NAZI FLEET IS ASSEMBLING OFF NORWAY

BOND MAN COMPLIMENTED EFFORTS OF CITY

The order of business at the chamber of commerce directors' meeting last night was hurried through in order, as President J. D. Lauderdale stated, that directors be able to attend the Red Cross meeting at the Laguna, in which efforts to reach Cisco's goal were to be emphasized. But before adjournment, a visitor, Earl E. Shell of Topeka, Kan., was invited by President Lauderdale to say a few words.

Mr. Shell explained that he was the bondholder of the city's indebtedness, and added that he was down here looking around at the city's assets, trying to get an idea of what Cisco's future might be, and how much dependence might be placed on her resources to pay in the light of her ability to do so.

Mr. Shell was very complimentary in his report of his findings. He said that Cisco's problem was like that of many other cities of the country. He mentioned that Tulsa, Wichita Falls, some towns of the valley, California and Florida had been compelled to go through similar periods of bad times, but their good names were being regained by definite efforts to make good on their obligations.

Mr. Shell said, had a very bad name over the country, but he would see how it had been brought about, with city administrations unable to do much about it. The bondholders are very hard on him, he said. They are quick to forgive and to forget, when they see a people making efforts to pay their bills and not neglect them.

Speaking of Cisco's appearance as a visitor, he said that it seemed to him now to be a very live town, and with prospects of becoming even better. This, he said, would give the city an opportunity to meet its obligations in the future.

As an instance of Cisco's carrying on he mentioned that she was buying bonds as fast as they were being available. Early in February, Cisco purchased Cisco state bonds to the amount of $3,450 and general tax bonds to the amount of $5,975, some of which were bought as low as $67.27 and the others at $67.50, but all being par-value bonds.

Mr. Shell also mentioned that Cisco had also contracted for $100 of water bonds and $350 general tax bonds—all at $66.50. These are to be delivered as soon as possible.

These things, Shell said, show that Cisco means to carry on her part of the refinancing contract recently entered into by the administration and the bond committee. The retirement of these bonds helps to bring the total down and make Cisco's settlement much better, which was much more than he would have guessed, he stated, had it been left to him to have a say in the settlement.

FUROR—Furor was created in Washington by assertion in Moscow of Admiral William H. Standley, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, that Russian people were led to believe they were fighting war alone and no credit was given for generous aid from America.

W. H. COLE TELLS LIONS ABOUT PEACE

A talk along the line of the "Peace to Follow" was the program presented by Leon W. H. Cole, who was introduced by Lion Dr. C. E. Paul, in charge of today's program at the Lions luncheon.

A checkup of committees showed that the receipts for the Lobo banquet sponsored by Lions and Rotarians, was $75 — $34 for the Rotary club and $41 for the Lions, with an expense of $84, plus some incidentals.

Leon Cole quoted from editorials and cartoons in the Dallas News and Collins' extracts from both being used freely in his talk.

First, Mr. Cole showed that the farthest point on the globe was only 60 hours travel by fast plane from any other point, by means of which the nearness of all nations of the world was illustrated.

"Therefore, the importance of the right kind of peace," said Cole, "Someone has said that American soldiers will come home and lay down their guns but will leave them loaded," quoted the speaker, but he continued by saying that that will not be enough, adding that we must actively write that peace in terms that will acknowledge and guarantee individual and personal as well as national liberties of all peoples of whatever nation, with the thought in mind that there will be differences in culture and races in this group of nations. We should not care as to form of government they adopt, just so liberties are retained by the people, themselves.

The rights of nations to make war should be restricted just as individuals are restricted in their war activities. The four freedoms should be written in the guarantee for all nations participating.

Mr. Cole quoted from the articles of federation by which the colonies were bound before the adoption of the constitution, and said that something like these should form the nucleus for whatever is drafted for that peace.

"While we will not sit about the peace table, yet our propaganda will influence the minds of those who do sit in its councils," Leon Cole reminded.

Mr. Cole also mentioned that Cisco had also contracted for $100 of water bonds and $350 general tax bonds—all at $66.50. These are to be delivered as soon as possible.

These things, Shell said, show that Cisco means to carry on her part of the refinancing contract recently entered into by the administration and the bond committee.

The retirement of these bonds helps to bring the total down and make Cisco's settlement much better, which was much more than he would have guessed, he stated, had it been left to him to have a say in the settlement.

TEXAS SENATE REBUKES BO'RD OF EDUCATION

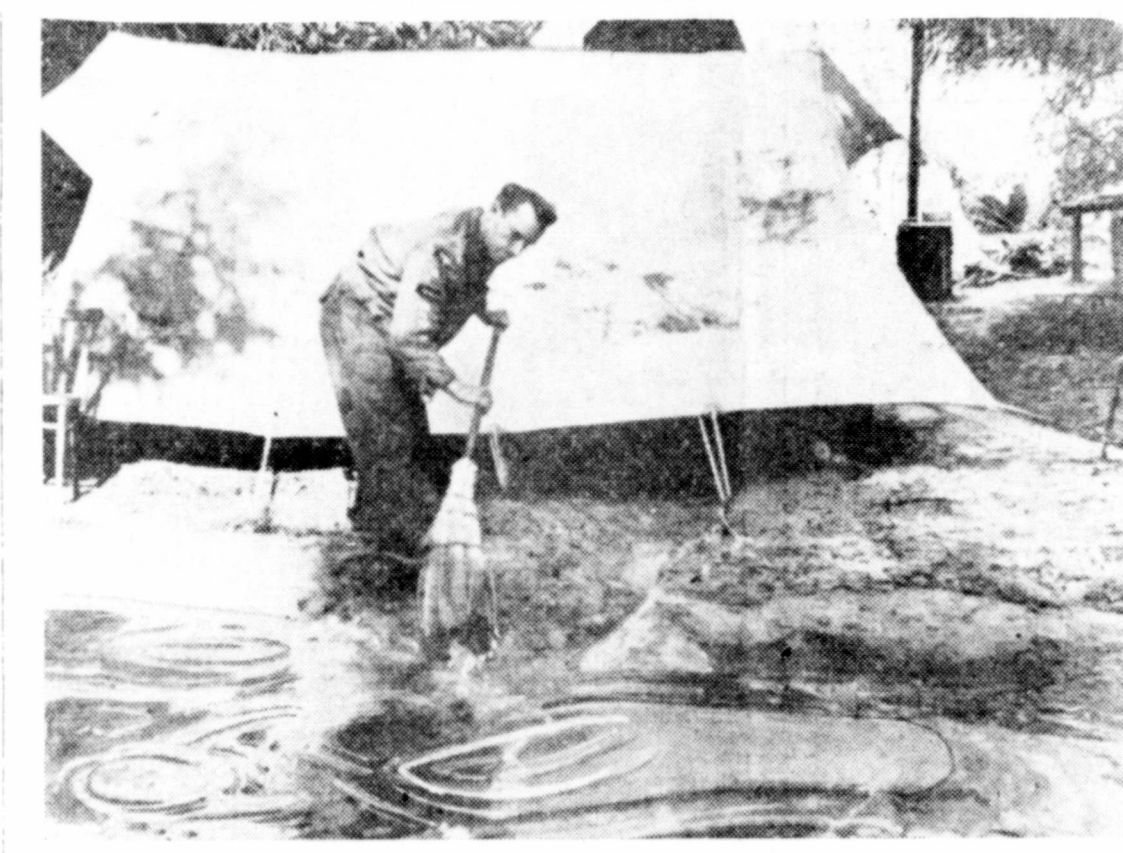

AUSTIN, March 17.—Without equivocation, the senate yesterday expressed itself against extravagance in the purchase of school textbooks that have been adopted for use in the schools.

More than that, A. M. Aikin, Jr., Paris, usually a mild-mannered member, was obviously worked up over the situation and in resentment at the textbook purchase record declared, "I have the most severe criticism of the state board of education for having adopted books that they should not have adopted."

JAPS ON DEFENSIVE. MacARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Australia, March 17.—Japan's offensive pace in the island north of Australia was knocked off balance today, and her potential invasion base at Dobo, in the Oro Islands, still smoked from the blasting of Allied bombers.

FIGHT RUMI PLAN. WASHINGTON, March 17.—The house Democratic leadership has decided to bull its way through and try to defeat the Ruml "pay-as-you-go" tax plan—by dunking it in a bath of demagoguery on the floor next week.

BIG TAX PAYMENT. DALLAS, March 17.—Here's a word of cheer for those Texans who thought their income tax was a little stiff. One Dallas taxpayer, a corporation, made a quarterly payment of $1,300,000, the largest reported by the Dallas internal revenue collector.

TOO MUCH AT ONCE—Few days before this picture was taken, British 8th Army men in Tripolitania were complaining of sand, flies and lack of water. Then the rains came. Here, British airman mudders as he sweeps back flood from his tent.

SOME MUST ADD TO RED CROSS GIFT

In a call meeting of the Red Cross committees for the drive now in progress to finish the quota of $4,500 allocated to Cisco, Mrs. Geo. P. Fee, local chairman, announced that Cisco still lacked several hundred dollars of the top, and asked that committee personnel leave no stones unturned in efforts to thoroughly work their territory.

The meeting was held last night at Laguna hotel room garden with practically all committees represented.

A spirit of victory pervaded the atmosphere, all being confident they could top Cisco's goal this week.

Mrs. Fee stated that if any person could add to what he or she had already done, it would be greatly appreciated, and most certainly it would help the urgent need now existing for Red Cross effort.

If any have not been contacted, Mrs. Fee suggests they call telephone 410, or mail check direct to Mrs. Charles S. Sandler, local treasurer, at 404 W. Ninth street, Cisco.

Those from Cisco who attended the funeral included Mrs. Roy Burnam, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burnam, Mrs. C. C. Phippen, Mrs. A. W. Watson, Mrs. Fred Scott, Mrs. Nona Dean, Mrs. J. A. Krasell, Mrs. C. F. Denly, Mrs. Standley McCracken.

CAMP BOWIE MEN PRAISE CISCO VISIT

CAMP BOWIE, March 17.—"All that has been said about southern hospitality is definitely true," said a number of the 30 Camp Bowie soldiers who were invited to Cisco to take part in a weekend of dancing, food and fun.

On their return here the men said they were delighted by the hospitality showered upon them and had a "whale" of a time at the dance given at the Cisco Servicemen's club, where a solid contingent of Cisco girls greeted them.

Following the dance the men were directed to private homes for quarters. Many of the men remained with their hosts the next day and "managed to stick around" for a real home-cooked breakfast, and later dinner, which ranged from turkey to pot roast and noodles.

Arrangements for the visit were made by Mrs. Leta Shelton, director of Camp Bowie Service club No. 3. A special bus was chartered and the men were delivered to Cisco and returned to the Service club.

FRENCH FEEL IRON HAND OF GERMANS

LONDON, March 17.—An unprecedented reign of terror has been launched by Nazi Gestapo agents, aided by Vichy police, in the city of Lyons, France, where German occupation authorities are rounding up thousands of civilians for forced labor service in Germany, Stockholm reports said.

In Bordeaux, these reports added, virtually every newspaper man has been taken into custody and deported to Germany. All of the city's newspapers are expected to close down.

WOMEN AWAKE TO DRESSINGS NEEDS OF MEN

Mrs. Austin Flint, chairman of Red Cross surgical dressings work, today again expressed appreciation for the fine way in which Cisco women are responding to the call for workers to meet the government's emergency call for dressings.

Numbers of new workers are joining the ranks and others are expected to do so. As stated, the work rooms in the Harry Reynolds building are now open from 1 to 5 o'clock Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

HOGS AT $14.85

All cattle and calves found a steady market at Fort Worth today. Hogs sold unchanged from Tuesday's levels on all grades and weights. Sheep and lambs were firm with bulk of the receipts lambs and ewes.

Good fed steers and yearlings cashed at $14 to $14.50 with common to medium steers and yearlings at $10.50 to $13.75.

PROBABLY INTENDS TO COMPLEMENT SUB EFFORT WITH RAIDS ON VITAL SEA LANES

LONDON, March 17.—A Stockholm dispatch said today that the entire German high seas fleet, including three capital ships and two aircraft carriers, is assembling off northern Norway.

The dispatch, crediting the report to the naval correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper NYA Dagligt Allehanda, revived speculation that Germany was about to complement her intensified submarine offensive in the Atlantic with large-scale surface raids on the Allies' vital sea lanes.

Germany's super-battleship, the 35,000-ton-plus Tirpitz, is being joined in Norwegian waters by the 26,000-ton sister battleships, Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, last reported under repair in German shipyards after being battered by British planes in a spectacular dash through the Dover Strait a year ago, Allehanda said.

In addition, it said, two German aircraft carriers have left for northern Norway. Though the dispatch did not identify the carriers, they were presumed to be the new sister ships, the 19,250-ton Graf Zeppelin and Deutschland.

Previous reports from the Continent have said Germany already has the 10,000-ton pocket battleship Lutzow and Admiral Scheer, two cruisers of the 10,000-ton Hipper class, and several light cruisers and destroyers anchored in Norwegian fjords.

If the German fleet does go into action, it is expected to concentrate on the Allied supply route to Russia skirting the northern Norwegian coast, though other units probably will strike out into the Atlantic in an attempt to smash convoys ferrying men and supplies to England and North Africa for the coming invasion of Europe.

"HOARDING" STAMPS. DALLAS, March 17.—The slowness of Texans to use processed food ration stamps had dealers and grocers worried today. From various places came reports that so few of the rationed articles and cans were being sold, and so few of the March stamps were being turned in, that it amounted to a "hoarding of stamps," as the stamps expire March 31.

WORTH TRIAL HERE. CONCORD, N. C., March 17.—E. J. Sharp, 70-year-old chairman of the American Red Cross war fund drive here, raised $250 by singing at a rally. He charged $25 a song for four songs, then asked for bids to stop. The audience contributed $150 more.

WORTHY CAUSE. NEW YORK, March 17.—Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek has received more than $310,000 for Chinese war relief since her arrival in this country—though she hasn't asked for a cent. And the money is still pouring in.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, March 17.—Planes of the British Eighth army are systematically battering the Mareth Line and other Allied pilots have made a heavy attack on the Axis base of Gabes in what appears to be the first moves in an all-out offensive against Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps.

FIRE AND WAR.

During the First World War President Wilson declared that "Preventable fire is more than a private misfortune. It is a public dereliction. At a time like this of emergency and of greatest necessity for the conservation of the national resources, it is more than ever a matter of pressing consequence that every means should be taken to prevent this evil."

Those words now ring with new significance. President Wilson knew that every home and factory, every man, woman and child were part of our national resources. The maximum strength of these resources is vital to military victory. In the last quarter century preventable fire has destroyed billions of dollars worth of property and countless thousands of lives. We quote President Wilson's warning: "We have squandered our national resources. No one will ever know to what extent this war has been lengthened by our waste."

What is gone cannot be reclaimed. The problem now is to curb future fire waste. To do that people must own that fire prevention is primarily an individual responsibility. Chattered talks, piles of only books, leaflets, insulation, and inadequate extinguishing equipment are just a few of the causes of fire. Precautions may outlaw fire hazards on paper but enforcement is impossible without the help of individuals.

In a Kentucky city the city manager sets aside funds each year to be used for display advertisements in the local papers containing the people to be careful about fires. In the monthly magazine and in the newspaper can store should be connected and must not be electrically connected. This practical plan resulted in a word saving of the losses which in other months were more than the value of the insurance. The reduction in fire insurance companies that it is almost impossible to furnish a new home.

Certainly, the insurance companies should be advised of the hazards to the property of burning tires before they start. This job would be easier if the 10th of President Wilson's statement that "It is more than a private misfortune" could be made a public one and for all.

TAX DELINQUENTS

The vast spread of property taxes this year brings much real estate and trouble. It has been estimated that the current taxes will be applicable to 40,000,000 or 45,000,000 people instead of the 17,000,000 who filed returns last year. But reports have indicated that total things for the nation would be many millions less than they should be. The result will be a huge delinquency in tax payments.

Most of the resulting delinquency may be due to confusion or ignorance on the part of the taxpayers without experience of this kind. But a great deal of it seems to be deliberate indifference or refusal. The internal revenue collector in one large industrial area reported a "rebellion" among the wage earners. Many of them were said to be refusing point-blank to make out returns, saying indignantly: "Let the government come and get me!"

Such an attitude is dangerous not only to the national welfare but also to the money it can possibly raise to carry the cost of a war. It is also personally dangerous to the tax-delinquents themselves. For those who fail to report and pay their share are liable to a fine as high as $10,000 and imprisonment for one to ten years. And many may suffer such penalties if they don't wake up and pay their share, like decent citizens, to preserve their freedom.

SO LONG, ADOLF!

It was not surprising to hear that Hitler was in his favorite death-hatch at Berchtesgaden with a nervous breakdown. That must be an interesting sight to his southern gods, Woden and Thor as they gaze down from the swirling clouds at his retreat. He was a man after their own hearts. As for the classic Olympians of southern Europe, love and lust and their gay religion they were beyond the imagination of a Teutonic Schickelgruber. He would never have left at home with them. He was an air of violence and blood, in the midst of a gray dream of imperialism that nearly wrecked the modern world.

Even yet the savage flames kindled by the Lunatic of Berchtesgaden are not spent. They still flare over western Europe. But they are no longer a practical fire rising to the clouds and threatening to burn the world. Civilization's Lichten are slowly putting them out.

Well, so long, Adolf! The Devil waits for you.

The country will soon be full of "blighted bond-holders."

OTHER EDITORS

Up and Up.

Dallas News: The merry chase continues. It was illustrated by three dispatches in The News Tuesday morning. 1. John L. Lewis sports again to say that the coal miners are going to have a wage raise or walk out, war or no war. 2. Directors of the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association say that there must be no OPA ceiling on livestock prices. 3. Department of Labor statistics show that living costs are still rising.

John L. Lewis says that miners are having to pay so much for food that they are going hungry at present wages. The cattlemen say that their production costs have gone up so rapidly that they will have to quit business if ceilings are placed on prices of their products. This is what is called the "vicious spiral of inflation" which the Office of Price Administration was set up to suppress.

The OPA is not to blame. The powers-that-be at Washington are. Our price index has gone up 10 per cent while that in Canada has gone up 1 per cent because neither the congress nor the president would face facts. The one did not have the political courage to oppose the self-interest of the farm bloc and the other was afraid to face the labor bloc.

It is said that we are still merely in the "foothills of inflation." That is true but the foothill that we are on at present is higher than the one we were on last month and last year and a lot higher than the one we were on two years ago. We are close to the peak here we start the real climb unless something is done to call a halt to the forces that are pressing us on. It is also said by some authorities at Washington that the national administration is not opposed to controlled inflation. They say that inflation can be held to a gradual rise. There might be some reassurance for the public in this argument were it not obvious that inflation to date has not been due to gradual and voluntary release of resistance but to lack of political courage. OPA has held prices in check by artificial restraint but this could be broken completely down. With a tremendously unbalanced federal budget as the result of fourteen years of deficit financing with severe restriction of consumers' goods production and with the greatest national income in history, there is every natural factor favoring inflation. It is the most serious problem on the home front. Decisive steps should be taken to check prices by checking forces that enter into the making of prices. It isn't true that the down and out can't come back. Look at congress.

Here is the climax of a War Savings drive at the University of San Francisco, as the crowd surrounds one of 20 jeeps the Army drove to campus to show appreciation for students' purchase of enough War Bonds to pay for tiny vehicles. Drives are being planned throughout the nation in next few weeks when the Treasury Department will present certificates of honor to schools selling enough bonds and stamps to buy one or more $300 jeep.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR TOMMY HURST

Tommy Hurst was honored by his mother, Mrs. B. B. Hurst Saturday afternoon with a series of pleasant events which celebrated his ninth birthday. The fun began with assembling of a group of his boy friends at the Hurst home at 2 o'clock.

The boys were invited into the dining room by the hostess to light candles atop the pretty birthday cake which centered the dining table. They then grouped around the honoree and sang the birthday song, after which gift packages, brought by the guests were opened and enjoyed by all.

Refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake were passed by the hostess and favors of bags of candy were presented to each guest. Mrs. Hurst was assisted in serving by Mrs. M. F. Underwood and Mrs. J. E. Hays. Upon opening the bags of candy the boys found a ticket to the picture show in each bag. They left immediately for the show in a body and saw the double feature, after which they returned to the Hurst home and played outdoor games.

The guest list included Tommy Hurst, W. Scott Stanfield, Rex Farley, Jimmy Dan Cheshire, Bernie Pippin, Freddie Smith and Jon Keiley Hays.

Take Care of your GAS RANGE

1. Don't load the oven-door with heavy roasts, as you put them in or take them out. It might warp the door.
2. The oven-lining will last longer if you roast meats at low temperatures (from 250° to 325°).
3. Wipe off spilled foods at once with a dry cloth. Wait till enamel is cold, before using a damp cloth. And protect the top surface with asbestos mats.
4. If foods should boil over and clog the burner (never necessary on modern ranges, because there's a simmer burner to prevent that), clean the ports lightly with a thin wire.

Noodle-Cheese Custard

1 6-oz. package broad noodles
 1 1/4 cups grated American cheese
 1 teasp. salt
 Pepper
 3 eggs
 1 1/2 cups milk
 6 slices crisp bacon

Break noodles in 1-inch pieces; cook in boiling salted water till tender. Drain well, and add cheese, salt and pepper. Add beaten eggs and milk, and mix well. Pour into greased shallow baking dish and bake at 325° for 45 minutes. Garnish with the bacon.

★ ★ Why not cook the bacon in the oven, along with the custard? Spread it on a cake-rack that fits over a pan to catch the grease, and at 325° the bacon will brown perfectly (and stay flat) in 15 to 20 minutes. Don't let grease fall on the oven floor.

Axis cuts your driving—Terrorizes your engine with ACID!

Every time short rations keep your car idle it's really like the Axis trying to dose your engine with acid. All the Axis needs is the acid products of combustion always left in your engine when it stops. This unavoidable acid wasn't so bad when cleaned out pretty well, several times a day, on fast runs that warmed the engine completely. But now with slow short runs often keeping the engine too cool, acid's chance has increased to corrode metal.

To keep your tools from corroding you apply oil—again and again. In your engine you can have a more lasting preservative. It's designed to combat internal acid corrosion.

It's surfaced to metals as closely as any protective plating. That's why this inner engine preservative—made possible by the quick, simple, economical change to Conoco Nth motor oil—is known as OIL-PLATING.

Conoco Nth—patented—brings you the special synthetic invented to make metal surfaces cover themselves with OIL-PLATING. It may be quite a while "between coupons" now. But you needn't give hungry acids all that while to gnaw at your engine, which the Axis won't let you replace yet! OIL-PLATE it now. Change to Conoco Nth for Spring. Continental Oil Company
