals was arranged independently of the historic Casablanca conference.

RELATIVES OF DEATH OF MRS. M. B. BATTLE; LOST BATTALION NOTIFIED BURIED SUNDY

FT. WORTH, Jan. 28.—At least 50 families had received telegrams up to noon today notifying them that a husband, a son or a brother in Texas' "Lost Battalion" is a prisoner of the Japanese government in Java.

The war department wires began coming in Tuesday to relatives in scattered towns throughout West Texas. It was the first official news of the fate which befell any of the men in the all-Texas 2nd Battalion, 131st Field Artillery, which was in Java when the battle for the island began.

Deceased was born in Henderson county, Tenn., January 22, 1881, her maiden name being Mary Leona Stayton. Throughout life she was known as a conscientious Christian woman.

Twice married, her first husband was V. A. McGee, who died in 1916. In 1918, she was married to Mr. Battle and they located at Pioneer in 1921. She is survived by her husband and three children—Mrs. O. A. Owens, Cisco; Mrs. Ray Battle, route four, Cisco; and a son, H. A. McGee, Dallas.

FUNDS FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS WORK

Charles J. Kleiner, county chairman of the infantile paralysis fund, has announced his organization for Eastland county.

"This year," Mr. Kleiner stated, "we have decided not to have a president's ball or anything of an entertainment nature, but are asking for direct donations. We trust this will meet with the approval of everybody, and that they will at once bring in or mail their contributions—in order that we may get this matter behind us. Here is the set-up for the various towns:

Eastland—C. W. Hoffman. Ranger—Hall Walker. Rising Star—E. M. Howard. Gorman—Dr. D. V. Rogers. Cisco—Charles S. Sandler.

Eisenhower is boss in North Africa, except for the French who own it and the Axis agents who still manage it.

NEGROES LOST CAR; FRIENDS SOON APPEAR

Ciscoans, in their usual cooperative way, made up money to send three negro men on their way rejoicing to U. S. employment agency jobs awaiting them in Oakland, Calif., after they had been stranded here by having their car and contents burned in the Nance Motor Co. fire of Monday.

Willie Clark and two companions had been promised jobs by the employment office in Little Rock, Ark., provided they could reach them at Oakland. Stopping here to have some necessary work done on the old car, they were caught by the seeming hand of fate when fire destroyed their vehicle.

But good luck had not deserted them. While citizens were making up a small purse that would help them to their destination, another negro man from the same section of Arkansas came along and stopped to view the fire.

These men, noticing the familiar license tag, found they knew him and that he was bound to the same point as themselves. So they took their money and left with their friend Wednesday evening.

And, to round out the story, a check for $25 came this morning from their home town church to aid the unfortunate men.

City Secretary Downie will forward it on to them at El Paso, Texas.

U. S. CASUALTIES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Secretary of War Stimson revealed today that 1,258 casualties, including 211 killed, have been suffered by American forces in the fighting in Tunisia. Stimson told his press conference that the total casualties also included 532 wounded and 515 missing. Of the missing, he said, 226 were reported to have been taken prisoners by the enemy.

But if an Eastern lad uses his car to go courting, and really means business, is that pleasure driving?

J. R. WRIGHT WAS ROTARY SPEAKER T'DAY

Rotarian Asa Skiles introduced Rev. James R. Wright as the speaker for his program today at the Rotary luncheon, which only lacked one of being another of those 100 per cent meetings, of which the club is so justly proud. Even this absent member may have made up his attendance at some other club, it was suggested.

President Ernest Hittson asked that all who expected to attend the Rotary meeting at Abilene the evening of February 8, at which time the international president will speak, should leave their names with Secretary G. R. Nance, so reservations can be made for the banquet.

The speaker began his talk with some humorous references to absent-minded teachers, ministers and doctors, and then when his audience was in a listening attitude, plunged into his very serious subject of "Business and Capital."

"Business depends much upon proper capital, and merchants take careful stock of their resources and liabilities in order to know just what their assets are," Wright said.

"And in a man's life he should also list his assets and liabilities, strengthening his weaknesses and marshaling his strong points, to aid him in conducting his personal business of living."

Continuing, the speaker listed a man's assets of living as physical strength, mental strength and moral strength; all of these entering into the personality of the man and largely measuring his success.

Many men who have attained fame despite physical weakness, might have reached higher levels had this not been true.

Mental ability goes far in the race for attainment, provided it does not become vanity, in which case it arouses jealousies that prevent success.

The morale includes the virtues of life such as good name and character.

The sources of life's capital are many the speaker said. As in business life, a man is often caught short because of the lack of ready capital, even though he may be the possessor of much property; a man's success in a spiritual way may be handicapped by lack of ready spiritual resources upon which he could draw.

A man should have made friends because of his own friendly dealings with others, and he should have cultivated his talents to the extent that they may not have become latent through neglect or burial.

And then Mr. Wright used the comparison of human life to that of the poor lands of East Texas, that had become poor and unfruitful until some one drilled deep enough to uncock the hidden treasures of oil that made them fabulously rich. "We have depths of hidden sources of power as men of God if we only drill down and tap their reservoirs... made available through service to one another as we come in contact with each other in our daily business and association. God's limitless power is within every man if he allows its force to become his greatest asset," Rev. Mr. Wright concluded.

UTILITIES MAN HURT.

DALHART, Jan. 28.—L. Bill Hyton former West Texas Utilities company district lighting advisor, with offices in Dalhart, was wounded seriously in action Jan. 13. He was last reported on duty with the Army Air Forces in England.

SINGING CONVENTION.

Don Rupe, president of the Eastland county Fifth Sunday Singers association, announces the convention will be held at the First Baptist church in Cisco, Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Singers are expected from communities all over the county, Mr. Rupe said.

BIG BOMBERS DROP HEAVY EXPLOSIVES BY DAY AND NIGHT; REDS NOW SUPERIOR IN AIR

A great Allied air offensive against the fortress of German-occupied Europe was under way today, and there were definite indications that the Axis had lost aerial supremacy which it has enjoyed for so long on the Russian front.

British and American bombers were taking turns at hammering military objectives in France, Germany and even Denmark. Generally speaking, the Americans were striking by day and the British by night.

Last night Britain's big bombers—Lancasters and Halifaxes—roared over the Rhineland and bombed the industrial heart of Germany. The fact that six British bombers were missing indicated that it was a raid in fairly heavy forces.

Dusseldorf was the chief RAF target. Hundreds of tons of high explosives were dropped in a 20-minute raid.

In the last 24 hours the battle line for the aerial attack on Germany and German-occupied territory has covered 1000 miles, from southwest France to northern Denmark.

The attack on France ranged as far south as Bordeaux, and in recent days there has been a concentrated assault on the submarine base at Lorient where the Germans are said to have built U-boat pens of steel and concrete 11 feet thick.

America's airmen, in action over Germany yesterday for the first time, reported that the defenses around the ports of Wilhelmshaven and Emden were surprisingly light.

British Mosquito planes made an attack on the Danish capital of Copenhagen where the Germans are supposed to be building Diesel engines for submarines.

Germany, reporting last night's raids by the Royal Air Force, said that "some damage and casualties" had resulted from the western Germany attack and said that three bombers had been shot down.

"Some damage was done to buildings and there were casualties among the civilian population, caused by high explosive and incendiary bombs," a Berlin broadcast said. "Two hospitals were set afire"—an indication that two or more important German war plants had been blasted.

German reports on yesterday's raids had followed the usual pattern. Of the heavy American raid on Wilhelmshaven and Emden, which cost only three planes, they said that damage was only insignificant aside from civilian buildings and that eight planes were downed at least. However, it called the Copenhagen raid, which did not involve any German naval bases, a terror raid. Berlin said one British plane was shot down.

Reliable sources reported that the U. S. Army Fortresses which raided Wilhelmshaven and the Liberators which raided Emden, two of the heaviest-defended areas of Germany, carried new and heavier armament in their noses, the only part the Germans had found vulnerable, which accounted for the amazingly light losses.

Only by a fluke did the American bombers miss the chance of an attack on a German fleet headed by a pocket battleship or heavy cruiser. The 25 ships in the formation were sighted steaming toward port, just after the last bomb had been dropped.

MOUNTAINOUS MEN.

Sometimes when a project is advanced for a better world, it is ridiculed on the ground that it is not practical, and that its sponsor is a mere dreamer.

It is worth while in this connection to recall the wise words of Minot J. Savage, one of New York's eloquent preachers around the turn of the century.

"Certain high mountains," he said, "catch the first rays of the morning's sun, and it is hours after that before the plains and valleys are light. So there are a few mountainous men, tall, intellectually and spiritually, who are like you and I who can see away over our heads. The divine wisdom smites them first; they look away down the future; they see things which are not visible to us. So we call them seers. Their vision is not scientific proof, but the experience of the world has justified our trust in them so many times that I find it easy to believe in them."

THE BIG FOUR.

One of the best bits of news lately is that the United Nations are really uniting — getting together and preparing to function effectively as one team on all the world's fighting fronts. Until now, in spite of victories, the war has seemed to be at loose ends, with Britain, Russia, the United States and China all too much engaged in following separate courses.

As outlined in a recent London dispatch, the plan covers partitioning these four points: Elimination of all possible conflicts of authority, especially the mess that seems to have developed in North Africa; consolidation of British and American commands to make a more powerful, world-wide fighting front; a big offensive against the enemy submarines, which threaten to become the greatest obstacle to victory; and a greater effort to provide all of the United Nations with all the weapons and materials they need for victory.

When this is done, the Big Four and their lesser allies will all know where they are going, and will really be on their way.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

The Russian advance indicates that the Russians do not feel uneasy about their rear, along the Japanese border. At one time it was said that the Japs had promised Hitler to attack the Russians in Siberia as soon as the Nazi armies reached the Volga. The Nazis did reach the Volga at Stalingrad, and still the Japs did not attack. And if their aggression was based on expectation of further German gains, there appears now less reason than ever to look for Japanese activity.

For the next month or so, weather conditions will not be favorable to much warfare in Siberia. But even apart from that, there is one cogent reason for the Japanese keeping quiet; they have enough on their hands already.

WAR WORK.

The attitude of organized labor regarding war-time working hours seems to be limbering up a little. Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the United Automobile Workers, proposes a working plan of 48 hours a week in war plants. He says that there must be a substantial rise in war production this year, and it "must come from the maximum utilization of labor through full and complete employment, and through the building of high labor morale."

That is fine as far as it goes. But there is one factor in the proposal which, as published, is not clear. Mr. Reuther's statement calls for regulations providing full employment for 40 hours a week and then, after 60 days, a lengthening of the work-week to 48 hours, "with pay for overtime." It is not evident whether the overtime pay starts at 40 or 48 hours. At any rate there is some progress in the American labor situation, although it seems slow and sometimes disheartening, when compared with the effort put forth by war labor in the other Allied Nations. Hours here are very short and pay is conceded, proportionately, it will be conceded, is high, too, for the number of hours worked. But there is a general feeling outside of the organized labor field that production could and should be speeded up and hours increased without undue raising of the already high pay rates.

It is our personal opinion that the healthy man who objects to working eight hours a day at straight pay is not a good American.

Edie Fynn's soul may be pure as the driven snow, and Dottie Thompson intimates that some Republican ambassadors she has met have been slightly shopworn, but the average American would like to see all his nation's diplomatic representatives, by which ever party appointed, to be like Caesar's wife, safely above suspicion.

OTHER EDITORS

Political Dupes.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The "triches" of the Ukraine have been the bait which two generations of Germany's war lords have dangled before the people. In the first World War the fertility of the Ostland was to enrich the people for their war sacrifices. In this war from the time Hitler's armies first set foot on Russian soil in June, 1941 the Nazi propagandists have set mouths to watering in the Reich with their tempting pictures of ripe grains, fat livestock, sugar beets and other foodstuffs denied at home.

Last spring the promises were more glowing than ever. The Nazi armies were on the move eastward, the oil fields would fall shortly and behind the front lines crops would flourish. In May the Nazi radio broadcast the good news that "all Ukrainian fields have been planted."

Two months later, however, Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi Commissioner of the occupied area, was forced to scale down his estimates to 85 per cent of transcripts of the broadcast made public last week by the Office of War Information. By August, Berlin began expounding whatever food would be produced in the Ukraine would be needed by the army, but the people at home would benefit indirectly.

The cozy picture of a Germany made rich by the resources of the Ukraine was fading rapidly. Before the year was out the Russians struck back and now Hitler's armies are fighting desperately to prevent being ousted entirely from the Ostland and its "triches." The propaganda which was to bolster the German war effort was boomeranged in Herr Goebbels' face, and again the German people have seen their Fuehrer fail to keep his promise. It is another straw added to the disillusionment which will ultimately help defeat the Axis from within.

LONG BRANCH

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Marsh regretted to learn of the loss of their home by fire early Monday morning. Sparks from a faulty flue set fire to the roof of the dwelling which had been erected on what is now known as the Jennings estate, near the turn of the century. The cured meat from the smoke house was saved, but that out-building, as well as the lumber in the cellar, was licked up by the intense flames. Besides nearly all of the clothing, furniture and personal articles including two new pairs of spectacles, the Marsh family lost their books and treasured collections of a life time. The family of five were all at home except Miss Essie Lou, who is employed in Brownwood. Neal

KNITTERS ARE NEEDED TO MAKE GARMENTS.

Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Red Cross co-chairman of Eastland county, sent to Eastland Wednesday and delivered 95 women's nightgowns to the county headquarters. Mrs. Wallace wishes to thank all who helped in making the garments.

While there she accepted a quota of wool thread for the local Red Cross unit. All who will help with the knitting are requested to see Mrs. L. A. Warren at the work room, Friday, for thread. The room will be open from 2 to 3 p. m. Garments are needed by the men in uniform and must be delivered by February 25, said Mrs. Wallace.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Many sufferers believe nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 1 pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or sooty passages with a smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

where the meal was served family style. Miss Fields was the recipient of a number of pretty gifts.

After dinner games of bridge entertained the guests during the evening.

The guest list included Miss Marie Fields, Miss Evelyn Beanie,

Mrs. Ira Mae Taylor and an out of town visitor, Mrs. Huelker of Galveston, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes.

ARMY AND NAVY BOTH SEEK USE A. AND M.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Texas A. & M. College is held in such high esteem as a military training institution, says Representative Kilday of Texas, that several branches of the Army are competing for use of part of the school's facilities. In addition, the Navy Department also would like to obtain use of part of the physical equipment and teaching staff at College Station, Kilday added.

When the Germans "shorten their line" they mean the line between them and Berlin.

This is a FAMILY

...THE GRAVEST Responsibility IN THE WORLD!

Yes, a family is the gravest responsibility in the world . . . but it is also the greatest honor, the greatest opportunity! How many parents realize this? How many are aware that in their hands, lies the future of the world? This is a good time to reflect on that subject, a good time to realize the full meaning of parental authority and guidance.

It's a well known fact that the average person's most enduring qualities and habits are those instilled during his formative years, the years of parental control. It is little realized, however, that the principles of ethics, morality and honor, the directional education and guidance that only parents can give to their children determines the shape of the world to come, the world where the children of today do the governing, the social work, run the factories, stores and mines.

The world's shortcomings cannot be overcome in a day, or a year or ten years. It will take time. The job can be done, though, if enough people really want to do it. Wars can be eliminated from the face of the earth—so can poverty, misery and discontent. Clear thinking, clear teaching, clear guidance to a clear objective can do it. So, let's each of us dedicate ourselves to this idea and ideal—better parents mean better children, better children hold the promise of a better world.

Let's keep our family life intact by helping in every way possible to win victory in this war. BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS.
