Non-Bank War Bond Purchases Are Satisfactory

Close estimate of war bond sales in Eastland county as of Saturday, indicated non-bank sales totaling $200,000, according to R. L. Ponsler, county chairman.

Continuing, the chairman said: "We are very much encouraged by the response to date, and particularly because most of the sum now in hand is made up of small subscriptions, as requested by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who recently expressed keen disappointment that a great proportion of the bonds were being taken by large purchasers rather than by small ones. It is the expressed wish of the federal government that 60 percent of the nation's quota be non-bank purchases.

"Eastland county's over-all quota is $628,168, and 60 percent of that would be $376,900.80. That small subscriptions have already reached the $200,000 mark in this county is indeed gratifying."

Mr. Ponsler also expressed satisfaction at the way the public school students of Cisco and the county have entered into the spirit of the big task set by the national government. "Student achievements to date are truly inspiring and we are very proud of them," he stated.

He added that all ministers of Eastland county have been asked to emphasize the importance of this government call from their pulpits today and that fine results are expected from these announcements.

Secretary Frank Knox has made the statement that Texas has the greatest number of citizens in the armed service of any state in the union. It is also true that Eastland county, per capita, has the largest number of men in the service of any county in Texas.

This should cause Eastland counties to feel that we cannot afford to fall short in any undertaking assigned us by the government of the United States.

FRED KEATHLEY, FORMER 79, WILL BE BURIED HERE

Abilene Cadet Fred Keathley, 24, who spent his early childhood in Cisco with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keathley, died Friday morning at 1:30 o'clock from a heart attack, at Santa Anna army base, California, his mother, now living in Abilene, was notified Friday afternoon.

Roy Keathley, deceased, father of the young man, was a half-brother of Bob Winston of Cisco. Young Keathley received his call to the army on February 8 and was immediately sent to California. The Keathleys moved from Cisco to Abilene about 18 years ago. Fred Keathley was a graduate of McMurry college and a noted tenor singer, being one of the Mead quartet which sang all over west Texas.

SWIMMING POOL OPEN TODAY

The Lake Cisco Amusement company opens the Southwest's largest swimming pool at Lake Cisco today, and West Central Texas people who love a pool of pure fresh water will be coming as usual to enjoy its incomparable facilities.

The pool has been swept and filled with fresh water, and the weekly analysis shows to be almost 100 per cent pure, and all needed repairs about the pool have been made under the efficient supervision of Monroe Sweeney, who is to manage the recreational activities during the year.

Nowhere can a more enjoyable swimming pool be found, divided as it is, into a large pool of moderate depth where the ordinary swimmer may enjoy himself at his own pace, while a deeper pool is provided for expert swimmers and divers.

At the upper end of the pool a perfectly appointed playground is provided for the little children, where they may play and gambol to their hearts' content.

The adjacent parks, provided with pits for cooking, tables and water, with lights for evening parties, make an ideal setting for those who want to make a day or evening of the sports of swimming, boating and fishing.

Manager Sweeney and the directors of the Amusement company will spare no pains in welcoming the people of this section of the state to enjoy to the fullest this playground of West Central Texas.

FREAK WIND COST NEWTON MAHANEY $250

Fault-finders from other states say Texas has peculiar weather—when it looks like rain it seldom does, and when there is no sign whatsoever, a downpour is most likely to come. And then, just as one expects summer, chill winds may blow—to be followed quickly by weather that renders winter garb a burden and a bother.

But the thing that gets them most is the winds that come almost without warning. A whirlwind may gather from nowhere and work havoc on a cloudless day.

The latter really happened near the residence of G. N. Mahaney, 1301 W. Fifteenth street, last Thursday afternoon at about 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Mahaney and her dog had started out to the hen house, when she looked up and saw a giant whirlwind seemingly coming her way. Finding that she would be unable to run out of its course, she and the dog lay down by a tree, and the whirl missed her by a few feet, striking the hen house and completely demolishing it and blowing the material against a fence 150 feet away, tearing the fence down.

This is the more amazing when one considers that the house was built of stucco with uprights every two feet apart, their ends sunk in a concrete floor. The building was 20 x 50 feet and was covered with sheet iron. Mahaney is rebuilding the house at a cost of $250, he stated.

STATE MEDICAL BOARD MEETS TODAY

Texas State Board of Medical Examiners will meet at Baker hotel, Dallas, at 10 o'clock this morning for election of officers and general reorganization of the body for the year.

Several new members, among them Dr. G. M. Stephenson of Cisco, will be officially inducted into office at this meeting and dates will be set for examination of applicants for state license during the year. There will be many of these from the medical schools of Texas, as well as a steady stream of young medical men from other parts of the nation who desire to launch their medical careers in the Lone Star Empire.

The board is composed of 12 members and all of the various schools of medicine are represented, thus making it as nearly non-partisan as a democratic angle as could well be conceived. Dr. Stephenson will also attend the annual state osteopathic convention while absent. The osteopaths will meet at Blackstone hotel, Ft. Worth, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Stephenson.

WILL AID U. S. — Prime Minister Churchill notified Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of the American air forces, today that the RAF will fly alongside Americans in the bombing of Tokyo and other cities of Japan.

HITLER MAY BE ANXIOUS MAKE RUSSIAN PEACE

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Need for an early meeting between FDR, Churchill and Stalin grows more urgent, some observers feel.

They believe Germany has started a peace offensive against Russia and is ready to offer Stalin large slices of Baltic territory, all-year ports in Finland and on the Black Sea, with access to Mediterranean. Stalin is not expected to accept.

But with the Allies apparently on verge of invading Europe, the feeling is that a closer understanding on present and future military policy, as well as post-war plans, is essential. Likelihood that invasion will be through Turkey and the Balkans adds to this urgency.

LEWIS SHOWS CONTEMPT FOR LABOR BOARD

WASHINGTON, April 24.—John L. Lewis defied the War Labor Board today by failing to appear before it at 10 a. m. for a hearing on the stalemated wage-hour negotiations in the soft coal industry.

Board members and representatives of the coal operators waited eight minutes for the United Mine Workers' president to make an appearance.

Lewis, who has been demanding a $2-a-day wage increase for 450,000 miners in negotiations which started early last March, has repeatedly expressed his contempt for the board. The 30-day truce with Lewis ends April 30.

M'ARDLE WILL MANAGE SOFTBALL TEAM

A group of softball fans met Friday night and selected H. J. McArdle as manager of the summer softball team.

Reporter H. C. Wilkins stated that Mr. McArdle expects the following men to be present at the local softball park at 6 p. m. Monday:

H. C. Wilkins, J. D. White, Wattie Bennie, W. C. McDaniel, Y. J. Riley, James Moore, Carter Belew, R. H. Dunning, A. B. Allen, Cecil Carter, Jack Norman, Claude Wilson, Chester Norvell, Lefty Sublett, Jimmie Allen, Jake Sublett, Shady Preston, Otto Bivins, J. J. White and Andy Anderson.

CITY FATHERS COULD ENFORCE GARBAGE LAWS

Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer, calls attention to the city ordinance requiring a can, each, for dry and wet garbage, but deprecates the fact that in many cases there are no cans at all, the dry garbage being scattered in the alleys and about the place, causing an unsightly litter, while the wet garbage is allowed to become a menace to health of the neighborhood.

Many places that are well-kept in front are almost filthy in the back alleys, the doctor asserts. The officer also reminds that since a cleanup campaign is in the offing, this would be a proper time to begin cleaning up the premises and placing garbage where it belongs. Filth at this time of year becomes a health menace as the summer progresses.

Our son would be glad to take work off our shoulders if he knew of some other place to put it.

BRITISH ARMIES AND THE U.S. SECOND CORPS HAD WONDERFUL AIR HELP ON 110-MILE FRONT

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, N. A., April 24.—The masses of the British First and Eighth Armies and the American Second Corps has rolled the Axis back as much as seven miles in a general offensive supported by another record-breaking aerial onslaught using a 10-mile front in northeastern Tunisia.

The offensive in "Cottin Corner" is now rolling. Today's message from headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander, and U. S. troops have given six miles on the strategic road to Mateur on the northeastern front after desperate fighting in which German counter-attacks were repulsed.

The Americans were about 13 miles west of Mateur and perhaps 30 miles southwest of Bizerte.

On other fronts, the British First Army captured most of important Longstop Hill, north of Mednez El Baa, and advanced about seven miles on the Bou Aradia front south of Mednez, capturing the town of Gousselar and knocking out 16 German tanks in a powerful armored thrust that is still driving eastward north of sekvet-el-Kourza.

The First Army was less than 30 miles west of Tunis, with its northern spearhead fighting to clear the road to the important highway junction of Tebourba.

On the southwestern front, the French were carrying out aggressive patrols between the First Army and the British Eighth Army, which was hammering at desperate Axis resistance about 100 miles along the 15-mile road from Enfidaville to Bou Fiehe on the east coast of Tunisia.

Meanwhile, Allied air forces—especially American bombers—carried out a record number of 1500 sorties on Friday, probably dumping more high explosives on the enemy positions than on any previous day.

The reappearance of the American Second Corps in the battle for the northeast Tunisia "Cottin Corner" was announced by headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander after a period of greatest secrecy regarding its movements.

The secrecy covered a swift movement of thousands of men and tanks and other vehicles from the southern front—where the forces under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr. joined with the Eighth Army—to the extreme northern sector.

The Americans, supported by heavy U. S. Air Force bombardment, attacked in the first light of day on Friday, striking both north and south of the road from Sedjenane toward Mateur, and capturing three dominating hills. The Germans quickly counter-attacked but were driven off several times.

Although only part of the American Second Corps was in action, the Allied forces all along the Tunisian line were hitting the enemy with everything they could throw into battle and the roads leading to the front were jammed with reinforcements.

The aerial attack was especially heavy in support of the American forces on the north and the French forces—the Corps France d'Afrique—which pushed eastward along the north coast on the American 9th front.

The Luftwaffe virtually was driven from the air on Friday and Flying Fortresses extended the Allied attacks as far as enemy strong bases in Carthage. In all, only six Allied planes were lost.

JAP BASE FOR 2,000 PLANES AUSSIE WORRY

MACARTHUR HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 24.—The Japanese have developed bases for 2,000 planes in the island arc above Australia and Allied troops in the western part of the country are set to meet any enemy invasion attempt, Army Minister F. M. Foster announced today.

His statement came as a commander reported the probable sinking of an 8,000-ton enemy freighter escorted by three destroyers off Koroing, New Ireland, and the penetration by Allied ground patrols to within seven miles of Salamaua, New Guinea, to wipe out a Japanese garrison of 20 men.

"We must assume an attack against northeast or northwest Australia is a distinct possibility and must plan accordingly," Foster said at Sydney after returning from a tour of western Australia.

BRECK SCHOOL CHILDREN BUY LOTS OF BONDS

BRECKENRIDGE, April 24.—Over sixteen hundred children were a the downtown parade Wednesday afternoon celebrating San Jacinto Day and the movement for school children to buy army bonds, and there was a big reason.

This was that the school children of the city through the purchase of bonds and stamps bought 35 jeeps.

Supt. J. F. Bailey Thursday morning announced a total of $32,065.50 in bonds and stamps purchased by the children, which with jeeps at $900 each add approximately 35 to our fighting forces.

The Stephens county quota in the second loan drive is $465,000. Wednesday night bonds totaling $442,100 had been purchased.

GERMANY FALTERS. — MOSCOW, April 24.—The Germans apparently have abandoned their offensive in the northwest Caucasus after having been "bled white" by losses in futile attempts to enlarge the Axis bridgehead, the Soviet announced.

TO INVESTIGATE COST.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The latest threatened investigation of financial expenditure is the cost of the war department's huge Pentagon building. A congressman who's gone into many such matters in the past is looking into it. Engineers say the air-conditioning equipment in the building (40,000-person capacity) is "the most complicated ever installed."

OPPONENT — Senator Hiram Johnson (R., Cal.), one of original Senate "irreconcilables," who opposes U. S. taking part in policing the world after present war. Silver-haired Senator, who defeated U. S. taking part in League of Nations, is 76 years of age.
