OIL

Although 29,824 wells were drilled for oil and gas in the United States during 1942, and demand for crude oil in 1943 probably will be from five to seven per cent higher than was the case last year, there will be a reduction in the number of wells to be drilled this year, the Oil Weekly of Houston will say in its annual Yearbook. A forecast issue to be issued Monday. A total of 18,574 wells will be drilled in 1943, including 2,299 exploratory wells, a forecast by the publication of 1,666 oil wells were drilled in 1942.

Steel shortage, low crude oil prices, and government restrictions on well spacing and the consequent decline in the publication of information from a large number of oil companies are expected to reduce their drilling by more than 50 per cent if materials and price situation were eased. The publication says editorially that elimination of the depletion allowance and cost allowance on oil company income tax returns would reduce the overall number of wells to be drilled and would gradually cut the number of wildcat wells.

Texas, according to Oil Weekly, drilled 3,075 wells last year and will drill 3,994, according to the forecast of which 908 wells will be wildcats.

This would be a drop of 18 per cent for 1943. West Texas, as a matter of fact, drilled 930 wells, the publication believes, of which 120 would be wildcats. Central West Texas would drill 300 wells.

The Oil Weekly says the industry will produce the amount of oil needed during 1943, even with reduced drilling, but points out that crude oil reserves during the year showed a substantial drop.

It is estimated that 263,000,000 barrels of oil were consumed in 1942, and that a program of moderately lessened drilling might have disastrous consequences in years to come.

The nation produced 1,385,347,000 barrels of oil in 1942, that being approximately the amount forecast by Oil Weekly a year ago. Highest period of increase in 1942 will be in the fourth quarter, the publication says.

The nation's bill for pumping equipment, necessary to maintain the rate of production desired, will be in excess of $35,000,000. The oil industry will drill in excess of 57,000,000 feet of hole during the present year and the drilling bill will run upwards of a quarter of a billion dollars, exclusive of land or lease rentals or bonuses, the paper will say. Added to this will be the heavy expenditures for geophysical exploration which is now at an all-time peak.

Refining and natural gasoline plant equipment and construction expenditures, including materials used in operating, but not including crude oil, will run between $457,000,000 and $512,000,000 during 1943, Petroleum Refiner, sister publication to Oil Weekly, has forecast. This will include expenditures during the year for aviation gasoline plants and plants to produce synthetic rubber ingredients which will be processed by the rubber companies.

REDS GIVE NAZIS NO REST

MOSCOW, Jan. 29.—Picked Russian units, starting to turn the Voronezh front into a second great man trap, have captured 6,000 men, including three generals, and killed 3,000 within a few hours, a high command communique announced today.

Surrounding the enemy force, one of many threatened with disaster on the Voronezh front midway between Moscow and Rostov, tank formations, troops of the famous Guards Regiments, and cavalrymen drove in to the attack.

The noon communique said the entire Axis force of 9,000 men was liquidated. One Russian unit, the noon communique said, had liberated 33 inhabited localities, villages and district centers, within two days in an advance westward toward Kursk, on the Khar'kov-Moscow railroad from Voronezh.

This unit took more than 300 prisoners and captured a large quantity of war spoils. The grim work of cleaning out the first gigantic Russian man trap, at Stalingrad, continued relentlessly and it was indicated that there could hardly be more than 5,000 men remaining of the 220,000 encircled and smashed there.

(The Moscow radio, heard in London, said German Lieut. Gen. Repke had surrendered at Stalingrad with all that remained of the entire German 29th Division. (Ilya Ehrenburg, famous Russian war correspondent, wrote in a special dispatch to the London News Chronicle that Gen. Friedrich von Paulus, German commander-in-chief at Stalingrad, was said by German prisoners to have fled, turning his command over to one Lieut. Gen. Hibner, who in turn also deserted his men and fled by airplane.

"Our troops on the Don front continued to annihilate separate detachments of the enemy, who singly and in small groups continue to lay down their arms and surrender," the noon communique said of the Stalingrad situation. A third potential man-trap, which threatened the entire 185,000 Axis troops below Rostov, was developing.

Yesterday's gains brought the Russians within seven miles of Kropotkin, southernmost of three railroad junctions through which the Axis troops might hope to escape, and the city was almost encircled.

A second powerful Russian army was within 18 miles of Tikhoretsk, 35 miles north-northwest of Kropotkin, the second junction point for escape.

700 MINISTERS FD. ENJOYING ATTENDED DAL-LAS LECTURES HIS PRECEDENT BREAKING TRIP

More than 700 ministers from a dozen states west of the Mississippi were in attendance at the Fonden Lectures and Ministers' Week program at Southern Methodist University this week, says Rev. Leslie Seymour, who returned from the meeting Thursday night with Rev. W. H. Cole, Cisco district superintendent of the Methodist church.

Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, president of Union Theological Seminary in New York City, spoke twice daily on the general subject, "Preaching in Wartime," a theme of vital concern to pastors and congregations as evidenced by the intense interest in the messages of the speaker, said Mr. Seymour.

Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church in New York, gave a series of addresses on the subject, "Christianity's Fourth Front." "The Minister and His Bible" was the theme of the lectures delivered by Dr. Costen J. Harrell, pastor of West End Methodist church, Nashville.

In spite of the cold weather and the restrictions on travel, the attendance was better than average for these seminars, which have come to be an established institution at S. M. U. during the last ten years.

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—The University of Texas will seek a state appropriation approximately $200,000 smaller for each year of the next biennium than for the last two years, President Homer P. BOMBERS HIT AXIS HARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Jan. 29.—The heaviest American bomber formation ever assembled in North Africa made a devastating, four-wave attack on the Axis base of Sfax yesterday, it was announced here today.

Great fires were started in the harbor and railroad yards of the Tunisian port in what appeared to be a major peril attack against Axis bases preparatory to the big land push to drive the German-Italian forces into the sea. Flying Fortresses, B-25s and B-26s, escorted by Lockheed Lightnings, struck at Sfax and for a half hour—from 2:30 to 3 p. m.—turned the city into an inferno.

(The Italian high command communique reported today that tremendous damage was done at Sfax and said that the number of persons killed and wounded had not yet been reported.)

(The Italian high command communique reported today that tremendous damage was done at Sfax and said that the number of persons killed and wounded had not yet been reported.)

Six enemy planes were shot down attempting the defense of Sfax, and there were indications that the U. S. 12th Air Force, after weeks of bad weather that hampered operations, finally had firm control of the Tunisian skies.

The first wave of American planes consisted of the Flying Fortresses which went to work on the docks used by the Axis to land supplies and reinforcements for Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim's Tunisian army. The waterfront was heavily damaged and big fires sprang up.

The next two waves consisted of B-25s—Billy Mitchell bombers—which attacked the railroad yards and the barracks at a nearby military camp. The Mitchells gave a remarkable demonstration of American precision bombing—making hits at regular 30-foot intervals along the railroad yards.

The last wave consisted of B-26 Marauders which flew over the harbor area and made direct hits on warehouses that probably were crammed with Axis supplies. Near misses were scored on small ships in the harbor.

The Axis retaliated last night with an air raid on the Algiers area—the second in three nights—and three enemy bombers were shot down. There was damage and casualties in the city of Algiers the communique said.

AXIS SINKS 4 MERCHANTMEN; 25 MEN LOST

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29.—Four U. S. merchant ships in convoy were sunk with the apparent loss of 33 crewmen in the largest single loss of Allied merchant shipping in the Western Atlantic yet to be announced by the navy.

An Axis wolfpack, striking at midnight off the northern coast of South America early this month, torpedoes the ships in quick succession.

Twenty-five of the men are known to have died. They were aboard a small merchantman which was first to fall prey to the undersea raiders.

CO. QUOTA OVERSUBSCRIBED BY $13,793.95, SAYS CYRUS B. FROST; THANKS EVERYBODY

Eastland, Texas, January 29, 1943. Cisco Daily Press,

I am sure that the people of Eastland county will be glad to know that the county oversubscribed the War Bonds and Stamps quota allotted for the calendar year 1942 to our county. We did not have the same quota for each month and it was not until September 1, 1942, that a mutual agreement was reached between the State Administrator and your county chairman as to what would be a fair monthly quota for Eastland county.

At that time it was agreed that a fair quota was $50,400.

On this basis the total annual quota would have been $604,800.00.

However, quotas that had been assigned prior to September 1, 1942, could not be changed, since they had already gone into the permanent records of the state administrator and the United States treasurer's books.

These quotas as permanently recorded are as follows:

January	$110,216
February	110,216
March	110,216
April	110,216
May	62,800
June	61,900
July	99,200
August	88,400
September	50,400
October	50,400
November	50,400
December	50,400

making a total of $1,005,564 and our total sales for these twelve months were $1,019,357.95, thus giving us an oversubscription of $13,793.95.

So it can be seen from an analysis of the figures in this paragraph that Eastland county almost doubled the fair quota that she should have had for the calendar year 1942.

These results were obtained as a result of the combined efforts of the city and community committees, various service clubs, county agent's office, home demonstration office, various AAA club committees, women's clubs and organizations, the Eastland county newspapers and the Eastland county citizenship as a whole.

Too much praise can not be extended to all these for a necessary and patriotic duty well performed. We all have a right to be justly proud of this accomplishment by our civilians for the calendar year 1942.

However, we must not forget that while we as civilians are doing our duty on the home front, that our Eastland county boys also were doing their part in every part of the world.

Many of them have already made the supreme sacrifice. When we contemplate the great contributions that they are making and will continue to make to bring about a restoration of freedom and liberty to all peoples everywhere, we civilians after all recognize that whatever efforts we may put forward here at home living our normal lives, can represent but the least sacrifice on our part.

Our quota for January, 1943, is $50,400 and we hope to maintain approximately such quota for the eleven remaining months of the calendar year 1943.

We want to oversubscribe each of these quotas.

Let us all become quota minded!

Should one be asked, every man, woman and child in Eastland county should be able to promptly tell our monthly quota to the inquirer.

As your county chairman, I want to again thank all the citizens of this county for your noble efforts for the year 1942 and request of you your continued loyalty and labors for united effort to oversubscribe our quota for the calendar year 1943.

Very kindly yours,
CYRUS B. FROST,
Eastland County Chairman.

Canada's Tanks Roll Off Production Line And Into Battle

Part of the production line in the Ram tank factory, second largest arsenal for tank production in the world. Heavily armed with machine guns and cannon, the Ram is powered with a Wright Whirlwind engine, a versatile war machine.

ONE of the first of the United Nations to take up arms against Axis aggression, Canada, after three years of war, finds her industries fully mobilized, peak production being expected early in 1943. Although her peace-time industrial facilities are small compared to the United States, the Dominion nevertheless has become one of the main weapon-producing countries on the side of democracy. Canada constitutes the main source of supply of motorized equipment for the British Empire. It has turned out thousands of fighting vehicles every week and has delivered more than 300,000 motorized units since the start of the war. In addition to a large output of Bren gun carriers, in service in every theatre of war, Canada is producing two types of tanks. One is the British Valentine, a rugged infantry tank which has been sent to Russia in large numbers. It is produced largely to new British and American designs for cruiser and light tanks. The other is the Ram, a cruiser tank designed by Canada's famed tank man, Major General F. F. Worthington. A crack medium tank, Canada's Ram is said to have contributed largely to new British and American designs for cruiser and light tanks. What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Tracer bullets, generally used in night combat, enable the gun operator to note the accuracy of fire. True course of the bullet may be followed to the target. This is important in air combat, especially.

Cost of these bullets, of course, varies with the caliber, but 1,000 rounds of .50-caliber machine gun tracer bullets cost in the neighborhood of $250. Your purchase of War Bonds and War Stamps will help pay for the millions of rounds of ammunition needed for tracer bullet-fire. Invest AT LEAST TEN PERCENT of income in War Bonds every payday. Buy them from your bank, post-office, radio station, and other outlets.

The skirt has law-abiding fullness for walking freedom. Is smart combined with other blouses.

Use Leftover Cake in "Trifle"

A TRIFLE is a fancy dessert—but it's inexpensive to make, requires only half a cup of sugar and uses up leftover cake in an appetizing manner. The custard for Trifle depends for its delicious flavor upon bottled extracts. Vanilla and almond extract used together, as suggested, provide an unusual and delightful flavor.

To serve 5 to 6 with Trifle: Mix 5 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-2 cup sugar and 1-8 teaspoon salt in top of double boiler. Slowly stir in 3 cups milk. Place over boiling water and stir constantly until thick. Cover and cook for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Then stir a little of hot mixture into slightly beaten yolks of 2 eggs, and stir eggs into hot mixture. Cook, stirring constantly for two minutes. Cool to lukewarm. Fold in 1-2 teaspoon vanilla and 1-4 teaspoon almond extract and the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Line dessert bowl or individual dessert glasses with leftover cake cut in strips. Pour sufficient fruit juice, such as grape, over cake to moisten. Then pour in cooked custard and decorate with almonds and gumdrops. Chill before serving.

COOPERATION
The Key to Successful Happy Living

With the momentous announcement of the meeting between President F. D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill in the northern coast town of Africa, much more emphasis is placed upon the need for cooperation—cooperation among nations down to the cooperation needed to make any community a thrifty, happy place to live and rear one's family—a place to do business, because it is a pleasure to do business with one's close friends.

Looking at the pictures heading this item, one gets at a glance the idea of how people of the United States are cooperating to carry on in this critical time of the world when the flower of our young manhood is busy fighting the enemy of the peace of the nations.

One sees how important it is to divide the work of the country or community. The young soldier at the front, the businessman at his desk, the machinist at his lathe, the farmer providing the food for the world, and the young woman at home processing the surplus food for future use.

In building a community there must be that close shoulder to shoulder link—each person doing his job as best he may, and not hindering the other person in his particular line of work.

To keep this feeling of close connection between all people of a sector of country, it is necessary to keep each informed of the activities of others. They must share the sorrows and joys of one another.

The biggest factor in keeping a community geared to the greatest efficiency of cooperation is the newspaper—that instrument that distributes the news that the people themselves make—their every day living, deaths, births, marriages and visitations with each other.

Send your local newspaper to a friend or relative—lengthen the chain that binds Your Family to Others.
