GREAT KRUPP ARMS WORKS WIPED OUT

Lobo Football Banquet Fine Success; Holton's Address a Masterpiece

Featuring a patriotic program with Capt. Col. Barry Holton of the naval aviation unit at Dallas as the principal speaker, and a band of entertainers from Camp Bowie, Cross Lions and Rotarians entertained the coaches and members of the Lobo football team at a banquet at Hotel Laguna Friday night, where about 90 men enjoyed themselves in a fellowship that welded the community into a more cooperative spirit and a greater enthusiasm for doing their bit in prosecuting the war effort locally.

C. L. Stamey, principal of the high school, presided as toastmaster, while presidents of the Rotary and Lions clubs, Ernest Hittson and Norman C. Huston, seated at the guest table with the speaker, Colonel Holton, and Dr. Gary L. Smith, who pronounced the invocation following several patriotic songs.

The names were decorated with U.S. flags and footballs. Capt. Col. Monroe Sweeney and Bill Felt were recognized in their talks with Mr. Sweeney introducing the players present.

Entertainers from Camp Bowie were Det. "Algo" Lavina, rhythm tap dancer from Boston, Mass., and Dr. Albert Richards, accordion player from Chicago. The performance of these men brought repeated applause and they were cheered again and again.

The talk by Colonel Holton was pronounced by many as one of the best they had ever heard, divided between a talk to the team and observations on the outlook of the war, yet combining the two, because, as he emphasized, the war is as long and terrible as being as he thought, six or eight years, with all of us into it.

The speaker paid a tribute to the late Woodson Chapman, former coach of the Lobos, for whom Holton had officiated on different occasions.

Speaking directly to the football team, he said a boy who was able to play was "just lucky." Stay in school as long as you can and get all the education you can, because there will come a time, perhaps, when we will not have so much chance to study," the speaker stated.

Speaking of the education sponsored by world nations, Holton declared that that of ancient China was one of exclusion, which brought its decay from its ancient glory. Ancient Sparta educated its youth in endurance of physical and in building the body to the exclusion of all else. It fell. Then Athens rose through its development of mentality—the arts and sciences—and overcame all its ancient enemies until the military spirit of Rome came to sway the world, which in turn was destroyed by the ruthless Huns who came down out of the German forests and brought the dark ages which enveloped the world for a thousand years, destroying all of the culture of the world that had been developed by peoples of the north in their slow climb up the scale from primitive savagery.

Then he reviewed briefly the discovery of America as a part of the urge to learn more about themselves and what might live beyond the mighty ocean which seemed to hem in those hardy souls of Europe.

"Today we are throwing our boys into the army to face the Germans and Japs who have been taught from childhood to hate and fight. Ours has been a different kind of education and we are not trained to meet such foes. We must get that training and we are getting it rapidly," the speaker said.

"We have sadly neglected physical education, and must now turn to it and work feverishly at the job to catch up with time that we have wasted."

Speaking of the boys who pass through his hands in their examinations for the naval air force, the colonel said that only 100 out of 1,000 were able to make it on account of lack of physical fitness.

tion of physical fitness which is being done as fast as rigid rules can do it, there are traits of mind that must be instilled, also. We must learn to hate and fight. We must face brutality until we have become brutal to our enemies. We must learn to kill with a zeal that will become an all-absorbing mania with us, else we can never cope with the enemy we are facing.

Revealing the enemies which we are facing, he said we should not minimize their toughness. They are brave—not cowards—they have been trained to fight and love it, they have been trained to fight without quarter to their enemies. They kill and love it. Their mania to kill their enemies and give their lives if necessary has reached the stage of fanaticism—the picture which portrays the Jap or German as a coward is merely taking to please the audience. They do not scare easily—in fact, not at all. The expectation of their crumbling before an army is more wasteful, thinking the speaker said.

Continuing his talk about the ferocity and length of the war, the speaker said that it would become increasingly vicious as it went on. We will all be drawn into it—all of us, including our women. Women will be actually fighting as well as carrying on as helpers at home. It will be vicious, cruel and bloody.

We must forget our gentle teachings for awhile. We must train as fast as possible to become a fighting machine, because we are facing foes who have been training their soldiers in body and mind all during their lives. We are starting late. We must work overtime to catch up, and until we do, we will suffer many surprises. "What can we do?" the speaker asked. Then he told of many things we can do, and almost every day the newspapers, and the echo by the radio, tells us what we can do to help the cause.

"But we will win, so why wait so long to begin your part of the fight?" Colonel Holton said. "Because we must build fighting men and women with the will to fight to the last step. That will win," he concluded.

SALES AT AUCTION BARN TOTALED $9,000

A large crowd attended the reopening of the Cisco Livestock Exchange auction barns Friday afternoon at their new location on the Lake Cisco road where they have leased several acres of land from the city.

Despite the rain, the first to have fallen in this locality in more than a month, the response was good. Sales mounted to about $9,000, including mostly cattle, hogs and goats.

Prices were good, too. Some calves bringing $15 per cwt. One cow, sold by Huestis & Coats to J. A. Trigg, brought $143.40. Hogs brought top prices.

The barns are owned by Joe Coats, J. O. Taylor and Paul Booth. They state they were well satisfied with the response Friday and appreciate the cooperation of their friends.

ROOSEVELT AND STALIN.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Roosevelt will yet confer with Premier Stalin—some where. Odds seem to be against Roosevelt going to Moscow, or Stalin coming to Moscow, but the stakes are too high to overlook any bets leading to improved understanding. Admiral Standley, our ambassador to Russia, will come home soon. He was not as blunt as Stalin, nor any more so than Soviet Ambassador Maisky in London. But criticism in the USSR is taboo. Russians who criticize are purged; foreigners eventually get their passports.

M'LESTER KILLED INSTANTLY

W. E. (Bill) McLester, 30, who resided at 401 W. Tenth street, Cisco, was instantly killed shortly before noon Saturday when the electric current from an REA line at Grandbury passed through his body.

McLester was in the employ of the Oilbelt Advertising Service, which is owned by J. C. McAfee of Ft. Worth, formerly of Cisco. At the time of the accident he had placed a ladder equipped with steel hooks over the top of a billboard and the hooks contacted the electric line, bringing instant death to the unfortunate young man.

Mrs. McLester, the wife, was informed by telephone of the tragic affair and later instructed the Thomas funeral home to bring the body to Cisco. The funeral will be held sometime Monday.

The family consists of the wife and three small children—Venetia Fay, 4; Billie Lynn, 2; Virginia Belle, four months. Deceased is also survived by his father, George McLester, Rising Star; his mother, Mrs. Henry Leil, Cole, Okla., and five sisters and two brothers.

Mr. McLester, who had lived in Cisco at intervals for several years, was until recently employed in Brownwood, returning here to work for Mr. McAfee about three weeks ago. He was a member of the Pentecostal church and popular with all who knew him. His wife was formerly Miss Minnie Belle Hagaman, to whom he was married in 1934.

SUBLETT FUNERAL, BURIAL HELD SATURDAY

The funeral of Elliott (Doc) Sublett, whose death at Ranger Friday morning was carried in the Friday Press of that afternoon, was held Saturday afternoon at the Thomas funeral home, Cisco, burial following at a Dothan cemetery. Rev. L. C. Anderson conducted the funeral services.

Mr. Sublett was born at Sipe Springs, Tex., February 14, 1878, and had been a resident of the Dothan area for more than fifty years.

He is survived by his wife and six sons, as follows: L. E., Rising Star; J. E., Cisco; Joe B., in the army; W. H. (reported missing) and Lowell, serving with the Marine; Russell, Dothan.

FIRST PAYMENT.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A check for $42,000,000 as the first quarter payment of a corporation's income tax, the largest individual payment ever received in the second district office, was accepted Friday by Collector William J. Pedrick. The district has jurisdiction over the richest income tax territory in the world—the area south of Twenty-Third street in Manhattan, which includes Wall Street district. Pedrick said he could not disclose the identity of the payer.

VITAMINS—Chicago Allied Florists' Association has agreed to clear out zinnias, primroses and other plants from greenhouses and raise millions of seeding tomatoes and similar vegetables for Victory gardens. Above, workers tend seedbeds.

THE CISCO KID

Above is pictured Capt. Theron Graves and his fighter plane, "The Cisco Kid." The young man, 26 years of age and a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Graves of this city, has been with the 12th fighter squadron since receiving his wings in November, 1941.

He left the states for foreign service January 31, 1942, and has been stationed at various bases in the Pacific and participated in many scraps with the Japs since that time. Born at Anson, Tex., Graves has been a resident of Cisco since he was 12 years old and is a graduate of Cisco high school.

HEAD OF GREAT FINANCIAL DYNASTY IS DEAD

BOCA GRANDE, Fla., March 13.—John Pierpont Morgan, called "the younger" though 75 years old, international financier, head of a famous financial dynasty, and one of the world's wealthiest men, died at 3:15 a. m. today. The president of J. P. Morgan and Co., Inc., a name prominent in the financing of empires through the life-times of two John Pierpont Morgans and creator of such industrial giants as United States Steel Corp., succumbed to a heart ailment aggravated by a cerebral stroke in a small cottage on the grounds of the exclusive Gasperilla Inn where he had been ill since Feb. 25.

STROKE KILLED MRS. HURD

Mrs. W. E. Hurd, well known resident of Cisco, who had passed her 80th birthday, died instantly from a heart stroke in the office of Dr. G. M. Stephenson at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Hurd walked into the doctor's office a few minutes before her death and asked for a physical checkup, remarking that she was not feeling well. Dr. Stephenson, who had two other patients—Mr. and Mrs. Maroon Cole of Moran—could not see her at the time, so Mrs. Hurd said she would come back Monday.

On entering she had removed her hat and hairnet and sat down in the waiting room to replace them. Suddenly she placed her left hand over her heart and then slumped from the davenport on which she was seated to the floor. She was dead when the physician answered the call of Mr. and Mrs. Cole, who were seated nearby.

Coroner Will Brown, who viewed the body, called an undertaker to take charge and her son, H. E. Hurd of Abilene, was immediately notified.

Mrs. Hurd had resided at 810 W. Twelfth street since 1920, when she and her husband came here from Haskell. Mr. Hurd was in the produce business here for several years preceding his death a few years ago. Both were members of the First Methodist church.

Deceased is survived by three sons and a daughter—W. E., Abilene; Cecil and Wordner, El Paso; Mrs. Charles Coffee, Tahoka. There are also two grandsons, Wendell and Wayne Coffee.

The body is resting at the Thomas funeral home pending the arrival of the children and final funeral arrangements.

ALLIED PUSH NEAR AT HAND

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, March 13.—The big Allied push in Tunisia appeared imminent today as General Dwight H. Eisenhower, of Texas, supreme commander in the North African theater, made public an order of the day in which he told his troops that they would drive the Germans and Italians "to destruction."

MAIN ARSENAL FOR HITLER'S ARMIES GIVEN DEATH BLOW; 20 BRITISH PLANES MISSING

LONDON, March 13.—Hundreds of Britain's biggest bombers all but completed the destruction of Essen and its great Krupp Arms Works last night with an estimated 3000 tons of bombs in what was perhaps the heaviest air attack in history.

The air ministry announced that the attack was "very heavy and concentrated" and preliminary reports indicated that the weight of bombs dropped may have equalled, if not exceeded the 3000 tons unloaded during each of last year's 1000-plane raids on Cologne, Essen and Bremen.

Twenty-three bombers were lost in last night's attack—an indication that the raiding force numbered close to 500—and Allied observers said the loss could be considered "light" in view of the weight of the attack.

British commentators recently pointed out that 500 of Britain's present four-engined bombers could carry a weight of bombs equal to that of one of last summer's 1000-plane forces, which were composed in large part of two-engined aircraft.

"Reports indicate that the Krupp plant received serious damage," a British announcement said.

"The RAF encountered noticeable stronger defenses, including intense, accurate flak and numerous searchlights, but pressed home the attack with the greatest determination."

The assault came exactly one week after another force of British bombers had devastated 450 acres of Essen in a raid officially described as the "most concentrated air attack of the war."

Official estimates disclosed that 1500 tons of demolition and fire bombs were cascaded on Essen last week, including nearly 100 tons on the Krupp plant alone. Thirteen of the plant's main buildings were wrecked.

Last night's raid was the 53rd of the war and the fourth this year on Essen, which is in the heart of Germany's Ruhr Valley, the main arsenal for Hitler's armies.

The announcement that Essen's defenses were noticeably stronger last night indicated that the Germans had rushed new batteries of anti-aircraft guns and searchlights to the battered city, whose destruction is exceeded only by that of Cologne.

German planes attempted another series of feeble retaliation raids on England last night, dropping high explosives and fire bombs at scattered points. One bomb wrecked a hotel in a mining village, trapped a number of persons, and nine persons were killed in an adjacent village.

About 25 German planes approached Britain during the night, but fewer than half of them penetrated the terrific coastal anti-aircraft barrage.

EDEN AND F. D. CONFER. WASHINGTON, March 13.—Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who last year negotiated a 20-year alliance between his country and Soviet Russia, began with President Roosevelt Saturday a series of historic conferences designed to clear the way for meetings between all the United Nations on problems arising out of the war. Eden arrived from London Friday by plane.

SAFETY, NOT SADISM.

Some people talk lightly about punishment to be dealt out to guilty leaders of the Axis. They put Hitler in a cage for the world to laugh at—'they'! Year Tom with torture before hanging him. This is dangerous talk.

There is no doubt that these criminals deserve punishment now that it will be the duty of the United Nations to see to it that they can never make trouble again. But whatever is done must be done in a decent and dignified manner. Shooting against the wall after trial, yes, perhaps. That would be quick and clean. Or decent life imprisonment, like that of Napoleon.

But there are two points here involved. One is that killing or imprisoning a few individuals will not end the trouble. Its roots are deep and widespread. Economic conditions must be changed, old ideas replaced with newer ones before the world can be safe. The other point is that no matter how wicked individuals may have been, we must not allow ourselves to descend to their level. Ours is a civilization which does not permit the idea of torture or any form of sadism. We must hold ourselves to our high standards, no matter how great the temptation to let down any bars.

SNEAKING AND GRABBING.

The way many Americans have behaved with regard to the rationing of meat, liquor and other things is unsportsmanlike, ungracious and shameful.

Local authorities and the federal government can, and do, step in to swing a club and demand a fair deal. Newspapers and radio broadcasters not only urge unbecomingly to stop grabbing and explain that there is enough for everybody if all will play fairly and accept what slight privation is coming to them. But there is still far too much sneaking, bluffing, illicit smuggling and patronage of the same, and so on, with regard to food, drink, clothing and other things. This poor sportsmanship, this indecent effort to take advantage and keep things from other people who have just as good a right to them, must seem strange to rationing men who are taking everything and entering the ration book. It must seem shameful also to our foreign allies, the Russians, British and Chinese for instance, who have borne so much and been so decent about it.

HISTORIC BONES.

In China both historians and everyday folk collect dragon bones. The average man thinks these bones (which, of course never belonged to dragons, but to cattle of many centuries ago) when pounded into powder, possess medical properties good for what ails you. This historian, however, finds in them pieces of records of an unknown past. Prof. H. G. Creel of the University of Chicago has lately been making the findings along that line.

On such bones the Chinese man of 3,500 years ago wrote questions on which he wanted advice from the gods. The cracks which appeared when the bones were heated were supposed to show the gods' replies. To Prof. Creel and his colleagues the questions are the important thing. When a ruler asked, "Shall I send another army of 5,000 men against the prince of Chou?" it is safe to say that such an army had already been sent and was probably defeated. Many thousands of such informing bones have been found, and have told the world that China had an important civilization 3,500 years ago.

Now the war has put a stop to Prof. Creel's labors. All who are curious to know what occurred in ages past will hope that in the next year or two all these historic bones will not be ground to powder by seekers for medicine.

SUPERIOR RACE.

The Germans are not alone in believing they are superior, destined to govern the world. The Japanese think so, too. Their belief has recently been summarized in a new book, a kind of equivalent to Hitler's "Mein Kampf," put forth by Chikao Fujisawa, professor of political science in the Imperial University of Kyushu.

Man originated in Japan, says Fujisawa. The first man was a descendant of the Sun-Goddess, and was Japanese. The standard man today is Japanese. All other races are inferior variations. Eventually the world must be reduced to one family, under Japanese headship.

These fanatical notions are important because the Japanese seem to take them seriously, and to act on them. What a lot of explaining it will take when this so-called superior race is thoroughly defeated by the outer barbarians who live in the United States!

OPEN FORUM

Let's Don't Forget. To the Citizens, Property Owners and Taxpayers of Cisco.

In 1940 Cisco had a bonded indebtedness of approximately $1,600,000.00. On or about 1940, the people of Cisco began, so to speak, to graft certain very busy men to become the commissioners and the guiding force to administrate and carry on the affairs of your city with a promise by the business men of Cisco that they would continue such procedure until they had filled the city commission with men of foresight, and vision, business ability, and integrity to complete a corps that would work with them. This was done by this business group.

In 1941 they drafted, so to speak, and elected G. P. Mitcham as mayor, to head this group of commissioners. Through his foresight and trading ability, and the cooperation of a majority of the commissioners, a great deal has been accomplished. I offer to you, for your consideration, what I believe to be one of the most outstanding accomplishments for the benefit of the people of Cisco that has happened to our city in the last 50 years.

Mayor Mitcham and a majority of the commissioners began the negotiations with the bondholders of the city of Cisco of the reworking of the city's bonded indebtedness. This was carried out and completed in 1942 whereby the bonded indebtedness of Cisco of this date could not exceed $726,325.00, providing every bond of the earlier issues should appear for registration. There is a great deal of these bonds at present that have not appeared for registration, and your mayor and commissioners have reasons to believe that a great number of them will never be offered for registration, which will probably reflect a substantial reduction from the $726,325.00 outstanding bonded indebtedness of this date. This represents a saving to taxpayers of Cisco in the amount of $873,475.00, which I would say is a very nice two years work for any group of men. There is about 5,000 people living in Cisco, and this represents a saving to each man, woman and child, equal to $1,746.95 in the following amount per year. There is a further asset into this trade, as there will never again be interest to be paid on $873,475.00, which would equal the following sum of money per year in interest, based on 3% rates, not mentioning 5% rates, that was guaranteed on the bonds face at the time of this trade, which would represent interest of $26,204.25 per year.

Here is a little more I believe that you should know: Under the old deal of the bonded indebtedness of the city of Cisco, it was set out in the $330,000 bond series that in 1944 they were to bear an interest rate of 5% thereafter. The series of $1,000.00 bonds were drawing 5% interest and had been for several years. Get your pencil and do a little figuring, and see what this would have meant to you taxpayers for 1942, 1943, 1944, and on—if your mayor and commissioners had sat idle and given no thought or consideration to your welfare at the present and in the future.

We as taxpayers were disbursing your money to the bondholders in the following amount per year, $26,871.13, and were not even able to meet the interest on

Your bonded indebtedness with it.

Now I will tell you something else that you probably do not know: You have been able to meet up to the present, every obligation of the new bonded indebtedness and your mayor and commissioners have purchased for you water bonds at par value in the amount of $6,150.00, and have funds in reserve at this date for purchase of more of these water bonds in the amount of $8,000.00.

They have also purchased for you tax bonds at par value in the amount of $6,325.00, and have cash available at this date for future purchase in the amount of $6,000.00.

There is something else I believe you should know, that the new issue is set up for 40 years at 3%, and if the taxpayers can meet this interest, which amounts to approximately $21,000.00 a year, you can not be called on until the expiration of the 40 years for any of the bonded debt that is now owed by the city of Cisco. I personally think that the people of the city of Cisco should give a great deal of thought to what seemed to be the impossible, that your mayor and a certain group of the commissioners have accomplished for you. There has been a great deal of things accomplished in the last three years, but this, in my opinion, is the most outstanding example accomplished by your mayor and commission. I myself am proud of this accomplishment, and I feel that each commissioner and your mayor, who had any part in making this possible, are proud that they had a part in it, and I also feel certain that if you people will continue to select men of foresight, integrity, and ability, with the will to sacrifice their time and their interest for your personal benefit, that the future problems of Cisco will not be harassing you with suits and judgments, lawyers and court expenses which would, within itself, destroy the ability of the taxpayers of Cisco to meet their future obligations.

Respectfully yours, CHARLES J. KLEINER, Finance Commissioner City of Cisco.

First Methodist, I know a woman who is spiritually hungry, whose soul is starving for the bread of life, and yet she is not aware that her sense of futility is but the shriveled fruit of her stunted growth. I know a man who is lost in sin and who is blind to his own knotty character, secretly disturbed by his unrecognized failure to be what he wants to be. Their name is Legion. They live in Cisco, they live in Dallas, they are everywhere. Sound religion, experiences of genuine worship, fellowship with the eternal, listening to the voice of the sublime, these can supply the hungry needs of countless people who are unhappy failures in the task of living. RED CROSS WAR FUND MARCH ~1943

The Red Cross mother is found on every battlefield and army camp in the world. . . Wherever there is sorrow and sickness, she is there . . . If a wounded soldier needs to send a message to family at home, this mother will see that it is sent.

If a soldier is in any kind of trouble, the Red Cross Mother is a willing listener to help smooth away confusion and solve the problem.

So give to the Red Cross — Freely — Generously — Knowing that your dollars will help some soldier or family in trouble — if not your soldier, then some of her Mother's boy — If disaster comes your dollars will help relieve the burden.

If you have not already given freely, do it now. The suffering world needs what you can give.
